Health department: Blue Lake water OK

By RANDAL SEYLER

CHIPLEY — Bacteria levels in Blue Lake are at acceptable levels, according to the Washington County Health Department.

"I took two samples at Blue Lake, and they came back pretty good," said Amanda Baker, environmental manager for the health department, on Friday. She said the test results, which she received on Thursday, showed the lake water as having 16 cfus (colony forming units) per 100 milliliters in one test sample, and 12 cfus per 100 milliliters in the other sample.

The threshold for a body of water to be considered contaminated is 200 cfus per 100 milliliters, Baker said. "The samples from Blue Lake are way below the threshold."

The health department issued a health alert for Blue Lake on Aug. 29 after extensive flooding, including flooding on Aug. 19 that swamped the Blue Lake Community Center and put the facility's septic tank underwater.

On Sept. 11, John Gilbert, chairman of the Orange Hill Soil and Water Supervisors, sent a letter to County Coordinator David Corbin

Tickets on sale now for 'Daddy's Dyin' Who's Got the Will?'

Special to the News

CHIPLEY — Tickets for the Spanish Trail Playhouse production of "Daddy's Dyin', Who's Got the Will?" are on sale in the Spanish Trail Playhouse business office.

Directed by Kevin Russell, the cast includes Jacquie Funderburk as Sara Lee Turnover, Mil Cox as Lurlene Turnover Rogers, Pat Dickson as Lois "Mama" Wheelis, Zedra Hawkins as Evalita Turnover, Ray Bixby as Harmony Rhodes, Lee Shook as Orville Turnover, Emory Wells as Buford "Daddy" Turnover and Tina Goodman as Marlene Turnover. Terrie Garrett is assistant director, and Phyllis Sloan is stage manager.

The Hollywood Reporter writes, "Set in a small Texas town in anytime, U.S.A., "Daddy's Dyin'" concerns the reunion of a family gathered to await the imminent death of their patriarch, who has recently suffered a physically as well as mentally disabling stroke. In essence, however, it is not the story of the impending demise of the father or of the drafting of his will, but of a rebirth of the spirit of the family unit. Without becoming ponderous, losing a sense of humor or pandering to timeworn clichés about Texans or Texas drawls, the story shares many elements of a good summer novel: it's a fast, delicious, easy read with funny moments, tense moments, touching moments, and characters you care about."

"Daddy's Dyin'" will take the stage at 7 p.m. on Oct. 18-19 and 2 p.m. Oct. 20. This production is rated PG-13 for strong language.

Tickets are $12/adults, $10/seniors (65 and up) and military with ID. This production is not

Long Term Recovery Group seeks support

CHIPLEY — The relentless rains received in July caused considerable damage to about 100 homes in Washington County.

Community leaders formed the Washington County Long Term Recovery Organization to organize response efforts locally.

United Way is the fiscal agent for the organization and an account has been set up at Capital City Bank in Chipley. Based on early damage estimates, only a small portion of the money needed for materials has been received. The LTRO is in need of financial support and volunteers to invest back into our community. Please consider being a part of the rebuilding process while touching the lives of your neighbors in need.

To donate to the Washington County LTRO please make checks payable to: United Way of Northwest Florida, In Care of the Washington Co. LTRO, P.O. Box 182, Vernon, FL 32462.

Groups or individuals interested in donating labor are asked to contact Hammers & Hearts' Ben Tarpley at 478-258-7585 or Josh Hipp at 330-473-5644. To report home damage, call Catholic Charities at 763-0475, ext. 1032.

expressing that the septic tank could contaminate Blue Lake and the Florida aquatic basin.

The Washington County Board of County Commissioners discussed the flooding situation and Gilbert's letter at their Sept. 26 meeting.

"I recommend we immediately get the water tested; that is the No. 1 thing," Commissioner Todd Abbott said. "We need to be sure the quality of the water has not been affected."

Gilbert also asked that the community center be torn down.

"It has sustained 18 inches of water and should be dismantled due to black mold becoming a health hazard to all visitors," Gilbert wrote. "The building nor the septic tank should have ever been permitted or allowed to be constructed due to being located in the flood plain."

According to officials, the county is still waiting on final insurance assessments of damage to the community center, and the possibility of FEMA funding for the rebuilding of the structure is being discussed.

The health department also posted no swimming and no fishing signs at the lake before the test results came back negative.

County commissioners were concerned the signs were not readily visible for visitors.

"You have to hunt for them to see them," Commissioner Joel Pate said.

Holmes County Chamber all about networking

By CECILIA SPEARS
547-9414 | @WCN_HCT
cspears@chippypaper.com

BONIFAY — Located at 106 E Byrd Ave. in Bonifay, the log cabin is said to house more than just the Holmes County Chamber of Commerce — it houses the possibility of a brighter future for Holmes County.

“The Holmes County Chamber of Commerce is a representative of the businesses as a whole,” said Chamber Coordinator Julia Bullington. “Really we’re the eyes and ears on what relates to our county, if we need to take a stand, if it’s going to affect us and how we operate. My number one job is being a cog in the wheel that keeps businesses and people connected.”

Bullington said that is one of the greatest advantages to becoming a chamber member — not only does it connect small businesses to each other but it promotes their businesses at business conventions such as RiverWay South Summit, which is a gathering of the area’s economic development leaders to discuss ways to better promote and increase the areas’ tourism through promotion.

