For The Old, Bold Pilots

Former Royal Air Force Pilots Visit Clewiston

BY JUAN LOPEZ
The Clewiston News

There is a poem by the British poet Laurence Binyon entitled "For the Fallen." It was written in remembrance of those who had fallen in war. This reporter would remember the power and significance of this poem as cadets of the No.5 British Flying Training School met for what will probably be the last time. When they visited last time in 2003, they said it would be their last but they pulled together for one last hurrah as they visited the cemetery in Arcadia where the graves of fellow R.A.F pilots who died training at Riddle Field, now Airglades Field, are located. They spent the rest of their visit here in Clewiston and stayed at the Clewiston. Mrs. Gene Leeks, a widow of one of the cadets who passed last year, remarked,

"My husband used to tell me about the Clewiston Inn. There was not a lot here when he trained at Riddle Field. There was the Sugar building, the Inn and an ice cream shop. My husband wasn't allowed to go into the Inn because he wasn't an officer."

One of the cadets who trained at Riddle Field and laid the wreath at the Cadet Memorial in Civic Park on Monday, was Wing Commander Brian Spragg, Ret. He flew 163 missions in over Europe during WWII in the Typhoon fighter/bomber; a powerful propeller driven aircraft. He then served alongside the United States Air Force during the Korean War where he flew 50 missions in the F-86 Sabre; the first true American jet fighter. Being proud of his 33 year career, his love of flying has never diminished eventhough his flying time now is limited to simple travel due to his age.

"The Sabre was a beautiful aircraft and it wasn't that difficult to adjust to jet aircraft," he shared. "There were two occasion were I had to crash land during WWII. On one occasion there wasn't a good area so I came into a group of trees and when I came to a stop, all that was left was the nose and my cockpit. The rest of the fuselage had been completely sheared of. I walked away with just a cut lip and a stiff neck."

A jovial group, the jokes and stories flowed from the cadets as they had coffee and cookies after the presentation at the Clewiston Museum that Monday night. The cadets poured over photographs of themselves and their classmates. One cadets, Peter Heiles, who's career spans over 20 years and experience with 29 different types of aircraft, was laughing as he related some stories concerning the photos.

"It was strange but most of these photographs were taken when there when the wind was up,"

Infant Mortality Awareness Day

You probably noticed the pinwheels covering the lawn at the Hendry County Courthouse. To honor babies that have died, 1,000-plus pinwheels were placed in a "memorial garden" during a ceremony that was held on Thursday, September 23rd. The Hendry County Board of County Commissioners issued a proclamation recognizing September 23rd, 2010 as Infant Mortality Awareness Day. Patrick Comer, veteran newscaster and member of the Workforce Development Board, was the master of ceremonies.

Kyra Oliver, from the Hayes Foundation, discussed the topic of SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome). Cathy Cortez, Executive Director of Healthy Start Coalition of Southwest Florida read the proclamation and presented information about infant mortality and about the Healthy Start program. LaSheba Travis, Program Manager for the Hendry County Health Department was also one of the guest speakers at the event. The Healthy Start Coalition of Southwest Florida's statement is: "Saving Babies' Lives through Preventive Care."

They continually strive to reduce the number of infant deaths, and the number of premature or low birth weight babies, throughout southwest Florida.

Healthy Start is a not-for-profit agency serving Hendry, Glades, Lee and Collier Counties since 1992. They help 17,000-plus at-risk pregnant women and babies each year. Their goals are to prevent infant deaths and premature babies, and promote health and developmental outcomes for children up to age three. The infant mortality rate in Southwest Florida has decreased by 55% since the program began (1992-2008). In 2008, in Southwest Florida, 155 babies were born still born, or died before their first birthday, and 921 babies were born too small or prematurely placing them at-risk for future health and developmental problems. The leading cause of fetal and infant deaths is the health of the mother before she gets pregnant.

"For every $1 spent on preventing an unhealthy birth, $6 is saved in neonatal intensive care costs, recurrent hospital and medical expenses paid by Medicaid, exceptional and remedial education, child abuse and neglect investigations, disability and dependency costs."

