Aircraft film uses Clay location

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – A Middleburg High School graduate has written and produced a film shot mostly in Clay County that is expected to be completed in a few months.

Writer-producer Lisa Weseman graduated from Middleburg High School in 1996 and earned a degree in television and film production from the University of Florida in 2000. She moved to Los Angeles to pursue a career in the entertainment industry.

"SOLO" is the story of a close-knit aviation community mourning the loss of an experimental aircraft pilot.

Filming ended Dec. 21. The final cut is expected in March. The first public viewing will be at Sun 'N' Fun Air Show in Lakeland at the end of March.

Weseman said the family element sets "SOLO" apart from other aviation films.

"Though 'SOLO' has plenty of breathtaking flying scenes, this is not a documentary about war planes or a 'Top Gun'-style action film; it's a personal story that goes beyond what happens in the sky and looks at the impact flying has on the people left on the ground," she said.

Most of the filming took place at Haller Air Park, a privately owned air community in Green Cove Springs. The park was

Moonshine in Clay County? Many early settlers brought family's home brew recipes with them

In the years before and after the Civil War, families drifted down from the mountains and rural areas of Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee to make new homes in Clay County. They came as prepared as they were able. Most arrived by wagons and carts piled high with household furnishing trailing precious livestock and tucked away somewhere was the family "receipt" for home brew.

Homemade liquor was simply a part of life like planting, or churning or slaughtering hogs. It was a natural way of using all resources carefully because survival often hung by a thread. Some claimed to use it only as a home remedy because the dangers of abuse were even then clearly known.

Public consumption was only tolerated for men but any quick-witted youth knew that the worst trouble he could find would result from messing in his grandmother's berry wine.

A rural lifestyle never produces cash money to speak off. So --- selling a little shine on the side was seen as a smart move, another way to survive.

Good shine, it is claimed, is 100 to 105 proof and doesn't result in hangovers or cause knee-walking in the wet grass like official bonded whiskey.

The bubbles tell the story. When you gently shake moonshine in a clear mason jar, if it is 100 proof or better, small uniform bubbles will form in clusters, move to the center, connect and hold their shape a moment.

The manufacture of moonshine involved the entire family like any other activity on the farm. Men sometimes hired out to work in the area for pennies a day. Tending the still often became the responsibility of women and children.

Even the smallest youngster knew to give a holler if one of the huge hogs that stayed in the shade under the house rose up and sauntered toward the still because if a hog caught a whiff of fermenting mash it took a broom and a stick to change his mind before the still and the batch were ruined.

Cows, too, will get in a still and give milk that some say smells enough like alcohol to bring a good price.

At any rate, a visit by either meant a ruined a batch of whiskey and precious time spent repairing the still.

Flooding could be a problem, too. Stills were built near creeks for a handy water supply.

In Clay County, especially around the south prong of Black Creek, a sudden rise in water could wash a family's still, hauled over three states, clear to the St. Johns River.

With the passage of Prohibition in 1920, the manufacture of moonshine changed from a small scale family business to big business and attracted an ugly element as dangerous to the old time moonshiners as to the general public.

In the early days when producers took real pride in their product, aging in oak barrels produced the shine popular with Yankee gentlemen tourists.

Internet cafes ordinance gets final BCC nod

By Lisa Kohlbrenner
Staff writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – After months of discussion and a moratorium, County Commissioners approved two ordinances that regulate electronic gaming centers and adult arcades, also known as Internet cafes.

At their Tuesday, Jan. 10, meeting, the commissioners voted 4-1 on the regulatory ordinance, with Commissioner Ronnie Robinson dissenting. On the zoning ordinance, the commission voted 4-1, with Chairman Doug Conkey dissenting.

Doug Conkey

There are currently 13 Internet Cafes operating in the county. The ordinance, which takes effect Feb. 15, would limit the total number of permits issued to 11, with two of those being for pari-mutuel facilities only. This means no additional permits will be issued unless one of the current cafes closes.

Ronnie Robinson

The three cafes operating in Green Cove Springs will also fall under the new county ordinance.

Conkey called the zoning restrictions "overly draconian" compared to county setbacks imposed on other businesses that serve alcohol.

