

Man Dies From Auto Accident Injuries

By Jacob Bemby
Greene Publishing, Inc.

A Madison man died Monday, April 1, from injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Saturday, March 30, in Hernando County.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Alberto Gonzalez Pujada, age 52, was traveling south on Interstate 75, north of State Road 50, in the outside lane when the left rear tire of his 2004 Ford F-150 blew out.

He lost control of his vehicle, which traveled first to the inside lane, then back across the roadway and onto the shoulder.

Once on the grass shoulder, the pickup overturned several times before coming to a final rest on its left side, facing west.

Both Gonzalez Pujada and his passenger, Ana Beatriz Carrasco, age 21, also of Madison, were not wearing safety restraints and were ejected from the truck.

Carrasco was taken to Brooksville Regional Hospital where she was treated for serious injuries.

Gonzalez Pujada was taken to Bayonet Point Hospital in Hudson, where he died on April 1 from injuries in the accident.

National Study Searching for Greenville High School Classes of 1960-1963

In 1960, the classes of 1960-63 took part in Project Talent, a national study of 440,000 American teenagers across the country. This Study is reconnecting with participants ahead of a historic follow-up study.

Fifty-three years after the landmark Project Talent study was first administered, researchers are seeking the classes of 1960-63 from Greenville High School to discover what became of their lives.

In 1960, Project Talent assessed the aptitudes and abilities, hopes and expectations of 440,000 high school students from across America. The study was conducted by the American Institutes for Research (AIR) and the United States Office of Education.

"The Project Talent generation is very important in the history of this country," says Sabine Horner, Project

Talent's Director of Outreach and Communications. "They came of age during an era of great upheaval and they transformed the United States as we knew it. Project Talent is an opportunity to share their perspectives and experiences in a meaningful way that can benefit future generations."

Large studies that follow people from adolescence to retirement are both rare and extremely valuable. They allow researchers to make connections between early life experiences and later life outcomes. A new follow-up study can tell us how family and educational background impact the life course, up to and including the retirement process. Researchers can also learn why certain people stay healthier and happier and are more able to enjoy their later life.

Madison Police Department Unveils New Police Car

By Lynette Norris

With the help of a grant from the Florida Department of Transportation, the Madison Police Department has added a new traffic enforcement vehicle to its fleet.

On hand for the unveiling Wednesday morning were DOT representatives Pete Cohen and Edie Peters, who delivered the vehicle to the Madison Police Department, Jonny Handy, VP of Handy Worx of Florida, the company that customized and outfitted the car with the emergency lighting and other technological necessities, Police Chief Gary Calhoun, Sgt. Ben Ebberson and Officer Jared Dewey.

Cohen explained that when it comes to grant money, Florida is divided into three groups of counties (large counties, medium-sized counties and small counties) and of the 26 counties in the small county group, Madison ranked either number one or fairly high across a matrix of eight categories of traffic crashes, including speed-related crashes, aggressive driving-related crashes and teen-related crashes, to name some. The rankings in these categories were used to determine which county was the most deadly in terms of traffic crashes per capita and which was the least. Madison ranked fairly high in the top ten, and the DOT feels that the counties with the most deadly traffic issues to deal with need the most help as far as funds and equipment to curb dangerous and deadly behaviors behind the wheel.

Cohen also praised Chief Calhoun for his dedication to public safety, adding that Calhoun also sits on the Impaired Driving Coalition.

"He's a great partner," said Cohen. "And we're very happy to be working with him."

School Board Workshop Looks at Retirement Plans, School Facilities

By Lynette Norris
Greene Publishing, Inc.

At their first gathering after spring break, the school board members convened a workshop to hear presentations and ask questions regarding summer school, retirement plans for school employees, and the matter of building a new athletic facility versus renovation of the old building that now serves as such. The board will vote on these items at future meetings; the workshop was to look at information on each one.

