Flu Fears Strike District

Absentee rate now exceeds 15 percent

By Michael Curtis
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Warnings regarding the H1N1 (Swine) Flu have been circulating for months, so when students returned to school recently, health and school officials were hopeful that students would carefully adopt all prevention warnings, especially hand washing. In consideration of a significant spike in absenteeism though, including many students being sent home daily, the district is reminding parents and students to review warnings and procedures.

Teachers and school medical personnel have been instructed to immediately remove any child from class that demonstrates flu symptoms, preferring to fall on the side of caution than risking exposure. Supporting these precautions, the district is taking additional steps as well. These steps include:

- Wiping down all common areas and furnishings daily
- Wiping down buses daily
- Instructing students to wash hands with hand sanitizer at least three times daily
- Distributing masks supplied by Health Department for nursing areas

Michael Akes, district personnel and human resource director, further reminds parents:

"Please help us by wiping down belongings that might be shared and especially reminding your child to wash their hands thoroughly, and keep them away from their mouth, eyes and nose. And, if your child does get sick, please don't send them back to school until they don't have a fever or other symptoms without medication for at least 24 hours."

There have been no confirmed cases of H1N1 in those staying home, and although caution and hand washing is being strongly urged, students are not being told to stay home if they are well, even among siblings. There would naturally be cases of colds and flu besides the H1N1, but these are being handled as though it might be the H1N1 until the concern passes.

Vicki Brown, emergency management director for the county, strongly agrees. The following list, "Swine Flu: 10 things you need to know," issued by the Center for Disease Control and recently distributed by Brown will be helpful in addressing the issue.

1. No cause for panic.

So far, swine flu isn't much more threatening than regular seasonal flu. During the few months of this new flu's existence, hospitalizations and deaths from it seem to be lower than the average seen for seasonal flu, and the virus hasn't dramatically mutated. That's what health officials have observed in the Southern Hemisphere where flu season is now winding down. Still, more people are susceptible to swine flu and U.S. health officials are worried because it hung in so firmly here during the summer — a time of year the flu usually goes away.

2. Virus tougher on some.

Swine flu is more of a threat to certain groups — children under 2, pregnant women, people with health problems like asthma, diabetes and heart disease. Teens and young adults are also more vulnerable to swine flu.

Madison County Sheriff Ben Stewart reports that on Wednesday, August 26, at 12:30 a.m., Madison County Sheriff's Office K-9 Officer Mike Maurice stopped a 1999 Chevrolet, white in color, for faulty equipment violations (no brake lights and no right rear tail light) at the 253-mile marker on I-10 westbound in Madison County. The vehicle was being operated by Scott Bond, 20, of Pensacola and occupied by one (1) passenger, Bruce Langford, 21, of Pensacola.

During the traffic stop, as he approached the occupants, K-9 Officer Maurice detected a strong odor of marijuana and back up assistance was requested by Sgt. Pitts. The driver denied the vehicle containing any illegal drugs; however, when K-9 Officer Maurice questioned the passenger he confirmed Everyone escaped serious injuries in a massive three-car accident on Interstate 10 at the 237-mile marker on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, a 2000 Ford utility vehicle, towing a camper trailer and driven by Francisco Soto, 33, of Dallas, was traveling west on I-10 in the outside lane.

A semi, driven by Kathleen Mullins, 59, of Covington, Ky., passed the utility vehicle. Wind shear from the semi caused Soto's vehicle to travel into the median.

The vehicle traveled into the eastbound lanes. The right side of the utility vehicle struck the semi's left

A log truck turned over on Tuesday, Sept. 1, almost 10 miles south of Lee on County Road 255.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Parendre Rendel To Farmer, 33, of Lake City, was traveling south on CR 255 when he experienced a vehicle malfunction and lost control of the 2006 Mack truck.

The truck went off the roadway and onto the west side of the roadway and overturned onto its right side, ejecting the cargo of logs from the trailer.

The truck continued out of control sliding across CR 255 before coming to final rest on the east side of the roadway.

The Madison County Sheriff's Office assisted with traffic control, due to a completely blocked roadway.

The City of Madison utilities department assisted with a tractor to clean up the roadway.

McDaniel And Thompson To Shine In '09

By Bryant Thigpen
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Jacobbi McDaniel and Chris Thompson are anxiously awaiting their time to shine on Monday, September 7, when the Florida State Seminoles take on the Miami Hurricanes at Bobby Bowden Field at Doak Campbell Stadium. The game will take place on Labor Day, starting at 8 p.m. in Tallahassee.

Thompson and McDaniel are working hard to earn playing time on the field in Monday's game. "Their work ethic is typical of a Madison County football player," Head Coach Bobby Bowden stated. "They both work hard; they both try to play when they're hurting."

Ranked number five in ESPN's top 150 recruits, McDaniel is still catching the eye of many, especially the eye of legendary Coach Bobby Bowden. "He's done real well and we're very pleased the way he's done," Bowden said.

Injuries have found their way to the front line of the defense, sitting down two defensive tackles and one linebacker. With the increase in injuries, this opened the door of possibility for McDaniel to start Monday night.

"We hate to rush him," Bowden implied, "But we're having to rush him."