"I felt that based on my discussions at our last hearing on this that the setbacks far exceeded what I thought were the goal of creating regulation and something that went over basic regulation," Conkey said.

Robinson has said he believes the centers promote gambling.

Robinson had said previously that the stringent restrictions make the best of a bad situation.

"I think they are gambling. I have always thought they were gambling since we started this and I still think they are gambling. … The only reason I am not supporting this is because the only thing we are doing is limiting the number and making it where a few people will be able to make a lot more money," he said.

The approved Internet Café ordinance would:

- Limit daily operating hours to 7 a.m. to 2 a.m.
- Limit the number of machines any one business can have to 50
- Restrict signs from anything suggestive of gambling
- Require the businesses to have permits and the machines to be registered
- Sets a minimum age limit of 18 for customers
- Prohibits alcohol, except at pari-mutuel facilities were alcohol is already permitted

Councilman Travis Cummings agreed that the county was "very, very strict" if not one of the strictest in the state on zoning. "I respect chairman Conkey's comments, but I think the public would be hard pressed not to acknowledge that this board has done its due diligence with staff's guidance and consultation," Cumming said.

The zoning requires that these centers be 750 feet from a place of worship and 500 feet from a school (consistent with the county's requirements regarding the sale of alcohol for on-premises consumption).

During the public comment period prior to the vote, Orange Park resident Durwood Smith, a Clay County resident since the mid-1970s, said he is opposed to the cafes. Smith, a retired teacher, said he doesn't think the vote represents the majority of the people.

"I don't think it will be good for the county. I don't think it will be good for the people. And I think they can find something a little more legitimate," Smith said.

The commission also unanimously approved the resolution to incorporate fees for the two ordinances. The county's fees will match the fees in St. Johns County except Clay's fee for electronic gaming promotion centers with five or fewer machines is $1,000, $500 less than in St.

DEP sets priorities for protecting state water, air

By Greg Strong

Director of the Department of Environmental Protection's Northeast District

The Florida Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) is charged with protecting Florida's precious natural resources—our water, land and air—for all of us. As the state's lead environmental agency, we are focusing on three priorities: ensuring a more efficient regulatory process that is interpreted consistently across the state; getting the water right in Florida; and giving Floridians and visitors more opportunities to enjoy Florida's award-winning state parks.

During these challenging times, it's easy to see that environmental protection and economic growth are complementary. Florida's beautiful natural resources are a big reason that people want to visit, live and do business in Florida.

First, we are fostering a culture of exceptional customer service and greater regulatory efficiency. This doesn't mean that we're relaxing our standards. Instead, we're taking a closer look at how we do things, to make sure our processes make sense for both the environment and for the citizens of our state. The Northeast District is now offering targeted training, customized workshops and new online tools that make our processes more easily understood and our work more transparent.

DEP is also committed to getting the water right in Florida. The future of our state's environment and economy depend on the health of our water bodies. For the hundreds of businesses that thrive around the St. Johns River to the residents and visitors who enjoy fishing and boating, we understand that our waterways play a vital role in our way of life here in Northeast Florida.

That's why with the help of numerous local stakeholders and partners, DEP has developed and put in place a series of plans to substantially reduce the level of nutrients and bacteria in the Lower St. Johns River and its tributaries. Thanks to these partnerships, we are removing nearly 6 million pounds of nutrients per year from the river, and many of our area tributaries are already showing 50 percent less bacterial contamination.

These reductions are the direct result of important local projects. For example, Orange Park, Atlantic Beach, Clay County Utility Authority and JEA upgraded their wastewater treatment facilities to reduce nitrogen loads. The U.S. Navy, Green Cove Springs and the City of Palatka are implementing reuse projects that reduce both nitrogen and phosphorous. We have taken important steps to restore our river, and will continue to work with our stakeholders and our community to get the job done.

Finally, we want to give Floridians more opportunities to enjoy the best state park system in the country. Florida's state parks are more than just a source of fun and recreation—they also benefit our state's economy. Last year, more than 200 million visitors headed outdoors to enjoy Florida's natural resources at a state park, contributing nearly $1 billion to our local economies.