Summer school classes, usually held at Madison County Central School, will have to be scheduled around maintenance work for the summer of 2013. Some classes will be held at other school facilities, while others will be held at MCCS. The work will be done in stages, in different areas of the campus, so that classes can be held in areas not undergoing maintenance at that time. The board also looked at how the costs of summer school might be affected by the change.

James Story spoke to the board about ways to encourage more educators, administrators and other school district employees to think about their retirement years. Currently, the Florida Retirement System

(FRS) pays a pension of about 1.5 percent for every year the employee worked in the district, but if the average employee retires at age 58 after 30 years in the system, best-case scenario is that his or her income would drop to about 48 percent of what it was; Social Security would do little to fill in that income gap. If the individual then lives to the average age of 85, inflation will have more than doubled the cost of living, but the pension payments would remain the same.

Story was part of a committee that looked at several financial plans offered by different

Think ABC When Managing Diabetes

Diabetes is a chronic disease that takes a combination of eating right, physical activity, controlling your weight, taking medication and checking your blood glucose. A person with diabetes can feel very stressed about the whole situation, but with a plan in motion, you can be in charge of the situation.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention suggests the ABCs of diabetes to help a person better manage diabetes. A is for the A1C test that measures blood glucose control over a period of a few months. The result is reported in a percentage, the CDC suggest you aim for an A1C below 6.5%, however, they suggest too, that you work with your doctor to have your own personal A1C goal.

B is for blood pressure below 130/80. Up to 60% of the people who have diabetes also have high blood pressure. High blood pressure can increase your risk for stroke, heart and kidney disease. The National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute recommends people follow the DASH diet plan to reduce blood pressure. It is a simple plan that works, focusing on fresh fruits, vegetables, and low-fat dairy foods.

C is for keeping your cholesterol in check. Total cholesterol should be below 200, LDL (low density lipoproteins) below 100 and HDL (high density lipoproteins) above 40. Research shows that diabetics with high cholesterol are at a greater risk for heart disease. Diets low in saturated fat and cholesterol tend to lower LDLs, while exercise and soluble fiber are associated with higher levels of HDLs. Now that we are into day light savings time, it is a good time to get out and walk each day to help raise your HDLs.

Eating a healthy diet and being physically active will help control blood glucose levels. Since April is the month spring is in full bloom, it is a great time to renew a plan for healthy living. Join us at the Extension office on April 10th at 10:00 for a diabetes workshop. Topics include meal planning, carbohydrate counting, revamping recipes for lower calorie versions, and getting physically active. To register, call 973-4138.

Remember, managing diabetes is as easy as ABC. Pay attention to your A1C, blood pressure and cholesterol. Become proactive by taking charge of your health; make better food choices and get moving. And, don't forget to attend the diabetes workshop on April 10th at the Madison County Extension office.

Fireflies And Mixed Metaphors

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16, KJV)

As daylight hours, which began at dawn, gave way to sands of time, which turned into the dust of dusk, we were young and still running with a full head of steam. Freight trains made their way through town, blowing their horns, and puffing billows of smoke, which could still be seen in the distance. The sound of the clackety clack on the tracks is one of those sounds from childhood that I can still hear as train after train make their way through my hometown still today. My friends and I rarely paid attention to the sound. It is one of those things that you grow used to if you live in a town, where the track runs west and east, without surcease.

After dusk settled down into a warm spring night, the sight of lights that seemed to fly through the air distracted my buddies and me. On closer inspection, we saw they were indeed flying through the air, emitting light. They appeared to be on fire. We would chase them and catch them. I would hold them in the palm of my hand and watch them blink on and off like taillights on a jet flying through the night sky. One of my friends shared that she used to catch them and put them in Mason and mayonnaise jars and punch holes in the lid. She would keep them in her room all night as they glowed in the dark. The next morning, she would release them so their lights would be able to shine again that evening.