“We’ve got quite a bit of tourist attractions for a small county,” Bullington said. “When all of the local economic development leaders gather for this type of convention then it attracts some attention from some of the bigger media, and as a chamber member, then those businesses will be promoted in those travel magazines and brochures. Being a chamber member just shows that you are a business that wants to be involved in the community and are wanted to promote your areas success.”

She said that the summit was an easy way to promote areas.

“We’re planning our fall summit, and we’ve invited travel magazines, politicians, travel experts and guest speakers who excel in the latest economic and tourist development strategies,” Bullington said. “It will be an incredible day with a show board from each county. The greatest advantage is that as a group we afford promotional avenues that we couldn’t otherwise afford on our own.”

Chambers are increasing as promotional stops for many areas.

“If someone isn’t familiar with an area and are thinking about visiting or moving to an area the place they’re going to look at first is the local Chamber of Commerce,” Bullington said. “Our website is a one stop for all visitors to check out everything from tourism to commercial information within Holmes County. It is those businesses, such as hotels, restaurants and entertainment destinations that are promoted through our website, and it’s a shame to miss out on it because you’re not a member.”

She said her aim is to get Holmes County known throughout the tourism industry.

“We’re strong, educated, willing and dedicated businesses that help one another,” said Bullington. “That’s another reason why you should become a member because there’s so much we can do for you and that’s what I live for. I’m not doing it for just one business, I’m doing it for all.”

Bullington said the Holmes County community is very supportive of one another.

“There has never been a community as tight as this one,” said Bullington. “It’s a network of businesses that help one another and as a chamber we can be as helpful or as generic as you want us to be.”

She said the community and the chamber are also there to help small businesses get started or even advance through grants or low interest loans.

“We’ll help those potential businesses evaluate their chances of becoming a successful business, the steps necessary and the possibility of assistance,” said Bullington. “Not many people know what’s required to start a small business. There’s a lot of hard work, time, money, dedication and determination needed but it all starts with a dream.”

She used a potential cupcake business as an example.

“Let’s say you’ve got two different guys who are great at making cupcakes and want to start a business,” Bullington said. “You got one fellow with no money, no first and last month’s rent, no location and plan and then you’ve got a fellow who’s diligently put money away and has a well-written plan to get investors outlining his plans and his experience. It’s the second guy that we can really get started pointing in the right direction.”

Bullington said the chamber has a small business advisor who comes in for one-on-one interviews to help those who are wanting to start a small business get started with step-by-step instruction. Call the chamber to set an appointment with the small business advisor.

Travel magazine representatives were invited to visit tourist attractions within the Apalachicola and Choctawhatchee river areas, which includes Washington and Holmes counties and was organized by RiverWay South Apalachicola Choctawhatchee during a promotional called Four-Day Nature’s “Bucket List” Tour of Northwest Florida on Oct. 1-4. Taking the position of host and guide Holmes County Chamber Coordinator Julia Bullington took visiting travel writers to locations of interest, which included visiting the Choctawhatchee River Designated Canoe Trail and this year’s Northwest Florida Championship Rodeo.

“It all goes back to the fact that we are the networking source for Holmes County,” Bullington said. “You can be recognized with the name of your business on our website, but remember you only get out as much as you put in. You’re business front is the doorway that reflects who you are, and sometimes you need to take a step back and ask if you were coming there for the first time would you be considered open, inviting and refreshing.”

Remembering Dexter Douglass: A lawyer's lawyer

First, I want to thank my friend Hazel Tison for asking me to be a guest columnist for her this week. When I told her about the death of my cousin, Dexter Douglass, a Tallahassee lawyer who died Sept. 17 at the age of 83 and his connection to the Williams family that owned the Holmes County Advertiser from 1892-1981, she graciously asked me to write an article about Dexter.

Dexter Douglass, who died Sept. 17 at his home in Tallahassee, was related to me through our great-grandfather, W. D. Williams, who founded the Advertiser in 1892. Two of W.D.'s children were Dexter's grandmother, Annie Lee Williams Douglass, and my grandfather, Edward A. Williams. Dexter's father was Annie's son, Willie D. Douglass. Edward and later his son DeVane succeeded W.D. as editors and publishers of the Advertiser, Edward from 1909-1949 and DeVane from 1949-1974. In 1974, my husband, Orren R. Smith, succeeded my father as editor and publisher. Therefore, I think it is fitting that the passing of such an illustrious member of the Advertiser and Williams family be noted in this newspaper.

Dexter was born Dec. 6, 1929, in Pensacola to Willie D. Douglass and his wife, Celia Marie Folmar. Not only was Dexter connected to Holmes County through the Williams family but also through his mother's brother, Eric Folmar; the long-time president of the Bank of Bonifay. Willie D., known as "Cooter" Douglass, was a newspaper publisher and a popular radio newscaster whose strong Democratic views were broadcast throughout the Florida Panhandle. Dexter's parents worked hard during the Depression and instilled in their son the value of hard work and the importance of being sensitive to the needs of others. Willie D.'s dream was for his son to become a lawyer, mainly because he saw the law as a profession where you could do some good for others. So Dexter said all he ever wanted to be was a lawyer.