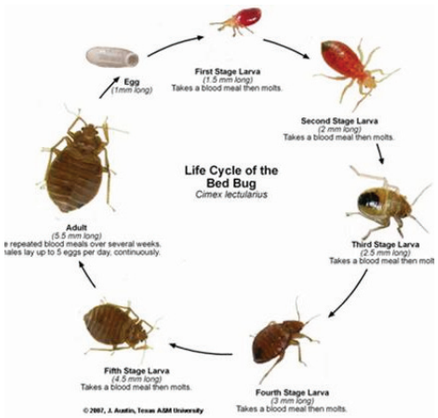
Do Be Aware, Bed Bugs Are Out There!

BY PAT DOBBINS

Bed bugs are making a comeback! Bedbugs feed on the blood of sleeping humans and animals and can live several months without eating. Research on bedbugs is limited, but they are not known to spread any disease. The problems arise from allergic reactions to the bites, or wound infections from people scratching the bite areas.

The living space for bedbugs is not specific to beds. They can live in the cracks and trims on the walls and floors, along baseboards, in dressers and drawers, in furniture, curtains, clothing seams, books, and in picture frames.

Bedbugs have nothing to do with cleanliness, although you should "de-clutter" your home so that there would be fewer places for the bedbugs to hide. Bedbugs are excellent "hitch hikers." They crawl into personal items such as purses, hand bags, brief cases, luggage, stuffed toys, travel pillows or they can even crawl into the flap of your shoe or hang out in the overhead storage areas on planes until they find their next ride! Some people think that hotels are the biggest risk for bedbugs, but reports of infestations have included libraries, offices, theaters and retail stores.



The initial bite of a bedbug is usually painless and it usually leaves a red swollen area similar to a mosquito bite. The bites are usually located on the face, neck, arms and hands. If you suspect that your home has bedbugs, inspect your sleeping area thoroughly, lifting up the mattresses and checking around the framework. They can leave dark specs (bug excrement) and you can sometimes see small bloody smears on your sheets and pillows. They also shed (leave behind) layers of skins/shells. They are usually active at night and they are large enough to be seen.

Extermination seems to be the only way to get rid of these creepy pests for sure. There is no quick-fix and many experts say there is no "miracle" pesticide. It usually takes at least two treatments to get rid of them in your home. The best thing is prevention. If you travel, check the hotel bed areas thoroughly. Once you've arrived home, put clothes, hats, blankies, stuffed animals, etc. in the washer and dryer in case any bedbugs are trying to "hitch a ride" into your home. Be careful of any items that you purchase at yard sales and second-hand stores. Make sure you inspect the items thoroughly!

Other studies suggest that dry cleaning, freezing temperatures, and high heat (washing in 120-degree water, steaming infected areas and drying on high, 120 degrees for extended periods) can kill the bugs.

There have been some infestations in Florida, but these have been mainly in areas with high volumes of out-of-state travelers. Some studies suggest that places that do not require year-round air-conditioning seem to be more susceptible to bedbugs, but please stay on the lookout for these creepy pests!

James C. 'Jimmy' Sims, 82

BELLE GLADE — James C. "Jimmy" Sims, age 82, of Belle Glade, went to be with the Lord on Sept. 16, 2010, with his family by his side. As he slipped away from us, his wife "Martha" of 50 years took him by his hand to dance their first dance in heaven.

Jimmy was born June 9, 1928 in Uriah, Ala., to Bishop and Eula Sims (Smith). He graduated from Jackson High School in Miami, Fla., in 1948. He went on to broadcasting school. He played guitar and sang bass in the late 40's and 50's for a few bands. In 1951, the Frank Kleins Band, he played with in San Antonio, Texas, made appearances on the KEYL-TV show. Rainfall Delays U.S. Sugar's Annual Sugarcane Harvest

2010 - 2011 New Season Starts On Saturday

JUDY SANCHEZ
U.S. Sugar

With its Clewiston Refinery on pace for another record-breaking year, the company's first ever September start of harvest has been delayed due to wet fields courtesy of Tropical Storm Nicole. U.S. Sugar began its 2010-11 sugarcane harvest at dawn Saturday -- three days after the scheduled Sept. 29 start. The Clewiston Sugar Factory began processing the first railcars of cane Saturday as well. Both the harvesting and processing operations operate 24/7 during the sugarcane harvest season that runs through April.

