In your opinion, what can county commissioners do to raise funds other than raise taxes?

John Holloway Sr.
I've lived here since 1987. The 1990 census pegged our population at about 94,000 and the population in 2010 was about 141,000. It's actually gone down over the past three years. In the last 26 years, computers have evolved to the point where we should be getting more work done with less people. You wouldn't know that by looking around the county. ... Everyone has to live within a budget....except the government. ... We don't need to increase taxes ... we just need to live within our means.

Edna Mattos
Eliminate all programs that should never be funded from public revenue. They should get out of the real estate business by selling off these public assets. They should get out of the entertainment business and stop funding community centers, they should stop funding the (charities). If people want to fund these groups, they should do so privately. They should stop picking the winners and the losers. Free capitalism is not favoritism.

Michele Queck Rose
They need to look at cutting the budget, like Scott Adams has suggested from the beginning, not increasing taxes.

POLL

ONLINE POLL:
Your choice?

How do you feel about the way the state grades its schools?

A. It's flawed but serves a good purpose and identifies where improvements are needed.
B. It's ridiculous and so confusing that those who administer it don't know how to manage it.
C. It's just a means for education bureaucrats in Tallahassee to justify their existence.
D. What do I care? I'm retired and the grandkids go to school up north.

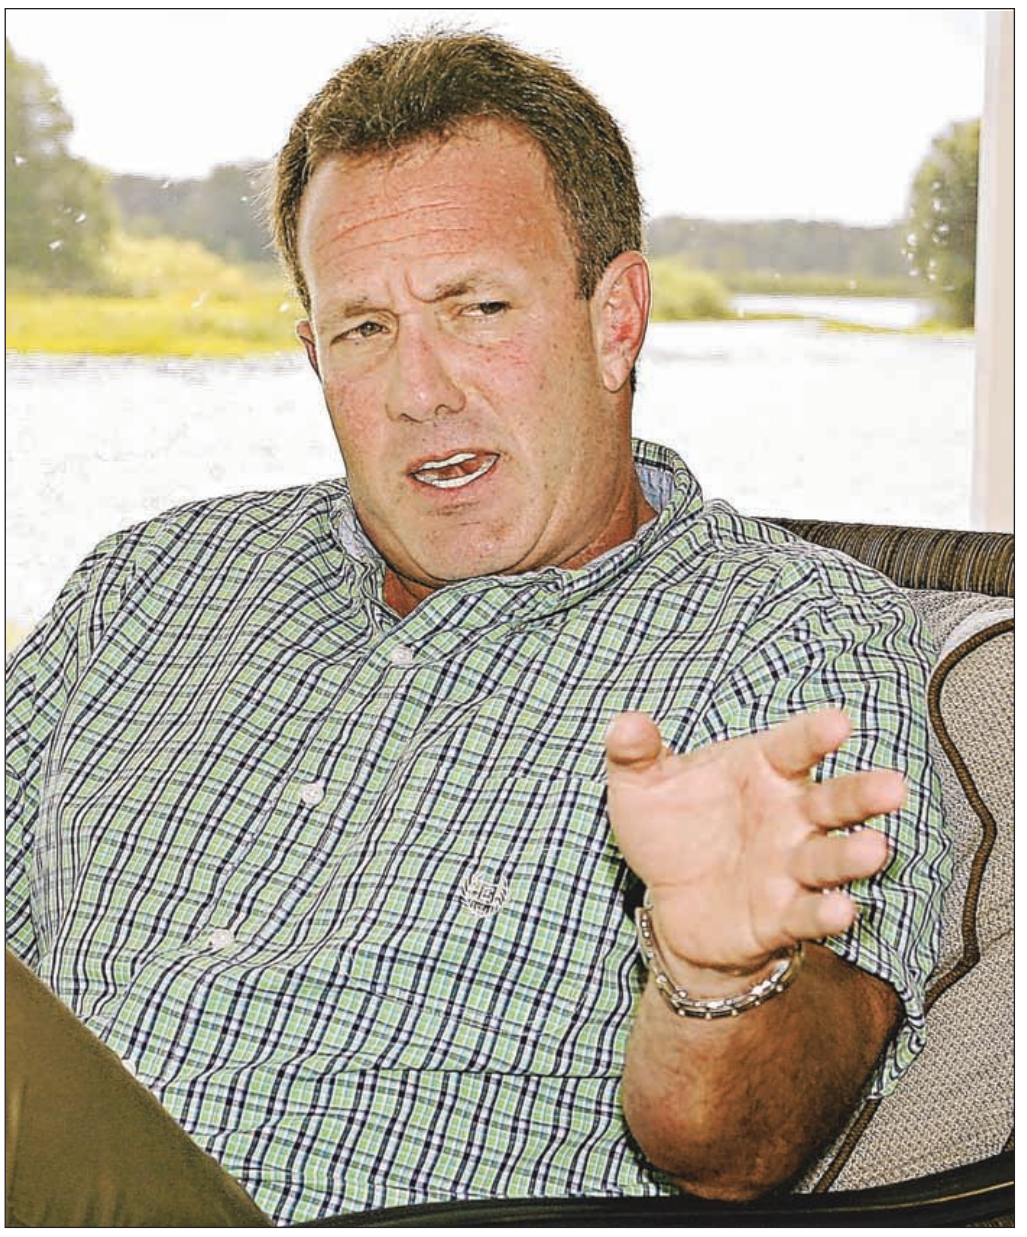
Monday CONVERSATION

Attitude of change



STEPHEN E. LASKO/For the Chronicle

Interviewed at his home, Citrus County Commissioner Scott Adams reflected on buying a concrete mixer and entering the business world as a young man with no high school degree.

Adams rises to commission from humble beginnings

CHRIS VAN ORMER
Staff writer

While Citrus County Commissioner Scott Adams has largely gotten out of the construction business, he continues to be a farmer, having several dozen head of cattle, as well as serving as vice president of a waste-management business.

Editor's note: The Chronicle conversed with Commissioner Scott Adams last week to find out how he views the challenges of county government after eight months in office. The experience may have done little to change the opinions he expressed that got him elected. This is an edited transcript. The full recorded conversation is available online.

CHRONICLE: What did you expect going in?

ADAMS: I probably expected everything that I've seen, except I was hoping it wasn't everything that I thought.

CHRONICLE: What did you think?

ADAMS: I thought it was going to be a tangled web of bureaucracy and bureaucrats and self-serving issues and arrogant personalities and basically all that — irresponsible spending habits, mismanagement — it's been more than that, actually.

CHRONICLE: Why don't you go to commission briefings?

ADAMS: It's a waste of money to have seven $100,000 people feeding you full of smoke. If I've got a problem after I read my information, I call one of them. It takes five minutes to get what you don't understand.

CHRONICLE: Other counties have used reserves to balance budgets during lean times. Should Citrus not have done that?

ADAMS: Just because somebody else walks out in front of a semi and gets run over are you going to do it? That attitude is what's got government from the local and state to the federal in trouble and I just don't see the taxpayers being able to handle it much longer.

CHRONICLE: What about the cuts the county has already made? I've talked to county staff who say it's hard to deliver the services.

ADAMS: I think that's a fear tactic. I just see a lot of inaccurate statements. I see change not wanting to happen. It took four months before the Chronicle wanted to do an interview when I got elected. I went through the paperwork. I studied the issues. I picked everything apart and looked at the things and there's just a lot of hot air and dog-and-pony shows

Hospital legal bill: $8.4M

MIKE WRIGHT
Staff writer

The two sides battling for control of Citrus Memorial hospital paid attorneys a combined $8.4 million since 2009 to fight lawsuits and governance issues that have torn the groups apart, according to records and interviews.

Citrus Memorial Health System has spent about $1.6 million more than the Citrus County Hospital Board, according to records obtained by the Chronicle through a public records request to the hospital board.

Bill Grant
attorney for Citrus County Hospital Board.

Attorneys Bill Grant from the CCHB and Clark Stillwell from the Citrus Memorial Health Foundation confirmed the amounts.

Chairpersons from both organizations admitted the public has lost its patience with the costly dispute.

"I think it's sad," foundation Chairman Bob Collins said. "The taxpayers should be feeling it."

Hospital board Chairwoman Debbie Ressler said: "It's a chunk of change. I'm sure they're very upset. The public is all over it."

Clark Stillwell
attorney for Citrus Memorial Health Foundation.

The dispute began in 2009 with a group of physicians who believed Citrus Memorial's expansion provided unfair competition for the doctors. Hospital board members began requesting public records of the foundation and Sen. Charlie Dean successfully convinced the state to conduct an audit of hospital finances.

Tampa General Hospital might still be in the running in the Citrus Memorial hospital sweepstakes.

Citrus Memorial Health Foundation board members may give Tampa General time to redevelop its bid for an affiliation, even though the Citrus County Hospital Board has already eliminated TGH from consideration.

- WHAT: Citrus Memorial Health Foundation board meeting.
- WHEN: 5:45 p.m. today.
- WHERE: Historic Citrus schoolhouse next to Citrus Memorial.

The foundation has its meeting at 5:45 p.m. today. Its regular meeting last Monday was postponed because it was not properly noticed to the public.

Both the hospital board, which owns the hospital, and foundation, which leases it from the hospital board, must agree on one bidder for the sale, lease

CRYSTAL AUTOMOTIVE

Crystal Automotive Group Homosassa, FL

CRYSTAL AUTOMOTIVE GROUP MAKES HISTORY ONCE AGAIN

Crystal Automotive Group is once again making automobile sales history. This time, Crystal is offering to pay customer's payments until 2014 and pay the customer's interest for the length of the loan.

When asked how Crystal Automotive Group could make this happen, Director of Operations, Justin Lamb explained that "Now is the best time in history to buy a new vehicle. At Crystal, we decided this offer would entice the public. With this opportunity, it is easy for every customer to buy a new or used car, because everybody would love a dealership to pay their car payments and interest, allowing them to enjoy a beautiful vehicle without payment obligation until 2014. With our company paying the interest for the entire length of the loan, it's obvious that you will be making a wise financial decision."

Every customer buying a new or used vehicle has the opportunity to qualify for this program. Banks and finance companies working with Crystal have relaxed both credit and income requirements for the duration of this sales event. There are more than 800 vehicles to choose from and there is no doubt that there is a new or used vehicle that will fill any customer's transportation needs.

Ted Nipper, Crystal's Director of Finance claims, "This program is very easy to qualify for. It is our goal to ensure that every customer qualifies. The only requirement is to be able to to finance the vehicle for 5 years at no more than a 2.99% interest rate. Most models that we have in stock will qualify for this program."

Crystal Automotive Group is the largest automotive group on the Nature Coast, consistently selling more cars and trucks than any other dealer in the area.

"It's our volume that allows us to make deals like this for our customers," stated Lamb.

If you're in the market to buy a new or used vehicle, you need to take advantage of this history making offer as soon as possible. This is a limited time offer. Do not hesitate to get the new or used vehicle you've always wanted. Today is the day!

