Board hears plans for school renovations

By RANDAL SEYLER

CHIPLEY — The Washington County School Board voted to earmark funds for new construction at the Vernon Elementary School during a special meeting Thursday afternoon at the district's administration office in Chipley.

New construction is a better choice that renovation, said Tom Ruff, project manager with Hatch Mott MacDonald. "It would be difficult to do this project with the existing breezeway and sidewalk."

The plans are to build a new 9,000 square-foot wing to the elementary school, adding eight classrooms, restrooms and a teachers' lounge, Ruff said. The board action required Thursday was to encumber funds for the project from the state before August so the project could be submitted for funding in the next fiscal year.

"This is to bring the fifth grade back from the middle school," Board Member Susan Roberts said.

Ruff said that if everything goes according to plan, demolition of the existing structure can begin at Christmas break and the new classrooms should be completed by August 2014.

"This is just getting the funds in place, we'll have plenty of time to look at design drawings and discuss the project," Superintendent Joe Taylor said.

The district is also looking to build a new bus barn, but they are still in the process of trying to determine a

State law limits types of fireworks allowed

Special to Halifax Media

The 4th of July is just around the corner, and the Chipley Police Department wants everyone to be safe in their celebration and observances of our National Holiday.

A big part of the 4th of July celebration is fireworks. We want the citizens of Chipley to be aware of the hazards of purchasing fireworks and allowing their children to use them.

Florida law prohibits the sale or purchase of any firework that explodes, detonates or is self propelled. Examples are bottle rockets, roman candles and fire crackers. We live in an area that is close to Alabama, where the sale of these type of fireworks is legal, however, parents should be advised that purchasing them in Alabama, does not make them legal in the state of Florida.

The only type of fireworks that are legal to use in the state of Florida are sparklers, smoke devices that emit colored smoke only and sparkler fountains, which are placed on the ground and lit, emitting sparks.

Responsible decisions should be made when purchasing fireworks from out of state and they should never be given to children to "shoot off" in the neighborhoods of Chipley. Enforcement actions will be taken if complaints are received about non approved fireworks being used. Illegal and non approved fireworks are subject to seizure by law enforcement, pursuant to Section 791.05, Florida Statutes. If you have any questions about which fireworks are legal, you can contact the Chipley Police Department at 638-6310.

ON THE WEB

A complete list of the approved fireworks can be viewed online at <http://www.fldfs.com/SFM/sparklerindex.htm> or by contacting the State Fire Marshalls Office location, Taylor said, so that item was tabled from the day's agenda.

In other business, the board voted to deny a request from teacher Amber Peel for a leave of absence for the 2013-14 school year.

"Historically, the board has not allowed three consecutive years of leave," said Administrative Services Director Pat Collins. "This would be her third year in a row."

Collins said the board has, in the past, approved a third year of leave, but only in instances where the teacher returned to work a year between absences.

The board also discussed honoring the 16 students who scored perfect FCAT scores at the July 8 meeting.

The venue of the meeting will likely need to be changed to accommodate the crowd for the recognition, Taylor said.

"Be prepared to meet somewhere else then reconvene back here for the regular meeting," Taylor told the board.

with temporary sheltering, food and clothing. Working closely with fire and police departments, volunteers from the affected county are typically dispatched to the scene within 2 hours.

If no county volunteer is available, then volunteers from neighboring counties are called in. DAT members play a critical role in helping the families get started in rebuilding their lives after a disaster such as a fire or tornado. It takes a special person to get out of bed at 2 am in the morning to rush to the assistance of a neighbor in crisis. Red Cross volunteers are there every day making a difference in people's lives.

"If we had local responders, it would cut down on that response time," Colombo said. Currently it takes about two hours for a DAT to respond from Bay County to Holmes or Washington Counties, she said.

Local Red Cross Disaster Action Teams respond to a disaster event approximately every other day. Last year DAT responded to 16 house fires in Washington County and nine in Holmes County. Families were assisted with such things as temporary lodging, clothing, food and replacement medications.

The Red Cross also needs shelter staff in all counties, Colombo said. "When the county Emergency Management Office determines that an evacuation is in order, or a large number of community members are displaced due to fire or tornado, the Red Cross will open shelters," Colombo said.

Shelter staff members take care of the sheltering needs of people affected by disaster. They are committed to providing a safe and comfortable shelter on an interim basis while the families arrange for their recovery or until able to return home.

