Board will workshop the incorporation of Panacea

County commissioners vote to hold a workshop to discuss incorporating the town of Panacea.

By AMANDA MAYOR
amayor@thewakullanews.net

Recently, an initiative to begin the incorporation of the town of Panacea has been brought to the table by the Panacea waterfronts community, according to County Administrator David Edwards.

Although the Board of County Commissioners voted 5-0 to schedule and advertise a workshop relating to the Panacea area incorporation initiative, Commissioner Howard Kessler said he didn't agree with the way the subject has come forward.

The incorporation of Panacea, said Kessler, will create more government, is unneeded and will cause the county to lose and divide valuable revenues – all issues that Edwards said need to be discussed at the workshop.

According to the 57-page study of the municipal incorporation of Panacea, which was initiated in 2012 and revised in August this year, there were four important conclusions of a feasibility study:

• Panacea is geographically isolated from the rest of Wakulla County by water and the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge, making the area conducive to self-government.

• Panacea residents seek incorporation to increase local authority to govern, not to become the provider for municipal services that Wakulla County currently provides. As a result, local residents and service providers can expect little change to municipal services.

• The study projects that the City of Panacea would have access to adequate revenues to operate municipal government and has a viable financial plan for its first five years of operation.

• Panacea does not meet the statutory standards of population of population density for incorporation. Nonetheless, upon incorporation, the city would be the largest city in Wakulla County and would have a comparable density to other cities in the county. Moreover, Wakulla County is a relatively low population county. These facts, support waiver statutory population and population density standards.

Other than the in-depth feasibility study findings, the document also outlines the history and background of Panacea, the charter and the legal description of the city's boundaries.

According to Edwards, the workshop – which the board voted unanimously to hold on Nov. 7 at 4 p.m. – will discuss the ins and outs of the incorporation of Panacea.

"Should the county give its blessing for the incorporation," said Edwards, "then a draft bill will be submitted by Senator Bill Montford and State Representative Halsey Beshears. It will go to the state legislature to either approve or deny, then it will go to Panacea voters to approve or deny, Edwards said.

The county administrator said there are advantages and disadvantages of the incorporation.

Smoke and Fire barbecue contest will raise money for charities

By AMANDA MAYOR
amayor@thewakullanews.net

The fourth annual Smoke and Fire barbecue contest will be held at Hudson Park on Oct. 12 from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. Competing teams will include Bay County's Springhill Fire Department, Perry Fire Department, Tallahassee Fire Department, Leon County Sheriff's Office, Wakulla County Sheriff's Office and several of the county's fire departments. Teams will be competing for bragging rights while also raising awareness and support for two charities.

This year, says Fire Chief Bill Russell, the group is excited to be supporting the North Florida Children's Burn Camp (camp Amigo) and the Warriors and Quiet Waters Foundation.

Camp Amigo was started by the Tallahassee Fire Department, but has since gained regional support. It gives children that have suffered crippling or disfiguring burns a place to go and be with their peers. The children are cared for by firefighters for a week of fun at Rish State Park on Cape San Blas. Firefighters provide cooking and cleaning and the kids come with a can do attitude.

The Warriors and Quiet Waters Foundation was organized to serve our combat wounded veterans from Iraq and Afghanistan. The Warriors are brought from a military hospital to the Wakulla area for a week of relaxation, fishing and hospitality.

Blind judging will occur in four categories: pork ribs, pulled pork, chicken and an overall winner will receive a grand prize.

Judges of this year's event will include Sheriff Charlie Creel, Tax Collector Cheryl Olah, Clerk of Court Brent Thurmond, State Representative Halsey Beshears, The Wakulla News' Editor Bill Snowden, Wakulla Area Times owner Guinn Haskins, Retired Fire Chief from Manatee County Ed Cleveland, Father Ed Jones and the Rev. Jeff McFalls.

"The public is the real winner every year," says Russell, "because of the great prices." Plates of ribs, pulled pork and chicken will be served for nine dollars, a plate of chicken and another meat will be eight dollars and seven dollars will get you a chicken dinner. Each plate is served complete with slaw, beans and bread which are prepared each year by Posey's Up the Creek in Panacea.

"While you are with us at the park, feel free to buy some raffle tickets," Russell says. "We will have great prizes donated by local merchants." Tickets will be sold throughout the afternoon and you are not required to be present to win.

There will also be emergency response units on display from fire, medical, law enforcement and a medical evacuation from AirMethods will be onsite.

Lunch will begin at 11:30 a.m. and the judging will start at about 11:45 a.m.

"Come out and enjoy some great food and help us support two great charities," Russell says.

Youth Coalition is busy this time of year

By AMANDA MAYOR
amayor@thewakullanews.net

Behind the scenes in Wakulla County, a large group of over 50 willing volunteers is doing everything that they can to help better the community and improve the quality of life for the area's young people.

The Wakulla County Youth Coalition held their monthly meeting on Oct. 2 to receive important updates and to share ideas, resources and knowledge.

Commissioner Ralph Thomas kicked things off by reporting that the construction of the community center's gym is almost complete. "Now we're just waiting on how it's going to come together," he said.

Assistant Superintendent Beth O'Donnell reported that the school board's ongoing partnership with the sheriff's office has been highly beneficial and expressed her alarm at the number of students who have been Baker Acted recently. "We've had to Baker Act more kids by Oct. 2 than we did all year last year," she said. "Part of the reason why is that we're getting better at recognizing it." O'Donnell said that the aim is to fund a full time social worker to help with the situation and that efforts are ongoing in the search for more help for the county's youth.

Board will workshop the incorporation of Panacea

"If it were to happen it would give self-governance to the residents of Panacea on any say-so within the community," he said.

Key players in the efforts to incorporate Panacea have been Walt Dickson, Sherrie Posey Miller, Ronald Fred Crum and Mark Mitchell, Edwards said.

As of now, all that has been approved is the workshop to be held early next month.

In other matters before the board:

• County commissioners voted to approve the opening of a line of credit reserved for emergencies and disaster relief.

Chief Deputy Clerk Greg James explained that the fund would only be used after the county had declared a state of emergency and the board would have to vote to approve expenditures.

Commissioner Ralph Thomas expressed concern at the misalignment of the proposal with the county's current fund balance policies.

Addressing his concerns, James said that, as the traditional policies speak only to ordinary situations, modifications would probably need to be made in order to accommodate extreme situations.

"I'm not suggesting this be done because it's easier," James said. "We would only spend this money if we really needed it and it would have to be approved by the board."

Commissioner Thomas said that he would be voting against the item due to personal preference and that he would rather see the county instill the kind of spending habits that allow for the building of reserves large enough to accommodate such situations. It would push the county to be smarter with its spending, he said, if there wasn't that money to fall back on. "I would rather not have that safety net," he said.

However, the motion to approve the line of credit was passed with a 4-1 vote.

• Commissioner Howard Kessler brought before the board an item that proposed that a citizens to be heard segment be held both at the beginning and end of each board meeting to allow. His reasoning being that it would give those citizens who wish to speak, but aren't able to make it to the meeting until later on, a chance to be heard.

Chairman Randy Merritt and Commissioner Richard Harden asked for clarification as far as whether or not the same person could speak during the first and second citizens to be heard segments. "I can go along with this," Merritt said, "as long as a citizen will not be permitted to speak during both portions." Merritt also expressed preference that the second portion be held before discussion issues by commissioners are held, both of which Kessler agreed to.

The board passed the item unanimously.

Household Hazardous Waste Day slated for Oct. 19

Special to The News

What's under your kitchen sink, in your garage, in your bathroom, and on the shelves in your laundry room?

On Saturday Oct. 19 bring your hazardous waste materials to the Public Works Annex, 340 Trice Lane, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The following will be accepted:

• Household cleaners -- such as oven cleaners, wood and metal cleaners and polishers, toilet bowl cleaners, disinfectants, drain openers.

• Automotive products -- such as oil and fuel additives, grease and rust solvents, carburetor and fuel injector cleaners, air conditioning refriger-ants, starter fluids, body putty, antifreeze/coolant, contaminated motor oil, gasoline, diesel and kerosene

• Home maintenance and improvement products -- such as paint, paint thinners, paint strippers and removers, adhesives

• Lawn and garden products -- such as herbicides, pesticides/rodenticides, fungicides, wood preservatives

• Electronics (anything that plugs into an electric outlet) -- such as old computers, computer parts, televisions, DVD players, VCR's, radios, cell phones, satellite dishes, and other small appliances

• Miscellaneous – all batteries such as lithium, alkaline, car and button batteries, fingernail polish remover, pool chemicals, photo processing chemicals, reactive material, aerosols/compressed gas, fluorescent bulbs and tubes

No tires or biological waste will be accepted. This event is for Wakulla County residential households and conditionally exempt small quantity generators only! (CESQGs must register by Oct. 17 at 926-7616)

Coastal cleanup was a huge success

By NANCY PAUL KWCB

Thank you for choosing to spend your Saturday at the annual Coastal Cleanup. With your help over 6,500 pounds of litter were picked up from all over Wakulla County. Keep Wakulla County Beautiful and the Ocean Conservancy have hosted this event for many years and each year there are always special people who make this event a huge success. There were many children urged on by their grandmothers, parents and sponsors. Many young people representing service groups from Wakulla County, Tallahassee/ Leon County and around the country through the stewardship of the Mormon Churches in Tallahassee and Crawfordville. In total over 550 volunteers contributed to making our 2013

Many thanks to our lunch sponsors Wal-Mart, Richard Russell and The Relief Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) , Crawfordville, for the wonderful desserts. The camaraderie and fellowship following the cleanup was very special. The T-shirts and door prizes were icing on the cake.

The butt contest produced several dozen bags of cigarette butts. According to Keep America Beautiful, nearly 80% of marine debris comes from land-based sources. Cigarette butt litter can also pose a hazard to animals and marine life when they mistake filters for food.

One of the primary missions of Keep Wakulla County Beautiful is to teach responsible waste management. This includes proper handling of waste generated within automobiles and boats. Please store waste and recyclables such as cans and bottles until you reach receptacles for proper disposal or recycling. Wakulla County' environmental and economic future is directly tied to sustaining the natural resources that make this county attractive to new residents and tourist. They are seeking recreation among our many rivers, coastlines and trails.

KWCB encourages you to help us keep Wakulla County a beautiful place to live and play, naturally, by keeping litter from reaching roads, rivers and the bays. Take it home to recycle those containers or discard food wrappers, plastic bags and food without fear of harming nature or our wildlife. Even throwing apple cores, banana peels or peanut shells out the window will attract wildlife to roadways and waterways as they search for food. Remember, we are all responsible for Keeping Wakulla County Beautiful all year long, not just one day a year.

Thank you for support at benefit dinner

Editor, The News

We would like to thank everyone for making the benefit dinner for our daughter Verlie Page Sweatt a success.

A small concept became a huge undertaking, that would not have been possible without the help of our family and friends. We would also like to thank Mack's Meats for the meat, Flower's Bakery for the bread, Sonny's for the tea, Captain Bevin's and Spring Creek Restaurants for the coleslaw, Publix for the cookies, Harvey's Supermarkets for the baked beans, J & R Rentals for the tables and chairs, Tara Kieser for the brownies, John & Juanise Hoover for use of their building, Jimmy Tyson for wood, and the Boog-a-Lou Smoke Crew for cooking the meat.

Thank you also to the following businesses for pre-ordering lunches all the Wakulla County Schools and the District Office, the Wakulla County Sheriff's Office, the Wakulla County Health Department, Apalachee Mental Health, the Crawfordville Post Office, Capital City Bank, Root 319 Salon, Centennial Bank, CSG International, Great Beginnings Preschool, Super Lube, Wakulla Christian School, Gulf Coast Lumber, Mike's Marine, and the Wakulla County Courthouse.

About 450 lunches were prepared and delivered and this would not have been possible without our awesome friends to help!

Thank you also to everyone who joined us for dinner. We estimate that about 300 plates were served at dinner and we ran out of food by 7:15 pm.

We never expected such a wonderful outpouring of people - friends, family, and new friends - eager and willing to help in our time of need. Words can not express our gratitude.

Please continue to keep our family in your prayers. Verlie Page's open heart surgery is scheduled for Oct. 14 at Shands Hospital in Gainesville.

If you would like to follow her progress, please feel free to friend us on Facebook. Thanks so much.

