Mercury study targets fishermen

PALM BAY, Fla. — Some people who fish and eat local seafood in central Florida are being asked to take part in a research study to learn how fish consumption influences mercury exposure in humans. Florida Atlantic University's Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institute researchers will collect hair samples for mercury testing July 17 at The Lagoon House in Palm Bay. People will also be asked to fill out a brief questionnaire.

Florida Today reported the results of the study will be shared with the community to highlight specific species and consumption levels.

The human body tends to shed mercury through the hair and nails. Hair samples can show whether someone has been exposed to too much mercury.

Officials said the most at-risk for mercury problems are children and pregnant women.

served tossing items from the vehicle in his escape bid, but ended up trapping himself at a boat ramp to the Withlacoochee River.

Barker first tried to make a U-turn, then bailed from the vehicle as officers gave chase on foot before eventually diving into the river. He swam across to the other bank and then decided to return and surrender to authorities reportedly Barker started back across the river when he ran into trouble, and it took the efforts of a deputy and other local residents to rescue him.

Emergency medical aid was summoned. While they were waiting for EMS, officers read Barker his rights and he volunteered to answer some questions.

According to the report, he told investigators he had been using methamphetamines and hadn't slept for two days and that someone only known to him as JP gave him the car to drive to a narcotics deal, but was unable to pinpoint the exact date.

Investigators also noticed stolen golf clubs, knives and electronic equipment in the stolen vehicle.

Barker was transported to Citrus Memorial Hospital for medical checkup and released. He reportedly later admitted to possessing the stolen vehicle and the thefts of the items found in it.

He was arrested and transported to Citrus County Jail.

Scallop season in full swing as harvesters hit the water

Staff Writer

The first of the month marked the beginning of one of the most anticipated seasons in the county scallop season.

Droves of boats packed the boat ramps and waterways Sunday as harvesters hit the brackish waters to find the delectable mollusks.

The recreational season, which starts July 1 and normally closes Sept. 1, will now end Sept. 25. The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) decided last week to extend the season by two weeks, leaving people more time to grab up their fair share of scallops. In 2010 and 2011, FWC

Prosecutors in January 2009 amended the misdemeanor charge to disorderly conduct, to which Cummins pleaded no contest. A judge withheld adjudication and fined Cummins $500 plus court costs, according to the Pasco County Clerk of Courts' website.

Cummins never spent a day in court or jail. Though technically arrested on the solicitation charge, deputies issued him a written noticeto-appear citation.

At the time, Cummins had just been hired as the Lecanto High School baseball coach. He also was a physical education teacher at the Cypress Creek Academy juvenile prison in Lecanto, where he recently was appointed school principal.

Scott's dispute with justices draws rebuke

Gov. Rick Scott may not be familiar with songwriter Sonny Curtis' 1960's hit "I fought the law and the law won.'

The Republican governor seems to still be fighting the law even after a veteran prosecutor dismissed an investigation into possible wrongdoing by three Florida Supreme Court justices as "trifle."

State Attorney Willie Meggs announced Thursday there was no reason to continue the investigation. Scott is now looking to a suit in a Leon County court filed by an out-of-state legal group to disqualify the justices.

Scott could replace the justices with his own picks if they fail to win retention or are removed from the ballot.

His actions have drawn rebuke from a group that includes Stanley Tate, a Republican who founded Florida's Prepaid College Tuition Program.

DOH: Boil water from wells affected by Debby

The Florida Department of Health is advising residents with private wells affected by floods from Tropical Storm Debby to take precautions and make sure their water is safe to drink.

The agency said well owners in flooded areas should boil water for at least one minute before use to make sure it isn't contaminated with disease-causing organisms.

Any water used for drinking, cooking, washing dishes, brushing teeth or making ice should be boiled or disinfected. The agency also advises using bottled water, especially for mixing baby formula.

Once the flooding subsides residents should disinfect wells with procedures available from local health departments. The DOH urges well owners to have their water tested as well.

Group to appeal ruling on campaign regulations

A libertarian legal organization plans to appeal a ruling that let stand many state regulations on groups of individuals who campaign for or against ballot initiatives.

U.S. District Judge Robert Hinkle rejected a challenge to Florida campaign finance laws that require grassroots groups to comply with a host of regulations. He also upheld a requirement that political committees include a lengthy disclaimer in their political advertisements.

Under Florida law, whenever two or more people get together and spend as little as $500 to support or oppose a ballot issue, they are required to register with the state as a "political committee" and comply with numerous regulations.

Shira Rawlinson, spokeswoman for the Arlington, Va.based Institute for Justice, said Thursday they will appeal the decision that was issued late Tuesday.

The popular Citrus County restaurant Front Porch sustained major damage last month when a car plowed through the establishment. The eatery, in south Dunnellon on U.S. 41, has reopened.

Front Porch restaurant reopens after being damaged by out-of-control SUV

SHEMIR WILES Staff Writer

DUNNELLON — It took sweat, hard work and an awful lot of tears, but thanks to the immense support of the community, the Front Porch restaurant reopened Tuesday to hungry customers and the smiles of employees who were pleased to be back at work.

"It's been going great," restaurant manager Kathleen Cunningham said Thursday. "The customers showed up in support, and my employees are happy.'

The popular eatery in northern Citrus County was closed after an out-of-control Ford Explorer sideswiped a car, skidded along the shoulder of U.S. 41 and then slammed broadside into the building, causing extensive damage.

The impact knocked down a brick wall that separated the office from a dining area, sending debris throughout the restaurant.

Though the driver, 44-year-old David Bosley of Dunnellon, was injured, no one was hurt in the restaurant. Charges against Bosley are pending blood alcohol concentration results, according to Florida Highway Patrol. Following the accident, owner

Mary Scully and her family vowed to reopen the 27-year-old business. How long it would take was a mystery.

However, Cunningham said loyal customers, the restaurant's employees and several family members — including her sisters and restaurant managers, Debra Pricher and Gail Barr, and her brother-in-law, Michael Barr — toiled nearly every day for about six weeks to repair the damaged building.

"We all pulled together and worked as a family," she said. "So it helped."

Even other local restaurants extended a hand.

Cunningham said customers would stop at the restaurant every day to ask if they were opened yet and if there was anything they could do to help.

'We love our customers and thank God for them," she said. On Tuesday, Cunningham said it felt like day one all over again. 'We were slammed," she said. "It was wonderful."

Though the Front Porch typically closes in August, Cunningham said the restaurant would be staying open next month for the first time in 26 years, mainly because the employees can't afford not to work. During the six weeks repairs were being done, employees weren't able to work and have an income.

week because she couldn't pay them," Cunningham said.

Nevertheless, out of the 30 people they employ, only two people left.

"Most stuck with us," she said. So far, Cunningham said the customers are enjoying the small changes, including the extra floor space. The rented chairs haven't been much of a hit, but Cunningham swears new comfy chairs are on their way.

With such a great turnout over the past few days, Cunningham couldn't help but boast about the community's unwavering aid through such a trying ordeal. It's one of the things she loves most about Dunnellon.

"This is a great community," she said. Chronicle reporter Shemir Wiles can be reached at 352-564-2924 or swiles@chronicleonline.com.

"He's very happy to be out," Don West, one of Zimmerman's attorneys, told reporters outside the jail. "Certainly it's been a sober-last month in jail in that kind of environment."

Zimmerman had been released on a $150,000 bond in April in the shooting of the unarmed black teenager, but the judge revoked it last month after prosecutors presented evidence that he and his wife misled the court about how much money they had available to pay for the bond. They didn't tell the judge that donations from a website for Zimmerman's legal defense had raised around $135,000 at the time of his first bond

NEW YORK — For almost three years, no matter what has rattled the financial markets — a agreed to settle a patent disdebt crisis in Europe, high gasoline prices, a slower economy investors have been soothed by rising corporate profits.

