Eagle Harbor developers get zoning amendment approved

By Debra W. Buehn
Correspondent

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Still fighting the effects of tough economic times, representatives of The Crossings at Fleming Island – generally known as Eagle Harbor – got a vote of approval from the Clay County Commission Tuesday for a rezoning that will allow the developer to market its remaining property in a more flexible manner.

The Commission voted 4-0 to approve the application from East West Partners, owners of Eagle Harbor, to basically rezone several parcels of land in a way that will expand their uses and make them more appealing to buyers. Commissioner Chereese Stewart did not vote on the issue as she had to leave the meeting early.

There are seven parcels of land included, which total around 100 acres. Two of the parcels are on the west side of U.S. Highway 17, while the other pieces are south of Bald Eagle Road along the east

CLAY HILL – In raising his three children, Doug Norman taught them to love each other, be thankful and help others in a time of need.

He learned these time-honored tenets from his parents, Willard "Rabbit" and Marsha Norman, who, along with their son Darren Norman, each live within 100 feet of each other in a tree-shaded enclave in a calm, peaceful setting off Louie Carter Road in Clay Hill.

Life was like that for Doug Norman's sons Austin Norman, 18, and Brandon Norman, 17, until March 9, the day the Norman family's worlds would change forever.

That evening, Doug Norman received

Legal aid office relocates to courthouse

By Mike Ford
Correspondent

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Having recently moved into its new office space inside the Clay County Courthouse, the local extension of Jacksonville Area Legal Aid continues to offer an array of services related to civil law.

The agency offers representation on certain cases and is connected with a network of attorneys who work pro bono, based on the type of case and other criteria by which those needing assistance are screened. In other cases, the agency can offer advice on various matters of family law, bankruptcy, small claims and other matters that do not involve criminal charges.

Deputy Managing Attorney Deanna Blair said most of her caseload involves domestic violence and a couple other issues.

"We spend most of our time on foreclosure defense, consumer debt defense, and assisting victims of domestic violence with obtaining injunctions for protection against domestic violence," she said.

Blair indicated these protections are what most residents might commonly refer to as "restraining orders" that can extend to children, grandparents or others who may live with the person seeking protection.

While consumer debt defense usually involves credit card debt and vehicle repossession, the agency often helps those with another debt that homeowners can face even if their mortgage is paid off.

"What we see in Florida is that homeowners associations are allowed to sue for foreclosure. The homeowner can lose their title and face eviction over homeowner association dues not being paid - even when it's as little as a few hundred dollars," Blair said.

'What we see in Florida is that homeowners associations are allowed to sue for foreclosure. The homeowner can lose their title and face eviction over homeowner association dues not being paid - even when it's as little as a few hundred dollars...'

The associations in question are private organizations with whom a homeowner enters a contract. Most of the time, dues have already gone unpaid for a few months by the time legal aid is contacted. Sometimes, a homeowner may be misinformed and think the dues are paid from escrow, not knowing there is an issue.

"The consequences of not making the payments can be pretty draconian," Blair said, "so we can help get them back on track and get the foreclosure dismissed."

The agency also gets involved with other types, most of which fall under a form of Social Security benefit payments.

"We handle appeals including overpayments, cessations, and age-18-related redeterminations for Supplemental Security Income and Social Security Disability Insurance," Jeanne Blaylock, staff attorney, said. "As a courtesy to Clay County seniors, I also draft simple wills and advance directives. I can also help any residents who qualify for 'food stamps' if they are not getting them."

Blaylock said many of her cases involve Social Security payments being stopped by the government because the recipient hasn't been seeing his or her doctor. Medical records are reviewed on a schedule set by a judge when benefits are initially determined. This is to continue to evaluate the individual's needs, such as whether he or she remains disabled after a successful surgery, for example.

Therefore, if one hasn't been going to the doctor, medical records may not be up-to-date or not address the issue in question, causing the cessation of payments.

"You make a statement by not going to the doctor," Blaylock said. "Most of the time, they aren't going to their doctor from the outset, and it's usually from lack of income. If it's a mental health issue, treatment may be working so they might feel as though they don't need to go to the doctor, but that isn't the majority of these cases."

Legal aid's role is to help make sure those receiving payments are treated fairly. It can also get overpayments reduced and get those who must pay back overpayments on a payment plan.

Blaylock said the other type of case she sees a lot of is when a child turns 18.

"Most of my cessation cases have to do with age-18 determinations because the criteria for children is different than for adults," she said.

One thing that often factors in is that the law requires a student to be a participant in the Individual Education Plan at school when applying for the Vocational Rehabilitation program.

Therefore, there cannot be a gap that would be brought on by high school graduation.

"It's critical for students under an IEP to make contact with a Vocational Rehabilitation office prior to graduation," Blaylock said.

Anyone seeking assistance from the Clay County office of Jacksonville Area Legal Aid can call 904-284-8410, using prompt 7 for the intake specialist, who screens callers and sets appointments with the appropriate staff member.

side of U.S. 17. All are currently vacant.

The BCC vote finished up a process that started about two years ago, when Roger Arrowsmith, representing East West Partners, appeared before the Board of County Commissioners on April 22 on essentially the same subject. At the time, the BCC approved two applications that cleared the way for EWP to change some of the existing parts of the Development of Regional Impact for The Crossings without having to undergo the full DRI review process, which would include state and regional reviews. There were also some DRI "housekeeping" revisions requested and approved in a second application relating to the DRI Development Order.

At the time, Arrowsmith said the applications were necessary to improve the marketability of the properties in question. Most of them at the time were zoned in some form of office or light industrial use and they simply were not moving, he said, and taxes and CDD fees had not been paid for a couple of years. A residential zoning would probably be more attractive, he said.

Arrowsmith returned Tuesday to say that while the rezoning process that was taking place now would normally have been dealt with two years ago following the original applications, EWP decided to "sit tight" and follow up on the zoning items later. One of the reasons for that, he said, was because the developers were going through a bond restructuring.

"So it was kind of put on hold and we just decided to sit tight until we knew that the bond restructuring was actually feasible and it could be worked out and it made some sense," he said.

Arrowsmith also said that "for anyone's information, the way it sits right now is no taxes or CDD fees have been paid on the property for about four years."

"This will give us the ability to open up to other uses, other potential houses will come on some of this and we've had continued interest from other people about different parcels," he said, adding, however, that "nothing has materialized to date."

Even so, Arrowsmith said he believed approval from the county would be a "win-win for everybody."

"This gives the opportunity for the CDD to get fees," he said, adding that "the county will be getting taxes."

While rezoning for most of the parcels did not cause any stir, one parcel – known as Parcel 44 – did generate some questions.

That parcel, which consists of about six acres, sits east of U.S. at the northern entrance to the Publix located at the intersection of Hibernia Road. It backs up to a conservation area but it is at the entrance to the Eagle Crest neighborhood. The new zoning classification it would fall under is BB-2, which would allow for such things as a convenience store and gasoline pumps.

That, said Peter Davis, chairman of the Fleming Island Advisory Committee, might cause some concern to the people living in Eagle Crest.

"Granted, there is a conservation area between this site and that area there but this road is their only road in and out of their neighborhood," he said. "If there was a Race Trac-type gas station, convenience store put on that piece of property that means that would be their entrance to their neighborhood."

The situation was made worse by the fact that the FIAC did not know about the BB-2 rezoning classification until it was too late to notify any of the residents that would be affected, he said. While residents would have received a standard letter from the county letting them know a rezoning was going on in their area, his group did not have a chance to contact them about the intensity of the BB-2 zoning, which might have led some appearing at either board meeting.

"I think we failed the public a little bit because there was no opportunity to notify anybody. There was no way I could have had another meeting to discuss this to bring any further recommendations concerning that level of intensity for zoning on that parcel," he said.

The problem occurred due to some missteps that trace back to the special Planning Commission meeting called on April

Easter is for 4 legged "children" too

By Gregory A. Phillips
Staff Writer

ORANGE PARK – Most people, especially those with small children, think of Easter as a time for memories of chocolate eggs, Peeps, and a hoard of kids running during an Easter egg hunt. But that doesn't mean that Easter egg hunts are only for the two legged kinds of kids.

The Second Annual Doggone Easter Egg Hunt was held at the Orange Park Town Hall Park, hosted by the Friends of Clay County Animals. The April 19 event was held to raise awareness about doggies who have abandoned by their masters or turned over to the Clay County Animal Care and Control near Penney Farms. Also, it's a chance for the furry, four-legged kiddies to get out and have a little fun in the spring air.

"I think it is a very good turnout. We are an advocate group for the shelter … and we'll pay for any adoption where the dog has heartworms. We'll pay for their treatment," said Andrea Cassman, president of FOCCA.

There were Jack Russell Terriers, German Shepherds, and American Pit Bulls all checking out their newly found friends, searching for treat filled Easter Eggs, and perhaps stretching a leg at the Jumpin Jax Flyball exhibit.

Rescue dogs, a term which has become wide spread in only a few short years, can be some of the most loyal and loving dogs. They really do understand and appreciate what people have done when they adopt them, according to FOCCA members, and they will repay kindness with years and years of unconditional love.

"I saw her when we [my family] went out to foster-adopt a dog and I really wanted [Cookie]. She's so cute," said Alena Mrgich of Orange Park. "They're like all other dogs, except they're more lovable."

Mrgich only had to make a small deal with her parents – she has to take care of the dog and clean her room regularly. As of last weekend, both points were being kept.

The main event, of course, was the doggie Easter Egg Hunt. Special treat filled eggs were placed out for the doggies to "hunt." If the dog's nose touched the egg first, then its master would pick it up and place it in the Easter basket. They held two hunts, one for the larger dogs and one for the smaller ones.

"We want to help the dogs. We want Clay County to be a No Kill County too," Cassman said.

Many dressed their lovely little friends up for the day. There were dogs wearing bandanas all over the place, others were adorned with fluffy Bunny Ears and one special American Pit wore her Tutu to look extra pretty for the event.

All funds raised by the event will go to help FOCCA find foster homes for dogs while they are recovering from illnesses and then to eventually adopt them out, such as the case of Mrgich's dog, Cookie.

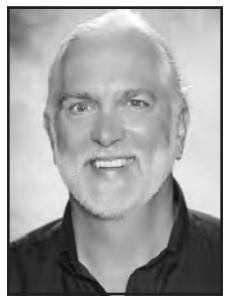
Share the road with a motorcyclist

As the weather warms into spring, more and more motorcycles will be seen on our roads as their riders enjoy the smells, sights, and sounds our beautiful state has to offer. Unfortunately, with that increase in motorcycles will probably come an increase in motorcycle accidents – many due to car drivers pulling out in front of them or turning left across their path. The most common response of the drivers is, "I never saw them!"