Wetlands actions are shortsighted

Editor, The News,

I am not alone in thinking that our Board of County Commissioners' efforts to strike down our Wetlands Ordinance and take away the wetland and waterways buffers will lead to the pollution of our rivers, ponds, and coastline. Pollutants, fertilizer runoff, and habitat destruction have been controlled somewhat with our 75 foot wetlands buffer, but we run the risk of polluting our water and allowing valuable wildlife habitats to be destroyed if we don't leave these buffer protections in place.

Much study and effort was made in creating the county's Wetlands Ordinance. Why are four of our Commissioners trying so hard to do away with this ordinance? It seemed like the only people speaking at the Commission meetings FOR the striking of the wetlands ordinance were building contractors and real estate agents. Many citizens I have spoken to do not believe that the Commissioners are speaking for all of us and they believe that, we, the voters, have a right to decide what happens to our wetlands, and, in turn, our drinking water and our future. If you feel that you should be able to vote on this issue please sign the petition being circulated by the Wakulla Wetlands Alliance—its purpose is to give you the right to VOTE on this issue.

The Commissioners are now saying that the wetlands change is all about property rights. It seems to me that the developers want the chance to develop right up to the edges of our waterways and coastline. And, as to property rights, we really don't have the right to do just anything we want with our land. Polluting the water or destroying the wetland habitat on your land is not a property right. Clean water and our continued way of life should be protected.

We have a uniquely rural lifestyle in Wakulla County; people across the U.S. value this. They want to visit our natural areas. They appreciate that we are not like other areas in Florida. In my opinion ecotourism has a real chance to blossom in our county because people are drawn to the history of this area and the natural beauty of our land and waterways. We need to keep our balance of nature. We need to keep our water clean.

Our Commissioners have said that the Water Management District and DEP have protections in place and that the DEP rules and regulations will protect our North Florida region, but judging from what is happening in other parts of Florida, they just cannot, or will not, do the job. So much of the rest of Florida has suffered from water pollution, loss of natural habitats, and fisheries degradation. Do we want Wakulla County to look like south Florida? Do we want our natural environment and fisheries reduced as they have been in south Florida?

Now is the time for us to take a hard look at the direction we are going. We need to keep our water clean. You can still have a say in this. The Wakulla Planning Commission holds its first public hearing about the wetlands ordinance and comprehensive plan changes on Oct. 14. This is one of two mandatory public hearings, at which time it must record and report all public input regarding the proposed changes to the county's comp plan. This public input becomes part of the record when the change request is sent to Florida's Dept. of Economic Opportunity for acceptance. The Public Hearing is at 7pm at the Commission meeting room on Wakulla Arran Road (directly behind the courthouse). Pick up a speakers card at the front desk when you come in and plan to let our Commissioners know how you feel about this issue.

The logic of protecting our crown jewels

Editor, The News

The Logic of Protecting Wakulla's Crown Jewels

The most frequent comment and description about Wakulla County is its natural beauty: its forests, coast, wetlands, fishing and hunting. In sum, its environment. This is why the state awarded $4.5 million to build its Environmental Institute in Wakulla County, which will teach that all elements of the environment are interrelated and dependent on each other. If we weaken or destroy one element we weaken and destroy the whole.

Wakulla's natural environment is its Crown Jewels or most valuable asset. It is the core of our local economy, with Wakulla Springs, fishing, hunting, boating and eco-tourism bringing in the dollars that support our local economy. The County's tourism board is poised to spend $400,000 this year to promote these Crown Jewels to attract tourists to visit and spend money in Wakulla County.

Crown Jewels are highly protected by their owners. They don't let others decide if they will protect them; they do it themselves. If they don't the Crown Jewels will be destroyed or stolen. Can you imagine Coke not protecting its trademarks? Or deferring the right whether to protect to someone else? Of course not, but that is what our County Commission is doing.

Wetlands are an integral part of Wakulla County's environment and Crown Jewels, and yet the County Commission, by eliminating the County's wetlands ordinance and deleting all protection for the wetlands from the County's Comprehensive Plan, is deciding that Wakulla County should no longer have the power to protect its Crown Jewels. Instead, it is handing over all decisions regarding protection to the state. Wakulla County will no longer be able to decide protection issues for itself.

It appears Florida is dismantling its environmental protection under Gov. Rick Scott and there are many news stories to this effect, as well as environmental reports. But whether you believe these stories or not, is it logical or prudent to defer decisions regarding protection of our wetlands and Crown Jewels to someone else? or have to worry whether or how they will protect them? The logical and prudent course is to retain Wakulla County's right to make these decisions. If you agree this is the best course, please sign the Wakulla Wetlands Alliance's petition for a voter referendum so the citizens of Wakulla County have the right to decide this important issue.

Thank you Democratic Committee

Editor, The News,

I would like to thank the Democratic Committee, Dr. Rachel Suz Pienta, and Herb Donaldson for their efforts to enlighten us all on the issues that surround the Wetlands discussion we as a county are now having.

This divisive issue seems to me to be driven more by emotion and innuendo than fact and unfortunately that impression did not change much at the Library workshop two weeks ago.

On the left of this issue we have the citizens that want to keep the ordinance as it is currently written and on the right we have citizens that want the ordinance thrown out completely. We have a third group of folks that we don't hear too much from that think we should modify the existing ordinance in such a way that we have better protection of property rights and ,to me a central issue in this debate, better protection for Wakulla Counties fragile budget and our precious tax dollars.

Many from the left want our ordinance to be stronger than the state statutes that regulate wetlands citing Florida's poor past record of protection but the state statutes were changed in 2010 that now allow for isolated wetland protection. Is the state implementing those regulations to the fullest? That remains to be seen, but more on how to deal with this later.

Our right to use our property was enshrined in the Bill of Rights of our Constitution and further defined by numerous US Supreme Court cases, the latest being this past summer in Koontz vs. The North West Florida Water Management District. Koontz won this case because the state did not grant a permit for conditional use of the property after Koontz refused to do the amount of mitigation that the state wanted to require. I cite this case only because I think it important that our ordinance stays well under the umbrella of the state statute, and that we understand that the State necessarily tries to stay within the parameters of the US Constitution as interpreted by our 9 Justices. If we have our own rules regarding wetlands, which we do, then we will have to defend those rules as we have tried to do in the past and will have to do again in the future. Under our current budget constraints we cannot afford to pay for this litigation without " finding" a new source of revenue to fund it, something I think we can all agree is a non-starter.

So where should we go? To the right or the left? In my humble opinion neither route will satisfy us as a whole and prevent the type of division we now ridicule in Washington. I think we need to find a solution that, for a time has us all leaving the table about half mad. Here are several tenants that could frame a successful and strong solution to this dilemma:

1. Grandfather in all existing lots platted prior to the date the original Ordinance was implemented.
2. Consider reworking the existing ordinance to follow the state statutes but provide for our staff to be a strong implementer of those new statutes, not our BOCC.
3. If number two does not work then consider defining what we consider a wetland to be, if the requisite soils or flora are there does the definition apply to a place the size of our kitchen table? 1 acre? 10acres?
4. Provide a more supple mitigation, and conditional use strategy that will help keep us out of court where everybody loses except for the lawyers.

While we consider this different approach please avoid the talk of massive wetland destruction and other incendiary comments. The facts are that 85% of our coast is controlled by the federal government and 73 percent of our County is controlled by the State or Federal government- these areas are off limits. The rest of our coastlines, rivers and connecting wetlands that have not already been developed, like Shell Point, are now strongly controlled by the State. What is left of our County has recently had an "economic wetland ordinance" imposed on it by the federal government in the form of the new FEMA flood maps and flood insurance rates that we are all becoming familiar with, and will make many of the areas we are concerned about here economically unviable for development in the future.

Who shut down the federal government?

Editor, The News

To hear the popular media, you would think it was the Republican led House of Representatives. Check the Congressional Record, House Republicans, including Congressman Steve Southerland, have voted multiple times to fund the U.S. government—with some Democratic Congressmen voting with the Republicans.

I'm confused how anyone could believe the Republicans are the reason the Government is shut down.

Simple logic concludes Senate Democrats are the reason the Government is shut down. The Senate is the branch of Government who refuses to compromise.

The Senate Pro Tempore (Harry Reid), with the full support of the President, is demanding the House of Representatives provide them with everything they want or they will keep Washington shut down. This is not how our government was set up. There are three branches of government for a reason, one of which is to protect the rights of the people.

According to the Constitution, all spending begins in the House of Representatives. Congressman Southerland and his colleges have the responsibility, as well as every right, to defund a program Americans do not want?

I commend our brave conservative leaders in Washington who are willing to risk taking on the liberal press and the "bully pulpit" of the White House to fight a fight most of America wants them to fight.

I believe every conservative American should be commending our Congressman for voting to fund every agency and program of the U.S. Government except Obamacare.

If the Democratically controlled Senate refuses to pass a single one of the House's bills to fully fund the Government, who then is responsible for our Government shutdown? I contend it is the Democratic leadership.

Thank you, Congressman Southerland, for holding the line!

Sheriff Creel attended the meeting to inform the group on what his office has been seeing lately. "We've got to talk to our kids about drugs," he said. "Things that were happening in colleges 10 years ago have now filtered down to elementary schoolers." Creel said that one of the top priorities of the sheriff's department is to be involved with the children and schools.

Ray Gray of the school board spoke on the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) community meeting that was held on Oct. 1 and said that the conversation there was a good one. "The meeting was very helpful," he said. "We were given valuable tools in helping to identify at-risk children early." Gray said he knows there will be more out of DJJ coming this way and that the agency would like to form a one stop shop that provides services and resources for the county's youth. "It was a good conversation," he said. "We're looking forward to working with them more moving forward."

Layne Davis reported that Operation Santa, which will take place on Dec. 14 is in need of quality boxes and a skeleton crew on the day of distribution. "Now is the time to get in the Christmas spirit," she said. "We know it's early but we need as much help as we can get in preparing and getting the word out."

Lynn Artz brought the group up to speed on efforts toward providing programs at the community center.

According to Artz, a proposal containing programs, resources and providers will be presented to the board of county commissioners later in the month. Artz said that if the county gave the nod, plans are to find new playground equipment, to utilize the willingness of an Eagle Scout to mark out nearby walking trails, bring in sandbox materials, provide YMCA summer camps and more. Recently, a grant application to fund improvements at the site was submitted, said Artz.

Pam Mueller announced the acquisition of 80 new downloadable audio books at the library thanks to Jefferson County, who shares materials with Wakulla. "We're really excited about this gain," she said. "Through Jefferson County's purchases we now have, not only audio books, but other online downloadable materials as well."

As the meeting came to a close, it was announced that the health department had received a three-year grant that was awarded to help with the prevention of distracted driving as well as texting while driving, as many trauma incidents are seen by the department related to both occurrences.

HEAVENS TO BETSY

October is Clergy Appreciation Month

By DR. BETSY GOEHRIG

Many ministers have had a powerful impact on my life. The first was my Senior Minister of my home church, First Christian Church in Frankfort. Dr. John Chenault, now 99, has faithfully lived a long life of Christian servanthood. He dedicated me as a baby, baptized me as a young girl, and participated in my ordination. He had a way of making each person feel special. One of my fond memories of him while I was growing up was hearing him sing as he walked through the hallways of the church. He could've been an opera singer, but he chose to use his gifts for ministry instead.

There were also several other ministers and youth ministers from my church and church camp who helped shape my formative years. When I was 15, I was called into ministry, while attending church camp at Camp WaKonDaHo in Kentucky. The counselors there helped answer my questions as I responded to answer God's Call.

Since my ordination in 1981, there've been many colleagues in ministry, who have each been a friend, a rock, and an inspiration for me throughout my life. I can't imagine how different my life would be without all of these beloved members of the clergy! I can't even begin to name them all in this column!

The Parsonage Kitchen Shutdown Threat

By JAMES L. SNYDER

A certain situation has been building in the Parsonage for the last several months. At first, I did not think it too serious but alas, we have reached a terrible impasse.

It started a few months ago when I came home, walked into the house and was hit in the face so hard I almost passed out. At the time, I was hoping I would pass out, but no such luck.

I think everybody knows what it is like to be hit unexpectedly by something you do not actually expect. I guess that is why it is called unexpectedly. It happened to me and I am not sure I am over it yet.

Even though I have been married 42 years, of which most of it has been happily, I did not see this one coming. Just when you think you have your spouse figured out, they do something off the radar. Every husband knows exactly what I am talking about.