The storyline became as predictable as a soap opera's. But when the latest round of corporate earnings starts rolling in next week, look for a twist: Profits are expected to fall.

Stock analysts expect earnings for companies in the Standard & Poor's 500 index to decline 1 percent for April through June compared with the year before, according to S&P Capital IQ, the research arm of S&P.

That would break a streak of 10 quarters of gains that started in the final quarter of 2009. Over recent weeks, a motley

Yahoo, Facebook settle dispute SAN FRANCISCO -

Facebook and Yahoo have nute averting a notentially lengthy battle over the technology running two of the Internet's most popular destinations. In dropping the lawsuits, the companies agreed to license their patents to each They are also agreeing to an advertising alliance that expands their existing partnership.

The advertising alliance could help Yahoo recover some of the revenue that it has been losing as marketers shift more of their spending to a larger and more engaged audience on Facebook's online social network. Friday's settlement involves no exchange of money and comes after a months-long patent squabble between the two Internet icons.

Retailers sue Pfizer over drug delay TRENTON, N.J. — Five large drug and grocery chains are suing Pfizer Inc. and a second drugmaker, alleging they conspired to delay sales of cheap generic versions of the blockbuster cholesterol drug Lipitor.

Lipitor, the world's top-selling drug ever, had peak sales of nearly $13 billion a year several years ago. Sales dropped sharply after it got U.S. generic competition on Nov. 30.

The lawsuit, filed Thursday by Walgreen Co., the Kroger Co. and three other retailers in U.S. District Court in Trenton, N.J., claims generics should have been available nearly two years earlier, when Lipitor's original patent expired.

The suit accuses Pfizer of patent fraud as well as "illegal, anti-competitive conduct" with generic drugmaker Ranbaxy Laboratories of India to block other generic drugmakers from selling versions of Lipitor until recently.

Restaurant coming back

I just want to express how refreshing it was a couple days ago.

Nice doc

I had to go see a cardiologist locally, and he was the first doctor I have met in the area (who) didn't come to me in his appointment room in scrubs. My appointment had been delayed because the cardiologist was at the hospital doing some emergency work, but he still took the extra effort to put his white coat on and look like a doctor when he met me in his exam room in his office. What a pleasure.

World news

I would like to make a comment on the Chronicle about all their stories involving South American countries, countries (such as) Kenya, animal stories that have nothing to do with Citrus County or the U.S. government or what we really need to know about the political atmosphere in this county, Citrus County, and the United States of America. ... Why don't you print the truth and print the stories that have some kind of meaningful worthiness instead of this stupid stuff that you're printing about things that are happening in Kenya. We don't care about what happens in Kenya. It's none of my business. The U.S.A. is my business, and I hope you print this out.

Illegal water use

Some folks never follow the rules ... We are having to dig deeper on our well water, due to the neighbor's illegal use of watering his yard almost daily.

Good day

I'm calling the Chronicle (because) I want to thank them for printing about the grand opening of the Central Bank.

When we went, it was very educational for my grandson and I. I got him fingerprinted, DNA, and we learned a lot from the fire department.

The food was great and one of your sponsors, Daisy Cakes, (made) the cupcakes (that) were delicious. I happened to be one of the winners (who) won a dozen cupcakes and I picked them up and they're fantastic.

So thank you for a wonderful day. Thank you for allowing me to enter a contest to win a dozen cupcakes from Daisy Cupcakes, which were delicious.

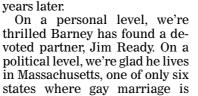

Thank you, and I had a wonderful time for my grandson and

On the side of love

ur friend Barney is getting in President Obama's phrase. married. That's hardly newsworthy — this is the wedding season, after all — except for one thing. Barney's last name is Frank, he was the first gay congressman to talk openly about his sexuality. Now he's the first to have a legal wedding.

We have known and loved Barney for a long time. He and Steve Press: "The numbers are inex-

We met at one of those political functions (Cokie was at Wellesley; our dorms were 12.5 miles apart) and Barney was usher in our wedding in 1966. So it's a special moment to celebrate his marriage almost 46 legal. He and Jim have a right that all same-sex couples should enjoy, but we didn't always believe that and neither did Barney. A supremely practical politician, Barney once worried that gay marriage was reaching too far and expecting too much from the political system. But he changed and so did we. We came to understand that Barney, like many other gay friends, wanted the same things that straight couples were searching for: a hand to hold, a heart to share.

Our "evolution" on this issue, mirrors the rest of the country. The latest Washington Post/ABC News poll shows that a majority of Americans, 53 percent, now favor legalizing gay marriage. In California, long a harbinger of social trends, that figure is 59 perand pollster DeCamillo tells The Associated > orably moving in one direction. Older folks, who are more in opposition, are dying out and younger folks are more inclined to support it. It's not rocket science."

The single biggest reason for this shift is not ideology but experience. Take Lynne Cheney, the former vice president's wife, a conservative hardliner who once bristled with anger when Cokie asked about her gay daughter, Mary, in a TV interview. Yet last month, when Mary married her longtime partner, Heather Poe, in Washington, D.C., the elder Cheneys issued a statement describing the couple and their two children as "muchloved members of our family."

The two women "have been in committed relationship for many years," said the statement, 'and we are delighted that they were able to take advantage of the opportunity to have that relationship recognized." Good for them. But that "opportunity" was only available because Washington recognizes same-sex unions. Most gay couples are still waiting for equality, and that battle is being fought on several fronts.

One is legal. Two major cases are likely to reach the Supreme Court next term. One challenges the Defense of Marriage Act, which defines marriage as a union between a man and a woman and bars same-sex couples from receiving federal benefits like joint tax returns. The other asks the court to overrule Proposition 8, a ban on gay marriage approved by California voters in 2008.

There is ample reason for the court to approve same-sex marriage under the equal protection clause of the Constitution. Why should Barney and Jim, and Heather and Mary, enjoy a right while it's denied to many others? But even if the court shies away from legalization, the political process is moving in that direction.

A good example of why is Maureen Walsh, a Republican state legislator in Washington state who opposed same-sex unions until her daughter came out as gay. Then she changed. "It's selfishness, but it's motivated by love," she told The New York Times, "and I'd rather err on the side of love, wouldn't you?'

Role models are also important here. Barney made a huge impact by openly disclosing his sexuality years ago, and so did TV anchor Anderson Cooper when he recently announced that he was gay. As Cooper put it, "The tide of history only advances when people make themselves fully visible.'

Our friend Barney knows the truth of those words. He's lived a public life full of wit and courage. When he retires from Congress at the end of the year, we hope he and Jim get the chance to "err on the side of love." They deserve it. So does every couple, gay or straight.

Flag rules

I got curious about the protocol of when it is appropriate to fly the U.S. flag at half staff. Here is a copy of the "rules" for those who got upset about the decision to honor a county citizen, Mr. Gary Maidhof.

Only the president of the United States or the governor of the state may order the flag to be at half-staff to honor the death of a national or state figure. In addition to the traditional half-staff salutes, the flag code mentions the use of our flag for honoring leading citizens such as Martin Luther King Jr.

Private citizens and those in charge of non-government buildings may choose to fly their flags at half-staff to honor more local leaders. The flag code does not exclude any citizen, whether they belong to an organization or not, whether they are recognized locally or regionally. Examples of deceased citizens who might be honored by lowering the flag to half-staff include local religious leaders, youth leaders, honored teachers or sports coaches, local politicians and local heroes. There need be no authorization from the govern-

Political move

Why should the Justice Department prosecute Attornev General Eric Holder when his involvement in the "bungled" attempt to identify Mexican cartel leaders and eradicate them failed? Those directly involved in the scheme continue to support it. It was not a crime. It will not be prosecuted. It is ludicrous. It is a political ploy by the House of Representatives intended only to denigrate the government but will end in belittling themselves as well. It's another case of our House of Representatives failing to provide the bipartisan government we deserve.