It's been years since I have even seen a firefly (or a "lightning bug," as we called them). Some were easy to catch and some were more elusive than others. Both of them remind me how we, as Christians, should act.

The elusive ones are like the Christians who are instructed to resist the devil and he will flee from them. (James 4:7) The ones that are easy to catch are like the ones who were hospitable and entertained angels not realizing they were angels (Hebrews 13:2). In both cases, they continue to let their lights shine. As Christians, we should remember whom we serve and let our lights shine.

"Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid." (Matthew 5:14, KJV, Cambridge Edition) companies to help people invest some of their money toward their retirement, so that it could generate additional income for their retirement years. Most people don't think they have the expertise to do investing, so they tend to find the whole concept intimidating, either putting it off or doing nothing about it all. People not only procrastinate, they also tend to follow the path of least resistance.

Therefore, the ideal retirement plan would be one that makes it the easiest thing in the world to get it right the first time, Story told the board members.

The committee recommended TIAA CREF as the plan to go with; the company specializes in retirement planning for the education profession, having served many colleges, universities and other education establishments; it is a low-cost provider and is very customer-service oriented as well. The plan would automatically enroll all employees, but those who wished to opt out could do so, up through the first couple months of the school year, and get a refund of any money they may have paid in.

Finally, the board looked at a presentation for new athletic facilities (concession area and restrooms) for the high school, weighing the pros and cons of renovating existing facilities versus building an entirely new structure. Madison architect Will Rutherford presented a floor-plan sketch and laid out detailed side-by-side cost comparisons for renovation-versus-new; the total cost for renovation, including bringing the old structure up to code, would come to $284,000; the cost for a new building, with a larger concession area constructed with low-maintenance, longer-life materials, would come to $290,000, or only $6,000 more. A new structure would also resolve the issues of outdated wiring and congested foot-traffic flow from the current less-than-ideal layout.

The board asked Rutherford to come to the next meeting with a rendering of what the facility would look like, and then adjourned.

Conservative Corner

By Nelson, Pryor, Lee

THE FORK IN THE ROAD

Who has "the authority?" Lord North, the leader of the English Parliament, at the time of the "Boston Tea Party," told of his strategy to rein in the colonies.

"We are no longer to dispute between legislation and taxation; we are now only to consider whether or not we have any authority (over) there. It is very clear we have none, if we suffer the property of our subjects to be destroyed. WE MUST PUNISH, CONTROL, OR YIELD TO THEM." (3/14/1774, 13th Parliament, 7th session, pp. 1163-4.)

AUTHORITY
On January 14, 1836, Daniel Webster told the U.S. Senate, that he could not support our President, even if "the guns of the enemy were battering against the walls of the Capitol..." (Register of Debates, p. 161.)

That kind of talk, today, would get "Home Land Security," (I thought this was America, or, these united States, not a "homeland," like Germany) on your case.

THREE MILLION DOLLARS
It seems that the President, Andrew Jackson, wanted the Congress to appropriate three million dollars, on fortifications. We were having trouble with France, then. The bill came up, Webster opposed the expenditure, because "this indefinite voting of a vast sum of money to mere executive discretion," a blank check, was unconstitutional.

His grounds for rejection were two: first, necessity was not even suggested, and secondly, it was to be a three million dollar slush fund, as no particular object nor specific application, was suggested.

If the president spent the money, if at all, on purposes actually authorized by the Congress, triggered only by his discretion as to whether an emergency had arisen for which he had authority to act, Webster admitted he could have voted for it. Webster concluded that there were some precedents, which could "favor such a contingent provision, though the practice is dangerous, and ought not to be followed except in cases of clear necessity."

Webster then explained to the Senate that the unlimited powers asked were so open ended that the President could even declare war. That's when he declared that "if the proposition were now before us, and the guns of the enemy were battering against the walls of the Capitol, I would not agree to it." This extra ordinary grant of authority, he would not consider!

