BCC, sheriff lock horns over budget

By Stephen Kindand
Staff writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – County commissioners have approved a new county budget of $294 million that carries an increase in the property tax rate and a last-minute reallocation of $2.5 million from the law enforcement budget that has Sheriff Rick Beseler contemplating legal action.

The tentative tax rate of 7.85 mills – which passed 4-1 during a final public hearing held by the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday, Sept. 27 – represents a slight increase over the current rate of 7.45 mills. Commissioner Wendell Davis dissented, saying he favored keeping the current rate.

A mill is $1 in property taxes for every $1,000 of assessed property value after exemptions. Most homeowners will see only a slight increase in property taxes because of declining property values and additional tax exemptions enacted by the Florida Legislature in recent years.

Man cited obscure statute to seize home

By Stephen Kindland
Staff writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS -- A man claiming to be a pastor at a Jacksonville church also claims he owns a once-vacant house in Oakleaf by right of an obscure Florida statute, but Clay County Sheriff's Office officials believe otherwise.

Marcelous Dunbar is out on $150,000 bond after being arrested on Saturday, Sept. 24 on charges of grand theft and burglary when he refused to leave a home that recently had been sold for $440,000. Dunbar claimed to own through the state's "adverse possession" law.

Adverse possession is a phrase contained in a little known if not controversial Florida statute that allows someone to claim ownership of abandoned property if the claimant pays taxes on the property for seven straight years.

Dunbar, who says he is pastor of Fishers of Men World Harvest Church, has said publicly that he moved into the home legally, and that he is claiming ownership through the adverse possession process to help reduce the area's homeless problem. Published reports quote Dunbar as saying he had other people living with him at the time of his arrest.

Large black beetle is likely Giant Palm Weevil

Q. I cut off the lower fronds and flower spikes from my palms and left them laying at the base of the tree for a few days. When I came back, I saw a large black beetle, with orange/red blotches on its back and a long snout, hovering around the clippings. Is this a potential problem for my cabbage palms, and if so, what should I do about them?

R. You are describing the adult Giant Palm Weevil.

This beetle attacks the buds of palms and its young (a large orange to brown colored grub) can eat out the entire center of a palm in a matter of months. It can be a serious problem. Another sign to look for that indicates you have some in your palm would be a brown, fibrous football-shaped object about the size of a squashed golf ball. This would be the pupa stage of this insect – the stage at which it is changing over from its grub to adult form.

Normally Giant Palm Weevil Beetles are restricted to palms that are under some sort of stress, such as recently being moved, or having something that is destroying their roots. If you are seeing these beetles in your landscape, I would be concerned. To battle them, add a liquid form of Sevin to enough water to make two gallons of drench (the label tells how much to add) and then pour this into the top of the palm bud. You have to soak the bud well to get it to where they are feeding. You may want to give your trees a second application in a month or so, and then another in early spring while your palms are regaining their health. Fertilizing your palms in the spring with a "Palm Special" is suggested.

It can be tough to tell when citrus is ripe

Q. I am new to this area and have not grown citrus before. When does it usually start to get ripe here?

R. Aside from the simple "taste test" – pick one and if it is ripe then most of the others are too – there is really no way to tell when citrus are ripe. Color will not work because a citrus fruit is fully ripe before it is ever fully colored. If you wait until the fruit is fully colored, the fruit is usually over-ripe, less juicy and less sweet. Those bright colors you see at grocery stores have been artificially stimulated with special gases to change to full color.

Some of the early citrus varieties will begin ripening soon so the taste test is coming up.

If you have a tree full of fruit, tasting for ripeness is not a problem. But, if you have a young tree with only a few fruit on it, you probably don't want to pick very many to experiment with.

To give you a better idea as to when to expect your fruit to be ripe, so you can begin testing it at that time – here are the average earliest ripening times for our area:

Sweet oranges such as Navel, Amber-sweet, Hamlin and Parson Brown begin ripening in October – depending on how quickly it starts to cool off. Later ripening sweet oranges such as Pineapple and Sunstar don't start ripening until December and Valencias don't start ripening until March and are often lost to the cold because of this.

Mandarins (Tangerines, Satsuma, Tangelos and their hybrids) start ripening in October (Osceola, Robinson, Fallglow, Page and Satsuma), in November (Orlando, Nova, and Sunburst), in December (Minneola Honeybell, Dancy and Ponkan), and in January (Murcott Honey Tangerine and Temple).

Grapefruit start ripening in November (Marsh and Ruby Red or Redblush) and then others in December (Duncan and Star Ruby).

Every tree is different based upon various microclimates in your yard and where they are located with respect to those – some areas are warmer or colder than others because of shade, nearness to water or a pool, the house itself or fences/large trees that block wind.

In addition – fruit at the top of the tree usually start ripening first. After observing your trees the first year you have fruit, you should begin to know when the best time is to start checking to see if they are starting to ripen in years to come – good luck for now.

Poor economy puts elderly at risk

(Editor's note: Toni Marinelli, owner of Home Instead Senior Care, 165 Wells Rd., Suite 301, Orange Park, submitted the following article.)

It seems as though problems with the economy are affecting nearly every area of our lives. Now, evidence is mounting that older adults are cutting everyday expenses to keep up with the economic downturn.

Local senior-care experts warn families to be on alert to make sure seniors aren't cutting too deeply. Warning signs include skipping medications, pulling the plug on air conditioning and canceling social outings.

In a report released in May by AARP titled "The Economic Slowdown's Impact on Middle-Aged and Older Americans," 59 percent of seniors 65 and older surveyed said they'd found it more difficult to pay for essential items. Those are things like food, gas and medicine. Nearly half (47 percent) said they found it more difficult to pay for utilities such as heating, cooling or phone service. Forty-six percent have reduced the number of times they eat out and 45 percent cut back spending on entertainment. 1

Cuts of essential items such as food and medication should be of immediate concern to seniors' families. Other reductions in spending can lead to less obvious issues. One of the biggest problems that we see is senior isolation. That issue has really been magnified during this troubled time in our economy with the high price of gas.

An older adult can get in trouble very quickly. Especially when families live a distance from their loved ones, or when Boomer children are busy trying to make ends meet themselves. That's why it's so important that someone look out for the well-being of seniors. You want to know they are safe in their homes and eating properly, taking their medications and able to maintain their appointments and social life.

Falling interest rates, fixed incomes and seniors' fears of past hardships can influence how they react to the current economic slowdown. That's according to Sheryl Garrett, author of Personal Finance Workbook For Dummies® and several other books on financial planning. Some seniors may be running short on money but, for others, there's always that fear of running out because they lived through the Depression. They know how ugly it can get, she explained.

It's important also for seniors to guard against fraud and too-good-to-be-true offers, Garrett advises. Seniors want to get the best that they can from their investments without falling for scams or overselling tactics. Older adults also should beware of CDs and fixed annuities that can promise higher interest rates, but force seniors to lock in their money for longer time periods, Garrett noted. Always get a second opinion, she advises.

Seniors at all income levels may be facing choices they haven't had to make in the past. They should know where to go for help before they put themselves or their health at risk. Area Agencies

Admin. judge's ruling on OP trauma center won't stop plans: CEO

The News Service of Florida and Clay Today staff

TALLAHASSEE - A judge has sided with hospitals in Jacksonville and the Tampa Bay area in their fight to prevent the Department of Health from approving three new trauma centers.

Administrative Law Judge W. David Watkins found that a nearly two-decade-old rule that the department uses in reviewing proposed trauma centers is invalid. The ruling was released Sept. 23.

Thomas R. Pence

Shands Jacksonville and the other hospitals challenged the rule as they try to keep hospital-company HCA from opening trauma centers in Clay, Pasco and Manatee counties.

If approved, the new facilities - including Orange Park Medical Center in Clay County - likely would divert patients away from already-existing trauma centers at the other hospitals.

The case centered on a 1992 rule that outlined a process for approving trauma centers, including carving the state into 19 trauma regions. The Tampa Bay and Jacksonville hospitals contended that reliance on the rule was outdated, at least in part because of later legislative decisions.

Hospital CEO Tom Pence said Monday that the hospital is in the process of reviewing the ruling, but it will continue to move forward with its application to the state.

"We are disappointed in the Judge's decision," Pence said in an emailed release. "Regardless of this decision, we believe a significant need exists for a trauma center in our community and look forward to the Department's review and approval of our application. By adding a center, we will improve the outcomes for trauma patients by giving them access to life-saving care more quickly.

"Our neighbors, families and friends deserve faster access to life-saving care when it matters most," he said.

In a 75-page decision, Watkins wrote that the Department of Health "did not present any rational explanation of how the department determines current need for additional trauma programs" based on data that helped lead to the rule.

"The department's continued reliance on the rule as a determination of current need, without explanation of how or why the rule, which is based on obsolete data and an unknown methodology, is a valid reflection of current need, leaves the logic of such an approach within the mind or minds of department employees," he wrote.

Watkins, who held a hearing in June, also indicated in the decision that the proposed trauma centers likely would be approved under the rule. He also detailed how the new trauma centers could affect the other hospitals, such as Shands Jack-on Aging, for instance, offer both food and gas assistance. And companies such as Home Instead Senior Care can provide transportation assistance and help around the home. We also serve as a second set of eyes for seniors' families.

Families also can play an important role monitoring seniors who have decided to scale back because of the economy. Even seemingly innocent decisions, like cutting back a little on groceries or air conditioning, can have a damaging impact.

So what signs should families look for to warn them that a senior might be putting themselves in harm's way? (Pass out flyer with information about warning signs.)

Here's some information from Home Instead Senior Care and the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging. If you're a family caregiver, ask yourself the following questions.

1. Is your senior's home too warm in the summer and too cold in the winter?
2. Is the lawn not getting mowed nor is the sidewalk getting cleaned in inclement weather?
3. Is your loved one complaining about not being able to afford medications?
4. Are home repairs not getting made?
5. Is there a shortage of food in the house?
6. Is your senior skipping doctor's appointments?
7. Is your older adult staying home more and becoming isolated?
8. Is your senior cutting out entertainment?

Budget

earlier that a millage of 7.97 would be needed to generate the same amount of revenue as this fiscal year, given the effects of the recession.

The new budget – which passed unanimously and goes into effect Oct. 1 -- comes in well under this year's $325.6 million spending plan, and represents a third straight year of budget reductions by the BCC.

Beseler said he was surprised by the board's proposal to take $2.5 million from his budget and place it in the BCC's reserve fund. The subsequent move means that Beseler – one of Clay County's five, independent constitutional officers -- will have to seek the BCC's approval to spend money on his department's operating and personnel costs throughout the next fiscal year.

"Basically, they eliminated my capital outlay and my operating budget," the sheriff said. "Now I have to come back and ask for budget adjustments [from the reserve fund]."