"Tropical Storm Nicole dampened our plans for an historic September start, but we are anticipating a good crop, one slightly larger than last year's cane crop," said Judy Sanchez, director of corporate communications.

"Luckily, the sun is shining and the fields are drying and we'll be able to start harvesting and processing cane early Saturday to feed the Refinery."

Sanchez said that two hard freeze events knocked most of the crop back to the ground in late January, but the warm, wet summer conditions helped. Growing conditions for the past two seasons have been remarkably alike -- hard freeze events in the winter followed by excellent growing conditions over the summer. U.S. Sugar expects to harvest approximately 6.2 million tons of sugarcane.

The Clewiston Refinery is projecting another record-breaking year, anticipated to produce 14 million cwt of refined sugar for the first time in company history.

U.S. Sugar's 2009-10 sugarcane crop produced just under 6.2 million tons of cane, yielding over 670,000 tons of raw sugar. To support the Refinery's record breaking pace, U.S. Sugar imported 46,000 tons of foreign raw sugar for refining – enabling the Clewiston Refinery to set numerous production records with 13.86 million cwt of refined sugar.

In addition to sugar production, the 2009-10 crop produced over 36 million gallons of molasses and produced, consumed and/or sold 212,276 MWhr of electric power. Both molasses and energy are annual co-products of the cane milling process.

"Our company's energy production from sugarcane replaces 69 million gallons of fuel oil/1.63 million barrels of fossil fuels each year, Sanchez said. "We produce enough clean, green renewable energy to power the equivalent of nearly 20,000 households for a year."

All of the company's refined sugar products are marketed by United Sugars Corporation, a marketing cooperative that includes U.S. Sugar and beet sugar farmers and processors American Crystal Sugar and Minn-Dak Farmers Cooperative.

In its fourth year of modernized, automated and consolidated operations, U.S. Sugar's state-of-the-art sugar milling and refining operations make its Clewiston Sugar Factory the world's largest fully integrated and automated cane sugar processing facility.

LAST WEEKEND, I SEALED MY MANUFACTURED HOME AND STOPPED MY WALLET FROM LEAKING.

I had no idea how much of my money was leaking out of my manufactured home. Until I saw it for myself. After a few things like caulk, insulation and skirting, now my manufactured home is a lot more comfortable. About $585 per year more comfortable. What can you do? Tigers and Blue-Devils Continue their Losing Streak

BY JUSTIN DIAZ
Special to INI

Glades Central Still 5-0, Clewiston 0-5

Night and day, hot and cold, Raiders and Tigers: what do they all have in common? They're all complete opposites.

Last Friday's game was a perfect example of why both teams have gone in the directions they have this year. While Glades Central has seemingly flown through every game they've played this season, the Tigers have been struggling to put things together.

While the talent, heart, and drive are all there for the Tigers, small mistakes have turned into big mistakes; and have led the Tigers to their dreaded 0-5 start. For Coach Roth and his Tigers, the 55-0 loss to the Raiders couldn't have come at a worse time.

"I can promise you one thing; we're not going to quit," Coach Roth told his team after the game. "I know it's tough, but you've got to believe in yourselves. You've got to believe. There's a point where all of this is going to pay off. We've just got to keep moving forward and put everything behind us."

For Clewiston, all the pieces are there for them to have a successful season; the hard part seems to be putting them all together.

"They're a good group, no question about it," stated Glades Central head coach Jessie Hester. "A bit under-manned, and that's always a disadvantage; but you could really see the fight in those kids.

"There wasn't a point where they gave up; they fought to the end and that's what you want to see in a football team. It just takes one play, one guy, to get things turned around; so as long as they can keep that attitude and that fight, I really think it can happen for those guys.

"It's just a matter of trying to get in the playoffs, win the games you're supposed to win, and you never really know what can happen from there. Just looking at the team, they've got some big guys, a real good, mobile quarterback; so like I said, just keep things in focus and I think they'll be okay."

Turnovers plagued the Tigers throughout the game, as well as a couple controversial calls by the officials. The confusion in the defensive secondary didn't help either as three of Jamarious Rowley's touchdown passes were thrown to the same spot; on the same routes.

