VERNON CITY COUNCIL

Resident's trash pick-up fee discussed

By RANDAL SEYLER

rseyler@chipleypaper.com

VERNON — A resident asked the Vernon City Council on Monday to exempt his grandmother's property from the trash collection fee portion of monthly water bill.

Reginald Mathis told the council no one resides in his grandmother's house, but he has a garden on the property and needs water to irrigate the garden. Since no trash service is needed at the property, he asked if he could be exempt from the monthly trash collection fee of $12.

"I was just wondering why I have to pay for trash pick-up when nobody lives in the home, and there is no trash to pick up," Mathis said.

"I don't see a problem with removing the charge," Councilman Tray Hawkins said. He asked City Attorney Kerry Adkison if there was any legal reason the city had to charge for trash pick-up.

"I will do some research and see what we can do," Adkison said. "Please don't turn on the electricity at the property," he said to Mathis. "If you do, we'll assume someone is living in the home."

Mathis said he had the water turned off by the city when he discovered a leak in the bathroom, and he had not had repaired the leak yet. He asked if he could pay his water bill to the council.

"We can't take your payment," Hawkins said, "but you can use the drop

Possum Festival receives grant

Committee: funding method likely to change

By RANDAL SEYLER

rseyler@chipleypaper.com

CHIPLEY — The Wausau Possum Festival will receive a $1,000 grant from the Washington County Tourism Development Council this year, but most likely cash grants for advertising will be as much a thing of the past as donkey softball.

Wausau Town Clerk Margaret Riley was on hand to request the funding for the 44th annual Possum Festival, which will take place July 27, Aug. 2 and Aug. 3 at the Possum Palace.

"This is the 44th year, so who doesn't know what the Possum Festival is?" Riley said, joking with the council members. "It's also the hottest day of the year."

Local man gets truck through Dream Foundation

By CECILIA SPEARS

CHIPLEY — Ernest Wayne Dupree was told he only had six months to live, and his wish of reviving his pick-up truck to its former glory was realized through the efforts of Emerald Coast Hospice's Dream Foundation, Washington-Holmes Technical Center and countless donations from across the community.

The restored pickup truck was presented to him in a heartwarming ceremony on Wednesday, April 17, at WHTC.

"This means a lot to me," Dupree said. "It's very overwhelming just to see what I was driving before and what I get now. A year ago today, I was given six months to live, and now I'm thanking God that I'm standing here today."

Misty Brown, medical social worker with Emerald Coast Hospice, explained the Dream Foundation.

"It's like the Make a Wish Foundation for adults," Brown said. "Patients turn in an application in the form of a letter of what their dream is and how it will increase their quality of life. We've yet to turn down an application."

For example, Brown said, one patient wanted a computer because she was bed-bound.

"We even created a Facebook account for her so that she could stay connected to friends and family," Brown said. "One wished for her son to be home for Christmas, and another wanted a pinball machine. Wishes come in all shapes and sizes."

The process of granting these wishes, Brown said, is to go to local agencies and resources.

"In this case, we contacted the Washington-Holmes Technical Center, and it just expanded from there," Brown said. "They've gone above and beyond in helping Mr. Dupree's dream come to life."

WHTC Automotive Collision and Repair Instructor Jerry Harrell gave most of the credit to his students.

"When they found out it was for a man who didn't have long to live, they were more than enthusiastic to help," Harrell said. "They were in here with every spare moment they had working hard and doing their best to make sure that this vehicle was put together in prime condition. I'm very proud of my students and their eagerness to help those in need."

Dupree said Mitchell Sight & Sound would be donating and installing a sound system for the truck.

"The Washington-Holmes Technical Center did a wonderful job," Dupree said. "This truck is my life and only transportation ... Without my fiancée, Vanessa Hawkins, this dream would've never got started — she's my heart."

Riley noted that the event is free to the public, with admission of $3 only being charged at the Miss Possum Festival King and Queen Contest. The Pageant averages 500-600 attendees each year, and will be held on July 27.

The annual Fun Day events average 3,000 to 4,000 attendees over the two days, and bring in visitors from surrounding counties and even from out of state, Riley said. "We had one family come down from Wisconsin last year," she said.

The festival committee requested $3,000, but the TDC had only budgeted $1,000 for the event this year, said TDC Administrator Heather Lopez.

"We're going to have a special workshop in May and we're going to look at the grant funding process," Council Member Ted Everett told Riley. "It may be that in the future, we just buy blocks of advertising, and when the time comes, we say, 'okay, these are the radio stations we use, you get $1,000 worth of advertising.'"