Volunteers perform registration, feeding, dormitory management, information and public affairs management, logistical support, and disaster health services.

Training is provided, Colombo said.

Other Red Cross volunteer opportunities include: Disaster Health Services (for RN's), Disaster Mental Health (licensed mental health workers) Logistical support, Disaster Assessment, Client Services, youth programs and Government Liaison. All have deployment opportunities for volunteers who want to support national operations.

To volunteer with the American Red Cross, log into www.redcrosspc.org and complete the application for the Central Panhandle Chapter or call the chapter with any questions 763-6587.

Florida Baptist Mobile Dental Ministry returns with Back to School festival

By CECILIA SPEARS

NEW HOPE — After a two year absence, the Florida Baptist Mobile Dental Ministry is returning to the Panhandle to participate in West Pittman's Back to School festival, which will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, July 29 at the New Hope Fire Department.

"The dental services will be provided all week, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday, July 29 through Friday, Aug. 2 and will be free to not only children but adults also," said Pastor of West Pittman Baptist Church Eddie Eaton. "The Department of Health sets the requirements, which are they must meet the 150 percent or below the poverty level, which basically means if you're getting any sort of assistance you're qualified. We didn't have anyone that was rejected because they were disqualified two years ago, we just had to turn away over 100 people because they weren't pre-registered and we didn't have enough time to see them all."

There will be a pre-registration day to insure that everyone is seen, which will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, July 20 at the New Hope Fire Department, which is located on State Road 179A just north of Highway 2.

"The paper work is simple," said Eaton. "Its just two forms; one asking about your medical history and the other about your finances. They ask that you bring identification and current proof of your assistance, even if it's just a letter from your pastor saying you need help."

Services provided are a dental exam and extractions if needed.

"They don't do braces, fillings or caps," he said. "They give you an exam and if a tooth is too far gone then they will pull it. We had a case where three kids came in last time with bad infections and the dentists gave them a round of antibiotics and seen them the next week for a free follow up. These guys are just that dedicated to what they do."

Donating their time is the entire staff of The Family Dentistry of Bonifay.

The Mobile Dental Program provides a mobile dental clinic that travels across the state of Florida for 40 weeks a year providing dental services.

Eaton explained that the Back to School Festival would only be held 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, July 29 and would provide free haircuts all day to both children and adults, however the backpack give away would only be as long as supplies lasted.

"We've got 250 backpacks with supplies donated from Bridge Creek Baptist Church, Beulah Anna Baptist Church, Evergreen Baptist Church, the First Baptist Church of Esto, the First Baptist Church of Ponce de Leon, Hickory Hill Baptist Church, New Hope Baptist Church and West Pittman," said Eaton. "Last year we had a line that wrapped around the entire building and backpacks only lasted for around 45 minutes. I'm hoping we'll be able to receive more sponsorships from other local Baptist churches so that we'll have more backpacks to have for these children to go back to school with."

For more information contact Eaton at 956-4100.

Firecracker Day makes a comeback

In what pundits label as the most popular event in Washington County, the 2013 Panhandle Watermelon Festival which consistently attracts large crowds, will be history by the time this article is printed. Should all indicators prove correct, it will possibly be remembered as the biggest and best as it commemorates its 57th year.

Chairman, Judge Colby Peel, and his committee of "lieutenants" are to be congratulated for successfully carrying out this well structured weekend of fun activities which pays tribute to the cash crop watermelons, which many farmers have depended upon for decades to financially supplement other income.

For more than 50 years, local citizens and throngs of visitors were standing by awaiting to attend Bonifay's All Night Sing following Chipley's watermelon festival. The famed WBGC-Radio newscaster, J. Harvey Ethridge, always billed the event "as the biggest all night singing in the world." I don't know of any challenge that he ever received with that statement.

That historic annual singing event for Holmes County enjoyed tremendous successes for many years before falling on hard times a few years ago, resulting in the discontinuing of the mammoth event for the past two years.

The good news is that a gospel sing for that established night, nearest to the Fourth of July, is being advertised to be staged on July 6 at the Holmes County High School Auditorium at 6 p.m. Hopefully, this will be the beginning of having the popular All Night Singing become the gigantic and popular event that it once was. This year's sing will host The Nelons, who have soared to the top of national radio charts.

Vernon started its Independence Day holiday, with an event called "Vernon Firecracker Day and Homecoming." The first celebration was held July 4, 1975 and those recognized at the "brainchild" of organizing the gigantic festival include Sam Mitchell, Waller Everett, Theodore Simmons, Jerry Tyre, George and Alma Vann and a host of others.