From Inverness to Fernandina and from Jacksonville to the Suwannee River, DEP's Northeast District includes 34 parks with something to offer everyone. Special to this area are numerous freshwater springs, which are perfect for canoeing, kayaking or a picnic along the banks. At certain times of the year, you can even take on the challenge of Class III rapids.

DEP is committed to ensuring a healthy environment, and we believe we can effectively protect our natural resources and help support the economy in the process. By focusing on our three priorities of regulatory efficiency and consistency, getting the water right, and getting Floridians outdoors to enjoy the amazing resources that we're working hard to protect, DEP is ensuring that our environment is protected for future Floridians to live, work and play.

Clay high schools get all A's and B's

Clay Today staff

ORANGE PARK – Clay County high schools scored no lower than a "B" in grades released Wednesday, Jan. 4, by the state Department of Education.

Among the five "A" schools was Middleburg, which earned the first top score in the school's history. The school grades are: Clay, A; Fleming Island, A; Keystone Heights, A; Middleburg, A; Oakleaf, B; Orange Park, B; and Ridgeview, A.

At Clay High, principal Pete McCabe, who said he was "on Cloud 9," was bursting with pride as he spent time on Thursday thanking his staff for the hard work.

The faculty had worn "Let's Put the A Back in Clay" shirts that the athletic department had come up with. McCabe said the A is a result of two years of the entire school focusing on improving scores.

"The challenge was to put Clay High back where we know it belongs. … The effort made by the faculty and staff has been nothing short of fantastic," he said.

He also said he was sure the hard work would pay off.

"I knew it would happen. You could see it in their eyes," McCabe said.

Superintendent Ben Wortham also praised the efforts of the school district's employees.

"The long wait was worth it!," said Wortham, referring to delays caused by compiling all the data used by state education officials to grade the schools. "I am extremely pleased with our high school grades and very excited for our administrators, staff, faculty and students. Everyone deserves to be congratulated."

"The high marks reflect FCAT achievement, improved graduation rate and acceleration performance."

Middleburg High School Principal John O'Brian said he was extremely proud of everyone.

"This is an awesome accomplishment and everyone deserves the credit… the students, teachers, support staff and, of course, Mr. David Broskie, who was the Principal here at MHS in 2010—2011.

"All of us worked extremely hard, and we continue to do so, to ensure our students mature both socially and academically," O'Brian said.

selected because of its location.

"We could not have made this film without the people of Haller. Not just because of their amazing flying, but their hospitality and generosity." Weseman said. "The out-of-town crew and local cast kept commenting on the warmth of everyone they met in Haller -- a hallmark of the people of northeast Florida and Clay County."

The film features Clay County residents who are decorated veterans of the Air Force and Navy and leaders in the experimental/home-built aviation movement.

"The people and the place are all rooted in our friends and family in small aviation communities," Weseman told Clay Today.

Air scenes were flown by Haller pilots, who donated their time to the low-budget, independent production. One of those pilots is Lisa's brother, Dan Weseman, an experimental aircraft pilot who is president of Haller and who served as the film's aviation stunt coordinator. He flew the main plane and choreographed the flying scenes.

Dan Weseman, 35, said filming was fun and a new experience for him.

"The movie was interesting from a learning perspective. Everyone watches movies but they don't really see how they are made," he said.

He said flying for the movie was unlike anything he had ever done and it posed challenges at times.

"You have to take into account the sun for lighting or flying in formation with the camera plane. The airplane that was behind usually is in front so I had to look back over my shoulder while flying."

Weseman said he also has to remember not to look at the camera during takes.

He also said it was a good feeling to know the scenes were shot practically in his back yard.

"Living in Clay County, it is cool to see Green Cove Springs utilizes for something like this. It's cool to have your city, town, and county as the focal point."

"SOLO" required about 10 hours of flight time over five days of filming, he said.

Dan, also a Middleburg High grad, got his pilot's license at the age of 17 and has been flying and building planes since then. He has built several experimental planes, including the homebuilt Van's RV-4 featured in "SOLO." He says it was a plane damaged in a tornado that he later bought and rebuilt.

His company, Sport Performance Aviation, is developing a debut kit plane, the Panther.