This makes it hard to buy Christmas and birthday presents. What they liked last year is not what they like this year. I remember buying my wife a watch one year for Christmas of which she was so delighted that for the next four years after I bought her a watch for Christmas. How was I supposed to know she only wanted one watch!

I think we hit one of those impasses.

Walking into the house, I was hit with the horrific smell of broccoli cooking on the stove. I do not know if you ever smelt such a smell as that but if you are not prepared for it and even if you are prepared for it, it can smack you in the face like you have never been smacked in the face before.

When I came to myself and gathered what little composure I could find, I queried the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage who was in the kitchen.

"What is that awful smell?"

"I don't know, have you taken a shower yet?"

After being married for 42 years, I know when to respond to a question and when not to. I knew if I responded to this question the way I wanted to respond to this question, the smell of broccoli would be the least of my worries at the time.

"No," I said gathering a little bit of manliness about me, "Something in this house smells dreadful. I smelled it as soon as I walked in the door."

Then she chuckled. I hate it when she chuckles.

"Oh, that must be the wonderful aroma of broccoli cooking on the stove. Isn't it marvelous?"

Adhering to my rules about questions, I tossed that one aside and opted for another one.

"You're not cooking broccoli for supper tonight, are you?"

I was hoping she would catch my attitude of disdain and disgust in this question. Obviously, for whatever reason, she did not catch the drift.

"Yes," she said as chipper as I have ever heard her chip, "I thought I would surprise you with a wonderful dish of broccoli for supper tonight, to go along with our pork chops."

Can you live with a person for so long and not know what they like or do not like? Nobody has to be around me for five minutes before they will understand that broccoli and I have had a feud that has been going on since before the Hatfield's and McCoy's.

"But I thought you knew I do not like broccoli?"

"Oh, that," she said with another chuckle, "I just thought you were joking."

Nobody jokes about broccoli, especially me.

Then a brilliant idea reverberated between my ears. I thought I could take advantage of this situation and sneak in something forbidden in our kitchen and house for that matter, a rare delicacy.

"I will then run to the store and get some fresh Apple Fritters for our dessert."

I figured if she wants to put in front of me broccoli the least she can do is allow me an Apple Fritter or two.

In a moment, all the chipper drained from her person and she looked at me and said, "Apple Fritters are not allowed in this house."

"Let's negotiate," I said as calmly as I have ever been in my life. "I will allow you to eat broccoli tonight if you allow me an Apple Fritter for my dessert."

I wonder if there is a husband living today, that has ever successfully negotiated with his wife.

"This is how we will negotiate, we will have broccoli tonight without any Apple Fritter. I am only thinking of your health."

The way she glared at me I knew negotiations were off the table at this time and in its place was some steaming broccoli.

What I am going to do is sneak behind her back and eat two, not one but two, Apple Fritters and I will savor every bite.

If only we could act like grownups, come together, voice our differences and strike a compromise. After all, our government works that way.

I thought about this and came to a certain conclusion. The Christian life is not really negotiating your preference but rather honoring Christ. Jesus said, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matthew 18:20 KJV).

When self is at the center of my negotiations, Christ is never honored.

Charles Allen Parmer

Charles Allen Parmer, a resident of Crawfordville, FL, passed away peacefully Thursday, October 3 in Tallahassee.

He was born February 10, 1923, in Greenville, AL to the late Percy Allen and Gertrude Cornelia Perry Parmer. He was a member of Woodville Baptist Church.

Charles was a proud veteran, having honorably served his country during WWII in the US Army Air Corps (now the US Air Force).

Charles is survived by his wife of 71 years, Marion Dixon Parmer, his children, Wayne and Margaret Parmer of Crawfordville, FL, Joe and Elaine Parmer, Tallahassee, FL, Edie and Charles Harrison, of Whigham, GA; nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

His parents, a sister, Edith Parmer and a daughter Janice Parmer Edwards, preceded him in death.

The funeral was at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 5 at Woodville Baptist Church with interment following at Roselawn Cemetery in Tallahassee.

In lieu of Flowers, the family asks that you please consider a donation to Big Bend Hospice. The online guestbook is at www.abbeyfh.com.

Hazel Taff

Hazel Taff, wife, mom, grandmom, & great grandmom, winner of bridge, bowling, and golf championships in Tallahassee and around the country, widow of Angus Broward Taff, Sr. also of Tallahassee went to meet her Lord and her husband October 6. She was 88. For all of her life, her family, her church and bridge were her passions.

Mary Hazel Dolby was born March 6, 1925 in La Ceiba Honduras, second daughter of an Engineer born in Elmherst England, Harry Dolby, who, after completion of the Panama Canal, moved to La Ceiba to build the railroad through central America. Hazel first attended elementary school in Honduras where only Spanish was spoken. After the fifth grade, she was tutored at home by her mother, Almyra Carlyle Harrell of St. Marks, a college graduate and former school teacher in Woodville, Florida.

At twelve, Hazel came to Tallahassee and lived with an Aunt to attend high school before attending college. She entered Leon High School where her education was found to be very advanced and she skipped her high school years except for her senior year, whereby she graduated from Florida Demonstration School (now known as Florida High School) and entered Florida State College for Women at fourteen years of age. While at Florida High, her father passed away in LaCeiba and then her mother returned to St. Marks but also died a few months later from Cancer. Hazel and her sister were Orphaned, under the guard of her aunts, Sarah Posey and Hazel Walker (both nee Harrell).

While in Honduras, Hazel rode horses and played with her pets, a monkey, anteater, large buck deer, and mountain lion that her father brought home as a cub from the jungle. Hazel's pet McCaw, "Mac," was the first of the line of McCaws that are now at Goodwood Plantation in Tallahassee.

After turning sixteen during her second year of college, she eloped with her husband of fifty eight years Angus Broward Taff, Sr. of Tallahassee. Angus, a year later, enlisted in the Army Air Corps and fought in the South Pacific as a B-24 Bomber Pilot.

During the next twelve years, the family moved fourteen times with Hazel handling all of the moving, home acquisition, finances, and re-schooling and raising her children. In addition to mastering these areas of her life, and having her third son, she gained proficiency in her bridge and bowling, and now added golf to her list of proficiencies. While at Homestead, Florida, Hazel became president of the Officer's Wives Club. She won not only their bridge tournaments but golf as well.

When Angus was stationed in Saigon during the Vietnamese War, Hazel moved back to Tallahassee, where she again bowled, played Golf (Winning the Killearn Ladies Golf Tournament) and playing bridge. Angus returned and, now a colonel and Director of AirLift for Ninth Air Force (east of the Mississippi River), the couple with their youngest son, Steve, moved to Columbia, South Carolina until Angus retired and the family reestablished Tallahassee as their home.

Though the "moving" was over, Hazel was not through traveling. She and Angus visited Hawaii, London (to connect with her paternal family), Germany, Switzerland, Alaska, and various other countries and they took many cruises. They learned to snow ski in their 60's and traveled with the Tallahassee Ski Club to Aspen, Steamboat, Big Sky, Park City and other resorts to enjoy her snow skiing. Avid FSU fans and alumni, Hazel, went not only to all the local games but to every out of town football game for eight years.

In 1999 her beloved husband Angus passed after 58 years of marriage. Hazel then continued with her bridge, and worked as a "pink lady" volunteer for Tallahassee Memorial Hospital, even occasionally acting as a Spanish interpreter for the Hospital.

Hazel is survived by her sons: Broward (Babs) Taff, Jr.,; and Steven (Angie) Taff,; eleven grandchildren: "Bo" Taff, (Amy); Kristin Taff Dolan (Dan); Stan Taff, Jr (Cindy); Michelle Taff Sawyer (Leonard); Charles; Adam C; Greg; Joshua, Lauren; Angus, and Susan; great grandchildren; Anna; Sarah; Abbigail; Libby Dolan; Stephanie; Kiana Noel; Hunter Taff-Ruiz; Madison and Haydon Sawyer.

Strong in her Christian beliefs, Hazel was a long time member of Killearn United Methodist Church. Funeral Services will be 2 pm Thursday, October 10, 2013 at KUMC. In lieu of flowers, the family would appreciate donations to KUMC.

Clergy Appreciation

In this month of ministry, I encourage you to thank God for all of the ministers whom God has given you and to personally reach out and thank those clergy who have touched your life in some way. I encourage you to prayerfully consider if God might be calling you or someone you know into full-time Christian ministry or into some area of ministry as a lay person. And I encourage you to support future ministers as they prayerfully discern this calling. There are many people who leave the ministry in the first 10 years. Yes, ministry is difficult, but then, God doesn't always call us to that which is easy. Ministry involves long hours, but the blessings are eternal.

On behalf of all clergy in our community, thanks be to God for each of you who have sacrificially and lovingly answered that call to Christian service!

Kraeft recognized by Extension Professional Associations of Fla.

Special to The News

The Extension Professional Associations of Florida announced that Sherri Kraeft, Wakulla County 4-H Agent, has been named recipient of the Search for Program of Excellence Award for her 4-H Beekeeping Education program and the Florida Association of Extension 4-H Agents Communicator Award for Best News Story.

She also received the Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education Scholarship to attend the Florida State Beekeeping Association meeting this year.

Kraeft was a member of the Excellence in Volunteerism Team of Northwest District Extension 4-H Agents, the Excellence in Teamwork lead agent for the District III 4-H Community Citrus Project and was a member of the award winning Promotional Piece Team as well.

Kraeft, who became a 4-H Agent in 2008 to provide leadership development opportunities to youth throughout the state, has aided growing 4-H support in Wakulla County after being recognized by the Florida Association of Extension 4-H Agents.

"All Wakulla County 4-H programs are designed to give young people the opportunity to develop life skills and form positive relationships with both their peers and caring adults." said Kraeft.

As a former science teacher, Kraeft understands the value of education and allowing the youth to see how what they're learning translates to everyday life skills.

The Extension Professional Associations of Florida is a coalition of the Florida Association of County Agricultural Agents, the Florida Extension Association of Family and Consumer Sciences, the Florida Association of 4-H Agents, Epsilon Sigma Phi – Alpha Delta Chapter, and the Florida Association of Natural Resources Extension Professionals.

Sherri Kraeft, Wakulla County 4-H Agent (left), has been named recipient of the Search for Program of Excellence Award.

HHS boosts national capacity to produce pandemic flu vaccine

Special to The News

To boost the nation's ability to manufacture influenza vaccine quickly in a pandemic, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services today established a fill and finish manufacturing network, which will cover the final steps in the vaccine manufacturing process.

Led by HHS, the network supplements the capacity that influenza vaccine manufacturers currently have, potentially increasing national capacity to produce influenza vaccine by 20 percent.

The Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority (BARDA), in HHS' Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, awarded contracts to four U.S. companies that will make up the network.

Today's contracts, totaling approximately $39.8 million, are awarded to Cook Pharmica of Bloomington, Ind., JHP Pharmaceuticals of Parsippany, N.J., DSM Pharmaceuticals, Inc. of Greenville, N.C., and Nanotherapeutics of Alachua, Fla.

"No longer will fill and finish manufacturing be the limiting factor in making pandemic influenza vaccines or other products available in a public health emergency," said BARDA Director Robin Robinson, Ph.D. "The fill and finish manufacturing network will be an integral part of other national assets that address the need for timely manufacturing of medical countermeasures to respond to man-made and natural threats."

The new network responds to a recommendation proposed by the Public Health Medical Countermeasure Enterprise Review (2010) to create a network of existing, pre-qualified facilities that could fill and finish vaccine for manufacturers in a public health emergency.

As a network, these companies will collaborate with the three HHS Centers for Innovation in Advanced Development and Manufacturing, established in 2012, and with domestic influenza vaccine manufacturers. In addition the network will provide its services to HHS for production of clinical investigational lots of medical countermeasures that are in development.

Each company in the network will partner with a pandemic influenza vaccine manufacturer to transfer the fill and finish technology into its existing facilities to provide surge capacity for pandemic response. The expanded fill and finish manufacturing network also could provide these core services for manufacturers of drugs and vaccines intended to protect public health against chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear threats.

The network builds on BARDA's public-private partnership model to provide a coordinated national medical countermeasure manufacturing infrastructure and exemplifies BARDA's core service assistance approach towards a comprehensive, integrated plan for advanced research and development, innovation, acquisition, and manufacturing of vaccines, drugs, therapeutics, diagnostic tools, and non-pharmaceutical products for public health emergency threats.

