Ali Samaha, a lifelong Florida State Seminole fan, showed a lot of love for children in need when she donated many of her favorite stuffed animals, which she calls "stuffed loviess," to the Madison Police Department.

A little girl with a generous heart, donated many of her favorite stuffed animals to the Madison Police Department to help other little children in need.

Ali Samaha is the 10-year-old daughter of Deanna Samaha, who works at Nestle Waters and lives in Tallahassee. Last year, Deanna set aside some of her favorite toys and passed them on to Ben Mabry, who is on the MPD reserve, and also works at Nestle.

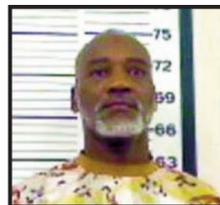

"Ali is 10 and just a sweet girl, always thinking of others," her mother said. "Her favorite toys have been stuffed animals, or as she calls them, stuffed loviess."

Deanna Samaha told her daughter about Mabry, whom she knew worked with the MPD and knew that, from time to time, he may encounter tough situations that children were either directly or indirectly impacted by. She shared with Ali how Mabry would give the stuffed animals to children to help them get through that tough moment in their life.

It's National Caregivers Month

Diann Douglas
Guest Columnist

November is a month full of family celebrations and National Caregivers Month is one to honor. Today in the U.S. over 65 million people are caring for family members in some capacity and account for about 29 percent of the population. According to the National Alliance for Caregiving, these people spend an average of 20 hours each week providing care for a family member.

We all know someone who cares for a family member; it may be a co-worker or a neighbor. This person may have sole responsibility of a family member 100 percent of the time or may have an arrangement to check in daily, run errands and see that the loved one gets to doctor's appointments. They often go through their week working at a full time job and taking care of their own households with the added responsibility of caring for a loved one. Most people quietly do this with love in their heart and wouldn't have it any other way, but it is taxing on an individual's time and money.

Surveys show the average caregiver is helping a parent, but some may care for a spouse, special needs child or grandchildren. The NAC reports over 60 percent of caregivers are middle aged women caring for an older parent who lives in a different household. Most have children under 18 years of age, living at home and many have grandchildren too. This means most caregivers are part of the sandwich generation, caring for both young and old family members at the same time.

In addition to consuming a person's time, caring for a loved one can impact the finances of a family. A 2008 survey conducted by AARP revealed the average family caregiver spent $5,531 out of pocket for caregiving expenses which translates into more than 10 percent of the median income families' finances.

The National Family Caregivers suggest there are many things we can do to honor family caregivers in our community. If you know someone in the role of a family caregiver, take time this month to recognize that person and let them know how much you admire and respect their efforts. It is often kind words and acknowledgment that make a difference in a person's life.

If you want to do something special and are at a loss of what to do, the National Family Caregivers Association has great ideas for helping caregivers in our community. Here are a few suggestions:

- Offer a few hours of respite time to a family caregiver so she can spend time with friends or have time to relax.
- Send a card of appreciation or flowers to the caregiver recognizing the effort.
- Help a family caregiver decorate their home for the holidays.
- Prepare a Thanksgiving dinner for the caregiver's family so they don't have to spend time cooking a big meal, or better yet, invite them to your home.
- Help a family caregiver find information and resources available to assist.

Family caregiving can be a stressful experience. A person having the responsibility of caring for a family member in addition to their normal daily routine needs a break from the full time responsibilities. If you know someone in a care giving situation, make it a point this month to give them special recognition.

For more information of family matters, contact the Madison County Extension Service.

I Need To Find A Tree

Jacob Bembry
Columnist

Where I work, there is no down time. The only time I feel the freedom to breathe is on my lunch break, or when I go home at the end of the day. Many times, though, I leave the stress of work behind to be confronted with new stress at home.

The other night, I posted a status update about my exhaustion on Facebook and a friend told me what I needed and I think he is right: "I need a tree."

My friend, who is a minister, reminded me of I Kings 19, when Elijah had faced down the prophets of Baal at Mt. Carmel. After such an amazing victory through God, Elijah was discouraged because of threats on his life by Jezebel. He ran and ended up sitting under a tree in Beersheba, tired and discouraged, but that tree is where Elijah was fed by the angels and God showed him how many believers there were in his land.

