QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Contribute! Like us at facebook.com/citruscountychronicle and respond to our Question of the Week.

May, among other things, is National Book Month. What are some of your favorite books?

Oneida W. Scofield
I love all books! Even if I am not feeling the book at first, I will read it to the end. You just never know, you might end up loving it.

Mike Walker
Gloria Jahoda's "The Other Florida" is a great history and look at the people of our region.

Theressa Foster
"The Giving Tree"

Elizabeth Goodale-Yerian
"The Stand" by Stephen King. I've read it four times and it never gets old. I'm also currently reading his non fiction book called "On Writing," a great book for those who enjoy writing.

Heather P. Johnson
"The Book Thief" by Marcus Zusak, "The Great Gatsby," "Catcher in the Rye" and hands-down the one I can read again and again is "Pride and Prejudice" by Jane Austen.

POLL

ONLINE POLL:
Your choice?

What will be the impact of the Legislature's move to have the state enforce water pollution rules without federal intervention?

A. It will be a big positive for the environment, as the state will seek to enhance our water bodies.

B. Environmentally, it's bad news and will mean the agriculture lobby will have the upper hand.

C. Got me. When the phrase "numeric nutrient criteria" comes up, my eyes glaze over.

Citrus Memorial's CEO shares insights

Monday CONVERSATION

INVERNESS — Ryan Beaty arrived in Citrus County eight years ago as the new CEO of what is now Citrus Memorial Health System. He replaced Charles Blasband, who had held the job for 32 years.

Beaty, a straight-talking executive, leads a 198-bed publicly held hospital that has been the object of a control fight between competing boards since 2009.

What's lost in this fight is the hospital itself — its successes and challenges. So, for the Chronicle's inaugural Monday Conversation feature, we sat down with Beaty for a 20-minute chat that focused on the issues patients care about.

Landfill burns

MATTHEW BECK/Chronicle

A fire at the Citrus County landfill on Sunday afternoon forced workers to implement heavy equipment to attempt to control the blaze that began sometime after 2 p.m.

Fire strikes Central Landfill for second time in 2 months

CHRIS VAN ORMER

LECANTO — For the second time in eight weeks, a fire broke out Sunday afternoon in the county's Central Landfill.

Sometime between 2 and 2:30 p.m., motorists on State Road 44 observed a column of black smoke rising from behind Phase 3 of the landfill cell that caught fire on March 10, damaging the liner and causing an estimated $500,000 in damages, according to the state fire marshal.

This time, the fire burned in Phase 2, a section south of Phase 3 that was being used at the facility at 230 W. Gulf-to-Lake Highway while Phase 3 awaits repairs.

Casey Stephens, director of the Division of Solid Waste Management, told the Chronicle he was alerted to the fire sometime before 2:30 p.m.

"Immediately, I started contacting personnel to operate the heavy equipment," Stephens said later in the afternoon. "They are in here now dealing with the fire. It's all surficial. It should be out relatively soon."

Stephens said the fire burned only on the surface of garbage materials "kind of like a grass fire" and caused no structural damage to Phase 2 of the landfill

Israeli airstrikes prompt Syrian threats

Associated Press

BEIRUT — Israel rushed to beef up rocket defenses on its northern border Sunday to shield against possible retaliation after carrying out two airstrikes in Syria over 48 hours — an unprecedented escalation of Israeli involvement in the Syrian civil war.

Syria and its patron Iran hinted at possible retribution, though the rhetoric in official statements appeared relatively muted.

Despite new concerns about a regional war, Israeli officials signaled they will keep trying to block what they see as an effort by Iran to send sophisticated weapons to Lebanon's Hezbollah militia ahead of a possible collapse of Syrian President Bashar Assad's regime.

Associated Press

Smoke and fire fill the the skyline over Damascus, Syria, following an Israeli airstrike early Sunday in this image taken from video obtained from the Ugarit News.

Israel has repeatedly threatened to intervene in the Syrian civil war to stop the transfer of what it calls "game-changing" weapons to Hezbollah, a Syrian-backed group that battled Israel to a stalemate during a monthlong war in 2006.

Since carrying out a lone airstrike in January that reportedly destroyed a shipment of anti-aircraft missiles headed to Hezbollah, Israel had largely stayed on the sidelines. That changed over the weekend with a pair of airstrikes, including an attack near a sprawling military complex close to the Syrian capital of Damascus early Sunday that set off a series of powerful explosions.

The Israeli government and military refused to comment, but a senior Israeli official said both airstrikes targeted shipments of Fateh-110 missiles bound for Hezbollah. The Iranian-made guided missiles can fly deep into Israel and deliver powerful half-ton bombs with pinpoint accuracy.

Take Stock mentors wanted

Take Stock in Children of Citrus County, a program sponsored by the Citrus County Sheriff's Office, offers deserving youths in Citrus County a college scholarship, a caring mentor and the promise of hope.

Take Stock scholars join the program in the sixth, seventh or eighth grade and are assigned a mentor who meets with the student once a week during regular school hours and helps the student achieve the goal of a graduating from high school and going to college.

Today, the program is actively seeking male and female role models to help support students who will be entering the program in May and June.

Call program coordinator Pat Lancaster at 352-422-2348 to learn more about the program and to sign up for the next mentor training, to be in June.

Energy program set for May 14

Citrus County Housing Services is offering an Energy Conservation Awareness Program in conjunction with its Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP).

The program advises how to get the most cost-effective energy results at your house. Learn where most energy is typically wasted and how energy flow works.

A 90-minute session will be offered at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 14, at the Citrus County Resource Center, 2804 W. Marc Knighton Court, Lecanto.

Seating is limited. Please reserve your seat by calling 352-527-7530. Any person who requires special accommodations (ADA) must provide at least 72 hours' notice.

Essay entries due by May 17

The Citrus 20/20 Save Our Waters Week Committee's 2013 essay contest has begun. Essays should focus on the theme "Water: Save it Now or Lose it Forever."

Citrus County students in grades six to 12 are encouraged to participate. Prizes of $100 and $75 are awarded to the first- and second-place winners at the middle and high school level. Winners will be highlighted at the annual Citrus 20/20 fundraiser dinner.

Submissions must be received by May 17. Applications are available at www.bocc.citrus.fl.us/waterres/conservation/conservation.htm. For information, call the Department of Water Resources at 352-527-7684.

CRYSTAL RIVER — Friends help friends, and Susan Mitchell has always been the type of friend to help anyone in need.

Mitchell was diagnosed with ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease) in June 2012, and now her friends want to help her cover some of her medical costs.

The Northern Lights Networking group of women in business and the Franklin Anderson Gallery in Crystal River are hosting a benefit concert from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday, May 17, at the Franklin Anderson Gallery of Arts, 1345B S.E. U.S. 19, Crystal River, north of the Sweetbay plaza.

The event features guitarist Ben Medrano and a silent auction. Also, wine and beverages and hot and cold appetizers will be served.

Tickets are $20 in advance, $25 at the door and can be purchased at the gallery or the Olde Mill House Gallery & Printing Museum at 10466 W. Yulee Drive, Homosassa.

"She's an amazing lady, and I felt compelled to do this for her," said Karen Anderson, local artist and owner of the Franklin Anderson gallery. "Susan has been a part of our Northern Lights group and a great contributor to a lot of community benefits."

Anderson said Mitchell's disease is progressing, but she hasn't lost her positive spirit. She still gets around and has been taking speech therapy.

"She's done so much for the community," Anderson said, "and we, as a community, are trying to give back to her for all she has done for others."

For information, email Karen Anderson at kandersonoxox@gmail.com or call her at the gallery at 352-697-2702.

A moveable feast

Citrus High School senior band member Melissa D'Oria entertained the guests alongside her bandmates at the Munchies and Music in May with Music in the Park in Inverness.

ERYN WORTHINGTON
Staff writer

Skies cleared just in time Saturday for the crowd that gathered for Music and Munchies in May with Music in the Park in Inverness. With lawn chairs and blankets, spectators covered the grounds of Liberty Park for the free outdoor concert. Over a half-dozen groups performed during the four-hour event.

Food trucks offered hungry listeners a variety of snacks. Ten percent of the vendors' proceeds were donated to the Community Food Bank of Citrus County, and a beverage tent's proceeds benefited the Citrus High School Music Department.

Banquet aims to keep all sportsmen in the hunt

Fishing, hunting trips will be raffled

BRENDA LOCKLEAR
Sumter County Times

Looking for a sportsman's bargain on a three-day hunt, or a new gun?

Or are you just a believer in the efforts of the Disabled Sportsman of Central Florida?

If so, you might want to attend the organization's annual banquet, set to begin at 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 11.

The gathering is at the Sumter County Fairgrounds and the event is a fundraiser for the organization, which focuses on getting Central Floridians with disabilities into the great outdoors.

In the past year, the organization has hosted a "Range Day" on the first Saturday of each month. Now termed a "Family Day," it's for all ages and the entire family and held at 2716 County Road 321 in Bushnell. It's also for residents with or without disabilities, president Bill Blackwelder said, noting there were an estimated 40 people at the last gathering.

The organization has coordinated experiences at Windy Acres Rodeo, a bow and trap hunt, a muzzleloader hunt, a modern gun hunt, airboat rides and a turkey hunt. Still on this year's agenda is a fishing trip to Cross City.

Blackwelder said the organization was formed about a year ago to make sure funds serve local residents.

Banquet pricing is as follows: singles ($50), couples ($80), children ($20) and sponsors ($200) and partners ($500). Partners get eight meal tickets, a sponsor membership, partner recognition from the floor, preferred seating, one partner gift, one entry into the gun drawing and general raffle tickets.

The banquet begins at 5 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The live auction begins at 8 p.m. and the location is at 7620 State Road 471, Bushnell.

For more information or to purchase tickets, call Blackwelder at 352-446-7618.

Park cruise promises local history, scenic views

Special to the Chronicle

The Homosassa Springs Wildlife State Park and the Friends of Homosassa Springs Wildlife Park will be presenting "An Early Evening History Cruise with Wine and Cheese" on Saturday, May 25.

The cruise aboard pontoon boats departs from the park's U.S. 19 Visitor Center boat docks promptly at 4:30 p.m. for an evening cruise to the main spring and Fish Bowl area. There participants will learn about the area's history while enjoying a taste of wine, cheese, crackers and fruit. Grape juice and water will also be available.

Gulf Archaeological Research Institute Director Gary Ellis will speak about the early peoples of this area. His program, titled "Connecting the Past to Our Future" will describe the region known as the Nature Coast and its rich prehistory.

"Archaeological resources support an extensive prehistory dating from as early as 12,000 B.C. to the European Contact period in the early 16th century," Ellis said. "The panoply of past cultures includes simple hunter and gatherers to sophisticated mound buildings cultures all of whom relied heavily on the bounty of the coastal estuarine environment."

Ellis, an archaeologist, has researched the coast and human cultures for more than 20 years.

Park volunteer Bert Henderson will do a presentation on the area's history since the 1800s.

Tickets may be purchased at the park's administrative office located at the Visitor Center on U.S. 19 at $25 each.

This event is a fundraiser for the Friends of Homosassa Springs Wildlife Park. For more information, call 352-628-5343.