"Everyone knows that at Crystal, Steve Lamb has been chopping prices for years. Now, he's not only chopping the prices, but chopping away payments until 2014 along with interest for the entire length of the loan!" exclaimed Lamb.

Crystal has Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram dealerships in Inverness on Hwy 44, Homosassa on Hwy 19 and Brooksville on State Road 50; along with a Chevrolet and Nissan dealership in Homosassa on Hwy 19 as well. There is a hotline set up for customers to call and get more information- (800) 584-8755 ext. 2014.

MONDAY

that's untrue. People need to put their differences aside and their arrogance and do what's right for the taxpayers.

CHRONICLE: What is your schedule like?

ADAMS: It's seven days a week. It's nonstop. You can bite off as much of this as you want and I guess I'm a person who likes to make sure that I try to my fullest to accomplish things. Between me and my wife, it's a full-time job for her, too, because she's either there with me or she's emailing, writing letters, she's scheduling things with people privately calling wanting meetings and people wanting to see me and I have a county secretary. Basically, she just schedules meetings when people call.

CHRONICLE: What kind of businesses do you operate and how does that work with your job as a commissioner?

ADAMS: My wife plays a big part. We have a very long-term good staff at our waste business. I'm the vice president and the president is Charlie Dean Jr. Charlie does a fabulous job. So he takes a lot of the heat. If we have an issue we talk about it on the phone. That works itself out pretty good.

CHRONICLE: Where is your farm?

ADAMS: Right across from Point O' Woods Country Club. We got a little over 200 acres there and then I've got some smaller pieces throughout the county. We run 60 to 100 head of cows. In the afternoons or early mornings, I go check. I have help. I've been doing this stuff so long.

STEPHEN E. LASKO/For the Chronicle

Commissioner Scott Adams gives a lot of credit for his business and political success to his wife, Pam.

My construction business, which I'm basically completely out of — I was in that business for 25 years. That's where I made the bulk of my living.

Basically, I was semi-retired when I got this job. It's been gratifying and I don't regret none of it.

CHRONICLE: Politically, do you aspire to a state office?

ADAMS: That I may do one day. But for now, the job is a county commissioner. No matter where I'm at, I'm going to do a good job and do the right thing.

CHRONICLE: Why do you think people relate to you?

ADAMS: I'm a guy who didn't make it through high school, who bought a $150 concrete mixer because I couldn't get a job because I didn't have a diploma. The only choice I had in life was to be in business for myself. It was the most ruthless and brutal thing to go through as a young man, but I made it. I never gave up. Like my dad told me one time. He said: 'Boy, you'd better fake it 'til you make it because you ain't smart enough.'

We were chicken farmers from Floral City. I picked eggs and ran cattle.

Everybody went to college. I went to the college of knowledge. It was the hardest earned and the most expensive education I imagine anybody could pay for. But it worked, when it finally kicked in.

CHRONICLE: What do you think about raising taxes?

ADAMS: I oppose every bit of it and I wouldn't want to be the ones who vote it in on the next election. We're basically a Mayberry-type town being forced to be a Tampa, and we're not a Tampa. We're working on projects way before their time.

We've got an 800-pound gorilla in front of us and sometimes you just don't want to pick a fight with him. You want to stand off and not get his attention and just survive for a little while.

We don't need any more Brad-economics. Brad-economics aren't good for this county. We need true economics. We need two plus two adds four, not 22.

CHRONICLE: Have you seen anything in county government that you like?

ADAMS: There are some real good county employees. They do basically a good job. It's not about them, it is about our higher-ups that is in control of the management and the direction of this county. And it's your elected officials.

The only thing I hear when I'm up there is let's spend more money. But who the heck's paying for it?

Seventh-graders need immunizations

In compliance with Florida immunization requirements, students entering, attending or transferring to seventh grade for the 2013-14 school year are required to receive a tetanus-diphtheria-pertussis (Tdap) vaccination.

By state statute, the student cannot begin seventh grade without documentation of this required vaccination.

The 2013-14 school year begins Aug. 7. To avoid interrupting the student's educational opportunities, call for an appointment today with your private physician or the health department. They recommend for parents to bring the child's immunization records along to be updated.

If you have any questions regarding school immunization requirements, call Jessica Hoag, student health specialist, at 352-527-0090 or the health department at 352-726-1731 (Inverness), 352-527-0068 (Lecanto) or 352-795-6233 (Crystal River).

Transportation board to meet

The Transportation Disadvantaged Coordinating Board will meet at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 1, at the Citrus County Transit Center, 1300 S. Lecanto Highway, Lecanto.

The annual public hearing has been scheduled from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

Any person requiring special accommodations or desiring further information regarding this meeting may call the transportation supervisor of Citrus County Transit at 352-527-7630.

Taxation presentation set

Charles Knecht Sr., U.S. veteran, will be the Aug. 3 speaker at the Ronald Reagan Republican Assembly meeting. His topic will be "Improper Placement of Taxation without Representation."

The meeting time is at 1 p.m. at 938 N. Suncoast Blvd. (U.S. 19), in the South Square Plaza, Crystal River.

Refreshments will be provided. For more information call 352-257-5381.

Baumstark makes first cut for PSC seat

PAT FAHERTY
Staff writer

Crystal River resident James S. Baumstark is one of 11 applicants to be considered for two upcoming vacancies on the Florida Public Service Commission.

It is a familiar position for Baumstark, who was a finalist for a commission seat in 2010.

At the urging of people who had supported him in the past, he joined about two dozen applicants in applying this year.

On Wednesday, the PSC Nominating Council cut the list to 11 for the interview process.

At least six of those interviewed are expected to be selected — three names per seat — for Gov. Rick Scott to make the appointments, which will require Senate approval.

James Baumstark
Crystal River resident and energy industry consultant in the running for seat on PSC.

"I've been through this process before," said Baumstark, who is looking forward to his interview in late August. "It's a big step ahead, but his decision is the one that counts."

Baumstark is currently an independent consultant to the power industry and chairman of the International Utility Working Group, a consortium of nine utilities from major urban areas of the world, working on new methods of power transmission and distribution.

He is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and retired naval officer with 28 years experience in nuclear submarines.

Baumstark has spent 22 years in the utility industry. He retired from Consolidated Edison of New York as vice president of central engineering. Before that he was director of engineering at the Crystal River nuclear plant.

He acknowledged the PSC seat is a full-time job facing complex issues, but he is confident he has the right technical expertise from his education and experience, and leadership ability from being a Navy officer and vice president of engineering.

"My experience has all been in the utility industry," he said. "But I'm not a politician."

Living in Crystal River, he said he is very aware of how the actions of Duke Energy have affected the area residents.

"We came back here because we love the area," he said. "This is my chance to give something back."

A force for the Air Force

For county's new USAF recruiter, service 'the best decision I ever made'

NANCY KENNEDY
Staff writer

INVERNESS — When LaToia Briggs graduated from high school, her father handed her a phone number — of the Air Force recruiter.

"My dad was in the Army, and he always told us we needed to try to get a scholarship and if we didn't we'd have to go into the military and have the military pay for school," said the 24-year-old senior airman and the new recruiter in town.

"I didn't think he was serious until I graduated and didn't have a scholarship," she said. "But he laid everything out and said, 'How are you going to do this and this and this?' He was right. I couldn't unless I joined, and it was the best decision I ever made."

She left for basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas on her 19th birthday.

"That was the worst birthday I ever had," she said. "Who ships off to basic on their birthday? Basic training was stressful, and you just really want to go home when you're there, but now when I talk to my friends, we laugh about it, how we used to be so scared."

She added that as stressful as basic training is, it's not so difficult that most people can't do it.

Currently, Briggs is on special duty as a recruiter, a temporary (three to four years) assignment from her regular job as security police. She arrived in Citrus County in May.

Briggs said she chose the security police job because she's a fan of cop shows on TV and pictured herself as "one of those cool women cops" kicking down doors, arresting people and running to emergencies.

"My dad tried to tell me it's not like that, but I didn't want him telling me what not to do, and that only made me really want to do it," she said, laughing.

Because she's young and comes from a small town in Mississippi, Briggs said she can identify with the people who come to see her to find out about an Air Force career.

MATTHEW BECK/Chronicle

Senior Airman LaToia Briggs is the new Air Force recruiter in Inverness.

"Most of the appointments I have are with recent 2012 and 2013 high school graduates," she said. "They don't know what to do and don't want to stay in Citrus County. They come in and ask me about jobs in the Air Force. I can tell them about the various jobs, but I can't hire them for a (specific) job; I hire for the Air Force."

Briggs said she plans on making the Air Force her career, either staying on as a recruiter, going back to being a cop or changing to another career field.

"I like the Air Force," she said. "I really like the benefits, and I also like the recognition I get. People stop me all the time to say 'Thank you for serving our country.' I like that."

Gov. Scott's personal assets shielded from public

Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE — Floridians had access to more information about Gov. Rick Scott's substantial wealth when he was a candidate three years ago than they do now.

During his first-ever run for public office, the former hospital chain executive and multimillionaire released three years of tax returns and a lengthy list of all his business holdings. He reported a net worth of $218 million right before he mounted his campaign, spent $70 million of his own money to get elected and then reported a net worth of $103 million as he took office.

The filing he turned in last month shows that his net worth last Dec. 31 was nearly $83.8 million, a drop of nearly 19 percent since 2011, and almost all of it stored in a blind trust with assets shielded from public view.

It's not clear whether the assets have simply lost value or were transferred to his wife Ann. Florida law does not require elected officials to report their spouse's financial status as many other states do.

HOW YOUR LAWMAKERS VOTED

Key votes for the week ending July 26 by Voterama in Congress

- 2014 Military Appropriations: Voting 315-109, members approved $595 billion in military appropriations for fiscal 2014, including nearly $82 billion for combat in Afghanistan and other overseas hot spots. A yes vote was to pass a bill raising uniformed pay by 1.8 percent and authorizing 1.36 million active-duty troops. (HR 2397) Rep. Rich Nugent, Yes.
- NSA Telephone-Records Dragnet: Members defeated, 205-217, an amendment to HR 2397 (above) that sought to end the National Security Agency's bulk collection of records of most phone calls in America under Section 215 of the USA Patriot Act. A yes vote was to outlaw a dragnet that is operated without specific warrants and which gathers a record, not the content, of phone calls. Nugent, Yes.
- Bipartisan Defense Cut: Members voted, 215-206, to strip HR 2379 (above) of $3.6 billion that the Pentagon did not request for operations in war zones overseas. A yes vote backed a defense cut jointly sponsored by Rep. Mick Mulvaney, a Tea Party Republican from South Carolina, and Rep. Chris Van Hollen, a progressive Democrat from of Maryland. Nugent, No.
- East Coast Missile Defense: Members refused, 173-249, to strip HR 2379 (above) of $70 million for planning a missile-defense site on the East Coast to go with existing sites in California and Alaska. A yes vote was to defund a program now in the planning stage that the Pentagon has not requested or approved. Nugent, No.
- Student-Loan Interest Rates: Senators approved, 81-18, market-based but capped interest rates for student loans. A yes vote was to pass a bill setting rates at the prevailing yield for a 10-year Treasury note plus about 2 to 4 percentage points, depending on the type of loan. (HR 1911) Sen. Bill Nelson, Yes. Sen. Marco Rubio, Yes.
- Key Votes Ahead: In the week of July 29, the House will debate student-loan interest rates and fiscal 2014 appropriations, while the Senate will resume debate on a spending bill for transportation and housing programs.