McDaniel has presented extreme effort and talent this summer, preparing to make a difference on the field for the Seminoles. "Jacobbi is right now running;

The Dream

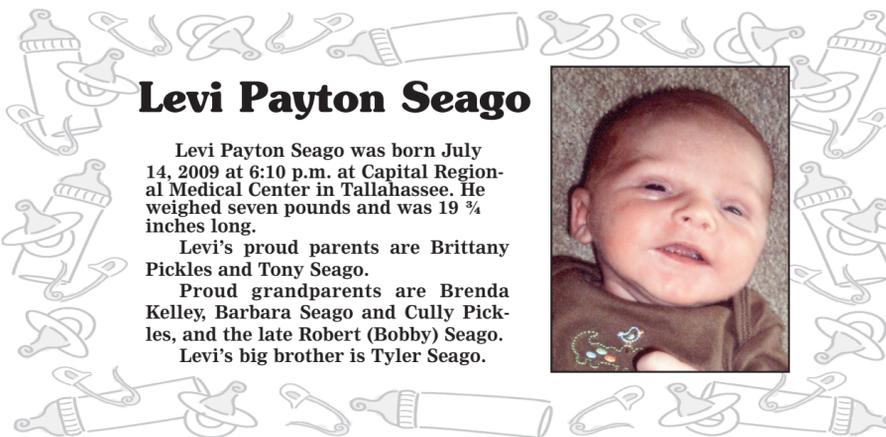

Early Wednesday morning, I awoke with a start after having one of the weirdest dreams of my life. All I could do in the dream was say, "Lord, Lord..." and when I awoke, I said, "Lord, Lord, thank you that was only a dream."

The dream was very disturbing. As my family and I stood on the sidewalk in front of Subway in Madison, we heard a tremendous explosion. Looking up in the sky, I saw a huge jumbo jet that had exploded right over the school board building — only there was no fire. People were falling out of the jet, including some that had parachutes that would not open. Some people had on business suits, some people wore casual clothes, some people were dressed in military fatigues. As I said, the only thing that I could say in the dream was "Lord, Lord." My sister, Abbie, began to cry in the dream and she rarely cries.

When I told someone at work about it, they immediately said that it reminded them of the prayer issue at last Friday evening's football game, when the fans joined in saying the Lord's Prayer and a handful of people bucked and complained. People were falling on both sides of the issue, he pointed out. He also said that the school board office was significant.

If the dream was about the prayer issue, all I can say is that I will continue to call on the name of the Lord. I'm also sure that Abbie would cry if she were ever forbidden to be prayed for or to pray herself.

I don't really know what the dream was about but I do know that I was shaken by the dream. God, however, does not give me a spirit of fear. "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." (2 Timothy 1:7)

So guess what??? ... No...guess...Anyway...The other day I go into the post office... Let me back up a minute... my oldest son, Daniel, is in the Marine Corps presently over in the war...I went into the post office to get one of those boxes to send a care-package in. (Those women in the post office are always such a joy to talk to!!!!... like they wake up happy.) Well, this particular day it was Mrs. Opal Strickland, whom I've known back from my days at Aucilla Christian... where they so graciously allowed me to attend regardless of all of my antics, fights, and constant pranks that kept me in the principle's office... A LOT!!!! (My dad said he sent me to private school and all I did was chew the covers off the books!)

Anyway... I go to get a box to send some munchies to Daniel. Mrs. Strickland warns me that I can't send any pork or pork by-products to Daniel if he is in an Arab country... so I waited... and that was all..... I laughed and said, "You didn't mention drugs, alcohol, pornography, child slaves, hand grenades, or rocket launchers, ... just no pork". She laughs and agrees... but that's the rule.

I went to the grocery store and bought pop-tarts, granola bars, and those powdered drink mixes... a lot of them...but made sure nothing had pork ! I figured there's a bunch of boys that may not get a box from home. Daniel will share. I've been sending a box a week, sometimes two. The lady behind the counter asked if I had a junk food craving. I told her it was for the Marines across the pond. She said "It is the Marines that keep us free".

Now, I am the most adamant supporter of freedom of religion. And.... I know in this day and time we are forced to never offend anyone. (Push 1 for English, can't wear a Confederate flag, can't pray at the football game.... but you can put a picture of Jesus in the urinal and call it "art.") But no one... and I mean NO ONE, will ever tell me I cannot pray when and where I want. That's what wars are fought over; and I'll be the first one to start a war when they say I can't pray. (Under the Patriot Act that means I can be arrested and held without bond or Constitutional rights.) Do you remember the story a couple of years ago about the older gentleman that was fired for telling people "God bless you" or "Have a blessed day?" He was just a senior citizen still working when so many healthy people today will not, and refuse to. Incidentally... he happened to be black... do the math ... I'm sure he grew up in an America prior to civil rights where he did not benefit from retirement plans, 401K's, etc.... so he's still working. He also grew up in an America where grandma and a permission switch taught you the fear of God... but then he gets fired for very nicely saying "God bless you." And this happened in the United States!!!

reductio ad absurdum

But if the Marines are over there fighting to give those people freedom, American boys dying, American boys bleeding their American blood into the worthless desert sand, why can't my boy eat some beanie-weanies??? That boy grew up on homemade sausage! Several months ago I was appalled when I was talking to a teenage daughter of my then girl-friend, only to find no one had ever taught her in school why the pilgrims ever came to America. In the war for our independence most ever man, woman, and child held a gun.... we won... actually twice! (1812) But now we send our boys across the pond to fight in a country where they have been fighting for two thousand years, but we must fight for their freedom. Please don't misrepresent these words as my disagreement with us being there... I'd rather fight them there than here...