Educated in Okaloosa County public schools and Georgia Military Academy, Dexter graduated from the University of Florida. Following his graduation, he served in the Korean War, flying 87 missions over enemy lines as an aerial observer. After the war, he returned to the University of Florida to study law, graduating in 1955. It was at the University of Florida that he became friends with some of the men who would become the "movers and shakers" in Florida politics. In particular, he and Lawton Chiles formed a close personal friendship that lasted until Chiles' death. Dexter served as general counsel to Gov. Chiles, and in this capacity he led the legal team that won the landmark legal settlement against Big Tobacco.

He was a member of two Florida Constitution

Revision Commissions, serving as chairman of the second Constitutional Revision Commission in 1997-98. It is notable that Florida voters approved 12 of the 13 amendments proposed by that commission. He knew the Florida Constitution "backwards and forwards" because, as someone noted, he wrote so much of it.

Dexter was known for his brilliant mind and scholarly knowledge of the law. He was frequently called "a lawyer's lawyer" for this reason. His interpretation of the U.S. Constitution was that it guaranteed freedoms to everyone, and he dedicated his career to ensuring that his clients, rich or poor, black or white, had access to those freedoms and to the best legal representation he could provide. Dexter believed that his desire to help people stemmed from his heritage, going all the way back to his great-grandfather.

I know from my personal relationship with Dexter, which was most often in very long telephone conversations and emails and occasional visits, he was very proud of his humble roots in the Florida Panhandle. He and I shared a love of family genealogy, and we both were particularly interested in learning more about "Old W.D.," our great-grandfather, who was such a colorful character well-known for his newspaper editorials that championed the rights of the poor and downtrodden. Dexter even had his secretary, Janis Piotrowski, who was a genealogist, help us with some of our research. In 2005, Dexter was the guest speaker, and I could also say entertainer, at a reunion here in Bonifay of the descendants of Edward A. and Nellie DeVane Williams. He helped make it a memorable occasion for everyone.

Although he had long been a well-known and highly respected lawyer in Florida, it was the 2000 presidential election that brought him national fame and recognition. A lifelong Democrat, Dexter served as the Florida member of the team of lawyers who represented Al Gore, the U.S. vice president, in the controversial legal battle to win the presidency against George W. Bush. I remember Orren and I stayed glued to the TV as this political drama played out on the national stage. I also remember thinking, and soon after told Dexter, that Old W.D., Willie D., my granddaddy, and my daddy, all staunch Democrats, would have been so proud of him and his legal efforts on behalf of the Democratic party.

Dexter had a personality as renowned as his legal ability. He could be outspoken, opinionated and brash, while at the same time having an "aw shucks" attitude that frequently fooled his courtroom opponents. He loved to tell stories, usually laced with a lot of humor and irreverence. Yet, he was also a courtly, well-dressed and handsome man, frequently referred to as a true Southern gentleman. He had a "folksy" charm about him and often called himself a "Florida Cracker." He loved getting away from the pressures of the courtroom by raising prized Polled Herefords on his large farm outside Tallahassee, where he lived with his wife, Terese, in a beautiful two-story home.

Gerald Ensley, senior writer for the Tallahassee Democrat, wrote the following in the paper the day after Dexter's death: "Dexter Douglass was a storyteller, a humorist, a historian, a mentor and a savvy political operative. But most of all, Dexter Douglass was a consummate attorney, a man not only versed in the law but in love with the law and firmly convinced it should benefit all citizens."

The last time I saw Dexter was a few years ago when he came to see me after Christmas and brought along a son-in-law and a couple of his grandchildren. After a visit at my home, where he brought me some copies of family pictures, we went to the Westville Cemetery to visit the graves of our great-grandparents. I remember the love, pride and emotion he expressed (and I also felt) when he gave his grandchildren a family history lesson that bleak and cold day in that little cemetery. Afterward, he took them to visit some Douglass graves in the Crestview area. Those children probably heard more family stories that day than they could possibly remember!

It is impossible for me to tell in this column about all of the accomplishments and honors bestowed on this cousin of mine. In reading the accolades in the state and national newspapers at the time of Dexter's death, I think the one by Diane Roberts, a close friend of Dexter's, touched me the most. So I would like to close by quoting from her column in the Tallahassee Democrat on Sept. 20: "When Sir Christopher Wren, architect of St. Paul's, died, they put up a stone in the cathedral carved with the words, 'Lector, si monumentum requiris, circumspice' (Reader, if you seek his monument, look around you.). If you seek Dexter Douglass' monument, look at the Florida Constitution, its commitment to education, its strong separation of church and state, its guarantees of equal treatment under the law. If Dexter had to die, it's fitting that he died on Sept. 17. That's Constitution Day, when we commemorate the date in 1787 America truly became a nation of laws. That's what Dexter Douglass stood for."

I wish Dexter and I could have had just one more visit, just one more long phone conversation filled with humorous stories about our family and its history. I will miss him.

Ruth Brock Bush honored at 90th birthday celebration

Ruth Brock Bush was honored with a 90th birthday celebration from 2-4 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 15, at Chipley's First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. A host of longtime friends and coworkers joined the family in honoring this uncommon lady. It was this writer's privilege to attend the event both as a family member, as well as fellow worker and friend.