Today's HOROSCOPES

Birthday — People with whom you've had successful dealings will prove lucky for you once again in the coming months.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) — Make sure any tips you receive are reliable before acting on them. If you don't do your homework, you could get yourself in big trouble.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) — Take nothing for granted when conducting business with an unfamiliar firm or person. Be sure to check out all the facts and figures first.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) — Regardless of how good you believe an alliance to be, without harmony of purpose it won't get you far.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) — If you are too busy checking on your colleagues' work, you could easily neglect your own. Focus primarily on your assignment, not theirs.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — It behooves you to avoid any and all speculative involvements, especially those controlled by others.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — An old, unresolved issue that has caused problems in the past might rear its ugly head again.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Although you're a keen observer, your focus might only be on the negative. A biased viewpoint invites confrontation, so strive to be fair.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Your financial picture is uncertain at this time, so be extra careful when it comes to managing your funds.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Demands imposed on you by others could prevent you from doing what you had planned.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — Don't make this a day where you create your own difficulties through self-sabotage.

Pisces (Feb. 20-March 20) — When out socializing with friends, don't hesitate to say no if they want you to participate in something that you can't afford. Be bold, not broke.

Aries (March 21-April 19) — You often push yourself beyond your limits, and you could become overtaxed today.

'Iron Man' tops box office with $175M

LOS ANGELES — Iron Man reigns as the standard-bearer of Hollywood superheroes with a $175.3 million domestic opening weekend for his latest sequel and an overseas haul of a half-billion dollars in less than two weeks.

According to studio estimates Sunday, "Iron Man 3" has raced to a worldwide total of $680.1 million. That includes $175.9 million in its second weekend overseas, where the film has rung up $504.8 million so far.

No other solo superhero — not even Batman or Spider-Man — has managed this kind of business.

"Iron Man 3" had the second-biggest domestic debut ever, behind the $207.4 million start over the same weekend last year for "The Avengers," which teamed Downey's Tony Stark with other Marvel Comics heroes. The new sequel surpassed the $169.2 million opening for 2011's "Harry Potter" finale.

In just nine days, the film shot past the $312 million international total for "Iron Man 2" in its entire theatrical run.

Among the overseas totals so far: $63.5 million in China, $42.6 million in South Korea, $38.3 million in Great Britain and $35.8 million in Mexico.

While it was a huge weekend for Marvel and Disney, the overall industry continued to slump, thanks to the record start for "The Avengers" over the same weekend a year ago. Domestic revenues this weekend totaled $219 million, down 15 percent from the $258.1 million during that "Avengers" weekend last year.

Hollywood's domestic revenue this year is at $3.14 billion, off 11 percent from 2012's pace, according to Hollywood.com.

British actress Keira Knightley poses Sept. 4, 2012, as she arrives for the world premiere of Anna Karenina in London. French mayor Aime Navello said Sunday that he officiated during the wedding of Oscar-nominated actress Keira Knightley to musician James Righton during a simple French ceremony at the Mazan town hall in southern France.

Rule lets Oscar voters watch DVDs for votes

LOS ANGELES — Oscar voters will no longer be required to see certain nominated films in a theater to cast their ballots.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences announced Saturday that members will be mailed DVDs of documentaries, shorts and foreign-language nominees.

President Hawk Koch says the move is an effort to expand member participation by giving voters as many opportunities as possible to see all the nominated films.

Prior to the final round of voting, the academy will mail members DVDs of films in Foreign Language Film, Documentary Feature, Documentary Short Subject, Animated Short Film and Live Action Short Film categories.

Knightley says 'oui' to rocker Righton

PARIS — A French mayor says Oscar-nominated actress Keira Knightley has said "oui" to rocker James Righton in a small wedding ceremony in southern France.

Aime Navello said Sunday the couple followed French tradition when he married them at the Mazan town hall on Saturday. He said about 10 people were present.

Righton is keyboard player for the rock group Klaxons. He and Knightley got engaged a year ago.

Knightley first won notice for her role in "Bend It Like Beckham."

She went on to star in the first three "Pirates of the Caribbean" movies and was nominated for an Oscar for playing Elizabeth Bennet in an adaptation of Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice."

Robert 'Dr. Bob' Blackburn, 72

INVERNESS

Dr. Robert F. "Dr. Bob" Blackburn, 72, of Inverness, Fla., died Friday, May 3, 2013, under hospice care in Inverness, Fla. Dr. Bob was born and raised in Parkersburg, W.Va., and graduated from Parkersburg High School in 1958. He was inspired to develop his natural talent in music by the positive upbringing and teaching of his father, The Rev. Dr. Harry William Blackburn; his mother, Eva Mae Garrison Blackburn; and older sister Janie McFarland. During his high school years, his high-profile leadership in Mrs. Esther Cunningham's A Cappella Choir and his first-chair trombone position earned in Mr. Frank Schroeder's Big Red Band attested to his innate musical abilities. He also attended summer camps at the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J, where he discovered his stentorian tenor voice and pursued serious vocal training. Dr. Blackburn graduated from Asbury University in Wilmore, Ky., and fulfilled his call to the ministry by graduating from the Candler School of Theology at Emory University in Atlanta, Ga. Shortly thereafter, he received his first pastoral appointment at Central Avenue United Methodist Church in Indianapolis, Ind. Following that ministry, he was transferred to the Florida Conference of the United Methodist Church, where he pastored in Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Miami, Jacksonville and finally in Inverness, where he oversaw the construction of the First United Methodist Church campus. During his appointment in Jacksonville, the honorary doctorate of divinity was conferred by Joe Andrews and the Southeastern Evangelistic Groups. After retiring from the pulpit, Dr. Bob pursued his second passion, ministry of music, on a full-time basis. He ministered domestically and internationally, including a 10-day tour in England. He has several published musical works and is well remembered for his large-scale theatrical and well-choreographed productions. Dr. Blackburn was preceded in death by his parents and his older brothers, Dr. Howard R. Blackburn and Dr. David Stuart Blackburn.

Robert Blackburn

His surviving family include former wife Ann Nuckolls Blackburn of Dayton, Tenn.; their children, Ken Blackburn of Nashville, Tenn., Kam Reagan of Inverness, Fla., Robin Williams of Cleveland, Tenn., and Bobbi Bogle of Nashville, Tenn. Close surviving family relatives are sister Janie McFarland of Waco, Texas; sister-in-law Ruth Ann Blackburn of Indianapolis, Ind.; nephew/brother Roger D. Blackburn of St. Peters, Mo., nephew Robert McFarland of Sicklerville, N.J., niece Beth Blackburn Boles of Zionsville, Ind., nephew John Blackburn of Noblesville, Ind., nephew David Allen of Roswell, Ga., nephew Britten Stone Blackburn of Hoover, Ala., and nephew Phillip Blackburn of Tokyo, Japan.

His grandchildren are Christopher Todd Bender of Inverness, Fla., Jeffrey Wayne Bender of Orlando, Fla., and Nathaniel Lane Williams of Cleveland, Tenn.

A funeral tribute to Dr. Bob will be at 11 .m. Tuesday, May 7, 2013, at Inverness Church of God. The burial will be private in Oak Ridge Cemetery. The family will receive friends in visitation at the church from 10 a.m. until the hour of service. The family requests memorial donations in Dr. Bob's memory to Hospice of Citrus County, P.O. Box 641270, Beverly Hills, FL 34464 in lieu of flowers. Chas. E. Davis Funeral Home with Crematory is in charge of arrangements.

Thomas Blalock, 70

HERNANDO

The Graveside Service of Remembrance for Mr. Thomas B. Blalock, 70, of Hernando, Fla., will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 8, 2013, at Florida National Cemetery in Bushnell. Military honors will be rendered by the U.S. Air Force. The family will receive friends from 3 until 5 p.m. Tuesday at the Inverness Chapel of Hooper Funeral Homes & Crematory with Masonic rites to be accorded at 5 p.m. Online condolences may be sent to the family at www.Hooper Funeral Home.com.

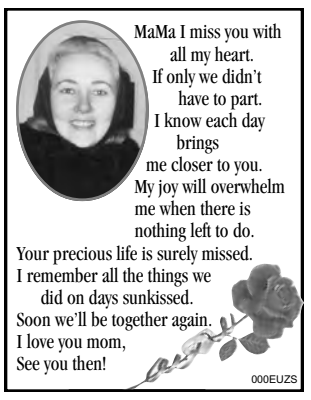
Thomas Blalock

He was born March 13, 1943, in Houston, Texas, and was the son of the late William and Vestal (Barnes) Blalock and the stepson of the late Rose Blalock. He died May 3, 2013, in Hernando, Fla. Mr. Blalock had retired as a master sergeant from the U.S. Air Force after 20 years, last serving as the fire chief at MacDill Air Force Base. He was a veteran of Vietnam and a member of Nitram Masonic Lodge No.188, F & AM in St. Petersburg.

Survivors include his daughter Deborah Horan of Moscow, Pa.; and his son William Blalock of Hernando, Fla.; a sister, Faye Knight; and a cousin, Fred Brown. He is also survived by three grandchildren. Arrangements are under the direction of the Inverness Chapel of Hooper Funeral Homes & Crematory.

FREE OBITUARIES

- Free obituaries, run one day, can include: full name of deceased; age; hometown/state; date of death; place of death; date, time and place of visitation and funeral services.



Edith Joyner, 105

Edith P. Joyner, 105, was called home to our Lord on Saturday May 4, 2013, in the Citrus Health & Rehab Center of Inverness. Mrs. Joyner was born Feb. 8, 1908, in Paducah, Ky., to the late Joe and Josie (Jackson) Joiner and lived in Chattahoochee, Fla., for many years, having retired from the Florida State Hospital after 21 years of service as a nurse's aid. She was the oldest living member of the First Baptist Church of Chattahoochee.

She leaves to cherish her memory 10 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband, Albert; her four children, Harold, Wayne, Verma ("Peewee") and Louise; and a grandchild, Donna Joyner Bracken.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday, May 9, in Sneads, Fla., at the Lanier-Andler Funeral Home with the Rev. Barry Cottle officiating. Burial will follow in Shady Grove Cemetery, Sneads, Fla. The family will receive friends at the Lanier-Adler Funeral Home on Thursday from noon until the hour of service. Mrs Joyner's Inverness friends will be received from 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Chas. E. Davis Funeral Home, Inverness, Fla.

Save Money on Bundled Cable

Special Correspondent

Many Florida seniors now bundle services to save money. The promotional rates are designed to get you hooked. Then once you are, the rates go up to "normal" which are often very high. Consider this a reminder to always do the math and not assume something is cheaper simply because it is bundled on one bill.

Your cable company is betting against you

" They bring you in at a low price for all three services and then raise the rate on everything and assume you wont change" While this may seem almost unbelievable it is the truth. Bundling was designed to surgically remove as much money from consumers over the long haul.

You can start saving as much as 40 percent on your current bundled plan. With ala Carte, bundle prices you get the maximum discount on each service regardless of how many services you have. It is an absolute no brainier. You would never pay $7.00 a gallon for gas if you could fill up across the street for $3.00 so why pay more for your TV/PHONE and Internet.