The supporting organizations were a combined effort of the Vernon Lions Club and the Vernon High School Quarterback Club.

The planned event was carried out at Vernon's High School Football stadium with food, entertainment, games for children, a mammoth fireworks display and other activities. From the outset, the festive occasion stressed the patriotic theme, and the plan to continue the annual celebration each July 4th.

The event thrived for several years and was well attended. Support from other organizations and individuals, including some noted office holders, joined in the community effort.

As the festival grew in attendance, some well-known entertainment groups were brought into the town for performances. Included in this number were Little Jimmy Dickens, Wendy Bagwell and the Sunlighters and Mel Tillis and his band. Then State Senator, Dempsey J. Barron, was credited with bringing Mel Tillis as the two of them were personal friends.

In 1981, the Vernon Firecracker Day probably reached its peak. A Vernon High School Alumni Club had been formed under the leadership of Dale Taylor, and other officers, with the group's main goal being to support Vernon's big day each July 4. The schedule of events were listed in a Souvenir Booklet, complete with pictures of Vernon homes and with elected officials, businesses and individuals paying for advertising to cover expenses of the celebration. In that year, activities included a Fishing Rodeo and Canoe Races on Holmes Creek, a 10,000 meter Road Race, as well as downtown Parade and Barbeque being served on the town's square.

At sundown, action shifted to the football field where a variety of bluegrass and gospel music was performed. There was also food, arts and crafts and games for children

For some unknown reason, the Vernon Firecracker Day fell by the wayside from 1981 until 2004. It was then rejuvenated thanks to the efforts of the Vernon Merchant's Association, headed by newcomers to the business community, Bill and Peggy Dobbins.

The big day has survived the upheaval in the widening of Highway 79 and the construction of the two new Vernon Bridges spanning Holmes Creek, with a separate structure accommodating traffic both north and south.

Traffic is moving in a more orderly fashion presently with the completion of most of the road work. Vernon now has its first traffic light and plans for beautification of the historic Vernon Square is underway by the Vernon Garden Club.

The Vernon Firecracker Day is scheduled for July 4 and local media has printed the schedule which will include some added attractions.

It was the writer's privilege to support and attend the earlier Firecracker Days at his Alma Mater of Vernon. At the very first event in 1975, when the "Prattler" was entertaining entering the political arena for county judge, my friend, Bob Jones, and employee of the Sheriff's Department, unknowingly snapped my picture.

On Monday morning, he presented it to me at the Montgomery Ward Catalog Store, with the typewritten caption "Politician?" This is one of my treasured keepsake items from the many varied "careers" of Perry Wells. These different job experiences have given me ten wonderful years of writing "Perry's Prattle."

Hopefully, your writer will be able to attend some of the attractions at Vernon's Firecracker Day and once again enjoy this patriotic worthwhile extravaganza which celebrates this Washington County's town rich heritage and history. See you at Vernon on July 4 and see you next week with more "prattle."

N.D. Miller Distribution Company was early Bonifay business

Recently my friend Edna Bellot McDonald was given a picture of the opening of the warehouse adjacent to the railroad track on Waukesha St (Highway 79) which housed the N.D. Miller Company. The company was an early Bonifay business owned by Mr. N.D. Miller who also owned the Eureka Hotel. His widow, Chrissie Cawthon Miller, lived at the Hotel for many years and was a social fixture in Bonifay.

Until the new building was occupied in 1950, the wholesale grocery business warehouse was located north of the hotel, behind Evans Department Store and the building next door. Barbara Miller Hartsfield, great niece of N.D. Miller, writes her recollections in "The Heritage of Holmes County, Florida." She writes about her father, Jefferson Brown Miller whose own father had died when he was but two years old. He had an uncle, Julian Miller, who was a father figure to the young Brown.

After graduating from The University of Florida and marrying an Indiana native, Irene Best, a nurse whom he met in Gainesville, Brown moved to Bonifay and worked for his uncle, N.D. Miller. Since N.D. and Chrissie were childless, at his death, Brown inherited the grocery distribution company and operated it until it closed in 1961. For a time he also operated a grocery store in downtown Bonifay next door to Evans Department store where Pat's Electric/ The Bead Garden is located today. Barbara remembers walking from the warehouse through the back door to the grocery store.