The crew for "SOLO" captures images of four RV-4 aircraft above Haller Air Park in Green Cove Springs during filming in December.

Weseman and director Lex Sadasivan, who together began creating the script last August, will be returning to Clay next month for some pick-up shots for the film. Both have roots in aviation – their grandparents, fathers, and brothers are all general aviation and experimental pilots.

There will be a private screening for the cast and crew at Haller before the final cut is submitted to various film festivals and air shows, including Jacksonville.

Racing vehicle strikes store

ORANGE PARK – Two Jacksonville men and one of their passengers are facing charges after their vehicles crashed while racing, sending one of thm into the plate glass entrance to a new Blanding Boulevard business Tuesday, Jan. 10.

The accident, which happened around 8:15 p.m. near the Knight Boxx Road intersection, also sent an employee of the Verizon Building, 1325 Blanding Blvd., to the hospital with injuries caused by flying debris, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

A northbound Ford pickup driven by Robert Evans Barnes, 20, was in the outside lane when it sideswiped a northbound 1997 Volkswagon Jetta driven by Robert E. Purdy, 19, the Highway Patrol said. "Both vehicles were racing in an attempt to outdistance the other," the report says.

Barnes' truck veered to the left and sideswiped the Jetta. The truck then veered hard right and went off the roadway into the Verizon building, striking a metal post that hit a desk where employee Gerit E. Preble, 46, was working, the report says. Barnes was not injured.

Other flying debris and glass also injured Preble, who was taken to Orange Park Medical Center in serious condition, the report says.

Barnes, Purdy and a passenger in Purdy's vehicle, Amanda E. Sams, 19, of Middleburg, are all charged with racing on the highway, the report says.

The Verizon Building, located in a small shopping center, had only been open a few weeks.

Woman charged with manslaughter

ORANGE PARK – An Orange Park woman remains jailed without bond on a manslaughter charge involving a drug overdose death in 2011.

Janet Lee Plourde, 38, is expected to make a court appearance Jan. 18 in Clay County Circuit Court following her Jan. 4 arrest on the manslaughter other than vehicle charge, according to court records.

The State Attorney's Office reviewed evidence collected during an Orange Park Police Department investigation into the suspicious death in May of Teresa Elaine Bowater and decided to issue the arrest warrant, Police Chief James Boivin said.

Bowater overdosed on illegal drugs Plourde gave to her and drowned in Plourde's bathtub, the Sheriff's Office said.

Janet Lee Plourde

Clay County court records show Plourde also has previous arrests dating back to 2008 for simple battery, child abuse, aggravated battery domestic and trafficking cocaine as well as two probation violations.

Eluding police charge filed

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – A homeless Jacksonville man who allegedly fled from a Clay County sheriff's deputy while driving a Porsche on Blanding Boulevard has been arrested.

The January 2011 incident began when the deputy saw a silver Porsche with no tag displayed going 56 mph in a 45-mph zone. The deputy attempted to conduct a traffic stop on the vehicle at Wells Road but it sped away at a high rate of speed northbound on Blanding, according to an incident report.

The driver attempted to turn northbound onto Interstate 295 but lost control of the vehicle, which crashed behind a shopping center. The driver, a white male with long hair, ran from the vehicle, jumped a nearby fence and managed to elude capture, the report says.

Johnson's 'timely' bomb fuels FIHS win

Rugged district schedule up for local hoops

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

MIDDLEBURG - Fleming Island's Malik Johnson's three pointer with less than four minutes on the clock fueled a Golden Eagle nine point run en route to a 57-43 non-district win over Middleburg High Friday, Jan. 6, at Middleburg.

"Everybody stepped up tonight to make this happen," said Ivin Gunder, Fleming Island coach. "This was a rough game which we expected because Middleburg is a good team, but we needed a tough test before the districts and they gave us that."

Clay-FIHS go two-three at CHS Rotary Invite

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - Wrestling squads from Clay High and Fleming Island High schools figured the title would be up to them at the annual Clay Rotary Wrestling Invitational, but it was University Christian High School of Jacksonville that upset the apple cart and got the overall team title Saturday, Jan. 7, Behind UC's 235.50 first-place finish, Clay, with senior Jason Wojcik's individual title at 152, grabbed second at 195.50 with Fleming Island, behind titles by Evan McCall and Peter Martorana, got third at 181.