ELIJAH
The prophet (Elijah) met the King (Ahab) riding in his carriage, a lordly and pompous high-toned chivalrous gentleman, I presume. The monarch spotted the prophet as he walked along, and said, "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" The prophet turned, and pointing his finger at the crowned sinner, replied: "I have not troubled Israel, but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the lord, and thou hast followed Baalim." (1 Kings 18:17)

We, the citizens, have "the authority!" Our Constitution is our North Star. Our "leaders" are at the point Lord North was at. They must "punish, control, or yield" to us. Stay Tuned!

Relay For Life

Survivor Spotlight: Linda Gibson

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women battle cancer each year. These men and women face one of the most difficult battles that many people could imagine. Sadly, not everyone who fights cancer will win. This deadly disease takes without asking and alters lives forever. Those who survive their battle are extremely blessed and as such often hope to be a positive change in the world around them. Linda Gibson is one such person. In November 2003, during a yearly mammogram at Madison County Memorial Hospital, Gibson received the devastating news that would change her life forever. She was diagnosed with Stage I estrogen-negative breast cancer.

In order to defeat the cancer, Gibson underwent a lumpectomy. A lumpectomy is a surgical procedure where the lump (tumor) is removed. She also underwent radiation and four chemotherapy treatments as a precaution, in case the cancer had gotten into her blood.

When asked what helped her get through her diagnosis and battle, Gibson said, "God gave me His peace which truly 'passed understanding,' so I never was afraid. I also had wonderful help from my husband Roger and daughter Amy as well as help and prayers from dear friends and family. I was blessed not to have serious side-effects from the treatments; so the time wasn't an ordeal for me as it is for so many. Having been "hit" with rheumatoid arthritis exactly 2 years before really prepared me to deal with cancer; the RA was much more emotionally upsetting for me because I thought I would be painfully crippled for life, but the Lord taught me that He would be with me day by day. By the time of the cancer diagnosis, the RA was well under control and even improved when I was on chemo, one of the blessings of the time."

"I never felt that I was in a "battle" because I realized early that "The battle is the Lord's." On my way to the chemo class at the Perlman Cancer Center in Valdosta, I listened to a sermon about David and Goliath. During that I pictured myself as David, weak but determined, and the stones as the cancer treatments with God guiding them to slay the giant Cancer. That image has stayed with me to this day," Gibson explained.

Each year, the Relay for Life helps raise money for cancer awareness and research. Gibson said of the Relay for Life that is "Promotes awareness of all cancers and provides funds for cancer research in general; gives encouragement to individuals and families dealing with cancer and its effects. Helps provide needed information that aids in decision-making."

Gibson also added some words of love for those who are currently battling cancer. "Pray first; plan later!" After praying, learn all you can up to a point to help make decisions; then let God, family, and friends provide the necessary strength and support. Don't let pride (I can do it myself!) get in the way. Don't look on yourself as a victim or even as a struggler; be an overcomer. Don't 'own' the cancer. I never say "my cancer." I didn't invite it into my life, and I didn't claim it; it was the cancer. I also don't refer to what anyone else has as "your cancer."

Relay For Life: "Cancer Does Not Stop For Nighttime"

RELAY FOR LIFE is an 18-hour journey providing the light and dark of day and night to parallel the physical effects, emotions and mental state of a cancer patient while undergoing treatment.

RELAY FOR LIFE begins during the day, when the sun is shining bright and the excitement and energy is flowing through the community. The setting sun symbolizes the time when a patient is diagnosed with cancer. The day is getting darker and this represents the cancer patient's state of mind as he or she feels that life is coming to an end.

As the evening goes on it gets colder and darker, just as the emotions of the cancer patient does. Around 1 a.m. to 2 a.m. represents the time when the cancer patient starts treatment. They become exhausted, some sick, not wanting to go on, possibly wanting to give up. As a participant, you have been walking and feel much the same way. You are tired, want to sleep, maybe even want to go home, but you cannot stop or give up.