Abandoned beluga calf saved

Specialists at Alaska aquarium helping young whale learn to drink from bottle

Associated Press

SEWARD, Alaska — Marine mammal specialists from across the country have descended on an Alaska aquarium to help care for a baby beluga whale that be-mother shortly after its birth. The male calf is under 24hour care at the Alaska SeaLife Center in Seward, being fed by a stomach tube while learning how to suckle from a bottle.

"He's currently doing very well, swimming on his own and he has been from the first time he got here, learning to take food from a bottle, which has been challenging," said Tara Riemer Jones, the center's president and CEO. It's believed to be the first baby beluga rescue in the United States, at least since federal record keeping began in 1972, she said. Other attempts at rescue resulted in calf deaths or in one case, the calf being returned to its pod. specialists have been helping with the animal's care, including staff members from the Georgia Aquarium in Atlanta, Shedd Aquarium in Chicago and SeaWorld in San Diego.

"It's actually a pretty unprecedented event in certain ways," said Dennis Christen, the Georgia Aquarium's director of animal training who was in place 29 hours after the calf arrived in Seward.

The whale was estimated to be 2 days old when it was found near South Naknek, in Alaska's Bristol Bay, on June 18. Officials believe a storm likely separated the calf from its mother.

Tim Lebling, the Alaska SeaLife Center's stranding coordinator, flew to South Naknek that afternoon to retrieve the calf. back to Seward in dry transport. Lebling said the calf suits and in the pool. was placed on an air mat-pressure on vital organs, and then constantly covered with wet towels.

Lebling said it was touchand-go for the first part of the flight, probably because

'We thought he took his came separated from its last breath at one point," Lebling said, but then he breathed again.

Even though the beluga is still in critical care, caregivers are guardedly optimistic about rehabilitation.

Survival odds for an animal this age coming into a stranding program are low, said Brett Long, the husbandry director at the center.

We take it a day at a time," he said. "We're very happy to see that we appear to be meeting its nutritional goals and that it's maintaining its weight, and we're seeing slow, incremental weight gain."

The calf is now about 5 feet long and weighs 115 pounds, up 5 pounds since his arrival.

The biggest worry now is It's such a rare event that the calf's immune system, which is insufficiently developed because it did not receive any of its mother's milk.

"We are working with other aquariums to provide supplements that will help aid the development of that immune system, but it's a waiting game," Long said.

Jones said there is nothing specifically wrong with the calf medically "other than he's young and at high-risk."

'We're not going to say it hasn't been without some bumps in the road," Christen said. "We're very confident we're on the right path here, but it's still an animal that's in critical care, and we have to be guarded in our optimism, and we're just hopeful we're on the right path.'

He's being kept out of the pool being fed warmer water and in a sanitary environment. The hope is to move him soon to a larger pool, which can be seen from behind glass inside the Alaska SeaLife Center.

It's running about $2,000 a day to care for the calf, and that's not including the cost of the visiting marine mammal specialists.

Jones said the cost will strain the private, nonprofit research center's stranding program budget for the year, and officials are talking with potential donors and possibly setting up a donation matching program for individuals. If the calf survives, he'll public's view for now in a never see the open ocean again since there is no way now for humans to teach him survival skills.

The National Marine Fisheries Service will eventually decide where he will be placed.

There are a number of facilities that would make a great home for this young whale, with companion animals that would likely accept him into their kind of family unit," Christen said.

Because facilities that take in animals like to be part of the naming process, the Alaska SeaLife Center hasn't yet given the calf a name.

But that hasn't stopped most everyone caring for from calling him

More states freed from 'No Child' law

SEATTLE — Although more than half the states are now exempt from the toughest requirements of the federal "No Child Left Behind" education law, Education Secretary Arne Duncan said Friday his goal remains to help Congress fix the law, not to sidestep the stalled overhaul effort.

The Obama administration's announcement Friday that Washington and Wisconsin have been granted waivers from the education law brought to 26 the number of states now free from many of its requirements.

Allowing waivers has brought a level of creativity to education reform that was unexpected when Duncan and President Barack Obama opened the waiver process nearly a year ago.

Congress could come up with a great plan for reauthorizing the federal law by adopting the best ideas from the states' waiver applications, Duncan said at a news conference Friday.

Lawmakers remain at a stalemate over the long overdue rewrite of the widely criticized law, which was a signature accomplishment of the George W. Bush administration. Obama sent Congress an overhaul proposal two years ago.

US scores win against Afghan IEDs

WASHINGTON — Almost afraid to say it out loud, lest they jinx their record, U.S. troops in Afghanistan achieved one small but important victory over the past year: They found and avoided more homemade bombs meant to kill and maim them than a year ago, thanks to a surge in training, equipment and intelligence.

Weak jobs report could hurt president

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The American job machine has jammed. Again.

The economy added only 80,000 jobs in June, the government said Friday, erasing any doubt that the United States is in a summer slump for the third year

"Let's just agree: This number stinks," said Dan Greenhaus, chief global strategist at the investment firm BTIG.

It was the third consecutive month of weak job growth. From April through June, the economy produced an average of just 75,000 jobs a month, the weakest three since through October 2010.

The unemployment rate stayed at 8.2 percent — a recession-level figure, even though the Great Recession has technically been over for three years.

The numbers could hurt President Barack Obama's odds for re-election. Mitt Romney, the presumed Republican nominee, said they showed that Obama, in three and a half years on the job, had not "gotten America working again."

"And the president is going to have to stand up and take responsibility for it," Romney said in Wolfeboro, N.H. "This kick in the gut has got to end."

Obama, on a two-day bus tour through the contested states of Ohio and Pennsylvania, focused on private companies, which added 84,000 jobs in June, and took a longer view of the economic recovery.

"Businesses have created 4.4 million new jobs over the past 28 months, including 500.000 new manufacturing jobs," the president said. "That's a step in the right direction."

The Labor Department's report on job creation and unemployment is the most closely watched monthly indicator of the U.S. economy. There are four reports remaining before Election Day, including one on Friday, Nov. 2, four days before Americans vote.

No president since World War II has faced re-election with unemployment over 8 percent. It was 7.8 percent when Gerald Ford lost to Jimmy Carter in 1976. Ronald Reagan faced 7.2 percent unemployment in 1984 and trounced Walter Mondale.

Patrick Sims, director of research at the consulting firm Hamilton Place Strategies, said that "time has run out" for unemployment to fall below 8 percent by Election Day.

That would require an average of about 220,000 jobs a month from July through October — more like the economy's performance from January through March, when it averaged 226,000 per month. Few economic analysts expect anything close to that.

CRYSTAL RIVER — Friday night's District 15 All-Stars Tournament game between Major Baseball rivals Inverness and Central Citrus proved exciting as both teams fought for a coveted semifinal spot.

Tied 5-5 in the fourth inning, it looked to be anyone's game before Inverness scored twice. Then Inverness slugger Dustin Taylor's fifth-inning two-run homer (after a George McKenzie double) took the game far out of Central Citrus' reach as Inverness blasted home with the 9-5 win. "It was a good game," Inverness head coach Jason Shepherd said. "They played hard, they were a strong team. I think the key for us today was (Preston Shepherd), who went four innings (on the mound) for us and was solid the whole time.

"I'm very proud of the kids," Shepherd continued. "They all did an excellent job.'

Shepherd was 2 for 3 at the plate while striking out four from the mound.

Inverness finished 2-1 in Pool A as the runner-up to Crystal River. With the win over Central Citrus, the team clinched a spot in the Major Baseball semifinals against Pool B winner Dunnellon.

