It's official: Schools will have its own police department

Sheriff Daniels withdraws plan as schools win state approval

By Wesley LeBlanc
Staff Writer

FLEMING ISLAND – Sheriff Darryl Daniels pulled his proposal to keep Clay County Sheriff's Office deputies in Clay County schools from the Board of County Commissioners agenda meeting Tuesday night, paving the way for the school board to create its own police force and ending weeks of back-and-forth between Daniels and the school board.

The school board hired former CCSO lieutenant Kenneth Wagner as the school's new police chief on Feb. 25. Daniels then proposed in an open letter a plan that would keep CCSO deputies in schools and would do so with help in funding from the county. The school board would cover the cost of officers at school, but during non-school related events, or during school vacations where officers would be given assignments elsewhere, the county would cover the costs.

That idea never made it to last Tuesday's BCC agenda.

"At this time, Sheriff Daniels' has removed his most recent proposition/plan from the Board of County Commissioners

Motorcyclist loses a leg, not his hope

Injured rider returns to OPMC to thank doctors, therapists

By Don Coble

ORANGE PARK – Gilberto Lopez remembers everything about his short motorcycle ride on Jan. 28:

The urgency to get home before dark. Seeing the truck turn directly in front of him.

The impact. All the surgeries, almost daily, to check for possible healing and debris in his mangled right leg.

And the decision. Now, less than two months later, Lopez still feels mosquitos biting a leg no longer exists. But he's optimistic, if not grateful, for what's ahead, because the way he feels, he only lost a leg, not his life.

School wins computer science female diversity honor

For Clay Today

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – Keystone Heights High has earned the first College Board Advanced Placement Computer Science Female Diversity Award for achieving high female representation in AP Computer Science Principles.

Schools honored with the AP Computer Science Female Diversity Award have expanded girls' access in AP Computer Science courses. Out of more than 18,000 secondary schools worldwide that offer AP courses, Keystone Heights High School is one of only 685 to accomplish this.

"We're honored by this recognition and are proud of our female students studying computer science for their achievements," said Katie Payne, AP Computer Science Teacher. "We're committed to continuing to provide our female students with access

Clay County Memories

By Mary Jo McTammany tamctammany@comcast.net

Unique history of one Clay County woman

By Mary Jo McTammany

Early in 1924, Kathleen Hyatt climbed from behind the wheel of her father's Studebaker at the rectory of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church where he would assume his duties as the new rector of St. Mary's and St. Margaret's in Hibernia.

Kathleen was 26 years old, and for the last eight of those years had lived an exciting vagabond existence bouncing back and forth across the Atlantic as an insider to the military and political turmoil of WW I. In fact, her life was unsettled from the beginning.

Almost at once after her birth in 1898 in Gloucester, England, Kathleen's father departed to work in the U.S. When her mother died in 1903, 5-year-old Kathleen was bundled up and dispatched to grow up with her maternal aunt in France and later in Belgium. She was educated in the best private girls' schools and was a comfortable part of the European social, cultural and political scene. By 18, she was classically educated, sophisticated and intensely charismatic — an independent woman of her times.

She was the beneficiary of a family trust to be distributed when she reached 21 and anxious to join her father in America. Kathleen convinced the trustees to relinquish control to her early. Immediately, she embarked by ship and father and daughter were reunited.

Commencement of WW I loomed on the horizon and Kathleen wanted to serve. She joined the Army Signal Corps and was trained as a telephone switchboard operator because she spoke French fluently. She boarded a military transport and reported to her assignment in LeHarve, north of Paris, and the command headquarters of Gen. "Black Jack" Pershing.

For 18 months, Kathleen personally witnessed the military and diplomatic details of the war. Communications from all the major players were routed through her switchboard. She placed Pershing's call to General Dawes and naturally listened as they brainstormed the signing of the Armistice to end the war.

She was barely back in Washington State when her father was approached by Episcopal Bishop Weed of Florida and he was convinced to take the assignment which brought them to Florida. He accepted so they packed up the car and headed south.