These threats include chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear agents, pandemic influenza, and emerging infectious diseases.

HHS is the principal federal agency for protecting the health of all Americans and providing essential human services, especially for those who are least able to help themselves.

ASPR leads HHS in preparing the nation to respond to and recover from adverse health effects of emergencies, supporting communities' ability to withstand adversity, strengthening health and response systems, and enhancing national health security.

Civil war hero returns to life at Woodville branch library

Special to The News

Civil War hero and Lincoln protégé, General Martin D. Hardin (1837-1923) comes to life during a one-man show at 1 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 12 at the Woodville Branch Library, 8000 Old Woodville Road.

"The in-character presentation profiles in dramatic fashion the career of a forgotten figure who lies buried in St. Augustine, Florida where he was a prominent winter resident for nearly 40 years," said Woodville Library Director Verna Brock, LeRoy Collins Leon County Library System.

The event is part of the Woodville 125th Anniversary Celebration, which includes an antique car show, model train exhibit, music, a 5K race, food, arts and craft, and historical representations, according to Brock. For further information: call the Woodville Branch Library at: 850-606-2925.

Tallahassee author and historian Jim Huffstodt will portray the one-armed General Hardin, who was wounded four times during the Civil War. This little known Union officer was present at Harper's Ferry during Abolitionist John Brown's raid, fought at the battle of Gettysburg and 17 other major battles, defended Washington during Confederate General Jubal Early's July 1864 raid, and visited President Lincoln on numerous occasions during the last year of his life.

"Hardin has a compelling life story since the war tragically impacted his own family," Huffstodt said. "The fact that his beloved younger brother, Lemuel Smith Hardin, fought for the Confederacy and was crippled by battle wounds, makes the Hardin family saga a mirror of the war as a whole."

Huffstodt authored "Hard Dying Men: the Story of the llth Illinois Infantry In The Civil War" in 1991. He has also written dozens of magazine articles on American history for "Civil War Times Illustrated," The Lincoln Herald," "Florida Fish & Wildlife," "Tallahassee Magazine," and "Sea Classics Magazine."

The author is currently researching and writing a biography of General Martin D. Hardin. Huffstodt earned a bachelor's degree in history from Southern Illinois University and took graduate history courses at the University of Illinois.

Fabulous Foods Cooking Schools Continue

Special to The News

If you or someone in your household has diabetes, eating right and managing calories and carbohydrates intake can be challenging.

Because so many people in Wakulla County meet the criteria, a special cooking school has been coordinated for them. Learn practical ways to plan and prepare nutritiously balanced meals at home without adding extra sugar, sodium or fat.

Anyone that is overweight, has pre-diabetes, type-2 diabetes or just wants to cook healthier is encouraged to attend.

This workshop will be taught by Amy Mullins, Leon County Extension who is a Registered Dietician and Kristin Jackson, Jefferson County Extension.

Join the cooking school participants to learn more about eating healthy and taste test recipes in this hands-on workshop.

It will be held on October 14th 6 to 8 p.m. at the Extension Office. To cover the materials, including food, a $15.00 payment is requested while no one will be turned away if unable to financially assist. Pre-registration is necessary. Call 926-3931 to enroll.

WHS culinary program off to a great start

Special to The News

The Wakulla High School Culinary Arts Program is off to a wonderful start to the school year!

While answering a growing demand for high-quality career training in the hospitality and food service industry, the summer provided ample time to give the existing culinary facility a much needed face lift.

The upgrading of equipment, materials and supplies ensures that the students will have expanded offerings and exceptional curriculum designed to prepare them for an array of entry-level positions in the hospitality and food service industry.

Wakulla High School is also excited to announce that the new culinary instructor, Kristy Phillips, attended a week-long educational training for ProStart Curriculum at Johnson & Wales University in Miami, Florida. Faculties attending were given the opportunity to increase their knowledge of the principles and techniques of teaching culinary arts in a secondary and post-secondary environment.

The new design for the War Eagle Cafe' by Shawn Mape.

The classes involved a combination of lab time, demonstrations and observations. Emphasis on developing lesson plans, best practices of instructional methods, skills of instruction, organizing instructional and supplementary materials in the class/lab setting; industry trends and understanding how to prepare students as to what to expect in the real world. Ms. Phillips also became ProStart Industry Certified which means as a Proctor, she can administer the certification tests on campus to her students.

Through its continuing partnership with the Florida Restaurant and Lodging Association, the Wakulla High School Culinary Arts program has committed to using the ProStart Curriculum which will better prepare students for careers in the foodservice industry as well as have access to post-secondary articulation agreements and scholarships.

Students will also have the opportunity to earn industry certifications such as Safe Staff, Serve Safe and the full ProStart Certification while enrolled in the program.

Whether continuing their culinary education at the post-secondary level or entering the workforce, Wakulla High School Culinary Arts students will gain knowledge and skills that will prepare them for a life time of success. Please contact Sarabeth Jones, Career Specialist, for additional information at Wakulla High School 850/926-7125.

Thanks to Shawn Mapes for the new War Eagle Design for the War Eagle Cafe'.

Pair of important TCC events coming up Oct. 21, 24

Special to The News

This month, Tallahassee Community College is hosting a pair of events that will be of great interest to both prospective and current students.

On Monday, Oct. 21, the College will host TCC Preview from 5:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

TCC Preview targets students interested in attending TCC, including high school students and non-traditional students who are either attending college for the first time or returning to school, as well as those looking for a career change. At TCC Preview, attendees can learn about admissions, orientation and financial aid, as well as programs of study, student services and campus life.

Current TCC students are also encouraged to attend in order to discover resources, programs and opportunities that are currently available.

Reservations are not required.

For more information on TCC Preview, call the Office of Enrollment Services, (850) 201-8555, or at admissions@tcc.fl.edu.

On Thursday, Oct. 24, TCC's Office of Financial Aid will host its annual Scholarship Fair from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the lobby of the Fine and Performing Arts Center.

The Scholarship Fair provides current and prospective TCC students with the chance to meet one-on-one with scholarship administrators, who will be available to provide information regarding the College's many scholarship opportunities.

Information will be provided on the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program and assistance will be provided on how to complete the Free Applications for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Students can submit a scholarship application for the Fall 2014 Semester at TCC at the event or online at www.tcc.fl.edu/scholarships.

Spring 2014 Financial Aid files are due December 1, 2013. The scholarship application deadline for the Fall 2014 semester is February 3, 2014.

For more information on the Scholarship Fair, contact the Office of Financial Aid at (850) 201-8399.

(Pop. 109,565)

What could be better after a long day then a huge bowl of mac & cheese? And Samantha Jacobs's Ooey Gooey Mac & Cheese recipe will have your family asking for more. I always say that the more cheese you can fit in your mac & cheese, the better! I love that she mentions you can make this in a crock pot too—a perfect recipe for a busy weekend.

See step-by-step photos of Samantha's recipe plus thousands more from home cooks nationwide at:

You'll also find a meal planner, coupons and chances to win! Enjoy and remember, use "just a pinch"...

-Janet

Ooey Gooey Mac and Cheese

What You Need

- 1 box elbow macaroni, 1 lb
- 2 can(s) 10.75 oz each, cheddar cheese soup
- 2 can(s) 12 oz each, evaporated milk
- 1 1/4 stick butter
- 1 tsp each of salt and pepper
- 2 c extra sharp cheddar cheese, shredded
- 2 c sharp cheddar cheese, shredded
- 2 c pepperjack cheese, shredded

Directions

- Preheat oven to 350.
- Cook pasta according to pasta directions just until done. (You don't want it mushy, because it will absorb a little of the cheesy liquid in the oven.)
- Combine soup, evaporated milk, butter, salt, and pepper in a large microwaveable bowl. Cover with plastic wrap, leaving a small vent, and cook for 6-7 minutes until the butter is melted and the mixture is warm-to-hot throughout. (If making a half batch, 4 minutes in the microwave should do it).
- Add to cooked pasta.
- Add cheeses one at a time, stirring constantly until everything is melted and incorporated.
- Bake for 40-45 min.
- If desired, place baking dish under the broiler for an extra 4 min. to crisp up the top.
- FOR CROCK POT: Follow directions 1-5, leave your crock pot on low and cook for 4 hours.

Fishing around the Shell Point area is very good

From The Dock

BY CAPT. JODY CAMPBELL

The water is starting to clear up some and the temperature is in the middle to high 70's. There is still some grass floating which is unusual for this time of the year but it's not too terribly bad. Fishing around the Shell Point area is very good and should do nothing but get better.

Mike Falk Jr. and his son Carson fished last weekend around Oyster Bay and caught some nice reds and trout. Mike said they caught everything on white Gulp with a chartreuse tail.

The folks over at Shell Island said fishing is pretty good but not like it hopefully will be in the next week or two. Here it is October and it's time for the fishing to become superb. Quite a few boats went out on Saturday and some did well while others struggled. Because of the predicted storm many folks canceled trips and just stayed at home. Thrown in a Florida State football game and bow season, the waters won't get too crowded. Bucky, who works at Shell Island told me he went last week and found some big trout and reds up in the creeks east of the St. Marks River. Alan Hobbs told me he had taken a party out last week and they caught their limit of trout fishing over near Live Oak Island. Most of their fish were caught on the New Penny Gulp.

Reports from the Aucilla say the trout are starting to bite again but you need to go to six or seven feet of water to look for them. Fishing around Keaton Beach continues to be good for big trout and of course the bait of choice by many of the fishermen down there is a live pinfish under a cork.

Plenty of trout are being caught around Lanark Village and Dog Island Reef is covered up with small jacks and some big bluefish, or at least big for our area.

My neighbor across the street was down on Tuesday afternoon and they planned on going snapper fishing but because of the forecast stayed in and trout fished. They caught a few trout using the Gulp and had one nice red. On Wednesday they were leaving and he told me they caught two ladyfish all morning. I told him he should have used shrimp. On Thursday I took Ross McWilliams from Tallahassee and his brother Guy from Ocala. We came in with 13 nice trout and 3 limits of reds. We caught everything on live shrimp. I fished a Gulp under a cork for a while but could not seem to get them interested in them. Captain David Fife took Richard Gardner and some of his buddies and they had a banner day on reds. They caught their limit using live mullet and David said they threw back several over 29 inches. On Saturday David and I fished with the Kevin Walsh party from Macon. Kevin called me on Wednesday and asked me what I thought the weather was gonna do. I told him like I tell everyone, I'm not a weatherman so I don't know. I told him it was his call and he decided to plan on fishing Saturday and if the weather was bad we would shoot for Sunday. I don't know how many trips I have canceled because of a weather report and then the weather turned out absolutely gorgeous or a least very fishable. As it turned out Saturday was one of those days that turned out absolutely beautiful. We came in with 16 speckled trout, 16 big silver trout and 4 reds. The specs and reds were caught on live shrimp and the silver trout hit a white Gulp fished on the bottom. I fished with Kevin Walsh, his son Matthew and Matthew's buddy, Christian Sims. David came in with quite a few silver trout and their limit of reds. He said they also lost a bunch of nice reds. They fished primarily with live minnows on the bottom.

I just talked with Capt. Randy Peart and he said he fished last Saturday and Sunday and they caught about 11 varieties of fish. They fished the deep hole at the mouth of the Ochlockonee and caught silver trout, whiting, flounder and reds up to 25 pounds. They used shrimp on the bottom and live pilchards.

You still have about a week to go catch a few red snapper. The two-week season opened the first of October and we haven't had the best weather to go offshore so they're still out their waiting to be caught.

Remember to know your limits and be careful out there. Good luck and good fishing!

Stone crab season opens Oct. 15 in state, federal waters

SPECIAL TOTHE NEWS

Florida's recreational and commercial stone crab claw harvest season opens Oct. 15 in state and federal waters. To ensure this valuable resource is available for generations to come, take care when removing crab claws and follow all protective regulations for stone crab harvest.

To be harvested, stone crab claws must be at least 2¾ inches in length when measured from the elbow to the tip of the lower immovable portion of the claw. View a video on how to properly remove the claw in order to increase the likelihood of survival of the crab once released.

Claws may not be taken from egg-bearing stone crabs. Egg-bearing females are identifiable by the orange or brown egg mass, also known as a "sponge," which is visible on the underside of the crab when it is picked up or turned over.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Stone crab fisherman shows off his catch.