"I've never seen this happen like this before," he said. "I don't think they have the authority to do that over a constitutional officer. They can tell me how much I can spend, but they can't tell me how to spend it."

Beseler, who locked horns with BCC chairman Travis Cummings at a previous BCC meeting over the sheriff's plans to provide $1,000 across-the-board raises to his 547 employees, said he plans to meet with representatives from the Florida Sheriff's Association and FSA attorneys before making his next move.

"I would anticipate coming back before the board ... and asking for that budget adjustment to restore whatever the amount is that's going to be put into that [reserve] budget because I have to know during the coming year what I've got to spend," he told commissioners. Expect to see me back here in a couple of weeks for that budget amendment to restore adequate funding to be able to operate my capital outlay for the majority of the year."

Beseler, who reverted $2 million of unspent money to the county this year, said that giving his staff raises isn't likely to happen, given the unexpected scenario.

Cummings said after Tuesday's meeting that county auditor Mike Price and other county staff members were aware of the reallocation concept, and that he is confident the board is acting within its authority.

"I don't think it's an issue," Cummings said.

Commissioner Ronnie Robinson said he was surprised at the proposal to redirect the $2.5 million, and that he agreed to the move "out of necessity" to finalize next year's budget.

"I was not expecting what happened," he said. "I think a lot of thought had to go into it. It was not one of the equations I had in my mind. I might have something to say about it later."

Commissioner Doug Conkey said he favored the reallocation because the county needs to "build our reserves back up" in light of the "grim" economic outlook faced by the Florida Legislature.

"[The reallocation] just means that if the money is needed, it allows what I would consider a team discussion on addressing additional needs," he said.

Organizers present Freedom 8K proceeds

Randy Lefko,

JACKSONVILLE -- After a successful debut Riverfest Memorial Day Weekend including the inaugural Freedom Marathon Inc., 8km running race in Green Cove Springs, FMI CEO Manny Cordero presented checks to U.S. Gunnery Sgt. John Hayes of Middleburg and the Wounded Warriors Project in Jacksonville Wednesday at the headquarters of the Wounded Warriors Project in Jacksonville.

"We tried to put on a world-class event, the Freedom Marathon 8km Series kickoff race, as well as a world class weekend of Memorial Day events just so I could help this great organization, the Wounded Warriors Project, and also to a great American serviceman injured in the line of duty, Gunnery Sgt. John Hayes," said Cordero. "I hope to be able to offer more money for our veterans as that is our primary goal at Freedom Marathon, Inc."

Accepting the check for Hayes, a victim of a bomb attack in Afghanistan that took both legs, were his in laws, Rex and Dena Hall, who reported progress in Hayes' therapies and surgeries in Washington, D.C.

"He has undergone nearly 50 surgeries and is now progressing in his therapy to regain some of his abilities to move around," said Rex Hall. "He is working very hard to come back from this."

Hayes was injured in December and is at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

Along with the checks presentation, $1,200 to Hayes and $8,885 to Wounded Warriors Project, Cordero and the invited guests were able to hear from retired Army Staff Sgt. Dan Nevins, director of major gifts at Wounded Warriors Project, who gave a gripping account of the explosion that would eventually take both his legs. Nevins told of his interaction with Wounded Warriors Project and his tear-jerking inspiration to return to his very athletic life.

"We, at Wounded Warriors Project, do not take any government money and today's presentation from the Freedom Marathon, Inc., personnel is a wonderful gesture that I personally can attest that moneys like this can turn a man's life around," said Nevins. "I was laying in a bed at Walter Reed with one leg missing just thinking about the things I could not do anymore with my children and my wife. A gentleman from Wounded Warriors Project gave me a knapsack full of daily essentials to get through my day and the words 'Whatever you need, we will always be here.' That changed my life."

Cordero also presented appreciation to plaques to numerous sponsors and volunteers for the Freedom Marathon 8km run.

"We had some hiccups, as I call them, but all in all, the race was run on a perfect day with great competition and great feedback," said Cordero. "We will be back next year with better ideas and more energy to make it even better."

The Freedom Marathon 8km Running Series culminates Nov. 11-13, 2012 with the running of the Norfolk Half Marathon Race.

"We are making aware the plights of our wounded soldiers with our series and the Norfolk race will be a wonderful finale," said Cordero.

Among the sponsor/volunteer plaques given were to Kohls, Publix, Wehner Financial Services in Orange Park, the Green Cove Springs Police Department represented by Officer Tammy Perry and the city of Green Cove Springs represented by city councilman Bob Page.

Clay Coalition holds teen leadership workshop

Randy Lefko,
Correspondent

ORANGE PARK -- A handful of Clay County teenagers spent their Saturday, Sept. 24, learning about alcohol and tobacco abuse, peer pressures, tactical approaches to making changes within their communities and how to influence change as part of the Clay Action Coalition's 2012 "Leadership U" Teen Leadership Workshop at Thrasher-Horne Conference Center.

The program also including information from the Clay Department of Health's Tobacco Prevention Program which includes Students Working Against Tobacco (SWAT).

"I learned a lot about the dangers of alcohol and tobacco that I did not know," said Lakeside Junior High's Jack Fitzgerald, a seventh grade football player. "I was given the flyer for the event from my teacher, Mrs. Bumpers, and decided to attend. I didn't know that the effects of abuse stay with you for your entire life."

The students, among them Lakeside, Oakleaf Junior High, Orange Park High School, Middleburg High School and Fleming Island High School attended various breakout sessions with different projects and information concerning the inherent dangers of alcohol and tobacco usage by young students.

"I'm not really friends with a lot of people that are involved with tobacco or alcohol because I am part of an athletic group at my school," said Megan Buzby, a freshman at Orange Park High School. "I run cross country and that would definitely not help me. I am learning a lot about what it does to your body and I think if others knew the dangers, they would think twice about taking a drink or smoking a cigarette."

Part of the day was spent with Green Cove Springs historian Art Yeaman as well who entertained the students in his Benjamin Franklin costumed reenactment of the eras around the inceptions of the Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence.

"I think the early historical part of our country is important for the students, even at an event like this, because it shows that a small, educated and informed group can make a vast difference in how not only their community works, but how an entire country can be affected," Yeaman said afterward. "Our laws were formulated by just a small group of men."

Groups were put in seminars concerning citizenship, local improvements and policy change as well as utilizing media messages and social networking to get messages out.

"We essentially wanted to give the students the tools to be leaders in their community," said Stephanie Geoghagan, Clay Action Coalition coordinator. "We have seen some measurable results from our recent surveys that these type of conferences are very effective in getting the word out about the dangers of substance abuse."

One statistic that Geoghagan noted positively was a decreasing trend in alcohol use by teenagers in Clay County. In 2004, Clay County was above the state average for teens surveyed as to alcohol use in a monthly survey.

"The state does a study each year and gives the county percentage of teens who answered they did or did not have an alcohol drink within a 30 day period," said Geoghagan. "We were above that state average and decided to put some education programs in place."

Geoghagan gave statistics that showed a steady decrease from 65 percent of more than 1,000 Clay County teens who did not drink in 2005 to 74 percent what answered last year that they did not have an alcohol drink within 30 days of the survey.

"While we see that as a positive trend and hope that it is because of education, we are hopeful to get that number higher," said Geoghagan.

At the Leadership U conference, moderators had teens making T-shirts with information messages, brainstorming for ways to influence larger numbers of their peers and taking steps to educate themselves to participate in local town hall

Oakleaf hosts regional agriscience conclave

By Lisa Kohlbrenner,
Correspondent

ORANGE PARK -- OakLeaf High hosted educators from four other school districts Sept. 21 to discuss Clay County's agriscience education program's plant biotechnology track. The district representatives came to get ideas for their own programs, taking notes and photos and asking questions.

In Plant Biotechnology, students learn techniques and practices important to the plant industry.

OakLeaf High principal David Broskie welcomed the visitors, who came from LaFayette, Charlotte, St. Johns and Gadsden counties.

A repeated theme throughout the event was that with today's technology, the program is not just "cows, sows, and plows" anymore.

Paul Parker, Clay County's Career and Technical Education director, spoke about why plant biotechnology was important for schools.

"Clay County is one of the top producers of industry certifications in the state," he said.

Keri Milligan, OakLeaf's agriscience teacher, present standards and lessons, discussed professional development opportunities, offered ideas for expanding the program and answered questions.

She also gave a tour of the facilities, which include indoor labs supply closet which doubles as a plant tissue culture lab, and outside there's a butterfly garden, vegetable garden a new plant nursery and a greenhouse.

Milligan, a University of Florida graduate, is the state teacher of the year for agriscience. She's in her second year at OakLeaf.

"I've been working really closely with the junior high," to promote the program, she said.

Eileen Monck, associate professor and biotechnology program coordinator for Santa Fe College in Alachua, also spoke at the presentation.

Curtis Richardson, director of school improvement for Gadsden County, said the information he learned Wednesday would be helpful in expanding his county's first-year program.

"Because we are just starting, we wanted to get an idea of the curriculum, the materials and the supplies needed and since we'll be starting an FFA, (we needed to see) how to get it started because that is an integral part."

He also said he came to learn what resources might be available to his county.

"We'll take advantage of the professional development opportunities" he said.

Larry Woodward, program specialist at Ponte Vedra High in St. Johns County, said even though the school only has a medical track right now, plant biotechnology is something he there's an interest in.

"We always are in talks about a second strand." He said he'd want to offer certification if the program were to be added in St. Johns, "because that brings money back to your program."

District names Henry its personnel director ship in the district. I am looking forward to working with the staff in the division of Human Resources," Henry said.

Superintendent Ben Wortham cited Henry's experience at both the elementary and junior high level and experience in staff development.

"I believe he will be an asset to the Human Resources Division and carry on the strong practices that are already in place," Wortham said.

A Clay High School graduate, Henry was a principal in Duval County before coming to Clay County as an administrator.

Grace kids get a kick out of 'Boosterthon'

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK -- Grace Episcopal Day School recently held its third annual Boosterthon Fun Run, a nine-day fundraising program that promotes fitness, leadership, and character.

The Fun Run was held at Moosehaven Retirement Center. This year's theme was "Epic Adventure" which focused on the four secrets of being a good team member: Encouraging, Playing, Inviting, and Celebrating.

Each class came up with a theme for their team name; The Fun Run Frogs, Johnson's Jaguars, Marzec's Marvelous Monkeys, Bennett's Busy Bees, Walburn's Warriors, Ninja Cool Cats, Magellan's Explorers, and the Magical Kingdom of Kindergarten. To build the excitement prior to the run, each class ran through the "Boosterthon Wind Tunnel" cheering for their team. Students then participated in a 30 minute run around the "Booster Speedway", a track about one third the size of a high school track.

