Facing breast cancer

Alicia Crum, a WHS teacher, recently underwent double mastectomy

By ERIN HILL
Staff Writer

During summer break, Wakulla High School Teacher Alicia Crum was diagnosed with breast cancer.

In mid-July, while changing her clothes, the 54-year-old noticed two lumps in her left breast. They were slightly oval-shaped, and a little bigger than a pea. She waited a week or two before going to the doctor.

"I knew they were really new," Crum says. "I go every year for a mammogram."

Crum had her last regular mammogram in December 2017, and everything came back clear.

When she went to the doctor after noticing the lumps, the doctor confirmed there was definitely something there.

Crum says she was sent to to have an ultrasound and mammogram right away.

when she received a call from her doctor saying the results were highly suspicious, and she needed a biopsy.

pretty sure something was going on, but I still wasn't alarmed," Crum says.

Crum says the biopsy was done in Dr.

Shelby Blank's office. She was told the results would be back within a week.

The first week in August, Crum had travelled to Dallas for a Mary Kay Cosmetics seminar. She's been a Mary Kay ambassador for three years.

"It's kind of one of those moments where you remember where you are," Crum said.

She was on the bus, on her way to the conference center from the hotel.

Another doctor called her because Blank was on vacation.

"When I got off the phone that day, all the ladies in my unit surrounded me and prayed with me," Crum said.

She was diagnosed with invasive duct carcinoma, which is the most common form of breast cancer. It starts in the milk ducts and spreads out into the other breast tissue.

Student struck by vehicle at bus stop

17-year-old was hit while boarding a school bus, woman in car was also hit, both taken to TMH for treatment

Staff Report

A 17-year-old student was hit by a pickup truck at a bus stop last week at Myrick Road off Woodville Highway on Wednesday, Sept. 26 around 6:15 a.m.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, a school bus was stopped there with its lights on facing northbound on Woodville Highway. A Buick driven by Sabrina Lynn Fountain was parked on Myrick Road waiting for the bus to load.

According to FHP, a 2011 Dodge Ram driven by Kenneth Anthony Nichols, headed northbound on Woodville Highway, veered off the road and onto the grassy shoulder and ditch and then became airborne – it struck the Buick and the 17-year-old student.

Superintendent of Schools Bobby Pearce said that the 17 year old pushed a younger sibling onto the bus to keep the younger child from being hit by the truck.

Both the driver of the Buick and the 17-year-old student were taken to Tallahassee Memorial for treatment.

"We were very fortunate," said district Transportation Director Pat Jones. "It could have been much worse."

BOCC allows swimming at 5 boat ramps

Commissioners include language in the ordinance designed to keep swimmers safe and prohibit trespassing

By ERIN HILL
Staff Writer

After a public hearing on Monday, county commissioners voted to allow swimming at five county boat ramps.

The commissioners voted 5-0 to adopt an ordinance that allows swimming at the Lake Ellen Boat Ramp, Wakulla River Upper Bridge boat ramp, Wakulla River Lower Bridge boat ramp, Newport Park boat ramp and Shell Point non-motorized hand launch boat ramp.

Swimming will be prohibited within 300 feet of those boat ramps while boats are launching or returning the ramp. The county will also install "idle speed no wake" signs in designated areas. A maximum speed of 25 mph for Lake Ellen was also established for non-residents of the lake.

Bonnie Basham was one of the citizens who spoke during the public hearing. She said as a boater, she is very concerned about boaters and swimmers being in the same area, even at

St. Marks Lighthouse

After renovations, the keeper's quarters re-open for tours

By ERIN HILL
Staff Writer

The St. Marks Lighthouse keeper's quarters opened to the public on Saturday for regularly scheduled tours for the first time in 20 years.

Hundreds of people came out to witness the grand reveal of the lighthouse, which is located in the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge.

Visitors were allowed to tour the lighthouse in 30-minute slots from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

It was a family-friendly event. The tours were appropriate for all ages. At least three of the 30-minute tour sessions were completely sold out. There were 15 spots available for each tour so guests could comfortably move around.

While there were many locals there excited to see the recent renovations, tourists from as far away as Massachusetts, the Netherlands and Australia were also there to get a glimpse at the newly remodeled keeper's quarters.

Guests got a chance to see what was once used as a kitchen, the lighthouse keeper's and assistant lighthouse keeper's bedrooms, and the keeper's office.

They also got a glimpse of the inside of the lighthouse tower, although climbing is prohibited due to liability issues.

The tower is about 85 feet high, with a as far as 1842 were exhibited.

Around the keeper's quarters pictures, drawings and paintings of and paintings of the lighthouse throughout the centuries are displayed, as well as photographs of the keepers and their families.

There is also a canvas with a list of all the keeper's posted on one of the walls.

Nearly two dozen volunteers assisted with the tours. Two were dressed as keepers.

at a slow speed.

“It’s a recipe for disaster as far as I’m concerned,” Basham said.

Commissioner Randy Merritt pointed out that law enforcement can make swimmers get out of the water if they violate the ordinance by swimming in the boat ramp while a boat is approaching or launching.

Commissioner Chuck Hess asked if the ordinance applies to the people who own property within 300 feet of the boat ramps.

County Attorney Heather Encinosa said it only applies to those accessing the water from the county’s boat ramp.

M.B. Adelson, an attorney representing Lake Ellen property owner Steve Fults, who has been in an ongoing dispute with the county over the boat ramp, said Fults is concerned that people won’t exit the water on the boat ramp, but will instead come in his yard.

Adelson suggested that the board amend the ordinance to clarify that people who don’t live there have to go in and out of the water via the boat ramp.

Adelson also said he had concerns about law enforcement being able to determine homeowners from members of the public.

Adelson suggested that the commissioners revise some of the language in the ordinance regarding clarity and enforceability.

Thomas said he has no problems putting up signs reminding swimmers not to trespass.

Vote Yes on Amendment 10

By SHERIFF JARED MILLER

in our Constitution and also creating the Office of Domestic Security and Counterterrorism within the Florida Department of Law Enforcement.

It's hard to believe, but our current Constitution only states that we may establish a Department of Veterans Affairs.

Amendment 10 will make it permanent to ensure the political winds never diminish the care for our veterans by placing this office under a state agency. Veterans have fought to defend our country, and we should always make sure they are cared for after their service by having a standalone department to fulfill their needs.

Another key aspect that sheriffs are focused on is protecting your right to vote.

Today, we elect five constitutional officers: a sheriff, tax collector, property appraiser, clerk of court and supervisor of elections. In some charter counties these offices have been either abolished or turned into appointed positions.

Wakulla County is one of 20 counties that has a charter form of government, and while there has not been an effort to abolish any of these five critically important offices, we should protect our right to vote for these officers by placing this in our Constitution to ensure efforts never occur to take your right to vote away.

It is important to note that Amendment 10 does not mandate how charter counties must act or govern themselves. It simply protects our ability to determine who will serve as the officials that have the most direct effect on our lives.

The Wakulla County Sheriff's Office is not my office, it's your office. The Wakulla County Tax Collector or the Property Appraiser are your direct link to those critically important services because you elected them – they were not appointed by some bureaucrat.

Elections make people more accountable, and we should never have our right to vote removed by our county charter.

I urge all Wakulla County voters to learn more about Amendment 10 at www.amendment10.org.

After learning more about this great amendment please vote "yes" for Amendment 10 and protect your right to vote.

Jared Miller is sheriff of Wakulla County.

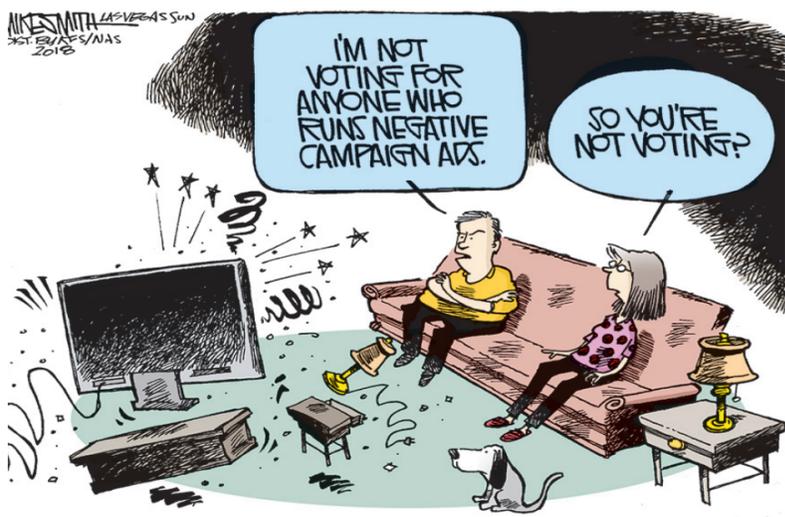

This November the citizens of Wakulla County will have many choices when they go to vote.

There will also be a dozen different amendments that they will need to research and determine if they want to place them in our State Constitution. Amendment 10 is one of the most important, and I would like to briefly explain why we should all support it.

Amendment 10, also known as the Protection Amendment, deals with the structure of state and local government. It addresses four components that all need to be placed in our Constitution.

Amendment 10 will not raise your taxes or grow the size of government. Rather, it sets priorities so certain key functions will never be removed.

This includes permanently placing the Department of Veterans Affairs

READERS WRITE:

Broadband is needed for Wakulla to thrive

Editor, The News:

The Federal Communications Commission definition of downstream broadband is 25Mbps with a minimum upload speed of 3Mbps.

Currently, in the Fallwood neighborhood, Centurylink is the only landline carrier and offers a max of 4.6Mbps/.4Mbps and they tell us that's all the infrastructure can support.

Comcast offers service in all the areas surrounding us, but claims the node is maxed out and will not upgrade to include our little subdivision despite dozens of requests.

Satellite is an option, but it is mainly for casual use and can be very expensive and throttles bandwidth as usage increases.

In the past our commissioners told us this is a state issue and they had no control. During this election cycle, it would be nice to see a candidate address the broadband needs of the entire county. The world is changing and urban areas are not the only ones that need broadband to run businesses and educate children.

When utilities are granted monopolies over entire communities or counties, there should be an obligation to service the entire area and the county commission should advocate for all of its constituents.

For Wakulla County to continue to thrive, there needs to be an initiative to raise the technology level to 21st Century standards.