Greg Marshall

According to the State of Florida's 2011 statistics, the state experienced almost 228,000 vehicle crashes that year, 8,621 of which involved motorcycles. These motorcycle-involved crashes killed 451 riders and passengers, injuring another 7,790 fathers, mothers, husbands, wives, sons and daughters. The vast majority of these accidents were avoidable, with automobile drivers commonly cited with careless driving, improper lane change, and most often, right-of-way violations.

In hopes of increasing awareness of motorcycles in our area – and thus decreasing the number of motorcycle accidents, injuries, and fatalities – several local organizations and businesses are banding together to promote the first Motorcycle Safety Awareness Event and Expo at the Jacksonville Landing on Saturday, May 10. The event will run from 1-5 p.m. and is free to the public. Created to enhance the safety of motorcyclists on our streets and highways, the MSA Event and Expo will include live music, displays of safety equipment, motorcycle simulators, safe riding demonstrations and training info and materials for the education of the general driving public.

Among the event supporters are several local chapters of ABATE – American Bikers Aiming Towards Education – including Clay County's Black Creek Chapter. Members of this chapter will lead a motorcycle escort for a wrecked motorcycle display through Green Cove Springs, Orange Park, and West Jacksonville May 10 to support motorcycle awareness and promote the event. This escort will leave the VFW Post 8255, at 2296 Aster Ave. in Middleburg, promptly at noon that day. All motorcyclists and cars who wish to join and support this escort are welcome.

Both the Clay County Commission and the Orange Park Town Council have issued proclamations designating May as "Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month" in support of the National Safety Council. ABATE Black Creek was instrumental in having these proclamations issued, and is proud to be associated with advocating motorcycle safety in Clay County and the State of Florida.

Readers in Clay County may recognize the name "ABATE" by the commonly-seen bumper stickers, "Check Twice For Motorcycles," and also recall our annual "Bears for Bears" stuffed toy run every October. This motorcycle group recognizes that first responders such as fire, police and ambulance, often encounter traumatized children in the line of duty, and that the gift of a stuffed bear – or other animal –can provide needed comfort to a child during troubling times. Typically, 600-1,000 stuffed animals are donated each year through this program. The chapter has presented its Motorcycle Safety Program in locations as far away as Ribault High School in Jacksonville and Bradford High in Starke, Fla. and has displayed its safety booth in Buffalo's in Orange Park and Starke's Annual Bike Fest.

ABATE of Florida Inc. is a grass roots political group formed in 1979 that is dedicated to protecting the rights of Florida motorcycle riders. Promoting voter registration, encouraging safe riding habits,

Reader grateful to have found Penney Retirement Community

Last August, my husband and I were fortunate to find the perfect landing place for our golden years.

Both of us have had lots of opportunities in our professional lives to appreciate the important role of volunteers.

Little did we know when we arrived that Penney Retirement Community has raised the bar for volunteerism.

Imagine, in 2013, the 500 resident volunteers logged 125,000 hours in service for local and international impact!

It's so stimulating to see many of our 100 residents driving golf carts to get to more than 80 volunteer opportunities on the campus.

Many of these resident volunteers are 90 years old and above.

In addition, there are faithful volunteers who tutor children and youth in nearby communities, assist with food banks and community outreach and serve as guardians ad litem.

There are volunteers who build and ship hundreds of personal energy transportation carts to enable paraplegics in countless developing countries to find new dignity when they can transport themselves rather than crawling.

We were amazed that volunteers fix computer problems.

They replace batteries in watches and service golf carts.

They offer library, upholstery and sewing assistance.

They provide transportation to hospitals, appointments and airports.

They lead exercise and swimming sessions.

And much more.

Every day, I see caring men and women who care for the nature trails, help feed neighbors in the skilled nursing facility and provide supportive care to those who are memory challenged, in failing health and grieving.

Our calendars are full of activities to choose from.

We have so many AARP-trained tax consultants who process tax returns at no cost.

Volunteerism was the guiding principle when J. C. Penney started the community in 1926.

The community, which is resident-directed, is in its 88th year and is flourishing.

The volunteers deserve congratulations, gratitude and blessings.

They come from approximately 30 Christian traditions.

You all continue to amaze me!

Economic Development Corp. coming soon

New ED Corp. has come online officially, but should be fully running by month's end

By Gregory A. Phillips
Staff Writer

FLEMING ISLAND – Less than a month after the Clay County Board of Commissioners voted to sever ties with the Clay County Chamber of Commerce's economic development efforts, the new entity that it has aligned with is up and running.

The new Clay County Economic Development Corporation filed with the state Division of Corporations in early April and became an officially listed business on April 4 and has not yet shown up on the Internal Revenue Service's list of non-profit organizations.

"We are a 501-c-6 Florida not-for-profit corporation and have a federal Employee Identification Number issued by the IRS," said Bill Garrison, former Executive Director of the EDC and current member of the ED Corporation.

March 27, the BCC voted 3-0 to end its relationship with the Economic Development Council and instead work with the newly-formed CCEDC, which has been incorporated as a limited liability company, or LLC. The decision came after Jerry Agresti, the former EDC Chairman, submitted an 18-month-long report to Commission Vice Chairman Diane Hutchings detailing the reasons why he thought the BCC should cease funding economic development efforts via the Chamber.

Three men are listed as the officers of the corporation including Agresti, Paul McGowan and Green Cove Springs City Councilman Van Royal, who is also involved in real estate development.

Van Royal

Royal came to Florida in 1987 and, since the early 1990's, has become a well-known face in Clay County with his work at Magnolia Point Golf and Country Club. He's worked with the J.P. Hall Children's Charities for many years and was elected in 2013 to the Green Cove Springs city councilman. He has also worked with the EDC until very recently.

"There was an economic development emphasis and there were some good things done, but there was no buy in from the private sector like we felt there should be and there certainly wasn't from the county [government]," Royal said. "You've got to have the county onboard. You've got to have that."

According to Royal, all the counties in the Northeast Florida area have economic development-focused groups whose sole purpose is to find and attract new businesses to their counties.

He felt that this type of focus was lacking from the EDC and that was what Agresti pointed out in stating his case to the BCC last month.

So the new ED Corp has come online officially, but should be fully running by month's end. The board should be appointed by then and plans are underway to move into its new offices by the end of May.

"By the first of June I think we'll be in [our] new offices, [business] cards will be changed over, and phones will be ringing," Royal said. "You won't know anything has changed except for the address and, of course, the focus."

He said that he believes that Clay County is uniquely situated to draw businesses here. He points to the new beltway, which is preparing to start phase two of construction, will extend from Branan Field Road, around to Green Cove Springs and over the St. Johns River. When complete, the expressway will give better access to the interstate highway system for any manufacturers. Tie that in with the Clay County Port right there and room at the Reynolds Industrial Park to which a business can relocate and available railroad lines, and it makes for a recipe for growth.

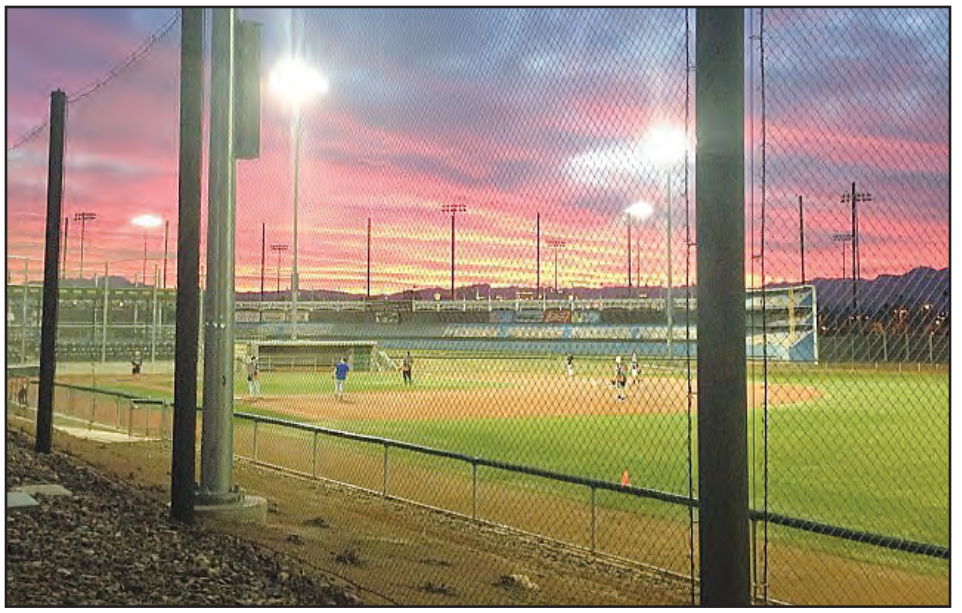
"Certainly you have our schools. Two, you have an incredibly well-trained work force. Three, there are three schools that are very proactive in training their students. St. Johns River State College, First Coast Technical College, and of course, the University or North Florida," Royal said. "[We have] the water, sports, the cultural part. All those things that help attract people."

Royal also pointed to the cost of construction, the cost of living and the state's lack of an income tax as other selling points for bringing new businesses to Clay County.

Right now Clay County is attempting to get its reputation as a rural blue collar community, a reputation, Royal said, is slowly breaking down.

"We have a perception problem. That perception is that we are too industrial, too blue collar," Royal said.

Big League Dreams not the only game in town



By Gregory A. Phillips

ORANGE PARK – While a California company sits on a $450,000 franchise fee paid to them by the Clay County Development Authority in December 2011 to build a multi-field baseball and softball complex with adjacent soccer field, at least one Clay County man says he has an alternative to the $19 million plan.

Bill Higginbotham, a longtime Clay County youth baseball coach, said he's done the research and he believes that he could build a 10 field complex for under $10 million, thus saving the county in excess of $9 million dollars. There just won't be any replica stadiums.

"I know that four baseball fields were recently built in Oakleaf Sports Association. One's a big field and the others have 200 foot fences. How do I know that? Because I was a part of helping get that built," said Higginbotham. "I know the cost of the [complex] was a million dollars. The only thing it didn't have was lights and adding lights would cost about $250,000. I priced that out with Musco Lighting."

Higginbotham said his plan would save Clay County $10 million dollars and bring tournaments to Clay County while contending the divisive agreement on the table with Chino Hills, Calif.-based Big League Dreams will not result in bringing travel ball tournaments – and ensuing sales tax revenue – as promised.

Clay County Commissioner Doug Conkey said that he knows Higginbotham from his work with the athletic associations in the county and that he plans on sitting down with him to hear his proposal.

"Big League Dreams does not promote events. They build parks with other people's money," Higginbotham said. "The cost of the complex, which is said to be $19 million but many people believe would be closer to $25 million, is driven by the replica ball fields. But [those fields] won't draw anyone to a park and we're being limited in the number of fields by that cost."