I need a tree to run to, so I can get a renewing of my mind and a recharging of my spirit. I need to spend time alone with just God and me. I need to find that tree.

I realize that, alone, I can do nothing, but through Christ, I can conquer and vanquish discouragement, fear of the unknown and hold my head up high for what tomorrow may bring.

When I am alone in my bedroom in the quiet hours of the morning, reading my Bible, I feel that I have found that tree, and I am reminded once again to keep walking, keep breathing and keep expecting miracles.

Letter To The Editor

No one likes to think about death and dying, but it's something everyone has to face eventually. There's an incredible resource in our community that provides comfort, dignity and respect to all those coping with a serious or life-limiting illness. It's Big Bend Hospice.

November is National Hospice Palliative Care Month, a time to reach out to our community to raise awareness about the compassionate care that hospice and palliative care provide to patients and their families.

One of the most important messages to help people understand is that hospice care and palliative care helps patients and families focus on living.

The Big Bend Hospice team of Madison County provides expert medical care to keep patients comfortable and able to enjoy time with loved ones. The hospice team answers questions, offers advice on what to expect, and helps families with the duties of being a caregiver. The team also provides emotional and spiritual support for the entire family.

Hospice Medicare and Medicaid cover 100% of the cost of the approved treatments and services related to the terminal illness. Hospice is covered by most insurance plans and HMOs. Thanks to community support, no one is ever refused Big Bend Hospice services because of inability to pay. Hospice care is provided in the home, nursing homes, assisted living facilities and long term care centers.

Hospice care is available to people of all ages, with any illness. Hospice professionals and trained volunteers will ask you what's important and listen to what you say. They make your wishes a priority.

If you or a loved one is facing a serious or life-limiting illness, the time to find out more about hospice and palliative care is right now.

The Ku Klux Klan And Pointing Fingers

It was once shown to me that when pointing fingers in accusation, there are three times as many pointing back at the person doing the accusing. Our Florida congressman of doubtful character, Alan Grayson, recently dramatically pointed a finger at the Tea Party. These people are American patriots, concerned with the out-of-control federal budget and the expansion and intrusiveness of the government, and they are called "bigots," "terrorists," "anarchists," and the list goes on. Grayson has compared this peaceful group of Tea Party patriots to the Ku Klux Klan. Even the far left MSNBC host, Martin Bashir, clashed with the finger pointing politician on this subject. Lloyd Marcus, of the Tea Party Express, calls himself "proud, unhyphenated American" and is one of the American patriot activists, whose skin happens to be very dark. My question - has anyone ever witnessed hangings, burnings, threats, physical abuse, etc. by Tea Party groups?

Okay, Mr. finger pointing Democrat, let's look at some history regarding political parties. According to David Barton's Wallbuilders Report, Black History Issue 2003, "The Democratic Party had become the dominant political party in America in the 1820s, and in May 1854, in response to the strong pro-slavery positions of the Democrats, several antislavery Members of Congress formed an anti-slavery party - the Republican Party. It was founded upon the principles of equality originally set forth in the governing documents of the Republic. In an 1865 publication documenting the history of black voting rights, Philadelphia attorney John Hancock confirmed that the Declaration of Independence set forth equal rights to all. It contains not a word nor a clause regarding color. Nor is there any provision of the kind to be found in the Constitution of the United States."

The KKK was founded in 1866 as a Tennessee social club which then spread into most Southern states and launched a "reign of terror," inflicting horrific acts of terror by DEMOCRATS on black and white Republicans. If you visit the website: <http://www.national-blackrepublicans.com/>, you will find reference to a book, "A Short History of Reconstruction," (Harper & Row Publishers, Inc., 1990) written by a liberal historian and professor, Dr. Eric Foner. It seems that one entry in this book reveals an extensive "reign of terror" in a Florida panhandle county in which more than 150 people were killed including black leaders, merchants dealing fairly with black customers and those with Republican views. In Mississippi the president of a republican club, known to speak his mind, had his throat cut and was mutilated in front of his wife who was a new mother.

It was the Republican Party that fought for the end of slavery and the first black members of Congress were all Republicans. The original Republican platform in 1856 had only nine planks - six of which were dedicated to ending slavery and securing equal rights for African-Americans. The Democratic platform of that year took an opposite position and defended slavery.