While frustration filled the Clewiston sidelines, smiles filled the faces of the Raiders; but maybe none as much as head coach Jessie Hester. When asked his thoughts on his team's performance he replied:

"No question, the first half was perfect football."

And to be honest, it would be hard to argue with him. Other than giving the ball away by interception in the endzone during the first quarter, the Raiders scored on every one of their possessions during the first half.

The Tigers last shot at putting points on the board came in the last quarter, with a 29-yard field goal on fourth down that floated right.

The Tigers host Labelle tomorrow at home, and are looking for a shot at turning their season around. With only one loss being a district game, the Tigers still have a shot at making it to the playoffs.

While the past few weeks may have taken a toll on the overall morale of Clewiston, they haven't really affected their post-season chances at all. As long as they can keep their intensity level high and work on avoiding mistakes, they should be able to walk away with a win tomorrow.

As for the Raiders, it seems like there's no question about their post-season stance. As long as they can avoid overlooking games and any upsets, the Raiders should be playing for the state title at the end of this season.

Pahokee

Pahokee suffered their third consecutive loss last Friday against North Broward Prep, 27-18.

Once again, the team's inexperience showed. Despite gaining more overall yards than North Broward, their 16 penalties gave the Eagles 111 undeserved yards; and ultimately lost them the game.

The Blue Devils head to American Heritage tomorrow, in an attempt to pick themselves back up after struggling through the past three weeks.

HENDRY COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD
Pupil Progression: Promotion/Retention

No student may be assigned to a grade level based solely on age or other factors that constitute social promotion. Florida Statute 1008.25 requires that any student who exhibits a substantial deficiency in reading, based upon locally determined or statewide assessments conducted in kindergarten, grade 1, grade 2, or grade 3 must be given intensive reading instruction immediately following the identification of the reading deficiency. The student's reading proficiency must be reassessed by locally determined assessments, or through teacher observations at the beginning of the grade following the intensive reading instruction. The student must continue to be provided with intensive reading instruction until the reading deficiency is remedied.

If a student's reading deficiency is not remedied by the end of grade 3, as demonstrated by scoring at Level 2 or higher on the statewide assessment test in reading for grade 3, the student must be retained.

The parent of any student who exhibits a substantial deficiency in reading must be notified in writing of the following:

1. That his/her child has been identified as having a substantial deficiency in reading.
2. A description of the current services that are provided to the child.
3. A description of the proposed supplemental instructional services and supports that will be provided to the child that are designed to remediate the identified area of reading deficiency.
4. That if the child's reading deficiency is not remedied by the end of grade 3, the child must be retained unless he/she is exempt from mandatory retention for good cause.
5. Strategies for parents to use in helping their child succeed in reading proficiency.
6. That the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (FCAT) is not the sole determiner of promotion and that additional evaluations, portfolio reviews, and assessments are available to the child to assist parents and the school district in knowing when a child is reading at or above grade level and ready for grade promotion.
7. The districts criteria and policies for mid-year promotion.
8. Each school district shall provide written notification to the parent of any student, who is retained because his/her reading deficiency is not remedied by the end of third grade, that his/her child has not met the proficiency level required for promotion, and the reasons the child is not eligible for a good cause exemption as provided by Florida law. The notification must include a description of proposed interventions and support that will be provided to the child to remediate the identified areas of reading deficiency.

Successful Progression for Retained Readers

The 2004 Legislature amended section 1008.25, Florida Statutes, to create a new paragraph (7) that provides that all students who are retained in third grade must be provided intensive interventions in reading to ameliorate the students' reading deficiency, as identified by a valid and reliable diagnostic assessment. This intensive intervention must include effective instructional strategies, participation in the school district's summer reading camp, and appropriate teaching methodologies necessary to assist those students in becoming successful readers, able to read at or above grade level, and ready for promotion to the next grade.