In the other semifinal, Crystal River will face Pool B runner-up West Hernando, who defeated Greater Hudson 2-1 on Friday night. Both games will be at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Sign up for swimming lessons

Special to the Chronicle

Group swim lessons are offered at Central Ridge Community Pool in Beverly Hills. There are a variety of classes available, including preschool, youth and adult. There are also infant/toddler classes offered for infants age 6 months and older. Swim sessions generally consist of eight lessons; several sessions are offered throughout the summer until Aug. 4.

Registration forms are available at www.ymcasuncoast.org under Locations/Citrus County. Online registration is available for those who have an active membership with the Citrus County YMCA. Registration packets may also be picked up at the YMCA office, 3909 N. Lecanto Highway, Beverly Hills, Whispering Pines Park and Homosassa Springs Wildlife State Park. For more information, call 352-637-0132.

Register now for swim lessons

Whispering Pines Pool is accepting registrations for July swim lessons.

American Red Cross lessons incorporate important safety talks into each lesson and bring an extra element of fun and safety into the mix. Cost for an eight-class session is $35.

Call Inverness Parks and Recreation at 352-726-3913.

Get in shape for summer

The YMCA offers an outdoor boot camp at King's Bay Park. Boot camp classes are from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday. The program fee is $35 per month.

This energetic workout will get you in shape by combining cardio, strength and core conditioning with lots of fun. It is everything you need to burn fat and calories, plus it is designed for all levels of fitness because everyone works out at their own pace.

Here is what you will need to get started: water, a towel and dumbbells that weigh 5 to 8 pounds. Just show up at the park to get started.

For more information, call 352-637 0132 or visit www.ymcasuncoast.org.

Horse around at camp this summer

Solquili Stables at Faith Haven Christian Retreat Center in Crystal River will host Camp Soquili in eight one-week sessions during July. Camp will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Learn to groom, tack and care for your horse's daily needs. Learn to ride Western. Space is limited and filling quickly. Contact Merlyn or Diane to re-

Inverness offers lifeguard camp

Whispering Pines Park and the city of Inverness will offer Junior Lifeguard Camp 2012 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. July 30 to Aug. 4. Cost is $50 for a six-day session. There is only one available session left.

The camp is to give young people (ages 11 to 14) the opportunity to experience the role of a professional lifeguard in a fun learning environment. Participants will learn the fundamentals of lifeguarding, gain basic knowledge of CPR and first aid, and learn basic water rescue techniques. On the final day of the camp, participants will present a demonstration to parents with skills learned over the course of the week.

Junior lifeguards can expect to participate in fun and challenging leadership and team-building activities as well as physical fitness.

In order to become a city of Inverness junior lifeguard, candidates must pass three prerequisites: swim front crawl for 25 yards; submerge to a depth of 10 feet; and tread water for one minute.

Space is limited. Call 352-726-3913.

Registration still open for YMCA camp

Citrus County YMCA is into its 2012 Summer Adventure Camp, and registration is beginning to increase rapidly as Citrus County residents make their summer plans.

Adventure Camp — "Where Learning & Fun Come Together" — will be at two locations: Whispering Pines Park in Inverness and the Ellie Schiller Homosassa Springs Wildlife State Park in Homosassa. Each week of camp has a separate theme and will incorporate activities such as sports, arts/crafts and field trips, but will also focus on literacy, as well.

Field trips planned for the campers this summer include MOSI, Lowry Park Zoo. The Florida Aquarium and Tampa Bay Rays game.

Campers may choose the weeks they want to attend based on the unique theme of each week. Camp is open for ages 5 to 12, with a counselorin-training program for ages 13 to 15. The Y's Summer Day Camp will run 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Aug. 3, with extended care from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. for no extra charge. Financial assistance is available to those who qualify.

Registration forms are available at www.ymcasuncoast.org under Locations/Citrus County. Online registration is available for those who have an active membership with the Citrus County YMCA. Registration packets may also

On Monday, July 2, Camp Fusion took a trip to Lowe's in Inverness. With the help of Lowe's and Camp Fusion, staff campers built their own Goofy Golf Game. Remember parents, it's not too late to sign your child or children up for this fun and educational day camp.

Summer tennis at Whispering Pines Park

David Waterman, USPTA tennis professional, returns again this year to Whispering Pines Park to provide a tennis camp for children in kindergarten through eighth grade. The remaining camp weeks are: July 9 to 13 and July 23 to 27.

The camp takes place 9 to 10:30 a.m. Monday through Thursday at the Whispering Pines Tennis Courts. Cost is $75 per week; a $50 deposit is required at the time of registration and the remaining $25 must be paid on or before the first day of camp. Cash or check only.

Register at Whispering Pines Park administration office, 1700 Forest Drive. Inverness. or call 352-425-8160 or 352-726-3913 for more information.

B&GC extend enrollment for summer camp

The Boys & Girls Clubs of Citrus

County has extended enrollment for summer camp in all three locations: mosassa. Call and apply today for children to attend an action-packed summer camp program where they will not only have fun with other children, but participate in swimming, bowling, skating, reading, sports, recreation, arts, crafts, cooking, computer lab/games, science and leadership programs, along with indoor and outdoor games.

Exciting summer fun and educational activities are planned around different themes each week. Special field trips are offered to the Clearwater Aquarium, MOSI, IMAX Theatre, Weeki Wachee, Buccaneer Bay and Two Tails Ranch for retired elephants.

The Boys & Girls Club Summer Camp will run through Aug. 3. Camp doors open at 6:30 a.m. (7 a.m. in Inverness) and close at 6 p.m. daily. Cost is $80 per week, with a discount for a second child.

As children continue to register for summer camp and the field trips draw near, any businesses or individuals still wishing to sponsor children for the field trips or scholarships for camp should call the administrative office at 352-621-9225.

For more information or to enroll a child, parents may call club directors at their sites. Call Amy at the Central Ridge Club at 352-270-8841 in Beverly Hills; Amber at the Evelyn Waters Club at 352-341-2507 in Inverness: and Beth at the Robert Halleen Club at 352-795-8624 in Homosassa.

Camp Fusion in full swing for summer

Citrus County Parks & Recreation's summer youth camp program, Camp Fusion, is under way.

There are still openings for campers. Camp Fusion is for children ages 6 to 10 years; 6-year-olds must have attended kindergarten before the start of summer and 10-year-olds cannot have started middle school. Camp Fusion offers a variety of activities throughout the week to keep campers on their toes and entertained. The flow of each week will include sports, games, movies at the mall and swimming at Bicentennial Park Pool. There will also be field trips, guest speakers, and many other activities.

There is a one-time registration fee of $25. Camp Fusion accepts weekly, as well as daily registrations. All staff are trained in CPR and first aid, and have been background checked. The weekly fees are $60 per child for regular care and $75 per child per week for extended care; daily drop-off is available for $20. Regular care hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; extended hours are 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Camp Fusion will participate in the free meal program through July 27. Free breakfast and lunch are offered on site at the Renaissance Center, Monday through Thursday. Breakfast is provided each morning and lunch is provided on specified dates to be determined. This free meal program is sponsored by the Citrus County School System.

For more information about Camp Fusion, call 352-527-7540 or visit www.citruscountyparks.com.

Madagascar 2 coming to Movie in the Park

Come join Citrus County Parks & Recreation for its next Movie in the Park Event.

The next movie will be Madagascar: Escape 2 Africa (rated PG), which will be shown on Saturday, July 14, at Lecanto Community Park. (3505 W. Educational Path, Lecanto 34461) Bring the whole family out to enjoy this fun and free event. The movie will begin at dusk.

We will provide the popcorn, you make the memories.

Parks & Rec to host Jazzerkamp

Citrus County Parks & Recreation will host its Jazzerkamp this summer. The camp includes Jazzercise dance to provide fun and fitness for its campers. Camp will be from July 16 to 20 at the Citrus County Canning Center, 3425 W. Southern St., Lecanto.

Cost is $75 for the week; participation is limited to the first 50 registrants. For more information, call Parks & Recreation at 352-465-7007.