According to Wallbuilders, John Alden's 1885 book, "A brief History of the Republican Party" notes that the KKK's early attacks were on Republicans as much as blacks who were threatened with death if they voted republican.

people face end-of-life issues, wasn't so much about dying as it was about living; not only did BBH provide compassionate palliative care to improve the patient's quality of life at the end, it also addressed the issues faced by those left behind, with grief counseling and other needed services.

Sheriff Ben Stewart joined Brantley briefly at the podium, praising BBH for its service to Madison and adding that he appreciated the presence of BBH and the service they provided grieving families. Unattended deaths require the involvement of the Sheriff's office, but with BBH, that takes care of the situation.

"It takes us out of play," said Stewart, "at a time when grieving families don't need the added stress (of sheriff department involvement)."

Court Clerk Tim Sanders, who read the resolution into the record on behalf of Big Bend Hospice, added that he had been honored to serve on the organization's Board of Directors for the last several years. "And I would like to thank them for everything they do."

"This brought her to tears," Deanna said. "She was so overwhelmed knowing that a child like her could benefit from her stuffed lovies at a very difficult time."

When Ali decided to do her annual room cleaning, she immediately put aside the stuffed animals and asked Deanna to give them to "Mr. Ben" at work.

"She actually gave each, one last hug and said to take care of the next child that held them," Deanna said.

It should come as no surprise that Toy Story is one of Ali's favorite movies. Her mom said, "I can only guess that the themes in this movie provided the interest in help others through the love of a toy."

MPD Chief Gary Calhoun, who was awed by Ali's donations, sent her the following letter:

"Dear Ali,

"I want to thank you for your kind and generous gift to the children of our area. The stuffed animals you gave will be kept in our police cars and here at the station to be given to children we find in need of comfort. As I'm sure you know, we come across many situations where children are upset or hurting. Because of your gift, we will be able to comfort these scared and sad children by giving them a stuffed animal to hold and to love.

Additional certifications were earned in the ServSafe Certified Food Protection Manager. The three students earning the certification did so under the tutelage of Robin Smith in the MCHS Family and Consumer Science Department. The certification allows students to work in food preparation and managerial positions within the food service industry.

A student in Ed Sapp's Agritechnology

Superintendent Doug Brown praised the students, the instructors, and Stalnaker. "The CTE program is a showpiece for our school system. The 98% pass rate is indicative of the dedication and commitment to quality education by all involved."

report to the gym by 8 a.m. to be dressed. No one will be late for first period. The list of Rats will be provided by Tuesday of Homecoming week. The seniors purchase their Rats (underclassmen) and then dress them up in a variety of weird and creative ways. It's not unusual to see football players dressed as cheerleaders or models, or cheerleaders dressed as football players. It'll be a day of abnormalities, fictional characters, and the like.

Those not pegged as "Rats" will be dressed properly due to their individual class themes.

It will be a normal activity schedule for periods first through third, from 8:29 a.m. until 11 a.m. From 11 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. will be lunch for grades 6-12.

From 1:35 p.m. until 2:25 p.m. will be the Scavenger Hunt in the gym. With the Scavenger Hunt, which serves as a constant of hoots and howls of laughter and fun, it is the norm to always expect the unexpected. Students stuff their backpacks with household and school items, everything to golf tees, to business cards, to newspapers, to old tests and report cards, foreign money and cooking utensils, a hub cap, even garden hoses, a pink slip with Mr. Harvin's signature on it, pet supplies, auto accessories, sports apparel, school supplies, sports equipment, jewelry, toys and board games, electronic devices, kitchen ware, stuffed animals, baby stuff, hunting and fishing supplies, and the like. No one ever knows what kind of items will be asked for.

p.m. The football players have trained the girls, so the game will prove to be exciting, to say the least.

Voting amongst their peers will determine who is crowned king and queen.

The awaited Homecoming game is set for 7 p.m., Friday, November 9, against Temple Christian. Wear your blue and gold, and cheer the Warriors on the victory!

Grace Presbyterian Fall Bible Conference

Submitted

On Nov. 9-13, Grace Presbyterian Church will again hold our Fall Bible Conference with Dr. Gordon Reed leading the services. Dr. Reed began this Conference in 1991 and has faithfully come each year since to bring us inspiring and enlightening messages from God's Word. Sunday services will be held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Weekday evening services will be at 7 p.m. in the Sanctuary, Monday through Wednesday. Following the Sunday morning service, there will be a covered dish lunch. On Wednesday evening, join us for a covered dish supper in the Fellowship Hall before the service at 6 p.m.