Sheriff's Office to auction horse

PENNEY FARMS – Officials with the Clay County Sheriff's Office and Clay County Animal Care and Control will team up today at 10 a.m. for a live auction. Queen, a five-year-old brown mare, will be sold to the highest bidder. The CCACC staff affectionately named her Queen and began taking care of her earlier this month at the animal control facility on State Road 16, just west of Penney Farms. She was found wandering on Lazy Acres Road in Middleburg and an owner could not be located. The auction is a cash-only sale. For more information, contact CCSO Sgt. Mark Tate at (904) 213-6085.

Replica fields are smaller versions of Major League Baseball fields such as Fenway Park or Yankees Stadium. The proposal from BLD is for a five field complex with three being replica fields. However, for most if not all, tournaments on which the future economic impact is being projected, a complex that small will not be sufficient to draw the big tournaments, Higginbotham said.

Higginbotham said most of the tourneys that are being targeted as future revenue generators for Clay County take place on the weekends so teams would have two days to complete a tournament. The number of fields at a facility comes under much scrutiny regarding the number of teams that can complete a tournament in two days.

In Lake City there is a 17-field complex, in Ormond Beach and St. Augustine has nine fields, and eight are in Brunswick, Ga. These athletic complexes host tournaments for travel teams playing in the Triple Crown Sports or the United States Specialty Sports Association organized tournaments. Also to consider are the recreation baseball associations such as Babe Ruth and Little League or the softball travel ball leagues like USSSA or the Amateur Softball Association of America.

These associations need as many fields as possible to host as many teams as possible. But a five field complex limits the amount of teams which can play in any given tournament.

"It's a number type of thing really. The tournaments that we typically run on the weekend need more than a five field complex," said Tak Walden, Baseball Director for USSSA. "Also, it's more than just the number of fields. We need hotels and restaurants within a five mile radius of the complex and other (entertainments) as well."

Many of the tournaments are used as qualifiers for regional or national tournaments and those bring in a host of teams. In Lake City, they host six of these tournaments in the spring, which includes an average of 63 teams per tournament. In Brunswick, they host six spring qualifier tournaments, which average 38 teams per tournament. According to Walden, a five field complex can only host a 30 team tournament at most.

"We might use a five field complex for overflow from another tournament [such as Lake City], but it's a numbers thing," Walden said.

a call from a Florida Highway Patrol officer telling him his two sons, had been involved in a serious vehicle accident not far from their homes. Austin, was dead at the scene and Brandon was on his way toward a 28-day stay at UF Health hospital in Jacksonville via LifeFlight.

"He was my right-hand man," said Doug Norman, tears welling up in his eyes, referring to his late son, Austin.

According to his family, most remember Austin Norman as a special young man who loved his family and his community. A 2013 honor graduate of Middleburg High, he played trumpet in the Broncos marching band and worked part-time at Russell's Feed and Farm Supply. After high school, he enrolled full-time at SJR State College where he was studying to become a registered nurse with his ultimate goal of becoming a pediatrician. His grandmother, Marsha Norman said, he truly loved people, especially his family.

"He'd tell me all the time, 'I never want to leave from out here'," she said.

As soon as news of the teens' vehicle accident spread through the close-knit community, people began pulling together. Many came from their church – Clay Hill Baptist – to provide meals, comfort and much more.

"People brought food," she said. "That door never shut from people bringing us food. So many people extended their hospitality to us, it was just overwhelming."

And then, something extraordinary happened. The business community pulled together for a number of different fundraisers to help offset the medical bills not covered by Doug Norman's health insurance policy. He said, the LifeFlight bill alone was $30,000.

"Some people walked up with $5 and some people walked up with thousands," said Marsha Norman, crying. "That next day, there was a cooler of food sitting on the porch. There are hardly enough words to thank everyone."

Still, even more kind actions and words, bubbled through the chaos of having lost a son and having to see another suffer through a broken right ankle and femur and cracked sternum. The community stepped forward to tell the Normans what they thought of their boys.

"The Thursday before the accident, a man gave Austin a $20 tip at Russell's, and then after that weekend the accident happened, he called me to tell me how much Austin meant to him," said Doug Norman.

But the help kept coming. The night before Austin's release from the hospital, Doug Norman mobilized his friends at his job at Florida State Prison in Starke. From a case manager's office at UF Health hospital, he explained that Austin could not be released until a wheelchair ramp was installed at their home and a shower made wheelchair-accessible.

"By 11-o-clock that night, the ramp was done," he said. "There are just so many people to thank and I don't want to leave anybody out. We are all very grateful."

From imprinted fishing bobbers to shirts and other items sold to raise funds for the Normans, one item stuck out for Marsha Norman above all the others. The week before the accident, Austin had received in the mail a sticker for his truck and on it were the words "Gettin' After It."

"That pretty much sums it up," she said.

She said every time she sees those three words, she will think of her grandson. One fundraiser included shirts imprinted with the catchy phrase that posthumously has become Austin Norman's slogan.

"They made us feel like part of their family," she said.

Doug Norman said, even more people came forward to honor his son's memory after he and his family appeared in a news story on a Jacksonville television station.

"One man said he saw the story on TV, and afterwards, decided to pick up the phone and call family members that he had not talked to in years," he said. "I am just grateful for so many people who have given so much." Regardless of the tragedy of losing Austin, Doug Norman said, above all, he is grateful and is looking forward, not to the past. Like most people who are grieving, he said, he has good days and bad days.

"I don't care how much anything costs, Brandon is a walking miracle," he said. "I'm thankful he's well and doing very well."

All that's left are the memories. Referring to Austin as a pond hopper who always kept a rod and reel in the back of his pickup, Doug Norman said probably his greatest honor came the day his son referred to him as "his best friend."

of zero. Haney recently hauled in $21,000 in crowdfunding as a Creator in the OneSpark Festival held April 9-13 in Downtown Jacksonville.

"It was tiring. For five days of standing on your feet, getting up early and working 12-15 hour days. Yeah, it was tiring," Haney said. "But it was also invigorating. I got to talk to a lot of people and make a lot of contacts."

More than 260,000 people attended the five-day event, which hosted 610 creators who showed off their new inventions and creations. By the time the OneSpark Festival came to an end, more than $310,000 in funding was handed out to the various Creators.

He received $10,000 from the OneSpark organization for his feat of raising more money than any other Creator at the event. His charm – and ease of use of the Spirit Dining card – came together to bring in $11,150 in contributions from passersby attending the event. His take home for his creation – a big check for $21,150. Literally, they gave him a large oversized check.

"Yeah, I take the big check in sometimes when I talk to potential [restaurant] partners," Haney said, smiling. "It sort of stands out."

Haney doesn't charge businesses anything to be included in the Spirit Dining program. They get to decide what discount to offer, and they can pull out of the program at any time. He has also developed a mobile app that allows smartphone users to locate Spirit Dining member businesses when they are out and about. That way, cardholders can stay loyal to the program and continue to reap the benefits of having paid for the Spirit Dining card.

"I add the locations [using GPS] for all my restaurant partners to a database which is then accessed by the application I designed. It will show you, on your phone, the location of the partner restaurants in relation to where you are," Haney said. "Right now I have 70 business ties in the [Northeast Florida] area and my goal is to get to 300 by August 1st."

School clubs, social organizations and anyone trying to raise a few funds are using the Spirit Dining card as a fundraising tool. While most of the fund raisers you see these days involve candy bars, magazines or wrapping paper, his Spirit Dining cards have a few special aspects that these other fundraising ideas do not.

There is no initial payment for the cards, you sell what you sell and return the remainder. He will donate 70 percent of the money raised as opposed to most other businesses who might give back 50 or 55 percent of the money raised.

"I've been associated with so many organizations that do fundraising activities and I've seen the need for fundraising," Haney said. "I created a product that they can sell. I give them the cards for free and then they turn around and sell them for $20 and they keep 70 percent. Every fundraiser that I found only gave back 50 percent at most."

One hospital proves that in heart surgery, the smaller the opening the greater the benefits.

St. Vincent's HealthCare offers advanced, minimally invasive heart procedures available nowhere else in our region that other doctors come here to learn. We repair patients' existing mitral valves and replace aortic valves using only tiny incisions – instead of opening the chest. We use minimally invasive catheter ablation to treat irregular heartbeats (AFIB). And we were the first hospital in the region to offer Transcatheter Aortic Valve Replacement (TAVR), giving high-risk patients a second chance at life. By going above and beyond to perfect these minimally invasive approaches, we reduce the risks of open-heart surgery and offer patients faster, less-painful recoveries with much smaller scars.

Communities In Schools fills needs for Clay kids

By Gregory A. Phillips
Staff Writer

"We supply a wide variety of services. Behavior management, clothing, and even dental assistance for example. The younger kids really need our help."

– Sandra Hartley, executive director of CIS Northeast Florida

CLAY HILL – A unique program is helping Clay County elementary school children who may need that extra push academically, socially and intellectually stay in school with much-needed support along the way.

Communities in Schools is there to help pick up the slack, so long as they are invited into the school system as well as into the individual schools. Their mission is to surround students with a community of support, empowering them to stay in school and achieve in life.

"We supply a wide variety of services. Behavior management, clothing, and even dental assistance for example. The younger kids really need our help," said Sandra Hartley, executive director of CIS Northeast Florida. "In order for CIS to come into a county we have to be invited by the school superintendant. We've been in Putnam County since 1989. Four years ago we were asked if we'd like to come to Clay County."

CIS has created what they call the "Five Basics," five things they believe every child needs in order to stay in school and graduate instead of drop out. They are a one-on-one relationship with a caring adult, a safe place to learn and grow, a healthy start and a healthy future, a marketable skill to use upon graduation and a chance to give back to their peers and community.

Hartley said that rules and boundaries are two of the things that children really need. They seek out that type of structure in their lives and this is something that she and her co-workers and community volunteers strive to supply.

"We want to do prevention, not intervention. That's why we like to start early with the children," Hartley said. "All we really want you to do is graduate and be successful in life."

CIS tries to get the children what they need so that they can focus their attention on studying and not on the peripheral concerns, such as being hungry or having a tooth ache. "They try their best to help the children to be calm and ready for study time in the classroom," said Tracey Kendrick, principal at Clay Hill Elementary, which has invited CIS to help its students. "Whatever they see a student needs, they try to supply."

Since it is a non-profit, CIS requires a lot from the students they accept into their program. Students are required to sign a contract which stipulates that they must maintain a certain grade point average, get no in-school disciplinary referrals, be attentive in class and do not disrupt the classroom.

"We demand respect and civility when dealing with our students. One young man refused to be respectful, so I pointed out that that was one of the rules listed on the contract. He continued to be disrespectful towards me so I told him okay, if you won't live up to your contract then you will be removed from the program and I sent him back to class," Hartley said. "He quickly changed his approach and began dealing respectfully with me and all was fine thereafter."

On April 24, CIS went out on a shoe shopping sojourn thanks to Payless shoes, which donated money to CIS for the kids. She told the story of a young child who arrived at school with shoes where the sole was separating from the shoe up by the toes. She took the child to the clothes closet and they found a pair of shoes that fit and gave them to the student. The next day the student brought the new shoes back and told Hartley that his Dad made him bring them back and sent a message to the school administration about how he will take care of his child himself and does not want or need the help of CIS.