PERRY'S PRATTLE

Ruth Brock Bush was born Sept. 17, 1923, to Dan L. Brock and Beatrice Strickland Brock. She had an older sister, Jahaza Brock Blue, who passed away in October 2007.

Ruth was living in Mayo, Fla., as a baby with the parents and older sister when the mother, Beatrice, died on April 9, 1924. The father was in that area working for the Standard Lumber Company. Upon the death of the mother, 7-month-old Ruth and two-year-old sister, Jahaza, were placed with the paternal grandparents, James Willie (Will) Brock and Amalee Henderson Brock, who were living in Holmes County. Also residing in the home were Dan's two younger brothers, Thomas Henderson Brock and Henry Brock. Sister, Annie Lee, had already married.

The grandfather, Will Brock, and son, Dan, continued working in Taylor County with Will working with the Sate of Florida Tick Eradication program and Dan with the lumber company.

On March 19, 1927, tragedy again invaded this family when the grandfather, Will Brock, was shot and killed by Harry Allen in Mayo, Fla. This man had barricaded himself inside his home after learning the sheriff of the county was en route to his home with a court order to serve for Mr. Allen's refusal to send his son to school.

Will Brock volunteered to accompany the sheriff as he considered himself a friend of Allen and felt "he could talk to him." Instead the man greeted them with gunfire resulting in the death of Will Brock and serious gunshot wounds to Frank Murray, a Mayo Constable, and the nine-year-old son of the shooter. Reportedly, the gunman was taken from the lawmen attempting to transfer him to a Lake City jail by a group of men who dumped him into the Suwanee River, where his body was never recovered.

Will Brock's body was brought by train to Bonifay, and ultimately to Bethel Primitive Baptist Church in Washington County the following day for the funeral. A crowd estimated at more than 800 to 1,000 people attended the funeral, a record number to attend a funeral in this area, thus requiring the service to be held outside.

Dan Brock married Auro Edith Hart on Dec. 28, 1927. She was the daughter of his landlord in Mayo. They soon moved to Chipley where Dan had accepted a job as Deputy Sheriff with Henry Farrior, the elected Sheriff of the county. Ruth Brock and sister, Jahaza Brock, came to live with the father and step-mother at that time.

Further sadness in this family came when the wife of Dan Brock died only three months after the marriage reportedly caused by a ruptured appendix. She was buried in Mayo. Dan then moved his mother and the two younger brothers to live with him and the two young daughters in Chipley. He had lost his father and two wives in a period of four years, all before his 26th birthday. The father's last marriage was to Catherine Griffin, who had two teenage daughters. To them was born, Tom Brock and Jane Brock Brown (twins) and William Brock.

Ruth Brock met Stokes Bush while a senior in Holmes County High School. Stokes had just returned home from a stint in the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), a work program for young men during the great depression. This meeting developed into a courtship and a marriage in November 1941. "We moved to Pensacola where Jahaza and husband, Bernard Blue, already lived. She continued, "Bernard was working at Sherrill Oil Station and Stokes went to work there making $75 per month. We had twins, Euyll Lamar and Karin Lolita, born Aug. 1, 1942."

Later the couple moved back to Bonifay, thinking Stokes was being drafted into military service. As World War II ended in 1945, this induction was cancelled and he went to work in the Survey Crew for the Florida State Road Department. The third child, Margaret Loanva, was born March 27, 1950. Stokes Bush died Oct. 29, 2004. Later Ruth married Carlton Davidson April 28, 2001. He only lived six months after the marriage.

The move to Bonifay came just after Ruth's father, Dan L. Brock, was elected sheriff of Washington County. She went to work for her dad in 1947, thus beginning her 40-year law enforcement related career. After her father's tenure ended, she continued to work for the new Sheriff, George W. Watts, Jr. In 1957, Ruth began a 12-year working relationship with Cletus Andrews upon his being elected Sheriff in Holmes County. After this, she returned to Washington County and added fourteen more years while working of County Judge A. K. Shuler, Sheriff Theron Cook and retired from the position while working for Sheriff Fred Peel.

At her retirement party on April 4, 1987, Sheriff Fred Peel described Ruth Brock Bush as "a real lady, well respected throughout the community, her church and other organizations." "She always works extra hours and its not uncommon to see her at the office on week-ends."

At Ruth's recent retirement reception, Washington County Sheriff Bobby Haddock and wife, Laura, greeted Ruth while reminiscing of their long working relationship together. Long time Jailer and Bailiff, Henry Day and wife, Dillie, talked of "days gone by" with the honoree. Sarah McQueen Franklin, who attended Ruth's retirement from the Sheriff's Department where Sarah also worked. Other employees from her long tenure in public service were also there.

Happy 90th birthday greetings to my cousin Ruth Brock Bush. It was my pleasure of working along with her for sixteen of those forty years faithful of service rendered in the law enforcement and judicial departments of government.

See you all next week.

South Walton Seahawks shock Chipley Tigers

By TINA HARBUCK
Halifax Media Services

SANTA ROSA BEACH — The South Walton Seahawks rolled up almost 500 yards to post a 45-38 win over the Chipley Tigers in District 3-1A Friday night.

"We just played our hearts out," said South Walton Coach Phil Tisa. "We wanted it."

The Seahawks got the job done on the ground and through the air.

Junior quarterback Jonathon Ortnor completed 25 of 41 passes for 323 yards and five touchdowns.