Summer co-ed softball signups now

Co-ed summer softball is back again and hosted by Citrus County Parks and Recreation. This league is designed for levels of all play; however, if there are enough teams, there will be divisions set up for this summer season.

The league plays on Tuesday and Thursday nights at Bicentenial Park in Crystal River with games at 6:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Each team is required to have a minimum of four females each game. Each team may roster up to 25 participants.

The last chance to register will be Monday, July 23 at the Citrus County Resource Center in Lecanto. There is a registration fee required to sign a team up. Team fees are based on the number of entries per league and are divided up equally amongst the teams.

For more information, call Corey Edwards at 352-527-7540. If you are a single player wanting to play, call and Parks and Recreation will aid you in finding a team.

Co-ed kickball league held at Bicentennial park

If you ever thought of joining the thrilling world of kickball, well here's your chance. The next season of Citrus County Parks & Recreation's coed kickball league is coming up.

Kickball is an exciting game that can be played by people of all ages. It's a great way to meet new people and get a little exercise while having fun. You must be 18 years old to participate. Game times will be at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. Games will last one hour or nine innings, whichever occurs first. All games are held at Bicentennial Park in Crystal River.

If you have a business, group of friends, or maybe a close neighborhood this is a great way to build some teamwork and have some fun bonding time. For more information, call Andy Smith, Parks & Recreation supervisor, at 352-400-0960.

Go to the game with squadron

The Crystal River Sail and Power Squadron, affiliated with the United States Sail and Power Squadron, will host a day trip Thursday, July 19, to Tropicana Field to support the Tampa Bay Rays in a game against the Cleveland Indians.

The price includes bus and ticket for Press Level seating. For cost and more information, call Norm Overfield at 352-586-8620. The United States Sail and Power Squadrons and their local affiliates promote safer boating

The Tampa Bay Rays' Ben Zobrist, right, is congratulated by Desmond Jennings after Zobrist hit a two-run home run off Cleveland Indians starting pitcher Justin Masterson in the first inning Friday in Cleveland.

Rays bomb away at Indians

Tampa Bay evens series following 10-3 victory Friday

Associated Press

CLEVELAND — Luke Scott snapped his team-record hitless streak with a two-run homer and the Tampa Bay Rays broke out of their slump by routing the Cleveland Indians 10-3 Friday night.

Scott was 0 for 41 since June 1 until connecting against Justin Masterson (5-8) in a six-run fifth inning. Tampa Bay had scored more than four runs in a game only once in its previous 11 contests.

Alex Cobb (4-5) overcame a shaky start to pitch six innings and win for the second time in seven decisions since May 30.

Ben Zobrist had a two-run homer, Jose Lobaton a two-run single and Elliot Johnson a two-run double as the Rays broke Cleveland's threegame win streak and improved to 5-13 against the AL Central.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees 10, Red Sox 8

BOSTON — Mark Teixeira hit a tworun single in the Yankees' five-run first inning and a two-run triple in the seventh to give them the lead for good as New York beat the Boston Red Sox 10-8.

Alex Rodriguez had three hits and Curtis Granderson scored three times for the Yankees, who improved to 3-0 against Boston this year.

David Ortiz and Adrian Gonzalez had three hits apiece for Boston, and Jarrod Saltalamacchia hit a three-run homer to help the Red Sox rally after Josh Beckett gave up five runs in the top of the first inning.

Tigers 4, Royals 2

DETROIT — Rookie Drew Smyly struck out a career-high 10 in six impressive innings and Delmon Young homered as the Detroit Tigers beat the Kansas City Royals 4-2.

The win got the Tigers (42-42) back to .500 for the first time since May 15. They had failed the last eight times when needing one win to reach the mark.

Smyly (4-3) allowed two runs on six hits. Smyly didn't walk a batter. Four Detroit relievers finished, with Jose Valverde pitching the ninth for his 16th save in 19 tries.

White Sox 4, Blue Jays 2

CHICAGO — Jake Peavy pitched onerun ball into the eighth inning for his first victory since May 26, A.J. Pierzynski homered and the Chicago White Sox won their fourth straight by beating the Toronto Blue Jays 4-2.

On a night when the game-time temperature was 91, the White Sox finally got Peavy some runs and helped him end his skid. He'd been 0-4 in his previous four starts — throwing two complete games when Chicago scored only two runs total during those losses. Peavy (7-5) allowed five hits in 7 1/3 innings, walked two and struck out seven. He threw 115 pitches on the steamy night and left to a big ovation after retiring the leadoff hitter in the eighth.

Addison Reed earned his 13th save in 14 chances despite giving up a run in the ninth.

Twins 5, Rangers 1

ARLINGTON, Texas — Joe Mauer and Justin Morneau drove in two runs each, Francisco Liriano pitched around six walks and the Minnesota Twins handed the Texas Rangers their season-high fifth straight loss with a 5-1 win.

Liriano (3-7) allowed five hits and one run with six strikeouts in 6 2/3 innings, and the Rangers scored two runs or fewer for the fourth time in five games. The Twins touched Rangers rookie left-hander Martin Perez (1-1) for four runs in first four innings, but two were unearned after first baseman Mike Napoli misplayed a popup. Rangers slugger Josh Hamilton left the game with back spasms soon after misplaying Brian Dozier's fly ball for a threebase error and making a long throw from the warning track in the fifth inning.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Braves 5, Phillies 0 PHILADELPHIA — Brian McCann hit a grand slam, Tim Hudson tossed four-hit ball over seven innings and the Atlanta

Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-0 to spoil Ryan Howard's season debut.

Howard doubled in his first at-bat and was 2 for 4 in his first game since rupturing his left Achilles tendon on the final swing in a postseason elimination loss to St. Louis last October.

But even with their regulars together for the first time, the struggling Phillies generated nothing on offense. The fivetime defending NL East champions are a season-worst 11 games under .500. Hudson (7-4) nearly went pitch-forpitch with Kyle Kendrick, who also threw seven scoreless innings and allowed four hits. Kendrick had five strikeouts; Hudson had none. But Hudson got the W.

Cubs 8, Mets 7

NEW YORK — Anthony Rizzo hit a three-run homer and Cubs closer Carlos Marmol caught a line drive and started a game-ending double play that blunted the New York Mets' bid for another ninth-inning comeback, giving Chicago an 8-7 win.

Travis Wood won his fourth straight start while Mets ace Johan Santana was tagged for a career high-tying 13 hits in only 4 2-3 innings.

A night after they got two runs with two outs in the ninth to beat Philadelphia closer Jonathan Papelbon, the Mets scored three times off a wild Marmol.

Giants 6, Pirates 5

PITTSBURGH — Melky Cabrera hit his eighth homer of the season, Ryan Theriot drove in two runs and the San Francisco Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-5.

Barry Zito (7-6) survived five eventful innings to win for the second time in his last six starts as the Giants snapped a threegame losing streak. Sergio Romo worked the ninth for his fifth save while subbing for regular closer Santiago Casilla.

Andrew McCutchen had three hits to raise his batting average to a National League-leading .360. Pedro Alvarez and Casey McGehee added solo homers, but couldn't stop Pittsburgh from having its four-game winning streak snapped.

Rockies 5, Nationals 1

WASHINGTON — Tyler Colvin homered twice off Stephen Strasburg to back a masterful pitching performance by Drew Pomeranz and lead the Colorado Rockies past the Washington Nationals 5-1. Colvin hit a solo shot in the second inning and a two-run drive in the fourth to become the first player to hit two home runs against Strasburg in the same game. Colvin also singled in the sixth off Strasburg and hit a fly ball to the warning track against Ryan Mattheus in the eighth. Strasburg (9-4) allowed three runs, two earned, and eight hits in six innings. The All-Star struck out six and walked only one, but lost a third straight start for the first time in his three-year career. Brewers 7, Astros 1

HOUSTON — Norichika Aoki and

Ryan Braun hit consecutive homers in the first inning and Rickie Weeks later hit a two-run shot, leading Yovani Gallardo and the Milwaukee Brewers over the slumping Houston Astros 7-1. The Astros lost their season-worst four hits in six innings.