Hartley is already seeing the success of working with children in the CIS program. She said it is wonderful to see them, years later, come over and thank her for her caring.

"There was one girl who told her friends that if not for Ms. Hartley, she'd probably have gotten pregnant and dropped out of school. That gives me a great feeling," Hartley said.

CIS is welcomed into Clay Hill with open arms as a partner in the education process and as a solid rock on which the students can count. That relationship will follow them throughout their school years and help prepare them for success in their adult lives, she said.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Planning Commission meeting called on April 17 to deal with The Crossings issue, said Holly Parish, director of Economic Development and Services for Clay County. The special meeting had to be called because of two problems – the daily newspaper that publishes the required public advertisement for the Planning Commission meeting failed to place the ad on time, Parrish said. In addition, the orange rezoning notification signs that must be posted for the public to see on the properties involved were ordered months in advance but did not show up in time. Because EWP was on a time-table and had not been responsible for any of the delays, the special meeting was called.

In the meantime, the BB-2 zoning classification did not make it into the staff report for the Planning Commission, which is generally sent to members about a week in advance of the meeting, Parrish said, adding, "That was just our fault."

But the staff members were actually trying to lower the intensity of the zoning for Parcel 44, she said, by making it BB-2. Otherwise, it would have been classified as BSC, or Business Shopping Center, which would have allowed for things such as nightclubs.

Even so, Planning Commissioners did not know about the BB-2 classification until the night of their April 17 meeting. And Davis, who was out of town, knew nothing about it and simply asked a statement he wrote to be read into the record by Marsha Dumler, a member of the Planning Commission.

It was Dumbler who brought the item up at the Planning Commission, saying she could not support the BB-2 classification. But her motion to exclude the BB-2 zoning classification failed for lack of a second at the meeting, and the classification passed on a 4-1 vote, with Dumler dissenting.

While Parrish said there had been a mistake, she said either the Planning Commission or the BCC could have changed the zoning classification, but chose not to do so.

At Tuesday's County Commission meeting, Arrowsmith referred to the BB-2 zoning, and said that while that property had originally been looked at for multi-family zoning more than 20 years ago, it was too small in size for that use. He offered, however, to limit times of operation on the property, if it ever was subject to use as a convenience store or for gasoline pumps. While he said he did not think that would ever come up, times would be limited to 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 6 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday.

Davis said that should help to mitigate the issues that might come out of the situation.

'Extreme Makeover' in store for Animal Control

PENNEY FARMS – Volunteers from various animal groups will come together tomorrow to conduct an 'extreme makeover' at Clay County Animal Care and Control near Penney Farms.

Pit Stop Pit Bull Rescue Transport, Friends of Clay County Animals, Ana's Angels, Plenty of Pit Bulls will converge at the center on Friday at 9 a.m. and work through Sunday until 4 p.m.

They will be cleaning, landscaping, painting and decorating the facility located at 3984 State Road 16 West.

The goal of the project is to make the center, which takes in stray and abandoned animals from all over Clay County, is to make the center a more friendly and comfortable place for adopting families and the animals, according to a news release.

These groups are still looking for muscle and money to bring the project to completion, however. Donations can be made online at http://www.volunteermatch.org/search/org621248.jsp while hard goods, such as dog and cat food, collars, animal toys and leashes can be donated directly at the shelter or dropped off in a donation box for donations at the Hibernia Publix on Fleming Island, located at 865 Hibernia Rd. and U.S. Highway 17.

Big changes happening at Middleburg First Assembly of God

By Kelly J. Stigliano
Correspondent

MIDDLEBURG-Situated on a slight hill, just off County Road 215 Middleburg First Assembly of God is quickly becoming a home away from home for many.

When Senior Pastor Ira Cloud became the church's lead pastor in December 2013, attendance was under 50. Now, with relatives joining him in leadership, the numbers are growing, and all are welcome.

This family team is in touch with Clay County and its citizens. All local residents, the three pastors are bi-vocational – they each work conventional jobs outside of the church. With a background in business entrepreneurship, Cloud understands what it takes to build a congregation. Add to that his son-in-law Tait Foster's experience in customer service, and son, Ira Lee Cloud's experience in customer service, and they become much like modern-day tentmakers like the Apostle Paul reaching out to the community for God.

Serving together in ministry isn't new to the Clouds and Fosters. Twelve years ago, they worked together and won an award for having the fastest-growing church in Jacksonville. They appreciate the help, understanding, and ease of being part of a faith family.

Each has also enlisted their wives who help by planning, preparing, teaching lessons and organizing music for weekly worship. Sr. Pastor Cloud's wife Deborah, for example, teaches children's church each week.

"Deborah is the best children's church teacher I've ever seen," Cloud said. "She spends three to five hours preparing to teach every week. She treats her Sunday School class like she treats our grandchildren."

Foster and his wife, Shanci came on board at First Assembly in March. He has triple roles of Associate Pastor, Minister of Music and College and Career Minister, a ministry aimed to reach post high school seekers to 30-somethings.

The Clouds and Foster are going out in the world and meeting families, aiming to reach those who don't know Jesus personally. Together they see what people need and know what people desire.

Foster, for example, sees Sr. Pastor Cloud as fulfilling those needs from the pulpit.

"He preaches from the Word of God, not another book. The Bible is truth and doesn't return void. People enjoy hearing the Word of God; they appreciate it," Foster said.

Before the Fosters came on board, the services used recorded songs. They believe live music brings depth to the ministry, and offer music for all ages.

"We don't play songs because they're pretty. We sing songs that minister. Music brings people into the courts of praise," Foster said.

"[Music is] all about souls. If a church is doing things just to be doing things, with nothing to do with salvation, they're just making noise, and you can't hear the voice of God because of the noise," Sr. Pastor Cloud said, agreeing with Foster.

Middleburg First Assembly of God business cards feature a tranquil photo of a palm tree on a beach with turquoise water. Ira explained their choice for the cards, which reads, "An oasis in a thirsty land."

"The Word refreshes us. The Bible says he who hungers and thirsts after righteousness will be filled. You can hunger and thirst but when you thirst for more of God, God gives you more. There are people today who are looking for something. People thirst and get hard hearted. Nothing refreshes like Christ—only He satisfies. What we're doing here is trying to introduce people to that Oasis," Cloud said.

Sunday School is offered at 9:30 a.m. with worship at 10:30 a.m.. Ministries on Wednesday nights include age-appropriate programs for children and adults and a nursery is provided. Plans for growth include fun outdoors activities, continued Bible studies and programs for all and many exciting events in the community.

The team feels that the music, messages, and ministries at First Assembly are relevant for today. "When services are over you feel refreshed. You go away thinking, 'Today I got something I can use this week'," Cloud said.

Faith Walk

First Assembly Fleming Island

He Is Alive!

Our risen Lord appeared to His disciples numerous times after His resurrection. His purpose was to establish the testimony of His resurrection forever. The Bible expresses His resurrection as guaranteed by "many infallible proofs." These are the appearances the Bible records:

To Mary Magdalene alone at the tomb. (John 20:11-18)

To certain women as they were leaving the tomb. (Matthew 28:1-10)

To Simon Peter alone on the day of the resurrection. (Luke 24:34)

To the two disciples on the way to Emmaus on the day of resurrection. (Luke 24:13-35.)

To the 10 disciples (with Thomas absent) and others "with them." (John 20:19-24).

To the disciples again (with Thomas present) at Jerusalem (John 20:26-28).

To the disciples when fishing at the Sea of Galilee. (John 21:1-23)

To the apostles and more than 500 brethren at the time of the ascension. They accompanied him from Jerusalem to Mount Olivet, and there they saw him ascend "till a cloud received him out of their sight" (Mark 16:19; Luke 24:50-52; Acts 1:4-10).

To James (We do not know details. 1 Cor. 15:7).

He appeared to Paul near Damascus. (Acts 9:3-9, 17; 1 Cor. 15:8; 9:1).

It is implied in the words of Luke (Acts 1:3) that there were other appearances of which we have no record. These disciples knew He died. That was indisputable. It took miraculous certainty for them to be assured He was alive again! They were convinced He was dead. They had to be convinced He was now alive!

He saw them face to face. They touched him (Matt. 28:9; Luke 24:39; John 20:27) He ate bread with them (Luke 24:42,43; John 21:12,13).

They doubted so we would not have to doubt. They were convinced so we can be convinced. He is alive.

Raise Southern flags in the spring garden

When it comes to gardening, each of us has our own sense of expression. Some of us are subdued and formal, while others create a riot of sights, smells, and sounds in the garden. One man's gnome may be another man's nuisance, and even weeds are in the eye of the beholder. While tastes may vary widely, the one thing growers can unite on is great plants for the garden. Such is the case with this week's beauty – the Southern Blue Flag Iris. Southern Blue Flags are great additions to wet spots in the landscape. Often considered a problem area in Florida yards, persistently wet spots can become an attractive focal point using native plants such as the Iris that appreciate damp feet. If your yard is a bit swampy – or you're a genuine fan of Florida for its abundant waters – try raising your 'Southern Flag' with a planting of Southern Blue Flag Iris this spring.

Formed in 1997, Clay County's Black Creek ABATE provides – upon request – free one-hour motorcycle safety awareness presentations to schools and other groups promoting safe road sharing. We discuss such safety issues as blind spots, distracted driving, including cell phone use, safe following distances, rights-of-way and other information that allows cars and motorcyclists to share our roads safely. green foliage. The 12-to-30 inch leaves resemble large blades of grass. Lavender-blue flowers emerge in spring. While perhaps not as showy as the bearded and Dutch Irises seen in catalogs, our native iris flowers can be an impressive 4-inches across. They are far easier to grow here too, being right at home in our down-home southern yards. Plants grow in spreading clumps. When happy, Southern Blue Flags can fill an area as an attractive groundcover. They also look good in mixed plantings, creating a nice contrast of texture when not in flower.

In nature, plants grow in standing water or just on the edge of areas with frequent flooding. Many lovely stands exist along the St Johns River in Clay County; try hiking Bayard Conservation Area or another park in the county with river access to see if you can spot them in their natural settings. Then, head to your local nursery to populate your own yard (never wild-collect plants – besides depleting natural resources and running the risk of fines, you also risk bringing pests or diseases home to your garden). You may want to call around to make sure it's in stock, or check with the Florida Association of Native Nurseries (www.afnn.org) to find a grower. Make sure to check the scientific name to get the right plant, as there are non-native iris that may be invasive in your yard.

Try Southern Blue Flag Iris in a spot with good, rich soil that receives partial shade and regular water. If you're high and dry, you can create a small pond or water feature to hold your favorite aquatic plants.