It's National Newspaper Week

Editor, The News:

Dear Bill,

As the country prepares to recognize community newspapers during the 78th National Newspaper Week observance on Oct. 7-13, I wanted to reach out and thank The Wakulla News for the essential role it has played in the lives of people of Wakulla County since 1897.

A community newspaper matters because the community matters. The newspaper's role is essential in providing the most important and relevant information to the residents of Wakulla County. Your publication captures the spirit of the community and lets people know what is happening in their neighborhood.

Please share this note of appreciation with your staff in recognition of their service. I am a believer in this year's theme that "Journalism matters. NOW more than ever."

Senior Center relies on financial reserves

By R.H. CARTER

The senior citizens of Wakulla County who choose to spend much of their day in the Wakulla Senior Center are served Monday through Friday excluding holidays. All that qualify for transportation are served as needed.

The financial stability of our Senior Citizens Center relies on the reserves that we have. Our average monthly cost exceeds $125,000. The reimbursement from state and federal grants are received after the end of each month's expenditures. If we had no reserves, we would be absolutely broke at the end of each month.

We have sufficient reserves to fund our monthly operations awaiting reimbursement at later dates. This process works well when reimbursement comes in the month following expenditures for salaries and non-salary expenses such as food, vehicle fuel, insurance and several other expenses.

We have generally experienced financial difficulties at the end of the calendar year. I don't know why but we often receive reimbursement two or three months after our expenditures. We always experience financial difficulties in January through March of each year. The only explanation we are given is the end of year causes this. When we receive December reimbursement in March, how do we fund expenses for January and February? Those months aren't reimbursed until after December is reimbursed. Without reserves we would be closed in January and February.

Recently we experienced the same problem in June through August but with fewer projects. Again, end of fiscal year is the explanation given.

You would experience the same problems on a personal level if your salary was paid two months later than scheduled.

As you can see we work hard to raise additional funding even when we have money in the bank. We continually try to replenish reserves. Without reserves we would have to close several months each year.

The Board of Directors of the Wakulla Senior Citizens understands this dilemma and continues to support our staff as we work to overcome these obstacles. Every major expenditure for equipment repair or replacement of air conditioning, heat, kitchen equipment and all utilities are expected to be paid from our project allocations when we are invoiced by our vendors, no matter how long it takes to receive reimbursement from our projects.

As you can see, it's a real challenge to maintain uninterrupted services to our senior citizens with all these irregular reimbursement schedules. Our finance and service staff do a wonderful job keeping daily senior services on regular schedules.

I commend them regularly on how they provide services with smiles and positive interaction.

The senior citizens are the benefactors of staff services supported by our Board of Directors.

R.H. Carter is the executive director of the Wakulla Senior Citizens Center.

In one of the bedrooms, a woman's outfit from the 1930s hangs in the closet.

Clineman said two families always lived in the lighthouse – the keeper's and the assistant keeper's. She said each family had seven to 10 children. She said the adults used to cover the floor of the tower with blankets, and put all the children in there to sleep.

Clineman said a teacher would be brought in to live at the lighthouse to teach the children. There was no road, and the families lived too far away from town.

About $750,000 has been spent to renovate the lighthouse. Clineman said the renovations did not include fixing the light. She said another $42,000 is needed to replace the light and lens.

The lighthouse has been in its current location since 1842.

The first St. Marks lighthouse was constructed in 1828 but was rejected by the Collector of Customs for St. Marks because of its hollow walls. A solid replacement tower was constructed two years later.

By 1842, erosion threatened the lighthouse, so the third and final structure was erected farther inland. It is the second oldest Florida lighthouse still standing.

During the Civil War it was bombarded by Union gunboats. Confederates removed the lens to keep the Union from using the light – and the old lens was reportedly cracked during that time. The lighthouse has been damaged over time by a number of hurricanes.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service took over the lighthouse in 2013 from the U.S. Coast Guard.

The keeper's quarters will continue to be open the first Friday and Saturday of each month from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tickets can be purchased the day of for $2.

Dreading another candle on your birthday cake?

By SHERYL H. BOLDT

“Happy birthday, Ms. Rose.” I called out to one of the ladies I cared for when I was a private caregiver.

I responded quickly (maybe too quickly) with my positive spin. “But, Rose, aren’t you glad to have lived this long?”

At the time, I couldn’t empathize with Rose’s sentiments. I was a spring chicken in my 40s. Now, years later, I understand better where she was coming from.

My mirror, in its not so subtle way, reveals another birthday is fast approaching. I’m sure it means well every time it nags me about applying increasing amounts of anti-wrinkle creams and making another appointment to cover my graying roots.

If I allowed myself, I could easily feel less excited about another birthday.

Not only because of the physical aspects, but also because of the dreams I fear may no longer be possible.

Do you ever feel this way?

Remember when you were a child? How excited you felt about every birthday? You couldn’t wait to celebrate your special day with family and friends.

What if we returned to that same celebratory attitude – no matter how many candles we have on our birthday cake?

“Yeah, sure, Sheryl,” you say. “Wait until you’re looking at 90 candles.”

But what would your friend who’s dying of cancer say about another birthday? I’m sure he or she would gladly celebrate getting older and older – and older.

I’m not trying to force a Pollyanna attitude on you. (Believe me, I’m also writing this column for myself.)

Maybe Psalm 25:1 (AMPC) can help us refocus: “Unto You, O Lord, do I bring my life.”

When we pause to remember Who we’re living for – Who gives us our very life – we’re able to look at ourselves and every day God gives us differently.

When I remember to bring my life to the Lord, I live that day differently. Each time I pray for His direction on how to use the time He gives me, I’m able to celebrate that day.

So rather than mourning lost youthfulness, let’s rejoice in each day as we look forward to what God has planned for us.

If you think about it, no matter how old we are, since we’re going to live forever in eternity, we’re actually quite young.

We’re spring chickens just beginning our lives.

OUT TO PASTOR

If this is autumn, what was summer?

By JAMES L. SNYDER

I must confess that in the Parsonage there are times of confusion. It has nothing to do with age; it has everything to do with the human brain that is undernourished.

The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage can say one thing and I can say something completely different. There are those rare occasions when we are on the same page, the same sentence and almost the same words. Those occasions do not come as often as I would like.

The good news is, we are all on the same book, which makes the difference.

The other day, for example, I was in a panic mode. I was trying to get stuff done and was not making progress. Finally, the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage said, “What are you in such a fuss about?”

“Well,” I said rather exhaustively, “it’s Friday and I’m trying to get my work done.”

My wife just stood there looking at me with one of those “looks” she is most famous for. Then, placing both hands on her hips, she said, “Silly boy, don’t you know it’s Thursday?”

It is quite disconcerting when you get something wrong. You think you are doing the right thing, but it turns out you are not. I think it is one day and it turns out to be another day instead. Sometimes one day looks exactly like the other.

As we were eating breakfast the other day, my wife stopped and said, “Do you know this is the first day of autumn?”

I had to stop and think about that for a while. That means summer is over and fall is in the air.

“If it’s autumn,” I said quite seriously, “why is it still so hot outside?” The last three weeks the temperature has been in the 90s and the heat index was over 100. That is really hot.

Looking at her, I said, “It sure doesn’t feel like autumn does it?” She agreed with me, which was quite an accomplishment on my side of the table.

A song says, “And the beat goes on.” I would like to change that a little bit and sing a song, “And the heat goes on.”

I did not realize how serious the heat was.

I was going Wednesday morning to a local elementary school to participate in the “Pray around the Pole.” It was the first thing in the morning so I decided not to have breakfast before I went, but rather go to my favorite restaurant for breakfast after the event.

As I was walking to the pole, I noticed it was rather hot outside. Oh well, I thought to myself, I am not going to be here long so I can just endure it.

About eight of the teachers had gathered around the pole along with a resource officer. We gathered in a circle, held hands and began to pray. Many of them prayed and my job was to close the session in prayer.

As they began praying, I felt a little odd. Now my wife will tell you that it is not just a feeling – I am odd. I felt the sweat roll off my face and my legs were wobbling, more than usual. I really did not feel good at the time.

Then, it came time to close the session in prayer. I cannot remember what I prayed because every word that came out of my mouth felt weird and odd. I was getting dizzy and I was thinking to myself, “Just don’t fall down.” I knew if I fell down, somebody would call the ambulance and rush me off to the hospital – the last place I wanted to be.

When we were done praying one of the teachers looked at me and said, “Are you all right? Your face looks flushed.”

The more I stood there the wobblier my legs got. Finally one of the teachers said, “Let’s take him inside and get him some water.” In the meantime, one called my wife to come and get me.

I do not remember going into the school at the time. Everything was quite dizzy for me. Then the nurse came, checked me out and made sure I was OK.

As it was, I was having a heat stroke. I never had such a thing before in my life. I think I heard of them, but I did not know what they were.

As I was collecting myself a little bit, my wife and granddaughter arrived to take me home. They would not let me drive my own vehicle. Don’t tell anybody, but I sure was glad. I am not sure I could have driven that vehicle out of the parking lot.

It took several days to recover, but during recovery, I could not help but think of an incident with Jesus in the midst of the storm. “And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm” (Mark 4:39).

You cannot always select the “storm” in your life, but you can always trust Jesus to get you through it.

RMS students earn perfect score on FSA

James Thaxton

By BILL TAYLOR
Special to The News

Riversprings Middle School would like to take a moment to laud the accomplishments of some of our most outstanding scholars in the 2017-18 school year. Each of the following students, through hard work and singular focus, were able to achieve one of the most difficult distinctions in education – a perfect score on the state administered FSA exam. Current ninth graders Noah Cannon and Stephen Hartwein scored perfectly on the eighth grade NGSSS Science test; Ja'Shawn Thomas, Taylor Thorne, and Genna Dietrich on the FSA ELA tests in seventh, sixth, and fifth grades respectively; Joy Li on the sixth grade FSA Mathematics test; and James Thaxton on the seventh grade civics EOC. In addition to having their efforts celebrated by their teachers and peers, each student has been awarded a certificate noting their mastery from the State of Florida.

Joy Li, Taylor Thorne, Ja'Shawn Thomas hold up their certificates of achievement for making a perfect score on the FSA.

Law Enforcement and Courts reports

Sheriff's Report

Activity reported by the Wakulla County Sheriff's Office for the week of Sept. 21 to Sept. 27.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 21

• Dorene Moore, reported she allowed her daughter, Tabitha Bildeau, to use her vehicle for transportation until her other vehicle was fixed. Moore advised her daughter additionally allowed Perry Simmons to use the vehicle as well. However several days passed and the vehicle was not returned nor has Simmons returned home. The vehicle was entered into the FCIC/NCIC as stolen and this case has been forwarded to detectives for further investigation.