So my second son, Forest, says "Why don't we send Daniel some Spam.... then when he's in a fight with those people he can pop the top and throw a "Spam-grenade". So I realize that's the same idea I had fifteen years ago.... Tell those people "the fighting will stop today! If it does not we will take the same C-130's we used in Viet Nam to spray agent orange and we will spray pig lard all over your country. It will be in your dirt, in your water, on your playgrounds...but the fighting stops today!!!"

The war will be over and our kids can come home. If you have a loved one across the pond, maybe the child of your neighbor or friend... send them a letter and tell them we appreciate what they are doing. I'll give you Daniel's address... I've already told him to pass out the goodies. Those sailors on the Navy boat would appreciate some love from home too. My brother was there several times and he said Crystal Light and cookies were worth their weight in gold. I asked Daniel on the satellite phone...(where you only get every other syllable)... what did the boys most want. He said "granola bars". Give 'em some love.

Supermarket Strategies Can Save Money

With the cost of food on the rise, saving money at the grocery store might seem impossible. Yet, there are steps you can take to reduce the amount of money you spend at the grocery store. Groceries are a flexible expense, which mean you can trim and cut back on the amount you spend. Extension Nutrition Specialists advise planning before you make a trip can save money at the grocery store.

A proven strategy that is the biggest savings tool is to make a grocery list. This may sound like a no brainer, but most people just run into the store after a working day, tired, and begin to fill their carts. If you keep a running list handy to add items throughout the week and remember to take it with you. Before you leave home check your pantry and freezer to make sure don't purchase items you already have on hand. Stick to your list, but do stay flexible if you encounter a sale. Everything looks good on an empty stomach, so eat before you grocery shop. By the way, leave the kids at home; their wants are great as they walk down the aisle.

Make a habit of using the food you buy. Pay attention to food you end up tossing, food that ends up in the garbage is wasted money. You may need to buy less and cook fewer servings. Plan meals to use leftovers from previous days, or freeze the food for a meal the following week. I like to call this strategy "planned overs." Oh, and don't throw away ripe bananas, they freeze well and can be used in pancakes, banana bread or smoothies.

Look at the weekly grocery ads and plan your meals with the sale items. Plan to cook a main dish or meat one evening and then add different side dishes another day to offer variety in your meals. Eating at home will keep you from eating out which can be a major expense.

One great way to save on food cost is to pack your lunch each day. Consider taking left-over food from the night before. Keep peanut butter on hand and you can always make a sandwich from food in the pantry.

Compare prices of different brands, generic or store brands may be a better bargain. The appearance may not be as bright or appealing to the eye, but a can of tomatoes that go into a chili dish or casserole will be thoroughly mixed in and you won't notice a difference when the meal is served.

Coupons can save you money, but only if you normally use the product. Don't spend extra money purchasing food just because you have a coupon. Use coupons for foods you normally eat. Check websites of the products you use, there are often coupons to print.

For more ideas on meal planning and saving money, contact the Madison County Extension Service.

Good morning, folks! So far it's a lovely day but probably not for long. A few clouds keep interfering with the bright sunshine. I don't believe anyone can say we haven't had enough rain this summer.

About two weeks ago several tubs of water were dumped on my tin roof quite suddenly in the middle of the night and lightening kept the outside as bright as if an electrical show was on display - and it was! Then it rained hard until near noon when the sun seemed to appear brighter than it ever had and asked, "Why were you so worried, I'm still here-just took a short rest!" Yesterday, though, the rain fell drearily, as if it were tired, and it made me feel the same way-I don't like that feeling! But my birds were cheerful and were very happy as usual when I threw them a little breakfast. They don't exactly take the place of the chickens I once had but are less trouble. I lost my right to keep chickens when I moved away for a year-that had

A Few Clouds Keep Interfering With Sunshine

I had a flock of White Rock chickens in a pen and lots of colorful Bantams which had the run of the place. Since they flew like birds and even roosted in trees, I couldn't pen them. Once one of the hens made a nest in the top of a tall cedar tree and when the little ones hatched, I was afraid they would fall out so found someone to climb up and get them. I need not have worried for one fell and it didn't get hurt at all.

I had to remove my White Rock rooster from the pen-he was too heavy and didn't want to cut his spurs so turned him loose in the yard. Rocky became a great pet. He knew where he was supposed to roost but would wait at my front door to be picked up and carried. And he would lay his head on my chest. Then when I let him out in the morning, if I was in a hurry and didn't pay him some attention to him, he would get mad and try to attack me from behind! Animals are smarter than most people think they are.