To "kick off" the Conference, the women of the church will gather on Saturday, Nov. 9 at 11 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall. After a time of fellowship, we will be privileged to listen to and learn from Miriam Reed as she once again brings us a devotional message.

Dr. Gordon K. Reed was raised in western North Carolina and attended Columbia Seminary in Atlanta. After marrying Miriam Clark and graduating, he began what would become decades of pastoral ministry in many churches, large and small. In between, he has served in several positions within the Presbyterian Church in America and as a seminary professor for Reformed Theological Seminary. He has also written several books. But Gordon's heart has remained in bringing God's word to God's people.

Gordon is now involved in Reasonable Hope Ministry at www.reasonablehope.com, which provides audio and text files of his sermons in sincere hope that they will give you a clearer understanding of God and His will in your life. They are neither ivory-tower dissertations nor flights of dramatic oratory. They are simple, direct explanations of the truth of God's word. Jesus said that the truth would set us free. Come and listen to God's truth.

The public is warmly invited to attend any and all services of the Fall Bible Conference. Please come and be blessed by the messages and the fellowship. The church is located at 1200 N. Washington (Hwy 53 North).

Self-Proclaimed Satanist

"Cooks Bible"

In Oklahoma City, 22-year-old Jarnell Anderson was arrested for first-degree arson after police responded to a report of a "person going ballistic." At Anderson's apartment, they found him on his front porch, covered in blood and screaming "random phrases." Anderson began throwing glass and furniture out the door and windows while his apartment was quickly filling with smoke from a fire he had lit prior to police coming to his home. The officers first attempt to take Anderson failed, as he was unaffected and pulled out the probes. With a second tazer attempt, officers were finally able to subdue Anderson and he was taken to the hospital. While there, Anderson said he lit the fire for "cooking the Bible" because he was a "Satanist." He also stated he encountered a "possessed homosexual demon" who performed acts on him and asked him for drugs. Anderson said he knew he needed to be on medication and that he would have shot and killed his neighbors and the police if he had been in possession of a gun. More charges for Anderson could be on the way.

"Living Wallet" Flees, Screams To Keep You From Spending

In Tokyo, Japan, a company, Ziam, developed a "Living Wallet" that was created to help curb overspending. The wallet is controlled by a smartphone app and when the user of the wallet puts it in "safe mode," it causes the wallet to flee on wheels when the owner reaches for it. It also says, "don't touch me" and, if caught, yells, "Help me!" The wallet will then send an email to the owner's mother, warning her of the impending spending. The app can also keep track of spending to help the user discover unnecessary shopping and impulse purchases and has a "consume mode" for times it's okay to spend money. This mode prompts the wallet to play Beethoven's "Symphony No. 9, 4th Movement" instead of fleeing or calling for help.

Woman Fakes Kidnapping To Extort Money From Hubby

The Bush Wealth Advantage

Our column, "The Bush Wealth Advantage" is our way of giving back to the community with all sorts of insights, relevant news, and practical wealth planning strategies.

CATCH-UP CONTRIBUTIONS

Stacy Bush, President
Bush Wealth Management

Only 17% of individuals 55 and over say they are "very confident" they will have enough money to live comfortably throughout their retirement years. Worse, only 9% of those between ages 45 and 54 are very confident.

Congress in 2001 passed a law that can help older workers make up for lost time. But few may understand how this generous offer can add up over time.

The "catch-up" provision allow workers who over age 50 to make contributions to their qualified retirement plans in excess of the limits imposed on younger workers.

HOW IT WORKS

Contributions to a traditional 401(k) plan are limited to $17,500 in 2013. Those who are over age 50—or who reach age 50 before the end of the year—may be eligible to set aside up to $23,000 in 2013.

Setting aside an extra $5,500 each year into a tax-deferred retirement account has the potential to make a big difference in the eventual balance of the account. And, by extension, in the eventual income the account may generate. (See accompanying illustration.)

CATCH-UP CONTRIBUTIONS AND THE BOTTOM LINE

This chart traces the hypothetical balances of two 401(k) plans. The blue line traces a 401(k) account into which the maximum regular annual contributions are made each year, but no catch-up contributions. The green line traces a 401(k) account into which the maximum regular and full catch-up contributions are made each year.