Alex Smith had two touchdown catches, one for 19 yards and the other from 2 yards.

Zach Reese had a 20-yard touchdown reception and rushed for 76 yards and a 1-yard plunge for a TD.

Chandler Parrett had a 9-yard catch for a touchdown and Sage Roberts caught a pass for a 26-yard score.

Ortnor also carried the ball nine times for 62 yards.

Harrison Schaffer rushed seven times for 29 yards and a 1-yard score.

A big difference in the game was turnovers.

South Walton knocked the ball loose three times with Zack Armer, Wesley Miller and Nick Harris each making recoveries.

"The turnovers were huge," Tisa said. "We just played with intensity all night long."

The Seahawks scored first early in the second quarter.

South Walton capped a 70-yard drive with a 1-yard plunge by Schaffer.

Austin Garofalo kicked in the point-after.

With 8 minutes left in the first half, Chipley got the ball and scored in two plays. Kobe McCrary, who had 176 yards rushing, broke loose for a 57-yard scamper.

Darren Stewart ran a successful conversion and the Tigers led 8-7.

Chipley again struck quickly on a 71-yard dash by Stewart.

Stewart rushed 19 times in the game for 208 yards.

After another conversion the Tigers were up 16-7.

South Walton answered with a one-minute drive.

Ortnor completed a 16-yard pass to Smith, then a 24-yarder to Roberts.

Reese picked up 23 on the ground and then carried it in on the next play from 1 yard.

Again Chipley broke a big play with Zack Campbell scoring on a 61-yard run.

Tyrome Sharpe was good for the 2-point conversion.

Right before the half, the Seahawks put together an 11-play drive with Ortnor connecting with Reese on a 20-yard completion for the score.

The two-point try failed and it was 24-20 Chipley at the half.

At the start of the third, the Seahawks knocked the ball loose on the third play with Miller making the recovery at midfield.

The Seahawks took it down the field with Ortnor completing four passes on the drive with the last going to Smith from 19 yards.

The extra point was blocked by Chipley's JJ Holmes.

Chipley answered with a long drive of its own.

Campbell scored on a 8-yard run around the left end.

McCrary's conversion opened a 32-26 lead.

The Seahawks took the lead with a quick drive to start the fourth quarter.

Ortnor completed three passes with the final going to Parrett in the end zone for 9 yards.

Chipley lost control on a reverse with Harris picking it up for the Seahawks.

South Walton scored in three plays with Ortnor connecting with Roberts on a 26-yard strike for the score.

Garofalo was good on the kick to tie the game 38-38.

With 5:51 left, South Walton gained control once more and marched 12 plays to score.

Ortnor connected with Smith in the end zone for a 2-yard TD conversion.

Yellow Jackets sting Hornets 15-8 in Homecoming thriller

By JASON SHOOT

VERNON — It didn't take long to figure out the football teams at Vernon and Cottondale didn't like each other much Friday night.

It was Vernon quarterback Tristan Porter who got the last word. In a sharp departure from the rest of the game, Porter did his talking with his legs.

Porter scored on an 10-yard touchdown run with just over four minutes remaining to lift Vernon to a 15-8 victory over Cottondale in a District 2-1A matchup.

The Yellow Jackets improved to 2-3 overall and 1-0 in the district. Cottondale fell to 4-2 and 2-1 in the district, missing out on a chance to all but clinch a postseason berth.

Trailing 8-7 in the fourth quarter, Porter faked a handoff, ran around the left end and dodged a tackler on his way to the end zone to give Vernon a 13-8 advantage. Porter crossed the goal line on a run up the middle on the ensuing conversion attempt to give his team a seven-point lead.

Julian Silas and Austin Brown each intercepted a pass on Cottondale's next two possessions to clinch the victory.

A multitude of unsportsmanlike and personal foul penalties tarnished what otherwise was a hard-hitting, hotly contested matchup of District 2-1A schools. Fourteen penalties — most of them for overly aggressive play — were called in the first half alone, eight on the visiting Hornets. The teams combined for 19 penalties through four quarters.

The undisciplined play, which included several late hits and chop blocks, did not represent either team well.

Cottondale carried an 8-7 lead into the locker room at halftime when the Hornets stunned Vernon with a 36-yard touchdown pass from Justin Klotz to Shaundre McAroy with three seconds left in the second quarter.

Brandon Malloy gave Vernon a 7-0 lead with 42 seconds left in the first quarter when he capped a six-play drive with a 4-yard run.

It was Malloy's fourth carry in a row on the drive, and he squeezed between the guard and the tackle on the right side to cross the goal line.

Darius Peterson led the Yellow Jackets with 96 yards on 15 carries. Vernon ended the game with 228 rushing yards on 43 carries.

Cottondale's Norris Calhoun entered the game leading the Hornets with 651 rushing yards, but the dynamic tailback was bottled up by Vernon's defense and finished with 14 yards on 11 carries. Calhoun was visibly frustrated throughout the game.

The Hornets netted only 83 total yards of offense, including 38 rushing yards on 19 attempts. Cottondale entered the game averaging more than 300 yards of offense.

Cottondale missed out an opportunity to solidify its playoff position and now faces a crucial matchup against rival Graceville on Nov. 1. After meeting Holmes County next week Vernon decides its district fate in three consecutive weeks against Graceville, Wewahitchka and Sneads.