Vicki and I had a long weekend of company and fun. Mona and Charlie brought Pat up before he goes in the hospital tomorrow to have more work done on his leg - doctors believe the steel rod and extra bone they put in a couple of years ago may have let the leg heal enough to work on its own so the-yare going to remove it and, if possible, replace the knee at the same time.

Also, Pat's daughter, Tina Martin, husband Tom, and two children came from Barney, Ga. and spent a long and very nice evening with us. Tina is another granddaughter who couldn't make it for my birthday-they are all doing well, thankfully.

And now, I'll bid you all a fond farewell and, before it rains, sit on the deck and talk to my pretty birds and squirrels! They are good company as are Smokey and Callie, the cats.

Have a wonderful week-I'll be thinking of y'all.

Three Arrested For Grand Theft Auto

Deputy Keith Kirkland examines the contents of the stolen car at 239-mile marker Wednesday night, Sept. 2.

By Jacob Bemby
Greene Publishing, Inc.

A stolen car was recovered on Tuesday, Sept. 1, at the 246-mile marker on Interstate 10.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol, a 1993 Ford four-door was traveling west on I-10 when the driver of the car lost control of the vehicle. The car traveled onto the north shoulder of I-10, striking a tree and overturning on its roof.

The vehicle was stolen and none of the three men in the vehicle would admit to being the driver.

Arrested was John R. Destefano, 43, whose address was unknown, Jeffery Clinton Smith, 38, who was listed as homeless and Steven M. Clafin, 46, who was listed as homeless.

Clafin was taken to Madison County Memorial Hospital with serious injuries. Destefano and Smith were not hurt.

well today he's running first team because our first team tackler is hurt, you know, and might not get him back. He might start the Miami game, I'm not sure," Coach Bowden said. "But he'll be a back up at worst."

The main key that will unlock the door for McDaniel will be his condition. "Jacobbi hasn't missed a day of practice yet," Bowden stated. The team completed their final scrimmage of the pre-season on Saturday, August 29, and immediately began preparing for the season opener against Miami.

"I hope he can stay healthy."

Coach Bowden is thrilled about the potential of Chris Thompson as well, who is a freshmen running back for the team. When asking Coach Bowden about Thompson's current conditions, here's what he had to say: "Now Chris came in, and was looking real good and sprained his ankle. That made him miss about three weeks of practice, probably two weeks of practice. He's still got a slight limp and whether he will play or not, I don't know. Of course a lot will be based on how he feels."

"Chris has had to put up with an ankle sprain for the last three weeks, but he keeps still trying to practice," Bowden stated.

When this reporter asked Coach Bowden if there was anything that stood out about McDaniel, he was quick to point out the equivalency of the talent between McDaniel and Thompson.

"Well, nothing more that has also gotten the attention of Chris Thompson, they're both good athletes, they're both what we thought they were and we feel like they're great additions to our program."

Coach Bowden is well aware of the talent that Madison County produces. McDaniel and Thompson have brought much excitement to the Seminoles and are looking to shine in '09. "But I'll tell you, both of them are great additions to the Florida State team. We wouldn't swap them for anybody," Bowden added.

Flu

Ordinary, seasonal flu hits older people the hardest, but not swine flu. Scientists think older people may have some immunity from exposure years earlier to viruses similar to swine flu.

3. Wash your hands often and long.

Like seasonal flu, swine flu spreads through the coughs and sneezes of people who are sick. Emphasize to children that they should wash with soap and water long enough to finish singing the alphabet song, "Now I know my ABC's..." Also use alcohol-based hand sanitizers.

4. Get the kids vaccinated.

These groups should be first in line for swine flu shots, especially if vaccine supplies are limited — people 6 months to 24 years old, pregnant women, health care workers.

Also a priority: Parents and caregivers of infants, people with those high-risk medical conditions previously noted.

5. Get your shots early.

Millions of swine flu shots should be available by October. If you are in one of the priority groups, try to get your shot as early as possible. Check with your doctor or local or state health department about where to do this. Many children should be able to get vaccinated at school. Permission forms will be sent home in advance.

transporting currency. A separate K-9 search of the black bag containing the currency was conducted by K-9 Officer Maurice using K-9 LEO that resulted in a positive alert for an illegal substance.

The occupants were receipted for the currency and the currency was seized and pending forfeiture.

6. Immunity takes awhile.

Even those first in line for shots won't have immunity until around Thanksgiving. That's because it's likely to take two shots, given three weeks apart, to provide protection. And it takes a week or two after the last shot for the vaccine to take full effect. The regular seasonal flu shot should be widely available in September. People over 50 are urged to be among the first to get that shot.

7. Vaccines are being tested.

Health officials presume the swine flu vaccine is safe and effective, but they're testing it to make sure. The federal government has begun studies in eight cities across the country to assess its effectiveness and figure out the best dose. Vaccine makers are doing their own tests as well.

8. Help! Surrounded by swine flu.

If an outbreak of swine flu hits your area before you're vaccinated, be extra cautious. Stay away from public gathering places like malls, sports events and churches. Try to keep your distance from people in general. Keep washing those hands and keep your hands away from your eyes, nose and mouth.