Recreational harvesters can use up to five stone crab traps per person. Stone crabs may not be harvested with any device that can puncture, crush or injure the crab body. Examples of devices that can cause this kind of damage include spears and hooks. Recreational and commercial traps may be baited and placed in the water 10 days prior to the opening of the season but may not be pulled from the water for harvest purposes until Oct. 15.

Harvesters are encouraged to take only one claw, even if both claws are of legal size, so that the released crab will be better able to defend itself from predators. A crab that is returned to the water with one claw intact will also be able to obtain more food in a shorter amount of time and therefore regrow its other claw faster. There is a recreational daily bag limit of one gallon of claws per person or two gallons per vessel, whichever is less.

The season will be open through May 15, 2014, closing May 16.

Stone crab regulations are the same in state and federal waters.

For more information on harvesting stone crabs for recreation, as well as commercial stone crab regulations and licensing information, go online to MyFWC.com/Fishing (click on "Saltwater").

Coast Guard Auxiliary Reports

By Carolyn Brown Treadon

As many of you are aware, the shutdown of most of the non-essential government has affected almost every aspect of the military, including the Auxiliary. While we are a group of volunteers, when we are under orders or functioning in any official duty, we are acting as a representative of the United States Coast Guard. In addition, when on a patrol, we are reimbursed for our fuel and other related expenses. Due to this, we have been included in the non-essential support that is now not functioning.

If you have a boating emergency, please contact the Coast Guard at Station Panama City for assistance .

We will keep you posted on any changes.

Carrabelle Florida, Chosen as Boaters' Best Getaway

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Aerial view of Carrabelle

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

A tiny panhandle fishing town has hooked this year's Florida By Water "Boaters' Best Getaway" award. Each year a city is selected based on criteria that include, but are not limited to, boat ramp access, water accessible accommodations, dockside dining, boating locations/activities and marina availability. This year's award goes to Carrabelle, Florida, located in Franklin County. The award was presented to Sheila Hauser of Southern Breeze Media and Suzanne Zimmerman, Executive Director-Carrabelle Chamber of a Commerce, on Saturday. September 28, 2013.

Rusty Gardner, President of Florida By Water, stated that he chose the community because it is truly a boater's paradise. No big chains in this small town; here you will find only local accommodations (all reasonably priced), some of Florida's best seafood and water access to such popular boating destinations as Dog Island, St. George Island and the Gulf of Mexico, as well as the Carrabelle River.

The quaint fishing village also offers plenty to do when you're not on the water. It boasts three museums where you'll find each volunteer more colorful than the next. Their stories come to life as they guide you through the history of World War II, the Town of Carrabelle or the Carrabelle Lighthouse. These people are friendly. The town is about boating and fishing. Nothing else seems to matter, and that's why it's the perfect getaway for boaters.

Sheila Hauser says Carrabelle is honored to be the "Boaters' Best Getaway" destination in Florida. "The tourism industry is a huge part of our economy and our visitors love to go boating and fishing in our local waters. Receiving this award from Florida By Water will promote and market Carrabelle not only in Florida, but on a national level."

For more information on Carrabelle, Florida, you can go to http://carrabelle.org.

Predator

As I have explained in past articles I am an animal lover. In recent months there has been numerous reports of sharks being killed by our spearfishing customers, some claim self defense and others think they are doing everyone a favor. I find this alarming and it bothers me to no small degree. We have become the top predator on our reefs seeking out tasty marine predators such as grouper, snapper, amberjack and now Lionfish. Before humans invaded the ocean the sharks were the top predator and their job was to promote evolution by removing the sick, dying, and injured animals from the reefs. Sharks are seldom harvested for food and when they are it is typically wasteful, inhumane, and outside of regulation. Sharks are there for the health of the reef, so why then do we continue to kill them?

Sharks are attracted to us when we hunt and kill fish because we create the very feeding conditions they search for. Our struggling and bleeding prey are their prey as well. We become competitors in their ocean and we are the intruder. An all too common solution is to kill them because we have the technology to do so. Dive stores have carried "personal protection devices" (often improperly called "bang sticks") and other tools specifically for killing sharks. These devices are attached to a spear that upon impact will explode and kill a shark (or any large creature). In the past these devices were often permanently attached to the spearshaft and were used to harvest large fish like Goliath Grouper, an illegal activity today and possession of these weapons is illegal as well.

I am no shark expert, but I spent quality time with them during numerous encounters in numerous oceans. Unless you have created a frenzy when sharks bite at anything moving, they are usually a very cautious creature. My earliest shark encounters found them as curious about us as we were about them. One day when I was searching for a specific specimen needed for the lab, I turned to see a tiger shark larger than I drifting very close by, only to pause and look in the same hole before swimming on. My instinct has always been to freeze but my bubbles would give me away!

Size and numbers matter. They can add! When I worked on artificial Reefs in Hawaii, we patrolled the reef crests just like reef sharks, counting target fish species to estimate population dynamics. When our team numbered more than their's, they would break off and swim around us. But when they out numbered us, they plowed right through us, with no apologies. If we were bigger than them, but numerically the same, we prevailed , but if the opposite happened, they prevailed. Only when the numbers and sizes were similar was there conflict, agitated behavior and real threat.

Killing a shark was the act of last resort, partially because the blast brought more sharks into the equation increasing our threat level. Dragging dead fish was equally problematic, but feeding our speared fish to them served to train sharks to know we represented access to easy food. Today, spearing fish in the Florida Keys will attract Nurse Sharks who will come up between your feet and expect to take your catch before you realize they are there! Of course some sharks are more aggressive than others. Locally, Bull Sharks are known to cause many of our shark encounter problems, whether they are trained to know divers have dead fish or are just plain ornery.

Today we advocate respect and education about sharks. One powerful tool is to go on a shark diving experience at Stuart Cove in the Bahamas. It takes only a few minutes to realize these large and numerous animals are there for dinner and you are NOT on the menu. They bump into you, rub along your legs, and are much like puppies. You are still in their dining room and if you don't follow the rules you could have problems but to my knowledge that's never been a problem at Stuart's.

We began selling the Shark Shield as a nonlethal solution to shark protection. It emits an electrical field that sharks can sense but most other fish cannot. The sharks don't like it but it doesn't hurt them. The device isn't inexpensive but it can keep sharks away for about 200ft. The tool can be towed behind the diver, hung from the boat, or deployed on the reef for later retrieval. We live at a time where technology can nearly eliminate the threat of being bitten plus save the lives of these important and majestic animals. The use of personal protective devices should no longer be called defense, it is murder and there isn't an excuse for it.

Law Enforcement and Courts reports

Sheriff's Report

On Sept. 26, Deborah Smith of Crawfordville reported a retail theft at Goodwill Industries in Crawfordville. A female suspect, who has been identified, was observed removing items from the store without paying for them. The exact value of the items is still to be determined. The suspect left the scene prior to the arrival of law enforcement. Deputy Vicki Mitchell investigated and her investigation continues.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 26

• Kim Conroy of Crawfordville reported a credit card offense. Four unauthorized charges were observed at an electronics store, big box store and office supply stores in Orlando and Tallahassee. The charges are valued at $1,809. Deputy Marshall Taylor and Detective Randy Phillips investigated.

• Faron Cooper of Crawfordville reported a fraud. Four unauthorized charges were observed on the victim's bank card. The charges were created in Oklahoma and Kentucky. The total amount of the fraud is still to be determined. Deputy Richard Moon and Detective Randy Phillips investigated.

• Sherri Green of Crawfordville reported the theft of medications from her home. Medication was discovered missing from a single bottle. Deputy Vicki Mitchell investigated.

• Two 16-year-old Wakulla High School juveniles were involved in a minor traffic crash at the school. One vehicle struck the other as he was backing out of a parking space. There was minimal damage to the vehicles and no injuries reported. Deputy Ward Kromer investigated.

• Dennis Hughes of Crawfordville reported a fraud. Two suspicious transactions were observed on the victim's bank account. The charges totaled $392 at two retail locations in Tallahassee. Deputy Richard Moon investigated.

• Deputy Nick Boutwell investigated a report of a Riversprings Middle School student sending a lewd photograph of him to female students. The male student told Deputy Boutwell that he sent the photograph to several students. Deputy Boutwell requested an arrest warrant for the student for sexting as a second offense. The three female victims are age 12 while the suspect is age 13. Detective Josh Langston also investigated.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 27

• Shannon Faye Vernon of Sopchoppy was involved in a one vehicle crash with a road sign at U.S. Highway 319 and Trice Lane. There were no injuries. Deputy Gibby Gibson investigated.

• Stephanie Lorenzini of Crawfordville reported finding personal belongings of a former tenant of her home. The property included Social Security and other identification cards. The cards were held as found property when Deputy Billy Metcalf could not locate the owner. Deputy Gibby Gibson also investigated.

• Richard VanMunster of Panacea reported a fraud. Someone created two unauthorized charges on his bank card. The charges totaled $750 through a satellite company. Sgt. Ray Johnson investigated.

• Courtney Peacock of Capital City Bank reported a suspect passing worthless bank checks at seven area businesses. The checks are valued at $1,842 and the suspect has been identified. Deputy Gibby Gibson investigated.

• Douglas Raker of Crawfordville reported a criminal mischief. The victim observed a window shattered at his home. The suspect threw a garden statue through the victim's window. Damage to the home is estimated at $75 and the garden decoration is valued at $100. Deputy Stephen Simmons investigated.

• Sgt. Lorne Whaley issued civil citations to three juveniles who were in possession of marijuana. The juveniles were stopped by U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Officer Jason Godwin. The juveniles possessed less than 20 grams of marijuana at Jack Crum Road and Purify Bay Road. All three juveniles are 15 years old.

• Alice Amerson of Telogia was stopped by Deputy Stephen Simmons for an inoperable tail light. It was determined that the driver did not possess a valid driver license. It was also determined that she had four outstanding warrants out of Leon County. Amerson was charged with driving while license is suspended or revoked second or subsequent conviction as well as for the violation of probation warrants.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 28

• Jonathan Page of Crawfordville reported a vehicle theft from his home. Sgt. Danny Harrell found the vehicle abandoned near Wildcat Alley and Coastal Highway. It appeared to have been involved in a traffic crash. The vehicle is owned by Marie Yvonne Allen of Tallahassee. The vehicle also contained $800 worth of tools. Deputy Gibby Gibson investigated.

• Denice Malancon of Crawfordville reported a criminal mischief to a mailbox. The mailbox was struck twice with a bat and damaged. The box is valued at $25. Sgt. Danny Harrell investigated.

• Wanda B. Moore of Crawfordville and Dane V. Moses of Crawfordville were involved in a minor traffic crash in the Wal-Mart parking lot. There were no injuries. Deputy Gibby Gibson investigated.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 29

On Sept. 29, Charles Ferrell Barwick of Crawfordville reported a business burglary. Juveniles were observed kicking the doors of the victim's Crawfordville property. A forced entry was observed and an estimated $2,600 worth of damage was created to the building as well as the inside the business. WCSO contacted several juveniles about the incident and they admitted their involvement. The case was sent to the Criminal Investigations Division for additional investigation with additional juvenile suspects. Five suspects have been identified. Deputy Mike Zimba, Deputy Gibby Gibson, Deputy Billy Metcalf and Deputy Stephen Simmons investigated.

• Melissa R. Soto, 30, of Tallahassee was arrested for driving while license is suspended or revoked third or subsequent conviction. Deputy Stephen Simmons had previous knowledge that the driver did not possess a valid driver license and she was observed driving on U.S. Highway 319. Due to heavy traffic he was unable to conduct a traffic stop. Deputy Mike Zimba observed the vehicle at a Crawfordville restaurant. She was given a warning not to drive again. Later the same day, Deputy Zimba observed Soto driving again. Deputy Zimba conducted a traffic stop and transported her to the Wakulla County Jail.

• Wal-Mart Asset Protection staff observed Jessica Shailee Russ, 19, of Crawfordville concealing items on her person with the intent to take them out of the store without paying for them. Computer equipment and electronics, valued at $43, were recovered. The subject was charged with retail theft and transported to the Wakulla County Jail. Deputy Mike Zimba investigated.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30

• James Savage of Crawfordville reported the theft of his wallet. The victim placed his wallet down on a counter at Wal-Mart while checking out at the store and realized later he did not pick it up. The wallet contained personal identification information including a driver license and Social Security card. The missing property is valued at $24. Sgt. Ray Johnson investigated.