The council members voted to hold the special workshop on May 20 at Hard Labor Creek from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and to forego a May TDC meeting because of the Memorial Day holiday falling on the council's regular meeting day.

Member Scott Sweeney said the festival planners should look at more inexpensive ways to advertise. "In the future, we see the TDC's place to be to help publicize events and to work with the planners to help make events grow."

Everett said the purpose of the TDC is not to support community events, but rather to attract visitors to the county, hopefully to stay in hotels and eat at local restaurants.

Lopez noted that the Sunshine State Pit Bull Terrier Competition, held on March 30 in Wausau, filled three hotels with visitors and drew 592 people to the event.

"They could have filled more, but those were the only hotels that accepted pets," Lopez said. "She had to send the rest of the people to Marianna or Bonifay hotels."

City Clerk Dian Hendrix reported the WIC office, which is supposed to be moving from the Vernon Library into the Vernon City Hall, needs help moving. Hendrix said she had been in contact with the county to see if they could help WIC relocate.

"I sent an email to David Corbin to see if the county could give them some assistance."

She said if the WIC office had to hire movers, they would have to go through the bidding process, which could slow the relocation by months.

The Vernon Council will meet again at 7 p.m. May 6 for a workshop. The next regular council meeting is at 7 p.m. May 14.

Chipley woman charged with aggravated battery

From Staff Reports

CHIPLEY — A woman was charged with aggravated battery on April 17 following an incident of domestic violence near Vernon, according to a Washington County Sheriff's Office news release.

Barbara "Beth" Elizabeth Barnes, 42, of Chipley, was arrested in connection with charges of aggravated battery with a deadly weapon/domestic violence.

Washington County Sheriff's Office received a call at about 10 p.m. from a person who claimed to have been severely cut by a scalpel.

Washington County EMS arrived at the address on Highway 79 within minutes and transported the victim to Bay Medical in Panama City.

The victim was listed in critical condition, according to the sheriff's office.

Shortly before 11 p.m., sheriff's office investigators were contacted by the Holmes County sheriff officers, who had officers in contact with Barnes.

Barnes had allegedly contacted officers to report her role in the incident.

An arrest warrant was obtained, and Barnes was taken into custody.

Sheriff Bobby Haddock asks that anyone with information on illegal activity contact us at 638-TIPS (8477) or by email at tips@wco.us.

Area receives double dose of dreaded pollen

After a busy weekend, and allowing the deadline to approach for submitting articles, my computer refused to cooperate when trying to transmit last week's article.

Thanks to Cathrine Lamb of the WCN staff for retyping the material in time to meet the deadline. I will allow myself the privilege of using the "Setting It Straight" feature of the paper and explain that the correct names mentioned in one sentence is Trudell Brock Worthington and her father, Sam Brock. I fully accept responsibility for these errors, plus any others, in the April 17 column.

Space and time last week did not allow me to mention Kenneth Finch as the purchaser of a Washington County Heritage Book at one of the largest assimilations of "flea market" vendors in the town. Numerous exhibits were set up at the old Gulf Oil Distributors on U.S. 90 East, extending over to the last location for Greyhound Bus Lines bus service in Chipley.

I knew that Kenneth had purchased other books, including one that he placed in the Wells Cabin, now located in the Pioneer Settlement, just west of Blountstown. Kenneth is a direct descendant in the William Dallas Finch pioneer family, who had ties to this old home. The story of this historic family, written by another family member, Ruth Finch Creamer, appears on page 208 of the above mentioned book.

Kenneth is chairman of the committee which plans and promotes the annual Finch Reunion. Your writer has had an open invitation to attend, and sell books, at these gatherings dating back seven years ago. Many copies have been sold at this annual event.

When Kenneth's wife asked him last Saturday, "Who are you buying this one for?" he answered, "This one is mine!" He then told me that my Feb. 13 article, reporting the death of J.C. Griffin, one of primer movers in the long established Griffin Family Reunion (held each May at Gap Pond Freewill Baptist Church) was the first he had heard of his kinsman's passing. He thanked me warmly for including that item of news in "Perry's Prattle." The above items could be construed as more "commercial messages" to "Perry's Prattle" and the Heritage Book.