A large planter without drainage holes can also be used to keep wet plants happy in the landscape. Don't forget to keep an eye on water levels, though, or better yet give your water garden plants a bubbler emitter or other form of drip irrigation as part of your low-volume system. That way, some moisture replenishes each time you water. You can add mosquito fish to help keep mosquitoes from breeding, and pumps or waterfalls are good for aeration. Or keep it simple and plant Southern Blue Flag Iris in an area near a downspout or other source of rainwater, making sure irrigation is available for dry spells.

For companion plants to Blue Flag Iris, try Rushes (Juncus sp), Arrowhead (Sagittaria sp), Cardinal Flower (Lobelia cardinalis), Spider Lily (Hymenocallis latifolia), or Lizard's Tail (Serus serus). If you have a large area, look into adding some flowering shrubs for wet sites such as Narrow-Leaf Sunflower (Helianthus angustifolius), Buttonbush (Cephalanthus occidentalis), or Swamp Hibiscus(Hibiscus coccineus). April is the perfect time to plant in our area, so if you can provide the 'right place' for these plants, consider raising some 'Southern Flags' of your own this spring. Your reward will be beautiful blooms in early spring. Better still, you'll get the chance to show your Florida native pride in your own garden by 'flying' Southern Blue Flags.

Have a problem spot in your yard? Write to amorie@ufl.edu with details about your tough spot to garden, and the next feature plant could be the 'Right Plant' for your place.

Is Your Car Making Your Allergies Worse?
Jim's Car Care Tip Of The Week
Spring brings pollen, dust and pollutants that are drawn inside your vehicle through the air conditioning and ventilation systems. Cabin air filters clean the incoming air, removing allergens, and should be replaced regularly. "A dirty or clogged cabin air filter can cause contaminants to become so concentrated in the cabin that passengers actually breathe in more fumes and particles when riding in the car than when walking down the street," said Rich White, executive director, Car Care Council. "With allergy season in full bloom, replacing the cabin air filter is a simple way for you and your passengers to breathe easier while driving."In addition to trapping pollen,the filter captures bacteria, dust and exhaust gases plus prevents leaves, bugs and other debris from entering the system. A restricted cabin air filter can cause musty odors in the vehicle and impair airflow, possibly causing interior heating and cooling problems. Cabin air filters should be replaced every 12,000 to 15,000 miles, or per the owner's manual. To have your cabin filter replaced, please give us a call!

Police Briefs

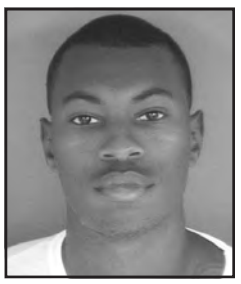
Appeals court upholds Thomas' 2013 re-sentencing

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – The 1st District Court of Appeal has affirmed the re-sentencing of a Jacksonville man handed down last May 30 by Clay County Circuit Court Judge John H. Skinner.

The appeal court said the 30-year sentence for armed robbery and concurrent 40-year sentence for first-degree murder fit the crime committed by Markeil Deshon Thomas, who is now 24.

Thomas was 17 when he was allegedly involved in killing Erick Joel Colon, 19, during a robbery attempt that occurred about 12:30 a.m. on Sept. 10, 2008, in the Cheswick Oaks subdivision, blocks south of the Duval-Clay county line.

In April 2013, the 1st DCA sent the case back to the circuit court for re-sentencing in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling surrounding Miller v. Alabama, the landmark case that resulted in banning mandatory life sentences without parole for juveniles. The nation's highest court ruled 5-4 that such sentences are a violation of the U.S. Constitution's 8th Amendment and equate to cruel and unusual punishment.



Markeil Thomas

In the eight-page appeal court ruling handed down April 16, Judge Timothy D. Osterhaus took the opportunity to rail against the Miller ruling saying it "has eviscerated Florida's ability to sentence juveniles as 'capital' felons. Second, by insisting that life sentences for homicide offenses should be 'uncommon' for juvenile offenders, Miller foreclosed Florida from universally applying the only default sentence provided for capital felonies…"

"Under Miller, Florida's alternative mandatory life sentence is not automatically available for juvenile offenders," Osterhaus writes. "And so, Miller has effectively unraveled [the state statute]'s entire capital felony sentencing regime by foreclosing the imposition of either death or alternative mandatory life sentences in cases like this one."

Thomas was charged as the getaway driver in the shooting and robbery which he allegedly committed with Hector Gabriel Sanchez-Torres, 23, also of Jacksonville. Sanchez-Torres pleaded guilty in April 2011 to Colon's murder and is currently on Florida's Death Row.

According to previous incident reports, Sanchez-Torres shot Colon when he robbed him as he was walking home from a friend's house on Cheswick Oaks Avenue in Argyle Forest. His body lay on the sidewalk, just a few blocks away from his home.

Speaking through the agency's director of communications, State Attorney Angela Corey applauded the ruling.

"The State Attorney's Office is gratified that the First District Court of Appeal has affirmed the sentence of Markeil Thomas for his involvement in the 2009 Armed Robbery and First Degree Murder of Eric Joel Colon," reads the prepared statement from Jackie Barnard.

"We hope the Court's ruling gives the Colon family some peace and closure."

Crash leaves Middleburg man in serious condition

JACKSONVILLE – An early morning auto accident left a Middleburg man in serious condition.

The Florida Highway Patrol said John Robert Williams Jr., 21, was driving a 1997 Toyota Corolla southbound on Interstate 295 near J. Turner Butler Boulevard in Jacksonville when his car left the road and collided with a guardrail around 2:10 a.m. on April 23.

According to the incident report, Williams' car then traveled to the right and crossed three lanes of traffic where it finally ended up completely submerged in a retention pond.

Two passengers in the car, Haeleigh Jean Edwards, 21, of Maxville, and Shane Connor Lookebill, 21, of Orange Park, both received minor injuries in the crash. All three were transported to St. Vincent's Medical Center Southside for treatment.

The report said alcohol-related charges are pending on Williams. To date, police have charged Williams with careless driving.

Teens charged in Melrose arson

MELROSE – Two teens who caused $490,000 damage in a recent arson fire have been arrested and booked on charges of arson, grand theft and burglary.

Frederick James Martin, 18, and Mathew Ryan Cemer, 14, both of Melrose, are charged with breaking into the Nick's Quick Stop Melrose Chevron on the night of April 13.

According to warrants from the Clay County Sheriff's Office, the two teens broke into the store stole an estimated $1,800 worth of tobacco products and a computer and then set fire to the store.

According to the warrants to the teens had been under investigation for the crime since Det. Stacey Durham made contact with the "several hours after the offense time."

Frederick Martin

Mathew Cemer

Officers were able to secure warrants for their arrests after collecting evidence from the crime scene.

Martin is in custody in the Putnam County County Jail where he is facing charges related to dozens of burglary cases in there, said Mary Justino, CCSO public information officer. Meanwhile, Cemer was picked up on the Clay County warrant and is being held in the Alachua County Juvenile Detention Center.

Both their bond amounts have been set at $250,009. Both teens have prior felony records.

Army recruiter charged in sex case

ORANGE PARK – A Fleming Island man faces charges of having sex with a minor following an investigation by the Clay County Sheriff's Office.

Julius Asbury Wright, 34, was arrested April 21 and booked into the Clay County Jail on one count of carnal intercourse with an unmarried person under age 18.

Julius Wright

According to the police report, Wright frequently visited Clay High School in his role as a recruiter for the U.S. Army. During the investigation, officers found Wright had been communicating with a female student several times "after and outside of school functions on several occasions between April 14, 2014 until the evening of April 21, 2014."

Police said, since April 9, Wright had been staying at a hotel on Wells Road in Orange Park. And the night of April 19, that is where he and the girl had sex.

A U.S. Army public affairs officer said she is not allowed to comment on the arrest, but confirmed Wright is still employed as a recruiter out of the Army's 2141 Loch Rane Blvd. office in Orange Park. At press time, Wright remained in jail where his bond is set at $50,003.

No bond in Green Cove Springs car theft

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – A 29-year-old Green Cove Springs man faces multiple felony charges following his arrest April 17 by the Green Cove Springs Police Department.

Randall Joseph Taylor faces charges of grand theft auto, child abuse without great harm, threatening harm against a public servant, trespassing and interfering with the custody of a child following an investigation.

Randall Taylor

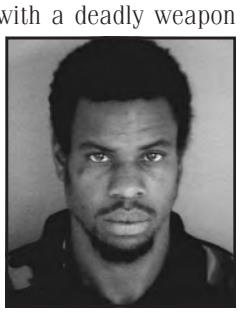
Witnesses told police that Taylor – who does not have a valid driver's license – was hiding in "a concealed location" when he ran up to a 2000 Jeep Cherokee in the 600 block of Kirk Street and sped away without permission from its owner, who had left the vehicle running with her five-year-old child in the backseat.

"Taylor finally drove back into the yard sliding to a stop after hitting the trash cans and exited the car repeatedly screaming…" stated the police report. "Randall Taylor then threw the keys and ran west on Spruce St. disappearing into the woods."

He was booked into the Clay County Jail where, at press time, he remained, without bond.

Foot chase ends in arrest for Orange Park man

ORANGE PARK – What began as a late night road rage incident ended in the arrest of an Orange Park man on charges of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed weapon.



Keith Grant

Keith Kelvin Grant, 31, was arrested April 20 around 9:15 p.m. after the Clay County Sheriff's Office brought out police dogs to track him down at his home near the intersection of Blanding Boulevard and Parkwood Drive.

The victim told police the trouble began at the off-ramp at I-295 and Blanding when Grant pulled his car beside hers. She said Grant began screaming at her through the car windows, and when the light turned green to travel south on Blanding, he followed her. Along the way, she said, he pulled his car in front of hers and kept tapping the brakes while flipping her off.

"At the light at Wells Road and Blanding Boulevard, the suspect got out of his car then went to the victim's driver's side door and told the victim he was a real gangster and if she wasn't a [expletive deleted], he would beat her [expletive deleted] and 'pow' her in the head," stated the police report.

Grant was booked into the Clay County Jail where, at press time, he remained. His bond is set at $30,006.

Teens booked on felony burglary

FLEMING ISLAND – Investigators from the Clay County Sheriff's Office recently made three arrests spanning a five-day period to solve a March break-in on Fleming Island.

Ryan Davis

Ryan Christopher Davis, 14, was arrested on April 16, Lucas Benjamin Pomroy, 15, was arrested on April 17, while Noah Kalei Demankowski, 15, was arrested April 21. Each teen – all residents of Fleming Island – faces three counts of burglary for allegedly breaking into the concession building at the Eagle Harbor Soccer Complex located at 4387 Lakeshore Dr. on Fleming Island.

Lucas Pomroy

Noah Demankowski

Officials with the Clay County Soccer Club told CCSO investigators that when they left the building on March 14 at 6:30 p.m., everything was secured and locked down. However, when they arrived for work the next day, they found "several clothing items to be scattered all over the patio area from the lost and found box" and a broken window on the concession building.