• Dawn Richards reported she heard a lot of noise in the rear of the Dollar General store in Medart. Richards advised she discovered several juveniles playing with hula hoops in the store. Richards also noticed several items were knocked off the shelf, including wooden decorations and pillows. It was also observed one of the wooden decorations valued at $5 was also broken on the floor. Richards did not wish to pursue this incident with criminal charges; however, she did request trespass warnings be issued on all juveniles involved in this incident. This case was forwarded to the School Resource Officer unit who identified and trespassed the juveniles involved from the location in question.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 22

• Charles Beach reported his shed had been burglarized and tools were missing. Several welders were taken along with other welding equipment which had an approximate value of $2,250. Beach was able to identify a possible suspect in the burglary to deputies on scene. This case has been forwarded to detectives for further investigation.

• Deputy Anthony Paul responded to a house in Wakulla Gardens in reference to a subject needing to retrieve property from his former residence. The subject and Deputy Paul were granted access inside of the home by the resident Kimberly Malcom. As the male subject was collecting items, Deputy Paul observed suspicious activity and began to question Malcolm and another female Harley Radabaugh. During the investigation Deputy Paul located meth as well as several items of paraphernalia. Deputy Paul placed both Malcolm and Radabaugh under arrest and continued his investigation. Prior to being placed in a patrol vehicle, Radabaugh attempted to flee on foot down the road while handcuffed. Radabaugh was located a short time later and placed in the rear of a patrol vehicle.

Malcom and Radabaugh were arrested and charged with possession of methamphetamine and possession of drug paraphernalia. Additionally Radabaugh was charged with resisting arrest without violence.

• Deputy Patrick Fleming responded to Dux Liquors after a report of a fight in the parking lot. Upon arrival Dep. Fleming began an investigation and found out that Robert Kemp, Joshua Miller, James Carter and Robert Savage had been the subjects fighting. The fight had started as a result of Savage being removed from the business for being extremely intoxicated and belligerent to other patrons. Everyone stated the fight was mutual and did not wish to pursue charges. Deputy Fleming was unable to make contact with Savage due to him leaving prior to arrival. Case closed.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 23

• Deputies responded to an address in St. Marks after a report of a possible stolen trailer. Prior to deputies arrival, the complainant Gary Carden had the trailer in question hooked to his vehicle and was at Coast Charter School. Carden stated he reported the trailer stolen out of Leon County on Sept. 16. Carden said the trailer was at the residence of Jonathan Vailancourt who had his truck parked sideways in an attempt to hide it. Carden stated he was missing a winch from the trailer when he got into a verbal argument with Vailancourt. Carden stated he left the residence and notified the Wakulla sheriff's office. Vailancourt was spotted but before a secondary unit could arrive on scene, he fled on foot. A search of the area was conducted, but was unsuccessful in locating Vailancourt. Carden signed an affidavit for prosecution wishing to pursue charges against Vailancourt for the theft of his winch.

• Deputies responded to the area of Tafflinger Road for a reported traffic crash. Upon arrival a Seiman's work van was located in the roadside ditch and appeared to be stuck. The driver and sole occupant, Steven Armstrong, was identified and was located in the driver seat with the vehicle running. Witnesses indicated the driver simply failed to navigate the turn and went off the road. Witnesses also indicated the driver never exited the vehicle. After contacting the driver it was evident the driver was intoxicated. He was taken into custody, subsequent to search of the vehicle and his person less than 20 grams of marijuana was located on his person and several marijuana smoking pipes were located inside the vehicle.

MONDAY, SEPT. 24

• James Bailey reported someone took his Primos game camera from a tree which was located on his property. The game camera was valued at $130. Bailey advised the game camera was placed on the tree on Sept. 10, and he noticed the game camera missing on Sept. 24. This case has been sent to detectives for further investigation.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 26

• A traffic stop was conducted on a vehicle near Whiddon Lake Road for failing to maintain a single lane by Deputy Kyle Hanks. Deputy Hanks made contact with the driver of the vehicle and identified him as David Sparks. As Deputy Hanks was speaking with Sparks another deputy arrived on scene to assist with the stop. As the deputies were speaking with Sparks, he began to put his vehicle in drive to flee the scene. Deputy Hanks attempted to stop Sparks but was unsuccessful and Sparks fled the scene with Deputy Hanks being dragged alongside the suspect's vehicle. After approximately 400 feet Deputy Hanks was able to free himself from Spark's truck and came to rest in the roadway. A vehicle pursuit was initiated, but Sparks eluded deputies at that time.

Deputy Hanks was treated for injuries and is expected to make a full recovery.

Deputies began a county-wide search for Sparks and eventually located him several hours later. Sparks was arrested and transported to the Wakulla County Jail without further incident. Sparks is currently being charged with reckless driving, felony fleeing and eluding, aggravated battery on a law enforcement officer, and destroying evidence.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 27

• Deputy Fleming responded to a female driving a golf cart down Crawfordville Highway. Deputy Fleming observed a white female sitting in the drive thru lane at McDonalds on Crawfordville Highway. Upon making contact with the driver, Lucia Rogers, Deputy Fleming learned Rogers did not possess a valid Florida driver's license. A check with Wakulla County Dispatch confirmed Rogers as a habitual offender. Rogers was arrested for Driving While License Suspended or Revoked and transported to the Wakulla County Jail.

Miranda Goodman, Heather Goodman, Tina Blackmon, Emily Jones, and Desiree Gorman enjoy a ladies' night out together to benefit Operation Santa.

Four generations of women come to help the Operation Santa cause: great-grandma Margie Smith, nana Sandy Waters, mom Beth Donaway and 10-year-old Sadie Donaway.

Operation Santa hosts Bingo

LINDA ANN McDONALD

The Wakulla Senior Center hosted the fund-raising kickoff event for Operation Santa with a standing room-only Bingo game on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Operation Santa is a fundraising committee which provides wish lists to people who need assistance with providing Christmas gifts to their families. Wish lists are used to give children the opportunity to receive something for Christmas they specifically choose. Children can express what they would like for Christmas and if the wish is obtainable, Operation Santa will fulfill that wish.

Operation Santa Director Rosanna Brown said, "I chose a Bingo game because I have seen in the past the immense turnout and the huge amount of proceeds a bingo game can generate. I am glad for the turnout and I hope every child receives their wish and enjoys the holiday season."

Independent vendors present at the event and contributed gift bags as Bingo prizes in an effort to assist in generating proceeds for the charity.

Christina Deibler, a vendor at the event, said, "I am glad to be here and be a part of such a meaningful cause. No child should go without Christmas."

Theresa Ballard took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy an evening of fun and help the cause. She said, "It is a win-win situation when you are having fun and helping children enjoy Christmas at the same time."

Public library cards issued at open house

By LAURA LAWHON
Special to The News

This year, Wakulla Middle School partnered with Wakulla County Library during Open House to help more student access books across the county.

This effort was made possible when Laura Lawhon, the school's media specialist reached out to Rebecca, from the public library, who agreed to issue family library cards as an effort to reach more people in the community.

During Open House, more than 75 families inquired about services that the public library offers and 25 families were issued library cards.

Students who have public library cards now have access to a large online collection that the school does not currently offer as well as online audio books.

"I hope to keep this an annual tradition and to further build upon a partnership that will ensure more books in the hands of our students and more community involvement across the libraries," Lawhon said.

Todd W. Smith
Jolynn Michelle Willis
Joseph H. Walker III

Jerri Yvonne Pritchard

Jerri Yvonne Pritchard, 49, of Crawfordville, passed away Sept. 25, 2018 in Tallahassee.

Survivors include her parents, Gerald "Jerry" and Janet Schweinsberg; siblings, Harold Schweinsberg, April Posey, Lee Fender and Cody Schweinsberg.

A private family service is planned.

David Conn of Bevis Funeral Home, Harvey Young Chapel in Crawfordville is assisting the family with arrangements (850-926-3333 or www.bevisfh.com).

Virgil L. 'Lee' Shelby III

Virgil L. Shelby III "Lee" passed away on Sept. 17, 2018 in Tallahassee after a brief illness.

Lee was a retired State of Tennessee employee.

He was predeceased by his parents, Virgil Shelby and Irene G. Shelby.

He is survived by a maternal aunt, several cousins, and special friends and neighbors.

Per his wishes, there will be no service. Memorials can be made to the 501(c)3 group Florida Brittany Rescue, 7725 261st Street East, Myakka City FL 34251-5107 or www.floridabrittanyrescue.org.

David Conn of Bevis Funeral Home, Harvey Young Chapel in Crawfordville assisted with arrangements (850-926-3333 or www.bevisfh.com).

Todd W. Smith

A beloved son, brother and good friend to many, Todd W. Smith passed away on Sept. 15, 2018.

He was a longtime resident of Wakulla County. He was a self-employed garage door technician, a gifted mechanic and a skilled carpenter.

Before illness robbed him of his physical strength and vitality, Todd loved to fish for grouper and ride his Harley. He spent many happy days on the waters and especially loved St. Marks. Despite the physical challenges, Todd maintained an inner spirit full of love, optimism, humility and humor.

He is dearly missed.

A memorial ride and a celebration of Todd's life will be held at a date yet to be determined.

Gone too soon – but forever in our hearts.

Jolynn Michelle Willis

Jolynn Michelle Willis, 48, passed away Friday, Sept. 14, 2018, at her home in Crawfordville after battling a long illness.

She was born June 30, 1970 at Moody Air Force Base in Valdosta, Ga. to the late Pauline (Revell) Peltier and Michael Willis of Sopchoppy. She was a graduate of Wakulla High School and longtime resident of Wakulla County. Jolynn was a sentimental, kindhearted soul and lived life by sharing her love of cooking with friends and family. She had a true gift for numbers and an uncanny ability to remember special dates that would otherwise go unnoticed.

She is survived by her devoted friend and sweetheart, Brent Connell; her son, Johnathan (Cora) Dailey of Crawfordville; her son, Christopher Dailey of Pensacola, her son, Cody (Kim) Connell of Woodville; her brother, Shannon (Ashley) Willis of Sopchoppy; and her sister, Amy Willis of Stonington, Conn. She is also survived by six grandchildren, Hunter, Peyton, Freya, Fisher, Colton, and Chasen; seven nieces and nephews, Madison, Avery, Veronica, Sydney, Noah, Shannon Jr, and Ryan; and many loyal aunts and uncles.