This section also requires each school district to establish at each school, where applicable, an Intensive Acceleration Class for retained third grade students who subsequently score at Level 1 on the reading portion of the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test (FCAT). The focus of this class shall be to increase a child's reading level at least two grade levels in one year. The school is required to report the following:

Mid-Year Promotion

According to provisions in the Hendry County School District Pupil Progression Plan, students who were retained the previous year may be considered for mid-year promotion provided the student has demonstrated the ability to read at grade level and shows mastery of the state standards for the grade level in which he/she was retained. The student must have the skills necessary to successfully function at the grade level to which he/she is being promoted mid-year.

Good Cause Exemption from Mandatory Retention

The Hendry County School Board may only exempt students from mandatory retention for good cause as stated in Florida Statute 1008.25. According to this statute, good cause exemptions shall be limited to the following:

1. Limited English proficient students who have had less than two years of instruction in an English for Speakers of Other Languages Program.
2. Students with disabilities whose individual education plan indicates that participation in the statewide assessment program is not appropriate, consistent with the requirements of State Board of Education rule.
3. Students who demonstrate an acceptable level of performance on all alternative standardized reading assessment approved by the State Board of Education.
4. Students who demonstrate, through a student portfolio, that he/she is reading on grade level as evidenced by demonstration of mastery of the Sunshine State Standards in reading equal to at least a Level 2 performance on the FCAT.
5. Students with disabilities who participate in the FCAT, and who have an individual education plan or a Section 504 plan that reflects that the student has received the intensive remediation in reading for more than two years but still demonstrates a deficiency in reading, and was previously retained in kindergarten, grade 1, or grade 2.
6. Students who have received the intensive remediation in reading for two or more years, but still demonstrate a deficiency in reading, and who were previously retained in kindergarten, grade 1, or grade 2 for a total of two years.

The district school board must annually report to the parent of each student the progress of the student toward achieving state and district expectations for proficiency in reading, writing, science, and mathematics. Student results on each statewide assessment must be reported to the parent. The evaluation of each student's progress must be based upon the student's classroom work, observations, tests, district and state assessments, and other relevant information.

BY DOUG SMOCK
The Charleston Gazette

Minutes after West Virginia's comeback victory over Marshall, Mountaineer coach Bill Stewart explained a decision to kick a field goal late in the third quarter.

His dilemma is one any college coach can face in any game: Down 14-6, his team had a fourth-and-1 at the Marshall 28-yard line. With almost 18 minutes left in the game, he took the conservative route, sending Tyler Bitancurt to kick a 45-yard field goal. It seemed like a certain three points. Bitancurt was 3-3 to begin the season, and he had five field goals of 40-45 yards in 2009.

"I tell you what: They blocked one on Ohio State and they blocked one on us. That's pretty salty," Stewart said afterward.

This particular attempt was probably on target, but we'll never know for sure. Marshall's No. 91, defensive tackle Johnny Jones, halted the ball with one of his giant hands. The Thundering Herd took over on its 44-yard line and, seven plays later, took a 21-6 lead.

That was the second block in two weeks for the 6-foot-5, 301-pound senior from Clewiston, Fla. At Ohio State, his rejection and subsequent 61-yard return by Ahmed Shakoor gave the Herd a brief glimmer of hope at 14-7.

That was the sixth such block in Jones' career. Records are sketchy in that category, but it is easy to guess that Jones is the Herd's all-time leader. Shoot, the Herd probably didn't have six blocked place-kicks in most decades.

"He's a beast," said defensive end Vinny Curry. "If you watch him at nose, he never gets drilled off that ball. He keeps them off the linebackers, you see the linebackers. Johnny Jones is a beast."