MONDAY

tell somebody you're a hospital CEO and you tell them where you work, and it's someone you've never met before who doesn't know anything about this community or this county, what's the first thing you would tell them about Citrus Memorial?

BEATY: I would say that we're the mouse that roared. It's a small hospital; it's a small community. But we really do great things. I think this hospital does things that I would not normally find in a relatively small community.

CHRONICLE: Name one.

BEATY: Well, open hearts (surgery unit). Gosh, I don't know how many we've done now. Well over 1,500. I bet we're near 2,000. We've implemented an open-heart program ... that has a 3-star ranking from the Society of Thoracic Surgery. ... Of all the hospitals that do this in the country, we're in the top 14 percent. That's right here in Inverness, Florida.

CHRONICLE: Let's talk about something we get a lot of comments about and I know you guys do too, and that's the times in the ER (emergency room). ... What about these horror stories we hear of people waiting five, six, seven, eight hours —"

BEATY: There are people who wait longer than that ... and that's a multifactor problem.

Mostly, the reason why people wait in the emergency room is because we don't have open beds in the rest of the hospital. So, they're in the emergency room waiting to get up to a bed, in the hospital, and the patients in the beds upstairs haven't been discharged yet by their physician or they've been discharged; the discharge process always takes a couple hours. So, the doctor will come in in the afternoon, discharge the patient and it's another hour or so before you can clear the patient, and then the bed is ready for the person in the emergency room to come up. It's always kind of later in the day when the beds begin to open up.

CHRONICLE: So, if you can pick it, is there a good time during the day to be in the ER as a patient?

BEATY: 1 in the morning to 5 in the morning, those are slower times. About 9 or 10 (a.m.), it begins building. That's when the demand usually really starts, and it usually goes until late in the evening.

CHRONICLE: Do you have a lot of people come into the ER who are not in an emergency?

BEATY: Yes, quite a few. I read somewhere years ago that 40 percent nationwide of all the patients who come to the emergency room really are not emergency patients. They can be taken care of in a clinic or urgent treatment center or a doctor's office.

CHRONICLE: I can see doing that at 10 o'clock at night, but why during the day in Citrus County would someone come to the emergency room with a non-emergency situation when we have clinics?

BEATY: I don't want to be overly cynical, but I think some of that is you come to the emergency room, they know that in an emergency room you're required by law to at least establish them, stabilize them, got to see them. Typically, if they need antibiotics or something like that, we'll either give them samples or write a prescription. And there's not the same pressure on you to pay at an emergency room as there is at most treatment centers.

CHRONICLE: Have you been a patient here?

BEATY: At this hospital? Of course!

CHRONICLE: How'd it go?

BEATY: (Laughs) I think the treatment I get is great. All the people I know — I mean, people go out of their way to tell me "I was in the emergency room and the nursing care was great."

CHRONICLE: The only thing I wanted to ask you about the squabble (over control) is, does it affect patients? Do people stay away from Citrus Memorial because of this debate? Do they comment to you about it?

BEATY: I think it has hurt our demand a little bit. The people to talk to are the primary-care physicians. They'll tell you that every now and then if they've got a patient they're trying to convince to come to the hospital, that patient may not want to come and they say, 'God, I don't want to go to that place! All the stuff in the news about that!' The stuff in the news isn't about the quality of care. The stuff in the news is about the quality of the leadership, or the quality of the boards — their lack of ability to get along.

CHRONICLE: We're heading toward an uncertainty right now. We don't know whether the hospital will be sold, leased, merged, partnership association — but something's going to happen. And probably in a year or so it might not be in public ownership. What do you think that does to this community? Will it make any difference?

BEATY: If you look at Hernando County, there used to be a public hospital there — Lykes (Memorial) Hospital. It was a hospital that went into the dumper and they had to be bought. So HMA got it. All the hospital beds now in Hernando County are for-profit, private beds, governed by entities outside of Hernando County. You never hear there's a great amount of poor folks who aren't getting care there. You never hear complaints in that county about the lack of services for the indigent.

Assuming the two boards ... do the right deal, the employees and the patients and the citizens should be protected. It's all in the deal.

Ryan Beaty is in his eighth year as Citrus Memorial Health System CEO. He said people often compliment him on the hospital care they received.

BOCC

meeting a $16.5 million budget shortfall for 2014. In addition to a per-parcel flat-fee fire services MSBU, the BOCC at its regular meeting May 14 will host public hearings to discuss a municipal services taxing unit (MSTU) for law enforcement and an MSTU for stormwater.

An MSBU offers a specific benefit funded by a special assessment that is not related to a taxpayer's property value. An MSTU offers a service or improvement that is based on taxable value.

County Commission Chairman Joe Meek recently explained to the Citrus County Chamber of Commerce that the BOCC is considering these new funding sources for three reasons: The county's real estate valuation continues to decline, Duke Energy is disputing its tax bill and the electric utility also closed the Crystal River nuclear reactor. Meek also has stated that the county's overall budget already has been reduced by as much as $44 million since he took office in 2008.

Meek has emphasized that the new funding sources are intended to increase the number of payers into the system while decreasing the county's reliance on property taxes.

"This isn't a way for local government to increase taxes," Meek told the chamber last month. "It's a way to equitably distribute the tax burden in the most economically feasible way possible."

On Tuesday, the fire assessment program will be presented by Government Services Group Inc. (GSG) and Nabors, Giblin & Nickerson. Requirements under discussion will include the special benefit to property and the method of apportionment that would spread the costs fairly among the benefited properties. The method would need to make sense in terms of the service it would provide and would need to be correct in law. A rate would be set for each single-family residential structure regardless of size.

The discussion will cover the type of services offered and the area of benefit. GSG has developed a five-year projected budget based on historical demand showing that almost 77 percent of fire service need comes from residential fires.

At the end of the special meeting, the BOCC will determine whether to direct the presenters to proceed with MSBU implementation.

■ The next regular meeting of the BOCC has been scheduled to start at 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 14, in Room 100, Citrus Count y Courthouse, 110 N. Apopka Ave., Inverness.

CLARIFY LOCAL PRIORITIES

EBT law fine, but lacks local significance

Citrus County's strip club and casino owners must be livid with state Rep. Jimmie T. Smith. Others, however, will praise the lawmaker for championing legislation to ban welfare recipients from using EBT cards at nudie clubs, gambling joints, bottle clubs and the like.

With the Senate's support of a companion bill, the Sunshine State is on track to seeing that only earned dollars will support the careers of women with names like Bubbles, Miss Candy, Kitten and Destiny.

To think such a vital piece of legislation was introduced by Citrus County's own man in the state House. Wow.

Oh, but wait — Citrus County has no strip clubs or casinos. Even the Hernando County chunk of Rep. Smith's district is family friendly.

Given that, one can only wonder just how our legislator came to make House Bill 701 his legislative priority.

Few would argue that welfare dollars accessed by electronic benefit transfer (EBT) — debit-like — cards should be used on vices. But was there any local hue and cry for such legislation? Did we miss a town hall meeting of strip club and casino patrons who shouted, "We're paying our hard-earned dollars on lap dances, games of chance and the like! We don't need welfare-dependant freeloaders in our dens of iniquity!"

THE ISSUE:
House Bill 701.

OUR OPINION:
Fine and dandy, but what's it have to do with us?

Where's the data to support concerns of widespread EBT abuse?

How is this bill locally relevant in any fashion?

Apparently, Citrus Countians need to better verbalize the types of legislation that would directly benefit our community. After all, Rep. Smith is up in the Capitol working for us — right?

Holder doing fine

Just wanted to advise the editor "without any consulting fees involved," that Holder is doing fine without Mr. Damato's vision. Just had a concert by Holder native band Full Drive at Snow's Country Market. Little Joey's pizza deal on Wednesday night is standing room only. Bill and Jerry's is making subs for lunch. The Citgo is Holder's own shopping mall. You can get auto restored at Palm Coast, make a suncatcher at the stained-glass shop, bowl a game at the bowling alley and we understand there's a Dollar Store in the future. Now we would entertain a million-plus offer on the cutoff road from (County Road) 491 to (U.S.) 41. Otherwise we can work from our own vision. Holder's doing fine.

Renewal rigors

I'd like to comment on the driver's license renewal. I am adopted and I have an amended birth certificate, which all adoptees get when they are adopted, so that's not a problem. And also, my husband just went down and renewed his license with a passport, a homestead exemption renewal card and an electric bill. How hard is that?

Tips are perks

If one accepts a job as a server, it is for a given fee — like it or lump it. Tips are a perk, not a promise.

Just a suggestion

By the way folks drive in Florida, you all need to know that there are no Florida traffic laws. They're all suggestions.

Thanks Anthony

Sunday, April 28, Anthony Schembri's column. Thank you, Anthony, for expressing your opinion and I agree wholeheartedly and I know many others will agree with you, too. Thank you.

Legalize marijuana

You want to do some good for this country? Outlaw alcohol and legalize marijuana.

Rising food prices

I was just wondering if anybody could remind me just why is the food at the grocery store so ungodly expensive? I mean wasn't it the gas and the truckers and then, you know, we got rid of all the illegal aliens that picked the fruits and vegetables. Are we putting the farmers out of business? You know, that's what's wrong here. Good golly, everything's at least doubled or more. I mean chicken wings, including the bones, is up there with top steak that's $4 a doggone pound with the bones.

Be nice, patient

I'm an 85-year-old gentleman just talking about the ER wait and so forth. I've probably been in hospitals and emergency rooms more than most people ever will be. If you have an emergency, which means life-threatening, you will be taken care of. Don't matter if it's here or where. On the other note, there's going to be problems waiting because of the administrations and all the things that are happening now and what's going on with the hospitals sending doctors all over the country. There's a shortage of the staff and there are problems. And another thing, if you be nice to the folks, they will be nice back to you as well. I found that all over with any of the nurses or the doctors and we've always had very good care.

Come on down

At long last, ethics reform

Carl Hiaasen
OTHER VOICES

Promise not to laugh?

An ethics bill was passed last week in Tallahassee.

It's no joke. The Florida Legislature unanimously approved a law designed to clean up its own sketchy act, and that of elected officials all over the state.

Gov. Rick Scott said he's "reviewing" the bill. To veto it would be an act of profound cluelessness, but remember who we're talking about.

The ethics legislation is significant because the concept of enforcing ethical behavior is so foreign to Florida politics. Decades of well-publicized misdeeds and flagrant conflicts of interest have failed to make a moral dent.

A few years ago, lawmakers went through the motions of establishing something called a Commission on Ethics. Most Floridians were unaware of its existence, for good reason. It was a total sham.

The panel could place monetary fines on elected officials for ethical violations, but it wasn't empowered to collect those fines, which on paper have surpassed $1 million over the last 10 years. Nobody had to pay, so nobody took the commission seriously.

This year things changed. Senate President Don Gaetz announced that ethics reform was a top priority. His bill flew through the Senate on the very first day of the Legislative session.

The House sent it back, after some tweaking by Speaker Will Weatherford, and the new version was adopted without a dissenting vote by the full Legislature.

If Scott signs the bill into law, the Commission on Ethics will actually be able to collect the fines it imposes on wayward officeholders — even garnish their wages, if necessary.