Upon reaching retirement at age 67, both accounts begin making payments of $4,000 a month.

The hypothetical account without catch-up contributions will be exhausted by the time its beneficiary reaches age 83.

Days Of Doing Needs Volunteers To Help Feed Hungry Families

By Rose Klein
Greene Publishing, Inc.

In an effort to assist hungry families throughout Madison County, America's Second Harvest, Consolidated Christian Ministries and United Way of the Big Bend are teaming up to do a food distribution as "Help for Hunger, Day of Doing" in Madison. The program was created to promote the spirit and value of volunteerism, increase the awareness of local human-service agencies and demonstrate what people working together for the community's good can accomplish.

United Way of the Big Bend (UWBB) is looking for a minimum of 10 volunteers to help distribute food at Consolidated Christian Ministries (CCM) on Monday, November 4. There will be two different shifts available: 9:15 a.m. - noon or noon-2:30 p.m., with morning shift volunteers especially needed. Volunteering for the Days of Doing program will provide an opportunity for local residents to volunteer and to provide food for those in need within the community.

Consolidated Christian Ministries is located in Madison at 799 SW Pinckney Street, Unit C. The distribution of food will take place from 10 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. (or until the food is gone.) This food distribution is for anyone in Madison County in need of food, regardless of prior registration with CCM.

For those needing food on an ongoing basis, CCM has a food distribution twice monthly and anyone who wants to receive this assistance should visit CCM on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays between the hours of 9 a.m. - noon.

To volunteer or for more information, you can contact Megan Picht at UWBB at megan@uwbb.org or call her at (850) 488-8342.

Humane Society Pet Show A Pawsitively Good Time

By Rose Klein
Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Suwannee Valley Humane Society put on its 28th annual Pet Show this month at the Suwannee Coliseum in Live Oak and it was a howling success. The show is the shelter's largest fundraiser for the year and is designed to raise money for the shelter. All proceeds go directly to the shelter and will benefit the animals by buying food, medicine and other essentials needed for their care. There were several Madison County business sponsors along with Suwannee Valley sponsors that generously donated time, money and some really great door prizes for the many raffle drawings held.

The event started with contest registration at 10 a.m. and finished up about 2:30 p.m., running through the lunch hour, but no one had to worry about going hungry. The shelter staff provided plenty to eat, serving up hot dogs, chili, chips and soda at very reasonable prices, with bottles of water given out for free. There was also bags stuffed full of homemade goodies, for both man and beast, that were made by the staff and sold for only 50 cents per bag.

The main draw of the event, the contests, had pets and owners competing against each other for ribbons and pride, with the grand prize being a trophy for Best in Show. Both cats and dogs competed in categories such as Best Costume, Pet/Owner Look-a-Like, Longest/Shortest Tail and Best Trick. There were a total of 31 contests for owners and pets to show their stuff and, most importantly, a chance to have fun.

Humane Society Director, Barbara Fink, called the fundraiser a "success" and said many thanks were in order for all the participants, the many sponsors and volunteers who gave so much to help the show run smoothly.

The Suwannee Valley Humane Society, along with their thrift stores, are located at 1156 SE Bisbee Loop and is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., or by appointment. You can also visit their website at www.suwanneevalley-humane.org to see their wish list of items needed for the shelter, upcoming events and pets available for adoption. Their phone number is (850) 971-9904 or call toll free at (866) 236-7812.

Cats made up a smaller portion of the show, but contestants and their felines were still enthusiastic competitors. Standing, left to right, is Logan Woods and Zazy (Best in Show for cats and Cutest Pair), Brenda Futch and Sammy, Vicki Waldren and Meezie and Judy Hingson and Diesel.

Free Golf Outing For Business Leaders Includes Life Saving Message

Submitted

You've probably heard the expression "There's no such thing as a free lunch." We'll put that myth to rest with not only a free lunch, but a complimentary round of golf! Business owners, business managers and business decision makers are invited to the event on Friday, November 8, at the Madison Country Club.