Around 4 a.m. to 5 a.m. symbolize the coming of the end of treatment for the cancer patient. Once again they are tired, but they know they will make it.

The sun rising represents the end of treatment for the cancer patient.

They see the light at the end of the tunnel and know that life will go on. The morning light brings on a new day full of life and excitement for new beginnings for the cancer patient. As a participant, you will feel the brightness of the morning and know that the end of the RELAY is close at hand.

When you leave the RELAY, think of the cancer patient leaving their last treatment. Just as you are exhausted and weak, so is that person after treatment. But a new day has arrived and we are continuing to take up the fight against cancer. REMEMBER: There is no finish line until we find a cure.

Catherine Maultsby is Madison Academy's student cancer survivor.

The faculty and staff of Madison Academy are working on BIG plans for this year's Relay for Life event! The county's theme is "Madison is Going BIG for Relay", so this team is trying to make Relay a HUGE success. They have had several successful fundraisers to support their team.

They got off to a BIG start with their annual "Dimes for a Cure" campaign. Each class began collecting dimes in the fall. They made it a classroom competition in which the students have been filling up purple water bottles with dimes. Each bottle is about $100.00 when filled to the top. Several bottles have been filled, and it will be fun to see which class raises the most for Relay.

Another successful fundraiser has been one that the faculty and staff especially enjoy. Each Thursday, they are allowed to wear jeans along with their Relay for Life Jeans Day badge if they pay $1.00 towards the Relay for Life fund. Many Madison Academy employees were happy to pay for a "school year of Thursdays" in advance to help Relay and enjoy their casual dress day. Another upcoming school wide event will be on April 19th. Students and adults will enjoy "Caps for a Cure" and wear their favorite caps for $1.00. This will be held one week prior to the Relay for Life event as a reminder of the important night approaching.

The team's captain for this year, Kim Whigham, stated, "I am thankful for our school and their willingness to support this cause. Our team is made up of 15 members, but I know that in actuality it is made up of our many students, parents, grandparents, and employees who continue to give generously from their hearts to raise money for cancer research. When presented with a challenge, the school family as a whole makes an outstanding team. Catherine Maultsby is our student cancer survivor. As we walk on the night of April 26th, we will walk in honor of Catherine and so many other friends and family members whose lives have been changed by cancer."

Bronco Block: Making Time to Make a Difference

In order to achieve the highest academic performance, class schedules must be adjusted periodically, which is why the Madison County Central School has launched a new period, Bronco Block. Designed to help students succeed and excel in FCAT testing, Bronco Block will not change the length of the school day, as five minutes was taken from each of the other seven periods to create time for the new period. The block will be conducted from 8:58 - 9:30 a.m. daily and will focus on Math and Reading.

"Bronco Block will not only increase the chances for students to pass the FCAT and End-of-Course tests, but will also improve their overall academic ability and achievement levels," Dr. Willie Miles, assistant principal explained.

Bronco Block is part of an ongoing strategy conducted by Central School Principal Willie Williams and his team of administrators and faculty in order to achieve the turnaround goals established for the 2012-13 school year, an effort immediately championed by incoming Superintendent Doug Brown.

Bronco Block will provide small group and individualized instruction on targeted weak areas as identified by individual data. Students who are on track would attend enrichment classes during Bronco Block to help them become even more successful. For more information, phone (850) 973-5192; comments and questions are encouraged.