Free agent guard Ray Allen, formerly of the Boston Celtics, verbally agreed to join the Miami Heat late Friday night.

Allen leaving Celtics for Heat

Associated Press

MIAMI — Ray Allen will take less money for a chance at another NBA championship.

Allen told the Miami Heat on Friday night that he intends to accept their contract arrived in Miami on Thursoffer and leave Boston after five seasons, even though the Celtics could pay him about twice as much as the reigning NBA champions will be able to next season. Miami could only offer Allen the cide his future. mini mid-level, worth about $3 million for next season.

Heat owner Micky Arison tweeted the news just after 9:30 p.m. — or about 2:30 a.m. Saturday in Europe, where Arison has been for several days.

great news," Arison wrote. Welcome to the family (hash)20." Arison got the word from Heat President Pat Riley, who made Allen the team's top free-agent priority, especially in recent days. Allen day for a visit, went to dinner with Riley, coach Erik Spoelstra, team executive Alonzo Mourning and others Thursday night, then left Friday to presumably de-

Hours later, the choice was made. Allen's agent, James Tanner, confirmed the decision to The Associated Press not long after Arison's tweet.

Allen cannot officially sign until Wednesday because of "I was just woken up with the league's moratorium.

If Federer does win Sun-No. 1 ranking from Djokovic attacking." and equal Sampras' record of 286 weeks as the topranked player.

"There's obviously a lot on the line for me in terms of winning here, the all-time Grand Slam record, world with some pressure, but I'm excited about it. That's what I play for.'

Federer and Djokovic went for winners on almost every point. But it was Fedwhen they mattered in the third set.

"It's hard to fire bullets the whole time, so you try to also find some range. If he tees off first, it's hard to defend obviously," said Federer, now 1-0 against Djokovic on grass. "It's just not as easy to take that many balls out and come up with day in his 24th Grand Slam amazing shots time and time final, he would also take the again. That's why I kept on

> At 4-4, Djokovic had his chance with only his third break point of the match. Federer held with three service winners.

Pettersen moves up

Norwegian leads U.S. Women's Open

KOHLER, Wis. - Even as she climbed into the lead in the second round of the U.S. Women's Open on Friday, Suzann Pettersen took some time to admire Michelle Wie's big move into contention.

Pettersen, the Norwegian star ranked sixth in the world, shot a 4-under 68 at Blackwolf Run on Friday and moved to 5 under for the tournament. But Wie was even better on the day, carding a 6-under 66 to move to 4 under and put herself in position to break out of a season-long slump.

Wie was tied with Cristie Kerr, the 2007 Open winner, one stroke off the lead.

Pettersen was playing in the group directly behind Wie, giving her a pretty good view of what turned out to be an impressive display of accurate approach shots and made putts.

"She was fist-pumping, every putt she looked at," Pettersen said.

Tiger Woods misses cut at Greenbrier

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. — One week after he won for the third time this season, Tiger Woods gets a rare weekend off.

Woods missed the cut in the Greenbrier Classic by a stroke Friday, following an opening 71 with a 69 to finish at even par. He missed a cut for only the ninth time in his PGA Tour career, and for the third time in a tournament following a victory.

Phil Mickelson also failed to advance to weekend play, the first time Woods and Mickelson have missed the cut in the same tournament as professionals.

Mickelson shot his second straight 71.

U.S. Open champion Webb Simpson topped the leaderboard at 9 under when play was suspended because of darkness in the round that was delayed because of rain.

Busch wins Nationwide race |

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Kurt Busch won a wild Nationwide race at Daytona International Speedway on Friday night, holding off several challengers over the final hundred yards in a battered race car. Busch's victory was his second this season and first with Phoenix Racing. He won for his brother's team, Kyle Busch Motorsports, at Richmond.

The race had several crashes that left less than half the field on the lead lap green-whiteа checkered finish. Busch started the two-lap sprint pushing Austin Dillon, but made a move to the front with a lap left thanks to help from Ricky Stenhouse Jr., who was 11th on the final restart. Busch and Stenhouse held off Michael Annett and Dillon as they neared the finish line.

'We just won at Daytona!" Busch screamed.

Asked how he did it with a wrecked car and so much chaos around him, a crew member yelled, "But we've got Kurt Busch!'

"It's just passion and heart, that's all I can give,' said Busch, the 2004 NASCAR champion. "That's all I can do right now. To do this for (owner) James Finch, this is awesome. To be an underfunded team, to come out only four times a year ... it's amazing to do what we can with a little team and to persevere.

"And Ricky Stenhouse, in a Ford, thanks to him, this Chevrolet is in Victory Lane."

The win seemingly meant a lot to Busch, who was suspended for a weekend earlier this season by NASCAR Daytona 500. for verbally abusing a media member.

Matt Kenseth wins pole at Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Daytona 500 winner Matt Kenseth will start from the pole Saturday night at Daytona International Speedway, where he'll try to pull off a season sweep.

No driver since Bobby Allison in 1982 has won both NASCAR races at Daytona in the same season, but Kenseth thinks he has a good chance. The restrictor-plate package at Roush Fenway Racing is powerful, and its engines have been strong all season: Roush driver Carl Edwards opened the season by winning the pole for the "That'd be pretty cool," Kenseth said about tying Allitainly I think for our team, our confidence is high."

Kenseth turned a lap at 192.386 mph Friday in his Roush Fenway Racing Ford to earn the top starting spot. It's the first pole of the season for the series points leader, and his first pole in 26 races at Daytona.

Tony Stewart was second, turning a lap at 192.361 in a Chevrolet, but his time was thrown out by NASCAR after the session. NASCAR said an open cooling hose was found pointed inside the cockpit — the same violation discovered earlier Friday after Austin Dillon's pole-winning run in the Nationwide Series.

Stewart's teammate, Ryan Newman, qualified third at 192.353.

"I think the biggest advantage of us qualifying well is we've got a better chance of missing whatever happens," Newman said.

Caravaggio claims spark spat

 ${\tt ROME}-\textbf{Caravaggio}$ was notorious for brawling, so it may be fitting that a claim by two art historians to have discovered as many as 100 of his student artworks has started a war of words.

Experts have been skeptical about the claims, saying it is unlikely more than a few of the works culled from the collection of master Milanese artist and teacher Simone Perterzano are by Caravaggio.

Francesca Rossi, curator of the drawings collection at Milan's Sforzesco Castle, where Peterzano's collection is kept, told The Associated Press on Friday the two never set foot in the room.

Maurizio Bernardelli Curuz counters that he mainly worked from photos. He said he saw the collection "after hours," thanks to a highly placed authority he declined to name.

Caravaggio studied with Perterzano from 1584 to 1588.

One actor vs. the Bard

Alan Cumming takes on 'Macbeth' — all of it

Associated Press

NEW YORK — To play Macbeth is no mere task. Nor is portraying Lady Macbeth or Macduff or even Duncan. Undaunted, Alan Cumming is trying them all — at the same time.

The Tony-winning Scotsman is playing all the roles in Shakespeare's tragedy, an Olympic feat of both endurance and gender-bending. All three witches? Cumming. He's also Banquo and Lady Macduff, for good measure.

"It's truly the most difficult thing I've ever done," says Cumming, who has rather outrageously ended up doing his one-man "Macbeth" in New York while also filming the fourth season of CBS' "The Good

The production, which started in Scotland in mid-June before coming to New York through July 14 as part of the Lincoln Center Festival, is being undertaken under the watchful eyes of directors John Tiffany and Andrew Goldberg. That's right: There are more directors than lead actors.