9. What if you get sick?

If you have other health problems or are pregnant and develop flu-like symptoms, call your doctor right away. You may be prescribed Tamiflu or Relenza. These drugs can reduce the severity of swine flu if taken right after symptoms start. If you develop breathing problems (rapid breathing for kids), pain in your chest, constant vomiting or a fever that keeps rising, go to an emergency room. Most people, though, should just stay home and rest. Cough into your elbow or shoulder. Stay home for at least 24 hours after your fever breaks. Fluids and pain relievers like Tylenol can help with body aches and fever. Always check with a doctor before giving children any medicines. Adult cold and flu remedies are not for them.

10. No swine flu from barbecue.

You can't catch swine flu from pork — or poultry either (even though it recently turned up in turkeys in Chile). Swine flu is not spread by handling meat, whether it's raw or cooked.

As noted, Swine Flu shots have not yet been distributed. However, the other general flu shot will be available in a few weeks and parents are asked to sign the permission form when it is sent home. Parents will be notified of any updates regarding the H1N1 shot and other actions as soon as the information is available. For additional questions, please contact the district office at (850) 973-5022.

After completing the faulty equipment enforcement, a complete search of the vehicle discovered an approximately two-and-one-half (2.5) pounds of marijuana vacuum packed and sealed in zip-lock plastic bags and a pill bottle containing a generic form of oxycontin pills.

Obituaries

P. L. (Leo) Baggett

P. L. (Leo) Baggett was born June 2, 1936, son of Malcom (Mack) and Rubye Baggett. He passed on August 31, 2009. He grew up in the St. Andrew area of Panama City and attended St. Andrew Elementary and Jinks Junior High Schools, graduating in 1954 from Bay County High School. An outstanding athlete in high school, Leo earned a football scholarship to Florida State University, where he lettered on the 1954 - 1957 Seminole teams, playing in the Sun Bowl against UTEP, in the first-ever FSU - Florida game, and in the Bluegrass Bowl against Louisville. Leo graduated from FSU but remained close to teammates, coaches, and classmates throughout his life.

Leo and Frances (Frandy) Dugan of Madison, were wed in 1958. Married for over 50 years, Leo and Frandy had three children, Russ, Sarah, and Anne. Following graduation, Leo went to work for Lorillard, Inc., and retired from that company as a regional manager in 1992. During his tenure with Lorillard, Leo lived in many places, including Louisville, Ky.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Tampa. Everywhere he went Leo made lasting friendships and influenced lives because he genuinely cared about people. That concern showed in all he said and did.

In 1992 Leo and Frandy returned to the Panama City area and built a home in Lynn Haven, where he soon became active in Republican politics, the FSU Booster Club and his church. Retirement brought Leo time to participate in other interests as well. He helped his loved ones refurbish their homes, developed his wood-working skills, raised black angus cattle, fished, especially with his cousin and friend Russell Underwood, and ardently followed the activities of his grandchildren.

A firm believer in the idea that adults have a shared responsibility for the welfare of all community children, Leo was a surrogate father and mentor to many young people. He was a coach with peewee football associations wherever he went and worked in Scouting. Always a devoted father, Leo became a loving grandfather to Kendall, Paul, and Hite Hubbuch; Katie and Bryant Cole; step grandfather to Josh and Jennifer Clark, and step great-grandfather to her sons Shane and Phoenix.

Leo was predeceased by his parents, Mack and Rubye; by his older brother, Malcom Jr., by his younger brother Greg, and his brother-in-law, Tony Atwell.

He leaves to cherish his memory wife, Frandy of Lynn Haven; son, Russ of St. Andrew; daughter, Sarah and her husband Skip Hubbuch of Columbus, Ga.; daughter, Anne and her husband Chuck Cole of Fort Myers; sister, Patsy and her husband Mike McPhail of Jacksonville; sister, Charlotte and her husband Richard Smith of St. Louis, MO, and Panama City; sister, Maxine Atwell of Panama City; sister, Angela and her husband Joe Tucker of Panama City; six grandchildren; two great grandsons; and many aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

Pall bearers will be nephews Paul Atwell of Panama City; Greg, David, and Mack Baggett of Ocean Springs, MS; Michael McPhail of Apex, N.C.; Craig Rainey and Joseph and Matthew Tucker of Panama City. Visitation is Thursday night, September 3, at Southerland Family Funeral Home in Panama City from 6-8 p.m. The funeral service will be held at Messiah Lutheran Church, with the Reverend Bishop Ed Benoway of Tampa officiating, on Friday at 10 a.m.

Interment will be at Oak Ridge Cemetery in Madison at 4 p.m. In the spirit of Leo's lifestyle, come join us in a celebration of his life in a casual, comfortable fashion. No ties! No one can choose the manner of his passing; one can only choose the way he lives his life. Leo Baggett was a good man. His choices insure that his absence will leave a hole as big as his heart in the lives of those many people he touched during his time on Earth.

Expressions of Sympathy may be expressed or viewed at www.southerland-family.com.

In Memory of Lillie B. Joseph

1906-2006

Mom, not a day goes by that we don't miss you. Little did we know that day that God would call your name. In life we loved you dearly, and in death we do the same. It broke our hearts to lose you; no you did not go alone. A part of us went with you the day God called you home. We could shed tears that you are gone; instead we smile because you lived. You left us peaceful memories that we'll cherish always. Your love is still our guide, and though we cannot see you, we know you are always by our side.