Sheriff's Office Offers Concealed Carry Weapons Course

Submitted by Capt. Mark W. Joost

The Madison County Sheriff's Office will be facilitating its next Concealed Carry Weapons class on Saturday, April 13. The National Rifle Association (N.R.A.) First Steps Pistol course is the foundation for the sheriff's office eight-hour concealed carry class. In addition, information is provided to ensure that each student is aware of what they can expect to take place before, during and after violent confrontations and how they, as individuals, can best prepare for these dynamics. We emphasize to our students how important it is to value life and to employ less lethal options when the circumstances permit, but we want our students to be confidently prepared. The Florida standards for legally carrying a concealed firearm may not be sufficient to prepare for violent confrontations. Our goal is to fully prepare law-abiding citizens for the complex dynamics of violent confrontations while helping to preserve each of our 2nd Amendment rights. This class far exceeds the requirements to apply for the State of Florida Concealed Carry Weapons Permit for residents and non-residents. The Florida Concealed Carry Weapons permit is honored in 36 states. N.R.A. multi-discipline law enforcement firearms instructors who have military, S.W.A.T. and violent confrontation experience teach our classes. The cost for this course is $75.00. The cost for two people in a group is $65.00 each. The cost goes down for additional people in a group.

The Madison County Sheriff's Office will also be offering an Intermediate Pistol Course for citizens from 2 PM until approximately 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 6. This six-and-one-half hour course is designed to build a winning foundation for basic concealed carry weapon courses. It will also benefit anyone who desires to increase his or her knowledge, confidence and ability to prevail in a violent confrontation. There are many fine N.R.A. instructors facilitating concealed carry weapon classes locally and throughout our nation. Many of us take it serious to prepare law-abiding citizens for the dynamics of armed confrontations. I consider this a team effort with all of my fellow N.R.A. instructors. My concern remains with the brief gun show type courses. Although many of these instructors may be presenting their material in a professional manner, and may meet the state requirement within a few hours, citizens often leave these gun show type courses more confused than before they started or they are completely unaware of very important issues. Our courses are attempting to offer instruction in areas that statistics show to be extremely important. We want to assist good people in becoming aware and prepared. It is up to individuals to make the choices that are best for them. Our concealed carry weapon course helps you establish a winning foundation. This intermediate course will provide additional skills we consider a necessity to win mentally, physically and spiritually.

Some of the skills we will cover in this course include:

- Fine tuning weapon concealed carry options.
- Less lethal options.
- Accessing a firearm concealed on your person and firing.
- Clearing handgun malfunctions.
- Cover Vs. concealment.
- Firing from cover.
- Enhancing marksmanship fundamentals.

- Enhancing speed and accuracy with a firearm.
- Reloading under stress.
- Night firing with and without a flashlight.
- Basic instinctive shooting.
- Handgun retention.
- Predator proximity awareness.
- Handgun disassembly, cleaning and assembly.

As a law-abiding citizen, making the choice to arm ourselves is a right and a privilege. We owe it to ourselves and our loved ones to make the necessary preparations. Make the choice to be a victor, not a victim. We want to share with you the knowledge on how to prepare for, and win, a violent confrontation. The cost for this class is $45.00 per person and students are required to provide the ammunition they would like to use during the practical exercises. A portion of these course fees will support summer camps sponsored by the Sheriff's Office for disadvantaged youth and other free courses for the community. If you would like to register for either of these classes, or if you have any questions, please contact Captain Mark W. Joost at 850 519-0947.

The 3rd Annual Stalvey Golf Classic Raises Funds for NFCC Scholarships

Golfers from throughout the area are planning now to come together once again for the 3rd Annual Stalvey Golf Classic scheduled for Saturday, April 13, 2013 at the Madison Country Club.

The tournament, named after Rodney Stalvey, began as a tribute to the young golfer who lost his life in a tragic accident on April 7, 2010. Stalvey was a member of the first Madison High School Golf Team, and enjoyed the game tremendously. He graduated from MCHS in 2002 and later graduated from NFCC.