Students collected pledges for the Fun Run and were encouraged to participate in the fifty state challenge (a contest to see who could get pledges from the most number of states). Overall the school collected pledges from 32 states and 4 countries and raised over $13,000. This is the students' favorite fundraiser and Grace Episcopal Day School will be able to enhance its art and technology program with the revenue that was generated. The most gratifying aspect of this run was to see the determination from each student as they worked diligently to achieve their own personal running goals.

Anti-tobacco group seeks county support

Special to Clay Today

GREEN COVE SPRINGS -- Members of Tobacco Free Clay and students from Clay County SWAT (Students Working Against Tobacco) are urging local elected officials to support a resolution to protect Clay County youth from candy and fruit flavored tobacco products, according to a county Health Department release.

Candy and fruit flavored tobacco products—cigars, cigarillos and chewing tobacco—act as "starter" products for young people beginning a life endangering addiction to nicotine. These products, with flavors such as peach, strawberry and grape, are not widely known to adult tobacco users. In fact, a study conducted by the Roswell Park Cancer Center in 2004, found that teens are more than twice as likely to recall seeing any flavored tobacco products, the release states.

Clay County SWAT youth and Tobacco Free Clay members are working to educate local elected officials on the tobacco industry's "Sweet Deception" and asking local municipalities to adopt a resolution to support restricting youth access and exposure to these products. In 2010, the Green Cove Springs City Council was the first Clay County based governing body to support the resolution. Go online to www.TobaccoFreeClay.com for information.

Wildlife study this summer at Camp Blanding may yield insights into black bear behavior

By Master Sgt. Thomas Kielbasa

Florida National Guard Public Affairs

CAMP BLANDING – A wildlife study at the National Guard's training post may soon give biologists insight into one of the state's most intriguing inhabitants.

The two-year study of Florida black bears at Camp Blanding Joint Training Center began this summer, and will be looking into the movement patterns and behavioral habits of the omnivorous mammals on the military site.

The study is a partnership between the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) and Camp Blanding, and may help answer questions about what appears to be an expanding bear population at the 72,000-acre training site.

"We want to see what the bears are doing here on Blanding, because we are seeing more and more bears everywhere," Camp Blanding Environmental Manager Paul Catlett explained. "I've got guys who have worked here for 35 years, and in the last five years have seen their first bear... Is it the fact that there are more bears now or the fact that they are losing habitat?"

Catlett, who lives on the post and has been working there for 17 years, said he thinks there are just more bear sightings because the population of the animals has gradually increased. He said sightings can spike when their habitats are encroached upon by development, but that doesn't appear to be the case at Blanding.

FWC biologist and bear expert Walter McCown follows a tranquilized 320-pound Florida black bear during a study at Camp Blanding Joint Training Center this summer. The bear was measured, tagged, and is being tracked by Florida Fish and Wildlife biologists using a specialized collar.

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) biologist Walter McCown (right) camouflages a snare to catch a Florida black bear at Camp Blanding Joint Training Center, Fla., in late June 2011, while FWC volunteer Travis McQuaig and FWC technician Julie Burford watch. The two-year study of Florida black bears began this summer.

A robust bear population on the post could mean the habitat here is strong and healthy, Catlett said.

"As a land manager I want to know that we're doing the right things; that we're having a positive influence," he said. "It's possible this is a sign that the habitat is strong and we're doing the right things here."

Black bears are the only species of bear found in Florida, and the FWC estimates there are between 2,500 and 3,000 black bears in the state. Adult bears weigh between 125 to 450 pounds, and can be found anywhere in Florida.

The study itself is simple: biologists and volunteers place specialized tracking collars on the bears and follow their movements around the area via radio signals. The movements are plotted on a map with a latitude and longitude point for each signal, letting the team see when the bears move and where exactly they go.

Getting the collars on the wild animals is a much more complicated matter.

The study-team pinpoints high "bear-traffic" areas on Camp Blanding, sets snares at the sites, and places scent lures (usually glazed donuts or fabric soaked in bacon fat) around the area. When a curious bear sniffs his way to the site and gets

Humane Society gets grant

ORANGE PARK -- The Clay County Humane Society has again been selected as a 2011 Florida Animal Friend Grant Recipient in support of its indigent care spay and neuter program.

Proceeds generated from the purchase of Florida Animal Friend Spay and Neuter License Plates are awarded to qualifying programs throughout the state. The Humane Society said the $17,500 provided will help the Society expand its current free spay and neuter program to include services for over 500 additional cats through a new "Feral Friday" campaign kicking off Oct. 1.

Feral cats will be sterilized for $25 which also includes ear-tipping, and a one year rabies vaccination.

The Society's Feral Friday Program is focusing on reducing the number of free-roaming and unowned stray or abandoned cats. With a shared mission of battling the staggering pet overpopulation problem, CCHS and Florida Animal Friends hope that this funding will help reduce the number of strays on the streets and of those healthy animals being euthanized in our shelters every day.

Feral sterilizations are performed on Fridays and by appointment only. All cats must be brought into the clinic in an appropriate carrier or humane trap. Go online to www.ClayHumane.org or call (904) 276-7729 for details.

New 511 app has traffic cam info

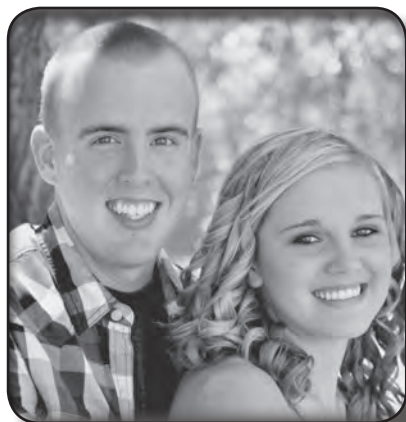

Special to Clay Today

TALLAHASSEE – For travelers who want to see what traffic looks like before getting on the highway, the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) has an app for that. The Florida 511 app now features traffic camera views associated with crashes, congestion and other incidents on all of Florida's interstates and toll roads. The app is for the iPhone, iPad and iPod Touch and is available for free download on the iTunes App Store.

The Florida 511 app is the newest addition to FDOT's suite of resources for traffic information. Florida travelers can call 511, visit FL511.com, download the 511 app and/or register for My Florida 511 personalized services to receive traffic updates from FDOT. Florida 511 is updated with crashes, congestion and travel time information. Traffic camera views are available on FL511.com and now on the Florida 511 app.

To view traffic camera views, users can tap the traffic camera image on an incident to view traffic near that location. To ensure accurate traffic information based on GPS location, users should elect to provide the iPhone access to the user's location. An app for the Android is in development.

The Florida 511 system is also updated during emergencies with critical information.

Economy

tion? Speaking of finances, Home Instead Senior Care and the Garrett Planning Network have come up with some tips for ways that seniors can stretch their finances. (Pass out tips list.)

1. Seek the services of an objective financial planner. Sheryl Garrett, founder of the Garrett Planning Network, said it's important for seniors to seek the advice of an objective fiduciary.

2. Get a second opinion on investments and financial purchases. If you're approached about changing your investments or making a purchase, make sure you get another opinion.

3. Contact your local Area Agency on Aging if you're having trouble paying for food and gas.

4. Get back to gardening. The economic downturn is generating a resurgence in gardening. The over 55 crowd traditionally has been among the most avid gardeners.

5. Avoid convenience foods, which are more expensive. Watch for sales on fresh or canned fruits, vegetables and meats, which will be less expensive than convenience foods and better for you.

6. Look for deals on generic medications. Contact your pharmacist about ways to save money on your medications.

7. Walk when you can. If the gas prices are cutting into your social life, organize a walking club or walk with friends.

8. Carpool when you can't walk. There's economy in numbers. If you can't afford to drive somewhere solo or in pairs, contact others you know going in the same direction or the same place and share costs.

9. Keep drapes drawn during the heat of the day, and minimize opening and closing doors in the cold of the winter. Close off parts of the house you're not using to cut down on utility costs.

10. Financial planner Sheryl Garrett says that the ability of seniors to live at home helps cut costs as well. Visit the company's Web site at www.homeinstead.com.

BA degree info session set

ORANGE PARK -- St. Johns River State College will hold an information session for students interested in the Bachelor of Applied Science in Organizational Management degree program. The sessions will focus on questions regarding the program details and requirements and will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 25 on the Orange Park campus, room H1136

The Bachelor of Applied Science in Organizational Management offers three specializations: supervision and management, health care administration and public services administration. The specializations will provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary to enter the workforce in mid-level management positions and prepare them for careers within the public, private and non-profit sectors.

For more information on the Organizational Management degree program, call (386) 312-4183 or e-mail karenberry@SJRstate.edu. Information is also available online at SJRstate.edu/bachelors.

"If the Orange Park trauma center is approved, it is reasonable to expect that all of Shands trauma patients originating from Clay County would instead be redirected to Orange Park," he wrote. "This would represent a loss of approximately 1,000 patients annually, or 25 percent of Shands current trauma volume."

HCA argued in a legal document, however, that the rule challenges were about the Tampa Bay and Jacksonville hospitals trying to "monopolize the delivery of trauma services through restraint of trade or commerce."

ter will be holding its 19th Annual Dinner and Auction on Saturday, Oct 8.

The evening at the Thrasher-Horne Center for the Arts will include music, dinner and a silent auction. Tickets are $50 each and must be purchased by Friday, Sept. 30.

The honorary chairman is Clay County resident Johnny Van Zant, lead singer for Lynyrd Skynyrd. Van Zant, who has donated several autographed items, can't attend due to a scheduling conflict but encourages residents to support the no-kill shelter. "I am happy to lend my name and to give back to the community," Van Zant and his family have two dogs and a cat from this shelter and visit often so they are familiar with the type of care they give the animals. "We admire what they do," Van Zant said. "As for adopting animals from a shelter he added,

Road work to close 315C

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS -- County Road 315C north of Keystone Heights near the intersection with State Road 21 will be closed to all traffic this weekend. The closure will begin Friday, Sept. 30, at 6 p.m. with the road scheduled for reopening Monday, Oct. 3, at 6 a.m. The closure will allow construction on the Shady Creek drainage structure which is being extended as the roadway is widened and paved shoulders added, according to the Florida Department of Transportation.

The section that is scheduled to be closed is about 2,500 feet long just south of State Road 21. Motorists will be detoured to County Road 214, State Road 100 and back to State Road 21.

County Road 315C is being resurfaced and 4-foot shoulders added from State Road 21 to Christian Camp Road (County Road 214). Work began July 6 and should be completed by early 2012. Call FDOT at 800-749-2967 (ext. 3714) for details.