Among other provisions, lawmakers would be banned from voting on any bills that might enhance their own personal finances. While in office, they wouldn't be allowed to accept any government job. Once out of office, they'd be prohibited from lobbying state agencies for two years.

Such restrictions seem rather basic, even tame, until you consider that we're basically starting from scratch. In Florida, the bar for sleazoid antics has been set very high.

The impetus for reform isn't mysterious. As Republicans, Gaetz and Weatherford have seen their party stained by scandals.

Gaetz is from Okaloosa County, home to former House Speaker Ray Sansom. In 2010 Sansom resigned from the Legislature because of ethics complaints and an ongoing corruption probe.

Just two months ago, former GOP chairman Jim Greer pleaded guilty to five felonies, including grand theft and money laundering, in a case involving extravagant misuse of campaign funds and the party's American Express cards.

Greer's plea avoided an embarrassing trial that would have sent top Republican politicians to the witness stand. Having dodged that bullet, party leaders then had to watch their lieutenant governor, Jennifer Carroll, abruptly resign after being linked to an Internet gambling café operation.

That company, Allied Veterans of the World, allegedly pocketed millions of dollars in charity funds that were supposed to be earmarked to help military veterans. It also donated gobs of money to the election campaigns of many Florida legislators, Republicans and Democrats.

Such headlines tend to produce a climate of fresh ethical awareness.

An interesting component of the new bill is the two-year ban on lobbying after leaving office. Traditionally, politicians who don't want regular jobs become lobbyists when they return to private life.

House Speaker Weatherford's predecessor, Dean Cannon, incorporated his own lobby firm a month before exiting the Legislature, and he hit the ground running. All perfectly legal, at the time.

Lots of other ex-House speakers and retired Senate bigshots are also lobbyists, schmoozing former colleagues on behalf of high-paying corporate and municipal clients. This revolving door ratifies the average voter's cynical view of state government as a game fixed by insiders.

Although two years isn't very long to wait between serving in public office and privately cashing in, any wait is better than what we've got now.

Ethics reform will be only as good as its enforcement, and history tells us not to get high hopes. This legislation is not without wiggle room and loopholes, including a provision for blind trusts that would allow officeholders to conceal the details of their wealth.

However, the bill at least puts some strong words on paper, and opens a pathway for prosecutors.

To help clarify the details and reduce the chances for future indictment, every elected official would be required to take annual ethics training.

You're laughing again, right?

Sure, there's something absurd about having to train a politician to be ethical. But, hey, if they can teach a cat to play the piano....

LETTERS to the Editor

Rose no rose

As a private citizen having lived here in Crystal River since 1977, I have been and remain appalled at the people who create and hold back the preservation and cleanup of our protected river after all these many years to create an agenda of discord in order to hear or see themselves in the media.

Mr. Rose, you are wrong in preventing this magnificent endeavor of our lyngbya cleanup groups. Septic tanks seeping, pouring herbicide in to kill river plants and the accumulation of all that sediment lining the river bottom was and is part of the underlying result of our present river condition.

Now we have those with our best interests at heart, the wonderful Art Jones' "One Rake at a Time," the "Save Crystal River" group and many others. And of course, along comes someone to prevent lyngbya cleanup because they fear turbidity and make accusations of dredging.

Mr. Rose, have you even tried boating around the waters here? Have you ever seen the waters being stirred by your motorboat prop? Turbidity is a natural byproduct of sedimentation which you would notice as you return that it all settles once motion ceases.

Please cease your opposition to our cleanup. You are causing your own version of turbidity.

Generosity's timing

Where are the billionaires? Where are the men who had hundreds of millions of dollars to spread around during the last political campaign? Where is their money now that the victims of Boston's terrorist attacks need a lot of that kind of money?

I have not heard of sizable donations from those billionaires who were so generous with money when they thought it would buy them political influence. Where are they now? One of them could set to rest the lifelong medical expenses of people who have been robbed of limbs and a way to live a normal life. But I suppose there is no political benefit to helping non-politicians.

Please, someone, prove me wrong and tell me who among the billionaire class has helped in any substantial way, besides the corporations who contributed millions. Where are the billionaires now that we need them?

LANDFILL

cell. With the earlier fire in Phase 3, the fire was thought to have started below the surface.

"What we're doing is putting sand on it right now to smother the fire, and then we'll go back in and get it really good and wet," Stephens said. "Then we'll keep an eye on it to make sure it doesn't pop back up during the night."

Stephens said he could not speculate why a fire broke out again only eight weeks after the previous one. The landfill has had no other reported fires within the past decade, according to a search of Chronicle archives.

Phase 2, a higher portion of the cell, was brought into use while Phase 3 has awaited repairs.

The landfill continued its operations after the first fire.

"When we had the fire (in March), we moved operations back into Phase 2," Stephens explained.

He said the division is waiting for the Florida Department of Environmental Protection and consultants to give the go-ahead to complete repairs on Phase 3.

The landfill will be open for business today.

"This won't disturb the operation whatsoever," Stephens said.

Whether the fire will be investigated is at the discretion of the state fire marshal's office.

"Normally, they don't look into a fire like this because it's not a structure fire," Stephens said. "But I'm sure if we asked them they would come out and look at it."

Stephens said he would consult with Fire Chief Larry Morabito and go from there.

THREATS

Syria's government called the attacks a "flagrant violation of international law" that has made the Middle East "more dangerous." It also claimed the Israeli strikes proved the Jewish state's links to rebel groups trying to overthrow Assad's regime.

Syria's information minister, Omran al-Zoubi, reading a Cabinet statement after an emergency government meeting, said Syria has the right and duty "to defend its people by all available means."

Israeli defense officials believe Assad has little desire to open a new front with Israel when he is preoccupied with the survival of his regime. More than 70,000 people have been killed since the uprising against Assad erupted in March 2011, and Israeli officials believe it is only a matter of time before Assad is toppled.

Still, Israel seemed to be taking the Syrian threats seriously. Israel's military deployed two batteries of its Iron Dome rocket defense system to the north of the country Sunday. It described the move as part of "ongoing situational assessments."

Israel says the Iron Dome shot down hundreds of incoming short-range rockets during eight days of fighting against Hamas militants in the Gaza Strip last November. Hezbollah fired some 4,000 rockets into Israel during the 2006 war, and Israel believes the group now possesses tens of thousands of rockets and missiles.

The Iron Dome deployment followed a surprise Israeli drill last week in which several thousand reservists simulated conflict in the north. In another possible sign of concern, Israel closed the airspace over northern Israel to civilian flights on Sunday and tightened security at embassies overseas, Israeli media reported. Israeli officials would not confirm either measure.

Reflecting fears of ordinary Israelis, the country's postal service, which helps distribute government-issue gas masks, said demand jumped to four times the normal level Sunday.

Israel's deputy defense minister, Danny Danon, would neither confirm nor deny the airstrikes. He said, however, that Israel "is guarding its interests and will continue to do so in the future."

"Israel cannot allow weapons, dangerous weapons, to get into the hands of terror organizations," he told Army Radio.

Israeli defense officials have identified several strategic weapons that they say cannot be allowed to reach Hezbollah. They include Syrian chemical weapons, the Iranian Fateh-110s, long-range Scud missiles, Yakhont missiles capable of attacking naval ships from the coast, and Russian SA-17 anti-aircraft missiles. Israel's airstrike in January destroyed a shipment of SA-17s meant for Hezbollah, according to U.S. officials.

Israeli officials said Sunday they believe Iran is stepping up its efforts to smuggle weapons through Syria to Hezbollah because of concerns Assad's days are numbered.

They said the Fateh-110s reached Syria last week. Friday's airstrike struck a site at the Damascus airport where the missiles were being stored, while the second series of airstrikes early Sunday targeted the remnants of the shipment, which had been moved to three nearby locations, the officials said.

None of the Iranian missiles are believed to have reached Lebanon, said the officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity because they were discussing a classified intelligence assessment.

The attacks pose a dilemma for the embattled Assad regime.

If it fails to respond, it looks weak and opens the door to more airstrikes. But any military retaliation against Israel would risk dragging the Jewish state and its powerful army into a broader conflict. With few exceptions, Israel and Syria have not engaged in direct fighting in roughly 40 years.

The airstrikes come as Washington considers how to respond to indications the Syrian regime may have used chemical weapons in its civil war. President Barack Obama has described the use of such weapons as a "red line," and the administration is weighing its options.

The White House declined for a second day to comment directly on Israel's air strikes in Syria, but said Obama believes Israel, as a sovereign nation, has the right to defend itself against threats from Hezbollah.

"The Israelis are justifiably concerned about the threat posed by Hezbollah obtaining advanced weapons systems, including some long-range missiles," said White House spokesman Josh Earnest. He said the U.S. was in "close coordination" with Israel but would not elaborate.

British Foreign Secretary William Hague also seemed to back Israel, telling Sky News that "all countries have to look after their own national security."

Iran condemned the airstrikes, and a senior official hinted at possible retribution from Hezbollah.

Gen. Masoud Jazayeri, assistant to the Iranian chief of staff, told Iran's state-run Arabic-language Al-Alam TV that Tehran "will not allow the enemy (Israel) to harm the security of the region."

A rocket is launched Aug. 21, 2011, from a new Israeli anti-missile system known as Iron Dome in order to intercept a rocket fired by Palestinian militants from the Gaza Strip, in the southern city of Beersheba, Israel. Israel's military has deployed the Iron Dome defense system to the north of the country following Israeli airstrikes in neighboring Syria on Sunday, targeting weapons believed to be destined for Lebanon's Hezbollah militants to use against Israeli targets in future.

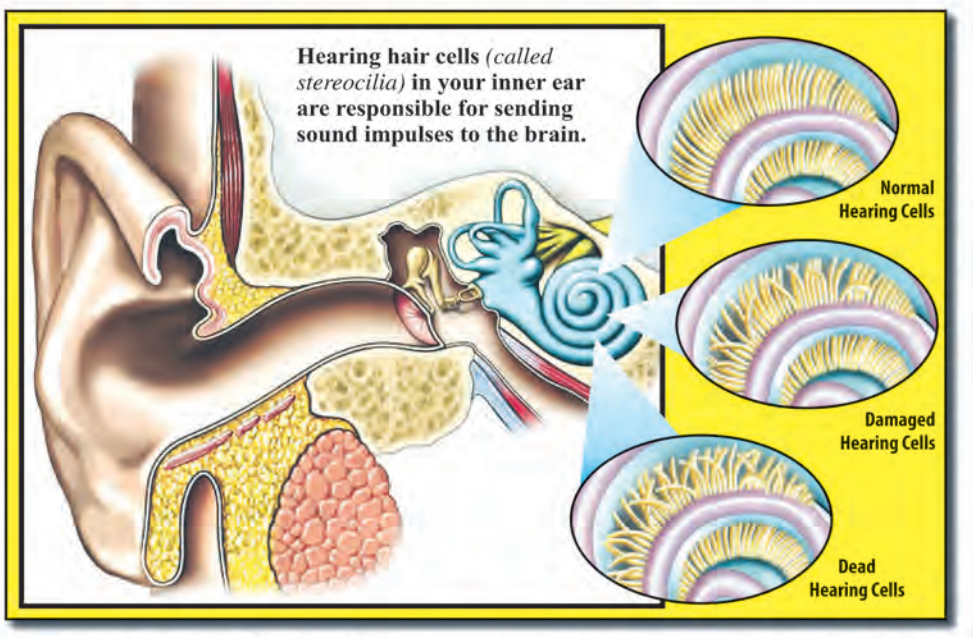
WHY DO I HEAR... BUT NOT UNDERSTAND?