"Rodney loved golf, he loved hanging out with friends, and he loved having a good time," said Teresa Stalvey Bailey, Rodney's mother, who now lives in Navarre. "This event began in July 2010 when some of Rodney's closest friends got together to hold a tournament in his honor." Those friends included John Haire, Ben Jones, Zane Barfield, Jared Sullivan, Larry Olive, Brian Bibb, Garreth Smith and several others. Friends that were determined to keep Rodney Stalvey's memory alive. "The event is always a fun day, relaxed and laid back," Bailey continued.

Students wishing to apply for a Rodney Stalvey Memorial Scholarship grant can do so by contacting the counselor's office at Madison County High School. Applicants are required to have a 2.0 GPA, students majoring in Business are preferred.

The 3rd Annual Rodney Stalvey Classic Golf Tournament entry fee is just $50 and is open to all golfers. To register, simply stop by the Pro Shop at the country club, or call 850-973-6701.

Happenings

At Madison

First Baptist Church

Submitted By Judy Phillips
Guest Columnist

This past Sunday at First Baptist was very special to all of us. Many of our "wisest couples" had their families home to share Easter with them. I know the church was packed. And, being a transplant, I just won't attempt to name any "former youth" who were in town celebrating with their parents. Shelly Smith called us to worship with a solo, "What Do I Know of Holy?" Although I don't have the words, through her presentation, one determined nothing or no one is holy except God alone. Her Mother was present to enjoy it as well. Thanks, Shelly, for sharing your talent with us. The Children's Choir did a super job with their Easter presentation. All of the 'grands' were in choir robes, marched up on the stage, watched the Mrs. Marthas, and just sang their hearts out. 'Grand' is short for grandchildren. They are the 'grands' of someone in the congregation. Jake and I claim them like our own too. If you haven't heard Janet Paschal's, song 'Written in Red' you have missed a blessing. And it was a blessing for us Sunday when Lynne played it for the offertory. The worship choir sang 'Empty Now' reminding us that the manger, temple, and tomb are all 'empty now.' Laverne Ragans Deckard had a solo part. I know Mrs. Juanita was proud of her. As a part of the worship service all Believers were invited to participate in the Lord's Supper. This just seemed the most appropriate way to honor our Lord, for He is risen. HE IS RISEN INDEED!

After Easter what...? During the forty days after the resurrection until His ascension, Jesus appeared to his own followers at least ten times, to several groups of people, and individuals at other times. At His last recorded appearance and before His ascension from the Mount of Olives, Jesus spoke these words recorded in Acts 1:7-8 "And He said to them, "It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has put in His own authority. "But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses to Me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the end of the earth." Then the attending angel spoke these words, "Now when He had spoken these things, while they watched, He was taken up, and a cloud received Him out of their sight. And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel, who also said, "Men of Galilee, why do you stand gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will so come in like manner as you saw Him go into heaven." So it would seem that after Easter, Believers are to be witnesses of what the event of Easter has meant to them as we travel in Madison, Florida, the United States, even to the ends of the earth. Those early followers met the living Jesus. And they brought the good news to those who grieved. When it's Easter in our lives we are to tell someone else that He has risen. And then there is the promise of Jesus' return. Keep being His witness and watching the eastern sky for His return.

Our youth will be "going" and doing several things in the next few weeks. Both groups will be traveling to Valdosta for bowling, fellowship and fun. The older group will be going on Saturday, April 6, and the Trek group will be going after school on Friday, April 12. Youth "Disciple Now Weekend Retreat" has been planned with Unity Baptist for May 3 and 4. Be sure to contact your leaders for specifics. The Joy Choir continues to minister weekly, as does the Good News Clubs. AWANA, Youth, and the college group are back in full swing after the Spring break. Adults meet at 6:30 p.m. every Wednesday for prayer meeting and the worship choir practice follows at 7:30 p.m.

We had quite a number of visitors for worship on Easter Sunday who are locals. I know you were made to feel welcome. So, here's your personal invitation, even in the paper, to join our forever family for we are indeed "a place to belong." In a modern paraphrase of Matthew's recorded words of Jesus, "As you are going, for you will be going, make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, "teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." Amen. Matthew 28:19-20.