Police said it appeared that the three teens reached through the window and grabbed two boxes of candy, but did not enter into the building because "the window still had jagged edges on the bottom part of the window."

Davis, Pomroy and Demankowski were booked on the charges and then transported to a juvenile detention facility in Jacksonville.

Facebook threat lands teen in jail

ORANGE PARK – Police have arrested an Orange Park teen for posting threatening messages about another teen on Facebook.

Daniel Clark

Daniel Antwan Clark, 16, was arrested April 21 by the Clay County Sheriff's Office using a warrant issued by Judge John Skinner. He faces one count of writing threats to kill or do bodily harm to another person.

The investigation began Feb. 25 when the victim's mother was conducting a check of her son's Facebook page. She told police she found several messages, "which were threatening in nature" while looking through his private messages on Facebook.

According to the police report, the victim, whose identity is protected because of his age, told police he felt threatened by Clark, but did not know why Clark was threatening him.

Clark was booked on the charge and later transported to a juvenile detention center in Jacksonville.

Middleburg woman charged with DUI manslaughter

JACKSONVILLE – Officials with the Florida Highway Patrol have charged a Clay County woman with DUI manslaughter, vehicular homicide and driving under the influence following an investigation that began in December.

Crystal Heidrick

Crystle Lynne Heidrick, 28, was arrested at her Middleburg home on April 18 and booked into the Duval County Pre-Trial Detention Center where she is being held on $275,009 bond.

Police charged Heidrick with the death of her five-year-old daughter, Kelsey Johnson who died Dec. 19 in a one-vehicle accident on Interstate 295.

The Florida Highway Patrol investigation found that Heidrick was driving a 2008 Chevrolet Impala when it crashed around 12:45 a.m. after Heidrick lost control, exited the roadway and struck the nearby tree line. The crash occurred about about two miles east of Philips Highway.

"After months of extensive research and investigative techniques, members of the Florida Highway Patrol Traffic Homicide Unit concluded the thorough investigation and provided the partied involved with the appropriate information," stated the FHP news release. "Although additional analysis results are pending in this case, Florida Highway Patrol investigators have established the required probable cause for the aforementioned charges."

Skate Station fracas results in arrest

ORANGE PARK – A Jacksonville man faces one count of criminal mischief after causing $1,500 damage to a set of doors at the Blanding Boulevard Skate Station in Orange Park.

Earnest Gilbert Ison, 46, was arrested April 15 around 8:30 p.m. and booked into the Clay County Jail.

According to the police report, Ison created a disturbance at the skating rink located at 230 Blanding Blvd. when he walked onto the rink wearing shoes.

Ernest Ison

Kevin Schad, manager of the skating rink, told police that Ison became belligerent to his staff and customers after Schad asked Ison to "exit the skating floor."

"He was asked numerous times to leave the property to which he refused," stated the report.

While leaving, Schad said, Ison attempted to re-enter the main lobby by jumping over a partition wall. Police said Ison forced his way through a set of double doors causing damage to their metal frame and hinges.

Crash leaves 3 in serious condition

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – A two-vehicle accident that occurred last week left both drivers and a passenger in serious condition.

The Florida Highway Patrol reported that the crash occurred at 9:45 p.m. on April 16 on U.S. Highway 17 near County Road 209.

Police said Kevin Dale Douylliez, 54, of Fitzgerald, Ga., was driving a 2008 Honda Civic southbound on US-17 in the right travel lane when he encountered another vehicle that was traveling northbound in the southbound lane.

FHP said Vickie Lou Matthews, 74, of Green Cove Springs, was driving a 2000 Volkswagen Beetle in the wrong direction when she collided with Douylliez's Honda.

"After the collision of the two vehicles, the Honda ran off the road to the right causing the left side of the Honda to collide with the guardrail," stated the police report. "The Honda came to final rest near the area of collision with the guardrail facing northbound."

Both Matthews and Douylliez and, Encarnacion Nava Hodges, 84, of Jacksonville, a passenger in Matthews' car, were transported to Orange Park Medical Center for treatment. At press time, all three were listed in serious condition.

Suspect caught on tape

ORANGE PARK – Clay County Sheriff's Office investigators need the public's help in identifying a man they say went into the Radio Shack at Orange Park Mall on March 19 and stole an $80 Bluetooth headset.

Police said he was wearing a uniform jacket with unknown type of badge and patches on the front chest area. The manager siad that, in casual conversation, the suspect told him he was a fire fighter but he did not say where he worked. While the store manager was assisting another customer, the suspect concealed the headset in his jacket and left the store.

The white male suspect is approximately six-feet tall, bald and appeared to be in his late 20's or early 30's. The suspect was also wearing pants that are often used in tactical training style and shiny boots. CCSO officials said his uniform is not like any fire department uniform in Northeast Florida.

Anyone with information on the suspect can call Deputy John Barber at (904) 264-6512.

RHS grad top Florida finisher at Boston Marathon

Former Panther 73rd of 36,000

Former Ridgeview High track runner Nicholas Maedel shows off finisher's medal after completing Monday's 118th running of the Boston Marathon as the top Florida finisher. Maedel finished 73rd overall of 36,000 runners.

BOSTON, Mass. – Former Ridgeview High track standout Nicholas Maedel one-upped his debut at the 2013 Jacksonville Marathon that he won in December by traveling to his first Boston Marathon on Monday and coming home as Florida's fastest representative.

Maedel, who ran the mile, two mile and cross country for the Panthers under coach Paul Grybb, tackled the infamous Boston Marathon course, the 118th running and, arguably, the most emotional considering last year's tragic bombing of the finish line. Maedel finished in two hours, 27 minutes and 58 seconds to finish 73rd overall out of 36,000 starters.

"I think every person out there was emotionally tied into the runners, the crowds and the sense of American pride that was a major part of the entire race course," said Maedel, 25, who ran at Ridgeview with twin brother Andrew. "In most races, there is a sense of lifting at the end because that's where the heaviest crowds are, but the course was covered with people almost from start to finish. As a runner, I had a feeling of these people had been through a lot more than what I'm going through running this 26 miles of road."

Maedel, now living in Tampa, and wife, Shae, were fully aware of the emotional connection of the 2013 version of the race and the 2014 participants.

"I think they let 3,000 runners come back and finish that last mile or so where the course was cut off and there was a lot of crying and hugging at the finish line area," said Shae Maedel, who waited for Nicholas amidst one of the largest finish line security patrols ever at a marathon. "I felt very comfortable at the finish."

Maedel made the trip to Boston with some training apprehension having suffered a stress fracture in his shin just three months ago.

"I was a little worried about the downhills and my lack of volume training," said Maedel. "I achieved my goal of finishing in the 2:20s, though, I wanted a low 2:20 time." Maedel attacked the infamous Heartbreak Hill near the 20 mile mark.

"I did not jog through it, but I felt it," he said. "It was definitely a noticeable hill."

Maedel next will think about the U.S. Olympics Trials marathon and the B-Standard of 2:18.

"I can train at a high volume, but I'm also prone to injuries along the way," said Maedel. "I cross train more to avoid the pounding on my legs." Also finishing the Boston Race were Dan and Lisa Adams of Fleming Island who finished the 2013 race before the explosions and finished in 3:14:01 and 3:27:33, respectively. Kristin Smith, 41, of Fleming Island, finished in 3:41:16; Henry Gibson, 52, of Middleburg, finished in 3:44:56, and Kim Crist, 57, of Lake Asbury, who was stopped near the 25 mile mark of last year's race. Crist returned and finished in 4:28:25.

The Fighting Tigers rallied with a seventh inning three-run home run to beat Oakleaf 4-2 in the District 2-6A championship game April 17. Green Cove Springs pounds Lakeside for county title

By Doug Deters
Correspondent

MIDDLEBURG – Green Cove Springs Junior High pitcher Connor Soloman is best known around campus as a bit of a comedian. Always having a good time with a smile on his face. Championship game days are different; especially when your head coach chooses you to pitch the final game for all the marbles. He was unusually silent and focused all day in class according to head coach Dan Slater. The focus paid off as Green Cove Springs Junior High's baseball team saved their best game for their last game, thrashing defending county champs Lakeside 9-0. Soloman would throw an absolute gem: going all seven innings, striking out seven while allowing just one hit.

The Cougars from Green Cove Springs would strike first as short stop Kevin Jackson would score on a sacrifice bunt by Tyler Less in the bottom of the first inning. Green Cove Springs would make big defensive plays all game long to help out pitcher Connor Solomon when he wasn't dominating Lakeside's line-up. The first big defensive play would come from Justin Hawkins as he would gun down Lakeside's Ryan

Eighth inning blast lifts Lady Indians to epic win

OAKLEAF – It took an extra inning but Keystone Heights Junior High defeated Oakleaf Junior High 4-3 in the softball championship game for Clay County.

It was an epic contest that saw both teams respond to the mounting pressure of the big stage.

With two outs and Keystone Heights' Savannah Channell standing at third after reaching base on an error to lead off the eighth inning, Makayla Smith took advantage of another Oakleaf error which kept the inning alive and brought home Channell for the game-winner.

The run capped a wild final three innings of play that had three lead changes and a tie to force extra innings.

After Oakleaf scored the game's first run in the sixth inning, Keystone Heights came alive at the plate in the top of the seventh with three hits including a three-run home run to straight away center field by Molly Crawford that gave Keystone Heights a 3-1 lead.

Oakleaf was down to its last out of the game with the bases loaded when Adison Mauldin drew a walk and cut the lead to one. Next up was Bailey Goddard who hit an RBI infield single to knot the game at three and force an extra inning.

Both teams came up with clutch hits and defensive plays at key moments in the game and represented what it means to be a champion of Clay County.

Denapoli's hammer not enough for Lady Blue Devils

By Anthony Richards
Correspondent

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Despite a two-run triple by Rachel Denapoli in the second inning, the Clay Lady Blue Devils finished runner-up in district 4-5A with a 6-2 loss to Ponte Vedra High School Thursday night in the district championship game at Clay High School.

"Different people have stepped up for us all year long," Lewis said. "Tonight Rachel DeNapoli stepped up and made a nice hit."

Lewis tried to focus on the mindset of moving forward and the steps that must be taken on the path back to prominence. Clay has had three games all decided in the last innings against the number two ranked Lady Sharks.

"I hate the word rebuilding because at Clay we've always just reloaded and never had to rebuild," said Clay head coach Matt Lewis. "Four years out of the playoffs and yeah we had to rebuild. We got back to where we needed to be."

However, two runs were all that Clay's offense could manage, and the defense fueled Ponte Vedra runs late in the game that helped cement the district championship.

"We constantly talk about putting pressure on their [opposing] defense," Lewis said. "They put pressure on our defense and we didn't make plays."