It would also be an excellent opportunity to report that Hubert Cumbie again told me at Rev. Houston Obert's visitation, that he is a regular reader

PERRY'S PRATTLE
Perry Wells

This self-made, 1946 snapshot of the recruit Perry Wells was made by dropping a coin in the slot in a booth designed for that purpose and conveniently located near military bases.

of the "Prattle" and particularly enjoyed the terminology and the old sayings of those past on. My immediate guess is that he must have remembered some of the "home made" words my dad, Hugh Wells, used throughout his lifetime.

For Hubert's benefit, my father used the word "jubous" as far back as I can remember. When I began to question it, to myself of course, it was determined that the context in which he was applying the word, explained to me that the correct word was "dubious."

In my early life, the old timer used the expression that they had caught "fresh cold" to explain that they had experienced a relapse of a cold. My father took that statement one step farther, saying, "I believe that I have taken more cold from myself."

Along this line, it seems that I know of a host of folk who have been suffering from colds, congestion, coughs and a variety of miseries associated with this season of year.

Someone has suggested that this area has experienced two episodes of pollen this year. It seems that we had an early indication of Spring which brought on the dreaded pollen. Then more cold weather came before a second Spring time approached inundating the landscape with more pollen. Obviously many, including me, received a double dose of the substance that adversely affects the sinus.

After a round of known home remedies, I finally consented to a doctor visit, took two antibiotics and still felt listless for two or more weeks.

After much improvement, and while walking to our mailbox, possibly still feeling sorry for myself and thinking: "This must be the worst siege of cold miseries that I have ever experienced." Then the memory of January, February, March and April 1946 came to mind, when at the age of 18, this writer was taking basic training in Ft. Bragg, N.C., after braving some extreme cold and most undesirable weather while processing through Camp Blanding, Fla., and Ft. McPherson, Ga.

The story of the sale of the thousands of acres comprising Camp Blanding was in the news recently, while undergoing my discomforts. My memory of that place is the buildings being heated by coal burning furnaces, resulting in choking smoke, smog and cinders coming from the mammoth smoke stacks. The weather was even worse in Georgia after arriving there in a cold, cold train ride which possibly brought on more exposure and worsened the cold and congestion.

Ft. Bragg had snow on the ground when we arrived there and where I first dared go on sick call. I recall emptying my Lucky Strike Cigarettes package holder and filling it with Vicks Cough Drops, which seemed to save my life and allowed me to finish basic training.

Being assigned to Ft. Lewis in Washington after basic in a cool, crisp and clean environment in the Pacific Northwest, seemed to be the remedy to clear all recruits of sickness incurred in weeks of the induction process. The conclusion was reached that the miseries at the tender age of 18 were even worse than those just experienced at the age of 85.

The Heritage of Washington County Books are still available from me at $64.20 in Chipley and $72 when mailed. Call 638-1016 or email perry1000@bellsouth.net.

See you all next week with a story on my 1944 Vernon High School Class Reunion on April 20, exactly 69 years since graduating.

Doolittle Raiders hold final reunion

When my sister-in-law, Teena, the widow of my late brother Clyde Wells, said she wanted to take Jack to see the Doolittle Tokyo Raiders and I was invited to go along, I had to do a little background study on the Raiders. Jimmy Doolittle was a familiar name, and I knew it had to do with aircraft and World War II.

Because preparations for the secret flight and bombing mission of the Doolittle Raiders took place at what was then known as Egin Field, that area has been the site of the reunion of the surviving men for 71 years. When Okaloosa Walton Jr. College was begun 50 years ago in April 1963, the name Raiders became their school mascot, symbolized by a fox. This is a reference to the careful planning and cunning adaptations that were used to carry out the highly secret mission of the then Army Air Corp. Participants were chosen by volunteering for a "dangerous secret mission." They did not know the target destination until the planes were loaded on the ship and the raid on Japan mainland was underway.

Sixteen B-25 twin engine bombers that had been secretly retrofitted by removing all expendable equipment to allow room for each plane to carry extra fuel, 10 five-gallon rubber containers for manual fuel addition. Guns were removed, and broom sticks painted to look like guns were placed in the turrets.

The plan was to launch from the aircraft carrier, USS Hornet, bomb mainland Japan, and fly on to land in China. The plans changed when the carrier encountered a fishing boat which Doolittle thought might have alerted Japanese officials of their presence, so he ordered the attack to begin immediately, 600 miles farther from their anticipated launch. This would still allow them to reach their target zone if no errors in navigation or evasive measures occurred.