"Give credit to all the teams who came because there was some tough wrestling out there," said Jim Reape, Clay coach. "We were a little beat up from last week, but this kind of meet toughens guys up for the upcoming district, region and state meets."

Reape's reference to last week was the Blue Devils' 15th place finish in Baton Rouge at the 2011 Deep South Bayou Duals, a three-day competition last weekend.

Fleming Island has begun to resurrect its program behind coach Travis Cunningham and his assistant coach, former Clay High four time state champion P.J. Cobbert.

"We had four wrestlers who scored no points tonight," said Cunningham. "You can't compete at a match of this magnitude with the teams that are here without scoring every last point."

Fleming Island's champions, McCall, at 120, and Martorana, at 171, both had tough matches with McCall facing Clay's Dylan Toth, a Class 1A fourth place finisher in 2011, in a tough 7-2 battle.

Martorana matched up against Bolles' Tim Betros for a 7-0 win.

Fleming Island is number two in district 7A-2 with Ed White just a district game up. Middleburg, in district 6A-3, is emerging behind leader Ridgeview High and Tallahassee Leon as a possible spoiler in that district. Middleburg beat 5A-Creekside High 57-45 on Monday in a mild upset of the then 9-2 Knights. On Wednesday, the Broncos defeated Clay.

In Friday's game, Middleburg, led by Malcolm Bernard's 25 points for the night, blasted to a first quarter advantage at 15-11 behind inside rebounding and key baskets by Bernard and guard Elijah Robinson.

"We knew we had to hit them hard under the boards with their big guys down there. We just didn't keep our game up in the second half."

Malcolm Bernard, MHS Center

"We knew we had to hit them hard under the boards with their big guys down there," said Bernard, after the game. "We just didn't keep our game up in the second half."

Middleburg, with just nine players on their rosters, fell victim to Gunder's constant changing of players with fresh legs.

"It's hard to keep the pace we need to keep with our roster," said Mike Harrison, Bronco coach. "I have the hardest working team in the area and they come to play every game."

Middleburg kept the pressure into the second quarter with a five point run to open the stanza as Dimonte Pickett and Bernard bashed the glass for offensive rebounds and layups. After going up to 21-14 with three minutes left in the half, the Bronco basket shut off and Fleming Island got a run behind center Erich Allen and Johnson to take a 22-21 lead at 2:10 to go.

"We took Tejai out of the middle and let him work from the wing with Shaun (Parella) at point guard," said Gunder. "It threw them off because Tejai is so fast and they lost track of Erich underneath."

The third quarter stayed tight, but Johnson launched a three pointer at the buzzer to push the Golden Eagle lead to 37-33 and send the standing room crowd into a frenzy.

In the fourth, Middleburg fought back but could only close to 44-37 before Fleming Island took advantage of Bronco misses to close the game.

After a district run of games that starts January 10 with Orange Park, Oakleaf, Ridgeview (4-0 in district) and ends with Tallahassee Leon (4-1) on January 21, the Broncos (2-2) get a second shot at Fleming Island on January 26.

Fleming Island (4-1 in district) was scheduled to play district leader Ed White (5-0 in district) on Tues., Jan. 10 with First Coast (4-2) on Fri., Jan. 13 at home. St. Johns Country Day School has a shot at a district 3A-3 runnerup slot with some key wins (see story on Spartans on page 14).

Spartan hoops working for first district shot

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

ORANGE PARK - St. Johns Country Day School's boys basketball team has been quietly playing some good basketball, but it is no surprise to second year coach Frank Wickes, who has the Spartans a game or two away from being in the district 3A-3 hunt.

"I would love to have more players interested in St. Johns basketball," said Wickes, who took over last year and produced an 11-11 season with three district wins. "We are building a very solid program and the players we have now are working hard by focusing on competing hard and doing the little things to win."

With St. Francis Catholic and P.K. Yonge leading the distict standings, Wickes sees the program being in the mix with some key wins and some luck.