Services were at Mount Beasor Baptist Church, 29 Winthrop Ave. in Sopchoppy on Wednesday, Sept. 19, 2018, with visitation and viewing at 10 a.m., and church services at 11 a.m. Graveside burial immediately followed at Otto Revell Cemetery, 839 Sopchoppy Hwy., in Sopchoppy.

Arrangements were under the care and direction of Forbes Funeral and Cremation Services, 2758 Coastal Hwy., Crawfordville FL 32327 or (850) 926-4407. Please sign the on-line guestbook at www.forbesfuneralandcremationservices.com.

Joseph H. Walker III

Joseph H. Walker III was born on Dec. 24, 1953 and died on Sept. 12, 2018.

He was predeceased by his parents, Joseph H. Walker, Jr. and Betty Culbreth Walker; and a brother, Robert (Bob) Walker.

Joe is survived by his brother, Alex Gregory; and a niece, Cindy Hudson; and his great friend, Keith Isaacs.

Joe lived in various places where work took him but he never forgot his friends and family in Wakulla County, which he called home.

A celebration of Joe's life will be held on Sunday, Oct. 7, 2018 beginning at 2 p.m. at Ouzts Too Oyster Bar and Grill, on Highway 98 East in Newport. Joe loved this place and the friends he made there.

Donations in Joe's name may be made to the organization of your choice.

BUCKHORN NEWS

Honor God's name

By ETHEL SKIPPER

We learn about the character of God and the way we represent Him to a watching world.

How we use God's name matters, ensuring only things worthy of Him are ascribed to Him.

Our language and our actions should speak to the standard He sets with His own holiness and to which He is patiently and lovingly calling us.

"Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord they God in vain, for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain" (Exodus 20:7). God prohibited taking his name in vain – that is, misusing it. He was greatly concerned that His name would be associated with things that are inconsistent with who He really is.

God knows we are only capable of pleasing Him when our hearts are motivated by the Holy Spirit to pursue the active righteousness that sets His people apart.

Active everyday righteousness begins in the relationship, not in the rules.

Ouzts Too hosts September luncheon

By PETRA SHUFF
Of the Chamber

Everyone knows about our September networking luncheon at Ouzts Too and Ms. Dorothy's hospitality is no secret. She loves giving us a chance to sample some of the items on the restaurant's menu, including her homemade salsa appetizer.

The buffet included smoked mullet, hush puppies, pulled pork sandwiches, bacon wrapped shrimp skewers, barbecue ribs, rice and shrimp, fried fish and shrimp, "peel'em shrimp," baked beans, grits, and gumbo.

Needless to say, there was too much food for our plates but we tried our best to get a sampling of each.

Thanks to Ms. Dorothy for being such a wonderful host!

Our new members for September were announced as Mineral Springs Seafood and Goo-Goo Car Wash.

Chuck Cascio with Eden Springs introduced the new Nurse Practitioner at the facility, Sarah Kinnel.

Samantha Morse brought her guest Helen Lenaerts with Hatch & Fly, a Tallahassee marketing firm.

Doug Gove introduced his guest Larry Fabiano, former owner of Gabriel's Moving Company, now operating his new company Gabriel's Tents & More.

Ronnie Davis with Brown & Brown Insurance Company also paid us a visit knowing even non-members are welcome to join our luncheons.

Dorothy White introduced the new park

Alicia Crum faces breast cancer

set because I knew," Crum says.

The second week of August, teachers reported back to school. Crum missed most of her preplanning days because of doctors' appointments she and her husband Donnie Crum had.

She met with Blank again and discussed her options. She had to choose between a lumpectomy, which is a surgery to remove cancer or other abnormal tissue from the breast, and a mastectomy, which is the removal of the whole breast.

"I asked 'What if I want to be proactive and remove both breasts?'" Crum says.

Crum says Blank told her that was definitely an option.

"They're cautious to just throw that out there," Crum says. "It was perfectly fine when I suggested it."

Crum wanted to be the one to tell her students why she had to leave. She told them the week before she was scheduled to have the surgery. "I've always been a straight up person," Crum says. "I felt obligated to tell them."

She said her students were very sweet and caring, and very concerned.

Crum had a bilateral mastectomy, and reconstruction on Sept. 20. All of her breast tissue was removed.

She had a breast lift and augmentation done 11 years ago, done by Wakulla High School graduate Dr. Larry Harper. She says that's what made her eligible to have the mastectomy and reconstruction done at the same time.

Blank performed the mastectomy, and Harper did the reconstruction. "They just take out the old implants and put in new ones because I already had the pocket," Crum says.

During the surgery, the surgeon checks to make sure there is no cancer in the lymph nodes by inserting dye into them.

"Mine were negative," Crum says. "He told me if there was even one positive he couldn't reconstruct me at the same time. He would have had to close me up."

Crum said she learned after the surgery that she had made the right decision by having both breasts removed: In addition to the cancerous lumps that were in her left breast, the surgeon also discovered there were pre-cancerous cells, also known as lobular carcinoma in situ.

The surgeons used the same incision line from her lift and implants.

Three weeks later, she's preparing to get back into her normal routine. She says she's anxious to get back to work.

Crum will return to school on Oct. 15 when the second semester ends. She says she didn't have enough leave to be out that long, but her co-workers generously donated some of their time.

Crum is ready to get back in the classroom. She said her students have sent her messages through their substitute saying they miss her, and they're praying for her.

Crum says she feels bad for leaving her students. In addition to teaching English 4, Crum also teaches a special test prep class for seniors who need to take the ACT as an alternative to their Florida Standards Assessments needed to graduate. Crum says the ACT has been rescheduled, and she'll be back to work before it's administered.

Crum says her breasts are still kind of lumpy, swollen and itchy, but she hasn't had any complications.

She says the first week after the surgery was the most uncomfortable. After her drain tubes were removed, she began healing more quickly.

She said daughter Natalie Crum and stepdaughter, Carla Crum Lunny, came to take care of her as she recovered.

Crum says her Mary

Kay and school families have also been very supportive.

One of her Mary Kay friends gave her two handmade pockets with strings attached that can hang around her neck to hold the drain tubes and make them more comfortable to wear. Since she no longer needs them, she wants to pass them on to someone else who could use them.

She is now waiting to have an appointment with an oncologist to find out what's next for her. She may have to have hormone therapy and chemotherapy. The chemo treatments are highly personalized. Different factors go into an algorithm to determine the treatment.

The fact that she had two lumps would be factored in, among other things.

Crum's mother died of pancreatic cancer 15 years ago. Blank told her there is a link between pancreatic cancer, and women cancers, which Blank told her she is very concerned about.

"I'm just prayerful and confident it's going to be fine," Crum says. "Whatever His plan is, it's going to be OK."

Crum, who is in the Deferred Retirement Option Plan (DROP) program, plans to retire when she is 60. When she retires, she wants to be a director with Mary Kay.

Finding out she had breast cancer derailed her plans a bit. Crum says Mary Kay is a company based on Christian values. She has received letters and cards and texts and constant support from the ladies of Mary Kay.

She's also on prayer support with the national director.

She said she loves being an ambassador for the company, and one of the reasons is because they donate $20 million a year to breast cancer and domestic violence awareness.

Crum says the most important thing people need to know about breast cancer is if they notice something suspicious go get it checked out immediately.

Lantana, Mexican petunia are invasives

Natural Wakulla

By Les Harrison

Autumn is usually considered the season of colors in the natural parts of Wakulla County, and other locations in North America. This tonal attribute is commonly credited to the foliage changes as the growing season ends.

Maples, sweet gums, hickory and many others make their contributions to the natural palette of shades and hues which have existed since long before human habitation in the area. Even some of the native plants add to the display

Goldenrod and dog-fennel are adding highlights to the brilliant display as winter, believe it or not, approaches. Unfortunately there are some attractive shades in the exhibition which are an indication of exotic invasive plants which have pushed out native.

Both lantana and Mexican petunias are currently blooming, but an indication of problem species. Both were

Lantana, on the left, and Mexican Petunia, on the right, are both exotic invasive plants which can displace many native species and disrupt the natural balance.

WILDFLOWER OF THE WEEK

FRAGRANT LADIES' TRESSES

This is one of our largest Ladies' Tresses, (Spiranthes odorata) growing up to two feet tall or sometimes more. It is found in very moist soil, often in wooded swamps. It begins blooming in late September to October and continues until frost. It gets its common name from the sweet smell of the flowers. It gets its botanical genus name because the small flower spiral around the tall stem. They are in the Orchid family which you can tell when you look at one of the flowers closely.

—Eleanor Dietrich, Florida Wildflower Foundation introduced as ornamental plants, but quickly escaped into the wild where they could colonize unchecked.

Lantana (Lantana camara) is a woody shrub native to tropical zones of North and South America. It flowers profusely throughout much of the growing season.

Because of the plant's ornamental nature, many different flower colors exist, but the most frequent color combinations are red and yellow along with purple and white. Lantana is now commonly found in naturalized populations throughout the southeastern U.S. from Florida to Texas.

It is currently ranked as one of the Top 10 most troublesome weeds in Florida and has documented occurrences in 58 of 67 counties. Curiously, despite the bad reputation it is still found in home and commercial landscapes.

As part of its arsenal of conquest, Lantana produces allelochemicals or plant toxins in its roots and stems. These allelochemicals have been shown to either slow the growth of other plants or totally remove them.

Some of these same chemicals give lantana an acrid taste and deter insects or other animals from consuming the leaves. Of importance to pet and livestock owners, these leaf toxins are damaging to animals.

If animals consume the leaves, they often begin to show symptoms of skin peeling or cracking. Once animals show these symptoms, there is little or no treatment that can reverse the process.

Although lantana's leaves are poisonous, its berries are not. Birds readily consume the fruit and are responsible for much of the seed's distribution over wide areas.

Mexican petunia (Ruellia simplex) is a native of Mexico, but also the Antilles and parts of South America. Its tolerance of varying landscape conditions makes it a common choice for difficult to plant areas and has contributed to its popularity and wide use.

Mexican petunia tolerates shade, sun, wet, dry, and poor soil conditions. It is a prolific bloomer with flowers in shades of purple and pink peaking in the summer, but with the potential to also bloom in spring and fall in some parts of Florida.