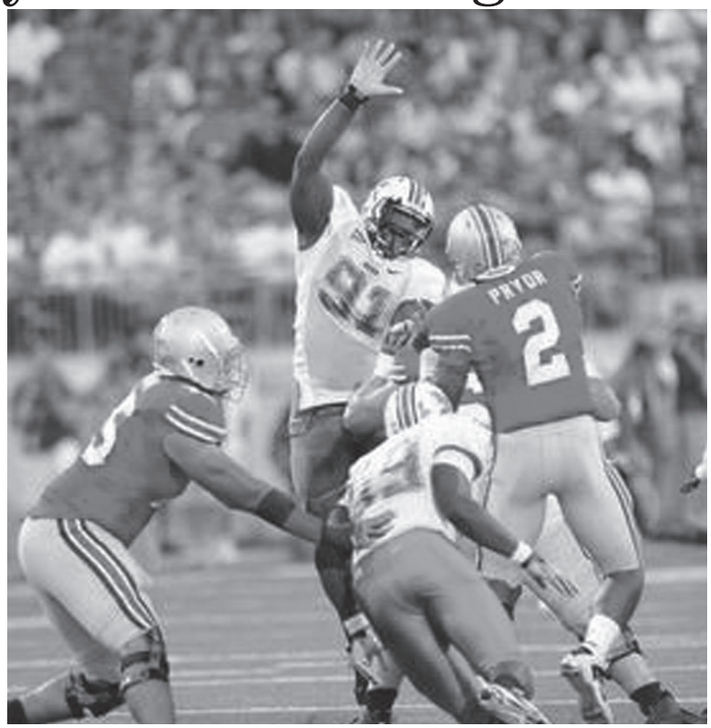
Jones began his kick-swatting legacy in the otherwise forgettable 2008 game at Wisconsin, victimizing Phillip Welch on a late extra point.

In 2008, Jones blocked a Swayze Waters extra point at Alabama-Birmingham. In 2009, he foiled Southern Mississippi's Daniel Hrapmann and Texas-El Paso's Logan Barrett, also on extra points. The Southern Miss block was initially credited to Janac, but changed on video review.

Part of the formula is brute force, and not just that of Jones. Janac is usually his sidekick up the middle, and swatted his share during the Herd's preseason camp.

A prime example of that force: When Jones sent back Bitancurt's kick, a photo showed multiple white-clad Mountaineers deposited on their keisters.

"It's how quick you can get off the ball, and how much penetration you can get," Jones said. "You hit each [protecting] guy in the mouth and see what happens. It's not a one-man job, it's a team effort." On the other downs, Jones has simply grown up with the defensive line. As a true freshman, he was forced to start the game at Cincinnati, as the unit was paper-thin to begin with, and then plagued by injury.



Courtesy Photo

He is expected to get his 17th start in his 35th game when the Herd plays at Bowling Green at 7 p.m. Saturday. His career statistics don't hop off the page - 37 tackles, one sack, 11/2 tackles for loss - but that usually doesn't happen when you play on the nose.

His value is reflected in the play of his surrounding teammates. For instance, weak-side linebacker Mario Harvey and end Vinny Curry have combined for 44 tackles, six sacks and nine tackles for loss. They tend to appreciate when Jones, and anybody else up front, occupies two blockers and even pushes them backward.

"They're more together, as a family," Harvey said of the D-line. "They're not like individuals. Everybody tries to get together, but it doesn't always work like that. They call themselves 'the Wolfpack,' and they're all together as a unit. That's what we've been missing the past couple of years."

That will test BG's young and somewhat depleted offensive line. It will also test the kicker, Michigan transfer Bryan Wright. He will need to get good height on his attempt, lest they need Jones' big mitt. If they do, good luck. "You ever see his hands?" Curry said. "His hands are like both of mine." Jones said, "I've had two slip away from me and get over the crossbar. But if I get a hand on one, it's going back down."

Clewiston Woman Named Finalist in Goodwill's Thrifty Shopper Contest

Goodwill's "So You Think You're Thrifty" competition has been narrowed down to the final four, and Denise Williams of Clewiston has been named one of the contest's finalists.

More than forty contestants entered the competition. Contestants were required to write an essay and meet face-to-face with a panel of judges from Goodwill.

Williams is joined in the final four by Teresa McCoskey of Naples, Rachell Skerlec of Cape Coral, and Darren Yonts of Fort Myers.

Each finalist was awarded a $100 shopping spree, with the results posted on Goodwill's website (http://www.goodwillswfl.org).

Website visitors can also watch video of each finalist in action. Voters can then make their selection online. Voting ends October 1, 2010.

The Grand Prize winner will receive a $250 Goodwill gift certificate, lunch with the CEO, tickets to the black-tie Tux & Trees Gala, and the opportunity to appear in an advertising campaign for Goodwill.

Goodwill Industries of Southwest Florida, Inc. operates 24 Retail & Donation Centers in Southwest Florida to support its mission of helping people with disabilities and other barriers to employment.