Today's HOROSCOPES

Birthday — Your material prospects look to be quite encouraging in the year ahead. Ironically, however, the endeavors you believe would yield you the largest returns may not do as well as the ones you don't think much of.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) — When it comes to financial or career matters, follow your instincts and play your hunches.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — If you believe a friend has some important information, don't count on him or her to call you about it. Make the contact yourself.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — You might only get partial support for something important that you want to change. At least it's a starting point.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Two persons whom you'll soon deal with are blessed with long memories. Make sure you treat them right.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Although you might have to contend with some extra jobs or responsibilities, you'll figure out how to handle everything with grace and aplomb. In fact, the busier you are, the better you'll perform.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Learning something new can be an enjoyable experience. Knowledge you acquire now will be immensely helpful in the future — so pay attention.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — You may expend only nominal effort on something of personal significance, just to get the job done. When it comes to things that benefit your loved ones, you'll knock yourself out.

Pisces (Feb. 20-March 20) — You'll have a more enjoyable day if you associate with companions who share your interests.

Aries (March 21-April 19) — A few of your customary income channels could yield larger returns than usual. Take advantage of these conditions.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) — A successful endeavor that requires an unusual combination of sensitivity and boldness is likely to outshine all of your other achievements today.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) — You aren't apt to reveal any information about a friend that could tarnish his or her image.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) — Group encounters could prove to be enlightening if you're a better listener than you are a talker.

Radio, TV host David 'Kidd' Kraddick dies

David "Kidd" Kraddick, the high-octane radio and TV host of the "Kidd Kraddick in the Morning" show heard on dozens of U.S. radio stations, has died at a charity golf event near New Orleans, a publicist said. Kraddick was 53.

The Texas-based radio and television personality, whose program is syndicated by YEA Networks, died at his Kidd's Kids charity function in the New Orleans suburb of Gretna on Saturday, said publicist Ladd Biro in releasing a network statement.

"He died doing what he loved," said Biro, of the public relations firm Champion Management, speaking with AP by phone early Sunday. He said he had no further details on the death.

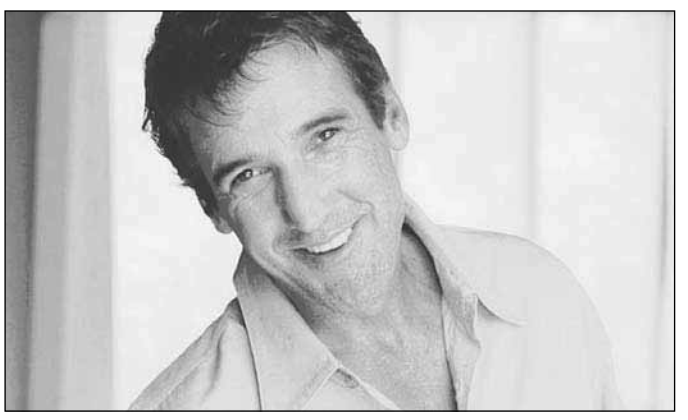
Fans left online comments such as "morning drive to work in the Dallas traffic will not be the same with out your voice."

The "Kidd Kraddick in the Morning" show is heard on more than 75 Top 40 and Hot AC radio stations and is a leader among most-listened-to contemporary morning programs, Biro said.

The radio program also is transmitted globally on American Forces Radio Network while the show's cast is also seen weeknights on the nationally syndicated TV show "Dish Nation," he added.

Kraddick would have turned 54 on Aug. 22, according to Biro.



Associated Press

David "Kidd" Kraddick, a Texas-based radio and television personality and host of the "Kidd Kraddick in the Morning" show heard on dozens of U.S. radio stations, died Saturday at a charity golf event near New Orleans, a publicist said. Kraddick was 53.

'The Wolverine' claws way to top

LOS ANGELES — "The Wolverine" slashed monsters and minions to debut atop the weekend box office.

The Fox film featuring Hugh Jackman's sixth turn as the claw-wielding superhero opened with $55 million in North America, according to studio estimates Sunday.

Last weekend's top movie, Warner Bros.' low-budget horror "The Conjuring," slipped to second place, adding another $22.1 million to its take, while "Despicable Me 2" was in third with $16 million. The Universal animated sequel, with its cast of cute, yellow minions, has made more than $600 million worldwide since it came out four weeks ago.

"The Wolverine," which is set in Japan and features an international cast, earned another $86.1 million overseas. The film's opening-week take surpassed the $120 million it cost to make, said Chris Aronson, Fox's head of domestic distribution.

"It's a huge opening for the clawed one," he said. "It played equally well from Maine to Maui."

Woody Allen's latest, "Blue Jasmine," enjoyed a stellar opening of its own, though on a much smaller scale. Starring Cate Blanchett, the film opened in just six theaters but still collected $612,767.

Estimated ticket sales for Friday through Sunday at U.S. and Canadian theaters, according to Hollywood.com.

1. "The Wolverine," $55 million ($86.1 international).
2. "The Conjuring," $22.1 million.
3. "Despicable Me 2," $16 million.
4. "Turbo," $13.3 million.
5. "Grown Ups 2," $11.5 million.
6. "Red 2," $9.4 million.
7. "Pacific Rim," $7.5 million.
8. "The Heat," $6.85 million.
9. "R.I.P.D.," $5.85 million.
10. "Fruitvale Station," $4.65 million.

Today in HISTORY

Today is Monday, July 29, the 210th day of 2013. There are 155 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On July 29, 1981, Britain's Prince Charles married Lady Diana Spencer at St. Paul's Cathedral in London. (However, the couple divorced in 1996.)

On this date:

In 1030, the patron saint of Norway, King Olaf II, was killed in battle.

In 1957, the International Atomic Energy Agency was established. Jack Paar made his debut as host of NBC's "Tonight Show."

In 1958, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the National Aeronautics and Space Act, creating NASA.

Ten years ago: President George W. Bush refused to release a congressional report on possible links between Saudi Arabian officials and the Sept. 11 hijackers, saying disclosure "would help the enemy" by revealing intelligence sources and methods.

Five years ago: Alaska Sen. Ted Stevens was indicted on seven felony counts of concealing more than a quarter of a million dollars in house renovations and gifts from a powerful oil contractor. (A jury later found the longtime Republican lawmaker guilty of lying on financial disclosure forms, but a judge subsequently dismissed the case, saying prosecutors had withheld evidence.)

One year ago: At the London Olympics, 123-pound North Korean weightlifter Om Yun Chol won a gold medal by lifting an Olympic-record 370 pounds in the clean and jerk.

Today's Birthdays: Comedian "Professor" Irwin Corey is 99. Documentary maker Ken Burns is 60. Rock singer Patti Scialfa (Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band) is 60. Country singer Martina McBride is 47. Actor Wil Wheaton is 41. Actor Stephen Dorff is 40.

Thought for Today: "An idea is not responsible for the people who believe in it." — Don Marquis American journalist-author (born this date in 1878, died 1937).

Got questions about hearing aids?

How do I know if I need hearing aids?

Only a comprehensive hearing screening performed by a licensed hearing care professional, audiologist, or medical doctor can tell you if you need hearing aids.

What are the different types and styles of hearing aids?

Today's hearing aids are smaller and more sophisticated than they used to be. There are dozens of styles from which to choose, from behind-the-ear (BTE) models to instruments about the size of a pearl, called completely-in-the-canal (CIC) hearing aids. A CIC instrument hides within your ear canal, totally out of sight. Your perfect style depends on your lifestyle, listening preferences, and more.

Will I be able to hear in noisy places?

Beltone Promise™ hearing aids act like natural ears, and communicate with each other to automatically adjust when you're in noisy surroundings. Speech is prioritized, and background noise in de-emphasized, or blocked completely. The result? "Easy listening" in loud places.

Can I use my cell phone while wearing hearing aids?

Beltone Promise™ hearing aids use advanced "wireless" technology designed for phone use, making them your best option to enjoy clear cell phone conversations, that can even be "hands-free". And, placing the phone on one ear automatically reduces hearing aid volume on the other ear, so "room noise" is reduced, and it's easy to hear your phone conversation.

Obama's Massive $100M Brain Research Initiative Targets Memory Loss

Drug-free memory discovery yields 'shocking' results in clinical trial; restores brainpower equal to those up to 15 years younger, all within 30 days!

PHOENIX, ARIZONA —

For readers who fret about their less-than-perfect memory, or worry about steadily worsening mental powers, your life is about to change.

Thanks to President Obama's massive $100 million B.R.A.I.N. initiative, millions of frustrated Americans who not only lose their car keys, but also forget where they have parked may soon have real, lasting relief.

Science Attacks Memory Loss

The multi-year program called Brain Research through Advancing Innovative Neurotechnologies, or BRAIN, will as part of its initiative, target the symptoms premature mental decline, including poor memory, the inability to maintain focus and concentration, mental fatigue, and brain fog.

It has been called the "next great American project," drawing comparisons to the wildly successful 1990 scientific discovery initiative, the Human Genome Project.

Over an estimated ten-year period, Brain Research scientists will 'map' the human brain in an unprecedented quest to unravel its mysteries.

What's the Catch?

What President Obama and administration officials failed to tell Americans is that, for many, they don't have to spend $100 million or wait ten-plus years for a fix for their foggy, forgetful mind.

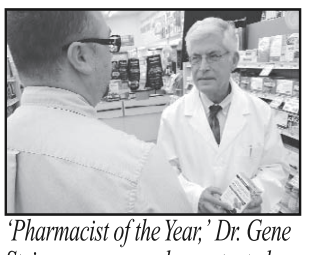
In fact, evidence of a genuine, clinically tested, real, memory pill is here, now

Real Memory Pill Exists!

A US-based research firm, Brain Research Labs, has developed and conducted successful human testing on a genuine memory pill.

Over a period of a few weeks in a landmark, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical trial, published in a peer-reviewed journal, scientists observed the formula helping older brains function more youthfully.

In many cases, the formula allowed users to match the memory recall speed and brainpower of those up to 15 years younger, all within a 30-day time period.



'Pharmacist of the Year,' Dr. Gene Steiner, recommends a patented, natural memory compound

It's no secret either. The US Patent and Trademark Office has granted the drug-free natural formula a United States patent.

Over the years, the sophisticated three-part formulation has gained the trust of medical doctors, a top clinical pharmacist, and is even a recommended component in an updated version of a legendary Medicare-reimbursed brain health protocol.