Study by Cambridge University in England Reveals Key Answer

Until recently, there was no practical way to identify dead regions of hearing cells in the ear. However, a new British-developed procedure using standard test equipment now allows for identification of dead hearing cell regions. The study suggests that the presence or absence of dead regions may have serious implications in the fitting of hearing aids.

This research reveals that amplifying dead cells is a mistake which will result in poorer speech understanding in noise. A new type of digitally programmable microcircuit is now being released from Audibel—the world leader in nanoScience technology—that can be programmed to bypass the dead cells. As a result, the patient's usable hearing cells receive amplification, thereby improving speech understanding in noise.

We are able to achieve maximum speech understanding by frequency shaping this new hearing aid.



The results have been phenomenal. These new products come in all shell sizes, including the smaller digital models. During the month of May, Audibel Hearing Centers is offering this new frequency-shaping hearing instrument on a 30-day satisfaction trial. "Your satisfaction is absolutely guaranteed," Brett Bonham of Audibel Hearing Centers said. Call the Audibel Hearing Center nearest you for a no-obligation appointment.

Referee punched by player dies

MURRAY, Utah — Ricardo Portillo's daughters begged him to stop refereeing in a soccer league because of the growing risk of violence from angry players.

Now they're faced with planning his funeral after he succumbed to injuries late Saturday that had put him in a coma for a week since a 17-year-old goalie punched him in the head.

Authorities said the teen punched Portillo, 46, after the youth was called for a foul and issued a yellow card.

The suspect has been booked into juvenile detention on suspicion of aggravated assault. Police have said they will consider further charges given Portillo's death.

Five women die in limo fire on bridge

SAN FRANCISCO — A limousine taking nine women to a bachelorette party erupted in flames, killing five of the passengers, including the bride-to-be, authorities and the mother of one of the survivors said Sunday.

The limo caught fire at around 10 p.m. Saturday, California Highway Patrol officer Art Montiel told The Associated Press.

Five of the women were trapped, but the four other women managed to get out after the vehicle came to a stop on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge, he said.

Investigators haven't determined what sparked the fire, but the patrol said the white stretch limo became engulfed in flames after smoke started coming out of the rear of the vehicle.

It wasn't clear if any other drivers on the bridge stopped and tried to help the women, or how the driver managed to escape without injury.

The company that operated the limo was identified as Limo Stop, which offers service through limousines, vans and SUVS.

Containment of fire expected today

CAMARILLO, Calif. — Cool, moist air moving into Southern California on Sunday helped firefighters build containment lines around a huge wildfire burning through coastal mountains.

Fire crews took advantage of improved conditions as the high winds and hot, dry air of recent days were replaced by the normal Pacific air, significantly reducing fire activity.

The 44-square-mile blaze at the western end of the Santa Monica Mountains was 60 percent surrounded.

Full containment was expected Monday, according to Ventura County fire officials.

The progress led authorities to lift all remaining evacuation orders.

Despite its size and speed of growth, the fire that broke out Thursday and quickly spread caused damage to just 15 homes.

Stores, legislators torn on Internet tax

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Buy anything on the Internet lately without paying sales tax? In all but a few states, you're probably a tax cheat.

That's right; even if Internet retailers don't collect sales tax at the time of the purchase, you're required by law to pay it in 45 states and the District of Columbia.

Here's the problem for states: Hardly anyone pays the tax, and there's not much states can do about it.

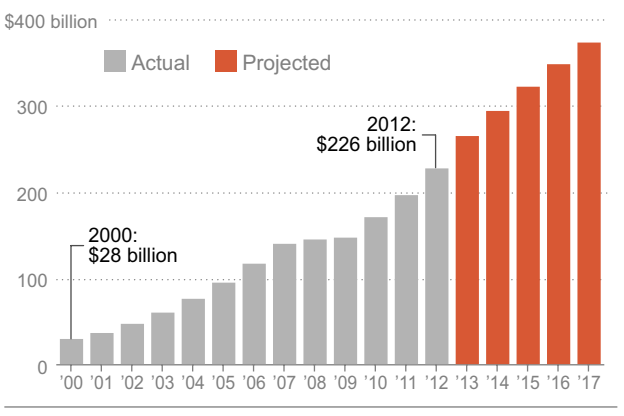
The Senate is expected to pass a bill Monday making it easier for states to collect sales taxes for online purchases. Some of the nation's largest retailers are rejoicing. But small-business owners who make their living selling products on the Internet worry they will be swamped by new requirements from faraway states.

"It's a huge burden for a company like ours," said Sarah Davis, co-owner of Fashionphile.com, a California-based company that sells high-end pre-owned handbags and purses. "We don't have an accounting department, we've got my father-in-law."

Under the law, states can only require stores to collect sales taxes if the store has a physical presence in the state.

That means big retailers, such as Walmart, Best Buy and Target, with stores all over the country collect sales taxes when they sell goods over the Internet. But eBay, Amazon and other online retailers don't have to collect sales taxes, except in states where they have offices or distribution centers.

As a result, many online sales are essentially tax-free, giving Internet retailers an advantage over brick-and-mortar stores.



Sen. Mike Enzi's (R-Wyo.) bill would empower states to require businesses collect taxes for products they sell on the Internet, in catalogs and through radio and TV ads. Under the bill, the taxes would be sent to the states where a shopper lives.

Businesses with less than $1 million a year in out-of-state sales would be exempt.

The Senate is expected to pass Enzi's bill Monday, but the bill faces an uncertain fate in the House, where some Republicans consider it a tax increase.

Supporters say the bill makes it relatively easy for Internet retailers to comply. States must provide free computer software to help retailers calculate sales taxes, based on where shoppers live. States also must establish a single entity to receive Internet sales tax revenue, so retailers don't have to send them to individual counties or cities.

Davis said even with free software, her business doesn't have the manpower to separate sales taxes for each state and meet each state's deadline to send in the money.

"We collect and pay sales tax here in California and we're happy to do that. We receive benefit from that. We can influence lawmakers locally on how those taxes are spent and how much those are and how they're collected," Davis said.

"I don't feel the same about Indiana."

A woman covers her nose to block out the smell of bodies Sunday as she leaves the morgue in Savar, near Dhaka, Bangladesh, temporarily housing bodies pulled out of the rubble from the garment factory collapse. The disaster is likely the worst garment-factory accident ever, and there have been few industrial accidents of any kind with a higher death toll.

Toll tops 600

Factory collapse among deadliest industrial accidents ever

Associated Press

DHAKA, Bangladesh — More than 600 bodies have been recovered from the garment-factory building that collapsed well over a week ago, police said Sunday as the grim recovery work continued in one of the worst industrial accidents ever.

Police said Sunday night the death toll had reached 622. More than 200 additional bodies have been recovered since Wednesday, when authorities said only 149 people had been listed as missing. The stench of decomposing bodies remains amid the broken concrete of the eight-story Rana Plaza building, and it is anyone's guess how many victims remain to be recovered.

The April 24 disaster is likely the worst garment-factory accident ever, and there have been few industrial accidents of any kind with a higher death toll. It surpassed garment-industry disasters such as New York's Triangle Shirtwaist factory fire, which killed 146 workers in 1911, and more recent tragedies such as a 2012 fire that killed about 260 people in Pakistan and one in Bangladesh that same year that killed 112.

An architect whose firm designed the building said Sunday it was not designed to handle heavy industrial equipment, let alone the three floors later illegally added. The equipment used by the five garment factories that occupied Rana Plaza included huge generators that were turned on shortly before the building crumbled.

Masood Reza, an architect with Vastukalpa Consultants, said the building was designed in 2004 as a shopping mall and not for any industrial purpose.

Government officials say substandard building materials, combined with the vibration of the heavy machines used by the factories, led to the collapse.

The building developed cracks a day before the collapse and the owner, Mohammed Sohel Rana, called engineer Abdur Razzak Khan to inspect it. Khan appeared on television that night and said he told Rana the building should be evacuated.

Police also issued an evacuation order, but witnesses say that hours before the collapse, Rana told people that the building was safe and managers told their workers to go inside.

Rana has been arrested is expected to be charged with negligence, illegal construction and forcing workers to join work, crimes punishable by a maximum of seven years in jail.

Khan was arrested as well.

Bangladesh is popular as a source of clothing largely because of its cheap labor. The minimum wage for a garment worker is $38 a month, after being nearly doubled this year following violent protests by workers.

As West dries, valley fever on the rise

Associated Press

FRESNO, Calif. — California and federal public health officials say valley fever, a potentially lethal but often misdiagnosed disease infecting more and more people around the nation, has been on the rise as warming climates and drought have kicked up the dust that spreads it.

The fever has hit California's agricultural heartland hard in recent years, with incidence dramatically increasing in 2010 and 2011. The disease — prevalent in arid regions of the United States, Mexico, Central and South America — can be contracted by simply breathing in fungus-laced spores from dust disturbed by wind as well as human or animal activity.

The fungus is sensitive to environmental changes, experts say, and a hotter, drier climate has increased dust carrying the spores.

Longstanding concerns about valley fever were heightened last week when a federal health official ordered the transfer of more than 3,000 vulnerable inmates from two San Joaquin Valley prisons.

Nationwide, the number of valley fever cases rose by more than 850 percent from 1998 through 2011, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. In 2011, there were more than 20,400, with most cases reported in California and Arizona.

The CDC and the California Department of Public Health say improved reporting methods and better diagnosis partially explain the increase. Despite that, an estimated 150,000 valley fever infections go undiagnosed every year, the CDC says.

Bomber kills seven in Somalia

MOGADISHU, Somalia — Seven people were killed Sunday morning when a suicide bomber attempted to ram a car laden with explosives into a military convoy escorting a four-member Qatari delegation.

Gen. Garad Nor Abdulle, a senior police official, said the members of the Qatari delegation were unharmed.

Mohamed Abdi, an officer at the scene of the blast, said four civilians and a soldier died immediately. Another two people died in hospital and 18 were being treated of wounds from the blast, said Dr. Duniya Mohamed Ali at the Medina hospital.

One dead, 44 hurt in church blast

ZANZIBAR, Tanzania — A woman died and 44 people were seriously wounded when a bomb exploded in a Roman Catholic church in northern Tanzania, a Tanzanian police official said Sunday.

Mulogo said eyewitnesses report the bomb was thrown from a motorcycle into the church. Mulogo said the driver of the motorcycle has been arrested.

Gadhafi officials banned from posts

TRIPOLI, Libya — Under pressure from armed militias, Libya's parliament passed a sweeping law Sunday that bans anyone who served as a senior official under Moammar Gadhafi during his 42-year-long rule from working in government.

The Political Isolation Law could lead to the dismissal of many current leaders, some of whom had defected to the rebel side during the country's 2011 civil war or had been elected to office since Gadhafi's ouster and killing.