REAL LIFE STORY

YOU "WILL" GET ALL THAT YOU DESERVE. When Tommy and Millie got married, he was 60 with four adult children and she was 50 with one adult child. He had substantial assets and was the total provider for the family. When Tommy made his Will, he left everything to his wife, but if she died first, his estate would be divided equally between his four children and his step-child. However, Millie's Will stated that she would leave everything to her husband, but if he died first, she left each of her four stepchildren $1.00 and the balance of her estate, all inherited from her husband, to her son. As life would have it, Millie took ill and just before she died, she called her husband to her bedside to express her displeasure. She thought Tommy would die first and she would inherit everything in order to leave it all to just her son. ADVICE: When making a plan, is it possible to make it so that someone else cannot derail those plans?

praiser Roger Suggs, say there is no way the home belongs to the 30-year-old pastor.

Dunbar had set up housekeeping inside the home on Eagle Landing Parkway several weeks ago. In all likelihood, he was unaware that the home recently had been sold to a military family that plans to move in this weekend, according to reports provided by the Clay County Sheriff's Office.

The reports also state the sellers were current on their taxes.

Suggs said four such claims have been filed for houses in Oakleaf, a new, upscale subdivision that has numerous vacant homes due to the recession. He said Florida's adverse possession law was passed in the late 1860s, likely because of the number of abandoned properties created by the Civil War.

The law since has been revised to give property owners more rights to retain their property, Suggs said. He said that gaining possession of a "truly abandoned" home or piece of land requires the claimant to pay the property taxes for seven straight years, and that property owners must be notified of any possession claims to give them the opportunity to pay current or delinquent taxes.

If both parties pay the taxes, the revision gives payment priority to the property owner, according to Suggs.

"The claimant would need to start the process all over again," he said.

Suggs said the law needs further revision to help protect property owners who at one time could have had their homes suddenly taken from them by unscrupulous claimants who paid the taxes year after year without the owner's knowledge.

The law also needs to define "abandoned property" more clearly,

"These homes [in Oakleaf] aren't really abandoned."

-- Property Appraiser Roger Suggs

he said.

"These homes [in Oakleaf] aren't really abandoned," Suggs said. "There haven't been any breaks in the chain of title. Unfortunately, [the claimants] are picking high profile homes and not ones that truly are abandoned."

Clay County Commissioner Wendell Davis, who also is immediate past president of the Florida Association of Realtors, said the adverse possession law has come into play a handful of times during his 33-year career in real estate.

"Most of the time it happens during a bad economy," he said. "Back in the late [1980s], there were several incidences. Whenever it does happen, it causes real problems."

FCTC honors nursing graduates

Special to Clay Today

ST. AUGUSTINE -- First Coast Technical College recently recognized nursing students during a capping and pinning ceremony held at Ancient City Baptist Church. This symbolic event signifies program completion and enables graduates to sit for state board of nursing exams to obtain Licensed Practical Nursing (LPN) status.

Graduates represent St. Johns, Putnam, Clay, Duval, and Flagler counties. Each received a white cap with a blue stripe representing FCTC's school colors and name pins symbolizing a commitment and dedication to the health profession.

FCTC's nursing program is now 45 years old and many in our community credit the college with the origin of their profession. Students complete a stringent course of study including hands-on clinicals at BayView Care Center, Putnam Community Medical Center, Palatka Health Care Center, and Kindred Hospital in Green Cove Springs. Sept. 30 is the application deadline for the next class which begins in December. Financial aid is available for those who qualify. Call 904-547-3471, email debra.warren@fctc.edu or go to www.fctc.edu for an application.

ous bear sniffs his way to the site and gets caught in the snare, a radio signal lets the team know it has a catch. The captured bear is then tranquilized, weighed, tagged, and fitted with the tracking collar.

"We can respond quickly, dart them, and get them out of the snare," explained Walter McCown, an FWC research biologist who specializes in bears.

After an hour or two the bear wakes up from the effects of the tranquilizer and is sent back into the forest.

"These collars are actually quite sophisticated," McCown explained. "They will acquire positions from GPS satellites and report the positions through a text message to a ground base on my computer. We don't have to follow them around. We'll be getting 24 to 27 locations a day, which we will use to identify travel-ways for bears."

The collared bear will get used to the device around its neck after a couple of days, McCown said. The thick leather collar weighs less than four pounds with the attached battery pack, and is programmed to drop off the bear's neck after about two years.

McCown and the study group have already identified and collared five bears on Camp Blanding, and have collared an additional two bears that were off the post. Five of the bears were males – the largest male captured weighed 320 pounds.

The FWC is receiving data from each collar and sharing the results with two local schools to help educate children and dispel misconceptions about the animals.

"Many people in Florida are surprised we actually have bears here," McCown, who has been studying the mammals for 15 years, said.

"They are not aware of it, although bears are becoming more of an issue in this state. I think part of my mission is to spread information about how neat bears are, how to live with bears, and the value of preserving and maintaining the bear populations in the state."

Another result of the ongoing study may clear up a bit of a mystery surrounding the bear population on Camp Blanding; it could explain why the black bears at the base all seem to have migrated from Ocala National Forest about 25 miles away.

Since the training base sits midway in a natural corridor between the sprawling Ocala National Forest to the south and the smaller Osceola National Forest to the north, biologists might expect to find bears from both forests at Camp Blanding. However, according to Catlett a previous study of the Blanding bear population found that it shared DNA exclusively with the Ocala bears.

Both Catlett and McCown said the data from this current study may help determine if the Ocala or Osceola bears are avoiding certain areas during their movements or are deterred by specific roads or other obstacles to travel between the two forests.

The data could possibly be used to help connect parcels of land to facilitate the bear movement and create additional conservation easements if warranted.

Based on initial data McCown said he thinks there are only a few resident bears on Camp Blanding, but other bears pass through regularly due to their penchant for the thick bottomland hardwood and well-preserved swampy areas of the post.

"There are maybe four to five resident animals now, but I hope there will be more in the future," he said.

Magnolia Point group does First Coast Heart Walk

GREEN COVE SPRINGS -- Fifty-one residents of Magnolia Point Golf & Country Club participated Sept. 24 in The American Heart Association's annual fund raiser to support research and education in the fight against heart disease.

A resident of this Green Cove Springs community arranged for their participation to take place within their gated community rather than asking walkers to drive to Jacksonville - the primary walk location. And residents agree that holding the walk right at home contributed to the success of their turnout. Residents walked for heart health with the choice of a one-mile route or a two-mile route winding through their community. Eloise Burman and Debbie Brown, organizers, are proud to announce that their residents raised $3000 in donations and pledges. With a little front-end work and a generous donation of cookies, pastries, and coffee from their Clubhouse management and staff - it all successfully came together. And the best part is knowing that these individuals stepped up to be a part of the solution to the number one killer of Americans. Going forward, Magnolia Point residents and walk organizers hope other local communities will be encouraged by their success and will plan similar participation for their friends and neighbors when the opportunity to participate comes around.

Community Hospice plans new resale shop

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK -- Community Hospice of Northeast Florida is working on a new resale shop at 680 Blanding Blvd.

The 6,000-square-foot retail space will have departments for furniture and home décor, clothing and accessories for women, men and children, jewelry, art-work and collectibles, electronics and appliances, linens and housewares, books, holiday décor, patio/outdoor furnishings similar to the current Community Hospice Thrift Shop on Beach Boulevard in Jacksonville.

David Purcell, a Clay County resident with 25 years of retail experience, will serve as retail manager to oversee the two Community Hospice Thrift Shop locations, Community Hospice said.

"This prime location is just a few blocks north of our Community Hospice Administrative Office in Orange Park, in the heart of the area's shopping corridor -- and a great place to shop, donate and volunteer.

Get a bargain while spending for a good cause," said Sherry Hogan, associate executive director for the Community Hospice Foundation, who is coordinating the operations.

All proceeds benefit Community Hospice of Northeast Florida, a non-profit organization providing "quality of life care" for adults and children with advanced illness in our community since 1979. Serving more than 1,200 patients each day in five counties, Community Hospice cares for more than 800 patients and their families each year in Clay County alone.

Individuals can help by donating gently used items today to help fill the new store with merchandise for the grand opening and beyond. For large item pick-up, call (904) 998-1718.

Community Hospice also is seeking volunteers from the area to assist with store operations for all shifts to cover expanded store hours. Training is provided.

Go online www.communityhospice.com/get-involved/volunteer, or call (904) 407-7064 to apply.

Hospice care leading all healthcare deliveries

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK – What has had the biggest impact on healthcare delivery over the past 30 years? The answer might surprise you.

But according to healthcare professionals responding to a Modern Healthcare magazine survey, hospice care was selected as the most impactful by an overwhelming majority of voters.

“These results mirror at a national level what we have seen in Northeast Florida,” said Susan Ponder-Stansel, president and CEO of Community Hospice. “Hospice care now is recognized as an important part of the healthcare continuum. There is an understanding of the expertise that hospice brings in pain and symptom control, and case management at the end of life.”

Modern Healthcare asked its readers to vote online for the person, event, organization or innovation—64 candidates in all—that they thought had the biggest impact on healthcare delivery during the past three decades. Hospice care earned 1,968 votes, compared with the second place selection—Institute for Healthcare, which received 682 votes. Modern Healthcare is a leading source of healthcare business and policy news, research, information, and important healthcare events and trends.

Hospice care began in the United States in the late 1970s as a volunteer-driven, grassroots movement. Today, hospice care is an integral part of the healthcare landscape, caring for more than 1.5 million patients nationwide every year. In 2005, the number of hospice providers in the U.S. topped 4,000.

Locally, during the past 32 years, Community Hospice has provided compassionate care to more than 70,000 patients and their families in Northeast Florida. Licensed in 1979 as the first non-profit hospice provider to serve Baker, Clay, Duval, Nassau and St. Johns counties, Community Hospice initially was staffed by volunteers caring for patients in their homes.

Winn-Dixie stores again offer annual flu shots

Special to Clay Today

JACKSONVILLE — Winn-Dixie Stores has announced that flu vaccinations are now available in all Winn-Dixie in-store pharmacies to help prepare guests for the upcoming flu season. Guests will receive the flu vaccine for the discounted rate of $24.99 when purchased using their Winn-Dixie Customer Reward Card.

“The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that people get a flu vaccine as soon as it becomes available in their community,” said John Fegan, vice president of pharmacy for Winn-Dixie. “With the flu season approaching, our skilled and knowledgeable pharmacists are now able to offer guests quick and easy options to receive the flu vaccine while grocery shopping – either on-the-go or by appointment. This is one of many benefits people will find at their neighborhood Winn-Dixie.”

Guests can secure a flu shot in any Winn-Dixie in-store pharmacy on a “walk-in” basis or can schedule an appointment online at www.winndixie.com/pharmacy.