The Inaugural Great American Smokeout Golf Fun Day is being hosted by Tobacco Free Florida and the Madison Tobacco Free Partnership. The Tobacco Free Madison partnership is a stand-alone organization for community mobilization and policy change to eliminate tobacco use in Madison County. "This is one of those extraordinary occasions where it is a win-win for everyone involved," said Ted Ensminger, chairperson for the Madison Tobacco Free Partnership. "We all need to remember that many of our friends and neighbors continue to be in a life or death struggle fighting their dependency on all types of tobacco products. What many people do not realize is that free help is available, through cessation services which include complimentary patches, gum and professional counseling assistance," Ensminger continued. "The purpose of this event is to get the message to business leaders that free help is available for them and their employees."

Madison Country Club has made the commitment to become Tobacco Free from Nov. 8 through Nov. 23 as part of the Great American Smokeout. Patrons will be asked to do the best they can to refrain from any kind of tobacco use while on the Country Club property. The parking lot and the club house will be Tobacco Free areas.

Studies show that just 20 minutes after quitting tobacco use, your heart rate and blood pressure levels begin to drop. In just 12 hours, the carbon monoxide level in your blood drops to normal. After quitting for one year, the excess risk of heart disease is half that of a smoker's.

In five years your risk of cancer of the mouth, throat, esophagus and bladder is half that of a non-smoker. And after 15 years of being tobacco free, the risk of coronary heart disease is that of a non-smoker's.

If you would like more information about the free services and products that are available, simply go online to www.tobaccofreeflorida.com or contact Betsy Rykard at the Florida Department of Health in Madison at (850) 973-5000 ext. 118.

To register for the free round of golf and complimentary lunch, simply stop by the pro shop at Madison Country Club or call the club at 850-973-6701. All you need to register is your name, your phone number, your handicap (if available) and the name of your business. The free golf outing is only for business owners, business managers and those who make business decisions.

Calico Holiday Arts And Crafts Show Coming In November

Submitted

As fall approaches, you can feel the excitement building. On Nov. 9 and 10, the much anticipated Calico Holiday Arts and Crafts Show will once again take place in Moultrie, GA. This outstanding festival features over 300 booths of arts & crafts! Whether you are looking for new decor items for the holidays or you are ready to start (or finish!) your Christmas shopping, you are sure to find something to suit your style and budget!

The rich diversity of our Southern heritage abounds in the crafts of returning favorites and re-invents itself in exclusive new offerings from our region. Imagine surprising that special someone with a gift of Mother Nature. Peggy Gilmore designs mirrors and frames of art from nature's bounty... a way to celebrate nature and recycle, as well. All materials are organic: various tree barks, lichens, mosses, ferns, leaves and reeds. The natural bark provides an earthy contrast to the smooth glass. The process to completion includes...hunt & gather, sort & cut, design & layout, trim & set, assemble & clamp, and finally, detail & finish. With the cooler temperatures of autumn it is a great time to get outside and clean the spent flowers from your gardens and flower beds. There is not a better time to add a wrought iron accent. Adding one of these metal garden products from Men of Iron will give your landscape a focal point during the dormant winter season. Old fences, candle holders and other pieces of old metal are hand welded into welcome signs and yard art. Their custom collectibles combine both form and function in a beautiful link to our past. This is just a sampling of the one-of-a-kind crafts that will be offered at this year's holiday show.

Here is your chance to get all your holiday shopping done in short order! Not only will you support the local economy, find exclusive gifts for everyone on your list, save time and money, but you will have fun doing it! Make it a family affair as there is something here for everyone. Crafters from across the Southeast will be on hand to display the finest in decorating and gift giving for the upcoming holiday season. Browse through a huge selection of holiday decorations and trees, appliqued and embellished clothing, decorative painting, photography, prints, personalized Christmas ornaments, handcrafted jewelry, dolls, children's toys, fabric decor, scented candles, lotions & soaps, and much, much more! Sample and purchase delicious pre-packaged foods including gourmet dips and drink mixes, jellies and jams, maple syrup products, homebaked goods, roasted almonds and nuts, candies, fudge and much, much more! A variety of entertainment for both the young and young-at-heart will include visits with Santa and clogging performers from across the Southeast. Each visitor will have a chance to win a handcrafted European styled accessory donated by Men of Iron.

Site of the show is Spence Field, home of the Sunbelt Ag Expo, located 4 miles southeast of U.S. Hwy 319 on Highway 133 in Moultrie, Georgia. Gates open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday and 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is $5.00 per adult; children 12 and under are free with an adult. Sorry - no pets allowed. For more information, call 229-985-1968 or e-mail: info@calicocrafts.com. ## MCCS Gifted Class Connects Students And Community With School Happenings

By Rose Klein
Greene Publishing, Inc.