Rays win series in Colorado for first time

Cobb overcomes three solo home runs for victory

Associated Press

DENVER — Alex Cobb pitched effectively into the seventh inning, withstanding three solo homers by Colorado and helping the Tampa Bay Rays beat the Rockies 8-3 Sunday.

Jose Lobaton, Ryan Roberts and Kelly Johnson each drove in two runs for the Rays. Tampa Bay took two of three and won a series at Coors Field for the first time in four visits.

Cobb (4-2) went 6 2/3 innings and allowed eight hits. Nolan Arenado hit a two-out homer in the seventh that pulled the Rockies within 6-3, a day after the rookie had a grand slam.

Coming into the game, Cobb had only given up two home runs in his five previous starts. But he wriggled out of trouble in key spots, getting two of his six strikeouts in the sixth after a throwing error put a Rockies baserunner on second with one out.

Lobaton stretched Tampa Bay's lead in the eighth with a two-run single after a second passed ball by catcher Wilin Rosario allowed baserunners Evan Longoria and James Loney to advance to third and second, respectively.

Tampa Bay jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first off Jhoulys Chacin, who was activated from the 15-day disabled list prior to the game.

Matt Joyce came home from third on a wild pitch around RBI singles by Loney and Johnson as the Rays broke on top against Chacin (3-1). He gave up a season-high six runs — five earned — on eight hits in seven innings.

Michael Cuddyer connected for his seventh home run leading off the second, driving a 2-2 pitch from Cobb into the left field bleachers. Troy Tulowitzki pulled the Rockies to within a run when he hit a solo shot leading off the fourth for his seventh of the season.

Tampa Bay added three more runs in the sixth. Johnson had an RBI single and Loney and Johnson both moved up on a passed ball before Roberts doubled to drive them both home for a 6-2 lead.

After long weather delay, Ragan steals last-lap victory at Talladega

Associated Press

TALLADEGA, Ala. — A pair of Davids slew the Goliaths at Talladega Superspeedway.

David Ragan hooked up with teammate David Gilliland in a two-lap overtime sprint, and together they picked off some of the top drivers in NASCAR to drive to the front and push Ragan into Victory Lane.

It was the second career victory for Ragan — he also won at Daytona in July 2011 — and Gilliland finished second for a 1-2 finish for Front Row Motorsports.

"I had a great teammate. David Gilliland gave us a great push. I owe him a lot," Ragan said. "I'll definitely buy him lunch this week or something."

The victory came a day after Regan Smith won the Nationwide Series race and Ragan was flooded with misfired congratulatory messages on Twitter.

"All fans- please send all congrats to @ReganSmith. Not this Ragan..... He is the Winner today!! Haha," he tweeted Saturday night.

Now Ragan has his own win — just in time to qualify for the Sprint All-Star race in two weeks.

Gilliland wanted the win but was content settling for second on a day his team earned its first career victory.

David Ragan celebrates after winning the Aaron's 499 Sunday at Talladega Superspeedway in Talladega, Ala.

"What a great day for Front Row Motorsports, an underfunded team coming in here and being able to finish 1-2 is awesome," Gilliland said. "I'm very proud of David Ragan. I know he would have done the same for me. I had a heck of a run, we were pushing, I was locked to his bumper and I wasn't going to let him go."

The race took seven hours to complete after rain stopped it for 3 hours, 36 minutes midway through the event. With darkness quickly closing in, contact between Ricky Stenhouse Jr. and J.J. Yeley triggered a frightening crash that sent Kurt Busch's car airborne and on top of Ryan Newman's car.

Newman has been in numerous harrowing accidents at Daytona and Talladega, where NASCAR uses restrictor-plates to control the speeds, and was sharp with his criticism after exiting the infield care center. He said he only stopped to do a live television interview to criticize cars still being able to go airborne.

"They can build safer race cars, they can build safer walls. But they can't get their heads out of their (expletive) far enough to keep them on the race track, and that's pretty disappointing," Newman said. "I wanted to make sure I get that point across. Y'all can figure out who 'they' is."

Butler earns wire-to-wire win; Bell takes third Sportsman title

SEAN ARNOLD

INVERNESS — Shane Butler held a wire-to-wire 40-lap lead to capture his first-ever win in the Open Wheel Modified class, while Brooksville's Mike Bell won his third Sportsman feature in a hard-fought 25 laps at the Citrus County Speedway on Saturday.

The night also featured convincing wins from Pure Stock points leader Karlin Ray and 2012 Mini Stock champ Jeremy Sharrone, in his first outing of the season, as well as a lineup of throwback machines represented in the Daytona Antique Auto Racing Association's (DAARA) Southern Vintage Series.

Inverness' Herb Neumann Jr. gave another strong performance in the Open Wheel Modified division, as he advanced from the middle of the field to finish second and grab a lead in the points standings with former leader Richie Smith absent Saturday. Neumann — a renowned Super Late Model driver — gave Butler — an accomplished Sprint driver — a mid-race test, but the Bushnell driver survived and later withstood yellow flags on laps 30 and 32 to nudge himself into fourth in the standings.

"This is only about the eighth time I've been in the Modified, and we've been struggling with it," said Butler, who performed donuts for the crowd on the far straightaway in celebration of his victory.

Zephyrhills' Devin McLeod found the third position on lap 17 to come in one behind Neumann, and Wesley Chapel's Troy Robinson — now second

ROCCS makes big splash at FSRA state regatta

Inverness rowing club nabs two state titles for first time

JAMES BLEVINS
Correspondent

The Rowing Organization of Citrus County Students (ROCCS) club has been making waves around the state of Florida for more than 10 years.

On the weekend of April 27 and 28, the Inverness-based organization earned its first two state titles at the Florida Scholastic Rowing Association (FSRA) State Sweep Championship at Nathan Benderson Park in Sarasota.

The "sweep" event has each rower using a single paddle to propel the craft.

Ben Davison and Andrew Lynch won the boys pair race in a time of 5:25.40, two seconds ahead of second-place finishers Cape Coral Rowing Club.

Davison, 16, from Citrus High School and Lynch, 17, from Lecanto High School, managed to catch up to the leaders in the last 300 meters to win the race in grand fashion.

The undefeated girls group consisting of Morgan Brown, Kimberly Stafford, Emily Hall and Mikayla Dutton (along with coxswain Sierra Lemos) — all of Lecanto High — won the Junior Four title in a time of 5:54.90.

The finish saw the ROCCS group dominating second-place finisher Stanton River Bank

Pacers steal Game 1

Associated Press

NEW YORK — David West scored 20 points, Paul George added 19 and the Indiana Pacers beat the New York Knicks 102-95 on Sunday in Game 1 of the Eastern Conference semifinals.

D.J. Augustin had 16 points for the Pacers, who built a 16-point lead while Carmelo Anthony was on the bench in foul trouble in the third quarter, and easily held on to spoil the Knicks' first second-round game since 2000.

Anthony finished with 27 points and 11 rebounds, but was frustrated by the Pacers' rugged defense and by the referees. He shot just 10 of 28 from the field.

Game 2 is here Tuesday night, and then the series takes a lengthy break before Game 3 on Saturday in Indiana.

Thunder 93, Grizzlies 91

OKLAHOMA CITY — Kevin Durant scored 35 points and hit a pair of jumpers in the final minute to lift the Oklahoma City Thunder to a 93-91 victory against the Memphis Grizzlies in Game 1 of the Western Conference semifinals.

Derek Fisher poked the ball away from Mike Conley to spring Durant the other way and he pulled up to hit a shot with 11.1 seconds left to put Oklahoma City up 91-90. Thabo Sefolosha then deflected an inbounds pass, and Conley landed out of bounds while diving for the ball.

Reggie Jackson hit two free throws to make the lead three, and Quincy Pondexter was unable to hit all three of his free throws with 1.6 seconds left to tie it up.

Game 2 is Tuesday night in Oklahoma City.

Penguins take 2-1 series lead with wild OT win

Associated Press

UNIONDALE, N.Y. — Chris Kunitz scored his second power-play goal of the game 8:34 into overtime, off a pass from Sidney Crosby, and the Pittsburgh Penguins shook off an early deficit and a late blown lead to beat the New York Islanders 5-4 on Sunday in Game 3 of the first-round series.

The Eastern Conference's top-seeded team rode severe ups and downs in taking a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven matchup.

Pittsburgh trailed 2-0 just 5:41 in but rallied to lead 3-2 before the first period was over. The comeback started with power-play goals just 19 seconds apart by Jarome Iginla and Kunitz.

The Penguins seemed in control in the third period, but New York erased a 4-2 deficit on goals by Kyle Okposo and John Tavares.

Game 4 is Tuesday on Long Island.

Wild 3, Blackhawks 2, OT

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Jason Zucker scored at 2:15 of overtime to give Minnesota a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Blackhawks, pulling the Wild to 2-1 in the Western Conference quarterfinal series.

Zach Parise scored for the Wild early in the third period, but Duncan Keith got one back for the Blackhawks with 2:46 left in regulation to force the second overtime in three games of this best-of-seven series. Game 4 is here on Tuesday night.

After taking the top-seeded Blackhawks to overtime in Game 1 at Chicago, the Wild fell flat and lost 5-2 in Game 2. They took full advantage of the shift in venue and fed off the noise and excitement in the building in Minnesota's first home playoff game in five years.

Senators 6, Canadiens 1

OTTAWA — Jean-Gabriel Pageau got his first NHL hat trick to lead the Ottawa Senators to a fight-filled 6-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens.

The teams combined for 232 penalty minutes and nine players were given a game misconduct.

The Senators have a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series and Game 4 is Tuesday.

The third period started out with the Senators leading 2-1, but after Pageau's second goal of the night and a Kyle Turris goal at 7:00, emotions overflowed and a line brawl broke out at center ice.

Pageau, who was born in Ottawa, scored his second of the game at 1:18 of the third period to give the Senators a 3-1 lead.

Late Saturday night Kings 1, Blues 0

LOS ANGELES — Jonathan Quick made 30 saves in his fifth career playoff shutout, leading the Los Angeles Kings to a 1-0 victory over St. Louis and trimming the Blues' series lead to 2-1.

Slava Voynov scored in the second period for the defending Stanley Cup champions.

Los Angeles will attempt to even the series in Game 4 tonight.

St. Louis has allowed just three goals in the series, but Quick kept the Kings unbeaten at home since March 23.

ROWING

Rowing by four seconds at the line.

Both titles are the first the club has seen since being founded by Dave Brown in 2003.

In the Boys Junior Eight race, Sanders Clardy (LHS), Christian Dossett (LHS), Colten Gardner (LHS), David Mitchell (CHS), Matt Grotjahn (LHS), Christian Javier (LHS), Billy Ball (LHS), Morgan Lyon (LHS), and coxswain Emily Hume (CHS) placed ninth after finishing third in the Petite Final.

Overall, ROCCS took six boats (three sculling, using two oars each, and three sweeps) to the state regatta and came away with two gold medals, two silver medals — a sixth- and a ninth-place finish.

ROCCS head coach Terry Davison, also Ben Davison's father, is extremely proud of what the club has produced at the recent FSRA regatta, but has his eyes firmly set on the future.