More information on this raid that changed the course of WWII can be found on the web page www.DoolittleTokyoRaiders.com.

Last week marked the 71st annual reunion of the Doolittle Tokyo Raiders, and only three of them remain. Lt. Col. Richard E. Cole, Lt. Col. Edward J. Saylor, and Staff Sgt. David J. Thatcher were all at the ceremony held at what is now Northwest Florida State College. All three of them, all in their 90s, were at this, their final reunion. Also on the stage was Col. Bud Day, Presidential Medal of Honor recipient, who was incarcerated in the Viet Nam prison with Bob Dole. The ceremony not only honored the Tokyo Raiders but also celebrated the 50th anniversary of the college and dedicated the permanent exhibit commemorating the heroic efforts of the Tokyo Raiders. It was held in the state-of-the-art arena on the campus of the college. The permanent exhibit is located in the lobby.

Lt. Col Saylor spoke for the group and presented five $2,500 scholarships from the Doolittle Raiders Foundation to current students of NWFSC. He spoke briefly urging the students to use the attributes of dependability, innovation and success exhibited by the Raiders.

Since Esteena Krye Wells has served for 18 years on the Board of Trustees or The Foundation Board for the college, we were able to have VIP seats. What an honor to be in the presence of such heroes representing a turning point in WWII when Japan was advancing across the Pacific. The Tokyo Raid changed the dynamics of the war, forcing Japan to defend its homeland. It gave America a badly needed morale boost. Its influence on the course of the war was not realized until later.

After the ceremony, we visited the Armaments Museum on Eglin AFB, where all kinds of air craft and weapons are housed for public viewing. The three raiders were appearing there later for autograph signing.

We ate a late lunch at Nick's on Highway 20 beside Choctawhatchee Bay east of Niveville. Trey Nick, the proprietor, is a third-generation family member to operate a restaurant on the site. His grandfather and his father were there before him. His family also operates a restaurant in the Blue Water Bay Subdivision near the Mid-Bay Bridge. Although other dishes are on the menu, who would pass up an opportunity to eat seafood directly from the bay? Trey Nick owns his own boat and catches much of the shrimp, oysters and fish he serves. The others are bought from local fishermen. Bob Dole is one of the celebrity clientele who frequent this unpretentious establishment where world class seafood is the order of the day. It's just a short drive for excellent food and fast service. Thanks, Teena, for a good day!

Dear Editor,
We had some major water and sewage problems at our home in the Bonifay city limits. Unfortunately, this occurred over the weekend.

We had most of the water and sewage backing up in the home and needed the city of Bonifay to help us locate these lines and stop the flow into the home. We called the only number found anywhere, and it just rang off the hook. No answering machine and no emergency service number was available. We contacted Mr. Cloud, our mayor, at his home for assistance when unable to reach Mr. Merrell. Thankfully, Mr. Cloud had a contact number for Mr. Merrell. Mr. Merrell was able to send a crew right on out to help us.

I am sorry that I had to contact them over the weekend for help and that it was an inconvenience to them.

But I greatly appreciate the assistance in this matter.

We still do not know why the City of Bonifay Water and Sewage Department does not have an emergency number. But we hope that they will get one and at least list it on the monthly bill so this does not happen to anyone else that may be in the same or similar position.

Again, thank you to Mr. Cloud and Mr. Merrell and the crew that assisted us.

Chipley High School Band to play at national Memorial Day parade

Special to the News

CHIPLEY — The Chipley High School “Spirit of the Tiger” Marching Band has received an invitation to represent out state in the 2014 National Memorial Day Parade in out nations capital.

The National Memorial Day Parade, presented by the American Veterans Center, is held annually in Washington D.C., and is an opportunity for thousands of patriotic Americans to come together and honor those who have sacrificed so much in service to out country.

The event celebrates all those who have served in uniform from the American Revolution to Operation Iraqi Freedom, and seeks to educate the public about the meaning of this hallowed day. Not merely an event for Washington, the National Memorial Day Parade is an event for the entire country, a major parade which seeks to draw the attention of Americans to the real meaning for the holiday: honoring those who have served, and died, to preserve our liberties.

“We are both excited and extremely honored to be asked to participate in the event honoring those who have served our country,” said CHS Band Director Richard Davenport. “We received this invitation based on the incredible tradition of excellence established by former members of the band. We are indeed grateful for this tradition and the support that our parents, administration and community continue to give the CHS Band program.”