Winn-Dixie pharmacies will offer a regular flu shot approved for people ages 6 months and older and a high-dose flu shot approved for people 65 and older. Certain age restrictions may apply in some states regarding pharmacist administration of vaccinations. Guests are encouraged to see their neighborhood Winn-Dixie pharmacist for details.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the best method of protection against the flu is vaccination and it is recommended that all people age six months and older receive a flu vaccination every year. In addition, Winn-Dixie pharmacists recommend washing your hands frequently; wiping down telephones, remote controls, and door knobs with disinfectant; and keeping tissues handy to stop the spread of viruses.

Winn-Dixie offers guests a wealth of health benefits and services including daily free blood pressure checks, fast and easy prescription refills and/or transfers, convenient refills through the Ready Refill program, low-cost health screenings such as cholesterol or diabetes, and female and male wellness screenings. For information about the Winn-Dixie pharmacy or to schedule a specific appointment time with a certified Winn-Dixie pharmacist this year, guest can visit www.winndixie.com/pharmacy.

Who cares?

In Romans 8: 31, Paul states; “If God be for us who can be against us?” It’s not that Satan will stop his attack, what it is, is that he can’t win the battle. We can be victorious as long as we continue to put our hope and trust in God. The Apostle really nails this down for us in Romans 15: 13, where he writes: “may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him, that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.” The other two key words we see here are joy and peace. These are not just fluff words or fleeting emotions experienced momentarily. Paul says those who hope and trust in God, will be filled with joy and peace.

In John 15: 1-17, Jesus clearly ties our fullness of joy to our obedience of the scriptures, in particular His command to love one another. It goes without saying, when we love one another our actions and reactions are controlled by something other than the “normal human reaction” to situations and occurrences.

The reason for this is found in the characteristics of love. In 1st Corinthians 13: 4-8 Paul gives us an open book look at love. “Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self seeking, it is not easily angered, and it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, and always perseveres. Love never fails.”

Let’s face it if all of the characteristics of love are at work in your life, you have peace. The kind of peace that can only come from God, It’s the peace Jesus spoke of in John 14:27. “Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you, as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.”

When Jesus is the Lord of our life, we can bring all of our cares to Him, because “HE CARES” for us. So the next time someone says, who cares, go ahead and tell them.

Author visit

Green Cove Springs Junior High students recently had a chance to have "Tea Time with Glennette Tilley Turner." Turner is the author of the award-winning book, "Fort Mose: And the Story of the Man Who Built the First Free Black Settlement in Colonial America." Turner talked about her life growing up in Florida and Illinois and how she became an acclaimed author and historical researcher. She also discussed the importance of Fort Mose (the first free black settlement in St. Johns County). Over the years, Turner has focused much of her research efforts on the Underground Railroad. "I am truly excited that we can provide students with the opportunity to hear from such authors as Mrs. Turner," says Karen Robinson, Instructional Media Services Specialist. At the end of Mrs. Turner's presentation, the students received an autographed copy of her book.

MHS players face suspension over brawl

By Horace Davis
Sports Editor

ORANGE PARK – Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA) officials will be busy reviewing statements and videotapes following a postgame brawl after Leon High School held off a late rally to defeat the visiting Middleburg Broncos 17-14 last Friday night in the emotionally charged District 3-6A opener in Tallahassee.

The brawl erupted during the standard postgame player handshake line which all teams do following high school games, however, a heated discussion began with a player from each team that quickly escalated into an all out brawl which sent Middleburg assistant coach Daniel Pearce to a local hospital -- Pearce required two staples near the top of his head to close a gash received during the melee according to Broncos head coach Rob Justino.

"We have sent letters of inquiry to both schools and they have three days to respond," Corey Sobers, Public Relations Specialist of the FHSAA said on Monday afternoon. "Right now we are awaiting further information and videotapes that we will review, a decision will be rendered once all the information is gathered."

"I saw one of our players and a Leon player in a heated discussion and the coaches separated them," Justino said. "The next thing I saw was coach Pearce on the ground bleeding from his head -- all of my attention was directed to him after that."

According to the Tallahassee Democrat, Leon's local paper, multiple sources who have viewed video footage of the brawl including Leon County Schools athletic director Ricky Bell, said he expects a minimum of 5-7 players from both teams to face disciplinary action.

"If they {Leon players} were fighting, it will be a six-week suspension," Bell told the Democrat. "If they threw or used their helmets, it will be a year," he added.

Middleburg athletic director Allan Powers, who was reviewing the video footage late Monday into Tuesday night, confirmed that multiple suspensions will be handed down.

"There will definitely be a handful of suspensions on our team as well," Powers said on Tuesday morning. "I'm still in the process of reviewing the video and expect to have something back to the FHSAA later today or first thing Wednesday morning.

According to FHSAA rules, which states, if a player leaves the bench area during a fight, they will be penalized, but this situation could possibly be viewed differently since it was a postgame handshake and players had already left the bench area.

"The whole event ruined what really was a very good ballgame," Justino said. "We will deal with our kids accordingly but I don't believe we were the aggressors, I think the kids responded after seeing their coach down."

Mayhem broke out following Middleburg's 17-14 loss in Tallahassee to Leon High School which was the district opener for both teams and multiple suspensions are expected to be levied by the FHSAA.

Panthers rally late to knock Orange Park

By Dennis Bergin, Correspondent

ORANGE PARK - The Ridgeview Panthers have had very little success playing at Orange Park's Hoyt Cotney Field, but that all changed Friday night thanks to the passing combination of Josh Moore to Mitchell Galloway. Moore connected with Galloway on a 25-yard touchdown pass with 1:32 left in the game to rally Ridgeview to a 14-10 come-from-behind victory over Orange Park in a District 3-6A contest.

"All the work over the summer has really paid off for us," Ridgeview head coach Tom Macpherson said. "We played every down and never gave up over the last two games. We are now 1-0 in the district and our next two district games are at home."

Orange Park took the opening drive and marched 84 yards in 13 plays culminating on sophomore running back Eddie Fuller's 14 yard TD run with 5:36 left in the opening quarter to jump out to a 7-0 lead. Fuller, who rushed for a game-high 144 yards on 19 carries, led the Raiders (1-2, 0-1) potent rushing attack which amassed 330 yards on 58 attempts.

On the ensuing kick-off Ridgeview's Divine Maloney was hit by the Raiders Austin Logue forcing a fumble that was recovered by Brandon Kuhn on the Panther 29 yard line. But four plays later Ridgeview defensive back Chris Hepburn intercepted a pass at the Ridgeview 16 to thwart the drive.

"In years past we have given up," Macpherson said. "We withstood that initial drive and turnover, we turned our night around."

The game was played in a steady soaking rain for the first three quarters limiting Ridgeview's potent passing attack. Ridgeview drove 52 yards in 14 plays to tie the game at 7-7 on Moore's one-yard keeper on fourth-and-goal with 9:31 left in the opening half.

"The conditions were awful to throw in," Ridgeview junior Josh Moore, who completed 8-of-18, passes for 58 yards said.

Orange Park drove to the Ridgeview 21-yard line on its opening drive of the fourth quarter and settled on a 37-yard field goal from placekicker Connor Lofton to gain a 10-7 advantage with 3:21 left in the game. The Raiders drive featured 11 straight runs that lasted 6:01 as they held a 30 to 18 minute advantage in time of possession.

Ridgeview, which started their game-winning drive on their 20-yard line, did something that they usually don't do. The Panthers rushed eight times for 44 yards led by senior running back Vic boring who rushed five times for 35 yards on the game-winning drive.

Moore then hooked up with Galloway on a 25-yard TD pass on a perfectly thrown post-corner route to move out to a 14-10 lead with just 1:32 left in the game.

"We came out in power right and ran the ball right up the gut," Macpherson said. "In the past we could never run the ball against Orange Park. This is a tribute to all the off-season workouts in the weight room."

The Raiders drove to the Ridgeview 16-yard line with three seconds left in the game on several effective double hand-offs between Fuller and Erick Hayward (19 rushed, 108 yards).

On fourth down from the 16 yard-line Orange Park quarterback Taylor Muth was stopped by Galloway at the Ridgeview five-yard line as time expired sealing the win for the Panthers.

Blue Devils hold off Wildcats for big district win

By Horace Davis,
Sports Editor

GLEN ST MARY - The (3-1, 1-0) Clay Blue Devils scored 28 second quarter points and survived a Baker County second half rally to edge the host Wildcats 28-27 in the District 3-5A opener which was played Mon., Sept. 26 after the game was postponed on Friday..

The teams also had to deal with lengthy delays during the game as rain and lightning peppered the area causing an hour-long delay at halftime after Clay built a 28-7 lead behind four rushing touchdowns of dynamic duo of Francy Emile and Joe Cooper.

Emile rushed for 93 yards and scored on runs of 4, 1 and 24 yards, while Cooper pierced the Wildcats defense for a game-high 151 yards and a TD run of eight yards.

"Both Francy and Joe had big first halves," Clay head coach Josh Hoekstra said. "They had a hard time controlling them, plus our offensive line did a good job of creating space."

However, following the long delay after halftime and another delay of almost 40 minutes during the third quarter, Baker County found some success, while the Blue

Devils defense tried to hang on for the win.

"It was tough coming back following the long delays after getting stretched out," Hoekstra said. "They {Baker County} came out much more physical in the second half but our defense made enough plays for a big win."

Bolles survives Golden Eagles second half rally

By Horace Davis
Sports Editor

JACKSONVILLE — The undefeated Bolles Bulldogs held off a furious second half rally by the visiting Fleming Island Golden Eagles who trailed the storied program led by coach Corky Rogers 24-7 with 6:40 left in the third quarter of Friday night's non-district contest.

It took a sack by Bulldogs athlete DJ Stewart of Golden Eagles QB Dante Roberts in the end zone with 1:16 remaining after (3-1) Fleming Island had closed the lead to 24-22 with 3:56 to go in the game.

Bolles School quarterback Colby Peters (14) is sandwiched after a short gain by Fleming Island's Cameron McCurry (1) and Ervin Alston (13) in Bolles 26-22 win over the Golden Eagles.

"That's a heck of a team coach Webb has over there," Rogers said. "We knew it was going to be tough. We played hard but we made too many mistakes for my liking, I'm sure Webb will say the same thing on his side as well. However, we have a resilient bunch of guys on this team and they hung in there."

A series of early miscues, including a blocked 37-yard field goal attempt by Fleming Island kicker Brandon Behr and a perfectly executed fake punt by Bolles helped the Bulldogs build a 10-0 lead with 11:12 remaining in the first half.

"We made a bunch of critical errors tonight," Fleming Island coach Jeff Webb said. "Especially on the blocked field goal and the fake punt, plus there was more hidden yardage we lost in the return game too."