Environmental tolerance, abundant seed production, and an ability to easily grow from plant cuttings have all promoted the spread into natural areas bordering developments. The Mexican petunia has been credited with "altering native plant communities by displacing native species, changing community structures or ecological functions, or hybridizing with natives" according to the Florida Exotic Pest Plant Council in 2011.

Given the continued popularity of both species, plant breeders have developed sterile, non-reproducing cultivars which do not have the negative characteristics of these problem plants. It is recommend using only the sterile type so Wakulla County's autumn colors continue to be natural.

War Eagles fall to Godby

Cougars get 37-13 win over Wakulla

By SEAN OGDEN
Correspondent

The Wakulla War Eagles struggled against the unbeaten Godby Cougars in a hard fought 37-13 loss. The War Eagles' record slips to 4-2 and Godby improves to 6-0.

Prior to the game, the excitement for the matchup could be seen in the sea of crimson on Friday night. Parents and fans alike packed the stands to support their War Eagles.

Caught up in the excitement, the War Eagles struggled early, fumbling the initial kickoff, giving the Cougars possession on Wakulla's 22-yard line.

The Cougars capitalized with a quick touchdown, putting Godby in the lead early 7-0.

The War Eagles struck back, driving down the field with quarterback Jaylon Worsham at the helm.

The War Eagles found themselves on the Godby 4-yard line, where running back LaMonta Peterson surged into the end zone for a rushing touchdown, closing the gap 7-6.

On the next possession, despite a stout War Eagle defense and multiple Godby penalties, the Godby quarterback delivered a long strike for a second score from their own 10-yard line, improving Godby's lead to 13-6.

With the War Eagles offense unable to respond, the Cougars got close to the end zone at the Wakulla 8-yard line once.

The War Eagle defense held strong, with a turnover on downs forced by free safety Jamey Harvey.

Despite the opportunity given to the offense, the War Eagles were stuffed by the Godby defense, forcing a punt. The snap was low and fumbled and Godby recovered on the Wakulla 5-yard line.

The Cougars capitalized with a short touchdown, increasing Godby's lead 19-6.

It didn't get any easier for the War Eagles offense on the next drive, as they were forced to punt after sputtering once more.

The Cougars started from their own 44-yard line and seemed to find a rhythm driving down the field with short rushes and passes.

The War Eagle defense got a big play by cornerback Malik Murray on an interception.

Too many mistakes, especially on special teams

By WILLIAM SNOWDEN
Editor

"Of our two losses on the year, special teams has really hurt us," Wakulla War Eagles Head Coach Scott Klees acknowledged.

"Against a good team, you can't expect to make these mistakes and win," Klees said.

In the season opener against Madison, the War Eagles struggled mightily on special teams, and seemed unable to get off a punt or tackle on a kickoff.

Those problems seemed resolved until district rival Godby came to Wakulla for the big showdown.

A fumble on the opening kickoff gave the Cougars the ball deep in War Eagle territory and led to a quick score.

The War Eagles came back and scored.

But the next drive, the Cougars connected on an 80-yard pass play for a score.

The War Eagle drive stalled and they went to punt, but the snap was low and bobbled and recovered by Godby.

Cross Country team competes at Alligator Lake

By MIKE MARTIN
WHS Cross Country Coach

The Wakulla XC teams traveled to Lake City this past Saturday to compete at the Alligator Lake Invitational.

This time last year, Hurricane Hermine caused havoc in the panhandle and the meet was canceled. There was no hurricane this year, but over a hour of rain on Friday night made the course much more difficult than usual.

With a wet and sandy course, it challenged all the runners on this beautiful day!

BOYS TEAM IS UP FIRST

First up to run on this slow course was the boys varsity team. From the sound of the gun, Daniel Wiedeman led the War Eagles and finished in 7th place overall with a good time of 18:22.

He was followed in by Stephen Votaw, who was running in Hawaii this time last year, and finished the race in 9th place with a new personal record (PR) of 18:37.

Mason McCord was the next Wakulla runner in with a 12th place finish and a time of 18:40.

He was followed in by Simon Cole, who ran a good time of 20:13.

Logan Kilpatrick rounded out the scoring with a time of 20:59. Kilpatrick was followed in by Tipp Pitts who finished with a time of 22:21.

Bryce Estep was the final War Eagle to finish

Simon Cole, Stephen Votaw, Mason McCord, Daniel Wiedman, and Logan Kilpatrick.

Jaquesha Jefferson, Erica Odom, Diamond Cooper, Nina Prince, Alyssa Langston, Elizabeth Blitch, and Tirzah Votaw.

with a time of 22:37.

After all the points were added, the boys team finished in third place overall.

ished in third place overall.

THEN GIRLS TEAM COMPETES

The Lady War Eagles were next to run on the soggy course.

Once again, Alyssa Langston was the first Wakulla runner to cross the line with a great time of 21:30 and a 4th place finish.

Diamond Cooper was the next Wakulla runner in with a good time of 23:52. She was followed in by Nina Prince, who ran a 24:29.

Tirzah Votaw was the next girl in with a time of 24:39.

Jaquesha Jefferson finished behind Votaw with a time of 25:21.

Right behind her was freshman Elizabeth Blitch, who ran an outstanding time and new PR of 25:22. Elizabeth has PR'd in every race she has run so far this year.

Erica Odom was the next girl in with a new PR of 25:41. After Erica ran her race, she traded in her running shoes for her cow-girl boots and drove down the road to compete in a two day rodeo tournament.

Marina Whitsell was the next girl in with a time of 27:09.

Zoie Hill was the next Wakulla runner to cross the line with a good time of 27:19. Keri Levingston was the final Wakulla girl to cross the line with a time of 28:31.

Just like the boys team, the girls placed third overall!

Lady War Eagles basketball team prepares for season

By FARRAH DONALDSON
Special to The News

The Wakulla High School Lady War Eagles Basketball Team is well on their way preparing for a successful 2018-19 basketball season.

Conditioning for the Lady Eagles began on Sept. 10, and the ladies are already working hard to go beyond the 12-8 record from last season.

The team only lost two players to graduation, and fortunately this year they will be loaded with upperclassmen and experience.

Over the past few seasons tremendous improvements have been made and the Lady Eagles plan to continue to capitalize on that trend.

With more young ladies showing a greater interest in playing basketball, there should be enough for both a Junior Varsity and a Varsity team this season.

“We want the ladies to get as much playing experience as possible to help them improve and having a Junior Varsity really helps in the development of the players,” said Head Coach Farrah Donaldson.

Both the coaching staff and the players are looking forward to having the community come out and support the team as they continue to build the program with every rebound, pass, dribble, and shot this upcoming season.

The home opener for the Lady Eagles will be Monday, Nov. 19, at 5:30 p.m. at the Wakulla High School Gym.

All are invited to attend!

tion, giving the offense possession on their own 7-yard line.

Despite the opportunity, the War Eagle offense struggled against a strong Cougar defense and was forced to punt once again, giving the Cougars possession on the Godby 44-yard line late in the second quarter.

Godby again found the end zone for another rushing touchdown, piling on the Cougar lead 25-6.

At the end of the half, the War Eagles attempted a late drive with a bold attempt on 4th down which was stopped by the Cougar defense. The half ended with Wakulla High trailing Godby 25-6.

At the start of the second half, Godby stormed down the field once again. However, the War Eagle defense continued to play tough and forced Godby's first punt of the game, giving the War Eagle offense possession on their own 33-yard line.

Once again, Godby forced a turnover on downs as the War Eagles attempted a 4th and 5 play on the Wakulla 28. On the next Cougar possession, a huge sack by defensive lineman Darius Wilkins helped the defense once again to force a turnover on downs, giving the War

Eagles possession on their own 11-yard line to end the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, the Cougar defense stopped the War Eagles again, forcing a punt which resulted in a Godby possession on the Godby 43.

The Cougar offense capitalized on the opportunity as running back rumbled past the War Eagle defense for a long rushing touchdown, putting the Cougars on top 31-6.

Late in the game, the War Eagle offense finally showed some life as Worsham connected with Murray in a long strike for a touchdown, closing the gap 31-13.

However, these points didn't remain unanswered as Godby drove down the field. The drive resulted in a short rushing touchdown added to the lead 37-13.

The War Eagles attempted to answer, but were stopped once again on their own 37-yard line with 5:20 left in the fourth quarter.

Despite another strong Cougar drive down the field, the War Eagle defense held the line once again, forcing a turnover on downs and giving the War Eagles possession on the Wakulla 10-yard line.

The War Eagles offense finally showed some life late in the game, with a long scramble by quarterback Worsham, but it ended with no score as the clock ticked to zero.

The final score highlighted the offense's struggle to move the ball against a tough Cougar defense, falling to their rivals 37-13. The predominant rushing game of the War Eagles couldn't find any holes in the Cougar defense.

Sometimes you just have to shake your head, smile or laugh. Or all of the above.

Sometimes it's better to be lucky than good. And late on Saturday, Florida State was more lucky than good.

Louisville couldn't produce but a field goal in the second half.

Deondre Francois seemingly couldn't throw an incompletion late in the game.

Cardinals quarterback Jawon Pass couldn't connect with receivers in the middle of the field.

And Pass committed a Cardinal Sin: he threw an interception in the final minutes as Louisville was driving and trying to put FSU away.

Not a great start-to-finish performance by any measure. FSU played better in the second half, though, on offense and defense.

And caught a lucky break with Pass' poor decision (or more likely it was Bobby Petrino's play call that was poor).

Desperate times in a desperation day for FSU. And the Seminoles ended up with a 28-24 win.

FSU's best win of the season came Saturday against the ACC's worst team. With the way the Seminoles played early, they were fortunate to escape with a victory.

There are plenty of ways to view the game. And perhaps you feel a little good, a little anxious and a little lucky.

How bad was it? FSU looked horrible early against a Louisville team that isn't very talented and likely won't go to a bowl. It was another dreadful start full of punts and even a special-teams turnover. It was another Saturday when FSU couldn't put together a ground attack, generating just 76 yards on 31 carries.

Were there positives? Sure. Francois shook off early struggles and was on the money in the second half. The receivers made some big-boy catches. And the defense forced three turnovers.

Would a better quarterback have led Louisville to a win on Saturday? Yep. Not much doubt. Too many passes over the middle were there for the taking. Pass wasn't nearly accurate enough.