Tiffany, the associate director of the National Theatre of Scotland and newly minted Tony winner for directing "Once," said few actors can pull off the audaciousness of what Cumming has done.

"There's a fearlessness there that means that he's unpredictable. It's also the fearlessness that makes you want to embark on a project like this with him even though it is nuts and even though you are climbing a mountain with no legs," he says. "You know he'll never waiver. He'll never give up."

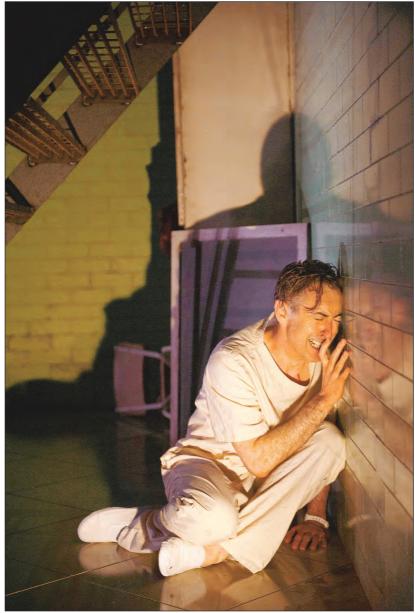

"Macbeth" has a special poignancy for the 47-year-old, who made his professional debut playing Malcolm in "Macbeth" in Glasgow in 1985. It also likely marks an end for him and the Scottish play.

"I don't think I'll be doing 'Macbeth' again in my life. I mean, I might do this again, but I doubt I'll do another production of 'Macbeth' again. I think I've got it out of my system.'

The "Macbeth" he's brought to lating Lincoln Center Festival, which also includes Cate Blanchett who also checked his fingernails for in a production of "Uncle Vanya" and performances by the Paris and Cumming revealed three deep Opera Ballet and three plays by Tom Murphy.

In the play, Cumming appears as a patient in a white-tiled mental hospital for whom the plot of "Macbeth" is sort of a schizophrenic nightmare. Two other actors -Myra McFadyen and Ali Craig monitor all the action and broadcast their grainy images on TV screens, adding to the feeling of paranoia.

Running only an hour and 45 someone who was quite damaged to Alan Cumming plays the title role — and most others — in a National Theatre of Scotland production of "Macbeth." In the play, Cumming appears as a patient in a white-tiled mental hospital for whom the plot of the Shakesperian tragedy is sort of a schizophrenic nightmare.

"Macbeth" has been trimmed. The directors said they've cut for clarity and that means some characters have been exiled, including the Porter and one of Duncan's two sons. But they insist they've honored the playwright.

"It might be some people's first time ever seeing Shakespeare and this play, so we don't want to mess around," says Tiffany. "What we've done is try to honor the story by setting it in a context that an audience has a different way in."

During a recent run-through from into hospital pajamas by orderlies, DNA. There were evidence bags scratches on his chest, all proof that his character had gone through some trauma that dovetails with the play. Then Cumming spoke the lines of the Three Witches, starting the play the way Shakespeare did.

He said playing all the parts has shed light on ones he's never played play medical staff, but speak no and made him warm to the title lines. Three closed-circuit cameras character. "This production definitely has made Macbeth seem not sympathetic, necessarily, because you hear of these terrible things he does — but you can see minutes with no intermission, this begin with getting more and more damaged," he says.

Using a mental patient as the framing device makes intuitive sense for "Macbeth" since the play is filled with visions — "Is this a dagger which I see before me?" and references to addled brains. "O, full of scorpions is my mind," Macbeth tells his wife at one point. The team was careful not to push the point, however, and sought advice from a psychiatrist from the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh.

'Obviously, I think when you do anything like this, you worry that Jazz at Lincoln Center's Rose The- the top of the play, Cumming was you're going to tip into bad, crazy ater is part of this summer's scintil- being coaxed out of a gray suit and acting and mumbling and talking to yourself in straitjackets," he said. We've tried to avoid that.

Cumming is no stranger to mining difficult material. The actor, who won a 1998 Tony in Sam Mendes' revival of "Cabaret," said he learned important lessons while playing Max, a gay man who finds love in the Nazi concentration camp in Dachau in Martin Sherman's 'Bent" in 2006.

"I have in my life played several parts, like this one, where I've had to go to a very, very dark place. Early on in my career, I wasn't able to stop the darkness and my real life had a kind of a fumble, shall we say. Since then, I've been very, very aware of that.

— GARDEN GROVE, Calif. etired schoolteacher Dolores Rommel has followed the Rev. Robert H. Schuller almost her entire adult life: She was baptized in his church as a young woman, sent her children to his Sunday school and laid her husband to rest near the soaring, glasspaned Crystal Cathedral that was to be the televangelist's ultimate legacy.

But when the Roman Catholic church bought the famous sanctuary and its cemetery in bankruptcy court last year, Rommel began looking for another spiritual home. She has resigned herself to being entombed in a Catholic cemetery so she can be near her husband, but not without plenty of soul-searching.

"I have no choice. I am going to be buried there because that was his choice and we paid a lot for that vault," said Rommel,

Let us pray

y friend Tara recently asked me about a book that swept through the Christian culture like a Category 4 hurricane back in 2000, "The Prayer of Jabez," by Bruce Wilkinson.

Tara jokingly wondered aloud if maybe her poohpoohing the book and not jumping on the "pray like Jabez" bandwagon was coming back to bite her in the butt. Maybe her life would be different if she had been a Jabez prayer pray-er.

If you're not familiar with the book, here's a mini crash course:

Buried away in the Old Testament book of 1 Chronicles is an account of a prayer prayed by some guy named Jabez. He asked God to bless him "enlarge territory."

"Let your hand be with me and keep me from harm so that I will be free from pain," he prayed.

And God granted his request (1 Chronicles 4:10). That's the only mention of Jabez in the entire hatever your political leanings may be, it is clear that throughout American history, American presidents have made important decisions concerning their actions and appointments of Jews to the American government. Having just celebrated our independence on July Fourth, it seems only fitting to explore some of these presidential decisions and how they affected the lives American Jews.

George Washington was the first president to write letters to several synaincluding the gogues, Touro Synagogue Rhode Island, and Mikveh Israel of Savannah. These letters assured the Jews living in the new country that the United States did not tolerate bigotry and that religious freedom was an American right.

Thomas Jefferson was the first president to Bible. Just some man asking God to give him more land and to keep him out of harm so he won't get hurt. Nothing magical or mystical about the request, but God answered it.

Thirty years prior to Wilkinson writing the book, he had stumbled upon this obscure passage of scripture and began praying it seems like it hasn't, which word for word every day for the next 30 years.

He believed it was the words of the prayer and the fervent praying of it that revolutionized his life and

In the preface to the book, Wilkinson challenges readers to recite Jabez' prayer for blessing "unwaveringly" for 30 days straight. He promises "you'll be noticing significant changes in your life, and the prayer will be on its way to becoming a treasured, lifelong habit."

The book, just 96 pages, went on to top the New York Times Bestseller list, selling nine million copies and spawning a half-dozen or so spin-off books and merchandise, including "Prayer of Jabez" backpacks, Christmas ornaments and mouse pads.

Obviously, praying the prayer worked for Wilkinson, just as it worked for

The Internet is filled with testimonials from people who bought the book and prayed the prayer and have also had super-blessed lives. Tara said she has a friend who prayed it and lives an awesome life — attended the best schools, has a fabulous career, storybook marriage, children who excel at everything they attempt.

Not a drop of mediocrity or failure has ever touched this woman's life.

Well, maybe it has. It just caused Tara to wonder if it's all because the woman jumped on the "Prayer of Jabez" bandwagon when it came through town.

Maybe that's the reason those of us who judged it to be just another evangelical Christian fad haven't sold nine million copies of a book or made a Mark Zuckerberg-load of money or sired children who have solved the problem of world hunger.

Tara said if she would've known it would work she would've done it back in She was kidding.