The three hour parade passes alongside the National Mall on Constitution Avenue between 7th and 17th Streets in a magnificent salute to America’s Veterans and in honor of those who died in defense of our country. The parade consists of select marching bands and veteran units from each of the 50 states honoring World War I, War World II, The Korean and Vietnam Conflicts, Desert Storm, and the liberation of Grenada, Panama, Iraq and Afghanistan. Large patriotic floats and helium filled balloons are also part of the procession. More than 10,000 participants take part in the parade each year, which is televised live on Discovery’s Military Channel.

Plans are underway by the Chipley Band Boosters to fund this great opportunity to represent our school, community and state on a national stage. According to Davenport, “We are asking out community business partners and Band Alumni to help jump start the effort to raise the funds necessary to send the band to this prestigious event.” In addition to donations, the Band Boosters are planning several fundraisers over the next year to raise any remaining funds. For more information on how you can help to send the CHS Band to Washington, contact the CHS Band Office at 638-6100, extension 525.

The band is currently preparing its performance at the State Concert Band Assessment in Niceville on April 27, as well as the annual Spring Concert in the CHS Auditorium on May 10.

Hooked on Outdoors

There are generally two indicators of spring's arrival, the budding of pecan trees and a little bird that goes unnoticed flying all over town.

Pecan trees usually are the last to leaf out of all the trees we have in this area. They began showing signs of leafing out two weeks ago. After watching these trees for years and hearing all the other indicators of when spring is going to arrive, I believe the lowly pecan tree is the last word when it comes to cold weather. When they start putting on leaves winter is over.

Not far behind is a bird that flies all the way here from South America just to spend the summer. Before the Europeans came to these shores and built houses with chimneys they would live in hollow trees.

These are not your typical birds that you see at your feeder or perched on a tree limb or power line. They instead live only in chimneys. You never will see one sitting on the ground or in a tree. When they feel the need for rest they return to their chimney. They build their nests in chimneys and raise their families in chimneys.

They are called chimney swifts. There are several swifts in the United States, but the chimney swift calls the eastern part home during the summer. In October, when northern birds such as robins and cedar waxwings head south the chimney swift also heads south, to South America.

In Alabama we called them chimney sweeps because people thought they swept the chimneys clean. When I was growing up all the houses had big tall chimneys and the little black birds would circle their chosen chimneys and drop in just as it got dark.

They would build a nest of sticks and saliva and attach it to the side of the brick the chimneys were constructed of. Today most people cover their chimneys to keep these birds out. This is a shame because they eat more insects in a summer than that truck you see spitting out poison can kill in three.

So the next time in your busy day you hear a chattering overhead take a few minutes to look up and watch one of nature's premier insect catchers at work. You will usually see from three to 10 of these birds following each other and chattering their little heads off.

FWC to permanently waive license requirement for harvest of nonnative, invasive species

By AMANDA NALLEY

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission on Wednesday at its meeting near Tallahassee discussed waiving the commercial and recreational bag limit and the recreational license requirement for divers harvesting lionfish using certain gear.

In August 2012, the FWC put a temporary rule in place that waived the recreational fishing license requirement when targeting lionfish with a hand-held net, pole spear, Hawaiian sling or any other spearing device designed and marketed exclusively for lionfish. This temporary rule change also removed any bag limits when recreationally or commercially harvesting lionfish. Before the change, recreational anglers could not catch more than 100 pounds of lionfish without being required to have a commercial license.

The temporary rule change expires Aug. 3.

The Commissioners will finalize the license waiver and the bag limit removal at their June meeting in Lakeland.

Lionfish are a nonnative, invasive species that negatively impact Florida's native saltwater fish and wildlife. Currently, the most effective method of removing lionfish from Florida waters is by spearing or using a hand-held net. Removing the license requirements and bag limits will increase lionfish harvest opportunities.

FWC updates permit guidelines as gopher tortoises start springtime maneuvers

By DIANE HIRTH

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission approved revisions to its gopher tortoise permitting guidelines April 18 at its meeting near Tallahassee. The guidelines are based on stakeholder input and designed to be consistent with the updated Gopher Tortoise Management Plan approved in September 2012.

Updated permitting

ON THE WEB

For more on gopher tortoises, go to MyFWC.com/GopherTortoise.

guidelines provide adequate financial planning for the long-term management of gopher tortoise recipient sites, stipulations for the capture of tortoises for relocation when using a backhoe, and criteria to define when to suspend, revoke or not renew an authorized gopher tortoise agent permit.