They settled in the new rectory in Green Cove Springs and Kathleen immediately started visiting and entertaining parishioners as her father's hostess. One fateful visit changed her life. At the home of Louis H. McKee, church benefactor and visionary builder and owner of the town's world famous Qui Si Sana Resort Hotel, Kathleen was introduced to his son also named Louis. They were both smitten and after a whirlwind courtship were married in September.

The couple bought the Mahony property adjacent to Hibernia Plantation and became island neighbors of the Fleming family. Their two sons Douglas and Louis grew up exploring the creeks, wildlife and woods. Kathleen's life was full with church and golfing with friends on the Fleming course on the island or the family links just south of the hotel in Green Cove Springs. Kathleen's fondness for the church Margaret Fleming built inspired her to find time in her busy life to write its history.

Whether it was finding true love with Louis McKee, being enchanted by the beauty of Fleming Island or just getting sand in her shoes, the wanderer put down roots and spent the rest of her life in Clay County.

Orange Park has no long-term solutions for short-term rentals

By Wesley LeBlanc
Staff Writer

ORANGE PARK — While only a few short-term rental properties like AirBnB homes have popped up locally, more could be on the way as the council recently learned Florida law does not allow municipalities to ban these types of rental businesses.

Town attorney Sam Garrison said that after looking into the power the council might have over short-term rentals, he told them during the town council meeting on March 5 it couldn't do much to prevent them from occurring in Orange Park.

"The main thing I wanted to let you know, because it was brought forth, is can we just ban these sorts of things?" Garrison said. "The answer is no, we can't. Love it or hate it, single-family properties are allowed in the state of Florida...to rent out all or a portion of the single-family home and while we certainly can regulate it in certain respects, we cannot ban it."

According to Garrison, regulations can occur, but they must be done so in a non-discriminatory fashion, and regulations cannot be done to the extent that short-term rental business owners are being driven out of Orange Park. The town can, however, charge a business tax to these property owners.

Other regulations include trash, noise ordinances, which are already in place within the town, parking rules and occupancy standards. Currently, only trash and noise ordinance are in place. The other regulations would have to be enacted further down the road, should the council wish to pursue them.

While some regulations are possible, there's a lot that the town can't do as a result of Florida statute. Unless certain rules were put into place prior to 2011, there's not a lot the town can do in the future.

"The way I'm hearing it, no matter how we committee this or task force it, I don't know if we can do anything here unless we enacted something before 2011," Mayor Gary Meeks said.

According to Garrison, the definition of short-term rental is quite broad.

"Under the statute, typically, it's considered six months or less," Garrison said.

Town Manager Sarah Campbell expanded on this with a more precise definition from the League of Cities.

"A [short-term vacation rental] is a property that's rented more than three times a year for less than 30 days at a time," Campbell said.

Campbell said if it's being rented for longer than 30 days at a time, it's then considered something more long-term, like a lease. Vice Mayor Ron Raymond said that he surprisingly agrees with the League of Cities but finds the Florida statute that prohibits the town from doing much regarding short-term rentals unfair. Because of that, Raymond suggested that the council work with the League of Cities to get this kind of legislature changed or reworked to yield municipalities more ruling in these situations.

No official motion was made but Garrison said he and staff will work to further the conversation for the council.

"I feel like [Campbell] and I have a pretty good handle on where the five of you are on this issue," Garrison said. "If something needs your approval, we'll bring something back to you that gives us the ability to do what we can with the law as it is and see if it works for the majority of the council."

Fortis joins Hoods for Heroes to help firefighters

By Nick Blank
Staff Writer

ORANGE PARK – Fortis College will join Hoods For Heroes to raise money to supply firefighters with protective hoods.

Over the next six weeks, students will each try to raise $125, the cost of one protective hood that blocks carcinogens accumulated while fighting fires.

According to a Hoods For Heroes press release, the fundraising program includes a drawing for an award of up to $2,500, with a matching amount from Fortis College.

Cancer is prevalent among firefighters. Carcinogens released from burned synthetic materials stick on their skin and clothing long after a fire is over.

Hoods For Heroes referenced a National Institute of Science and Health report that firefighters have a 2.02 times higher risk for testicular cancer and 1.53 times greater chance for myeloma than the general population. Multiple studies indicate about one in three firefighters will be diagnosed with cancer and more than 60 percent of line-of-duty deaths are due to cancer, according to the International Association of Fire Fighters.