Fleming Island finally got on the board when the Roberts connection of QB Dante and receiver Brontrell hooked up on a 17-yard fade pattern for the touchdown.

Dante Roberts completed 13 of 29 passes for 196 yards; eight of those passes went to Brontrell for 108 yards and two touchdowns.

But Bolles responded with a touchdown just before halftime as the Bulldogs were successful on fourth-and-goal as running back Tim Betros found the end zone from seven yards out.

Bolles took their largest lead of the night by virtue of Dante Roberts' first interception of the season. Bulldogs freshman Trenton McGee picked him off in the middle of the field, one play later, Betros again found the end zone, this time from 13 yards out and a 24-7 lead with 6:40 left in the 3rd quarter.

In the game, both teams had rallied from deficits, Leon responded with two touchdowns to take a 17-7 lead after trailing 7-3, but the Broncos pulled to within 17-14 after Tyler McCormick recovered a blocked punt and returned it six-yards for a touchdown - - less than three minutes remained at this point.

Middleburg wasn't finished yet - - they then attempted an onside kick that one official ruled the Broncos recovered, but a second ruled that Leon had possession. Following a lengthy delay, officials gave the ball to Leon, much to the dismay of Justino and the Broncos' sideline.

"I was almost sure we recovered that kick," Justino said. "The official closest to the play ruled we recovered but I guess the other saw it differently."

Nevertheless, Middleburg's defense forced a Leon punt and the offense drove into field goal range with the clock ticking down.

Middleburg's comeback attempt failed when quarterback Rick Lassiter threw a pass that was intercepted by a Leon defensive back inside his five-yard line and returned for a touchdown, however, a penalty flag nullified the touchdown to end the game - - and the fireworks began.

"We will let them {Leon County Sheriff's Dept. and the FHSAA} deal with this," Justino said. "I don't know if our kids could have done anything differently, they were trying to protect themselves."

Leon County Sheriff's Office Lt. James McQuaig said a criminal investigation is ongoing, and that his department has turned a copy of the video over to the Leon County School District for an administrative review.

"No arrests have been made at this time," he said. "No timetable has been set" for completion of a criminal investigation.

McQuaig said the injury to Middleburg assistant coach Daniel Pearce was the only one he was aware of that required a trip to a local hospital.

Justino said Leon High principal Rocky Hanna and head coach Bill Ragans apologized to him and the coaching staff following the brawl.

Attempts to reach Leon coach Bill Ragans were unsuccessful and messages were not returned.

Middleburg travels to Menendez this Friday night while Leon is on a bye this week.

ments Fleming Island began to stage their comeback and it began with the defense that held Bolles to just 3 first downs in the half - - two by virtue of Golden Eagle penalties.

"I was very happy with the effort defensively," Webb said. "I think the defensive line did a good job of controlling the play."

Darius Dornes, Jonathan Jean, Austin McCollum and Donal Elam spent plenty of time in the Bolles backfield as Fleming Island crowded the line daring junior QB Colby Peters to throw the ball.

Peters was making his second varsity start in place of injured starter Austin Kennedy.

"We may have played it little closer to the vest tonight but Colby made the plays when we needed him to," Rogers said. "Remember he was just making his second start at this level."

Peters passed just nine times completed six of them for 73 yards but he converted two key third downs - - one through the air and once via his legs.

While the defense shutdown Bolles and took advantage of safety on a botched snap from punt formation, Dante Roberts led two long drives of ten and eight plays that culminated in a TD pass to Brontrell Roberts and seven-yard TD run by Kent Minor - - but in the end Bolles made the play when they needed it most.

"It was a great effort; unfortunately we made too many mistakes. Bolles is a great team, and they executed better than us," offensive coordinator Evan Scharf said. "But I was proud of the way our guys fought back and gave everything they had up until the very end. We learned that this team is capable of playing with anyone, which is great because we are going to be facing some very tough competition for the rest of the season."

Registration for YMCA youth soccer kicks off

Special to Clay Today

ORANGE PARK - Soccer season continues for youth in Orange Park as Bob Dye Clay YMCA in partnership with The First Assembly of God Church is kicking off a Fall Soccer Super Sports League. The league is open to children ages 4-9. Priority registration began September 19 and ends on October 13.

The YMCA explains that they are happy to provide local youth with an opportunity to build upon their soccer skills during the fall.

"We're excited to offer the local youth the opportunity to grow and develop their soccer skills with the Y during the fall," said senior program director John Williams.

Families are invited to register their children to compete in one of the three Fall divisions U6, U8, and U10. Practice will begin on October 17 and the season will begin October 29. Games will be played once a week until the season's end—the weekend of December 17.

For more information contact the YMCA at (904) 272-4304 or foca@first-coastymca.org.

Blue Devils

Baker County quarterback Thomas Sirk threw for 290 yards and led the (2-1, 0-1) Wildcats on scoring drives that culminated with him finding the end zone from 1 and three yards out.

Sirk also connected with Josh Gaskins on a 15-yard TD pass after he had already hooked up with Kendrick Singleton on a 74-yard scoring strike to open the game.

"Our defense knew that we had to control Sirk and Singleton," Hoekstra said. "Outside of that first play of the game they did a great job and were the difference tonight. Coach Stilanou {defensive coordinator} also did a good job of calling the defensive plan."

The Blue Devils benefitted from eight Wildcat turnovers, four on interceptions and four via fumble recoveries.

"Even though they came out more physical during the second half our guys on defense did a great job of being in the right place and getting their hands on the ball to create turnovers," Hoekstra said.

Dallas Julian picked off two of Sirk's passes, while Austin Huggins and Justin Weltzbarker recorded the others.

After Baker County had closed the Clay lead to 28-27 the Wildcats opted to go for the two-point conversion and the win, however, Blue Devils linebacker Leandre Sparrow stuffed the Wildcats runner to preserve the win.

"Leandre and Jordan Brown led the defensive charge," Hoekstra said. "The defensive line and the defense as a whole executed very well tonight. Leandre made the game saving play."

Clay is off this week and return on Oct. 7 for another district contest against Terry Parker at home.

"It was nice to finally finish a game off," Hoekstra added. "It's also a nice win going into a bye-week and a chance to get a few guys healthy before another district game."

Keystone, Oakleaf, SJCD drop district openers

By Horace Davis
Sports Editor

ORANGE PARK – Last Friday presented district opening night for Clay County high school football teams and for Keystone, Oakleaf and St. Johns Country Day School, the openers did not go well, each lost on the road.

Even though the stats were relatively even when the Indians traveled to central Florida to face Mount Dora, they suffered a 35-6 defeat in its 4-4A opener.

Mount Dora (2-2) outgained the Indians by just 50 yards and had just one more first down, but the Hurricanes pitched a shutout until the final play of the game when tight end Matthew Dickinson took a short pass from Evan Harvey on a crossing route and scored a 33-yard touchdown.

"We just didn't get the job done," Keystone coach Chuck Dickinson said.

Harvey completed 8-of-18 passes for 112 yards, while running back Alex Gonzales gained 110 yards on 22 carries. However, the Indians (1-2) always seemed to have a play that would kill a drive before it could end with points.

"We'd either have a penalty or a missed blocking assignment, or get a sack or something like that," Dickinson said.

Dickinson said he thought his defense played well, though it did give up some big plays. He attributed that to the offense's inability to control the ball, especially in the first half, when the Indians gained 69 yards and two first downs.

Still, the Indians had a chance to go into the half down only 14-0 before giving up a scoring drive that started with approximately two minutes left in the half.

"We kept the defense on the field way too much in the first half," Dickinson said.

The Hurricanes widened their lead by scoring on a 54-yard run on the first play from scrimmage in the second half.

Matthew Dickinson's touchdown was his only reception, while receiver Logan Stanley had two receptions for 43 yards. Receiver Chase Julius had three catches for 34 yards.

Keystone returns home for a non-district contest against the Villages (3-0) this Friday.

The same fate awaited Oakleaf in District 3-6A, when they traveled to Lake City and were defeated 66-7 by Columbia, while St. Johns Country Day School in 2-2A, traveled to St. Augustine and were shutout 30-0 by St. Joseph Academy.

Flashes receiver OJ Williams returned the opening kickoff 100 yards and the (0-2, 0-1) Spartans never recovered.

St. Johns was held to less than 100 yards of offense as senior QB Joseph Chiafair completed just 3 of 14 pass attempts for 50 yards and JP Steinmetz rushed for 4 yards on 3 carries and Drew Petty gained 10 yards on 9 attempts.

MHS students earn black belts

MIDDLEBURG - Middleburg Martial Arts School recently welcomed students from Middleburg High School to their first belt graduation after the students were taught Tang Soo Do, a Korean martial arts classes by Master Jan Lappin, 4th degree Black Belt, as a community service.

The training goes beyond the physical aspect and has an overall impact on lives. Parents stated that they had seen improvements including better grades. This is also one of the reasons the teachers like having the martial arts classes.

Middleburg Martial Arts puts an emphasis on grades and boasts an impressive 82% of their students that are AB honor roll or above. Teachers have also stated the students were taught to respect themselves, peers, parents and teachers. The students learned new skills, including how to protect themselves, control their actions and use words rather than physical force.

Family members were on hand to share in this special moment that their children had worked to achieve. Everyone was treated to a special demonstration by Middleburg Martial Arts Black Belts featuring breaking and weapon techniques.

Penney Farms

Town honors Knott for his many contributions

Jean Abell,
Correspondent

PENNEY FARMS -- It was Oct. 5, 1989, when Frank Knott started work at PRC. His wife, Joy, was already here, directing Penmor Place, the new assisted living facility that supplemented the older Beyer House. Beyer House was then directed by a PRC resident or couple; Joy was the first director brought in from outside the Community. Frank had already retired from the Navy, where he had attained the rank of Master Chief.

Frank was hired as Director of Maintenance, with 7 or 8 employees under him. He retires as Director of Buildings and Grounds and Safety Director, responsible for 42 people. He has always tried to hire the most capable workers available and insisted that they be well paid. During his tenure the Quad experienced a major renovation; the Pavilion for Health Care (and recently the new addition for Suncrest Rehabilitation), Barrows Hall, and the Commons Building were all constructed. Penmor Place received an addition that doubled its capacity; Beyer House underwent two additions. Hagen Care Center has been improved and extended. Three new cottages have been added, plus new duplexes on the south side of Caroline Blvd. Almost every cottage apartment has been renovated. Two- and three-room apartments have been created in the Quad. Closed circuit television has been provided to the Pavilion, Penmor, Beyer House, Hagen Care Center, the Quad, and the Commons.

The expansion of the Department requires several "chiefs" to replace Frank. The new Department Head is Paul White. Steve Knott, Frank's son, is now in charge of Capital Projects, while Wayne Boone designs new construction. Jim Moore directs Central Purchasing and Safety. Trina Pohalski continues to supervise Housekeeping.