Proceeds earned from the resale of donated items are used to support Goodwill's programs and services, including Job-Link centers, housing for people with disabilities and for low-income seniors, vehicle assistance, and a charter school for students with developmental disabilities.

Faith To The Ends Of The Earth, And Beyond!

BY REVEREND SAMUEL S. THOMAS, PH. D.+
Saint Martin's Church, Clewiston

A newscast reported the discovery of a planet in another galaxy in the universe that is similar to our own Earth. The reporter stated that it was likely to support life and that temperatures there would be very moderate.

Unfortunately its distance from the Earth is in trillions of miles; and it is not likely that we will be visiting for some time to come – if ever. What is likely, though, is that this is one of many similar planets yet to be discovered; and with each discovery the chance of finding life increases. One astronomer suggested that no doubt some of the life will be more primitive than our own; while some is likely to be more advanced. When I reflected on this likelihood, I recalled a passage in the New Testament that is almost out of context. The Lord reminds his people that He is the good shepherd (John 10:14ff). He is known by His sheep and knows them; and He will lay down His life for the sheep when called upon to do so.

Then He adds "I have other sheep that are not of this sheep pen (or fold). I must bring them also. They too will listen to my voice and three shall be one flock and one shepherd(vss 16-17)." Jesus was speaking to a world that knew nothing about the North American or South American continents; they hadn't been discovered yet. They were unaware of life in countries that we know as China, Japan or the nations of the Pacific. Yet, they were out there and when discoveries were made, nobody raised any questions about these "other sheep" that were not of the known sheep pen of the day.

Now we are discovering "other sheep pens" in the universe. Would God's activities and revelations be limited to just our own planet and what we "know?" Such thinking would be very self-centered and self-serving. Does God love only us? There are always evidences of those who think "we're the only ones" or "we're the only ones who have it right" and then something comes along to suggest the world is wider, bigger, more comprehensive, more inclusive than we could imagine. I've always been piqued by those who insist there is only one version of the Bible. Given all of the languages in the world, spoken in countries and places where God is quite surely at work, it is illogical to believe that all of the others must learn one language for the one translation. This is the kind of limited thinking that handicaps our believing and is self-centered.

It suggests we have a very limited understanding of God and His creation. Those "other sheep" are most likely out there and we need to consider that they are loved by God, too. It would be devilish to think we're the only ones; very devilish indeed!

What We Can Learn from Dogs

BY PASTOR JOHN HICKS
First United Methodist Church

Hazel had barely moved or even opened her eyes. It'd been days, and the situation was getting desperate. A call went out for a member of the hospital canine corps.

Moments later, Koyla, a 145-pound shaggy white Great Pyrenees, crawled up on Hazel's hospital bed and snuggled her warm and furry body in next to her patient, who hadn't twitched a muscle for days. After a short period of time, they noticed Hazel's hand start inching toward the dog. She began to stroke its fur. Within the hour Hazel was smiling and talking, calling the huge dog her friend. What is it about dogs that evoke such a positive response? Whatever it is, if we were to have the kind of ministry in our churches, homes, and communities that pet partners have in hospitals, what could that look like? What would faithful obedience to the will of God, and a willingness to "come" to the side of others as their advocate mean in the lives of those around us?

God put dogs on earth to remind us of some important truths. Following are 10 dog-truths that will help us grab the robes of sanctification and wear them:

1. Greet loved ones with wagging tail. The wagging tail affirms that this is our home, where we live, where we're safe and where we're loved.

2. Eat with gusto and enthusiasm. Dogs know that eating is a celebration of life. Breaking bread together is holy. Animosities are dissipated at meals, barriers broken down, friendships renewed and strengthened.

3. On hot days, drink lots of water and lie under a shady tree. Relax, slow down and enjoy. Give yourself a time out. Opt out, unplug, and get lazy.

4. Run, romp and play daily. Physical exercise is as important for the soul as it is for the body. When we learn to play and stretch and get some exercise, we'll feel better from the inside out.

5. Be loyal. If your dog is nothing else, he is loyal to a fault. Loyalty's a critical element of discipleship, for it speaks to our relationship with others: our spouse, our vocation, our community, and our friends.