FSU is 3-2 and that should make players feel good. It's way better than 2-3. And it's good to have some confidence and momentum heading into the Miami game.

The Seminoles should enjoy it. But they should also be able to watch the film, see the flaws (there were many) and learn from them. In truth, this game reinforced that FSU's problems still exist and aren't going away anytime soon. And it also emphasized that the Seminoles have some valuable pieces to build on for the future.

Miami will be a challenge, even in a favorable stadium for the Seminoles (they haven't lost at Doak South since 2004). The bye week is a well-timed break, and then the second half of the schedule brings plenty of pitfalls.

FSU has three wins and can battle to pick up three more, keeping the bowl streak alive. Some fans and media may doubt it, but there are opportunities on the schedule. Are there three more wins? Maybe. The problem is it is the meat of the schedule as FSU will take on offenses like Wake, Clemson, NC State, Boston College and Notre Dame. Florida, even with all of its problems, won't be as easy an opponent as in past years.

The Seminoles will have to play better, from the start, against better teams. And will need to be lucky and good. The lowest total allowed by the Seminoles since Colorado in 2007.

Former Wakulla High star Keith Gavin set career highs for catches (six) and receiving yards (93) in the first half for the Seminoles, who won their 15th consecutive non-conference home game.

The Seminoles had 23 first downs and were efficient, relative to the previous three games, despite losing three fumbles. Florida State ran a season-high 88 plays.

Next up: The Seminoles travel to Miami to play the Hurricanes on Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

that," Klees said.

It was a hole the War Eagles could not dig out of.

"Godby was able to capitalize on our mistakes," Klees said. "Give 'em credit: They were able to make us make mistakes."

On the flip side of that, "We didn't create any chances for ourselves," Klees said.

"I'm proud of our kids," he said. "They fought, they got after it – running around, flying around, things just didn't go our way."

Klees said he didn't anticipate any let-down from his players after the loss to Godby – a game they all look forward to all year.

"They're gonna know what they've got to do and we'll work hard to accomplish that goal," Klees said.

With the loss to Godby, Klees anticipates his team will need to win out the last four games to get in the playoffs.

"Split any of those four games and we'll need help," Klees said.

And those four are not easy wins: Leon this week, Florida High next week, then district foe Rickards and close the season against Jefferson.

One advantage for Wakulla is that three of the last four are at home at J.D. Jones Stadium – only Rickards is on the road, a quick jaunt up to Tallahassee.

First things first: the much-improved Leon Lions come to town with a 2-3 record and a second year coach.

"They're a bigger school than us," Klees said, "and have a little bit of a size advantage."

As for the keys to winning: "We have to execute and don't put the ball on the ground," Klees said. "We have to make the most of our opportunities, and we'll have a chance."

HOME ON THE RANGE

Carrying a .380 in a purse

By MARJ LAW

“No, I don’t have the kitchen sink in there,” I say somewhat peevishly. “All this stuff is necessary.”

Joe doesn’t look convinced.

“All I want is a pen.”

Well, we all know that pens are round and slick and they fall into the very bottom of a purse. Next to nail files, stray coins, pillboxes, lip gloss, and sticks of gum. To get to them, I push aside a packet of Kleenex, a charge card wallet and a money wallet. And Tic Tacs, and a birthday card.

“What’s taking so long?”

If he had to push all these needed things aside, it would take him a while too.

So, if a woman decides to carry a small handgun, it better be really small. The purse is already bursting at the seams. And it’s sort of heavy.

Good “carry” purses are often made of leather. Since the contents of a purse add up, a “carry” gun ought to be fairly small or the purse will soon be a “luggable” purse and not just a carry purse.

Many mature women like the .380 caliber handgun. A .380 tends to be easy to shoot with little recoil, fairly easy to rack the slide, and fairly easy to load. The Browning BDA .380 has all of these desirable characteristics. It carries 13 rounds and is 6.8 inches long. That’s not too long, but it is somewhat wide at 1.30 inches, so it’s a bit bulky. At 28 ounces, though, by the end of the shopping day, your carrying shoulder is listing downward. This .380 is just too heavy for most women.

A smaller .380 Browning is the Browning Black Label Medallion Pro. This little guy carries eight rounds. The slide is stainless and the frame is blackened stainless. It’s 7.5 inches long and weighs 18 ounces. That’s 10 ounces less than the BDA – and 10 ounces less in a purse is good.

It doesn’t hurt that the Medallion Pro is attractive too. Not that you’d ever pull it out unless your life was at stake, but it is pretty.

The Pro has a gold inlay into the grip.

Another .380 that is well-liked is the Smith & Wesson M&P Shield EZ. The EZ holds eight rounds. It is extremely easy to load and easy to rack. You load it like you do many .22s – by holding down the spring and dropping in the rounds. An UpLula is not needed.

The recoil on the EZ is very light, and so is the trigger. It’s a smooth-shooting, not snappy little gun.

The EZ’s length is 6.7 inches and it weighs 18.5 ounces. About the same weight as the Medallion Pro, it contains the same number of rounds, but may be considered easier to load and rack.

The Sig Sauer P238 is a micro-compact .380. It holds six rounds and weighs in at only 15.2 ounces. At 5.5 inches in length, it is substantially shorter. Although you might bet this smaller gun will have more recoil, its all-metal construction has the mass to absorb a whole lot of kick, so the recoil is quite light. The P238 is another pretty gun and can come with a rosewood grip, other grips, or pretty finishes on the metal.

Most people know the name Glock, and the Glock 42 is another .380. It has an overall length of 5.94 inches and a weight of 13.8 ounces. It is slim and reliable and is a striker-fired gun so it has no hammer. The magazine holds six rounds.

The Rock Island .380, or the “Baby Rock,” is another reliable handgun. It is 6.62 inches in length and weighs in at 22 ounces. That’s a bit more than the other .380s listed above.

The Baby Rock holds seven rounds. At 1.3 inches in width, it’s a bit bulkier than some. The trigger pull is light. It has a nice deep beaver tail for a sturdy grip. The Baby Rock is easy to double-tap, in case you have need of a quick two shots.

Weight listed on all these .380s is unloaded, and we are discussing regular magazines: not extended magazines, which are often available.

Carry purses usually have separate pockets for handguns. They also can include pocket holsters or sleeves that cover the gun and its trigger mechanism for safety.

“Have you found a pen yet?” asks Joe, getting antsy about my purse fumbling.

“Not yet, but I did discover a pair of ear plugs!”

I’m happy. Now we can go to the range.

PORCELAIN CRAB
(Petrolisthes armatus)

This tiny animal (<1/2”) lives in high densities in Gulf coast inter/subtidal oyster reefs and rock rubble habitats. It filter feeds tiny organisms from water, including larval oysters. Some scientists think this animal is not native to Florida and was imported from Brazil in ballast water. If so, it might have a devastating effect on oyster beds. Others disagree, saying it is native. It is actually more closely related to lobsters than crabs.

Ryan Hensel is new forester in town

Special to The News

The Wakulla Forestry Station has recently added a new face: Senior Forester Ryan Hensel joins the dedicated team of Florida Forest Service professionals providing service to Wakulla County.

“Ryan comes to us with 2 years of experience in private forestry consultant work in the Tallahassee area,” says Tallahassee Forestry Center Manager Chris Colburn. “We are excited about the vital role he will play in promoting the Tallahassee Forestry Center’s Cooperative Assistance Programs in Wakulla County.”

Hensel looks forward to his new role as Senior Forester providing assistance to landowners in managing their forestland properties. His responsibilities will include providing land management plans that incorporate the State of Florida’s silvicultural best management practices; assistance in prescribed burning; timber harvesting and water quality management; and providing information on grants and cost-sharing programs available through the Florida Forest Service.

“I’m embracing the challenge of this new position,” says Hensel. “I have always enjoyed working with the public and look forward to assisting the landowners of Wakulla county in managing their forestlands.”

Wakulla County is home to several private timberland owners. There are many assistance programs available:

- Conservation Reserve Program
- Environmental Quality Incentive Program
- Southern Pine Beetle Prevention Program
- Longleaf Legacy Landowner Incentive Program
- Rural and Family Lands Protection Program

For more information on these programs or other assistance with forest management in Wakulla County contact Ryan Hensel at (850) 421- 3101 or Ryan.Hensel@fresh-fromflorida.com.

Coast Guard Auxiliary Reports

By Carolyn Brown Treadon

The following article ran in the Navigator, a publication distributed by the United States Coast Guard: From the Editor: Semper Paratus – Answering The Call.

“Semper Paratus, anyone remotely connected with the U.S. Coast Guard knows these words. But, what does “Always Ready” really mean? For the active duty, always being ready is ensured by Coasties standing the watch. Be the shore-bound or underway, there is always someone in the active duty Coast Guard who is Semper Paratus what ever the needs of mariners may be.

But what of those of us in the Auxiliary? What does Semper Paratus mean to us? Few Auxiliary members stand a regular watch. As volunteers, Auxiliarists fit their Coast Guard service into lives that are mostly spent as typical civilians with families, jobs and lives, that for the most part, are outside of the service we have pledged to support.

So, what happens when the call comes? What happens when it is not a drill and, as is true of many places in the interior of our nation, the Auxiliary is the closest representative of the Coast Guard available? For a number of Auxiliarists, the call came Tuesday, 19 July in response to the duck boat sinking on Table Rock Lake, near Branson, Missouri, that claimed the lives of 17 of the 29 passengers and the two crew aboard.

In an instant, those Auxiliarists went from regular civilians to representatives of the Coast Guard closest to the scene and on the case. Active duty personnel quickly marshaled forces and took control of the Coast Guard’s role in a multi-agency operation involving local, state and federal agencies. And, the Auxiliary moved into its traditional role, close support for the active duty personnel on the case. Auxiliarists were there, doing their jobs as long as needed.”

I share this article with you, because this could happen anywhere even here. The Auxiliary is the closest asset our area has. Station Panama City is our closest active duty station. In the event of a disaster, your Auxiliary will be Semper Paratus, and ready to answer the call.

State ices shrimp rule

By JIM TURNER
News Service of Florida

TALLAHASSEE – Shrimp harvested in Florida waters and shipped out for human consumption literally won’t have to be put on ice any longer.

With an eye on growing Asian markets across the U.S., the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission approved a rule change Thursday, Sept. 27, that required shrimp harvested as food to be dead and put on ice when transported from the docks to stores.