Chipley Garden Club 'buzzed' by bees

Special to the News

CHIPLEY — Phillip Carter, Urban Regional Extension Agent with the Alabama Cooperative Extension System in Dothan, was the guest speaker at Chipley Garden Club's monthly meeting on Oct. 2. Carter began by telling the club the 93rd Florida State Beekeepers Association Convention is in Chipley on Oct. 31 to Nov. 2. The convention will feature master beekeeping training and exams, a field day and trade show. Beekeepers from all over Florida will be in attendance.

Carter shared his passion for bees, stating his fascination began twelve years ago with a federal grant to study bees, and the honeybee still continues to amaze him today. He said bees are an important pollinator for agriculture, trees and wildflowers, but they are disappearing at an alarming rate. Hive management and bee keeping present challenges with colony collapses, mites, use of pesticides, bee viruses and diseases. Carter suggested providing as many nectar and pollen sources in our gardens as possible. He also recommended limiting the use of pesticides especially during bloom time and then only in the late afternoon.

Chipley Garden Club members traveled to Gordon, Ala., for its October monthly meeting, which was hosted by club members Elaine and Joe Melton in the Fellowship Hall of Greater Antioch Baptist Church. After making announcements, Club President Karen Roland explained a proposed bylaw change and reported on the Florida Panhandle Wildflower Alliance. She also discussed continuing to support Chipley High Band's 2014 Memorial Day Trip, participating in the Christmas parade, and next week's District II Fall Meeting in Marianna. Linda Pigott reported 290 plants were given to first and third graders at Kate Smith Elementary, and the garden club will make terrariums with second graders later this month. Gweneth Collins provided an update on the third annual Scarecrow Contest scheduled on Oct. 19, and Edwina Showers commented on the downtown pots and lamp post decorations. Louise Michaels distributed an information packet, discussed pre-planning for the 2014 FFGC District II Fall meeting to be held in Chipley, Christmas party plans and collecting comfort

The parsonage kitchen shutdown threat

A certain situation has been building in the parsonage for the last several months. At first, I did not think it too serious, but alas, we have reached a terrible impasse.

It started a few months ago when I came home, walked into the house and was hit in the face so hard I almost passed out. At the time, I was hoping I would pass out, but no such luck.

Even though I have been married 42 years, most of it happily, I did not see this one coming. Just when you think you have your spouse figured out, they do something off the radar. Every husband knows exactly what I am talking about.

Walking into the house, I was hit with the horrific smell of broccoli cooking on the stove. I do not know if you ever smelt such a smell as that but if you are not prepared for it, and even if you are prepared for it, it can smack you in the face like you have never been smacked in the face before.

When I came to myself and gathered what little composure I could find, I queried the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage, who was in the kitchen.

"What is that awful smell?"

"I don't know, have you taken a shower yet?"

After being married for 42 years, I know when to respond to a question and when not to. I knew if I responded to this question the way I wanted to respond to this question, the smell of broccoli would be the least of my worries at the time.

"No," I said gathering a little bit of manliness about me. "Something in this house smells dreadful. I smelled it as soon as I walked in the door."

Then she chuckled. I hate it when she chuckles.

"Oh, that must be the wonderful aroma of broccoli cooking on the stove. Isn't it marvelous?"

Adhering to my rules about questions, I tossed that one aside and opted for another one.

"You're not cooking broccoli for supper tonight, are you?"

I was hoping she would catch my attitude of disdain and disgust in this question. Obviously, for whatever reason, she did not catch the drift.

"Yes," she said as chipper as I have ever heard her chip, "I thought I would surprise you with a wonderful dish of broccoli for supper tonight, to go along with our pork chops."

Can you live with a person for so long and not know what they like or do not like? Nobody has to be around me for five minutes before they will understand that broccoli and I have had a feud that has been going on since before the Hatfields and McCoys.

"But I thought you knew I do not like broccoli?"

"Oh, that," she said with another chuckle, "I just thought you were joking."

Nobody jokes about broccoli, especially me.

Then a brilliant idea reverberated between my ears. I thought I could take advantage of this situation and sneak in something forbidden in our kitchen and house for that matter, a rare delicacy.

"I will then run to the store and get some fresh apple fritters for our dessert."

I figured if she wants to put in front of me broccoli the least she can do is allow me an apple fritter or two.

In a moment, all the chipper drained and she looked at me and said, "Apple fritters are not allowed in this house."

"Let's negotiate," I said as calmly as I have ever been in my life. "I will allow you to eat broccoli tonight if you allow me an apple fritter for my dessert."

I wonder if there is a husband living today that has ever successfully negotiated with his wife.

"This is how we will negotiate: We will have broccoli tonight without any apple fritter. I am only thinking of your health."

The way she glared at me, I knew negotiations were off the table and in its place was some steaming broccoli.

What I am going to do is sneak behind her back and eat two — not one but two — apple fritters, and I will savor every bite.

If only we could act like grownups, come together, voice our differences and strike a compromise. After all, our government works that way.

I thought about this and came to a certain conclusion. The Christian life is not really negotiating your preference but rather honoring Christ. Jesus said, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matthew 18:20 KJV).

When self is at the center of my negotiations, Christ is never honored.