Still, it's human nature to want a formula, a key, a principle or two that would guarantee God's blessing what we define as God's blessing, that is. The problem with that? There is no formula. There is no key or principle or even measurable amount of faith that can make God do anything except maybe laugh at our puny attempts at trying to force his hand.

Trust me, I've tried. I think we all do. We all want our lives to go smoothly, to feel important, to never be in want physically, materially, emotionally, spiritually. We don't want to feel pain.

We don't want to suffer. We don't want to trust the God who has ultimate say-so in our lives, because he just might not do for us what we want him to do.

However, sometimes he does, and sometimes he does more and better and beyond what we ask of him. Sometimes he "enlarges our territory" when we ask sometimes even if, although we know he can, we're not sure he will. Sometimes even if we don't ask him to he does it anyway. Whatever God chooses to do, he does it not because we pray a specific sequence of words but because he knows what we need and he loves to bless his children.

Mordecai M. Noah was appointed by James Madison to a diplomatic post, the first Jew to be so honored. He served as ambassador to Tunis from first president to intercede on behalf of Jewish Americans abroad. In 1840, he instructed the U.S. consul in Egypt to protect the Jews of Damascus, who had been under attack for a false anti-Semitic blood libel.

Only in America does a Quaker who converts to Judaism becomes a U.S. consul to Palestine. This is what happened in 1844 when John Tyler appointed Warder Cresson.

Washington Hebrew Congregation, the first synagogue in the District, has Franklin Pierce's name on its charter. This is because he signed an Act of Congress 1857 that amended the law so that the synagogue could become incorporated.

Abraham Lincoln was the first president to appoint Jewish chaplains to the military. He also rescinded the only anti-Semitic government decree when General Grant issued his infamous Order No. 11, expelling Jews from Union territory in Tennessee. Grant later claimed his subordinate issued the decree.

During his administration, he was the first president to attend a synagogue service while in office. He and his whole cabinet attended the dedication of Adas Israel in Washington, D.C. in 1874.

Rutherford B. Hayes is noted for two important firsts. He appointed Benjamin Peixotto as consul-general to Romania to help fight anti-Semitism. He also upheld a worship. In 1925, he dedicated Theodore Roosevelt was the first president to appoint a Jew to his cabinet. The appointment was for Oscar Strauss, who was named Secretary of Commerce and Labor. "Teddy" also was the first president to contribute to a Jewish cause with his own private funds. From the monies he received Martin Van Buren was the as a Nobel Peace Prize recipient in 1919 for settling the Russo-Japanese War. Roosevelt contributed to the National Jewish Welfare Board.

> In 1912, William Howard Taft became the first president against tyranny. He was the to attend a seder. This was at the home of Jewish Welfare Board president, Colonel Henry Cutler. Looks like both Czech synagogue, and another, presidents ate matza!

Woodrow Wilson was the first president to appoint a Jew pressure to withdraw the nomination, Wilson went ahead and appointed Louis Brandeis (namesake for the university). Other presidents followed by also naming Jews in the ensuing years. Wilson also was the first to publicly endorse a national Jewish philanthropic campaign. The United Jewish Relief Campaign, which was raising funds for the European War effort, received Wilson's Schiff in 1917.

FDR's administration still falls into the controversy category even today. There is proof that this president knew of the Nazis' diabolical plans to annihilate the Jews of Europe and could have taken steps to bomb the tracks leading to the concentration camps. He also could have increased the refugee quota, which might have saved more lives. He did, however, lead the Allies against the Nazis and is remembered for the military campaigns, which ultimately ended World War II.

News NOTES

Arbor Trail to host blood drive

Arbor Trail Rehab will host a blood drive in cooperation with LifeSouth Community Blood Centers from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday, July 10.

Community members interested in donating blood to the humanitarian organization that helps save lives are welcome. Participants are required to bring photo identification. All donors will receive a six-inch Subway sandwich.

Lions Club slates summer breakfasts

Since attendance is lower in the summer as many snowbirds fly off, Beverly Hills Lions Club will have pancake breakfasts the second Sunday for the months of July, August and September.

Hours will remain from 8 to 11 a.m. Cost for breakfast is $4 for adults; children 12 and younger eat for $2. The menu includes all-you-caneat pancakes and choice of bacon or sausage or combo, orange juice, coffee or tea.

Funds from the project go back to the community in helping others receive eye exams and glasses. For more information, call Lion Addie at 352-746-3187.

First Kids' Expo coming in August

The inaugural Kids' Expo will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Citrus County Fairgrounds in Inverness. Everyone is welcome at the event to showcase services, activities and events for children in Citrus County.

The fun will include plenty of booths to visit for all kinds of services, free drawings for door prizes, music by a local deejay, dance and karate exhibitions, many giveaways at the exhibit booths, food and

For additional information and exhibitor registration fees and availability, email kids expo2012@yahoo.com or call 352-220-3788.

Coordinators of thie event are two Girl Scout Cadettes who are earning their Girl Scout Silver Award. Their goal is to provide parents and caregivers of children in Citrus County with a centralized, targeted location for information on events, activities and services. The project will also host a website, citruscounty kidsdirectory.com.

Olympic Week for YMCA

Day campers learn about summer games

Special to the Chronicle

Campers attending the YMCA Summer Day Camp recently had the opportunity to learn more about the upcoming summer games their week-long Olympic Week theme camp.

Children attending both locations of the week June 25 through 29 were able to participate in a wide variety of activities at the camp that included making their own Olympic torches, flags, and even colorful Olympic-style cookies.

"We used books on Greece and also London, to familiarize the kids with how and where the Olympics started, as well as letting them know about the site for this year's summer games," said Whispering Pines Camp Coordinator Laura Demangone. "They were eager to learn about everything including the rings and what they represented, but they really

Colin Firth, Oscar winner for "The King's Speech," said, "Almost every comedy you see is about people making all wrong choices and making all the errors of judgment possible. Good comedy is when it works on this scale, because it is psychologically very real."

Almost every bridge deal you see is about players making wrong choices and errors of judgment. Good bridge is when this does not happen.

In today's deal, South is in three no-trump after East made a one-spade overcall. West leads the spade seven. Should declarer call for dummy's six, 10 or queen?

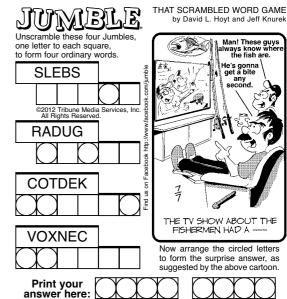

South is not fond of responding one no-trump with only one spade stopper, but he has little choice. Passing with seven points is to be avoided if at all possible.

Declarer has five top tricks: one spade (given the lead), three hearts and one diamond. However, the clubs will provide four more winners. The risk is that the defenders might get one club and four Suppose South calls for dummy's six or 10. East covers cheaply. Here, if East takes the trick, declarer is all right; but that play would not work if East had the club ace. And if South wins this trick, West gets in with the club ace and leads his second spade, giving the defense one club and four spades.

Now let declarer choose dummy's queen. What happens?

East must win with his ace, but cannot continue spades without conceding a second trick in the suit. Suppose East shifts to the diamond king. Declarer wins with dummy's ace and drives out the club ace, cruising home safely.

Dear Annie: My deep sympathy to "Indianapolis," whose evil sister-in-law is keeping the family from seeing their dying brother.

My uncle married a woman who did her best for 35 years to keep him from the rest of the family. She was petty and nasty and had our uncle wrapped around her finger. When he became ill, she didn't tell us he was in hospice. We'd call their house. and she'd say he was too tired to talk. Then she told us to stop calling because the phone disturbed him. We didn't find out he had died until a cousin wrote with condolences. We'll never know what our uncle saw in that woman. There are people who are just mean beyond redemption. Hell is sure going to be crowded. — Sad Just Thinking About It