Preventive Gerontologist, Dr. Arnold Bresky, the man responsible for the Medicare-reimbursed brain tune-up protocol recommends this prescription-free memory compound as an integral part of his new Four Pillars of Brain Health program.

With more than 45 years behind a pharmacist's counter, and 25 years in a radio show booth, if Dr. Gene Steiner had a nickel for every time someone asked, "Do you have anything that can improve my memory," he would be a rich man today.

A Crystal-Clear Memory

It's a question he's heard many times. "This natural memory pill is to an aging, sluggish brain, what a breath of fresh air is to your lungs," he says.

Before prescribing the pill to patients, Dr. Steiner decided to first try it himself.

"Within a few days, I can tell you without reservation that my memory became crystal clear," he says.

"I had such marvelous results that I not only started recommending it to my customers, I even shared it with other physicians!"

A Pharmacy Best-Seller

"It became the best-selling brain health product in my pharmacy and customers were returning to thank me for introducing them to it."

"It felt great to see so many people whose lives were enriched by taking a simple, natural formula."

"With this simple, drug-free formula, we finally have something that we can recommend that is safe and effective. And you don't need a prescription either!"

Recently, Dr. Steiner relocated to another state and was apprehensive about taking the state board of pharmacy jurisprudence examination, a daunting examination that tests a candidate's mastery of pharmacy law.

"I began taking the natural memory compound for two weeks prior to the test, and I passed with flying colors!" "The recall I personally experienced was fantastic," says Steiner.

"It's a unique process," he adds, "that pumps the brain full of energizing oxygen, helping improve blood circulation to the brain, while helping to boost key neurotransmitters in the brain responsible for cognitive functioning."

Alternative medicine pioneer, and retired medical school professor, Dr. Robert Heller, personally uses and recommends the formula.

Perks Up Tired, Sluggish Brains

"It's not a drug," smiles Dr. Heller, "it's a nutritional supplement that can help a foggy, sluggish brain become sharper, quicker, and healthier."

Head and neck surgeon and psychologist, Paul Nemiroff, PhD, MD, FACS, agrees, adding, "It is truly an amazing breakthrough for memory!"

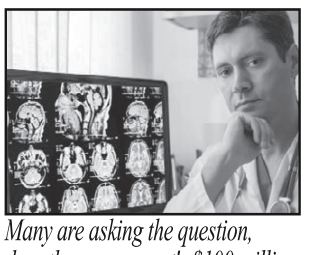
Kasey L.* from Olathe, Kansas says, "I was having trouble finding words in my brain and remembering things. Now I am as sharp as a tack and I have a memory like an elephant. I will never stop taking it."

Grace K.* of Alabama was in the same boat.

"I was having concentration problems and difficulty remembering things. After only one week, I felt mentally energized and more confident in myself! Now, I enjoy reading again. I've regained confidence in myself!"

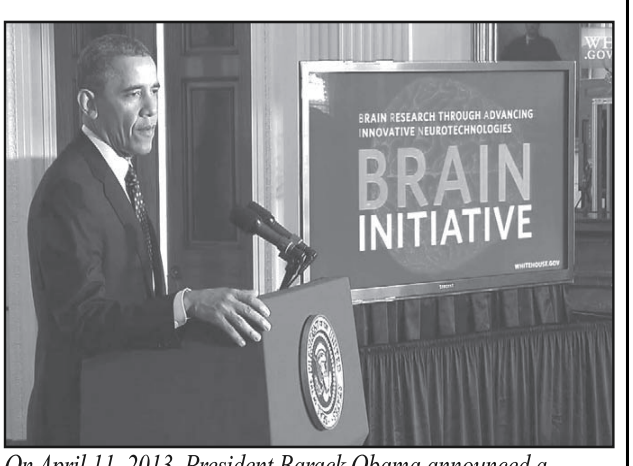
Crossword puzzle fanatic, Bobby D.* from western Nevada can't say enough about his super-fast mental abilities.

"Working four crossword puzzles in the morning paper, quicker, has amazed me with the answers just popping into my head! I stand outside myself and wonder where those answers come from!"



Many are asking the question, does the government's $100 million scientific discovery initiative ignore the existence of a patented memory restorer?

Anyone who has ever stood in front of a crowd and then, forgot what they were about to say, knows the horror of "drawing a blank." Professional speaker Sylvia. P.* from California found Brain Research Labs' memory discovery just in time.



On April 11, 2013, President Barack Obama announced a ten-year, $100 million brain research project.

"I started having a hard time staying focused and remembering important information."

"As a professional speaker in front of hundreds of people, I found these senior moments very embarrassing. Plus, it was threatening my career. Since taking this, I can now conduct a whole seminar without relying on my notes. I feel like my old self again!"

You don't have to spend million of dollars or wait ten years to do what Brain Research Labs has already done for you. If you are ready to do something about your mind and memory, here's your risk-free chance.

attorney in September 2009. He is not on retainer and charges hourly rates of $225 and $250, he said.

His predecessor charged the hospital board $6,000 a year to attend meetings and offer advice.

Grant's first monthly invoice totaled $29,227, according to a Chronicle story. He billed $300,963 his first year, records show.

In the fall of 2009, seeking to rein in spending, the hospital board withheld funds until the hospital provided a detailed budget. That led to the first lawsuit in late 2010 by the foundation, claiming trustees were illegally withholding tax money meant to help operate the hospital.

Numerous lawsuits followed from both sides on issues ranging from the Sunshine Law to a severance package for hospital administrators should they lose their jobs in a hospital board takeover.

Most of those lawsuits have either disappeared, or lay dormant since November as both sides await a state Supreme Court hearing or decision on the case with the biggest ramifications.

After lobbying unsuccessfully to stop a 2010 bill that gave hospital oversight to the CCHB, the foundation sued once Gov. Rick Scott signed the bill into law. A circuit court judge sided with the CCHB; the foundation won on appeal and now the matter rests with the state Supreme Court.

2 attorneys for foundation; 12 for CCHB

Grant responded to the Chronicle's request to view attorney's fees by providing a month-by-month spreadsheet over four years for both the CCHB and foundation. Stillwell gave the foundation attorney fee amounts to Grant, who also had provided his client's attorney fee amounts to Stillwell.

With Stillwell listing the scope of work for each attorney, Grant separated out attorneys whose work for the foundation is not connected with the governance or legal issues.

For the CCHB dispute, most of the foundation's fees rest with two attorneys: Stillwell, the hospital's corporate counsel from Inverness, and James Kennedy from the Tampa law firm Carlton Fields (Kennedy represented Citrus Memorial in 2009 and part of 2010 with a different law firm, Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney.)

Records show Kennedy billed the hospital about $4.6 million since 2009 and Stillwell billed $1.2 million.

Stillwell confirmed the amounts to the Chronicle,

SOME DREAM!

Refuge chief persevered despite critics

Shortly after being named Chassahowitzka National Wildlife Refuge manager in 2009, Michael Lusk described the position as "a dream come true."

Those who recognize the challenges of managing the Crystal River Wildlife Refuge portion of his territory can appreciate that that "dream" has often been a nightmare. He's been the target of stinging criticism from those with personal agendas for areas where human and wildlife activities overlap.

Given that his job has been to safeguard and enhance the refuge, conflict was inevitable.

While the Crystal River refuge only comprises a tiny portion of a territory that stretches southward to the mouth of Tampa Bay, our unique circumstances have demanded a disproportionate amount of attention. In striving to execute his job, he's been under a microscope from citizens seeking to thwart initiatives intended to enhance the refuge. Through it all, he's remained a mild-mannered, approachable and conscientious manager.

Fortunately, there are many here who respect and appreciate that his assigned mission has been to regulate activities that negatively impact "fish and wildlife" — most notably manatees — and their habitat.

Lusk has faced challenges around every corner — be it residents living near Three Sisters Springs not wanting the public to see their property from manatee-viewing areas, residents opposed to the expansion of manatee sanctuaries and slow-speed zones so they can boat with minimal restrictions, trying to call the public's attention to the long-term management of the greater Chassahowitzka Wildlife Refuge or … well, the list goes on.

Michael Lusk has been cursed at, called bad names and painted as a heartless bureaucrat.

At the extreme, he's been pegged as an emblem of federal government overreach.

Now with his departure and transfer to Georgia's Okefenokee National Wildlife Refuge, his harshest critics may come to appreciate his willingness to engage public input in pursuing his job. It's possible his replacement will be less sympathetic to a volatile, harsh public.

Both Lusk's detractors and admirers should acknowledge that he has been accessible, articulate and genuinely concerned about the multiple facets of his job.

It's unlikely Michael Lusk could have foreseen the hostility that awaited him in his dream job, but he's persevered and served the refuge well.

THE ISSUE:
Departure of refuge manager.

OUR OPINION:
Michael Lusk showed dedication and grace through painstaking tenure.

Hot Corner: TAXES

Cannot afford fire tax

Regarding the $60 fire tax: Shortly after relocating to this area to enjoy retirement with my husband, I became unwell. My only income now is from SSD. After each monthly payment for our mortgage, medical bills and minimal cost-of-living bills, there is no money left to pay for activities that require money. So I am limited to going for a walk on the pier and if this greedy $60 tax is not overturned, I will be eating bologna sandwiches without the bologna. Do you council people ever think of anyone else besides yourselves or are you asking to be voted out of office?

Editor's note: Commissioner's lowered the assessment to $54 and agreed to add a hardship clause where some citizens could opt out if they fall below a certain financial threshold.

We need more specifics

I'm amazed that when they were asked why they needed another few million for fire services, that they said the reason was they had 7,000 calls in 2011. My question is: How many of the calls resulted in trips from fire stations? How many were car accident calls? How many were brush fire calls? Were many lives saved? Were the calls for fires resulting in putting out the fire before damage? How many of the calls resulted in total damage to the structures?

Cut, cut, cut

With the exception of Scott Adams, all the commissioners should be fired. There is no way that a $60 fire assessment should have been approved. Instead the commissioners should do their job and manage the budget. It's time to cut the number of people in the government and it's time to cut the budgets of our government. Neither of these things were done. Instead all the commissioners can do is add taxes and add fees and assessments. And now they're going to want a 30 percent increase in taxes, or up to that amount, to cover Progress Energy's shortfall. The commissioners need to be looking at the budget and our county government and cut it down before they start thinking about taxing us.

Editor's note: The fire assessment is actually $54. It passed by a 3-2 vote with commissioners Adams and Bays voting against it.

Not proud of budget

Mr. Thorpe said he was very proud of his budget. I'm not proud of your budget at all, raising my taxes 30 percent. We'll just have to vote out three of our commissioners. I guess Ms. Bays and Mr. Adams can stay and the other three are gone.

Obamacare battle takes bizarre turn

The Affordable Care Act originally passed the House in 2009 with 220 votes, all but one of them Democrats. Recently 251 members of the House, including 22 Democrats, voted to postpone for one year implementation of the heart of the act — the individual mandate to purchase health insurance. If this were any other issue, liberal commentators might see a governing majority emerging in favor of delaying Obamacare.