WORSHIP WITH YOUR FAMILY

Growing up, my childhood friend and I spent every moment of every day together. We were so close people often mistook us for sisters. We never thought a day might come when we would be separated. I remember watching her from the back window of my parent's car as we drove away from my childhood home. I cried the whole trip. I'm older now and have made new friends, but my childhood friend and I are still close. It has been more difficult to remain close with thousands of miles between us, but I make sure to take the extra effort because she is so dear to me. I thought of this as I sat in church and listened to the words of the song "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Indeed He is a friend who is so dear. Make the extra effort.

Charles A. Taylor

After noting the orange toboggan Andy Taylor wore, a visitor asked what football team Andy cheered for, which team could claim him as a fan. Having lived 84 years, Andy had plenty of time to settle on a team that would have his loyalty regardless of the record, the coach, the strength of the schedule, the depth of the team, or the fan base that joined him. Without hesitation, the answer came, "Vernon High School. He's a Vernon Yellow Jackets fan." Andy Taylor demonstrated loyalty and unflinching support for all those he cheered for and loved. His commitment and devotion were seen in his service to his country, his pride in his family, and his appreciation for his friends and community. Charles Andrew "Andy" Taylor was born July 15, 1929, in Marion, Ohio. Seventeen years later he joined the United States Army and had a career that took him to three continents, service in World War II, the Korean Conflict, and the Viet Nam War. He retired from the U.S. Army after 24 years and four months active duty, retiring as a Sergeant Major with the 82nd Airborne Division. A decorated military leader and veteran, SGM Taylor was awarded two Bronze Stars and two Purple Hearts. His legacy as a soldier was carried on by three of his sons who served in the U.S. Army. He also had a son serve in the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Air Force, and the United States Marine Corps. Three grandsons have also followed in his boot steps with their military service. After retiring from the United States Army, Andy worked for the Florida State Veterans' Employment System and retired from there. Like so many others growing up in the depression, he had to quit school as a boy in order to provide financial support for his family. He earned his GED while in the U.S. Army, and set an example as an adult learner for his children. He also established a clear standard of valuing education and those who provided it. Taking advantage of opportunities offered by the Washington County School System, he attended Washington-Holmes Area Vocational Technical School carpentry and horticulture classes. Andy was a volunteer with the Gideons, VFW Post 10085, and Live Oak Baptist Church. He was very active in the Military Order of the Cooties, an arm of the VFW committed to reaching out to hospitalized troops and veterans during their confinement and rehabilitation at Veterans Administration facilities throughout the country. In addition to being an example for continuing education himself, his support of his Rose while she was in nursing school demonstrated that making someone's dreams come true is a collaborative effort. The idea of a husband and father taking charge of the kitchen and child rearing while also working outside the home might have been an anomaly for much of society in the '70s, but it was standard operating procedure at the Taylor house. The Rose M. Taylor Nursing Scholarship at Troy University was established to honor his beloved wife. As a resident of Homestead Village in Pensacola, Andy made nativity scene barns to assist in seasonal decorating, provided humor and wisdom to staff and other residents, and had a dozen roses put on the dining table each week in honor of his Rose before and after her death. Throughout his life Andy remained actively involved in the lives of his children and grandchildren rooting for them as they continued their educations, joined the workforce, and played every sport from softball to rugby. Every year for the last 49 years, with the exception of two years, there has been a descendant of Andy Taylor enrolled in school in Vernon. He was a fan of every one. On two occasions, as his Army units faced the possibility of not returning from their assignments because of the brutal war they were fighting, Andy wrote his Rose farewell letters. He recognized what was ahead and was prepared for it, for the love of her, his family, and his country. He was not aware every day of all that lay before him as he lived his life, but he faced each day fearlessly, resolved to make the most out of every moment for those he was with and for those who would follow. When Andy Taylor faced death, he knew what lay ahead and leaves generations recognizing his whole life was a love letter written and lived by an imperfect gem made perfect Sept. 28, 2013.

He was predeceased by his wife of 63 years, Rose Taylor.

His surviving children are, James (Bev), Martin, Will (Terrie), Nicey (Jay), Joe (Olinda), Ray (Kathy), Thom (Tanya), and Beth. He was loved and will be missed by his six granddaughters, 12 grandsons, and 10 great-grandchildren as well as nieces, nephews, and Helen Brown, a very special friend.

Visitation with the family was held Wednesday, Oct. 2, from 5 to 8 p.m., at Brown Funeral Home, Brickyard Road Chapel, Chipley. The funeral service and celebration of his life was held Thursday, Oct. 3, at 11 a.m., at Live Oak Baptist Church in Millers Ferry. Interment followed the service.

All arrangements are being directed by Brown Funeral Home, Chipley.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Gideons, P.O. Box 308, Chipley, FL.