Your children,

The Lion King

By Michael Curtis
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Few organizations have more of a charitable impact worldwide than Lions Club International. Since Melvin Jones founded the organization almost 100 years ago, it has been dedicated to serving communities and nations with tireless dedication.

In 1974, following 30 years of service in the United States Navy, Retired Commander John Errickson, an aviation maintenance officer, brought his work ethic and community service commitment to the Lions, resulting in a beneficial union that would ultimately yield him an Ambassador of Goodwill Award – the highest honor that can be bestowed to a Lion and presented directly from the Lions International President. Only 40 are awarded worldwide among millions of members. He also has 11 Melvin Jones Fellowship Awards for his exemplary service to the club.

In 1979-80, as the District Governor of the San Diego and Imperial County Lions (District 4-L6) Errickson provided oversight and support to over 60 clubs, representing approximately 1700 members. Originally a member of the Westmoreland Club – relocating to the area after his distinguished military service to be near the fishing – he later moved his membership to Alpine, Calif. and then Santee, Calif., where he remained until July 2009 when he moved to Lee to be near his daughter and granddaughter following the passing of his spouse.

During a recent August meeting, President Lee FerDon of the Madison Lions Club had the immense pleasure of welcoming Errickson and his grandson Jay Lee to their weekly luncheon held each Tuesday at Shelby's Restaurant.

"John Errickson's incredible accomplishments in Lions are rare and exceptional. We are privileged to have him and his family with us. He is an example for all to follow," FerDon noted.

In separate business, on Sunday, September 13, from 8 a.m. until noon, the Madison Lions will be joining Lee United Methodist Church and Fellowship Baptist Church to sponsor a blood drive in recognition of longstanding Lion Bobby Williams, who has been ill. The group cherishes its friend and member, particularly missing his hu-

55 Plus Starts Seventh Season Of Outreach To Seniors

Six years ago, the United Methodist Cooperative Ministries, which is an outreach of the eight United Methodist churches in Madison County, started a program for seniors. It is a free luncheon meeting the second Wednesday of the months September through June, with a program geared to the interests or needs of seniors.

The program for the September meeting will be given by Fran Pybus from the Center for Elder Care. Pybus specializes in aging resources, and she will explain what services are available to seniors in Madison County, and how we can get these services. Pybus will explain what you can have and cannot have financially to go in the nursing home and be covered under Medicaid. She will explain how and under what conditions Medicare patients can enter nursing homes. This is a very important program for seniors.

The September meeting will be on Wednesday September 9, at noon, at the United Methodist Community Center, which is located about five miles north of Madison on Hwy. 145 at the corner of Hwy. 145 and Dill Street. The host for September is Lee United Methodist Church.

All persons 55 years old and older in Madison are invited and no reservations are necessary. There are no fees of any kind.

For more information about this meeting or information about any outreach of the United Methodist Cooperative Ministries call the coordinator, Linda Gaston, at 850-929-4938.

Grandparent's Day To Be Celebrated On September 13

By Bryant Thigpen
Greene Publishing, Inc.

According to grandparents-day.com, National Grandparents Day proclamation was signed by former President Jimmy Carter and is designated to honor grandparents around the world. The first grandparents day took place on Sunday, September 9, and is designated to take place the Sunday following Labor Day.

"As we seek to strengthen the enduring values of the family, it is appropriate that we honor our grandparents," stated President Jimmy Carter in the opening paragraph of the proclamation.

He goes on to say, "Grandparents are our continuing tie to the near-past, to the events and beliefs and experiences that so strongly affect our lives and the world around us. Whether they are our own or surrogate grandparents who fill some of the gaps in our mobile society, our senior generation also provides our society a link to our national heritage and traditions."

Every Thanksgiving and Christmas, this reporter looks forward to the gathering of the family at the grandparents house. It is there that irreplaceable memories are made. People often go back in their minds to the fond times at grandma's house.

Take the time on September 13 to honor or remember grandparents.

Turn Back Time

Madison County's Very First Newspaper

From the files of The Madison Enterprise-Recorder

Turn back the clock to 1855. That was when print journalism began in Madison County.

A story written in the Sept. 5, 1969 edition of The Madison Enterprise-Recorder by Billy Williams tells about the first newspaper in the county:

"The Town and County of Madison had grown large enough by 1855 to encourage the establishment of the first newspaper. In March 1855, E.F. Fields and T.B. Barefoot began printing The Madison Messenger. Fields and Barefoot were described at the time as 'practical printers and young gentlemen of promise.'

"The new paper was to be neutral in politics and could be subscribed to at a cost of two dollars per year. The Tallahassee Floridian and Journal proclaimed that 'Madison County possesses a good deal of wealth, and a thrifty, enterprising population, who will no doubt take pride in giving to the new enterprise a liberal support.'