This action comes during the time of year when gopher tortoises begin their springtime maneuvers through Florida's open canopy forests and sandy areas. Tortoises are on the move in search of fresh greenery to eat after emerging from winter dormancy in their deep burrows.

"Ever since the 2007 approval of the original Gopher Tortoise Management Plan, the FWC has worked closely with stakeholders to improve and revise both the gopher tortoise permitting guidelines and the management plan," said Deborah Burr, the FWC's gopher tortoise management plan coordinator. "Conservation of gopher tortoises and their burrows that shelter other species is our long-term goal, so they always will be part of Florida's landscape."

Gopher tortoises live in all of Florida's 67 counties, preferring high, dry, sandy places such as longleaf pine forests, oak sandhills, pine flatwoods and coastal flatlands and dunes. Their burrows can be recognized by the half-moon shape of the entrance, which curves at the top.

The gopher tortoise is listed as a state threatened species, and it is against the law to harm gopher tortoises, their burrows or eggs. Generally, it is best to leave a gopher tortoise undisturbed, unless you need to move it off a highway. Then it should be placed immediately on the other side of the road and pointed in the same direction it was traveling.

Chipley falls to Jay 8-6 in district championship

CHIPLEY — The Jay Royals defeated the Chipley Lady Tigers 8-6 to win the Class 1A Rural District 2 Softball District championship Thursday night in Chipley.

The Tigers were first to score, when Sara Kaye Compton's hit deep to right field brought home Broylee Pooser, who had hit on a single when she was second to bat in the 2nd inning.

The Royals surged ahead in the bottom of the second, turning a 1-0 deficit to a 4-1 lead, beginning with Camile Driver's score on a Chipley error. Destiny Herring crossed home a few minutes later on Harley Tagert's single. Chassity McCranie returned home on Michaela Stewart's line drive single, then Tagert added a 4th run off of Ashlyn Geck's double.

Driver scored on a pitcher error in the bottom of the third to give the Royals a 5-1 lead, but Chipley rallied in the top of the fourth, beginning with Mallory Dean's leadoff triple, which Dean brought home on Sarah Gilbert's RBI to second. Gilbert crossed home plate following Kari Waldrip's line drive across third base.

Kara Bush hit one deep into outfield with the bases loaded. The ball was nabbed by a Royals outfielder at the fence, but not before Waldrip and Bush scampered back to home to tie things up 5-5.

The tie was short lived, however, as Stewart and Olivia Wright both added runs for Jay in the bottom of the fourth, giving the Royals an edge they would not relinquish.

Paige Carter added Chipley's final score in the 5th, scoring after Sara Kaye Compton walked after being struck by a pitch.

The Royals' Taylor Moore added the final run of the game, capitalizing on her lead-off single then coming home on Bayleigh Upton's line drive single.

Jay will host a region semifinal game while Chipley will play at the District 1-1A championships, to be held May 7-11 at Vero Beach Sports Village.

CHIPLEY — Chipley's Lady Tigers trounced the Northview Chiefs 7-1 on Tuesday in the second round of the Class 1A Rural District 2 Softball District Tournament, in Chipley.

Chipley went on to face the Jay Royals on Thursday in the district championship game, also played at Chipley High School.

Jay defeated Baker 6-1 Tuesday in Chipley to move on to the district championship game.

The Chiefs finished their year with a 14-1 regular season.

Northview pitcher Misty Doran threw fast and hard, but seemed to have trouble keeping the Lady Tigers on home plate.

Chipley pitcher Mallory Dean tossed six scoreless innings, with the Northview squad only getting on the scoreboard in the bottom of the seventh when Angel Lathan made it home following a scramble on an unsuccessful bunt by Ariel Holland.

The rest of the evening belonged to the Tigers. Chipley's Sarah Gilbert scored in the first inning on a double by Lexi Helms.

In the third inning, Chipley's Sara Kaye Compton walked after being struck by an errant pitch, then a deep centerfield drive by Sarah Gilbert moved Compton to third and Gilbert to second.

Doran struck out Kari Waldrip, but Chipley's Kara Bush scored two RBIs with a single to centerfield bumping the Lady Tigers' lead up to 3-0.

Doran walked Braylee Pooser in the fourth inning, then Pooser ran home on Dean's double.

On the next pitch, Compton walks after being hit, again, then steals second when a pitch goes astray while Gilbert is at bat.

Later that same inning, Waldrip's single RBI brings Compton home to make it 5-0.