It's not often that one newspaper gets to do a story on another newspaper, but that's exactly what this reporter gets to do. The Bronco Times is an online newspaper that is created and published by Megan Dickey's first period class, made up of 6th, 7th and 8th grade gifted students. They post the newspaper on the MCCS website at the first of every month and it includes all facets of school life, as seen by the students.

The September/October issue includes a short history lesson on Labor Day, sports updates, a story on the first week of school from a 6th grader's perspective and then those of several teachers, a highlight of the Dean of Students, clubs, upcoming school events, a story on bullying and fun inserts such as horoscopes and joke of the month. The newspaper does a great job of keeping students apprised of events and club dates while also introducing them to faculty and story subjects to read and think about. The newspaper addresses the Madison community by posting The Times on their website so that parents, friends or anyone else can connect to the school through the publication.

Other media work the class works on is The Bronco Report. Every morning, the class does a morning show for the entire school where they give school announcements and one student gives a mini-lesson to the elementary students on a fruit or vegetable that will be served in the school's cafeteria that day. The students do all the announcing and run all the equipment for the show.

If you would like to see the work of these talented students, go to the school website at http://portal.madison.k12.fl.us:8088/M\_K-8/index.html.

ACA Golfers Compete At Regional Tournament

Submitted by ACA

Aucilla Christian Academy golfers Timothy Finlayson and Megan Schofill competed in the regional golf tournament at Pensacola's A.C. Read Golf Course at the Naval Air Station on Oct. 22. Finlayson scored 88 on the 18-hole course, while Schofill scored 97.

"Megan was one stroke away from advancing to the playoff for the state tournament," said Coach David Jackson. "Both Timothy and Megan played steady, and we all were real pleased with their scores."

The golfers competed among 54 boys and 45 girls in the tournament. The lowest score of the day for the boys was 69.

"It was quite an accomplishment for our players to reach regionals," said Athletic Director Kevin Smith.

"Coach Jackson has done an excellent job working with them. We look forward to another successful golf season next year."

Happenings

At Madison
First Baptist Church

Submitted By Judy Phillips
Guest Columnist

The Trunk or Treat was truly a great success! We had "Veggie Tales," "Fall in Love with Jesus," "Jesus is a Lifesaver," "Woman at the Well," "Moses in the Bulrushes," "Jonah and the Whale," A candy store called "Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus," and even "In the Beginning....the Garden of Eden" ~ just to name a few. All the children seemed to have a great time, as did the adults who helped to make this a successful event

It was good to have Bro. Jim and Beth back in worship today. During our praise time we sang "10,000 Reasons" and "There is None Like You." The hymns for the day included "Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus" and "Tell the Good News." Luke 10:20, "Nevertheless do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rather rejoice because your names are written in heaven," is the scriptural basis for the choir special, "A New Name Written Down in Glory." It was beautifully done. The children were dismissed to children's church. We are ever so grateful for the volunteers who lead this group week after week.

Bro. Gabe's sermon, "Love Your Enemies" was from Matthew 5:43-48, "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you, that you may be sons of your Father in heaven; for He makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. 'For if you love those who love you, what reward have you? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? 'And if you greet your brethren only, what do you do more than others? Do not even the tax collectors do so? 'Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.'" The first part of verse 3 is part of the Levitical Law but not the second part. And then Jesus says, "But I say to you." There are four actions we should take toward our enemies. Love them, bless them, do good for them, and pray for them. Bro. Gabe referred us to James 2:14-18. It seems that we are to actively love, bless, do good and pray. Action is always required when showing love. Obedience without transformation is legalism. And why are we doing this? Verse 45 tells us, "that you may be sons of your Father in heaven." God is good to all people, just and unjust. Jesus said if we only love those who love us then we are no different than the tax collectors who were the most hated folks of His day, yet they "loved the people." Once again we need to take note that Jesus/God is our standard as plainly put in verse 48, "Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect." Our standard is a holy God. After the spoken word was given, we participated in the ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

The Future Farmers of America (FFA) has a history that dates back to 1928, when a group of farmers founded the organization. Their goal was to prepare future generations for the challenges of feeding a growing population. These future-minded individuals joined agriculture with education and taught students that agriculture is more than just planting and harvesting, but a career that includes science, business and art as well. In FFA, students learn about the science, business and technology of plant and animal production and are challenged to real-life, hands-on tests of skills that will prepare them for more than 300 careers in the agricultural industry. This is accomplished through classroom and lab instruction, work-based learning programs and membership in leadership organizations.