Margaret J. Eckerle

Margaret J. Eckerle, 90, passed away Sept. 29, 2013, at her home in Bay City, Mich. Born in England, Jan. 7, 1923, Margaret served in the Royal Navy during World War II, and during that time met and married Kenneth L. Eckerle (USN). They settled in Kenneth's home state of Michigan and there raised three children, Karl, Keith, and Lynn Susan. Margaret and Kenneth moved to Sunny Hills in the late 1970s where they were active in many of the community organizations, including the Sunny Hills Volunteer Fire Department which Margaret served as dispatcher as well as secretary. Following Kenneth's death in 1984, Margaret remained in Sunny Hills until 2011, when she moved back to Michigan to be near family. For many years Margaret delivered Meals-on-Wheels for the Washington County Council on Aging. An avid gardener, she was a member of the Wausau Garden Club and the Sunny Hills Garden Club. She was an advocate for libraries and literacy programs and belonged to the Friends of the Library. Although she remained a member of the Church of England, Margaret was an active participant in the life and work of the Sunny Hills Community Church as well as St. Matthews Episcopal Church in Chipley. Those who knew Margaret are aware of the many, many ways in which she extended her hand to help others. She never sought recognition for her good works, although she was fiercely proud of having served in the Royal Navy. From her we learned much about conditions in England during the war years. Her service to the Allied cause is much appreciated, just as is her service to the people of Washington County.

In addition to her three children, Margaret is survived by six grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

Following a private service, she was interred with her husband, Kenneth, in Cheboygan County, Mich.

10-3425 PUBLIC NOTICE
The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) hereby gives notice to the public of its intent to reimburse eligible applicants for eligible costs to repair or replace facilities damaged by the Severe Storms and Flooding occurring July 2nd through July 7th, 2013. This notice applies to the Public Assistance (PA), and Hazard Mitigation Grant (HMG) programs implemented under the authority of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5121-5207.

Under a major disaster declaration signed by the President on August 2, 2013 and amended on August 22, 2013, the following counties have been designated as adversely affected by the disaster and eligible for PA: Bay, Holmes, Walton, and Washington. Additional counties may be designated at a later date without further public notice. The Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMG) is available statewide.

This public notice concerns activities that may affect historic properties, activities that are located in or affect wetland areas or the 100-year floodplain, and critical actions within the 500-year floodplain. Such activities may adversely affect the historic property and floodplain or wetland, or may result in continuing vulnerability to flood damage. Presidential Executive Orders 11988 and 11990 require that all federal actions in or affecting the floodplain or wetlands be reviewed for opportunities to relocate and evaluated for social, economic, historical, environmental, legal, and safety considerations. Where there is no opportunity to relocate, FEMA is required to undertake a detailed review to determine what measures may be taken to minimize future damages. The public is invited to participate in the process of identifying alternatives and analyzing their impacts.

FEMA has determined that for certain types of facilities there are normally no alternatives to restoration in the floodplain or wetland. These are facilities that meet all of the following criteria: 1) FEMA's estimate of the cost of repairs is less than 50% of the cost to replace the entire facility and is less than $100,000; 2) the facility is not located in a floodway; 3) the facility has not sustained major structural damage in a previous Presidential declared flooding disaster or emergency; and 4) the facility is not critical (e.g., the facility is not a hospital, generating plant, emergency operations center, or a facility that contains dangerous materials). FEMA intends to provide assistance for the restoration of these facilities to their pre-disaster condition, except that certain measures to mitigate the effect of future flooding or other hazards may be included in the work. For example, a bridge or culvert restoration may include a larger roadway opening to decrease the risk of future wash-outs.

For routine activities, this will be the only public notice provided. Other activities and those involving facilities that do not meet the four criteria above are required to undergo more detailed review, including a study of alternate locations. Subsequent public notices regarding such projects will be published if necessary, as more specific information becomes available.

In many cases, an applicant may have started facility restoration before federal involvement. Even if the facility must undergo detailed review and analysis of alternate locations, FEMA will fund eligible restoration at the original location if the facility is functionally dependent on its floodplain location (e.g., bridges and flood control facilities), or the project facilitates an open space use, or the facility is an integral part of a larger network that is impractical or uneconomical to relocate, such as a road. In such cases, FEMA must also examine the possible effects of not restoring the facility, minimizing floodplain or wetland impacts, and determining both that an overriding public need for the facility clearly outweighs the Executive Order requirements to avoid the floodplain or wetland, and that the site is the only practicable alternative. State of Florida and local officials will confirm to FEMA that proposed actions comply with all applicable state and local floodplain management and wetland protection requirements.

FEMA also intends to provide HMG funding to the state of Florida to mitigate future disaster damages. These projects may include construction of new facilities, modification of existing, undamaged facilities, relocation of floodplains, demolition of structures, or other types of projects to mitigate future disaster damages. In the course of developing project proposals, subsequent public notices will be published if necessary as more specific information becomes available.

The National Historic Preservation Act requires federal agencies to take into account the effect of their undertakings on historic properties. Those actions or activities affecting buildings, structures, districts or objects 50 years or older or that affect archeological sites or undisturbed ground will require further review to determine if the property is eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places (Register). If the property is determined to be eligible for the Register and FEMA's undertaking will adversely affect it, FEMA will provide additional public notices. For historic properties not adversely affected by FEMA's undertaking, this will be the only public notice.

As noted, this may be the only public notice regarding the above-described actions under the PA and HMG programs. Interested persons may obtain information about these actions or a specific project by writing to the Federal Emergency Management Agency, Interim Operations Facility, 2555 Shumard Oak Blvd., Tallahassee, FL 32399-2010. Comments should be sent in writing to Terry L. Quarles, Federal Coordinating Officer, at the above address within 15 days of the date of this notice.