"We're a club that has accomplished much in our 10-year history," Terry Davison said. "Here at state this year has been the furthest we've ever been.

"Our reputation is growing amongst the other rowing clubs," Davison added. "They all know about us now, whereas before we were a bit of a joke. We started as more of a recreational club and now we're very competitive."

Coach Davison still looks to get more support from the local community in Citrus County as the club, despite its success, barely scrapes by.

"We come from this wonderful place but no one knows about it," Davison said. "So many people come up to me and say they didn't even know we had a rowing club here (in Inverness).

"We're getting the results, and that's coming from all of our hard work," Davison continued. "The kids are putting in six days a week and sometimes two times a day to get this."

Ben Davison has been invited to try out for the 2013 Junior Worlds Sculling Selection Camp. He is one of only 18 athletes nationwide who has received this honor.

If he makes the team, Davison will be competing in Lithuania for the U.S. Junior team.

The ROCCS club next rows at the U.S. Southeast Regional Championships on May 4 and 5 in Oakridge, Tenn. in the hopes to return in June for the national championship regatta.

in points — turned in a fourth-place showing after starting the race at ninth.

The Sportsman feature mirrored the top of its point standings, with Bell, Mark Peterson and Jay Witfoth finishing in that order after exchanging leads for an entertaining race at the front.

Bell and Witfoth were locked side by side in a battle for the lead on lap 15, when Bell's No. 17 spun toward the infield on turn 4, which forced Witfoth to the rear after he was penalized for the contact.

Meanwhile, Peterson claimed the lead on lap 16 before relinquishing it back to Bell on 19, just as Witfoth was completing his surge back to the top 3.

In Pure Stocks, Ray catapulted past three cars with a daring move to the outside on the first lap, allowing him to eventually score his fourth feature win of the season with Homosassa's Camron Ray (Karlin's cousin) and Williston's Larry Welter Jr. in tow.

"I didn't know how it was going to go," Karlin Ray said of his maneuver, "but I just made it work."

Sharrone, of Floral City, started from the back in the 20-lap Mini Stock feature after winning his heat, but had the lead for good by lap 12 after getting by second-place finisher Mark Patterson of Webster. Mini Stock points leader Kevin Stone finished third.

While Georgian Bob Jordan (Midget class) and Antioch's Jimmy Miltner (Sprints) dominated their respective DAARA events, Sarasota's Rick Sanders had to erase a substantial early lead by fellow Sarasotan Bill Stelcher to claim the antique Speedster feature.

Orlando's Kelly Jarret regained his lead on lap 6 to edge out Okeechobee's Steve Parrish in DAARA's 6-cylinder stock division, and Titusville's Toby Smith narrowly outlasted Punta Gorda's Frank Lenhardt in DAARA's 8-cylinder Modifieds after the pair were neck and neck for much of the race.

All DAARA features were eight laps.

NASCAR

He also was upset NASCAR continued the race with darkness closing in on the track so quickly.

"That's no way to end a race," he said. "That's just poor judgment in restarting the race, poor judgment. I mean, you got what you wanted, but poor judgment and running in the dark and running in the rain. That's it, thank you."

NASCAR sent the race into overtime after the final accident for one attempt at a green-white-checkered finish, and it seemed as though it might have been Matt Kenseth's race to win.

He led a race-high 142 laps and was the leader on the final restart but was passed by Carl Edwards on the first lap of overtime. He tried to get the lead back and was battling Edwards with no drafting partner. He never saw the pack coming behind him and, with nowhere to go, fell out of contention in the blink of an eye.

"Carl just got a rocket restart there, and he cleared me down the backstretch," Kenseth said. "He just got a huge run somehow. I was still second. I thought we still had a shot. I tried to get around Carl but he blocked, which you should. We got real wide getting up there and got pretty far to the top, and I just didn't watch the runs from the guys way in the back.

"I saw David at the last minute but he was going too fast. If I pulled in front of him I was just going to get wrecked. I just had to bite the bullet and try to find the hole, which there wasn't one. It was a disappointing end to the day but man, we had a great car.'

That's when Ragan and Gilliland came charging out of nowhere, sweeping past Edwards and Jimmie Johnson and to the front.

"That was crazy," Edwards said. "I blocked everybody I could. I was doing everything I could. I blocked Matt and I thought, 'Oh, we've got it.' And then I saw Jimmie coming and I blocked him and I thought, 'Who is that back there?' It was this Ford freight train coming and I just couldn't stay in front of them."

Edwards wound up third for a sweep of the top three spots for Ford.

Michael Waltrip, who turned 50 this week and was running his first race since the Daytona 500, was fourth, and Daytona 500 winner Jimmie Johnson was fifth.

Smith finished sixth and was followed by Martin Truex Jr., Kenseth, Scott Speed and Aric Almirola.

Denny Hamlin successfully returned from a compression fracture in a vertebra by turning 23 laps before getting out of his Joe Gibbs Racing Toyota for replacement driver Brian Vickers during the first caution. Hamlin climbed out through a roof hatch and Vickers slid in through the window quickly enough to keep the No. 11 on the lead lap.

A mere 18 laps later, before Hamlin had even completed his media interviews, Joe Gibbs Racing teammate Kyle Busch triggered a 16-car accident on lap 43 that collected Vickers. Hamlin scurried to his garage stall to survey the damage on the car, where Vickers sat with the window net still up.

Vickers finished 34th in Hamlin's car.

Hinchcliffe wins Sao Paulo

SAO PAULO — James Hinchcliffe overtook Takuma Sato of Japan on the last turn to win IndyCar's Sao Paulo 300 for his second career victory.

The Canadian moved from third to second with three laps to go and, after the long back straight, moved inside Sato to take the lead just a few yards from the finish line at the Anhembi street track.

American Marco Andretti was third.

Will Power, who won the previous three races in Brazil but started 22nd after a mishap in qualifying, retired on lap 19 because of an apparent gear shift problem.

Power's Penske teammate Helio Castroneves, a home-crowd favorite and the points leader entering the weekend, had an incident-filled race and finished 13th.

Associated Press

Atlanta's Freddie Freeman scores Sunday under New York starting pitcher Jonathon Niese during the third inning at Turner Field in Atlanta.

Braves cruise by Mets 9-4

Athletics hit three homers to slip past Yankees 5-4

Associated Press

ATLANTA — Freddie Freeman homered and drove in three runs, Tim Hudson pitched into the eighth inning and the Atlanta Braves beat the New York Mets 9-4 on Sunday.

Reed Johnson also had three RBIs for the Braves. Freeman, who finished with three hits, smacked a two-run double off left-hander Jonathon Niese in a five-run third and added a sixth-inning homer off reliever Jeurys Familia.

David Wright hit a two-run homer in the fourth off Hudson (4-1), who gave up three runs on five hits and a walk in 7 1/3 innings.

Niese (2-3) matched his career high with six walks while allowing seven runs and seven hits in four-plus innings.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Athletics 5, Yankees 4

NEW YORK — Josh Donaldson hit Oakland's third home run of the game, a tiebreaking drive off Boone Logan in the eighth inning that lifted the Athletics over the New York Yankees 5-4.

Luke Montz and Yoenis Cespedes homered as Oakland took a 4-1 lead against Andy Pettitte, who struggled for the second straight start, but the Yankees rallied in the sixth against reliever Jerry Blevins.

Preston Claiborne, a 25-year-old right-hander, followed Pettitte and retired six straight batters in his major league debut.

Sean Doolittle (2-0) pitched a perfect seventh, and Ryan Cook got out of a two-on, one-out jam in the eighth.

Rangers 4, Red Sox 3

ARLINGTON, Texas — Yu Darvish struck out 14 and Adrian Beltre hit an RBI single with two outs in the ninth inning as the Texas Rangers beat Boston 4-3, completing a three-game sweep and matching the Red Sox for the best record in the majors.

Beltre lined a hit to right-center off Clayton Mortensen (0-2) that sent home Elvis Andrus, who had reached on a two-out single and moved up on a wild pitch.

Darvish matched a career high for strikeouts and left after seven innings with the score tied. Rangers closer Joe Nathan (1-0), the third reliever, worked around a walk and a hit in the ninth.

Orioles 8, Angels 4

ANAHEIM, Calif. — J.J. Hardy and Manny Machado each hit a two-run homer off Jerome Williams in his first start of the season, leading the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-4 victory over the reeling Los Angeles Angels.

Jason Hammel (5-1) allowed four runs and nine hits through six innings, helping the Orioles tie the New York Yankees for second place in the AL East.

Mike Trout homered for the Angels, whose 11-20 start has matched the worst in franchise history.

Twins 4, Indians 2

CLEVELAND — Mike Pelfrey pitched six effective innings, Trevor Plouffe hit a two-run homer and the Minnesota Twins beat Cleveland 4-2 to stop the Indians' six-game winning streak.

Justin Morneau drove in a run with a bases-loaded single in the sixth while Joe Mauer, who was in a 5-for-43 slump, added an RBI double in the seventh for his 1,300th career hit.

Blue Jays 10, Mariners 2

TORONTO — Mark DeRosa hit a three-run homer, Melky Cabrera added a solo shot and the Toronto Blue Jays snapped a four-game losing streak by beating the Seattle Mariners 10-2.

Brandon Morrow pitched three-hit ball over eight innings for his first win of the year. He struck out eight, matching a season high.

Cabrera was 3 for 4 with two RBIs while DeRosa went 3 for 5 with three RBIs and scored three times.

Royals 6, White Sox 5, 10 inn.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Alex Gordon hit an RBI single with two outs in the 10th inning and the Kansas City Royals rallied past the Chicago White Sox 6-5.

Billy Butler's two-out, two-run double in the ninth tied it for Kansas City.

Gordon singled on the first pitch from rookie Brian Omogrosso (0-1).

Greg Holland (1-1) worked a perfect 10th.

Tigers 9, Astros 0

HOUSTON — Justin Verlander held Houston hitless until the seventh inning and the Detroit Tigers romped past the Astros 9-0 for a four-game sweep.

Verlander, who has already pitched two no-hitters in his career, made a bid for another one against the overmatched Astros.

Carlos Pena got Houston's first hit, a single with one out in the seventh over the head of second baseman Omar Infante.

Verlander (4-2) struck out nine and left after the seventh.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Marlins 14, Phillies 2

PHILADELPHIA — Adeiny Hechavarria hit a grand slam and a bases-loaded triple off an ailing Roy Halladay, driving in seven runs for the Miami Marlins in their 14-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

After the game, Halladay acknowledged he has a sore right shoulder. He said he will undergo tests this week in Los Angeles and be examined by Dr. Lewis Yocum.

Kevin Slowey (1-2) pitched seven shutout innings for his first win since September 2010.

Justin Ruggiano homered twice off Philadelphia relievers, and rookie Marcell Ozuna went 3 for 4 with two doubles and three RBIs for the Marlins.

Nationals 6, Pirates 2

PITTSBURGH — Tyler Moore hit a three-run homer and Danny Espinosa homered and drove in three runs, leading the Washington Nationals over the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2.

Moore homered in the eighth inning off rookie reliever Bryan Morris and broke open a 3-2 game.