With Frank's retirement approaching on Oct. 3, a party was held in his honor in Barrows Hall on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 21. "Everybody" came – residents dressed for the occasion and employees taking a little time off work to celebrate their boss. PRC Association President Gordon Danielson hosted the event and thanked the committee that had organized it: Vi Anderson, Luana Golinski, Adrienne Whitaker and Wayne Boone.

A procession of men made their way to the platform: PRC President Bob Rigel, Housekeeper Kim Macomber gives retiring Frank Knott a carving of a giraffe as a gift.

Frank himself, Jim Moore, Billy Kersey, Paul Bue, and Gordon. Each had a chance to address the assembled crowd. Town Council Member Paul Bue read a proclamation made by Mayor Paul DeVille at the recent Town Council meeting, recognizing Frank's contributions in planning and disaster emergency operations for both PRC and Penney Farms, also his "outstanding service" to the Town Planning and Zoning Commission and the Fire Department. Bob Rigel appreciated Frank's expertise in each of the areas his work covered: carpentry, electricity, plumbing. Jim Moore celebrated "a life dedicated to service" and Frank's success in "an exceedingly difficult job done extremely well." He testified that Frank listened carefully and thoughtfully to all that was said. Billy Kersey had first worked under Frank as volunteer Fire Chief at Station 44. He remembers many things Frank has taught him, for example, "A wire always shows its potential voltage." Billy will never forget what he's learned from Frank.

When residents were invited to speak, 10 different men and women stood to the microphones. Sid Rooy appreciated Frank's cooperation with the P.E.T. project. Janis Dyke "appreciated Frank even when she didn't agree with him." Jim Bailey said how useful and helpful he was with Arts and Crafts. Yvonne Vinkemulder had observed that Frank often came as first responder to anyone who needed help. Rex Lindemood expressed gratitude for all Frank had done for his wife's parents, aunt, and sister, the Simonson family, when they were residents here. Gary Brown appreciated Frank's advice on safety issues. "He brought us down to earth." Teddy Staser remembered how he had brought extra staff to stay on campus when a big storm was threatening.

Finally Frank's turn came. He confessed how he had first thought, "All these old people – and me in my 40's!" He found these old people to be "very loving, cooperative, educated, dedicated human beings. I've tried to operate as if we are all family – all God's children," he declared. He remembered in particular Mully Simonson and testified, "Because of him I'm leaving here a much better man." And he addressed his staff: "Every one of you makes me look good."

MC Danielson led in a prayer before Frank and Joy, the employees, and everyone else helped themselves to refreshments, which included two cakes, one decorated with fish swimming and the legend, "We're waiting for you," and the other showing a mobile home ready to hit the road.

Frank had been asked, "What are you going to do with all this free time?"

He answered diplomatically, "Whatever Joy tells me."

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Clay County Sheriff Rick Beseler and J. Blair Fishburn, deputy executive director and CFO of the Jacksonville Transportation Authority, hold an appreciation plaque as CCSO crisis negotiator J.P. Murphy stands next to a 40-foot bus JTA donated to the sheriff's office for use as a crisis negotiation command post. The three officials were giving tours on Thursday, Sept. 22 at the CCSO headquarters building. It took a year for CCSO staff to renovate and customize the 12-year-old vehicle, which otherwise would have been sold at auction. The bus is equipped with TV monitors, radios, air conditioning units and a phone system to aid deputies involved in negotiations during hostage situations, suicide threats and other law enforcement activity. Beseler said there is "no way" his department would have been able to afford such a vehicle, and credited his staff for coming up with the idea to approach JTA with the notion of donating a used bus. Three deputies have been trained to drive the vehicle, and a fourth already had the required license.

Police Briefs

Robbery victim shot in head

ORANGE PARK – A robbery victim shot in the head Monday, Sept. 26, at a Park Avenue apartment complex is expected to survive, Orange Park police said.

Detectives are continuing to hunt for a lone male suspect who robbed the victim about 8:45 p.m. at the Jennifer Green Apartments, 741 Park Ave. After taking the victim's cash the suspect shot him in the forehead with a small-caliber handgun, Police Chief James Boivin said.

The victim, who is not being identified, is in fair condition at an area hospital and has been talking to detectives. "It looks like he's going to be OK," Boivin said Wednesday. "The bullet went around in his skull and is still in there. They don't plan to take it out."

A suspect has not been identified but police believe the two men knew each other, he said. Anyone with information about the shooting is asked to OPPD detective Briggs at (904) 278-3008.

Man accused of 26 burglaries

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – A Keystone Heights man is charged with stealing copper wiring from air conditioning units at 23 homes in Keystone Heights.

Kenneth David Clifton Jr., 32, is also accused of burglarizing three Middleburg homes over the course of several months earlier this year to get the copper wiring, according to Clay County Sheriff's Office arrest reports. The thefts totaled more than $171,000, the Sheriff's Office said.

Kenneth Clifton Jr.

In the case of one Keystone Heights home, Clifton and a co-defendant are accused of taking a $3,000 AC unit and causing more than $1,000 damage to the house wiring, the report says. The report says Clifton, who faces more than a dozen felony charges of burglary and grand theft charges, was cooperative and apologetic when arrested by Clay County detectives, the report says.

Jason Lee Maples, 29, is being sought on a warrant for his alleged involvement in the thefts, the report says.

Female driver blows powder

ORANGE PARK – A Clay County sheriff's deputy became suspicious of a female driver during a traffic stop when she appeared to place something in her mouth and begin chewing quickly.

The deputy's suspicions were confirmed during the Sept. 21 stop in the 200 block of Blanding Boulevard when the woman refused to look at him and began gagging, according to a Sheriff's Office arrest report.

The woman, whose Mercedes sedan was stopped shortly after midnight because it had expired tags, then began blowing yellow powder out of her mouth and onto the center console. Asked to explain the powder the woman mumbled incoherently and continued to gag, the report says.

Suspecting the woman was attempting to eat illegal drugs, deputies called Clay County Fire Rescue personnel, who checked out the woman and determined she would be OK. The powder was later confirmed to be Percocet, the report says.

Brooke Shiree Shirley, 28, of Jacksonville was charged with tampering with/fabricating physical evidence, a felony, and taken to the Clay County Jail, the report says. She was issued a citation for the expired license plate.

High speed chase ends in crash

MIDDLEBURG – A Jacksonville man is accused of driving an estimated 120 mph down Blanding Boulevard during an unsuccessful attempt to flee police.

The incident began shortly before 2:30 a.m. Sept. 22 in the 500 block of Blanding Boulevard when a Clay County sheriff's deputy saw a white Ford crown Victoria traveling 55 mph in a 45mph zone and then driving onto the sidewalk in the 800 block of Blanding, according to a Sheriff's Office arrest report.

The deputy got the driver to pull over and determined he was wanted on an outstanding warrant, but when the driver was asked to get out of the car he threw the car in gear and sped off southbound. The report says the chase reached speeds of 120 mph in the 1000 block of Blanding, but ended a short distance later when the driver attempted to make a turn at high speed and went into a wooded area.

Lavar Carlos Chaplin, 22, suffered minor injuries in the crash, which also started a small brush fire that was put out by Clay County Fire Rescue. Chaplin is charged with fleeing and eluding a law enforcement officer at high speed, the report says.

Lavar Chaplin

Woman charged with arson

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – A Keystone Heights woman involved in a civil dispute with her estranged husband is accused of intentionally setting fire to a shed containing some of his belongings.

No one was injured in the July 11 fire that damaged a $3,000 table saw and a $400 vehicle rim store in a shed at a home in the 6200 block of Little Lake Geneva Road, according to Clay County Sheriff's Office incident report.

Miriam Eileen Johnson McLeod, 45, is charged with arson of a structure or dwelling, the report says.

A friend of McLeod's told investigators the woman told her she accidentally knocked over a gas can inside the shed. But McLeod's husband, Michael Johnson, said his wife called him to tell him the shed was on fire and that she had taken too much medication, the report says.

Patient thief takes 54 games

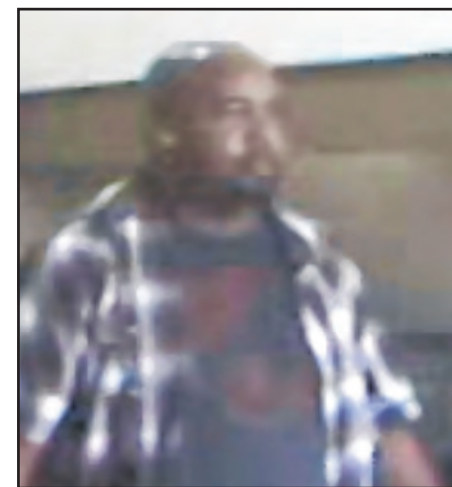

FLEMING ISLAND -- Clay County detectives are looking for a determined thief who painstakingly pried open more than 50 video game containers inside a Walmart store before walking out.

The games, which were taken Aug. 31 at the County Road 220 store, are valued at more than $3,200, according to a Clay County Sheriff's Office incident report.

The male suspect, described as black, bald with a goatee and wearing jeans, and a black and white shirt and short-sleeve T-shirt, entered the store about noon and went to a large display of Madden 2012 and Xbox 360 games. He began taking games to a hardware area where he used a screwdriver to pry open the containers. He also left the 54 empty containers on shelves in other parts of the store, the report says.

The process apparently took about an hour because store workers confirmed the large display was full at noon and completely empty one hour later. They then confirmed no one had made a large purchase of games and began looking a store surveillance video, the report says.

A review of the surveillance tape shows the suspect had the games under other merchandise before stuffing them into his pants and leaving the store where he got into a white four-door vehicle. Several of the empty containers found in hardware, household and grocery areas were taken into evidence to be checked for fingerprints, the report says. The Sheriff's Office release video and still photographs of the suspect, seeking the public's help in identifying the thief.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE
FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, IN AND FOR CLAY COUNTY, FLORIDA
Case No.: 10-2011-DR-000458
Division: F

Leondas M. Russell,
Petitioner
and
Terry John Hall Jr.,
Respondent.

NOTICE OF ACTION FOR DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE

TO: Terry John Hall, Jr.

651 S. Palm Unit B. Lanabra, CA 90631

YOU ARE NOTIFIED that an action has been filed against you and that you are required to serve a copy of your written defenses, if any, to it on Leondas M Fussell, whose address is 1505 Forbes Street, Green Cove Springs, FL 32043 on or before 10-10-2011, and file the original with the clerk of this Court at Clay County Court-house Rm 1035 825 N Orange Ave, Green Cove Springs FL 32043 before service on Petitioner or immediately thereafter. If you fail to do so, a default may be entered against you for the relief demanded in the petition.