Byron York
OTHER VOICES

In the last couple of years, House Republicans have voted over and over to repeal the president's health care plan. It got to be routine. Not long ago, however, the Obamacare battle took a turn toward the bizarre.

The cause was the administration's decision to delay by one year the mandate requiring big businesses to provide health coverage for employees or pay a fine. The White House acted in response to complaints from business owners, who called the mandate burdensome.

So Republicans thought: What about all those individuals out there who believe the mandate requiring them to buy coverage or pay a fine is just as burdensome? As the GOP saw it, the White House listened to big business but ignored the little guy.

So Republicans came up with a two-part strategy that would, among other goals, sound out House Democrats' attitudes toward Obamacare less than three months before it is to become a reality in American life.

First, Republicans introduced a bill that would write into law what the president had already done by fiat — that is, delay the employer mandate a year. That seemed unnecessary, and a little mischievous, but the serious point, according to one House GOP aide, was to emphasize that "the president can't just determine which laws he's going to follow and when he's going to follow them."

Even though it was largely moot, Obama took the move seriously enough to take the somewhat odd action of threatening to veto a bill that would duplicate his own policy. And when the White House argued that the postponement legislation "would cost millions of hard-working middle-class families the security of affordable health coverage and care they deserve" — remember, the bill would simply codify an action Obama had already taken — the White House's position veered into the surreal.

The House voted on July 17, and in the end 35 Democrats voted in favor of the president's delay, while 160 voted against it. It's hard to interpret exactly what that means, but it doesn't seem good for Obama.

The second part of the GOP strategy was introducing the bill that would delay the individual mandate the same way Obama had delayed the employer mandate. The purpose, Speaker John Boehner said in a special floor appearance, was "to make sure families and individuals get the same break from Obamacare that the president wants for big businesses." The 22 Democratic votes in favor of the delay provided another sign that doesn't look good for the president. Boehner sent out a press release claiming "bipartisan opposition to a partisan train wreck."

Seemingly unsteadied by a turn of events that included his own threat to veto himself, Obama took to the White House East Room for an Obamacare pep rally. The Republicans were clearly on his mind.

"Yesterday, despite all the evidence that the law is working the way it was supposed to for middle-class Americans, Republicans in the House of Representatives voted — for nearly the 40th time — to dismantle it," the president said. "We've got a lot of problems in this country ... and yet, instead we're refighting these old battles."

Perhaps the battles would indeed be old if Democrats had written a law that went into effect a year or even two years after it was passed. But Obamacare became law more than three years ago and still hasn't gone into effect. Of course the battle is still going on.

Now the House bills go to the Democratic-controlled Senate, where they will die. But Republicans will try to ensure a noisy death. "We can make sure it doesn't get bottled up in committee," says one Senate GOP aide, "and then try to attach it to something on the floor." That means there will at least be some debate on the delays, even though Majority Leader Harry Reid will never allow a vote on them.

And after that? Republicans don't quite know. But they are confident that the coming implementation of Obamacare will give them more chances to undermine the health care law. "We had these two votes," says the GOP House aide, "because the president gave us an opportunity to take another whack at it."

LETTERS to the Editor

Not all wars were lost

I have just finished reading a column in your issue of 7/7/13 by Mr. Robert Hagaman. I take exception to many of his conclusions but will address only one. Mr. Hagaman gives a long list of wars that we as a nation supposedly lost, among them the Korean War. I have read widely on the history of that war and participated personally as a machine gunner and then squad leader in an infantry platoon. I will leave it to others to address Mr. Hagaman's other erroneous conclusions.

For him to aver that we somehow lost that war is ludicrous. It would appear to me that the author is drawing his conclusions from reading history books written in either Russian or Chinese, or perhaps both. It was not a United States war, it was a United Nations war and we were a participant along with many other nations. If South Korea lost that war, someone forgot to tell the Korean people. I had occasion to revisit that country in 2002 and found a thriving democracy with beautiful, modern cities and happy, industrious people which has taken its rightful place in the family of nations. On the other hand North Korea is a bleak backward place, a pariah among nations. Does that sound like "we" lost that war?

The Korean War was a direct challenge to any further spread of Communist Ideology throughout the world. It was the beginning of the end of that expansion. For anyone to conclude otherwise is simply wrong. Further, it is an egregious insult to all Americans who participated in such battles as became known as Heartbreak Ridge, The Punch Bowl, Old Baldy, Pork Chop Hill and others. (I personally left a piece of my hide on Old Baldy). I went to that strange land because my country told me I was needed as did many of my friends and acquaintances, some of whom did not return.

Forgive my politics

My hat is off to Ruth Anderson for her "Congrats, top dog" article of July 6. How refreshing to read something that isn't political.

Our country would be better served to have the German shepherd dog guiding us rather than our very weak and self-absorbed leader. Oops — here I go with a political statement in direct opposition to my first paragraph declaration. Forgive me!

but said both he and Kennedy have other duties. Stillwell oversees all hospital legal matters. Kennedy successfully defended the hospital in a whistle-blower case and also has handled property transactions, Stillwell said.

He suggested subtracting 15 percent from Kennedy's listed fees and taking 25 percent off his. That would bring Kennedy's total to about $3.9 million and Stillwell to just under $900,000 for legal and governance issues.

On the CCHB side, Grant, an Inverness lawyer, has billed the most of 12 attorney firms that have had some role on the CCHB's behalf in the hospital dispute. Grant's total shows $1.45 million; like Stillwell, though, he said about 20 percent is billed for other purposes. That would bring his total to $1.2 million for the dispute with the foundation.

All the other attorneys listed, he said, were hired in relation to the hospital dispute.

Both Stillwell and Grant hope a resolution is looming soon. With the hospital likely headed to a sale, lease or merger in the coming months, board members say they want the dispute to end.

Chronicle file

"Going forward, this finger-pointing doesn't do anybody any good at this point," Stillwell said.

Grant said both sides deserve criticism.

"The taxpayers are going to be upset with the Citrus Memorial Health Foundation and the Citrus County Hospital Board for not being able to resolve their differences, and I believe their animosity is well founded," he said. "No one's happy about it."

or merger of Citrus Memorial.

Four bidders — Tampa General, Health Management Associates (HMA), Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) and RegionalCare Hospital Partners — made presentations July 10 to the hospital board.

Of the four, Tampa General is the only nonprofit hospital, as is Citrus Memorial. It offered an affiliation with no cash, other than an unspecified amount in capital investments.

After the presentations, hospital board members voted unanimously to remove Tampa General from the running.

The foundation is expected to choose one or two bidders from which to request more information.

Foundation attorney Clark Stillwell said some board members have individually told him they'd like to give Tampa General 30 days to come up with a more definitive proposal that includes ways to help Citrus Memorial with its $53 million in long-term debt.

"Within a short period of time, Tampa General should be able to respond with a financial package," Stillwell said. "The community would then have a not-for-profit viable package to compare it with the others."

Hospital board Chairwoman Debbie Ressler said she is open to listening if the foundation keeps the door open for Tampa General.

"We took Tampa General off because, by comparison, they fell well off," she said. "If Tampa General comes back to the table and they're pretty much even with the other ones, I think it behooves us to look at it all."

Weiner's campaign manager quits

NEW YORK — Anthony Weiner vowed to stay in the race for New York City mayor Sunday despite the loss of his campaign manager and the drumbeat of critics questioning his fitness for public office.

"We have an amazing staff, but this isn't about the people working on the campaign. It's about the people we're campaigning for," Weiner said after speaking at a Brooklyn church.

Weiner confirmed that campaign manager Danny Kedem resigned Saturday after reports surfaced that Weiner continued to exchange lewd photos and messages with women despite resigning from Congress in 2011 over the same behavior.

Youth pastor, wife, chaperone died in bus crash

INDIANAPOLIS — An Indianapolis church's youth pastor, his pregnant wife and a congregation member have died in a weekend bus crash.

Saturday's crash near Interstate 465 devastated members of Colonial Hills Baptist Church.

Deacon Jeff Leffew said that youth pastor Chad Phelps; his wife, Courtney Phelps; and chaperone Tonya Weindorf died in the accident.

Bus driver Dennis Maurer told police that the brakes failed before the church-owned vehicle struck a raised concrete median and flipped on its side, injuring dozens of campers and church members who were returning from northern Michigan. One teenager is still in critical condition.

Second body found in Hudson River

PIERMONT, N.Y. — A second body was pulled from the Hudson River on Sunday near where a bride-to-be and her fiance's best man went missing after a nighttime boat crash near the Tappan Zee Bridge.

The body of a man believed to be 30-year-old Mark Lennon was discovered by someone on a recreational watercraft who then called 911, Rockland County Sheriff Louis Falco said. The body was found near Piermont about a mile downstream from where the body of a woman believed to be bride-to-be Lindsey Stewart was found Saturday.

Lennon and Stewart were thrown into the river Friday night after their speedboat crashed into a barge carrying materials for the construction of a replacement for the bridge. Four other friends, including Stewart's fiance, Brian Bond, and the boat operator, Jojo John, were hospitalized.

John, 35, of Nyack, was charged Saturday with vehicular manslaughter and three counts of vehicular assault.

Israel OK's prisoner release

Peace talks to resume today

Associated Press

Associated Press

Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, center, attends the weekly cabinet meeting Sunday in Jerusalem. Netanyahu urged his skeptical coalition partners to agree to free Palestinian prisoners as part of U.S efforts to resume peace talks.

JERUSALEM — A divided Israeli Cabinet agreed Sunday to release 104 long-term Palestinian prisoners convicted of deadly attacks, clearing a hurdle toward resuming Mideast peace talks and giving U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry his first concrete achievement after months of shuttle diplomacy.

The U.S. said preliminary talks would begin today. Release of the prisoners is linked to progress in the talks, meaning many could well remain behind bars.

Neither side appeared upbeat, despite the possibility of renewed talks. Each has blamed the other for the lack of success in 20 years of negotiations, and Kerry's success so far has been only to get the parties back to the table.

The prisoner release, approved 13-7 with two abstentions, is a key part of the Kerry-brokered deal.

Next, Israeli and Palestinian teams meet in Washington on Monday, the State Department spokeswoman said, to prepare for six to nine months of negotiations on setting up a Palestinian state alongside Israel.

The State Department said Kerry called Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas and invited them to send teams to Washington.

State Department spokeswoman Jan Psaki said in a statement that talks would begin Monday evening and continue Tuesday. It said the talks would "serve as an opportunity to develop a procedural work plan for how the parties can proceed with the negotiations in the coming months."

Netanyahu, seeking to overcome stiff opposition from ultra-nationalists, told his Cabinet that "resuming the political process at this time is important for Israel," noting that any deal would be submitted to a national referendum.

The chief Palestinian negotiator, Saeb Erekat, welcomed the vote on the prisoners as a "step toward peace," one he said is long overdue.