Since Edna Bellot McDonald was a long time employee of the business, when Julian Miller II was given scrap book memorabilia by Brown's second wife, Arlen Strickland Miller, he contacted Edna and gave her the picture. She was able to identify the people and remembered working with them. Mr. Ben Smith drove a truck for the company. Trips to Louisiana brought back sugar. Before Christmas, a trip to Chattanooga, Tenn brought candy for the season. Edna particularly remembers Brock candy bars and cream drops. Warehouse workers were Hilton Pate and Tom Pettis. Capt. Julius Bellot, Edna's dad who got his title as captain of a prison camp was a salesman as was Rev. Herman McDonald, and Willard Newsome who also served as warehouse manager. The office staff was comprised of Willadean Dyson Pate, Mary Methvin Cox, Edna, and Arlen. Edna McDonald, Arlen Miller and Ben Smith are the only ones pictured who are still living.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Stores in town and the nearby outlying area came to the warehouse with their orders where they were filled on the spot. Deliveries were made as far away as Crestview to the west, but Edna wasn't sure how far east they went since Daffin's in Marianna was in the same business.

Some of the stores we could recall were Hagler's at Bethlehem School, Hodge's and Jenkins' in Caryville, Brigman's in Westville, Owens' and McFatter's in Vernon, Tobias' and Dasenger's in Chipley, Methvin's and O. K. Williams' in Bonifay, and Cullifer's north of town.

One of Edna's duties was to put the state tax stamps on the individual cigarette packages. This was before the health risks of smoking were known and cigarette sales were a big part of the company's business. She described how they would be carefully dumped from the carton, the stamp then had to be moistened and affixed. Then they had to be returned to the carton. Barbara Miller recalled that Mrs. McDonald taught her and Edna's sister, Sarah Bellot, to do the stamping. They became quite proficient as they competed to see who could do the most stamps.

In the Heritage book, Barbara tells a story that her dad, Brown Miller told. On Saturdays the delivery trucks would be filled with gasoline ready for the Monday deliveries. As summer came on, he noticed that the gasoline would run out too soon. He suspected that young people coming back from the beach on Sunday night were siphoning gasoline from the company's trucks. So he devised a plan. He had the tanks drained and filled with water. On Monday, there were several cars bearing Alabama tags stalled along North Highway 79.

The N.D. Miller Co closed its doors in 1961 when "chain" stores made their appearance. The building was bought by Clearwater Phillips as headquarters for his Holmes County Milling Co, a feed mill and farm supply store. It is still in that family today operated as Holmes County Farm Supplies by Carolyn Phillips Cooley and husband, Jerry.

Employment numbers stay steady in Northwest Florida

From Staff Reports

PANAMA CITY — The Panhandle and Gulf area employment scene isn't getting any better — but it isn't getting any worse either, according to Gulf Coast Workforce Board numbers released Friday.

The area had a negative 2 percent employment growth margin — the gap between the number of jobs and number of job seekers — while the rest of the state saw a growth of 1.6 percent.

In Washington County, the numbers ticked up one-tenth of a percent, rising to 7.6 percent in May, up from 7.5 percent in April.

In Holmes County, the increase was from 5.3 percent in April to 5.7 in May, or four-tenths of a percent.

Workforce Board Executive Director Kim Bodine said the lack of growth has been because more people are beginning to look for work after sitting on the sidelines for the last few months.

The Workforce Board Region — Bay, Franklin and Gulf counties — unemployment rate clicked up from 6.2 to 6.3 percent.

Bay County's number stayed at 6.3 percent

"When you dig deeper into the numbers, you will see that both the labor force and the employment force, two different things, experienced growth over the month," Bodine said regarding the region. "The labor force grew from 99,789 in April to 100,984 in May.

The number of employed residents grew from 93,574 in April to 94,658 in May.

This means more people are feeling confident about getting back into the workforce and are starting to seek employment again."

Still, over the past year, the Bay County area alone lost more than 500 jobs in the leisure, hospitality, professional and business services areas, according to the figures released Friday.

An additional 200 jobs were lost in the transportation and utilities area, while another 100 jobs were lost in the education, financial activities and health services or government areas.

Bodine refuted those numbers.

"We believe that in reality our tourism season has resulted in larger revenues and more jobs than last year. I am not sure that the data collection was correct," Bodine said.

Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 7.1 percent in May, the lowest since September 2008, when it was 7 percent.

The May rate was down 0.1 percentage point from the April rate of 7.2 percent and was 1.7 percentage points lower than the year-ago rate of 8.8 percent.