"In November of 1855, Fields became the sole owner of The Messenger when he purchased Barefoot's share of the paper. In May 1856, Fields and The Messenger abandoned their hitherto neutral political policy by announcing support of the Democratic Party. This move undoubtedly was prompted by the worsening of relations between the North and the South. The pro-Democrat Floridian and Journal hailed Fields' action by announcing:

"The Madison Messenger, which has heretofore conducted itself with sprightliness and ability, has laid aside its mantle of neutrality, and steps upon the political arena as one of the champions of Democracy. We welcome the advent of our new coadjutor in the good cause, and wish it full success in every possible meaning of the term.'

"In December 1857, Fields sold The Messenger to W.L. Perry, who pledged that the paper would remain Democratic in politics. Fields left Madison and moved to Monticello, where he founded a paper called The Family Friend. W.L. Perry, who replaced Fields as editor of The Messenger, was an adamant supporter of Southern rights. During the period of the crucial election of 1860, Perry published in Madison a campaign paper called The States Rights Advocate. It was during the editorship of Perry that the name of the paper was changed to the Madison Southern Messenger; and the motto, 'Be Just, and Fear Not' adopted."

"Celebrate Jesus, Celebrate. He is risen, He is risen."

God's glory is shown throughout the world. Every rain drop and every ray of sun are a blessing to all of the world. His is the power, the kingdom, and the glory forever.

Sunday morning was a beautiful day in the Lords sight. Services began with Debbie Bass singing "I Can't Feel At Home In This World Anymore." This was followed by Doug Finney saying the offertory prayer. This Sunday Madison First Baptist recognized the taking of the Lords Supper. The scriptures that Pastor Ferrell preached are from Hebrews 9. He spoke that Christ died without sin so that He could break the power of sin. He took our place in Heaven and through Him we can find our eternal home.

The following events will be happening for Madison First Baptist in the coming months: There will be an AWANA workers night at 6:00 p.m. September 2. There will also be a SAM trip to St. Marks Lighthouse on September 2. The bus will be leaving at 9:15 a.m. To reserve your seat call Judy Phillips (973-6555). There will be an Associational Sunday School Training Saturday September 19th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Also September 19th at 7:00 p.m. there will be a time of prayer for revival. We will be having a Fall revival and at this meeting we will share prayer for its success.

We would like to invite you to join us for our services! Our worship schedule is as follows: Sunday school 10:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m. Sunday Morning Worship 11:00a.m.-12:00noon. Sunday Evening Worship 6:00 p.m.-7:00 p.m. followed by youth dinner and fellowship until 8:00 p.m. Wednesday evening services begin at 6:00 p.m. for both the adults and youth and lasts until 8:00 p.m.

We would like to pray this week for our winter and fall sports teams, that the Lord will keep them safe and on His path. We would also like to pray for those who have began school and pray that this is a blessed year for everyone.

God Bless!

By Pastor Doyle Glass
I. Being Good Citizens

1. We are not only members of a society here on this earth, but we are members of the kingdom of God also.

2. We have social obligations to the kingdom of God as well as our earthly communities.

a. Our obedience to God requires us to act in a responsible manner as citizens of our country.

(Mark 12: 13-17) States that we should Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's

One of our obligations is paying taxes

We, as Christians, should support our government just like everyone else.

(Rom. 13-1-7) Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is not power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

II. Correcting Social Injustices

1. We need to recognize the equal worth of all men in the sight of God.

(Acts 10:34) Then Peter opened his mouth and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons.

a. This should make us want to improve the life of those who are;

Neglected, hungry, underprivileged, homeless, victims of prejudice, persecution, and oppression.

(Matt. 22:39) And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

b. In all our dealings we must be sensitive to human needs.

We must guard against racial and economic discrimination.

Every person should have the freedom to worship and participate in the church regardless of race, color, sex, social class, or nationality.

(Luke 10: 30-37) Tells the story of the good Samaritan. This is the way we should treat our fellow man.

III. Protecting the sanctity of life.

1. Genesis chapter 1, teaches us that God alone can give life, therefore;

a. We are responsible to God to care for our physical like and that of others.

(John 15:13) Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

b. Since God alone can give life, God alone should decide when to end it.

c. We believe we have responsibility to protect the life of the unborn.

(Jer. 1:5) Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee

a prophet unto the nations

d. It is our firm conviction that abortion, euthanasia of the aged, mentally incompetent, terminally ill and other handicapped, for reason of personal convenience, social adjustment of economic advantage, are morally wrong.

2. We believe it is our Christian responsibility to care for the earth.

(Gen. 1:26) And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing upon the earth.

A Brief History of Labor Day in the USA

Labor Day in the United States was born amidst a country in political turmoil. The first Labor Day parade was sponsored by the Central Labor Union in New York City on Tuesday, Sept. 5 1882. It included as many as ten thousand working people. After the celebration, many other states began to recognize the holiday.

In 1894, President Cleveland made Labor Day a holiday for federal workers. Thus, the labor movement created Labor Day and the ensuing celebration of the social and economic achievements by American workers. To show the public the strength and spirit of the trade and labor organizations in the community, unions planned the holiday to include a street parade and a festival for the recreation and amusement of the workers and their families.

Mortgage Rates Falling

According to a recent report from the Wall Street Journal, "Mortgage rates fell last week to 5.15 percent from 5.24 percent the week before, moving closer to the record lows seen earlier this year. Still, mortgage activity was off last week by about three percent from the previous week, according to the Mortgage Bankers Association's weekly survey of mortgage applications.