Kendal Daniels knocked one over the fence in the sixth inning for the only home run of the game, giving the Tigers a 6-0 edge over the Chiefs.

The Tigers scored again in the top of the seventh, when with the bases loaded, Gilbert's hit deep to right field was nabbed by a Chief outfielder, but it was enough for Paige Carter to steal home.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CMo Kids founder Winston Barlow visited the Chipley Kiwanis Club on April 16 at Patillo's Restaurant.

Kiwanis Club hears from founder of CMO Kids

Special to the News

CHIPLEY — The Chipley Kiwanis Club heard from the founder of CMO Kids when they met for its weekly luncheon at Patillo's Restaurant at the Washington-Holmes Technical Center on April 16.

Lunch was provided by the students of the culinary program at the Technical Center.

Program Chairman Paul Goulding introduced the program. Winston Barlow is the founder of CMO Kids, a non-profit corporation that has the mission of helping handicapped kids across the country enjoy the great outdoors and become more empowered than they knew was possible. Using volunteers, CMO Kids follows and mentors handicapped kids who love the outdoors by taking them hunting and fishing.

The organization started when a handicapped child on crutches wanted Barlow to take him hunting. The result was that the boy killed a turkey, but Barlow realized that it wasn't about taking the animal for the boy, but it was about being included in an activity that otherwise would have been impossible.

Another child in a wheelchair, after killing two turkeys with one shot, said "I got two birds with one shot. I love you! I so happy!" Barlow went on to say that "These kids have blessed my life. I want to have a CMO Kids in every state. By taking a kid under his wing, the volunteer bonds with the child and it changes both their lives." Barlow noted that he went with Ted Everett and Gary Carter to Hard Labor Plantation which is being opened to CMO Kids.

In order to make CMO Kids work, volunteers are needed to work with the kids. It doesn't take much time and if a volunteer has time for only one kid, that is one more kid who gets to participate. It also takes money to do what they do, and places are needed to take the kids. Videos are taken of all hunts.

Donations can be mailed to: CMO Kids, 69 Lindsey Lane, Kingsland, GA 31548 For more information, look up the CMO Kids website at <http://cmokids.org>.

The next Kiwanis project is the Pancake Supper which will be held May 23rd at Kate Smith Elementary.

The Kiwanis club meets Tuesdays at Patillo's restaurant in the middle of the WHTC campus at noon. For an invitation, contact any Kiwanian or David Solger, Membership Chairperson at 638-1276.

For more information about the Kiwanis Club of Chipley, visit www.ChipleyKiwanis.com.

Legends and LORE

PHOTOS SPECIAL TO EXTRA

The 10th annual Legends & Lore Festival was held at Falling Waters State Park in Chipley on Friday and Saturday. The annual event features craftsmen and artists who recreate a time when neighbors helped neighbors and people made many of the necessities of life at home. At left, a spinning wheel is demonstrated at the festival on Friday. At right, Head Start children hear about the Central Panhandle Beekeepers Association.

FFA, garden club teach behind-the-scenes agriculture

Special to the News

Donna Keith, ag teacher and Future Farmers Association advisor at Vernon High School, attended the March Vernon Garden Club meeting and asked the club to become a community partner with the FFA, which was approved by a unanimous vote.

The first joint project was for the club to financially and physically support FFA members in a project of teaching first-graders about agriculture at Vernon Elementary School.

Six teams of FFA members and Garden Club members went to the elementary school on six days and made presentation to two classes of first-graders each day.

Those presentations were "Farmers Love the Land," by Amber Riley, Samantha Church and Nicole Middlemass; "Peanuts to Peanut Butter," by Dixie Mainor and C.J. Priest; "The Exploding Cheeseburger," by Sy Seley, Clayton Riley and Jordan Basarab; "The Adventure of Cob's Potato," by Lynn Barnes, Stephanie Gipson and Jimmy Stray; "Beefy Bingo" by Taylor Stone, Tony Dodd and James Walsingham; and "Pyramid Power" by Trystan Jackson and Dalton Gibson.

Through these presentations, the FFA members were able to teach the VES first-graders about agriculture and why food would not be available if it weren't for farmers, and also that food does not just magically appear in the supermarkets.

Vernon Garden Club members who assisted the students were Connie Bland, Peggy Adams, Margaret Chesnut, Rhonda Dickinson, Pam Cates, Patsy Morris and Regena Carnley.