Madison County High School has a strong FFA chapter, under the leadership of Agricultural Teacher, Ed Sapp. Agri-Science and Agri-Technology are taught on campus to 9th through 12th grade students, on the expansive 45 acres behind the school. The school farm, also called a land lab, is home for cows, hogs and a catfish pond. Some of the crops grown in the agriculture program can be seen when you drive past the front of the school. Perennial peanut hay is baled and lines the front entrance and wraps around to the side of the main drive that leads to the back of the school. Other crops grown are Bermuda hay and corn. The business aspect of agriculture is cultivated in the students when livestock and crops are sold and proceeds are channeled back into the school to fund the program.

Ed Sapp wears more than a farmer's cap as an MCHS teacher: He ignites interest in the middle school students by spending the last two periods of the school day at the Central School, prepping them for the high school program. He oversees the students whose future careers will be in agriculture in the high school's On the Job Training program (OJT) and Sapp instills leadership in his students by participating in the National FFA Conventions.

Today there are currently about 580,000 FFA members in the United States with more than 23 million jobs in some facet of agriculture, making it the nation's largest employer. Analysts forecast the world's population will grow to nine billion people by 2050. To fight hunger and prepare for the population explosion, the agriculture industry will need educated, skilled and passionate people dedicated to addressing this future development. Today's students, taught by Ed Sapp, will be the advocates for tomorrow's agricultural solutions.

Farm City Week Planned For Nov. 22-28

Each year during the week before Thanksgiving agricultural producers join with urban residents to celebrate their mutual relationships. Farm-City Week, a national observance, also emphasizes the importance of domestic agricultural production for our quality of life as well as the availability of a safe, abundant domestic food supply.

Farmers and ranchers rely on essential partnerships with urban communities to supply, sell and deliver finished products across the country and around the world. Above all, consumer purchases sus-tain farm enterprise.

This year Farm-City Week is scheduled to extend from Nov. 22 through Nov. 28. Members of Madison County Farm Bureaus and other volunteers throughout Florida will mark the occasion by holding public meal functions, sponsoring farm tours and conducting other activities that help educate non-farmers about contemporary agriculture.

Agricultural producers contribute more than food, fiber and renewable fuels. Good management of farm properties provides green space, maintains wildlife habitat, preserves freshwater recharge areas and controls invasive species. According to virtually all studies of property tax revenues and public services, rural dwellers help subsidize police and fire protection for urban residents. City residents receive far more than a dollar's worth of public services for every dollar they pay in property tax; rural residents received far less than a dollar's worth of services for every dollar they pay.

"Florida farmers and ranchers work hard to produce more than 280 commodities," said John Hoblick, president of Florida Farm Bureau Federation. "They know that it takes many other partnerships to bring food to the family table. We celebrate the success of those partnerships during Farm-City Week. We also appreciate the efforts of so many volunteers around the state in planning and organizing Farm-City Week events."

According to researchers at the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, agriculture and related sectors generate an economic impact of $133 billion annually. This sector also employs more than 1.6 million workers in our state. Without question agriculture is a cornerstone of our material security.

Farm-City Week offers a way of reminding both agricultural producers and consumers that we depend upon each other for the stability of our way of life. It also gives all of us an opportunity to thank someone who helps make the bounty of our food supply possible.

For the past three years, Madison County Farm Bureau sponsors a 4th Grade Essay Contest and the title of the Essay is "Why is Agriculture Important to America?" All Madison fourth graders were invited to participate. We will honor the top four winners at the Farm City Week Dinner which will be held at the Madison County Ext Office on Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

Florida Farm Bureau is the Sunshine State's largest general agricultural organization with more than 140,000 member-families representing Farm Bureaus in 60 counties. Membership provides a multitude of benefits and you don't have to be a farmer to be a member of Florida Farm Bureau.

To find out more information on becoming a member...Call Madison Farm Bureau at 973-4071.