Irving Benson and Jessie Carter were married on October 24 in the church. So ends a friendship that began in their school days.

A bean supper will be held on Tuesday evening in the church hall. Music will follow....

At the evening service tonight, the sermon topic will be 'What Is Hell?' Come early and listen to our choir practice.

Eight new choir robes are currently needed due to the addition of several new members and to the deterioration of some older ones.

The Aucilla Christian Academy senior class traveled on their annual senior trip at the end of February. The seniors departed on Sunday, February 24 from Jacksonville and arrived by plane in Denver that night. They then took a two-hour charter bus to their final location, Keystone, Colorado.

The students spent their first day, Monday, checking out the sights at Keystone. They then spent Tuesday each taking skiing or snow boarding lessons. Some of the students had some experience at skiing or snowboarding, so they were able to ski down the mountain side, about 3.5 miles from top to bottom, by the end of the day. That evening the class went ice-skating.

Wednesday and Thursday the students were able to perfect their skiing and snowboarding skills and enjoy more time on the slopes. The students were also able to see snow showers almost every day of the trip. Brandi Hughes, ACA teacher, added, "I think the highest temperature while we were at Keystone was 18 degrees and the low was -2 degrees." On Thursday evening the students were able to go night snow tubing, skiing and snow boarding.

The students began their travel home on Friday. While taking their morning ride back to Denver, the students were able to see buffalo and mule deer. They arrived back in Florida on Friday evening, March 1.

Former ACA Alum Pilots ACA Senior Class Trip

By Lynette Norris
Greene Publishing, Inc.

When Aucilla Christian Academy's Class of 2013 left for their senior trip a few days ago, they flew on a plane piloted by a former ACA graduate (Class of 1985) Ream Stokley for the first leg of their journey.

Stokley, the son of Louis and Jeannie Stokley of Monticello, grew up in that small community; his grandparents, Bailey and Carmella "Minnie" Stokley, ran Stokley's Pecan House, a longtime fixture there. "We called her 'Minnie' because she was kind of petite," Stokley said of his grandmother. "But she was a real firecracker."

Ream Stokley has a Masters degree from the University of North Dakota in aeronautics, including space vehicle design, and says he can't remember a time when he didn't want to fly, especially in high school. After graduating he attended Huntingdon College in Montgomery Alabama, where he played on the collegiate golf team and then enrolled in the Air Force ROTC during his junior year. He served in the Air Force from 1990 until 1999, reaching the rank of major; but oddly enough, that wasn't where he learned to fly.

Part of it was the timing; 1990 was when the first Gulf War erupted, and Stokley found himself reclassified, along with about 3000 other Air Force pilot candidates. In his case, he was assigned as an officer on the crew in charge of ICBM launches and nuclear operations in North Dakota.

Flight school would not be in the cards until after he was out of the Air Force. Then, in the fall of 1999, he enrolled in San Juan College in Farmington, New Mexico. In December of 2000, just two days before Christmas, he finally received his aviation degree.

As a former graduate of Aucilla Christian Academy, he came full circle as he flew 24 ACA seniors and their chaperones from Jacksonville to Atlanta, where he then walked them to the gate where they would board their next flight out to Colorado. While they waited for their plane, he had a chance to chat with them for a few minutes.

"I think most of them were looking forward to seeing snow for the first time," he said. Many of them, having grown up in Florida, have never seen snow. Stokley has a lot of fond memories of ACA, where he played for the football, basketball, and golf teams. Some of his favorite memories, he says, are of the good times he shared with his friends and classmates.

"It was a small school in a small community," he said. He cherished those good times with his friends and now cherishes the memories in this small world where he has now flown a few children of some of his old classmates on their senior trip.

Someday, the class of 2013 will look back on their own memories of times shared with friends and classmates, and the senior trip will undoubtedly be a highlight.