There were 671,000 jobless Floridians out of a labor force of 9,427,000.

The U.S. May unemployment rate was 7.6 percent.

Florida's unemployment rate was 0.5 percentage point lower than the U.S. rate and was below the national rate for the third consecutive month.

NEED HELP?

The Gulf Coast Workforce Board encourages anyone negatively affected by the recently imposed sequester to visit its new website at workforcecenter.org to find part-time work to help fill in the gap. A quick search on the Employ Florida Marketplace website Friday resulted in 298 part-time positions open in the region. For help utilizing the system, contact the Workforce Center at 850-872-4340, 625 U.S. 231, Panama City.

Dixon proposes location of new schools to HC BOCC

By CECILIA SPEARS

547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chippelypaper.com

BONIFAY — Superintendent of Holmes County Schools Eddie Dixon announced on June 25 that the intended location for the new Bonifay Middle and Elementary School is the Holmes County Fair Grounds.

Dixon made the announcement during the Holmes County Board of County Commissioner's June 25 meeting.

"The fair grounds behind the Holmes County High School is the ideal location because we can then have all the schools in one location," said Dixon.

"The old high school, which is the middle school now, was built in the early '50s, while the elementary school was built in 1969. The middle school had clay pipes, which are now completely gone and that's just one of the many reasons we need new schools."

County Attorney Jeff Goodman asked Dixon about the board's role in this endeavor.

"We need some sort of agreement that if we acquire the funding then we'll be able to reach some sort of agreement concerning that property," said Dixon. "Representatives from the Department of Education will be down next week, perhaps you can send a representative on behalf of the board to attend?"

The board approved of sending Commissioner Williams and Goodman to all negotiations involving the process of building these new schools at the Holmes County Fair Grounds.

CECILIA SPEARS | The News

Superintendent of Holmes County Schools Eddie Dixon revealed the school board's intended location of the new Bonifay Elementary and Middle School at the Holmes County Board of County Commissioner's June 25 meeting.

Property Appraiser Otis Corbin, Supervisor of Elections Debbie Wilcox, Clerk of Court Kyle Hudson, Holmes County Tax Collector Harry B. Bell, III and County Judge Owen Powell were present to request that the county do a feasibility study for Holmes County to have a Governmental Complex.

"We don't want it tonight, we just want you to do a study to see if it's feasible," said Powell. "One of our more pressing needs is to get the Supervisor of Elections office out of the courthouse. It's subjecting our voters to the bad company that frequent that courthouse and every day it poses a compromise in security to the courthouse."

Powell added that with one building there would be shared facilities, conference room, etc. and that would in the long run save the county money.

"I think there will be funding available for such a facility and we are together on this as a unified front," said Powell. "We just want a good start to get going."

Bell said that he was anticipating a large amount of growth coming to Holmes County and they would need the additional office space and parking for county business.

"My situation is kind of urgent," said Wilcox. "Our voters did very well coming to the back of the courthouse for early voting and the government was very flexible with us, however it is still a requirement that early voting be done at the Supervisor of Elections' Office and our voters have the right to feel safe when coming to vote. Being near the courthouse makes for a hostile environment."

Commissioner Bill Parish suggested that the study be held off until the next budget cycle.

"The building itself isn't going to be finished until further down the road at any rate, so there's time for the study to be included in our next budgeting cycle," said Parish.

"I do agree that we have an urgent matter at the moment and suggest we find a place to relocate the Supervisor of Elections' Office as soon as possible until this governmental complex can become established."

The board agreed to look into a possible new location temporarily for the Supervisor of Elections' Office.

The board approved of building a Mosquito Control Building to house the mosquito spray truck and chemicals at the Recycling Center for the amount of $12,595, which will come out Mosquito Control's budget.

The board approved of extending their contracts with Melvin Engineering and Preble Rish for another year.

Chairman Monty Merchant said that he spoke with the Department of Transportation and it looks as though they might have additional funds to help widen County Road 2 from County Road 82 to the Walton County Line, however it would help if the Board made it a top priority.

"This doesn't devalue the importance of the repairs needed for Thomas Drive and Duncan Road, it just pushes it up so that the project can be started on this year," said Merchant.

"Thomas Drive and Duncan Road still won't be eligible for work until 2017."

The board approved of placing County Road 2 at the top of their priority list. The board also approved of Holmes County Extension Director Shep Eubanks' recommendation to hire Wendy Smith as the new Extension Office Secretary.