• Jason S. Marshall of Attapulgus, Ga. and David E. Rose of Elliston, Mo. were involved in a minor traffic crash in the parking lot of Savannah's Country Buffet in Wakulla Station. There were no injuries and Deputy Vicki Mitchell investigated.

• Charles Grim of Crawfordville reported a burglary to his shed. An electronic gaming system was stolen. The system is valued at $300. A person of interest was established in the case. Lt. Jimmy Sessor investigated.

• Melissa Hudson of Crawfordville reported a criminal mischief to her vehicle. Investigation determined that the heating element in the glass malfunctioned and may have been the cause of the damage. Deputy Vicki Mitchell was unable to determine criminal activity.

• Shalia R. Godbolt of Sopchoppy reported damage to a rental vehicle. The damage was estimated at $100 and Deputy Alan Middlebrooks left an agency business card on the adjoining vehicle requesting contact. Contact was not made with the registered owner of the adjoining vehicle at the recreation park.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1

• Harold H. Weeks, 56, of Eastpoint was arrested for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana, possession of narcotics equipment and driving while license is suspended or revoked second or subsequent conviction. Deputy Richard Moon and Deputy Alan Middlebrooks were operating radar on U.S. Highway 98 when they observed Weeks driving at 75 miles per hour in a 55 mile per hour zone. A traffic stop was conducted. It was determined that the driver did not possess a valid driver license. Marijuana was discovered inside the vehicle that weighed 11 grams. Weeks was also issued a traffic citation for unlawful speed and transported to the Wakulla County Jail.

• Robert Tomlinson of Crawfordville reported a criminal mischief. The victim noticed key marks on his vehicle while it was parked at his home. Damage was estimated at $500 to $1,000. Deputy Anthony Paul investigated.

On Oct. 1, Shawn Lawhon of Sopchoppy reported a grand theft. The victim reported the theft of construction equipment as a tractor and bush hog mower was stolen. The property will be entered into the NCIC/FCIC data base as stolen. Deputy Vicki Mitchell investigated.

• Travoris McWhite of Crawfordville reported a credit card offense. Three unauthorized charges were observed on the victim's bank card. The charges were observed in Arizona and Minnesota and totaled $1,001. Deputy Anthony Paul investigated.

• Agnes H. Lord of Crawfordville and Stephanie M. Rogers of Crawfordville were involved in a minor traffic crash at Wal-Mart parking lot. There were no injuries. Deputy Mike Crum investigated.

• Two vehicles and trailers owned by Brian's Septic Tank Service were recovered off Springhill Road near the Leon County line. A concerned citizen reported observing the vehicles in a wood line. The property was reported stolen earlier in the day to Leon County Sheriff's Office officials. A Leon County deputy arrived at the scene to continue his investigation. The property was turned over to a wrecker service. Deputy Will Hudson investigated.

• Detective Clint Beam and Detective Derek Lawhon were in the process of arresting Vernon Dale Long, 54, of Panacea on outstanding warrants when Long was found to be in possession of marijuana. The marijuana was discovered in a baggie and weighed 5.5 grams. He was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana.

• Jack Joiner of Panacea reported an animal incident. The victim reported being attacked by two dogs while he rode his bicycle on Surf Road. The victim suffered bites to his ankle and hand. The animals were collected and transported to the Animal Shelter by ACO Mark Carter. The case is being turned over to the Animal Control Unit. Deputy Richard Moon investigated.

• A clerk at Triangle Petro in Medart reported a retail theft. A white male entered the store and stole a 12 pack of beer. The beer was valued at $13. Deputy Richard Moon investigated.

Images of dragons in myths and nightmares

Natural Wakulla

By Les Harrison

The images of dragons lurk in myths and nightmares. They are pitiless creatures which will dine on any and all flesh which come within their reach, but they are especially fond of devouring helpless damsels.

Some who wish to establish an immediate reputation for ruthless, callous behavior have assumed the term to suit their malevolent ambitions. A few focused persons have managed to reach a level of brutality where title to which they aspired was earned.

Vlad II was a nobleman in a remote province in present-day Romania who was having problems with the neighboring Ottoman Turks. He joined the Order of the Dragon taking a new identity as Vlad Dracul, or Vlad the Dragon and he pummeled the Turks at every opportunity thereafter.

Vlad's son, known as Vlad the Impaler, also went by the name Dracula, which translated to son of the dragon. The junior Vlad upheld family tradition with the Turks, and entered popular culture courtesy of a 19th Century romance author.

Fortunately, contemporary Wakulla County has missed out on giant fire-breathing lizards and merciless Turk hunters. There is, however, the insect order odonate which included dragonflies and damselflies.

Florida is home to more than 150 species of odonates made up of six families of dragonflies and three families of the similarly appearing damselflies. This insect order is found on every continent except Antarctica.

Adult odonates are easily differentiated by their wings. The wings of most dragonflies are held away from and perpendicular to their body when at rest while dainty damselflies fold their wings next to their body.

Some dragonfly species have broad territories, such as the blue-eyed darner. It is found from coast to coast in North America, in addition to Central and South America. In contrast, many families of damselflies have much smaller areas in which they are established with a few having extremely limited distribution.

Like other insects, dragonflies possess six legs but most of them cannot walk well. To compensate for this shortcoming, dragonflies are among the fastest flying insects in the world with a top recorded speed of about 35 miles per hour.

They can be seen near any body of water or running stream, often sitting in sunny spots breaking through the forest canopy along a river or pond, or patrolling the water's edge. The males are territorial and will attack other males which encroach.

Some species can be found in open fields far away from water while searching for prey or while migrating. The carnivorous nature of their diets make them popular summer guest.

All nymph stage odonates are aquatic with some living in salty water. All are voracious predators feeding on everything from small invertebrates such as mosquito larvae to smaller vertebrates such as fish and frogs.

In the world of mosquito larvae, damsels and dragons are bad news. An archaic name for both insects was Mosquito Hawk. While used infrequently today, the bottom line results are the same for mosquito larvae.

Wakulla suffers first loss of season

AMANDA MAYOR

Malik Thomas gets shutdown by Godby's defense during Thursday's 53-12 loss to the Cougars.

FOOTBALL

War Eagles fall 5-1 as two touchdowns, sans extra points, proved not enough against the Godby Cougars' eight touchdowns in three quarters.

By AMANDA MAYOR
amayor@thewakullanews.net

At first, it appeared as if the match-up against reigning state champs, the Godby Cougars, would be a back and forth tug-of-war in terms of touchdowns.

However, that notion appeared to die out as Wakulla's scoring ended at 12 in the second quarter, while Godby continued to score throughout the game, eventually reaching a final score of 53-12.

"It's a learning experience," said Head Coach Scott Klees of the team's first loss of the season. "Adversity definitely came our way Thursday night."

Klees has commented several times recently on the character of his young team and the way they have handled themselves in the face of difficulty.

NEXT GAME: The War Eagles travel to Starke to take on the Bradford Tornadoes on Friday, Oct. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Since this is the first time Wakulla hasn't been able to pull out a win, Klees said the loss would reveal new truths about his team moving forward. "How we handle it will speak to what kind of character we have," he said, "both as players and as coaches in the upcoming weeks."

As far as what he thought they should have done in particular, Klees said he couldn't pinpoint any certain area. "We just need to play better and take one game at a time," he said.

GAME RECAP

Wakulla scored the first touchdown of the game early in the first quarter when a 55-yard Franks to Franks connection resulted in six points for the War Eagles. Godby blocked the extra point leaving the score at 6-0 until, shortly after, Godby struck back with an 80-yard pass for a touchdown. The cougars' extra point was good, putting them up 7-6.

Another Godby touchdown was made after a long run and a quick pass. Wakulla was able to block the extra point attempt, putting Godby up 13-6.

CROSS COUNTRY

Madison Harris becomes first ever panhandle champion

By PAUL HOOVER
WHS Track Coach

Even the threat of a tropical storm, that never materialized, could not dissuade the WHS cross country teams from traveling to Marianna Saturday, Oct. 5, for the prestigious Panhandle Championships.

The meet historically attracts the majority of the elite cross country teams from Pensacola to the Suwannee River. This year, the threat of the storm caused a few schools to cancel, but the meet went off on schedule under sunny skies and un-seasonably hot conditions, with temperatures rising into the mid 80's by the end of the meet.

The final tally showed 28 boys teams and 17 girls teams competed in the meet. The hot conditions slowed the times a little, but didn't affect the level of competition. WHS senior Madison Harris, in her first year of cross country, showed why she is currently ranked 5th in the state among the 2A girls.

Library Director

FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE

Our Friday Night Movie this week will be a R rated (for language) thriller, directed by and starring Robert Redford, along with Shia Lebouf, Chris Cooper, Sam Elliot, and many more familiar faces.

This taunt drama (which our Public Showing License forbids me to name here), tells the tale of a former Weather Underground activist, who after over 30 years, goes on the run from a journalist who has discovered his identity. With the authorities also on his trail, the activist tries to get at the truth of the crime which has forced him into hiding for so long.

Will he find the answers he needs so he can be reunited with his daughter? Fans of old-school political thrillers will love this film. Due to the rating, all children must be accompanied by an adult. Doors open at 6:45 for this 7 p.m. show.

BOOK EXTRAVAGANZA ONCE AGAIN A SUCCESS

A big thank you to all who came out to our Book Extravaganza last Saturday! Your generous donations raised over $400 for the Friends of the Library in just 3 hours!

As always these funds stay in house in order to help pay for our planned Young Adult Area expansion, children's programs, and many other needed library expenses.

Over the past 4 years, the Friends of the Library has saved the taxpayers of Wakulla County over $70,000 with their support of WCPL.

We thank them for their support and invite all who are interested in helping WCPL to continue to grow into the library this county deserves to join the Friends and help grow both this great community organization and the Library.

Thank you once again and mark your calendar for Dec. 7 for our December Book Extravaganza!

DOWNLOADABLE AUDIO BOOKS ARE HERE!

As promised we have audio books available now through our e-book website for your downloading pleasure!

These books can be downloaded to your computer, tablet, or smartphone by using the Overdrive App (available for free from your device's app store).

Go to our website www.wakullalibrary.org, click on the eBooks link, then on either audio fiction or nonfiction to browse the collection.

We'll be adding to this over time as we do our e-books so please check back often.

We thank Wilderness Coast Public Libraries along with our partners Franklin and Jefferson County Public Libraries for helping us provide this feature to our patrons.

Wakulla suffers first loss of season

Early in the second quarter, Wakulla scored its last touchdown of the game when Antonio Morris ran the ball in from the second yard line. Again, the War Eagles extra point attempt was no good, making the score 13-12.

The Cougars never let up. Their speed and athleticism led to another touchdown with 9:48 remaining in the first half, then again with 7:11 left in the same half.

After another Godby touchdown and a score of 33-12, Wakulla's Kieryn Parsons made an interception, putting the War Eagles on Godby's 19-yard line. While Wakulla made a good threat, sophomore quarterback Feleipe Franks' pass was intercepted in the end zone.

At the end of the first half, the score remained 33-12.

More Godby scoring commenced at the start of the second half when the kickoff was returned for a Cougar touchdown. With that, Wakulla was down by 28.

Two more touchdowns were scored by the end of the third quarter, putting the score at 53-12 going into the fourth.

With the clock continuously running due to a mercy rule, Wakulla's second string, including back up quarterback Bucky McGlamory got some playing time.

UP NEXT: BRADFORD

The 5-1 War Eagles will travel to Starke to take on the Bradford Tornadoes on Friday at 7:30 p.m. Bradford is 2-0 in their district and holds an overall record of 2-3.

Madison Harris becomes first ever panhandle champion

At the gun, she and two runners from Pace High School immediately took the lead and separated from the rest of the 165 runners in the field. At the two mile mark Harris was tucked in behind the Pace pair, but as she approached that point in the race, she shifted gears and began pulling away from the others. Her pursuers tried to hang on, but by the time she entered the football stadium for the final 200 meters, they were still out in the adjacent field.

Harris powered her way to the finish in the National Second Team Elite time of 19:04, 13 seconds ahead of the second place finisher and 29 seconds ahead of the 3rd place girl. In doing so, Harris became the first ever WHS runner to win an overall title at the Panhandle Championships.

Senior Margaret Wiedeman ran a tough, determined race to finish in 11th place, in a State Elite time of 20:55. Close on her heels were sister Lydia Wiedeman and freshman Haleigh Martin. Martin has been showing remarkable improvement every week and this week was no exception. She chased Lydia the whole race and finally came up on her shoulder in the last turn, approximately 100 meters from the finish.