In Washington, the Israeli and Palestinian teams are supposed to close the remaining gaps on the framework for talks, and they could well falter at that early point.

Israel's release of veteran prisoners could help Abbas persuade a skeptical Palestinian public that it's worthwhile returning to negotiations.

Millions attend Pope's closing Mass

Associated Press

Crowds attending the World Youth Day's closing Mass line the shore of Copacabana beach Sunday in Rio de Janeiro. An estimated 3 million people poured onto the beach for the final Mass of Pope Francis' historic trip to his home continent, cheering the first Latin American pope in one of the biggest turnouts for a papal Mass in recent history.

Differences small between bills

Student loan compromise could be reached soon

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The House is set to go along with a bipartisan Senate compromise that would link college students' interest rates to the financial markets and offer borrowers lower rates this fall.

The Senate bill hews closely to one the House already has passed, and leaders from both parties and in both chambers expect those differences won't stand in the way of quick resolution, perhaps as early as Wednesday.

House approval would send the measure to President Barack Obama, who has said he would sign it into law "right away."

But critics note that if the economy improves, as expected, rates could climb higher.

If the Republican-led House consents to the Senate's tinkering with the House's earlier proposal, and Obama signs the legislation before students start returning to campus, families would see better deals on some federal loans this year than they did in 2012. Undergraduates could borrow at rates as low as 3.4 percent for subsidized Stafford loans and 6.8 percent on unsubsidized Stafford loans last year, while graduate students and parents borrowed at 7.9 percent last year.

Those 3.4 percent rates doubled on July 1 because Congress did not act. Lawmakers from both parties said the rate increase was unacceptable and worked on various proposals to extend rates, overhaul rates and even remake the entire program before classes start this fall.

Both chambers would link the interest rate to the 10-year Treasury note plus an added percentage, based on the type of loan. Each sets caps on how high the loans can go.

But under the Senate bill, once a student or parent takes a loan for the school year the rate would not change. The House bill would make the interest rate variable, meaning it could change every year until the loan is repaid.

A look at what the House and Senate bills would mean for students and their parents:

Undergraduates

Senate: Undergraduates who take subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford loans would pay the 10-year Treasury note, plus an additional 2.05 percent. That would put the interest rate at about 3.9 percent this fall. Rates would be capped at 8.25 percent.

House: Under the House bill, undergraduates who take subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford loans would pay the 10-year Treasury note, plus an additional 2.5 percent. That would translate to an interest rate of about 4.3 percent interest rates for loans taken this fall. Rates would be capped at 8.5 percent.

Graduate students

Senate: Graduate students would borrow at the interest rate of the 10-year Treasury notes plus an additional 3.6 percent. That would bring 5.4 percent interest rates for borrowers this fall. Rates would be capped at 9.5 percent.

House: Graduate students and parents would borrow at the 10-year Treasury note plus an additional 4.5 percent. Under this formula, graduate student loans this fall would carry a 6.3 percent interest rate. Rates would be capped at 10.5 percent.

Parents and some graduate students

Senate: Parents and some graduate students would borrow at the 10-year Treasury note plus an additional 4.6 percent. That works out to a 6.4 percent interest rate for fall term. Rates would be capped at 10.5 percent.

House: Graduate students and parents would borrow at the 10-year Treasury note plus an additional 4.5 percent. That would bring about 6.3 percent interest rates for borrowers this fall. Rates would be capped at 10.5 percent.

Rescuers: 37 dead in Italy bus plunge

ROME — A tour bus filled with Italians returning home after an excursion plunged off a highway into a ravine in southern Italy on Sunday night after it had smashed into several cars that were slowed by heavy traffic, killing at least 37 people, police and rescuers said.

Flashing signs near Avellino, outside Naples, had warned of slowed traffic ahead along a stretch of the A116 autostrada, a major highway crossing southern Italy, before the crash occurred, said highway police and officials, speaking on state radio early Monday. They said the bus driver, for reasons not yet determined, appeared to have lost control of his vehicle.

Hours after the crash, firefighters said that they had extracted 37 bodies — most of the dead were found inside the mangled bus, which lay on its side, while a few of the victims were pulled out from underneath the wreckage.

State radio said 11 people were hospitalized with injuries, two of them in very critical condition.

It was not immediately known if there were other survivors or any missing. Reports said as many as 49 people had been aboard the bus when it ripped through a guardrail after slamming into several cars, then plunged some 100 feet off the highway and into a ravine near a wooded area.

$53 million in jewels stolen in Cannes

PARIS — A staggering $53 million worth of diamonds and other jewels were stolen Sunday from the Carlton Intercontinental Hotel in Cannes, in one of Europe's biggest jewelry heists in recent years, police said. One expert noted the crime follows recent jail escapes by members of the notorious "Pink Panther" jewel thief gang.

The hotel in the sweltering French Riviera was hosting a temporary jewelry exhibit over the summer from the prestigious Leviev diamond house, which is owned by Israeli billionaire Lev Leviev.

A police spokesman said the theft took place around noon.

As many as 25 people killed in Nigeria

MAIDUGURI, Nigeria — A vigilante group said 25 people have been killed during an attack by the vigilantes and a reprisal by Islamic extremists in Nigeria's northeast.

These are the first major fatalities reported in the region since dozens of students were killed, some burned alive, earlier this month.

Vigilante leader Aliko Musa said his group stormed villages over the weekend to hunt members of the banned Boko Haram terrorist organization. He said Boko Haram retaliated and that five vigilantes and 20 civilians were killed.

Jeter gives Yankees jolt to avoid sweep

Matt Moore sees six-start win streak come to end

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Derek Jeter homered on the first pitch he saw to give the Yankees a jolt in his return from the disabled list and Alfonso Soriano made the captain a winner with a game-ending single that lifted New York over the Tampa Bay Rays 6-5 Sunday to avoid a three-game sweep.

Playing with Jeter for the first time since being re-acquired by New York from the Cubs on Friday, Soriano homered among his first four hits with the Yankees and drove in three runs.

Jeter was activated from the DL for the second time this month and connected against Matt Moore, sending a drive to right-center that ended the Yankees' nine-game homerless drought. He went 2 for 4 and scored twice.

Brett Gardner drew a leadoff walk from Jake McGee (2-3) in the ninth. McGee then switched belts on his uniform before facing Jeter, threw a wild pitch and received a visit from manager Joe Maddon.

The decision: walk Jeter intentionally.

After Robinson Cano struck out, Soriano hit a liner to center field for the win. He was mobbed by his teammates and doused with a liquid during a postgame interview.

Mariano Rivera (2-2), the Yankees' fourth reliever, got three groundball outs in the ninth.

Rookie Wil Myers homered twice and drove in four runs against beleaguered Yankees starter Phil Hughes and Kelly Johnson had an RBI double, but the AL East leaders lost for only the fourth time in 25 games.

Moore's six-start winning streak ended when he was lifted after five innings with the score tied at 5. Moore allowed five runs and eight hits.

Tampa Bay's Wil Myers hits a three-run home run Sunday during the third inning against the New York Yankees in New York.

Sprint Cup Series driver Ryan Newman kisses the yard of bricks Sunday after winning the Brickyard 400 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in Indianapolis.

Indiana native Ryan Newman wins Brickyard 400 at Indy

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS — Ryan Newman fulfilled the childhood dream of so many who grew up in Indiana — winning at storied Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Newman, from South Bend, ended a 49-race losing streak with Sunday's victory at the Brickyard, and he did it by beating Jimmie Johnson.

Again.

Newman set a NASCAR track record in knocking Johnson off the pole in qualifying, then used a fast final pit stop Sunday to snatch the win from the four-time Indianapolis winner.

The two were the class of the field — they combined to lead 118 of the 160 laps — but it was Johnson who dominated the race and appeared to be just a bit better. But Johnson pitted from the lead with 27 laps remaining and it was a slow final stop for the Hendrick Motorsports crew.

Newman pitted after that and took only two tires to move into the lead after the green-flag stops cycled through the field. The closest Johnson would get to him again was when he paid a congratulatory visit to Newman in Victory Lane.

Newman was remarkably composed as he took the checkered flag and in Victory Lane.

"I don't realize it yet. It's a dream come true," he said. "It can't hit you all at once, it's not good enough. It will take a week or so for it to sink in."

The victory comes as Newman is looking for a job.

Stewart-Haas Racing has signed Kevin Harvick to join the team next season, and team co-owner Tony Stewart informed Newman two weeks ago he won't be brought back in 2014. It didn't change the post-race mood, as Stewart hustled to Victory Lane, lifted Newman from behind and the two shared a long embrace.

"He just had an awesome weekend," Stewart said. "I kept looking up the board and watching and I was scared to ask where he was at and how big of a lead he had. I didn't want to jinx him. Just really proud of him — he's a great teammate and an even better friend."

Johnson, the Sprint Cup Series points leader who was hoping to tie Formula One's Michael Schumacher as the only five-time winners in Indy history, finished 2.657 seconds behind Newman in second.

"There's definitely disappointment there, but that's racing. It happens," Johnson said. "We win as a team, lose as a team. There's been some late race mistakes on my behalf that have taken race wins away from us. Granted, not a major event like this. We still ended up second.

"We have a lot to be proud of over the course of the weekend. We'll do the best to let it roll off our shoulders by tomorrow afternoon."

Kasey Kahne, Johnson's Hendrick Motorsports teammate, was third and Stewart was fourth as Chevrolet swept the top four spots. All four cars were also powered by Hendrick Motorsports.

Matt Kenseth was fifth in a Toyota and followed by Hendrick's Dale Earnhardt Jr. and Jeff Gordon, as all four Hendrick entries landed inside the top seven.

Anderson earns sixth Powell win

SEAN ARNOLD

INVERNESS — The weather was finally clear for racing, but the track was still a bit of a mess at the Citrus County Speedway on Saturday. Accidents, leakages and dispersed car parts were the norm for much of the sloppily contested, albeit entertaining, night that featured the 18th annual Powell Family Memorial and its return to asphalt.

In the end, it was business as usual for Wayne Anderson, as he left with his record-high sixth Powell victory — worth a $5,000 prize — on his sixth win of the season in the Florida United Promoters Late Model Series.

"It was a great win," said the Wildwood driver, who won the Powell the last time it was on pavement. "As usual, my wife (Laurie Anderson) worked awful hard and did a great job of spotting, and my crew works well. I'm just a very fortunate person."

The car count was cut in half by lap 99 of 125, with local favorites Herb Neumann Jr., who started in the front row but stalled on a caution at lap 51, and Lecanto's Mike Bresnahan, who was coaxed into the wall on the fourth turn of lap 42 and later forced out with a blown radiator, both bowing out prematurely. But Brooksville's Daniel Webster, San Antonio's Scott Grossenbacher and Anderson made it intriguing to the finish as they separated from the field and were bumper-to-bumper the final 23 laps.

"The car just needed a couple laps to get going and that was the difference," said Webster, who started in the third row. "After that, it was the best car here."