Cardinals 10, Brewers 1

MILWAUKEE — Jaime Garcia pitched eight innings and Allen Craig drove in four runs to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-1 win over Milwaukee and the franchise's first four-game sweep of the Brewers.

Matt Holliday also homered for the Cardinals, who have won six straight.

Garcia (4-1), who won his third straight game, gave up one run on eight hits.

Marco Estrada (2-2) lasted 3 1/3 innings for the Brewers, who lost for the fifth straight game.

Reds 7, Cubs 4

CHICAGO — Joey Votto had three hits, Todd Frazier hit a two-run single and the Cincinnati Reds completed a three-game sweep of the Chicago Cubs with a 7-4 victory.

Mat Latos (3-0) extended his scoreless streak to 21 innings, tying a career high, but didn't pitch past the fifth inning for the first time in seven starts.

Edwin Jackson (0-5) struggled again for the Cubs, allowing four runs and eight hits in five innings.

Padres 5, D'backs 1

SAN DIEGO — Rookie Jedd Gyorko hit a two-run homer with two outs in the sixth and Will Venable followed with a solo shot to help carry Edinson Volquez and the San Diego Padres to a 5-1 victory over the Arizona Diamondbacks.

Volquez won his third straight start and the Padres, who took two of three from the Diamondbacks, won for the eighth time in 11 games. The Diamondbacks have lost five of six.

Giants 4, Dodgers 3

SAN FRANCISCO — Hunter Pence doubled twice and drove in four runs, Matt Cain pitched into the eighth inning for his first victory of the season and the San Francisco Giants beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 to complete a series sweep.

Leadoff hitter Andres Torres had three hits for San Francisco while Marco Scutaro had two hits and scored twice.

Bridge

PHILLIP ALDER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Oscar Wilde said, "It is only an auctioneer who can equally and impartially admire all schools of art."

It is only a successful bridge player who listens carefully to the auction and uses the information to guide his defense.

In this example, how should West hope to defeat four spades after he leads the club ace?

North's sequence, Stayman followed by the jump to three no-trump over two hearts, guaranteed four spades. So South corrected to four spades. Note that the defenders could have taken five immediate club tricks against three no-trump.

Many inexperienced defenders cannot wait to cash winners. They would take the club king about one nanosecond after winning the first trick with the ace. Then they would look around to decide what to do next — too late. Their best move would be to feign a sudden illness and to flee the premises!

When dummy comes down with three hearts, West should realize that his partner has a singleton. So, there are two ways to win by shifting to a heart at trick two: Partner might have either the singleton heart ace or the spade ace.

As you can see, this defense defeats the contract. East wins the first (or second) round of trumps, puts West on lead with his carefully preserved club king, and receives the contract-killing heart ruff.

As the bidding progresses, mentally log what information it imparts. And slow down your play: there are no prizes — except booby — for speed.

ANNIE'S MAILBOX

Dear Annie: I'm a 20-year-old woman in love with a 25-year-old divorced man who has a 4-year-old son, "Mikey."

Lately, Mikey's mother has been letting us have the child more often because she has to go out of state on business.

The problem is, this boy is very stubborn. He's not a bad child. He just doesn't like to listen. And for the most part, he always gets his way — from what he eats to when he goes to sleep. When he doesn't get his way, he throws a fit.

I care deeply for Mikey and don't agree with this type of upbringing. I wasn't raised this way, and neither was my boyfriend.

I helped raise my younger sister, so I understand discipline. I am not harsh, but I do want Mikey to listen to me.

The other day, we took him with us when we shopped for a new TV, and he kept running around the furniture. At one point, I couldn't find him, and he didn't come when I called his name. My boyfriend said, "That's normal. Let him be."

If I had behaved like this growing up, my mother would have smacked my behind in front of everyone in the store. My boyfriend insists we leave him alone because he's only with us for a short while. But my boyfriend often is at work when Mikey is here, which means I am the one who deals with this behavior.

The least he could do is make it easier for me. Am I wrong to feel this way? — Young but Learning

Dear Young: You aren't wrong, but you must remember it is perfectly normal for 4-year-old boys to run around in a store and not listen. That doesn't make it appropriate or safe.

Your boyfriend refuses to discipline Mikey because he doesn't see him often. This does a disservice to all of you, especially Mikey. How will he feel secure and know his father loves him if Dad doesn't care enough to watch his behavior and help him mature? Please ask your boyfriend to come with you for parenting classes. You can check online or at your local YMCA.

Dear Annie: My husband and I just returned from a luncheon following a funeral. We decided not to eat any of the food, as we were told by another person that the food had been sitting out uncovered for a couple of hours. We felt the food could be spoiled.

Shouldn't this food have been left in the refrigerator or warming in the oven?

Worse, people who arrived at the luncheon before the family were told to wait, which was another hour because the family stayed at the funeral home deciding what to do with the flowers.

Is this proper? — Funeral Guest

Dear Guest: This was a funeral, not a party. It is appropriate to wait for the family, and they are entitled to linger at the funeral home if need be. But yes, the food should have been refrigerated or kept warm.

We assume someone was in charge of setting out the food, and this is the person you could have consulted. If the food was inedible, it would have been a kindness for a few of you to offer to get some fresh supplies.

Dear Annie: I'm writing about the letter from "Left-Out Son," who always did things right while his sister partied and was subsidized by their parents. They earned their money and can spend it as they choose, even if that means frittering it away on his sister.

The idea that parents are obligated to leave an inheritance and reward their children is repugnant. His reward was their guidance in teaching him what was right.

It sounds as if he is on track to repeat his parents' success through his own hard work, and that's his inheritance. — No Entitlement Mentality

A true Cinderella story

Rookie Ernst wins Wells Fargo in playoff

Associated Press

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — One phone call changed his plans. One shot changed a whole lot more for Derek Ernst.

Six days after Ernst received a call that he was in the Wells Fargo Championship as the fourth alternate, the 22-year-old rookie found himself one shot out of the lead and 192 yards away from the flag on the 18th hole, the toughest at Quail Hollow in the cold, wind and rain of a grueling final round.

Ernst choked up on a 6-iron and hit a draw that landed 4 feet from the hole for one of only four birdies on the closing hole Sunday.

"I was trying to hit it as close as I possibly could," he said.

The birdie gave him a 2-under 70 and tied him with David Lynn of England, who also had a 70. And it turned out to be no fluke. Returning to the 18th in the playoff, as the rain started coming out harder, Ernst hit a 3-iron to about 15 feet left of the flag that set up his stunning victory.

Phil Mickelson didn't get a chance to join them. He had a one-shot lead with three holes to play until making back-to-back bogeys, missing putts of 6 feet and 10 feet. His 20-foot birdie putt on the 18th narrowly missed, and Mickelson closed with a 73.

"I felt like I was in control, and I let it slip away there the last few holes, so it was disappointing," Mickelson said.

So ended a strange week at Quail Hollow. The greens were shockingly bad due to weather and agronomical issues, which led to several players dropping out. The sun never really came out all week, and the wind chill Sunday morning made it hard to believe it was the first weekend in May. It felt like February at Pebble Beach.

Turns out there was one final surprise.

Ernst was playing only his ninth PGA Tour event. He was No. 1,207 in the world ranking. He was in a car headed to Athens, Ga., to play a Web.com Tour event when he got the phone call that there was a tee time for him at Quail Hollow.

"This feeling is unbelievable right now," said Ernst, who wasn't sure where he was going at the start of the week and can't believe where he's going now.

For starters, the victory at Quail Hollow gets him into The Players Championship next week. He qualifies for two World Golf Championships, the PGA Championship, the Tournament of Champions next year at Kapalua and the Masters next April.

Before coming to Charlotte, the rookie swapped out rental cars in Georgia so he wouldn't have to pay the $1,000 fee for dropping the car in another location. Along with a two-year exemption on tour, the win earned him just over $1.2 million.

Associated Press

Derek Ernst watches his tee shot Sunday on the 16th hole during the final round of the Wells Fargo Championship at Quail Hollow Club in Charlotte, N.C. Ernst defeated David Lynn on the first playoff hole to win the tournament.

Lynn played the final three holes, known as the "Green Mile," in a combined 4-under par for the week without a single bogey. He chipped in from 70 feet for birdie on the 16th, to go along with a 55-foot chip-in on the 17th on Saturday and a 40-foot chip-in for birdie on the 18th on Friday.

But he picked a bad time for his lone mistake on that stretch.

His tee shot in the playoff was headed for the creek on the left side, though it stayed up in shaggy grass on the bank, the ball well above his feet. Lynn was thinking about laying up until he saw Ernst fire his 3-iron into birdie range. He tried to match him with a hybrid, but the ball didn't turn over enough and caught the bunker. He blasted out of the wet sand and over the green and chipped to 5 feet. He had that left for bogey, and never had to putt.

"I've not been particularly driving it well, so took that tee shot down in the playoff and obviously found a bit of a crooked spot and then didn't play a great bunker shot either," Lynn said.

Rumford wins China Open

TIANJIN, China — Brett Rumford has become the first Australian in 41 years to win back-to-back European Tour titles after Sunday's victory at the China Open.

Rumford shot a final-round 68 to win by four shots with a 16-under 272 total.

It had taken Rumford more than five years and 121 tour events to capture a fourth title at last week's Ballantine's Championship, but he has managed a fifth just seven days later.

Finland's Mikko Ilonen shot a 71 to finish second at 12 under, with Victor Dubuisson (68) another shot back in third.

Toledo wins Champions event

THE WOODLANDS, Texas — Esteban Toledo celebrated Cinco de Mayo by becoming the first Mexican winner in Champions Tour history, beating Mike Goodes with a par on the third hole of a playoff in the Insperity Championship.

The 50-year-old Toledo, making his ninth start on the 50-and-over tour, eagled the opening hole and finished with a 5-under 67 to match Goodes and Gene Sauers at 6-under 210 at The Woodlands Country Club. Goodes shot a 72, and Sauers — eliminated on the second playoff hole — had a 74.

Kerr wins again at Kingsmill

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — Cristie Kerr made a short par putt on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff with Suzann Pettersen to win the Kingsmill Championship for the third time.

The victory was the 16th of Kerr's career, and her third in five career playoffs.

Kerr shot a 2-under 69, and Pettersen had a 67 to finish at 12-under 272 on the River Course.

Attention Consumers! Please make sure you are using a licensed and insured service professional. Many service advertisers are required by state law to include their state license number in all advertisements. If you don't see a license number in the ad, you should inquire about it and be suspicious that you may be contacting an unlicensed business. The Citrus County Chronicle wants to ensure that our ads meet the requirements of the law. Beware of any service advertiser that can not provide proof that they are licensed to do business. For questions about business licensing, please call your city or county government offices.

WORDY GURDY®

BY TRICKY RICKY KANE

1. Nine plus one male adults (1)
2. Vex Shatner's starship captain (1)
3. More awful poem part (1)
4. Faculty head's salad leaves (1)
5. Group car-sharing court decision (2)
6. Actress Halle's maraschino fruits (2)
7. Broom riders' knee-length pants (2)

Every answer is a rhyming pair of words (like FAT CAT and DOUBLE TROUBLE), and they will fit in the letter squares. The number after the definition tells you how many syllables in each word.