Big hits
Clay High softball's Rachel Denapoli has had key hits in the later part of the Blue Devils season and blasted the only runs against district 4-5A top seed Ponte Vedra in Clay's 6-2 championship game loss. Clay heads to Baker County for their Region 1-5A opener on Thurs., April 24.

The loss is the Lady Blue Devils' third this season to Ponte Vedra after two regular season losses. Despite playing in front of the home faithful, Ponte Vedra had Clay's number once again.

"You always want to be No.1, and hopefully we'll see Ponte Vedra again because they can't beat us four times," said Clay senior Haley Powell. "Ponte Vedra is a big rivalry and it's always a good game."

Ponte Vedra represents the type of program that Clay has run up against on several occasions this season. The schedule has been consistently challenging and designed to replicate the opponents and atmosphere that is associated with post-season play.

"I'm not going to pad a schedule for a 20-win season," Lewis said. "We're going to play the best teams in the state and that's our goal. I'm going after people, and I want to push our girls."

Despite falling short of a district crown, Lewis continues to concentrate on the positives and improvement that have been mounting all season long. Advancing past the regular season was at the program's forefront.

"We set the majority of our goals from the beginning of the season with No. 1, to get in the playoffs," Lewis said. "We accomplished that and we just can't rest on that now. We've got to go to the next step."

The process of moving forward and never settling for the current position is something that has become a mainstay and a characteristic that the Lady Blue Devils take pride in.

Sprint team fuels Ridgeview runner-up spot

Oakleaf's Archbold goes "yard" in triple jump

PONTE VEDRA BEACH – Ridgeview High's sprint prowess for the boy's track team; a 1-3-4 finish in the 100, a win in the 200 and a third in the 400 led the Panthers to a second place team finish at the District 4-3A track championship on Thursday at Nease High School. For the girls, Oakleaf High, with a surprise three-foot triple jump personal best, topped area team scores with a third place finish. Creekside won both team titles.

Top four individuals advance to the region championships to be held Thur., April 24 at Tallahassee Chiles High School.

Panther senior Stanley Dye led the charges for Ridgeview with powerful wins in the 100 and 200. In the 100, Dye ran 10.79 in the final after qualifying easily at 11.46. Dye was in friendly territory with teammates Joel Sampson and Alvin Green going third and fourth, respectively. Oakleaf had two sprinters; Emmanuel Morrison and Jared Banks in the top seven.

Sampson also led a 1-4 Clay County lineup in the triple jump with Orange Park's Bernard Clark and Patrick Griffin taking second and third and Ridgeview's Alex Phai getting fourth.

In the long jump, won by Sampson's 21'-8" leap, Griffin would get second and Clark third.

In the 200, Dye cruised in 23.23 before exploding in the final after the turn to win in 22.13. Dye has bests of 21.56 and 10.56. Middleburg's Tyler Hefner was fifth in the 200 in 23.09.

In region splits; district 1-3A had three 100 meter runners under 11 seconds with 10.64 the fastest and two 200 meter dash times under 22 with a fastest of 21.80. In

Golf scholarship a first for Oakleaf

Oakleaf High senior Chris Faketty, a Clay County High School boy's golf champion, became the first NCAA Division I golf scholarship for the Knights and celebrated with a signing ceremony Thursday afternoon. Faketty, shown sharing a funny golf story with Oakleaf coach Sean Conroy, is scheduled to attend Savannah State University in Georgia to continue his golf career. Faketty was a nine time medalist in match play for the Knights, twice Clay Today All County first team and an FHSAA region qualifier in 2013. Faketty commented his best round was a 70 (-2) on the Eagle Harbor Golf Course and has come as close as two inches of a hole-in-one at the Eagle Landing Golf Course. Savannah State started Division I play in 2002 and plays in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference.

"Our motto for the last eight or nine years has been to keep moving forward no matter what," Lewis said. "It doesn't matter, if you take a loss, you've still got to move forward. Four years in a row we stayed stagnant."

By always striving to move forward, it has allowed for relationships to be strengthened and resulted in a much more unified team taking the field this season.

"It's been a great season and all the girls are really close to each other," Powell said. "It's not just a team, it's a family."

Clay enters the playoffs looking to send its seniors out on a winning note and extend their high school careers for as long as possible.

For a senior class that has yet to experience postseason play, it will be a special time.

"We've got to do it for our seniors and we talk about how you want to send your senior class out," Lewis said. "This year we're putting them in the playoffs."

Clay's first test of the playoffs will come on the road against Baker County High School, which is an experienced team with ability off the chart.

"We have to look at it as we're going in as underdogs no matter what," Lewis said. "They've got nothing to hang their heads on, and I want to go to battle with them every time."

Regardless of the outcome or when the season finally ends, 2014 was a season in which the Clay Lady Blue Devils rediscovered its motto and reestablished its softball program.

"I've been to the final four and I've won a state championship, and I want these girls to taste it," Lewis said. "They're going with me kicking and screaming whether they like it or not."

Broncos' senior pitcher Pearson McMahan blasted a two run triple in the first inning and a solo homer in the fourth inning as the surprising Middleburg High baseball team upended district top seed Columbia 7-3 at Middleburg in semifinal action Tuesday night at Middleburg High School. Middleburg (9-13) has made it into their district championship the past two years with a non-winning record. Columbia (18-5) was the district top seed.

In the other semifinal, Gainesville High beat Oakleaf High 5-2 to advance to the championship game on Thursday. Oakleaf let a 2-1 lead in the fourth inning slip away with four runs in the fifth and three in the sixth coming by way of eight errors for the night. Oakleaf (10-12) had beaten Gainesville (12-14) and top-seed Columbia just two weeks ago; 6-3 and 15-4, respectively.

Trey Hester hit an RBI-single to right field to lift the Fleming Island High baseball to a 10-9 win in their district 3-7A semifinal. Fleming Island will play for its second district title in two years under head coach Jeremy Klosterman (2013 in district 2-7A) against Gainesville Buchholz, an 11-1 winner over Atlantic Coast High School.

Fleming Island was behind 3-1 after three innings and battled back to tie the game at 5-5 in the fourth inning with a two-run double from Josh Moser. The score stayed at 5-5 until the sixth when Nick Henry hit an RBI single to left field that scored Tanner Thomas from third base to push Fleming Island ahead 6-5. Fletcher was unwilling to go away easy and scored four runs in the seventh off a bases loaded walk, a two-run double, an error at second base and a wild pitch.

Down 9-6, Fleming Island fought back with Rhett Aplin sprinting to first on a knuckleball hit in front of Fletcher's third baseman, a walk to Jason Nebrat, who had replaced Bryce Baker on the mound at 6-5 Fleming Island, and an RBI-single by Reece Cooley to make the score 9-7. Andy Diaz

ORANGE PARK – After a 1-2-3-4 sweep in both the girls and boys pole vaults and a sprint sweep by Cara Simpson, the St. Johns Country Day School track teams won both team titles at the district 4-1A track championships held last week at Bishop Snyder High School. Kirby Powers, who won last year's region title, cleared the same five feet to win her second straight high jump title while Philip cleared 10'-6" to take fourth in the pole vault. Philip Powers cleared nine feet for eighth at the 2013 region meet. Kirby Powers also took fourth in the 100 hurdles to advance to the state meet.

Fleming Island softball heads to Lake Howell

Golden Eagles win semi, lose 1-0 in final

By Anthony Richards
Correspondent

JACKSONVILLE – Fleming Island softball earned a dominant 5-0 win over Fletcher in the district 3-7A semifinals behind a shutout pitching effort from KK Leddy, but fell short 1-0 to Gainesville Buchholz (15-8) in the championship game on Thursday at Atlantic Coast High School. The runnerup Lady Golden Eagles will travel to Lake Howell High School of Winter Park, the district 4-7A champion, in the region 1-7A opener on Thurs., April 24. Lake Howell's overall record is 17-10 and lost twice (2012, 2013) in the Region 1-7A final to Tallahassee Chiles.

Against Fletcher, all five of Fleming Island's runs came in the third inning when the Lady Golden Eagles batted around in the order and all but one was able to reach base. Against Buchholz, an RBI-single in the fifth inning was the lone run scored. Fleming Island (14-11) won one and lost one to Buchholz in regular season play.The Golden Eagles were last in region playoffs in 2010.

"It's a great feeling and I wish they'd do it all the time," said Fleming Island head coach Heather Scharf, after the Fletcher semifinal win. "From the top to the bottom everybody came out hitting."

Casey Snyder got the inning started with a stand-up double that carried over the left fielder's head and rolled to the fence. Katie Smith brought home Snyder with a slow roller into the infield gap and reached on a fielder's choice.

"I wasn't trying to hit a double or over the fence," said Fleming Island outfielder Casey Snyder. "I wasn't expecting it to be a big inning."

Bailey Hoch beat out an infield single to score another run, and KK Leddy blew the game wide open with a two-RBI single that was roped over a leaping shortstop. Jordan Hunt hustled home after a passed ball to cap the inning's scoring.

"For the first time in a while, I was seeing the ball really good," said Fleming Island pitcher KK Leddy. "The team was on my back, and I knew that with runners on base I had to hit them in."

Leddy took the game over from there and continually silenced Fletcher batters to the tune of no runs on three hits and six strikeouts.

"I had bronchitis for a week and haven't been able to pitch, and I was really nervous about tonight," Leddy said. "I talked to my catcher [Jordan Hunt] and just said that 'it's me and you.'"

Back-to-back strikeouts to end the fifth inning were a result of a tantalizing changeup pitch that left Fletcher hitters off balance and swinging at air. Leddy's changeup has become a perfect complement to her trademark fastball.

"Her changeup definitely set them off, and they were so confused they didn't know what to expect," Scharf said.

Leddy's array of pitches has developed throughout the season and is a testament to the effort she has put in on the mound. She has been the anchor of Fleming Island pitching and has shown reliable durability.

"She's pitched every game for us and there's nothing to come out of it but improving," Scharf said. "It's a lot to put on a pitcher and I couldn't ask for more."

Taylor Steczo delivered a two-out double to deep left field in the top of the sixth inning for the Lady Golden Eagles' second extra base hit of the game. As a whole, Fleming Island would double-up Fletcher's lineup in total hits.

"I told the girls in the dugout that they don't need to get on base anymore," Leddy said. "Three up and three down every inning and don't give them anything that they don't deserve."

Hunt led off in the seventh inning and looked to add to the extra base hit count with a high fly ball that carried to left field. However, Fletcher made a fabulous play to turn the possible hit into the inning's first out.

"Fletcher made good plays, and I think if we were playing a different team, some of those would have been a double or triple," Scharf said.

(25-0) defending Class 6A champion and top ranked (all classes in Florida) Columbia 4-2 at Orange Park High School Friday night.

"I don't have a whole lot of words right now," said Thompson. "I hope we see them again in regions."