Webster is second in FUPS points as Anderson's closest competitor in 2013 and finished second Saturday, one spot ahead of Grossenbacher, who began the race in the sixth row.

Following Neumann's exit, Anderson, who began in the fifth row, and Webster, who led for 22 straight laps early on, shared the front row on every restart and ran side-by-side during one three-lap stretch midway through the race.

"He's running good and I'm running good," Anderson said of Webster, "and it seems like if I'm off, then he's on, and if he's off, then I'm on."

During an autograph session with the drivers, the Memorial's founder (and former winner), James Powell III, expressed his appreciation for the fans and drivers after he was presented with a checkered flag signed by the drivers.

Also running in the crowded Saturday lineup were Modified Mini Stocks, Street Stocks, Mini Stocks, Pure Stocks, Figure 8s, Hornets and FUPS Legends and Bandoleros.

Donahue, Verderber win CR Twilight Triathlon

LARRY BUGG
Correspondent

CRYSTAL RIVER — A veteran triathlete and a world class triathlete took wins Saturday night at the Crystal River Twilight Triathlon at Fort Island Gulf Beach.

Kristin Donahue, 25, of Webster, won the women's race with a time of 55:03. Donahue was a member of the triathlon team at the University of Florida and earned a bachelor's and a masters degree there.

"I am doing the Ironman Louisville at the end of August," Donahue said. "I had a great race. It's hard to figure out how it's going to work at night. Everything worked out. I have competed in Germany and Australia. This will be my third Ironman. I'm very happy. I had a good swim today. I was happy with my run. You get to watch the sunset on the bike."

Buddy Verderber of Orlando won the men's race with a time of 48:22. He is training for a world event September in London, England.

"I am on vacation with my family," he said. "I had to work on my run. It was a great course. I really liked it. Nice and flat bike course. I went real hard on the way out. I am hopefully going to get my pro card in England. I want to thank my friends and family for coming out today. It's really great that I can come out and win for them."

Nat Glackin of St. Petersburg was second with a time of 49:21.

"I raced this morning and I was a little sore and didn't have a lot of pop," he said. "It's very well run. I have no complaints."

Groveland's John Hovius was the men's masters winner with a 52:31. He was fifth overall.

Tarpon Springs' Celia Dubey was the women's masters winner with a time of 56:47. She was 17th overall.

Tim Wenger also competed in the triathlon and finished eighth with a time of 54:28. Wenger, 20, is a former Chronicle Male Cross County Runner of the Year and will be running for the University of West Florida in a few weeks. He was 11th in last year's event.

"I think I did pretty well coming back from a stress fracture," Wenger said. "I am happy with this. I spent the whole summer here training. I am weak on the bike."

There were close to 250 registered for the event. Normal triathlons begin at 7:30 a.m. This began at 7:30 p.m. and has more of a beach party feeling.

"This is our 14th year with the Twilight Triathlon," said race director Chris Moling. "A lot of these are doing a sunrise/sunset challenge. There was a triathlon this morning at Fort DeSoto Park (St. Petersburg Beach) and some of them are coming up to do our triathlon. You have all that going

Fernandez fans 13 Pirates in 3-2 win

Lester, Ortiz carry Red Sox past Baltimore 5-0

Associated Press

MIAMI — Jose Fernandez had a team rookie record 13 strikeouts in a pitching duel with Gerrit Cole, and the Miami Marlins beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 Sunday.

Fernandez (7-5) allowed five hits and two runs in eight innings. The 20-year-old All-Star right-hander walked none and threw 97 pitches, 74 for strikes.

Cole (5-4) was nearly as good. The rookie allowed three runs and struck out eight in seven innings, but Giancarlo Stanton put the Marlins ahead to stay in the sixth with his 13th home run.

Mike Napoli had two doubles and an RBI for the Red Sox, who took two of three in this duel between AL East foes. Boston had lost six straight series to Baltimore.

All four hits against Lester (10-6) were singles.

Blue Jays 2, Astros 1

TORONTO — Colby Rasmus drove in Emilio Bonifacio with a game-winning single in the ninth inning and the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Houston Astros 2-1.

Casey Janssen (3-0) worked one scoreless inning for the Blue Jays, who rebounded against Houston after being swept in consecutive series against Tampa Bay and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Royals 4, White Sox 2, 12 inn.

CHICAGO — Alex Gordon hit a two-run homer in the 12th inning and the Kansas City Royals beat the Chicago White Sox 4-2 for their sixth consecutive victory.

Aaron Crow (7-3) tossed a scoreless inning to get the win and Greg Holland finished for his 27th save in 29 chances. Holland has converted each of his past 20 opportunities.

Indians 6, Rangers 0

CLEVELAND — Ubaldo Jimenez pitched eight scoreless innings and the Cleveland Indians shut out the Texas Rangers for the second straight game in a 6-0 win.

Jason Kipnis' two-out single in the fifth broke a scoreless tie. Yan Gomes' RBI single and Michael Bourn's two-run double added three runs in the sixth as the Indians, who have won four straight, completed their first three-game sweep at home over Texas since Aug. 12-14, 1980.

Jimenez (8-5) allowed two hits and matched his longest outing of the season.

Mariners 6, Twins 4

SEATTLE — Nick Franklin homered twice, including a three-run shot, and the Seattle Mariners held off the Minnesota Twins for a 6-4 victory.

Franklin and Michael Saunders both went deep during a pivotal four-run fourth inning. With the Mariners down 2-1, Saunders tied it with his seventh homer to open the inning.

After Henry Blanco reached on a fielder's choice and Brad Miller walked, Franklin connected on a 1-1 pitch from Kyle Gibson (2-3) to put the Mariners ahead 5-2.

Franklin added his 10th homer to right field with one out in the seventh.

A's 10, Angels 6

OAKLAND, Calif. — Yoenis Cespedes drove in four runs on his most productive day since winning the Home Run Derby, and the Oakland Athletics rallied from five runs down to beat the Los Angeles Angels 10-6.

Erick Aybar doubled and tripled for the Angels, who placed Albert Pujols on the disabled list before the game with a tear in his left foot that could end his season.

National League
Braves 5, Cardinals 2

ATLANTA — Jason Heyward homered and drove in two runs to help the Atlanta Braves beat St. Louis 5-2, capping their first three-game sweep of the Cardinals at home in 10 years.

The Braves broke a 2-all tie with two runs in the sixth inning off rookie Shelby Miller (10-7) and two relievers. Pinch-hitter Joey Terdoslavich drove in Chris Johnson with the go-ahead run. Heyward added another run-scoring single.

Heyward has nine homers this season, including two in the series between NL division leaders.

Kris Medlen (7-10) allowed two runs on eight hits and a walk in six innings to snap his three-game losing streak.

Nationals 14, Mets 1

WASHINGTON — Wilson Ramos hit a grand slam and rookie right-hander Taylor Jordan had six strong innings for his first major league win to lead the Washington Nationals to a 14-1 rout of the New York Mets.

Mets right-hander Carlos Torres (1-2) could not build on his solid start last week against the Atlanta Braves.

He allowed eight runs and nine hits in just three innings. Ramos had his third-inning grand slam.

Jordan (1-3), making his sixth career start, earned his first victory.

Padres 1, Diamondbacks 0

PHOENIX — Tyson Ross outpitched All-Star Patrick Corbin with eight dominant innings and the San Diego Padres closed out their first winning road trip of the season with a 1-0 win over the Arizona Diamondbacks.

Carlos Quentin had a run-scoring single in the first inning off Corbin (12-2) and Ross (2-4) took it from there, allowing three hits and striking out seven in the combined three-hitter. Huston Street worked a perfect ninth for his 19th save.

Cubs 2, Giants 1

SAN FRANCISCO — Travis Wood pitched a four-hitter over seven innings and had a home run among his two hits in helping the Chicago Cubs complete a three-game sweep in San Francisco for the first time in 20 years, beating the Giants 2-1.

Welington Castillo also homered for the Cubs.

Pablo Sandoval drove in a run for the Giants, who have lost four straight and seven of eight.

Rockies 6, Brewers 5

DENVER — Troy Tulowitzki homered early, then doubled to start a two-run rally in the eighth inning that sent the Colorado Rockies over the Milwaukee Brewers 6-5.

Michael Cuddyer, Dexter Fowler and Corey Dickerson also homered for the Rockies, who salvaged a split of their 10-game homestand.

Dodgers 1, Reds 0, 11 inn.

LOS ANGELES — Yasiel Puig homered with two outs in the 11th inning to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cincinnati pitchers set a franchise record with 20 strikeouts. Puig, Adrian Gonzalez, Hanley Ramirez and Tim Federowicz each fanned three times as the Dodgers established their highest single-game total for strikeouts since the franchise moved from Brooklyn to Los Angeles following the 1957 season.

Puig drove an 0-1 pitch deep into the left-field pavilion against rookie Chris Partch (0-1) for his 10th homer and 23rd RBI in 48 big league games.

Interleague
Tigers 12, Phillies 4

DETROIT — Jhonny Peralta's grand slam capped an eight-run sixth inning for Detroit, and the Tigers overcame Miguel Cabrera's ejection in a 12-4 win over the collapsing Philadelphia Phillies.

Cabrera was tossed while batting with the bases loaded in the third. Detroit still got plenty of additional chances against a Philadelphia team that stumbled to its eighth straight loss.

In the sixth, the Tigers scored eight runs on only two hits. The Phillies made three errors and walked three batters in the inning.

CR Seniors to state semifinals

A pair of shutout victories over the weekend pushed the Crystal River Senior Little League All-Star baseball team into the state tournament semifinals.

Crystal River defeated Bloomingdale (Tampa) 10-0 Saturday night and blanked Niceville on Sunday, 2-0.

The Citrus County squad returns to the diamond in Fort Lauderdale tonight at 8:30 p.m. against DeBary-Seminole in semifinal action.

"Our pitching has been outstanding the whole time we have been here. Hopefully we can maintain that," Crystal River manager Dennis McClure said.

In Saturday's victory over Bloomingdale, Derek Rogers, Tyler Boland and Jordan Humphreys combined for a one-hit shutout. Rogers struck out five, Boland four and Humphreys two.

Humphreys also went 2 for 3 at the plate with a double and two runs scored, while Zac Pattison had a double and scored three times.

The game ended in the sixth inning by the 10-run mercy rule when Tanner McClure executed a picture-perfect squeeze play.

Rogers and Cory Weiand combined for another one-hit shutout for Crystal River on Sunday against Niceville. Rogers fanned five in 3 2/3 innings and Weiand struck out four in 3 1/3 innings.

Daylon Rogers and Pattison each drove in a run in Crystal River's two-run fourth inning. Collin Basnight had a double.

"Niceville was an excellent team. They were probably the favorite coming in. They have a pretty good program up there," Dennis McClure said. "We played some good ball to take care of them. We played sound defense and our pitching was solid again."

Crystal River was the only team at state to finish 3-0 in pool play.