"Out of 22 applicants and eight interviews she was the best choice," said Eubanks. "She has over 17 years of experience, her test scores were the highest and she had outstanding references."

The board approved Director of Holmes County Emergency Management Wanda Stafford's request to extend the Emergency Operations Center hours from 35 hours per week to 40, with a vote of 4 to 1, with Merchant voting "no."

Stafford confirmed that demands on the Emergency Operations Center had been increasing and the additional hours would not be of any cost to the county.

"We will continue to do our best to support you all and do the best job that we can," said Stafford.

Commissioner Bobby Sasnett moved to have a local bus driver's driveway repaired but it died due to lack of second.

Goodman said there was some room to work if it was private property being used for public purposes and the other commissioners were reluctant because it was private property.

Merchant asked about the ongoing efforts to beautify the courthouse and Board of County Commissioners building.

County Engineer Whitney Nelson from Melvin Engineering said he had submitted a plan that would cost $2,128 that would enlist the help of inmate labor and a local nursery.

Board agreed to look into asking the Bonifay Garden Club for their advice as well.

The next scheduled Holmes County Board of County Commissions meeting is set for 9 a.m. on July 9.

BONIFAY — Guardian Ad Litem representative Amy Griffin spoke to the Bonifay Kiwanis Club on June 26 about the importance of volunteering as a guardian.

"We serve Holmes, Washington, Bay, Calhoun, Jackson and Gulf Counties through the Fourteenth Judicial Circuit by doing the best we can to protect children in the courtroom," said Griffin. "Their voices often fall on deaf ears and their best interest may be overlooked in the often overburdened child welfare system. The State of Florida Guardian Ad Litem program trains and certifies citizens to represent the best interests of these local children in need."

Griffin explained that a guardian isn't like a foster parent with full time responsibility of a child, but volunteers their time to be a representative for a child in need by monthly visits and observations and often may accompany a child as a source of comfort if they are needed in court.

"These volunteers provide a stable foundation for a child that maybe facing very turbulent times," said Griffin. "It's horrible to see homes split apart because both their mother and father are in jail. You may be the only stable adult a child may know."

Griffin asked that a few volunteers give their testimony as volunteers, the first being Tom Jenkins.

"Is it a lot of effort?" asked Jenkins. "No, but is it worth it? Absolutely."

He said that he had nine children he was volunteering for at the present time.

"It's only a couple of hours a month," said Jenkins. "You write up a report and you're done. These children just want someone to show them that someone cares about them."

There will be "happy moments" and there will be "sad times," he said.

"When a five-year-old has to be removed from a home because his teeth are rotting out of his head because the parents neglected him, that is very sad," said Jenkins. "Then I visited with the foster parents taking the boy in and now I have no problem with him leaving his home because I seen the compassion these people had for this child. These kids just want someone that will love them and care for them."

The next volunteer to speak was Aubrey Sapp.

"We need people to be a positive impact on these children," said Sapp. "The positive far outweighs the negative as a volunteer. It's a rewarding experience and I don't regret a minute of it." Griffin stressed that there were still quite a few children in Holmes and Washington County in need of volunteers.

"They need someone to be their voice so they're not just another number," said Griffin. "Since we are completely volunteer based, if there is no volunteer for that child then that child will not have a representative so I implore that you accept the challenge to be a volunteer. With great challenges comes great reward."

For more information about becoming a volunteer contact Guardian Ad Litem's local office in Chipley at 638-6043.

Pet travel safety takes a front seat as partnership kicks off campaign

Special to Extra

RALEIGH, N.C. — In an effort to bring pet travel safety to the forefront of pet owners' minds this summer, TripsWithPets.com will be partnering with the AKC Canine Health Foundation, or CHF, to launch the Safe Summer Pet Travel Campaign.

According to TripsWithPets.com, 65 percent of pet owners surveyed plan to take their pets along when they hit the road this summer. The Safe Summer Pet Travel Campaign is designed to educate pet owners on how best to incorporate safety into their travel plans.

"It's such an important subject," notes TripsWithPets.com President and Founder, Kim Salerno. "People love their pets, and want to do everything they can to protect them. But they may not be aware of all the steps they could take to ensure their safety as they travel."

The partnership is a natural fit. TripsWithPets.com, a website dedicated to helping pet owners find pet friendly lodging, restaurants and beaches throughout the United States and Canada, is a long-time leading pet travel safety advocate.