Both runners are outstanding 800 meter runners and launched furious kicks to the finish, with Martin prevailing at the end by 1.4 seconds. They placed 20th and 21st respectively. The final scorer for the local team was Connie Lewis who came in in 56th place in 23:07. Senior Kayla Webbe, just rounding back into shape after some health problems that caused her to miss a month of training, ran extremely well, finishing in 60th place in 23:22.

Overall, the girls team had a great showing and ended up finishing in 4th place. This is the highest any WHS girls team has ever placed at the Championships. For the first time ever, we also had four girls (Harris, Wiedeman, Wiedeman & Martin) recognized for finishing in the top 30. Harris was also named to the "All Panhandle Team".

BOYS VARSITY RACE

In the boys race 28 teams and 245 runners toed the starting line and Albert Smythe and Aaron Smith once again led the WHS runners.

Smythe and Smith worked together through the early going and then Smythe began to pull away. He worked his way up through the field and fought valiantly through the final 200 meters to hold off three other runners who were trying to close on him. Smythe finished strong and just missed breaking the 16:00 minute barrier, finishing in 9th place in the State Elite time of 17:01. Smith also ran a strong race, finishing in 24th place, in a new seasonal best time of 17:37. Freshman Bryce Cole continued his string of excellent performances by finishing as the third WHS runner, in a time of 18:15 and in 42nd place. Juniors Lane Williams and J.P. Piotrowski ran together and then fought it out in the last 100 meters to finish as the final scorers for the local team. In the sprint, Williams just edged out Piotrowski, to finish in 46th and 47th respectively, with both finishing in 18:28. Junior Alan Pearson was right on their heels, finishing in 50th place, in 18:33. Smythe and Smith were both recognized individually for finishing in the top 30, with Smythe missing being named to the "All Panhandle Team" by just one place and one second. The WHS boys team finished in 6th place, which is the highest finish ever for one of our boys teams at the Panhandle Championships.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Albert Smythe

JV/OPEN RACE

WHS harriers, both past and present, were well represented in the Open/JV race, with former WHS runners Cora Atkinson (22:15) and Stanley Linton (16:31) winning the overall female and male titles respectively. Current runners also fared well in this race, with freshman James Story (20:23) finishing in 3rd place, Greysen Rudd (20:46) 4th, Riley Welch (21:060) 9th and Gil Damon (21:29) 10th, rounding out the top ten male finishers. Coach Katie Hathcock was the third woman overall, finishing in 23:32.

The teams will compete next at the huge, FSU Invitational which will be held at the Apalachee Regional Cross Country Park on Saturday, Oct. 12th. This meet will also serve as the pre-state meet again this year as it is the course the State Meet will be contested on in early Nov.

A weekly look at college football in the Sunshine State

FLORIDA STATE SEMINOLES

FSU's first shutout of a top 25 team since 1997

Florida States defense stops Maryland running back Brandon Ross.

By BOB FERRANTE

The showdown turned into a slaughter.

And while Jameis Winston and the offense deserve plenty of credit for putting up 63 points, just as important was the number Maryland had at the end of the day: 0.

Maryland was newly ranked at No. 25. A 4-0 team with an offense that had averaged 39 points per game. The Terrapins were supposed to push Florida State, to see how good the Seminoles are, a litmus test with Clemson ahead on Oct. 19.

Instead, Florida State pushed around Maryland. And it wasn't even close.

FSU's 63-point rout ties the largest margin of victory over a top-25 program in college football history. Shutouts are rare in football, especially over a top-25 program. Florida State now has its first shutout over a top-25 team since Georgia Tech in 1997.

"We played a couple of opponents that we should have shut out and we didn't get it done," FSU linebacker Terrance Smith said. "But to get the first goose egg feels good."

The Seminoles can enjoy this one and they can enjoy a bye week that focuses on Clemson and not questions after being ripped by Boston College a week ago. FSU gave up 34 points, still winning 48-34, but a performance like that leaves you open to questions.

Is this FSU defense as good as in previous years?

Was FSU really able to just plug in seven defensive starters and still keep on cruise control?

Is there something amiss with defensive coordinator Jeremy Pruitt's schemes? Or is there reason to panic or is this the normal growing pains of a defense that is still learning?

After a week of questions, FSU's defense answered the call.

Maryland couldn't run, managing just 33 yards on 25 carries. Terrapins quarterback C.J. Brown was knocked out of the game in the second quarter, and backup Caleb Rowe didn't manage to do much after Brown left the game. Star receiver Stefon Diggs was even held to just two catches.

"As good as we played on offense, we played better on defense," FSU coach Jimbo Fisher said. "(Maryland has) very explosive skill guys and I thought our guys covered well, we rushed well, we covered the quarterback. Defense played outstanding from start to finish."

Players said that the practice leading up to the Maryland game was crisp and focused. And the Seminoles delivered.

In the locker room before FSU took the field to play Maryland, defensive tackle Timmy Jernigan decided it was time for him to stand up and speak to the team.

"I really don't talk too much but my message was just telling the guys that we haven't played a full game yet, offense, defense and special teams," Jernigan said. "Expressing how much team means. There's not one guy out there. It takes all of us."

And it started with a defense that had been humbled by BC. FSU had given up 17 points early and then two touchdowns on long scoring drives in the second half.

FSU's defense responded, forcing Maryland to punt 11 times. The Terrapins had punted just 16 times in their first four games.

"We weren't very good; Florida State's a very good football team," Maryland coach Randy Edsall said. "If you can't run the ball that makes it tough. They made us one-dimensional."

That's what FSU has to do the rest of the way. Take away the run and force quarterbacks to beat the Seminoles in the air. FSU has one of the top defensive backfields in the nation and, of the teams left on the schedule, only Clemson, Miami and possibly Florida should really be a challenge in the air.

Clemson lit up FSU's defense early a year ago as Tajh Boyd led the Tigers to a 28-14 lead. Then FSU made its adjustments and took over in the second half.

Don't think that FSU's defensive players have forgotten what Clemson did last year. The Seminoles will spend two weeks focused on trying to slow down Boyd one more time.

If they can, the path to the ACC championship game is cleared. And who knows what else may be down that road, too.

FLORIDA GATORS

No Panache for 'Old Fashioned' Coach

GATOR BAIT / STEVE JOHNSON

#24 Matt Jones running free.

By MARTY COHEN

Florida head coach Will Muschamp is fond of saying, "I might be young, but I'm old fashioned," a nod to many things regarding his program, but most vividly pertaining to the Gators' offensive style.

Florida again displayed its physical might in its last outing, pushing around a young Kentucky defense in what evolved into a fairly stress-free 24-7 triumph Saturday night in Lexington. It was a typical Gator performance under Muschamp, a punishing defense combined with a relentless, clock-eating, ground-churning offense that plays keep away.

It was a night where once again the Gators held the ball for nearly twice as much time as the opponent (38:09 to Kentucky's 21:51), limited the Wildcats to just 47 snaps and completed their 27th consecutive victory in the series in rapid fashion – the game lasted a tidy 2:48. It was quintessential WillBall.

It was reminiscent of last season, in a positive way, as the Gators got back to the 2012 blueprint, a formula that produced an 11-2 mark. It wasn't necessarily pretty, and while many teams across the country attempt to run as many plays as possible, stressing not only the opposition defense but their own as well, the Gators take their sweet time in between snaps.

As a result, there were just 110 plays total in Saturday night's affair, 63 for Florida and 47 for Kentucky – a remarkably low number. By comparison, in a battle of unbeatens on the other coast, both teams in the Washington-Arizona contest (won by the resurgent Huskies 31-13) ran 86 plays. That's 172 plays, 62 more snaps than in the Florida- Kentucky match.

As a result, there were only 15 possessions in the game (not counting the Gators taking a knee right before halftime), seven for Florida and eight for Kentucky. It was strangely reminiscent of the Gators' win over South Carolina in 2006, the Jarvis Moss-blocked field goal victory that served as a catalyst to an eventual national championship.

In that bizarre 17-16 Florida win seven years ago, each team only had seven possessions, with more than half lasting longer than four minutes.

This time around it was another timecruncher for Florida, with five of the seven possessions lasting at least four minutes, another bleeding 3:55 off the clock and one lasting only 1:32, but ending with a touchdown. In fact, the Gators didn't have to punt in the game, the first time to record that feat since Muschamp's initial game at Florida, the season-opening 41-3 rout of Florida Atlantic in 2011.

While there remains a segment of Gator fans who will never embrace this style of triumph, well, they need to get over it or stay unhappy, because it's going to be more of the same the rest of the fall. It will look very much like 2012, a philosophy that was quite successful last season, one that frustrates some fans and opposing coaches.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

1. Alternate route	__ __ T __ __ __	Eat greedily	__ __ V __ __ __
2. Ledge	__ __ __ __ F	Seashore find	__ __ __ __ L
3. Necklace ornament	L __ __ __ __ __	Spaceship	R __ __ __ __ __
4. More domesticated	__ A __ __ __	Stopwatch	__ I __ __ __
5. Sofa	__ __ U __ __	Horse-drawn carriage	__ __ A __ __
6. Delilah, perhaps?	__ __ __ B __ __	Haggle	__ __ __ T __ __
7. Plenty	__ M __ __ __	Eve's downfall	__ P __ __ __
8. Arms and legs	__ __ __ __ S	Indeterminate state	__ __ __ __ O
9. Complete	__ __ O __ __	Humpback, e.g.	__ __ A __ __

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you find them? Check answers with those below.

Differences: 1. Cap is smaller. 2. Book is missing. 3. Pot is smaller. 4. Wording on box is different. 5. Collar is different. 6. Radio is missing.

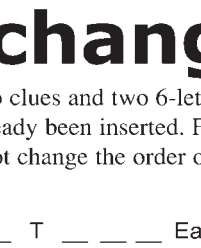
Junior Whirl by Hal Kaufman

CHECK ODDS! It is possible to insert the missing odd numbers from 3-19 in blanks of the diagram at right so that each three-number row across, down and diagonally will add to exactly 33.

Numbers 3, 5 and 7 remain in place. Just one number is to appear in each square.

Remember, sum of each threesome is to be 33.

Are you equal to this challenge? You have just two minutes to comply.



Top, across: 5,15,13; second row: 19,11,3; bottom: 9,7,17. Will do it.

ANA-ECDOTAL WORD SQUARE

ANA is defined as a collection of anecdotes, reminiscences, etc. It happens to appear both across and down in the word square above among three of the five words defined below. Let's see how quickly you can find them. Definitions:

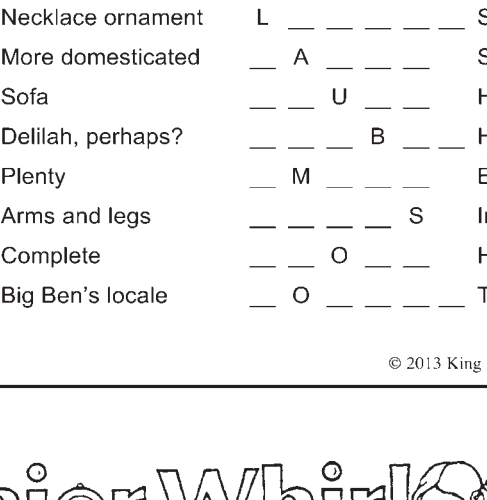
1. Speedway participant, for instance.
2. Informed.
3. Word with Panama, Suez, Erie, etc.
4. Remove from tape.
5. Renew a rental.

Remember, word square words read the same both across and down.

Time limit: 2 minutes.

No fair peeking below.

1. Racer. 2. Aware. 3. Canal. 4. Erase. 5. Relet.



IN SIGHT! Hey there, Rover, who's your friend? Complete the picture by connecting numbered dots in 1, 2, 3, order.

WEEKLY ROUNDUP – (Recap and analysis of the week in state government)

GAME ON FOR GAMBLING, WATER WAR, PURGE

By BRANDON LARRABEE
THE NEWS SERVICE OF FLORIDA

THE CAPITAL, TALLAHASSEE, October 4, 2013.....There was no shutdown in state government this week, even as federal agencies closed their doors because of a budget squabble between congressional Republicans and President Barack Obama.

In fact, most state agencies were expected to weather the ripple effects of the shutdown with relatively little trouble, as long as it doesn't drag on too much longer. "We are working closely with our agencies to monitor any potential state impact," a spokeswoman for Gov. Rick Scott wrote in an email.