Troop 39 Scouts work at state park

Special to Extra

Boy Scout Troop 39 of Chipley began work on a service project at Falling Waters State Park, cleaning up, re-designing and improving the existing "Butterfly Garden" that is located along the path that leads to the waterfall. The work is part of LIFE scout Nickolas Butler's Eagle project. Work began with clearing out the weeds that have grown up over time and construction on a new raised boardwalk to make access and maintaining the site easier. Fellow scouts and volunteers pitched in to get things started. Supplies for the project are coming from on hand materials at the park as well as materials donated to the park by Townsend's Building Supply in Chipley.

No known cure for the Yakety-Yak syndrome

A few months back I was so sick I had to go see the doctor. That alone indicates the condition was rather serious. I do not like going to the doctor because you have to sit in the waiting room with sick people. I never know what contagious diseases are lurking in the shadows of that doctor's waiting room.

Out to Pastor

My condition progressed to the point where the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage told me to go to the doctor or else. I never want to deal with her "or else." I have lived as long as I have lived and have enjoyed the health that I do have because I have not found out her "or else."

Since I do not have health insurance, every time I go to the doctor it comes out of my own pocket. Recently my pockets have not been very deep. Regardless of how shallow my pockets may be, doctors know how to penetrate to the very depths of my pockets with their special scalpel.

The result of my visit to the doctors was that I had double pneumonia and bronchitis. Simply put, I was sick. He gave me a prescription to fill and then said I should spend at least the next two weeks in bed resting.

I was in such a state of mind that it sounded like a good idea to me. Of course, I made him write it out as a prescription so I could show it to my wife so she would believe me that I'm in bed because I'm sick not because I'm trying to avoid my chores.

The first couple of days I spent in bed hardly conscious of anything around me. I am not sure if I ate during those days are not. I have no recollection of anything conscious during those days.

By the beginning of the second week, I was strong enough to get out of bed, put on my bathrobe and get back in bed and rest. It was not long before I could actually put on the bathrobe, go out into the living room, sit down in my easy chair and watch TV.

I have never watched as much TV as I did during those several weeks of recuperation. I am not saying there is anything wrong with TV, just that there is not that much right with TV anymore. I did not know how bad TV was until I watched it for about two weeks. During this time I was too sick to read and so settled down to watching TV, that is between naps.

I would set a program and leaned back and within two winks of my left eye I was sound asleep. When I say sound asleep, I mean my sleeping was very sound, I did not know what was going on around me. Occasionally I would pierce the world of consciousness and see what was on TV. Then I would fall back into the delightful world of unconsciousness.

After a few days of this, I was able to stay in the conscious world a little bit longer and consequently I was watching TV a little bit longer. The thing I found about TV is that TV dominated by chatterboxes.

My ears were beginning to have its fill of chatter. I do not believe my ears were created to handle such a steady stream of incoherent verbiage. All day long, my ears were bombarded by noise coming from the mouths of people who had no idea what they were saying. I say that because, if they knew what they were saying and were hearing what I was hearing, I do not think they would be saying it so people could hear.

The TV world has been taken over by a hostile terrorist group known as talk shows. Does everybody in the world have a talk show? I have never seen or heard so much talking all of my life. After all, there are only 26 letters in the alphabet, how can people come up with so many words?

The airwaves are filled with news talk shows, celebrity talk shows, cooking talk shows, sports talk shows, religious talk shows, talk shows of every variety you could think of and some you would not even think of. When I say variety, I am referring to the title of the talk show. Once you get beyond the title, everything is the same.

The only skill one needs to have for a talk show is, open your mouth and let verbiage flow uncontrollably and the more incoherent the better.

Between sneezing and blowing my nose and coughing uncontrollably, I watched some of these shows. Who in the world is watching these shows? Somebody must be. The only reason I was watching them was that I was so sick I could not do anything else. Maybe that is their audience.

When I got to the place that I could read without my eyes watering too much, I read what the Bible has to say on the subject. "And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you" (1 Thessalonians 4:11 KJV).

I have come to a somber conclusion; more people talk than listen, which is why the world is in the state it is in. I call it the Yakety-Yak syndrome of which there is no known cure.

Colon Cancer Screening

Saves Lives

Colon cancer is the 2nd leading cause of cancer deaths in Florida.

7 out of 10 cancer deaths can be prevented through screening and lifestyle changes.

Colon cancer starts without symptoms so choose prevention and get screened.

If you're 50 or older, ask your doctor which colon cancer screening test is right for you.