As the top two teams of district 2-6A, Columbia hosts their region opener while Oakleaf has to travel to a Milton High in the Panhandle for their region opener. Milton (17-5) won the district 1-6A title and is ranked 13th by Maxpreps. Milton was district 1-6A runnerup last year. Oakleaf is 15th and was district 3-6A champion over Middleburg before losing to (4-6A) Columbia 3-1 in the region semifinal.

Oakleaf advanced to the district final with an 8-3 win over Gainesville on Tuesday.

With freshman Kelsey Sweatt getting behind 1-0 after Columbia's first at bat off an RBI double with two baserunners, Oakleaf answered in the second inning with a hard double from Bri Surrento, a well-placed bunt by Gina Eller and a crunch time double from freshman Mikael Garcia that scored Surrento and quelled the boisterous Tiger visiters.

"We showed we could go toe-to-toe with them," said Thompson. "Mikael has had a great tournament on the field and at bat."

Sweatt chopped down the Tiger bats in the ensuing inning with two strikeouts and her 54 miles per hour fastball rock solid.

In the top of the third, Oakleaf got Amber Howard on base with a slap hit before Cassidy Brewer crushed a long RBI double to left field and put Oakleaf up 2-1.

Like a heavyweight title fight that had it's early round near-knockouts, both teams settled into body blows with both sides waiting for a mistake.

In the bottom of the seventh, with the Oakleaf dugout maybe celebrating a tad early with an on-field demonstration with flying glitter, the spine of a champion rose up for Columbia as Sweatt was stung with a hard single and a bunt putting baserunners at first and second. Two grounders ratcheted up the tension on the field as Columbia's domination of the state seemed imminently about to end, but with two outs, two baserunners awaiting their fate, Sweatt delivered two strikes and was on the verge of one of her biggest games ever before Columbia batter Kayli Kvistad, a University of Florida signee, launched the final pitch high and far into right field, almost far enough to the adjacent baseball left field, as Knight outfielder Jasmine Chrispin watched in despair at the fence.

"Kelsey did her job, " said Thompson. "The pitch was up and out of the strike zone, but she tomahawked it and sent it out."

district 3-3A, with Stanton Prep's Kendal Williams sprinting to a 10.46 winning time and owning a 10.28 national best, Dye's best competition will be well known. Williams ran 21.71 to win his district 200 title by over two seconds. District 2-3A was unavailable.

In the 400, Gomez had the fastest qualifying time at 51.77 and improved to 51.59 for third with Oakleaf's Ryan Scheuneman holding off Orange Park's Peter Williams for fourth place by .02 seconds. The winning time was 50.80.

In the 4 x 100 relay, Oakleaf's quartet of Jared Banks, Chris Westry, Juba McCray and Auja Rogers avenged a recent tight loss to Ridgeview with a first place time of 43.41 with Orange Park second and Ridgeview third.

In the jumps, Oakleaf senior Cory Dyer won by six inches with a 6'-4" leap in windy conditions with Ridgeview's Christian Crosbie third. Oakleaf pole vaulter Viet Nguyen had a one foot improvement to 12'-6" to take third.

For the Oakleaf girls teams, field events and jump events gave the Lady Knights a big chunk of points with shotputter Ciara Walker winning her first district title with a 35'-11.25" best ever throw with teammate Marissa Weidner getting third. In the discus, Walker finished second to Orange Park's Janee Gainer with Orange Park's Jenifer Agudelo third.

For the boys throwers, Middleburg's Steven Cossich blasted to a season-best 144'5" win in the discus with Ridgeview's Daniel Pierre third and Oakleaf's Jordan Dage fourth. In the shotput, Orange Park's Jacob Abdel threw 42'-6 for second in front of Ridgeview's Malcolm Kirce and Orange Park's Christian Tejada.

In the girls jump events, it was a personal best by three feet off a perfectly timed prevailing tailwind from pint-sized sophomore Aloria Archbold in the triple jump, at 35'-1.5", that put her in third behind teammate Nadine Missouri and ahead of Orange Park's Katlynn Bacher. Archbold jumped 32 feet at the March Clay County championships. District 1-3A's triple jump was won in 33 feet. District 3-3A was won in 34 feet.

In the only distance region qualifier, Orange Park senior miler Joshua Bigden finished third in 4:36.09.

In the hurdles, it was once-again the Everett-Earl show with Oakleaf High's Earl Ituralde and Middleburg High's Michael Everett going shoulder to shoulder in both events and advancing to regions in both events. Everett was district champion in the 110 hurdles with Ituralde second while Everett took third with a season best 39.74 time and Ituralde fourth in the 300 hurdles. Orange Park's Donte Hensil finished fourth in the 110 hurdles to advance to regions. Hensil was fifth in the 300 hurdles.

In the girls long jump, Middleburg's Nyesha Littles headed up a three inch difference between her first place finish and Orange Park's Katlynn Bacher's fourth place finish sandwiched around Oakleaf's Nadine Missouri in third. Littles won at 17'-4", Missouri was third at 17'-1.5" and Bacher was fourth at 17'-1" in one of the closest events all day. Littles, who advanced in the 400 with a third place finish, finished fifth in the triple by just an inch behind Bacher.

Also advancing to regions were, for the girls; Orange Park's Angela Dimichele, fourth in the 200; Oakleaf's Raven Mims, fourth in the 100 hurdles; Oakleaf's Rakia Campbell, third in the high jump; Orange Park's 4 x 400 relay, third; Oakleaf's 4 x 400 relay, fourth; Oakleaf's 4 x 100 relay, first; Orange Park's 4 x 100 relay, second, and Ridgeview's 4 x 100 relay, fourth.

Advancing for the boys were Oakleaf's 4 x 400 relay, third; Orange Park's 4 x 400 relay, fourth, and Ridgeview's 4 x 800 relay, fourth.

girls and boys scores with Atlantic Coast winning for the girls and Flagler Palm Coast winning for the boys.

Motes, who had entered in the 100, 200 and 400, plus relays, won the 200 in convincing fashion in 22.15 seconds while taking second in the 100. Motes later stepped off the track just after the start of the 400.

In the 400, teammate Haden Speers, who has improved steadily throughout the season while inching up on the 50-second barrier, had the third fastest qualifying time at 52.00 seconds, but then ran hard to a 50.25 winning split in the final. District 3-4A had four boys under 51 seconds with a winning time at 49.94.

Carter, who has flip-flopped her 100 meter dash speed with 400 meter legs throughout the season, blasted the field in the 400 to win in 1:00.78, nearly a minute faster than second place. District 3-4A had four girls under a minute.

Carter, a junior, later was part of a fourth place 4 x 400 relay finish with freshman Ashley Nelson, sophomore Devin Middle and sophomore Kayonna Lewis, that promises faster potential for a few years for Fleming Island. Carter then anchored a fourth place 4 x 400 relay with junior Kristen Shaw, sophomore Emily Surgeoner and Nelson. Fleming Island's final girls relay advancing to regions was the 4 x 800 with juniors Gabrielle Payne, Madison Goetze, Kathryn Eifert and sophomore Abigail Millson.

In the 100, freshman Ashley Johnson showed some flash with a fourth in the 200 and a just-miss fifth in the 100 in a tight top four field that was separated by just .64 seconds. In the 200, Nelson qualified with a 26.96 then pushed to a 26.94 for fourth to advance to her first region championship.

In the throws, Greene and Alston both advanced with Greene winning in shot with a 38'-11" put with Alston second by a foot. In the discus, Alston threw for second with Greene seventh. Greene and Alston's top throws were ahead of first place throws in districts two and three.

For May, who was third in the state last year, the 60-foot barrier has been elusive, district 2-4A had winning throws of 53'-7" for shot and 155'-8" for discus with district 3-4A under 145 feet and 48 feet in both events.

In the hurdles, Fleming Island sends sophomore Devin Middle in the 300 hurdles after her second place finish at 48.92. Middle had the fastest qualifying time at 49.90. Middle has her work cut out for her with district 3-4A's top three under 48 seconds and district 2-4A's top five under 49 seconds.

None of the Fleming Island distance runners made regions individual but both 4 x 800s qualified.

Ryan Smenda from right field on what looked to be an easy single. "I was playing shallow because of the wind conditions so I knew a hard hit ball I could throw them out if given the opportunity. I have a strong arm and feel confident making that play" said the seventh grader.

The Cougars would strike again in the second inning as Soloman would draw a walk. Speedster Eric Predmore would replace him as a base runner and immediately steal two bases on a wild pitch. After another walk by Lakeside pitcher Brandon Dumas, first baseman Nick Barrie would earn an RBI on a fielders choice to give the Cougars a 2-0 lead. After another wild pitch allowed the Cougars to steal home, shortstop Kevin Jackson would hit an RBI double that gave Green Cove Springs a 4-0 lead and Lakeside would then hand the ball to south paw Jared Wilson. He would make an immediate impact on the mound finishing off the inning with a double play to keep the Gators within striking distance.

Another great defensive play by the Cougars would stop any third inning momentum the defending champions hoped they could build against the Cougars.

Lakeside would have its own highlight play in the bottom of the third as starting pitcher (now playing shortstop) Brandon Dumas would field a deep ground ball and throw out Cougars batter Justin Hawkins at first base from his knees. The Gators would use the momentum to keep Green Cove scoreless in the inning.

The Cougars finished the season 14-3 overall and 11-2 against Clay County teams. They also won two tournament titles: The Pre season Wes Whiddon tournament and the 2014 Clay County tournament championship.

hit an RBI-single to centerfield that scored the game 9-8 before Thomas bunted Diaz to third base to set up Hester's gamewinner.

District 3-3A:
St. Joseph Academy 1, St. Johns Country Day School 0

St. Johns senior Luke Dill rounded third base in the bottom of the seventh inning hoping for a dropped fly ball of Connor Bradley's long hit to left field, but it was for naught as the ball was caught to preserve a 1-0 district 3-3A semifinal win for St. Joseph Academy over the Spartans on the St. Joseph Academy campus.

Dill had walked to start the inning, got a sacrifice bunt from Noah Wilkes to get to second to set up Bradley's unsuccessful gamewinner. On the mound, Dill got four strikeouts and kept the Flashes' bats at bay until the sixth inning when a two out double to right field scored the game's lone run.

District 4-5A:
Clay 11, Palatka 1
Ponte Vedra 12, Ridgeview 2
Ridgeview 2, Menendez 1 (Monday)

Clay High (18-7) pounded Palatka (11-13) 11-1 in their district 4-5A semifinal behind a seven run second inning en route to advancing to their district final in a third game against defending 5A state champion Ponte Vedra High, a 12-2 winner over Ridgeview High in the other semifinal.

Clay finished the game with 10 hits, five of which came in the second inning when the Blue Devils batted around in the order. Andy Toelken, Tyler Morris and Hunter Alexander each had a game-high two RBIs and sparked the offensive attack. Toelken won on the mound.

Clay will face a Ponte Vedra team that beat the Blue Devils twice in two days to end regular season play.