But it was quiet enough in Tallahassee and other corners of state government that it could almost be mistaken for a shutdown. New laws took effect with relatively little fuss, and preparations were made for a second week of committee meetings ahead of the 2014 legislative session.

A gambling study was being edited to ends that are unclear. And there were so many battles over fresh water that it was easy to mistake the political scene for a post-apocalyptic Kevin Costner movie. Karen churned off the coast, a reminder that hurricane season is still in full swing.

For the time being, though, the troubles affecting Washington, D.C., remained far removed from Florida.

ROUND AND ROUND IT GOES

The opening bid on expanded gambling in Florida didn't initially seem as if it would go well for those who want to open resort casinos in Florida or those who just want more opportunity to play blackjack. A draft of an analysis by The Spectrum Gaming Group, obtained by the News Service of Florida, suggested that making a play at Las Vegas' status as the nation's premier gambling destination wouldn't boost the economy much.

"Overall, Spectrum believes that the expansion of casino gambling, whether on a small scale or very large scale, would have, at best, a moderately positive impact on the state economy," according to the draft report.

Lawmakers plan to rely heavily on the economic analysis by Spectrum to craft the state's gambling landscape during the 2014 legislative session.

But at least some lawmakers seemed to be seeking a different deal. They insisted they weren't trying to rig the game, just trying to get a firmer set of numbers. But on Tuesday, Spectrum executives asked for another 30 days to complete the study conducted with its partner Regional Economic Models Inc., or REMI. Senate President Don Gaetz, R-Niceville, said the Legislature asked for the revision because of questions raised by the Legislature's economist, Amy Baker.

"We must respectfully request an extension of the deadline in order to fully review the results of the REMI model, which require more detailed examination to ensure their accuracy, and that those results are presented in a manner that is clear and understandable to all readers," Spectrum Managing Director Michael Pollock wrote Tuesday in a letter to Gaetz and House Speaker Will Weatherford, R-Wesley Chapel.

A month ago, legislative staff asked Spectrum to revise a previous draft of the report because of concerns about assumptions built into the REMI analysis.

The analysis was based in part on an assumption that a compact with the Seminole Indian Tribe, set to expire in 2015 unless reauthorized by the governor and the Legislature, would be renewed. The part of the deal at issue gives the Seminoles the exclusive rights to operate card games like blackjack and baccarat at tribal casinos in exchange for about $233 million in annual payments to the state.

After this week's move to rework the numbers again, Gaetz insisted that the report was not rejected because of its content.

"The Legislature has not and will not request that any outcomes be changed," he wrote.

But on Friday, Senate Gaming Committee Chairman Garrett Richter, R-Naples, issued a memo to the committee members accompanied by a highly-marked up version of the report identifying areas "needing clarification and explanation." Spectrum analysts will appear at a committee meeting Monday.

Numerous tables --- along with conclusions --- based on the REMI model are highlighted, including one which said the state would lose $22 million a year under "the most robust" gambling scenario of 33 casinos and six destination resorts throughout the state.

"Please disregard economic and fiscal impact calculations and findings in this section," reads a note by committee staff director John Guthrie attached to many of the melon-colored problematic portions in the report.

FLORIDA ROLLS DICE IN WATER WAR

Meanwhile, the water wars continued with a new salvo against Georgia, as Florida filed a lawsuit Tuesday in the U.S. Supreme Court as part of a long-running battle with the Peach State over river withdrawals that Florida says have damaged Apalachicola Bay.

The only question seems to be whether it's too late to help the Franklin County seafood workers who were already struggling to survive.

Scott and Attorney General Pam Bondi followed through on an August announcement that Florida would seek injunctive relief so more water would flow to the bay, which collapsed last year in the face of a historic drought and dwindling releases of freshwater from Georgia.

The lawsuit is the latest skirmish in a 23-year dispute among Florida, Georgia and Alabama about the water in the Apalachicola-Chattahoochee-Flint River Basin.

According to the lawsuit filed Tuesday, Georgia is using more than 360 million gallons of water daily and expects that figure to nearly double to 705 million gallons daily by 2040.

"Peak withdrawals, associated with watering lawns, car washing, golf courses, and parks, come when inflow needs are most critical to Florida --- the dry summer months," the lawsuit said. "Conservation efforts in Georgia have been minimal, even though it is the most cost-effective and readily available way to meet Georgia,s growing demands."

But a spokesman for Georgia Gov. Nathan Deal said the state would defend its water rights.

"The only 'unmitigated consumption' going on around here is Florida,s waste of our tax dollars on a frivolous lawsuit," said Deal,s communications director, Brian Robinson.

The bay's historical productivity has come from its mix of saltwater and freshwater, but without enough freshwater coming from Georgia, the mixture is too salty for oysters and other seafood to thrive. Historically, the bay produced 90 percent of Florida's oysters and 10 percent of the nation's supply, but no more.

"The oyster houses aren't able to fill their orders," said Dan Tonsmeire, executive director of Apalachicola Riverkeeper. "The people ordering the oysters go somewhere else, so they lose their market."

There have been a variety of skirmishes about the water over the decades, but Scott's office said this lawsuit differs from others because "those cases addressed the management of the interstate waters by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, not depletions by the states. This case goes directly to the source of the harms suffered by Florida and Apalachicola Bay --- upstream consumption and storage of water by Georgia."

But while there was a lack of freshwater in Northwest Florida, there was a surplus of it in some parts of South Florida. So state Sen. Joe Negron, R-Stuart, asked Congress on Thursday to give control of Lake Okeechobee to Florida in an effort to cut back on harmful water releases into estuaries on both sides of the lake.

"The Army Corps of Engineers has been running this project for decades, they have failed, and they need to be replaced with those of us in Florida that we can vote for or against and people that have our best interest at heart," Negron said.

Negron asked Congress to wrest control of the of the lake from the Army Corps of Engineers as members of Congress repeatedly expressed bipartisan support for longstanding efforts to clean waterways east and west of the lake and to secure funding so more water can be directed to the south.

The Army Corps, which didn't have representatives at the meeting due to the federal government shutdown, tries to maintain the water level of the lake between 12.5 feet and 15.5 feet to lessen stress on the dike, which is basically a 30-foot-high earthen structure that surrounds the lake.

HIGH-STAKES PURGE STARTS AGAIN

Secretary of State Ken Detzner traveled Thursday to Panama City to pitch a renewed non-citizen voter purge process to skeptical elections supervisors.

A similar effort last year led to months of political controversy and legal fights. It all began when the state sent the names of nearly 200,000 potentially ineligible voters to elections supervisors, telling them that the people on the list may not be U.S. citizens and, if they weren,t, to scrub them from the voting rolls.

Detzner and Gov. Rick Scott said they were trying to make sure ineligible people didn't vote, but Democrats accused them of trying to suppress the minority vote --- and using a slipshod system to do it. Criticisms from the left escalated after analysis of the names showed that more than half of the flagged voters were minorities, who helped boost President Obama to victory in 2008 and in 2012.

Detzner admitted the state mishandled last year,s purge but made clear to more than a dozen Northwest Florida elections supervisors on Thursday that state elections officials have a new process of identifying potentially ineligible voters that shows they learned from last year,s mistakes. To underscore that message, the Department of State has dubbed the effort "Project Integrity."

"It's going to start very slowly. It's going to be deliberative," Detzner said. "We want to make sure that you're confident that the information we are giving you is the kind of information you demand from the Division of Elections."

The state will start checking eligibility only of new voter applicants, and will again match voting applications with driver,s license records that include information about legal status and an „alien registration number‰ for non-U.S. citizens, who are allowed to drive.

If the voter shows up as a potential non-citizen, the state will then use the U.S. Department of Homeland Security,s Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements, or SAVE, database, to check out his or her legal status. The records will then be manually checked by someone in the state Division of Elections before being sent to local supervisors, who are the only ones authorized to remove a voter from the rolls.

"This is not data dumping back and forth where we send lists to the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles and we send thousands of lists up to SAVE," Detzner assured the supervisors.

But Democrats accused Scott, who is seeking re-election, of another election-year ploy aimed at reducing the number of minority voters.

„It's an attempt to suppress voting because you can't win an election fair and square without doing it,‰ Florida Democratic Party Chairwoman Allison Tant told reporters on a conference call Thursday.

Each puzzle is divided into nine sections, and each section has nine blank squares. Fill in all 81 squares on the puzzle with numbers 1 to 9. You may not repeat any numbers in any one of the nine sections that you've already used elsewhere in that section. Also, you can use each number 1-9 only once in each horizontal line of nine squares, and in each vertical column of nine squares. The puzzle is completed when you correctly fill every square.

Keep Wakulla County Beautiful

Explore Oahu, the most popular Hawaiian island

By LINDA CARTER
Special to The News

Since the early 1900's greeters have welcomed visitors to Oahu with an "aloha," and placed a lei around their neck. Of Polynesian origin, lei are typically hundreds of pale purple orchids strung together like pearls. Most trips to Hawaii begin in Honolulu, similar in many ways to Miami Beach. Clearly a major metropolitan city, and yet surrounded by incredibly beautiful beaches A melting pot of different cultures, your choices of activities will be just as diverse. Whether on land, on the water, or in the air, discover something for everyone in this island paradise.

In Honolulu no matter the hour, someone is on the street. Your own time zone change may nudge you to nap upon arrival, but resist the urge, lest you find yourself awake at 2am.

History buffs will enjoy visiting the memorial at Pearl Harbor. Watch as the droplets of oil continue to emerge from the depths. Beneath the memorial lay the remains of the USS Arizona, sunk by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbour. Open from 7am to 5pm arrive early if you don't have reservations, as the wait often takes hours. Save time by ordering tickets in advance for only a $1.50 reservation fee. Check your bags, including purses, near the visitor center, as they are prohibited at Pearl Harbor.

For living history, discover The Polynesian Cultural Center. With seven villages devoted to different Polynesian cultures, and a special exhibit about Easter Island, that you can spend a whole day exploring. Tickets begin at $49.95 adults $39.95 children, and tours including transportation can be arranged.

Watch a traditional luau being performed, as it has been for generations. Rings of fire glow as the fire dancers perform, and grass skirts sway as stories are told through dance at the evening hula show. Sample Hawaiian specialties like poi (made from taro), poke (a raw salad that includes vegetables and marinated uncooked tuna), lomi salmon (a side dish of fresh tomato and salmon), and haupia (a coconut milk based dessert with a pudding like consistency) as you enjoy this Hawaiian tradition. Offered at The Polynesian Cultural Center as well as several hotels, prices range from $88 to $126 adults, $62.50 to $91.95 for children.

For natural history, climb Diamond Head, the crater of a long dormant volcano. The last entrance is at 4:40pm, and there are no vendors so bring lots of water. The trail to the top was built in 1908 as part of a coastal defense system, and the bunkers now hold antennas. Reward yourself for the climb with amazing views.

The 42-acre Honolulu Zoo located in Queen Kapi'olani Park is ideal for a break from the bustle of the city. It's within walking distance of many downtown hotels. Ogle tigers, hippos and komodo dragons all for only $14 admission.

Enjoy the water? Not to be missed is Waikiki beach. Watch as surfers attempt to catch a wave, splash in the surf or simply people-watch. Surfboards, paddleboards and catamarans can be rented here and lessons are available as well. Rent a chair and relax as the day unfolds.

Experience the undersea world. Don mask, fins & snorkel and explore the fish and coral at Hanauma Bay, a dormant crater filled with seawater. For more undersea viewing climb aboard a tour boat and motor to Molikini Crater, a world class snorkel and dive destination.

For family fun visit Sea Life Park. For 29.99 adults, 19.99 juniors take in dolphin show, think "Jaws" at the shark tank, observe the penguins and watch sea turtles feeding. Better still swim with the dolphins, sea lions or sharks in one of the encounter programs from $99.99 more.

On the North Shore, where surfing competitions are held, waves can be enormous depending on the weather. While there explore the Botanical Gardens and falls at Waimea Bay with lily pads as big as tabletops.

For something completely different take to the air. Try hang gliding over Oahu. This bird's eye view of the coastline is both stunning & exhilarating. Learn the basics of ultra-light flying, or just let the pilot do all the work at Ultralight Air from $165, photos extra. Leave the flying to Blue Hawaiian Helicopters from $205, on a circle island tour of Oahu.