"We lost Thursday to St. Joseph's Academy and that hurt us because we were both near the third spot in the district and the loss got them a game closer," said Wickes.

St. Johns has a week or so to regroup before hitting a district schedule with P.K. Yonge on January 17 and Oak Hall on January 20.

"If we can get a win or two before the end of the season, then we could be with St. Francis for that third spot that gets us into the district mix and we beat them (42-41) at their place earlier," said Wickes.

St. Johns Country Day School basketball coach Frank Wickes has the Spartans a game or two closer to a possible district playoff spot as the season gets closer to tournament time.

The Spartans are led by Adam Wickes, Wickes' son, who averages 14-16 points per game with Kavan Kirk leading with assists from his point guard position.

Against St. Joseph's, the Spartans fell back early at 13-5 in the first half.

"We couldn't stop their inside man plus three turnovers at point guard against their press didn't help," said Wickes.

In the second quarter, the Spartans got as close as 22-13 behind scores from Wickes and Austin Franklin. Wickes also had an assist to Franklin.

Area lifters off to sectionals

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

ORANGE PARK - Fleming Island's Angie Green will be among the county's top girl weightlifters when high schools statewide head to their district sub-sectional weightlifting meets this Saturday. For area girls, Clay High hosts one subsectional with the Blue Devils, Middleburg and Oakleaf in attendance while Baker County will host a second with Fleming Island, Orange Park and Ridgeview attending. St. Augustine will host a third on Sat., Jan. 28. Weigh-ins are 8 a.m., lifting starts at 10 a.m. The state meet is scheduled for Sat., Feb. 11 at the Kissimmee Civic Center.

According to Craig Nosse, coach of Orange Park's girls team, the top three from each district plus two wild cards will advance to a sectional meet where only the top three advance to the state meet.

"At the state meet, it is just the best in each class against each other with 10 weight classes," said Nosse. "It is very intense."

The Lady Raiders have Lexi Taylor, Telesha Felder and Shawn Kirlew as top contenders.

"But there are many times when someone who just lifts average during the season will heavy their best lifts in one of these sectionals," said Nosse.

For Clay High, with graduated 2010 state champion Brook Baudendistel leaving a legacy at the 110 pound class, the next round of possible champions include returning state meet qualifiers Sarah Belding and Madison Parlet, both also at 110 this year. Clay also had Sabrina Stidd qualify in the unlimited weight class.

Oakleaf coach Joel Brighton likes his chances for a state meet qualifier with a three win start this season and all the girls lifting strong.

"We are off to a 3-0 start this season, with wins over Fleming Island, Ridgeview, and Creekside," said Brighton. "We look forward to finishing strong and getting better as we prepare for sub-sectionals at Clay."

As far as having a chance at Oakleaf, Brighton named Mikayla Davis, Miya Crum, Mary Oliver and Kayla Galarza all as having a legitimate shot.

At Fleming Island, the top contender would be at 199 pounds with Angie Greene improving in strength into the higher weight class.

"I worked out all summer, gained some weight with muscle and want to do a lot better this year," said Greene, who finished 22nd at 183 in 2011.

Fleming Island hopes that a bevy of underclassmen including Rene Gordon, Kayla Futch will join senior Mia Rembert at the state meet.

Also at 183 and right next to Greene at Monday's quad meet was Lady Raider Telesha Felder who finished 27th in 2011.

Investigators later determined the owner had left the car with a mechanic he found through a Craigslist website, the report says. Patrick Lee Forte, 45, was arrested in Duval County on a warrant charging him with fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer. When an investigator met with Forte he had a fresh "buzz" haircut and had a hand injury consistent with a piercing barb from a fence. They also determined Forte used his cell phone in the area about the same time as the 1:10 a.m. chase, the report says.

Cycle crash injures woman

MACCLENNY -- A Middleburg woman was critically injured Dec. 31 when her motorcycle overturned on State Road 228.

Judith Ramona Andrews, 61, was northbound about 11:50 a.m. on a 2005 Harley-Davidson when for an unknown reason she went through a left-hand curve, onto the eastbound shoulder of the road and lost control, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

Andrews, who was wearing a helmet, was taken to Shands Jacksonville following the crash about three miles south of Interstate 10, the Highway Patrol said.