Hoods For Heroes co-founder Bill Hamilton said the organization had distributed more than 900 hoods to firefighters and $250,000 in cash and other services since August of last year. Hamilton said Hoods For Heroes met with about 200 students over a week and was looking for other schools to partner with.

“We’re working on a program with Middleburg High School for something similar to raise money for helping firefighters,” Hamilton said.

Fortis College Campus President Wyman Dickey said medical students were drawn to helping others and the college was honored to assist in Hoods For Heroes’ efforts.

“This is a perfect way for (students) to be able to see the benefit of working with an organization that has a goal that really produces immediate results,” Dickey said.

Hoods For Heroes CEO Jeff Roundtree said his organization is excited that Fortis will bring awareness to firefighters’ plight.

“We hope that firefighters will be excited to see the love and support from a local college,” Roundtree said. “There are many students at the post-secondary schools that have friends and loved ones who are firefighters. Now they are aware of the problem and committed to helping.”

Hoods For Heroes will host its 2nd annual SoundOff event on May 4 at the Mooseheaven Grounds featuring a two rapid intervention team courses for first responders and corporate partners, and a 30-second blasting of sirens to commemorate fallen firefighters.

The event will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information visit hoodsforheroes.org.

Fortis College students hope to raise $125 each to provide protective hoods to firefighters.

Don't pinch me! I'm wearing blue For St. Patrick's Day

By Don Coble
Managing Editor

Remember to wear blue this Sunday for St. Patrick's Day.

That's right, blue.

Believe it or not, blue, not green, was the original color for the cultural festival that marked the death of Saint Patrick, the foremost patron saint of Ireland.

And that's not all.

Enjoy your plate of corned beef, cabbage and potatoes, but understand what most will be eating in Ireland on Sunday is lamb, cheaper cuts of beef and soda bread.

For more than 100 years, expensive cuts of beef generally were exported to England, so Irish seldom could find, or afford, briskets and the corning spices. The Great Famine between 1845-49 resulting from potato blight triggered the mass migration of the Irish to the U.S. Corned beef was more readily available in the new world, especially with number of Kosher butchers in the Northeast.

So essentially, corned beef is an American thing.

Also, about 70 percent of the cabbage eaten in a year is done during the week surrounding St. Patrick's Day.

By the way, if you don't want to stir the ire of a true Irishman, don't say "Happy St. Patty's Day." It's St. Patrick's Day or St. Paddy's Day. (But if you buy him a pint, all will be forgiven).

Which brings us to another thing – St. Patrick's Day in Ireland is quite sobering. It's a day to go to church and wear shamrocks, since Saint Patrick used to shamrock to teach the Holy Trinity when he brought Christianity to the country. The four leaves of the shamrock represent hope, faith, love and luck.

As if we really needed a reason, why do so many people drink on St. Patrick's Day?