Copies of all court documents in this case, including orders, are available at the Clerk of the Circuit Court's office. You may review these documents upon request.

You must keep the Clerk of the Circuit Court's office notified of your current address. (You may file Notice of Current Address, Florida Supreme Court Approved Family Law Form 12.915.) Future papers in this lawsuit will be mailed to the address on record at the clerk's office.

WARNING: Rule 12,285, Florida Family Law Rules of Procedure, requires certain automatic disclosure of documents and information. Failure to comply can result in sanctions, including dismissal or striking of pleadings.

Dated August 29, 2011

STATE OF MINNESOTA
COUNTY OF HENNEPIN
DISTRICT COURT
FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT
FAMILY COURT DIVISION
Dissolution With Children
Court File No.: 27-FA-11-4413

In Re the Marriage of: Marianne Malinda Potter,
Petitioner,
and Harold James Potter, Jr.,
Respondent.

SUMMONS

THE STATE OF MINNESOTA TO: HAR-
OLD JAMES POTTER, JR. 1864 PINETA
COVE DRIVE, MIDDLEBURG, FLORIDA
32068:

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon Petitioner's attorney a response to the Petition which is herewith served upon you within thirty (30) days after service of this Summons upon you, exclusive of the day of service. If you fail to do so, judgment by default will be taken against you for the relief demanded in the Petition.

This proceeding involves, affects, or brings into question real property commonly described as 1864 Pineta Cove Drive, Middleburg, Florida 32068 and legally described as:

LOT 8 BRANNAN MILL PLANTATION U-3
AS REC O R 2092 PG 611

The object of this proceeding is the dissolution of the marriage relationship and such division of the property of the parties as the Court finds just.

NOTICE OF TEMPORARY RESTRAINING PROVISIONS

Under Minnesota Law, Service of this

Summons makes the following requirements apply to both parties to this action, unless they are modified by the Court or the proceeding is dismissed:

(1) Neither party may dispose of any assets except (i) For necessities of life or for the necessary generation of income or preservation of assets, (ii) By an Agreement in writing, or (iii) for retaining counsel to carry on or to contest this proceeding;

(2) Neither party may harass the other party;

(3) All currently available insurance coverage must be maintained and continued without change in coverage or beneficiary designation; and

(4) Parties to a marriage dissolution proceeding are encouraged to attempt Alternative Dispute Resolution pursuant to Minnesota Law. Alternative Dispute Resolution includes mediation, arbitration, and other processes as set forth in the District Court rules. You may contact the Court Administrator about resources in your area. If you cannot pay for mediation or Alternative Dispute Resolution in some counties, assistance may be available to you through a nonprofit provider or a Court program. If you are a victim or domestic abuse or threats of abuse as defined in Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 518B, you are not required to try mediation and you will not be penalized by the Court in later proceedings.

NOTICE OF PARENT EDUCATION PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Under Minnesota Statutes, Section 518.157, in a contested proceeding involving custody or parenting time of a minor child, the parties must begin participation in a parent education program that meets minimum standards promulgated by the Minnesota Supreme Court within 30 days after the first filing with the Court. In some districts, parenting education may be required in all custody or parenting proceedings. You may contact the District Court Administrator for additional information regarding this requirement and the availability of parent education programs.

IF YOU VIOLATE ANY OF THESE PROVISIONS, YOU WILL BE SUBJECT TO SANCTIONS BY THE COURT.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the District School Board of Clay County until

2:00pm on Thursday, 6 October 2011, in the Business Affairs Conference Room,
814 Walnut Street, Green Cove Springs,
FL 32043

at which time and place all bids received will be publicly opened and read aloud for furnishing all labor and materials for the construction of:

ORANGE PARK HIGH SCHOOL
RENOVATE/REMODEL WEST CAMPUS

All work shall be done according to the plans and specifications prepared by:

McCULLAR & BOATRIGTH ARCHITECTS, P.A.

590 Wells Road, Suite 1, Orange Park, FL 32073

email all questions to brianb@mbarchitects.us include project number in subject line

Plans are on file and open to inspection at the office of the architect and are available for purchase and on file with the following plan room:

LDI Reproprinting Center

550 Wells Road, Suite 100,

Orange Park, FL 32073

(904) 579-4027 (904) 579-4154 FAX

orangepark@ldireproprinting.com

Prime bidders, who will be submitting a bid to the owner, are required to register with the architect their intention to bid and as a plan holder. Any addenda will be sent automatically (electronically) to the known plan holders. Other delivery methods may be arranged with the architect. Partial sets of drawings and/or specifications are not advised and neither the architect nor owner will be responsible for partial information given to subcontractors by the general contractors. Electronic drawings and specifications will not be distributed.

There will be Mandatory Pre-bid Meeting at the site on 27 September 2011 at 9:00am per Section 00100, Part 9.2. Bidders not attending the pre-bid meeting will not be permitted to submit a bid.

Only contractors having been pre-qualified by the Clay County School District are eligible to submit bids for this project.

Only pre-qualified Contractors should submit bids for this project (Florida Statutes).

DISCRIMINATION: An entity or affiliate who has been placed on the discriminatory vendor list may not submit a bid on a contract to provide goods or services to a public entity, may not submit a bid on a contract with a public entity for the construction or repair of a public building or public work, may not submit bids on leases of real property to public entity, may not award or perform work as a contractor, supplier, subcontractor, or consultant under contract with any public entity, and may not transact business with any public entity.

The owner reserves the right to waive any irregularities and minor technicalities or to reject any and all bids. Each bidder must deposit, with his bid, a bid bond or cashier's check in the amount of five percent (5%) of the base bid price, payable to the owner.

The successful bidder will be required to provide a performance, labor and material bond in the amount of 100% of the accepted bid amount.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within (60) days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

Any actual or prospective bidder who disputes the reasonableness or competitiveness of the terms and conditions of the invitation to bid, contract award, or recommendation for contract award, shall file a notice of protest with the superintendent of schools within 72 hours of receipt of the bid solicitation, posting of the bid tabulations, or posting of the bid award and must file a formal written protest within ten (10) days following the filing of the notice to protest. Failure to observe such timelines will constitute a waiver of proceedings and of right to protest as stipulated in Chapter 120 of the Florida Statutes. The school board requires a protestor to post bond in accordance with Florida Statutes, Section 255.0516 F.S.

Bond Requirement:

Should a contractor wish to protest the bid recommendation, the protestor shall be required to post a bond as follows:

(1) Five percent (5%) of the recommended award for all projects valued less than $500,000.00; and

(2) Twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) for all projects in excess of $500,000.00.

Conditioned upon payment of all cost and fees, which may be adjusted against the protestor, in the administrative hearing. If at the hearing, the school board prevails, it may recover all costs and attorney's fees from the protestor; if the protestor prevails, the protestor shall recover from the school board, all costs and attorney's fees.

Bid tabulations shall be posted at the main office, 900 Walnut Street Green Cove Springs, outside the board's meeting room after the intended recommendation is announced on or about four (4) days of the bid opening and after the board's decision is made. The bid tabulation will remain posted for a minimum period of 96 hours.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the District School Board of Clay County until 2:00pm on Thursday, October 27, 2011, in the Business Affairs Conference Room, 814 Walnut Street, Green Cove Springs, FL 32043 at which time and place all bids received will be publicly opened and read aloud for furnishing all labor and materials for the construction of:

RIDGEVIEW HIGH SCHOOL CAFETERIA EXPANSION - PHASE I CCSB# C-30-10/11

All work shall be done according to the plans and specifications prepared by: BHIDE & HALL ARCHITECTS, P.A.
1329 Kingsley Ave., Suite C
Orange Park, FL 32073 ph 904-264-1919
Email all questions to SCiciora@bhide-hall.com

Plans are on file and open to inspection at the office of the architect and are available for purchase and on file with the following plan room:

LDI Reprinting Center

550 Wells Road, Suite 100,
Orange Park, FL 32073
(904) 579-4027 (904) 579-4154 FAX
orangepark@ldireprinting.com

Prime bidders, who will be submitting a bid to the owner, are required to register with the architect their intention to bid and as a plan holder. Any addenda will be sent automatically (electronically) to the known plan holders. Other delivery methods may be arranged with the architect. Partial sets of drawings and/or specifications are not advised and neither the architect nor owner will be responsible for partial information given to subcontractors by the general contractors. Electronic drawings and specifications will not be distributed.

There will be Mandatory Pre-bid Meeting at the site on October 13, 2011 at 9:00am per Section 00100, Part 9.2. Bidders not attending the pre-bid meeting will not be permitted to submit a bid.

Only contractors having been pre-qualified by the Clay County School District are eligible to submit bids for this project. Only pre-qualified Contractors should submit bids for this project (Florida Statutes). DISCRIMINATION: An entity or affiliate who has been placed on the discriminatory vendor list may not submit a bid on a contract to provide goods or services to a public entity, may not submit a bid on a contract with a public entity for the construction or repair of a public building or public work, may not submit bids on leases of real property to public entity, may not award or perform work as a contractor, supplier, subcontractor, or consultant under contract with any public entity, and may not transact business with any public entity.

The owner reserves the right to waive any irregularities and minor technicalities or to reject any and all bids. Each bidder must deposit, with his bid, a bid bond or cashier's check in the amount of five percent (5%) of the base bid price, payable to the owner.

The successful bidder will be required to provide a performance, labor and material bond in the amount of 100% of the accepted bid amount.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within (60) days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Any actual or prospective bidder who disputes the reasonableness or competitiveness of the terms and conditions of the invitation to bid, contract award, or recommendation for contract award, shall file a notice of protest with the superintendent of schools within 72 hours of receipt of the bid solicitation, posting of the bid tabulations, or posting of the bid award and must file a formal written protest within ten (10) days following the filing of the notice to protest. Failure to observe such timelines will constitute a waiver of proceedings and of right to protest as stipulated in Chapter 120 of the Florida Statutes. The school board requires a protestor to post bond in accordance with Florida Statutes, Section 255.0516 F.S.

Bond Requirement:

Should a contractor wish to protest the bid recommendation, the protestor shall be required to post a bond as follows:

- (1)Five percent (5%) of the recommended award for all projects valued less than $500,000.00; and
- (2)Twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) for all projects in excess of $500,000.00.

Conditioned upon payment of all cost and fees, which may be adjusted against the protestor, in the administrative hearing. If at the hearing, the school board prevails, it may recover all costs and attorney's fees from the protestor; if the protestor prevails, the protestor shall recover from the school board, all costs and attorney's fees.

Bid tabulations shall be posted at the main office, 900 Walnut Street Green Cove Springs, outside the board's meeting room after the intended recommendation is announced on or about four (4) days of the bid opening and after the board's decision is made. The bid tabulation will remain posted for a minimum period of 96 hours.