The change clarifies that the icing requirement no longer applies to food shrimp prior to sale, according to commission staff.

The revised rule doesn’t impact bait shrimp, which were already allowed to remain alive when shipped from the docks to a shop.

Kelly Runnels, a commercial fisherman who harvests shrimp from boats docked in Hernando Beach, told the commission that his industry views markets within Asian communities across the U.S. as “very high price and lucrative for us.”

“Right now, with the red tide, we’re in the bait business as well. If we didn’t have this (change), a lot of people would be suffering,” Runnels said during a Thursday commission meeting near Tallahassee.

Runnels later told The News Service of Florida the demand for fresh shrimp is growing in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, as “most of the bigger cities have Asian markets.”

“They sell them alive, so you can’t get it any fresher,” he said.

The “icing” rule had been considered a seafood safety measure.

As part of the change, live shrimp intended for human consumption must be transported in a water-tight tank, containing a minimum of 16 cubic feet of continuously aerated saline water. The rule change also requires the business receiving the shrimp to have a tank of clean, continuously aerated saline water.

The state agency estimates the shrimp industry in Florida has an annual $45.9 million economic impact.

FWC Director of Marine Fisheries Management Jessica McCawley said it is unknown how the change will impact the shrimp seafood market in Florida, where the majority of shrimp consumed in the state is imported.

Commission Vice Chairman Robert Spottswood said the state should try to get more of the seafood produced or harvested in Florida to be consumed within the Sunshine State.

“It doesn’t make a whole lot of sense to me that we import so much seafood for consumption here, and we export so much fresh seafood,” Spottswood said. “I’d love to see more of our local seafood consumed here. How you do that, I don’t know.”

McCawley said the agency continues to work on changes to shrimp harvesting rules, which currently includes a prohibition on commercial harvesting on weekends and holidays during the open season.

Underwater Wakulla

By Gregg Stanton

Timothy Blasko holds state record for Lionfish with this 3.1 pounder from Monroe County.

Lionfish futures.

Any invasive species will go through several phases during its entry into an ecosystem. The Lionfish will be no different.

There is initial colonization as the species outcompetes residents for food and shelter, is followed by geographical expansion and accelerated evolution to respond to the new conditions/opportunities. Once established they depress prey and other competitors, until they reach equilibrium, where resource limitations slow their expansion.

The Lionfish has been described as a perfect storm invader, so much is to be learned in our corner of the world.

Travis and I are in South Florida this week attending the state Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission’s Summit conference on Lionfish in Coco Beach. This year we are looking at a much larger three days of presentations over last year’s conference. We expect topics from the status of the invasion to management of the resources and threat, to alternate approaches for their mitigation. The invasion has a history now, being documented from various locations, such as the Flower Gardens off Texas, to the Florida Keys to Bermuda.

The other day a juvenile Lionfish was brought in to our tanks, and was promptly consumed by a not much larger Lionfish. I noticed a paper describing density dependent conditions on growth and cannibalism of the Lionfish.

Papers on the effects of diver removal of these fish around Florida are expected, as are reports on various collecting technology. Temporal, special and habitat dynamics will shed more light on what we suspect we know at this juncture.

Papers on the puncture performance of the spines and an emerging infectious disease haunting the Lionfish will be addressed. A conundrum may exist if an infection kills the bulk of the Lionfish at a point where a commercial fishery has been established!

Whole Foods is offering to purchase all Lionfish of any size. We should get an update on how that is working. More Lionfish Rodeos are popping up around the state, encouraged by the FWC as public outreach expands. There is now a Lionfish University, which will present their findings. Various University research projects will be presented on topics like DNA Barcoding of these fish to Sea Grant participation in the support of research.

The meeting will conclude with a FWC Control Plan Update and group discussions. I hope to return with a better insight into what has been learned about this invasion to what can be done to mitigate for it. There is no eliminating it.

While in Hawaii, I noticed a request to not spear Lionfish there, as they are naturally found in Hawaiian waters. The Atlantic/Caribbean/Gulf of Mexico zeal to shoot them with wild abandon has infected divers as far away as Hawaii, where they are revered as an ornamental fish. Go figure...

WEEKLY ROUNDUP – (Recap and analysis of the week in state government)

Florida's 'Supreme' controversy

By LLOYD DUNKELBERGER
NEWS SERVICE OF FLORIDA

TALLAHASSEE – While the nation was fixated on the drama surrounding Brett Kavanaugh's nomination to the U.S. Supreme Court, Floridians were reminded this week that they have their own Supreme Court controversy in triplicate.

Gov. Rick Scott reasserted his claim in court that he has the power, before he leaves office in January, to appoint replacements for three Florida Supreme Court justices who have reached a mandatory retirement age.

Opponents contend the next governor, who takes office on Jan. 8, has that right.

Meanwhile, former U.S. Rep. Ron DeSantis, the Republican nominee for governor, told the Florida Chamber of Commerce this week that he intends to appoint the new justices.

"It's important that we have a governor who understands that we have to appoint solid constitutionalists to our state courts, including our state Supreme Court," he told the chamber members, who were meeting in Orlando.

"The next governor probably, and I know there's a little bit of controversy about when these appointments happen, but I'm presuming that I get elected governor and get sworn in, that I will have three appointments to the state Supreme Court," DeSantis said.

It's not the first time DeSantis has asserted his right to make the court appointments. It became an issue in his final debate with Agriculture Commissioner Adam Putnam in the Republican gubernatorial primary.

"They're not your appointments. They're Gov. Scott's appointments," Putnam told him, saying DeSantis was aligning himself with groups like the League of Women Voters of Florida, who is challenging Scott on the court appointments.

For his part, Scott, who expects to get a list of potential court appointees by Nov. 8, has said he will work on the appointments with the winner of the Nov. 6 election.

Reaching an accommodation with DeSantis, who shares a similar conservative philosophy with Scott, seems possible. But if Democrat Andrew Gillum prevails, Floridians can expect the appointment controversy to intensify.

WHO'S GOT THE POWER

Scott's lawyers on Wednesday argued the governor has the authority to appoint the replacements for justices Barbara Pariente, R. Fred Lewis and Peggy Quince, who are all leaving the court in early January because they have reached the mandatory retirement age.

The lawsuit, filed by the League of Women

Voters of Florida and Common Cause, has asked the Supreme Court to block Scott's action, through a procedure known as a "writ of quo warranto," arguing the new governor who takes office on Jan. 8 should have that appointment power.

But in a 33-page response, Scott's lawyers said he is following the precedent of beginning the appointment process before the vacancies actually occur, noting numerous justices have been appointed using this procedure in order to avoid prolonged vacancies on the court.

"The petitioners' interpretation of the applicable constitutional provision is contrary to its plain language, the longstanding historical practice of the judicial nominating commissions for the Supreme Court and district courts of appeal, and the clearly articulated public policy underlying Article V of the Florida Constitution: avoiding extended vacancies in judicial office," the lawyers wrote.

Earlier this month, Scott directed the Supreme Court Judicial Nominating Commission to begin accepting and reviewing applications for the court appointments. The commission has set an Oct. 8 deadline for the applications, followed by a Nov. 8 deadline – two days after the general election – for submitting names of potential justices to the gov-

Scott, a Republican who is running against incumbent U.S. Sen. Bill Nelson, said he has the "expectation" that he and the incoming governor could reach an agreement on the appointments.

Underscoring the legal challenge is the fact that the new appointments are likely to reshape the seven-member Supreme Court for years, if not decades.

Pariente, Lewis and Quince are part of a liberal bloc, which now holds a slim 4-3 majority, that has thwarted Scott and the Republican-dominated Legislature on numerous occasions since the governor took office in 2011.

SEX AND THE SENATE

In another Florida parallel to the Kavanaugh controversy, where the nominee has been accused of sexually harassing women while in high school or college, a sexual discrimination case involving the Florida Senate advanced this week.

Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi and four high-ranking senators – including President Joe Negron – are among the witnesses being asked to testify in a discrimination case filed by legislative aide Rachel Perrin Rogers, who accuses the Senate of retaliation after she filed a sexual harassment complaint last year against former Sen. Jack Latvala.

Latvala, a Clearwater Republican who held the powerful post of Senate budget chief and was a candidate for governor when Perrin Rogers' allegations against him first came out, resigned from the Senate shortly before the legislative session began in January. He has steadfastly denied any wrongdoing.

Latvala is among the witnesses Tiffany Cruz, a lawyer who represents Perrin Rogers, is asking to appear at a Jan. 14 federal administrative-court hearing in Tampa, according to court documents first reported Wednesday by Politico Florida.

The list of witnesses gives just a glimpse into the allegations made by Perrin Rogers, who filed the discrimination complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in January.

One of the witnesses is Jean Seawright, who was hired by the Senate to conduct an investigation into Perrin Rogers after the aide filed the complaint against Latvala, according to court documents.

Senate Special Master Ronald Swanson, who investigated Perrin Rogers' allegations against Latvala, is also on the witness list.

Negron, a Stuart Republican who is leaving office after the November elections, "has knowledge that complainant suffered retaliation for making a report of sexual harassment," Cruz wrote in a four-page list of witnesses submitted Tuesday to U.S. Administrative Law Judge Alexander Fernández.

The Senate president denied anyone punished Perrin Rogers, a high-ranking aide who works for Senate Majority Leader Wilton Simpson, after she complained about Latvala.

"The complaint of sexual harassment in this case was immediately and fully investigated. At all times the Senate has acted appropriately and there has been no retaliation," Negron said in a text message Wednesday.

But Cruz told The News Service of Florida on Wednesday that "there has been constant retaliation" against Perrin Rogers since she first complained about Latvala last fall. And the retaliation got worse after Swanson's report was completed and the Senate aide filed her discrimination complaint, Cruz said.

"Instead, what we've seen happen here is the Senate has taken almost no action as the employer to protect Rachel when the retaliation was happening, and then subsequent to the investigation, they've actively taken steps to treat her differently as a result of her complaint," she said.

The investigation into Latvala came amid a national spotlight on revelations of sexual harassment lodged against powerful men in Hollywood, business and politics that led to the demise of entertainment-industry titans such as Harvey Weinstein, Charlie Rose and Les Moonves.