Shea's goal lifts US over Panama

CHICAGO — Brek Shea scored less than a minute after entering the game as a second-half substitute, giving the United States a 1-0 victory over Panama in the Gold Cup final Sunday.

It is the fifth Gold Cup title for the Americans, but their first since 2007. The victory also extended the Americans' winning streak to a record 11 games.

U.S. coach Jurgen Klinsmann was forced to watch the game from a luxury box after being suspended for his tirade over the officiating in the semifinal, and the Americans took some time getting on track in his absence. They eventually settled in, but couldn't finish off any of their chances.

Enter Shea.

He replaced Joe Corona in the 68th minute and, 44 seconds later, pounced on a scuffed shot by Landon Donovan for the goal.

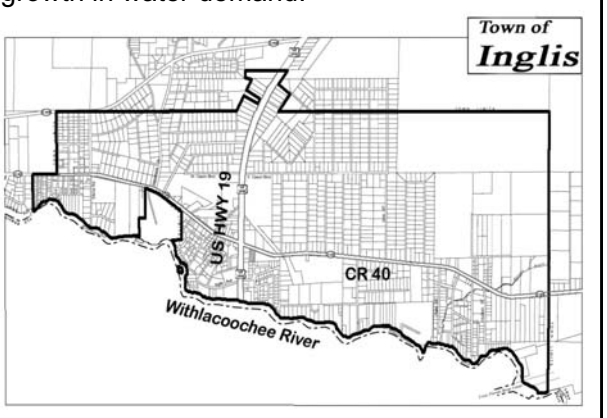
NOTICE OF ENACTMENT

OF AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE TEXT OF THE COMPREHENSIVE PLAN OF THE TOWN OF INGLIS, FLORIDA

BY THE TOWN COMMISSION OF THE TOWN OF INGLIS, FLORIDA, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to Chapters 163 and 166, Florida Statutes and Section 34-42, of the Town of Inglis Land Development Code, comments, objections and recommendations regarding the following described proposed amendments to the text of the Comprehensive Plan will be heard by the Town Commission of the Town of Inglis, Florida, at hearings on Tuesday, August 13, 2013 at 6:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as these matters can be heard. The hearings will be conducted in the Town of Inglis, Town Hall located at 135 Highway 40 West, Inglis, Florida.

Adoption of Ordinance 03-13 - referencing application CPA 13-L1 by the Town of Inglis to create the Town of Inglis 10-Year Water Supply Facilities Work Plan. The Work Plan represents the Town's plan to meet current water demands and the anticipated future growth in water demand.



At the hearing, all interested parties may appear to be heard with respect to the proposed amendment. Copies of said proposed amendment application as described above are available for public inspection at the Office of the Town Clerk, located at Inglis Town Hall 135 Highway 40 West, Inglis, Florida,

Any person needing accommodation to participate in this meeting should contact the Town Clerk at (352) 447-2203 (TDD) at least three days in advance.

All persons are advised that if they decide to appeal any decision made at a public hearing, they will need a record of the proceedings, and that, for such purpose, they may need to ensure that a verbatim record of the proceedings is made; said record to include the testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is to be based.

Snedeker wins Canadian Open

Associated Press

OAKVILLE, Ontario — Brandt Snedeker won the Canadian Open on Sunday for his second PGA Tour title of the year, closing with 2-under 70 for a three-stroke victory.

Snedeker took the lead Saturday after second-round leader Hunter Mahan withdrew when his wife went into labor, and held on in the breezy final round at Glen Abbey.

Dustin Johnson, William McGirt, Matt Kuchar and Jason Bohn tied for second. Johnson had a triple-bogey 7 on the par-4 17th en route to a 70, McGirt had a 68, and Kuchar and Bohn shot 71.

Langer, Wiebe set for Monday finish in Sr. British

SOUTHPORT, England — Bernhard Langer and Mark Wiebe were tied after two playoff holes Sunday night in the storm-delayed Senior British Open when darkness suspended play at Royal Birkdale.

They will finish the playoff this morning.

Wiebe shot a 4-under 66 to match Langer at 9-under 271. Langer had a 70.

They each parred the par-4 18th twice in the playoff.

Corey Pavin, Peter Senior and David Frost tied for third at 6 under. Pavin shot a 65, Senior had a 66, and Frost a 70.

the drama in Modified Minis while dominating for his sixth feature win in seven tries. He was followed by points leader Chris Allen and Floral City's Kevin Harod, respectively.

Inverness' Curtis Flanagan once again showed his command of the Street Stock class by winning his eighth feature, beating out Brooksville's J.D. Goff (second-place finish) and Floral City's Dora Thorne (third). Tim Wilson, also of Floral City, had a solid handle on second place before he rode up and down the wall on turn one of the final lap moments after sparks spraying from beneath his car foreshadowed his unfortunate fate.

In Mini Stocks, Bushnell's Bill Ryan beat out Belleview's Jason Terry and Webster's Mark Patterson to collect his first feature win of the year.

The Pure Stock division saw a shakeup at the top as Karlin and Camron Ray and Jason Waller, who together boast a combined 18 wins counting features and heats, failed to finish while Floral City's West Wilson led from the fifth lap to notch his first feature victory. Karlin Ray was undone when his car got caught between his cousin Camron Ray's No. 9 and the wall on the near straightaway of lap 16. The damage was mutual for Camron Ray, sending his despondent pure stock into a slow crawl up the wall on the first turn. Waller was in second on the penultimate lap when his No. 3 started emitting smoke. Williston's Larry Welter Jr. finished second and Weirsdale's James Holly came in third.

The Figure 8s (Pure Stocks and Street Stocks) put on a clumsy display — a lowlight was Hernando's Arden Franklin ramming the back-half of Ronnie Schrefiels' No. 6 from the side at the intersection of lap 13 — but Ocala's Jimmy Kruse all but clinched the point championship with his second feature win. Brooksville pair James Johnston and Pnut Higginbotham finished second and third, respectively.

Lakeland's Dakota Baggette picked up his third FUPS win of the season in the 30-lap Legends event. Division-leader Kory Abbott had the fastest car while he darted past most of the field en route to the No. 2 position, but his No. 5R machine briefly burst into flames on lap 20, dooming his efforts.

Groveland's Samuel Cornman prevailed in a two-car Bandoleros race, and Wildwood's Marvin Armstrong closed out the night with a win in the three-car Hornet event.

Bridge

PHILLIP ALDER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Daniel Radcliffe, who became famous playing Harry Potter, said, "I think any guy who says, 'I've never had an awkward moment with a girl' is a liar."

Any bridge player who says he's never had an awkward moment at the table is a liar. The winners, though, find a way to survive when faced with difficult decisions. This week we are going to study hand-dealt layouts that produced problems for the players.

First, look at the South hand in today's diagram. What would be your opening bid?

Hands with 4-4-4-1 distribution can be a nuisance. But with this one, a good general guideline is to treat king-singleton as if it were king-doubleton. So plan on bidding no-trump. It would not be unreasonable to open two no-trump if you would be promising a good 20, 21 or 22 points. But I think you should upgrade because of all the aces and kings. Open two clubs, planning to rebid two no-trump.

Here, whatever you do, you should end in three no-trump. West leads his fourth-highest diamond five: seven, three (lowest from a tripleton when unable to play a nine or higher), king. What happens after that?

You have only six top tricks: two spades, one heart, one diamond and two clubs. It would be nice to find the spade finesse winning, but you need to get into the dummy.

Cash the club ace, then lead a low club toward the dummy. Here, West has no defense. At the table, he won with his club queen and played three rounds of diamonds. South discarded three hearts (East threw one heart), cashed the club jack, and ran the spade jack to take nine tricks: three spades, one heart, two diamonds and three clubs.

ANNIE'S MAILBOX

Dear Annie: I've been with "Betty" for 20 years. Last week, a repairman came to fix the phone line. On his way out, Betty followed him and said in a sexy voice, "I like bald-headed men. You come back."

Betty didn't know I overheard what she said until I walked in after she had picked up the phone to call her girlfriend. She then told the woman that it probably hurt my feelings.

She's right. It hurt my feelings and made me realize she really didn't care one whit about me. When I called her out on it, she claimed she was just being friendly.

I told her that was a little too friendly — it was a blatant invitation for the repairman to come back to see her. Of course, she denies that's what she intended.

Betty refuses to discuss this with me and blows up if I say anything. She has always been a real flirt, although to my knowledge, she's never actually done anything. But I feel she should not have spoken to the repairman like that. She said she did nothing wrong. Who's right? — Fuming in Florida

Dear Fuming: It is disrespectful for Betty to flirt with other men. However, you know she is a flirt and doesn't follow through. We don't think it has anything to do with her feelings for you. Flirtatious people behave this way without thought, and either minimize or don't realize how hurtful it can be for their partners.

We know it will be difficult, but instead of turning this into an argument, we suggest you quietly and sincerely tell Betty that you love her and are committed to her, and that you know she wouldn't behave this way if she understood how much it hurts you. (She also could get into some big trouble if she flirts with the wrong guy.) Then let it go. She will be defensive, but we hope she pays more attention in the future.

Dear Annie: A friend used Facebook to set up a raffle as a fundraiser to help a cousin who lost his wife. I donated several things and also attended the dinner held at a church facility and bought many raffle tickets. We were excited to see who the winners were, but toward the end of the event, we were informed that the drawing would be held later at someone's home. The next day, I sent an email through Facebook to the coordinator asking whether the winning names would be shared, and she told me all winners would be notified. I have not heard another word, and a list of the winners was never posted.

Several months have passed, and I'm beginning to get suspicious. A few of the donated jewelry items were not visible the night of the raffle, and a gift certificate donated by another relative was missing. My cousin asked for a list of the winners and never received it. What do you think of this? — Frustrated Donor

Dear Frustrated: Either the coordinator is poorly organized and hasn't managed to do the necessary work, or she has no intention of doing so. There may be a legitimate reason why no one has been informed who the winners are, but even so, participants deserve an explanation. And there could be legal repercussions if she has kept the donated items for herself. Decide how deeply you wish to pursue this.

Dear Annie: I felt compelled to respond to "Not as Pretty as a Penny," who needed emergency care and worried that her mother cared more about the cost.

I do medical billing and hear daily from people who did not realize that emergency room visits are so expensive.

If there are acute care facilities in the area, those charges would be much less costly. Of course, an office visit to the family doctor would be the least expensive option. — DK from SD

WORDY GURDY®

BY TRICKY RICKY KANE

Every answer is a rhyming pair of words (like FAT CAT and DOUBLE TROUBLE), and they will fit in the letter squares. The number after the definition tells you how many syllables in each word.

1. A single score in baseball (1)
2. Singer Alicia runs from trouble (1)
3. Small game bird "tall" story (1)
4. San Antonio NBAer's mangy mutts (1)
5. Even bigger in size meteorite hole (2)
6. "Head" boss's pullover raincoats (2)
7. Pilfering a room's overhead part (2)