"Applications for new mortgage purchases increased 0.5% from the prior week. While modest, the bump represented the seventh straight weekly gain.

"The share of purchase applications for government-backed loans by the Federal Housing Administration and other agencies surpassed 40 percent in August, up from 38 percent in July and 32 percent in August 2008. That's the highest share that the MBA has measured since February 1991.

"A four-week moving average that tracks mortgage application activity is up 1.7 percent overall. Among refinancing applications, that index is up 2.1 percent, while it's up 1.2 percent for mortgage purchase applications.

"While mortgage rates have bounced around week to week, they've edged down slowly but surely from highs reached in early June."

Outta' the Woods Huntin' season's here

By Tony Young

Summer's officially over and the early mornings are finally feeling pleasant. We've finished our pre-season scouting and hung our tree stands along well-traveled deer trails, we hope next to a mature oak tree that'll begin dropping acorns soon. Finally – the time of year we've been waiting for is here – the beginning of football season, and better yet, opening day of hunting season, specifically archery.

Archery season provides a great opportunity to take a trophy whitetail and is arguably one of the best times to do so, along with hunting the rut. If you're stealthy enough and have done your homework, you've got a good chance of having a nice one walk out in front of you.

Florida's divided into three hunting zones, and you'll need to know which zone you'll be hunting in, because season dates vary.

Hunting season comes in first in the South Hunting Zone, where archery season begins Sept. 12 and ends Oct. 11. Next up is the Central Zone, which runs Sept. 26 – Oct. 25. In the Northwest Hunting Zone, archery season begins Oct. 17 and ends Nov. 15.

To hunt during archery season, you'll need a Florida hunting license and an archery permit.

If you're a Florida resident, a hunting license costs $17. Nonresidents may pay $46.50 for a 10-day license or $151.50 for 12 months. The archery permit costs $5 for in-state and out-of-staters.

Anyone planning to hunt one of Florida's many wildlife management areas (WMAs) must purchase a management area permit for $26.50.

All of these licenses and permits are available at county tax collectors' offices, retail outlets that sell hunting and fishing supplies, or by calling, toll-free, 888-HUNT-FLORIDA or clicking www.wildlifelicense.com/fl.

The most common game to take during archery season are deer and wild hog. During this period, deer of either sex are legal game, regardless of antler size (except for spotted fawns). The daily bag limit on deer is two. Bag limits on WMAs can differ, so consult the area's brochure first.

Wild hogs aren't considered game animals on private lands and – with landowner permission – can be hunted year-round with no bag or size limits. On most WMAs, there's no bag or size limits, and hogs are legal to take during any hunting season except spring turkey. On a few WMAs, limits do apply, so again, check the area brochure.

In addition to hunting big game, it's also legal to shoot gobblers and bearded turkeys during archery season. You can take only one per day, and there's a two-bird fall-season limit. It's against the law to hunt turkeys in Holmes County during this period, and you can't shoot turkeys while they're on the roost, over bait, while using dogs, when you're within 100 yards of a game-feeding station when feed is present or with the aid of recorded turkey calls.

If you're quite the marksman, gray squirrel, quail and rabbit are three other species legal to take during archery season, and there's a daily bag limit of 12 for each.

Only bows may be used during archery season – no crossbows allowed, except for hunters with a disabled crossbow permit. Bows must have a minimum draw weight of 35 pounds, and hand-held releases are permitted. For hunting deer, hog and turkey, broadheads must have at least two sharpened edges with a minimum width of 7/8 inch.

Legal shooting hours are a half-hour before sunrise to a half-hour after sunset. Except for turkeys, you're permitted to take resident game over corn or soybeans on private land. It's against the law to use such feed on WMAs.

Some things you can't do during archery season include possessing firearms, using explosive or drug-injecting arrows, using bows equipped with electronic computational or laser sights and possessing a bow on an airboat in Miami-Dade County.

You can't use dogs to hunt deer or hogs during archery season, but you can use bird dogs if quail hunting. Otherwise, the only time you can have a dog in the woods while hunting is when it's on a leash and you're using it to trail wounded game.

Here's hoping all your preparation and persistence pay off and wishing you luck on taking that monster buck. As always, have fun, hunt safely and ethically, and we'll see you in the woods!

Entrance To Mallory Swamp Temporarily Closed

Hunters and others who usually access Mallory Swamp at its east gate will have to travel a few more miles to enter the tract.

The east entrance, located on SE Bethel Walker Creek Road off of SR 349 in Lafayette County, is temporarily closed due to recent rainfall. Visitors to the property may use the main entrance on Crapps Tower Road off CR 360 south of Mayo.

Bob Heeke, senior land resource manager for Suwannee River Water Management District (District), said the east entrance is in a low-lying area and is closed periodically due to heavy rainfall.

Officials are working to get the entrance back open as soon as possible.

Mallory Swamp, a 31,321-acre tract, is owned and managed by the District. The property provides numerous recreational opportunities to the public including fishing, hiking, biking, hunting, horseback riding and ATV riding.