STORY OF THE WEEK: Gov. Rick Scott reasserted his right to appoint three new justices to the Florida Supreme Court before he leaves office in early January.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "The message that women are receiving, to me, is you become a pariah for saying something about any type of misconduct that's happening to you by a man, especially by a man of power. If you say something too late, you get attacked for that. If you say something right away, you get attacked for that. So essentially the message is, be silent, or these are the consequences." – Tiffany Cruz, a lawyer who is representing legislative aide Rachel Perrin Rogers, who is suing the Florida Senate in a discrimination case.

Set the menu for easy entertaining

One of the best-kept chef secrets to hosting the most memorable at-home parties is keeping the food simple and adding small details to make it special. After all, a host who isn't hard at work in the kitchen is a host who can spend more time with guests.

Tomato Soup with Homemade Olive Oil Croutons	Olive Oil, plus additional for brushing on bread
Prep time: 10 minutes	3 tablespoons sherry vinegar
4 tomatoes	1 clove garlic
3 grilled red bell peppers in oil	10 basil leaves
1 shallot	salt, to taste pepper, to taste
1/2 cup Bertolli Extra Virgin	4 slices crusty bread

Cut small cross in bottom of tomatoes and submerge in boiling water 30 seconds. Let tomatoes cool in ice water 30 seconds then remove skins.

In blender, blend tomatoes, red bell peppers, shallot, extra-virgin olive oil, vinegar, garlic, basil, salt and pepper, to taste, until mixture is smooth. Add mixture to large pot and heat, stirring frequently.

Cut bread slices, brush with olive oil and grill 2 minutes per side over medium-high heat until visible grill marks have formed.

Healthy Beet Hummus	Bertolli Extra Virgin Olive Oil
Prep time: 15 minutes	2 cups canned chickpeas
3 beets	2 tablespoons sesame seed paste
salt, to taste	or tahini

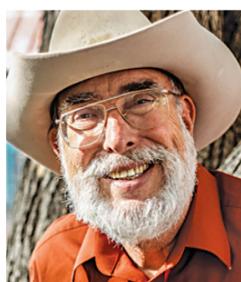

Heat oven to 375 F.

Peel beets and boil until soft; season with salt and olive oil.

Puree beets with chickpeas and sesame seed paste until a uniform paste forms. Transfer to oven-safe serving dish. Bake 10 minutes and serve.

Some opera-watching truths

By SLIM RANGLES

Our resident cowboy, Steve, brought us the shocking news: cowpuncher Three-Chord Cortez, that bunkhouse balladeer, plans to study opera, in hopes an aria or three will make him even more attractive to girls during a serenade. Apparently, singing La Donna Mobile might be more effective than "You don't know what lonesome is 'til you start herding co-oo-ows" ... especially if she doesn't speak European.

I thought I'd jot down a few opera-watching truths for ol' T.C. just to help him out.

1. Take off your hat. You can keep jujubes in it if you want.

2. If you like a particular aria, you can yell Bravo! if it's a man, Brava! if it's a woman, or Bravisimo! if it's an isimo. It's considered poor form to yell "Eeeee-HAAA!" or "You get 'em, Hon!"

3. One of the strangest operatic devices is called recitative – pronounced rest-a-TEEF – (don't ask), and is a combination of singing and speaking that is used when the composer wants to hurry through a song because he wasn't too fond of it in the first place but it was in the contract and he wants it out of the way quickly. Feel free to mention recitative to a woman at half time. Operas have two half times.

The speaking part of the recitative is done like a machine gun, and then you break into song when you get tired of that, and it can happen in the same sentence. For example:

"Don't make me come down there, don't make me come down there, don't make me come down there and k-i-i-i-I-I-I-I-i-i-ck your bu-u-u-u-u-tt."

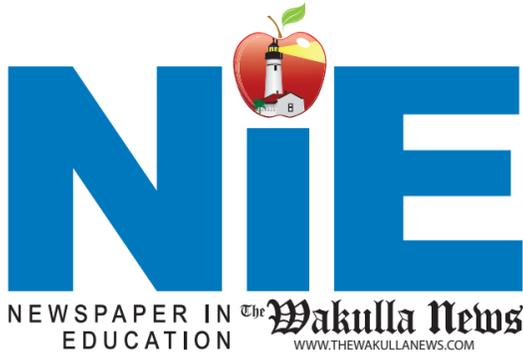

4. That bit of music they play before the curtain goes up is called the overture, and not foreplay.

It's to give you a hint of what's to come, in case you decide to leave early. You might listen to the overture and say, "That allegretto tickles my fancy, but if that tenor duet goes on for more than two minutes, I'll get the scours."

This makes a guy a connoisseur, you see. Connoisseur is European for smart aleck.

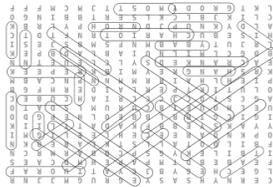

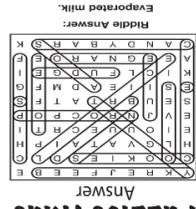

And finally, 5. Don't forget to clean your boots.

Fall planting is fine for turfgrass, spring-blooming bulbs, cool-season vegetables, perennials, trees and shrubs. The cooler air is easier on both plants and gardeners, but the soil is still warm enough for roots to grow until the first freeze. Pests and diseases lessen in fall, and you also don't need to fertilize as you do in the spring and summer.

Notice of Final Agency Action Taken by the Northwest Florida Water Management District
Notice is given that Environmental Resource permit number IND-129-18612-1 was issued on July 27, 2018 to Christine Beathy, FL Wild Mammal Association for the construction of a new surface water management system designed to provide treatment and attenuation for a new wildlife rehabilitation center located near US Highway 319 (Sopchoppy Highway), in Wakulla County. The proposed development will consist of the construction of new facilities to serve the Florida Wild Mammal Association with associated office buildings, volunteer/boarder houses, and stormwater management system. The proposed project will also include the construction of an ingress/egress roadway to provide access to the rehabilitation center. The proposed surface water management system will include the construction, operation, and maintenance of a wet detention pond located on the southern portion of the project site as well as roadside swales for the entrance roadway segment. Stormwater runoff will be directed by overland sheelflow to the proposed wet detention pond. A net wetland impact of 6,749 square-feet is caused by the proposed access road improvements due to widening and realignment. There are wetland impacts proposed. The project is located at Sopchoppy Hwy, Wakulla County.
The file containing the application for this permit is available for inspection Monday through Friday (except for legal holidays), 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Northwest Florida Water Management District's ERP Office, 81 Water Management Drive, Havana, FL 32333.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by the District permitting decision may petition for an administrative hearing in accordance with Sections 120.569 and 120.57 F.S., or may choose to pursue mediation as an alternative remedy under Section 120.573, Florida Statutes, and Rules 28-106.111 and 28-106.401-404, Florida Administrative Code. Petitions must comply with the requirements of Florida Administrative Code, Chapter 28-106 and be filed with (received by) the District Clerk located at District Headquarters, 81 Water Management Drive, Havana, FL 32333-4712. Petitions for administrative hearing on the above application must be filed within twenty-one (21) days of publication of this notice or within twenty-six (26) days of the District depositing notice of this intent in the mail for those persons to whom the District mails actual notice. Failure to file a petition within this time period shall constitute a waiver of any right(s) such person(s) may have to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., concerning the subject permit. Petitions which are not filed in accordance with the above provisions are subject to dismissal.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the District's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the District on the application have the right to petition to become a party to the proceedings, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

FLORIDA PACE FUNDING AGENCY
NOTICE OF INTENT TO USE UNIFORM METHOD OF COLLECTING NON-AD VALOREM ASSESSMENTS

The Board of Directors (the "Board") of the Florida PACE Funding Agency, a public body corporate and politic (the "Agency"), hereby provides notice, pursuant to Sections 163.08(2), (3) and (4) and 197.3632(3)(a), Florida Statutes, of its intent to use the uniform method of collecting non-ad valorem assessments for more than one year to be levied within the area encompassed by the boundaries of every county in Florida, or any of the municipalities therein, subscribing to or served by the Agency's statewide provision of funding and financing to construct or pay for energy conservation and efficiency improvements, renewable energy improvements and wind resistance improvements in accordance with Section 163.08, Florida Statutes (collectively, the "Qualifying Improvements"). By law and resolution of the Agency, a property owner may apply to the Agency for funding and financing of a Qualifying Improvement. The non-ad valorem assessments contemplated by this notice are voluntary and are only imposed by the Agency with the prior written consent authorized by or on behalf of affected property owners who determine to obtain financing for Qualifying Improvements from the Agency. The Agency is authorized by law to fund and finance Qualifying Improvements and is required to annually collect property by non-ad valorem assessments. The Board will consider the adoption of a resolution electing to use the uniform method of collecting such assessments as authorized by Section 197.3632, Florida Statutes, at a public hearing to be held at 1:00 p.m. on October 30, 2018, at the River to Sea Transportation Planning Organization Executive Conference Room, 2570 W International Speedway Boulevard, Suite 100, Daytona Beach, Florida. Such resolution will state the need for the levy and will contain a legal description of the boundaries of the real property that may be subject to the levy - which is the entirety of the State of Florida. Copies of the proposed form of resolution are on file at the office of Counterpointe Energy Solutions (FL) LLC, Third Party Administrator for the Florida PACE Funding Agency, 2600 Milliland Center Parkway, Suite 163, Milliland, Florida 32751, email: gov@counterpointe.com. All interested persons are invited to present oral comments at the public hearing and/or submit written comments to the Board at the above address. Written comments should be received by the Agency on or before October 29, 2018. Any persons desiring to present oral comments should appear at the public hearing.

In the event any person decides to appeal any decision by the Board with respect to any matter relating to the consideration of the resolution at the referenced public hearing, a record of the proceeding may be needed and in such an event, such person may need to ensure that a verbatim record of the public hearing is made, which record includes the testimony and evidence on which the appeal is to be based.

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 286.26, Florida Statutes, persons with disabilities needing special accommodation to participate in such public hearing should contact the River to Sea Transportation Planning Organization at (386) 226-0422 at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to the date of the public hearing.

OFF MY WAVE.

MS
National Multiple Sclerosis Society

Ocean Beach native and local surf legend Steve Bettis was diagnosed with MS in 2006. Although surfing is still central to his life, he hasn't been able to get out on the water in 10 years. For a man whose daily routine always included a few waves, more than a decade out of the surf is just too long. This is why the National MS Society teamed up with his buddy Robert "Wingnut" Weaver and used virtual reality to get Steve back on his wave. See their experience and find out how you can share yours at WeAreStrongerThanMS.org.