CHF is an organization committed to funding scientific research that promotes canine health and wellness, and to providing health and safety education programs for dog owners.

Salerno is excited to be working with CHF. "I have so much respect for everything this organization does to promote the health of dogs, and I am so pleased and honored to be a part of this campaign," she notes.

CHF Director of Development & Communications Erica Kitchen is thrilled as well. "Providing educational resources for dog owners is integral to our mission to help dogs live longer, healthier lives," she notes.

"TripsWithPets.com does so much to promote the safety, comfort and well-being of pets. We couldn't be happier to work with them. It's a perfect partnership."

The main focus of the campaign will rest on car safety, highlighting topics such as properly securing pets in vehicles; avoiding distracted driving; dealing with pet car sickness; and the dangers of leaving pets in hot cars.

The campaign will run throughout July and August, during which time pet safety tips, articles and other resources will be available on www.tripswithpets.com. The site will also offer deals on pet travel safety items for purchase, such as pet carriers; pet car seats, pet seat belts, and vehicle pet barriers.

In addition, as part of the campaign, CHF will extend their regular podcast program to encompass the Safe Summer Pet Travel campaign.

The program is currently released bi-weekly at no charge to listeners, and covers topics related to canine health. On July 25, the foundation will release a travel safety podcast featuring Kim Salerno. Those interested in this podcast — or in the complete CHF podcast series — can find it on the CHF website, located at www.akcchf.org, or at the iTunes store.

For more information on the Safe Summer Pet Travel campaign, please visit www.tripswithpets.com or www.akcchf.org.

Don't bring Bambi home!

We've all done it before. You see a cute, seemingly hungry animal in the wild and instantly start thinking of names and working out how you will care for your new pet. But while having a pet deer may seem like a novel idea at first, feeding and caring for wildlife can be not only dangerous for you and the animal, but in many cases it is also against the law.

"Wildlife may carry a number of diseases and parasites that can be easily transmitted to humans," said Dr. Alice Blue-McLendon, Clinical Associate Professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Science (CVM) and director of the Winnie Carter Wildlife Center. "Small creatures like foxes and skunks should never be handled because they are known to be carriers of the rabies virus."

In many cases, it is also against state and federal law to keep wildlife species as pets. "Multiple permits, such as those listed out on the Texas Parks and Wildlife website, are needed in order to keep and foster wildlife," said Blue-McLendon. "These permits are usually reserved for educational facilities, zoos, and rehabilitators."

Feeding wildlife is also seen by many as a controversial subject, as it attracts animals into urban environments. "This contributes to a rise in vehicle collisions with wild animals as they move closer to roads and nearby homes to be near the food source," said Blue-McLendon.

Feeding can also habituate dangerous animals into becoming comfortable in residential or recreational settings. "Wildlife species that are hand raised, like the white-tailed buck, tend to be more dangerous in the wild due to the absence of their fear of humans," said Blue-McLendon. "Wild animals are named that for a reason. Even if the creature is raised by humans, it will still have most of its wild tendencies."

The best thing you can do when you see wildlife is to walk away. In the case of an injured animal, contact your local animal control or wildlife veterinarian to find the wildlife rehabilitator closest to your location.

"Unless the animal is in obvious distress, is ill, or is in immediate danger, it's best to just leave them be," said Blue-McLendon. "An all too common scenario is of people finding fawns that they believe are orphaned, when in reality they are actually hidden by their mother as she searches for food. The mother will return to nurse them, so as long as the fawn is not distressed or injured, it should be left alone."

If an animal appears ill or injured, it should be taken immediately to a wildlife veterinarian or a licensed rehabilitator. The Texas Parks and Wildlife website contains a list of local licensed rehabilitators, and the Zoological Medicine Service through the Texas A&M CVM provides services for injured wildlife as well.

"Rehabilitators will give the animal first aid while the veterinarian arrives, and work closely with the veterinarian to keep the animal healthy as it recovers," said Blue-McLendon. "If you must transport wildlife, it is vital to take precautions to avoid contracting any disease or parasite from the animal. People should wear gloves at all times, wrap the animal in a towel, and avoid the animal's mouth at all times."

The Winnie Carter Wildlife Center at Texas A&M University offers courses to students aimed at teaching them about the husbandry, management and behavior of captive wildlife and exotic animal species.