Attacks leave man unconscious

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Two men and a juvenile accused of beating and kicking another man during a party in December until he was unconscious are facing felony battery charges. The attack occurred Dec. 20 at a party held at a home in the 2600 block of Silver Creek Drive. It began when one of the men confronted the 20-year-old victim about "disrespecting his girlfriend." He then punched the victim in the face, and when the victim fell to the ground the man kicked him in the head where he lost consciousness, according to a Clay County Sheriff's Office incident report.

Curtis Kay

The victim was attacked again as he attempted to leave the house and was again beaten until he was unconscious, the report says. The suspects fled and when deputies arrived, the intoxicated victim refused to cooperate. But the victim later agreed to talk to deputies after being taken to the hospital where X-rays showed he had a fractured eye socket as well as fractures to his jaw and cheek, the report says.

Edwin Gustafson

A second man said he was punched in the head after helping the first victim. He said he learned who punched him after seeing a video of the fight, the report says.

Curtis Shelby Kay, 18, is being held on $10,000 bond in jail while Edwin Gustafson IV, both of Green Cove Springs, is being sought on a warrant, the Sheriff's Office. The two men are also suspects in a grand theft at a Fleming Island fast food business, the report says.

Man charged with burglary assault

ORANGE PARK – An intoxicated homeless man who was told to stay away from a residence didn't, and now he's in jail.

The man is accused of smashing through the sliding glass doors at the home in the 800 block of Meadowbrook Drive B shortly after 1 a.m. Jan. 6 and attacking two residents inside, according to a Clay County Sheriff's Office arrest report.

After breaking through the door that was being held closed by a pogo stick, the man struck a male resident in the head with his fists and the two then began fighting. A table was broken during the fight. Both men sustained injuries but they declined medical treatment, the report says.

Tony Darryl Simmons, 45, is charged with assault and battery during a burglary. The report says deputies had been to the home a few hours earlier after being called by a female resident who asked that Simmons be told to stay away from the home, the report says.

Pursuant to Chapter 28-106 and Rule 40C-1.1007, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), the petition must be filed (received) either by delivery at the office of the District Clerk at District Headquarters, P. O. Legal Notice

A petition must comply with Sections 120.54(5)(b)4. and 120.569(2)(c), Florida Statutes (F.S.), and Chapter 28-106, F.A.C. The District will not accept a petition sent by facsimile (fax). Mediation pursuant to Section 120.573, F.S., is not available.

Petitions received by the District Clerk after the District's regular business hours shall be deemed filed as of 8:00 a.m. on the next regular District business day. The right to an administrative hearing and the relevant procedures to be followed are governed by Chapter 120, Florida Statutes, Chapter 28-106, Florida Administrative Code, and Rule 40C1.1007, Florida Administrative Code. Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means the District's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice. Failure to file a petition for an administrative hearing within the requisite time frame shall constitute a waiver of the right to an administrative hearing. (Rule 28-106.111, F.A.C.).

change next time they come in. Fleming Island High's art department donated lots of time and talent to paint murals on the shelter's walls in December. The house paint was donated by various local businesses.

Melissa Taylor-Hicks, AP Art teacher at Fleming Island High, said the group got ideas from looking at work that had been done at other shelters.

"We thought (the shelter) needed color," she said.

Seven students, two graduates, and three teachers worked for several hours almost every day since Saturday, Dec. 10, when the project began. The group took a break for the holidays and then completed the paintings of dogs and cats last week.

Most of the student volunteers are from Fleming Island High's National Art Honor Society, which sponsored the project. Other volunteers are recent grads who heard about the project and wanted to help.

The project came about after a shelter volunteer contacted the school's art department asking if there was anything the students could do to help. Teacher sponsors are Taylor-Hicks, Rick Shimer, and Michael Green.

One volunteer, 10th-grader Trevor Johnson, 15, said the project has been fun. He's been working on the mural of a tree in the shelter's cat room.

"It makes it less dreary to walk in for those people trying to adopt and the people who are working here," he said.

Senior art student Alyssa Dossenback agreed.

"When you first come in and see the empty walls, it's depressing," she said.

The group hopes the art work changes that.