6. When you're happy, dance around and wag your tail. Thankfulness and celebration are powerful dynamics for successful and healthy living.

7. If someone is having a bad day, sit close and nuzzle gently. We all have bad days. That's why we need encouragement and affirmation. When depressed, we know that words are not always needed. A gentle nuzzle will often bring us around.

8. No matter how harshly you're scolded, don't pout - run back and make friends. Carrying grudges makes life a drudgery.

9. Avoid biting when a simple growl will do.

10. Bark with your buddies. Barking says we belong in this together. We are one. May we all be dogly Godly!

Satanic Principles

BY JACKIE MILLER
First Christian Church

Satan's temptation of Eve serves as a paradigm for all subsequent methods of temptation. If Christians are familiar with Satan's philosophy they will be able to recognize the voice of Satan as he speaks through his children throughout history.

1. The Bible is full of lies. It is myth and legend. It is not God's inspired-infallible revelation to man. Rather, it is an unreliable, uninspired, inaccurate, sub-historical of the evolution of the people of Israel.

2. The Word of God is vague, unclear and ambiguous. Therefore no one can really know and understand what God has said. Everyone has their own personal, subjective opinion regarding the Bible's teaching; therefore, no one really knows the truth.

3. The God of the Bible and the Bible itself are evil. God's laws are unfair, unjust, harsh and mean. The Bible is anti-enviromental, racist, sexist, homophobic, and anti-egalitarian and so on.

4. Man can only achieve truth, wisdom and knowledge by forsaking God's Word and discovering truth autonomously. Beelzebub 6:16 says, "Lean not upon the Lord God and His Word but trust in yourself with all of your heart."

5. Freedom and blessing comes through casting off God's law-Word. Breaking God's law leads to great blessing and rewards. Regeneration flows from chaos. Salvation and peace is attained through lawlessness.

6. The path to power and success is not through humble submisssion to God and His Word. It is only attained by creating your own law. You must become your own God and determine for yourself what is good and evil, right and wrong. Sin-mantra 3:36 says, "I did it my way."

7. Man's problem is not ethical but, metaphysical. Man should not try to obey God, but to become God. There is no creator-creature distinction. Everything is on the same scale of being. Get off your rear end and move up the scale.

8. Man deserves godhood, blessing, power, enlightenment and salvation by right and not by grace. Don't ask for mercy - take what is yours! (The Biblical doctrine that says the sovereign God gives grace and salvation is anathema to Satan and his followers. Satan is the father of entitlements.)

9. Sin and rebellion against God does not lead to judgment either in history or the hereafter. "Don't deprive yourself of the fun things of life because of the stupid, fictional, outmoded concept of judgment and hell." Believers who have a knowledge of Satan's world view should not be surprised to find that Satan's children reflect his doctrine in their thinking, speech and life. Christians are to reject all such satanic thinking and are to think God's thoughts after Him. Biblical doctrine should be the foundation of all our thinking, speaking and behavior. "For with You is the fountain of life, in Your light we see light" (Psalm 36:9).

he related as he laughingly pointed at the palm tree in the background which was being blown back quite strongly in the photos. "If you look at all these photos, don't we look like we wish the photographer would hurry up and take the bloody photograph."

As the night came to a close, the cadets and their wives were set to leave for the night, Peter Heiles quoted Binyon, "They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old; Age shall not weary them, nor the years contemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, We will remember them."

The cadets of the No.5 BFTS will always be remembered here and as Mrs. Ivan Sneezum intimated with this reporter, "Many of these boys were 18, 19 years old when they came here and they still come back here to this day. What is amazing is that Clewiston remembers them and welcomes them always."

Leadership learns team building

The 2010-11 Hendry/Glades Leadership class recently held its first class. The 24 members of the class, representing businesses and organizations from Hendry and Glades counties, were put into teams to work together to build the tallest free-standing tower of balloons, straws, tape and rubber bands. The final two towers were pulled together for the final comparison. The class was hosted by the Seminole Tribe of Florida and the Billy Swamp Safari for its class and luncheon. The class is meeting monthly to learn and discuss different topics of the Hendry and Glades area. The class will next meet October 20 to learn civic and cultural aspects of the area.