Late watermelon harvest in the Central Panhandle

By Matthew Orwat
Washington County Extension

CHIPLEY — Melon growers in Washington, Holmes and Jackson Counties have been surveyed, with all indicating a late start to harvest. The majority have not begun to harvest, as of the 26th of June.

This harvest delay is due to the near 100 degree temperatures in May and Early June and lack of pollinators present. Flowers have been closing early in the day due to heat, and this further reduces pollination.

Since daily highs have eased off the from the 100 degree mark, pollination should improve. Watermelons are running and flowering well due to the plentiful rains during the last several weeks. In Washington and Holmes counties, melon cutting should begin sometime in early July. This condition is representative of most watermelon growers in the central panhandle.

For more information consult the UF / IFAS Washington County Extension Office, 1424 Jackson Ave. Suite A, Chipley, or call 638-6180.

Of course it's raining, I just washed my car

Nobody can say I did not warn the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage, for all the good my warning did. I am not one to say, "I told you so," but "I told you so."

I swear, at times I think my wife thinks I do not want to do something simply because I am too lazy. Nine times out of 10 it may be true, but what about that tenth time?

What women need to understand is when their husband does not do something; there may be a good, logical reason behind it. The problem men have is articulating their perfectly good and logical reason to their better half. Trust me on this one, ladies.

There are excellent reasons your husband does not always do what you request of him. I wish someone would explain this to my wife. It is just hard for us to explain it in terms women can understand.

Last week, for example, my wife made a request of me. She said, "Honey ..."

Whenever my wife begins a sentence with "Honey," I know I am in for a sticky situation.

Honey comes from bees and whenever she so addresses me, I know I be in trouble, and you can be sure there is a stinger in it for me — somewhere.

My wife was looking out the window with her arms folded, which means she is thinking about some job around the house for Yours Truly. Then she said, "Honey, don't you think you should wash the car?"

If I live to be a hundred that thought never crossed my mind. Do you know how much trouble it is to wash my car?

Then, it never fails to rain right after I wash the car and have to wash it all over again.

That was on Tuesday and I said to my wife, "You know, Dear," whenever a husband so addresses his wife, it always means he is trying to find some way out of doing her request, while making it sound like he wants to do it.

I said, "You know, Dear, it's a wonderful idea but it looks like it might rain." The key to this point is to put on a grimace and look up in the sky, in a thoughtful frame of mind.

"Yes, I think I saw a raindrop. It won't be long now."

Right here is where most men fail. Simply because the first round is over does not mean, by any stretch of the imagination, the issue is put to rest. I can sum up the next move in one word - vamoose.

In other words, disappear. Remember the old saying, "Out of sight, out of chores?"

Find something to get you out of the line of fire. There is always a chance — slim though it is — the Missus will get busy with something else and forget.

By Thursday, I forgot the car washing idea and was standing around our living room looking out the window. It seemed harmless enough.

Have you heard the old saying, "An idle husband is a wife's workhorse?"

I heard those familiar words beginning with "Honey ..." And a streak of panic flowed through my body, freezing up every muscle I still had. "Honey, our car really needs a good washing."

Now, that was bad enough and I think I could have worked out something else except - before I could clear my throat, she added a phrase no husband wants to hear: "Don't you agree?"

If I say, "No," I am in trouble.

If I say, "Yes," I am in trouble.

I am duped if I do not and doped if I do. How is a husband to win with the odds so stacked against him?

With a feigned meekness that would make St. Francis of Assisi envious, I said what all good husbands say under similar conditions, "Yes, Dear."

The next three hours found me outside, vigorously washing Old Nelly. As I washed her, I could feel someone (I am not mentioning any names) watching from our living room window.

The smile on my face camouflaged the clenched teeth behind it.

Just as I was putting the finishing touches on the wax job, I felt something cold on the back of my neck. At first, being engrossed in my chore, I did not pay any attention to it.

Then another — and another — and another. Then came the rain.

I glanced at my freshly waxed car and saw drops of water cheerfully dancing on my mirrored hood.

The thunder sounded like a heavenly giggle and before I could make it to the door, I was completely drenched.

Ducking inside out of the rain, I was greeted by my wife who calmly asked, "Oh, my. Is it raining?"

"Of course it's raining," I shivered, "I've just washed my car."

As I was drying off, I chuckled to myself as a favorite Bible verse came to mind.

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose." (Romans 8:28 KJV)

Two things in life are for certain. One: things will always fall apart.

Two: God can always take those things that fall apart and pull them together for His honor and glory - come rain or shine.