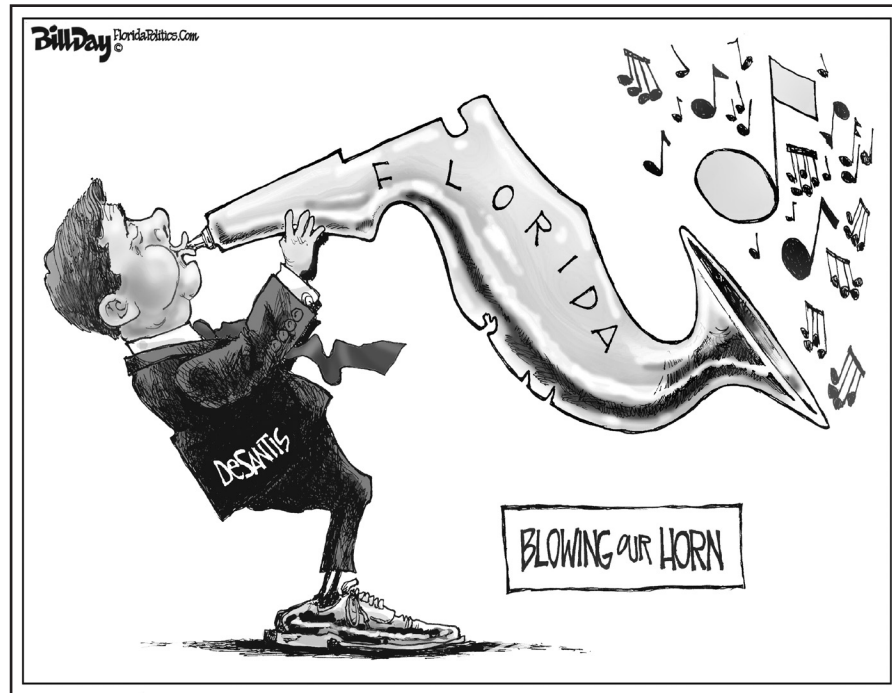

According to WalletHub, more than 33 million people will party on Sunday, which means more than 13 million pints of Guinness will be consumed. That's a payday of about $3.5 billion for bars around the world – except in Ireland where most pubs are closed to observe the national holiday.

In the U.S., police departments will be on the high alert. There were three alcohol-related arrests in Clay County last year the night of the St. Patrick's Day.

Thirty-two percent of all traffic fatalities in the U.S. on St. Patrick's Day will be alcohol-related, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

But if you're home or have a designated driver, go ahead and wear blue and have fun. But remember, that alarm will be loud and sooner than you think on Monday.

Face-to-face a better way to deal solve problems than dueling press conferences

By Wesley LeBlanc
Staff Writer

Here's a question: What if all government bodies concerned about school security had gathered in a room to discuss how to proceed forward in the 2019-20 school year instead of having dueling press conferences?

Let's make sure we're all up to speed.

Before the start of this current school year, and as a result of last year's shooting at Stoneman Douglas High, Florida lawmakers mandated that every school district have either a school resource officer, a school security officer or a guardian in every school. The same lawmakers that mandated this did little to help the districts afford such an expensive undertaking. As a result, districts across Florida scrambled to make this happen and fortunately for the county's students, the Clay County School District was one of the first in the state to have one of the required forces of security in school.

Clay did it with a mix of guardians, which are trained and certified citizens, and actual police officers. They did so with the intent to one day have the presence of a police officer in every single school. That time came just a few months ago when the school board began grooming options to switch up their school security.

The option they chose was to create a school board police force that would put a trained police officer, who are just as qualified as those at CCSO or any other police department, in every Clay County school. This option would also allow local municipality police department's like Green Cove Springs Police Department and Orange Park Police Department to maintain a presence in their designated schools.

Everything seemed to be going according to the school board's plan. They announced the forthcoming police department and hired a Chief of Police.

Then Sheriff Darryl Daniels announced a new proposal that asked that school security be provided by the Clay County Sheriff's Office and paid for by both the Board of County Commissioners and the school board.

But, yet another wrench.

On March 7, the school board essentially continued forward in forming a police department by approving job descriptions and allocations. On Tuesday, though, Daniels' was supposed to present his proposal but earlier that morning, he announced on Facebook that he had pulled the item from the BCC's agenda, citing a lack of interest from the school board.

Now, this could be the end of the school security question, but it could also, just as easily, not be the end. I, personally, am hoping for the latter because frankly, I'm tired of meetings. I attend

County on the wrong path when it comes to accessible bike routes

Clay County has long faced with the availability of bike routes.

In an age in which people are more and more drawn toward using sustainable methods of transport, our county makes it harder than need be to shed the air-conditioner laden comfort of a car to save some money on gas and cut carbon emissions.

Let me qualify the earlier statement: outside of Orange Park, bike lanes are rare, and sidewalks all but non-existent. State Road 21, a major transportation route indeed, has no continuous bike lane. Ditto for numerous roads that spiderweb through Middleburg and Keystone. And to suggest that simply adding little bands of asphalt along the road the serve as bike lanes is comedic.

Drivers are more distracted than ever, and a single white line does little to protect a cyclist from a weaving F-150 truck. So, let's choose to invest in infrastructure and the future to make better the way we travel around Clay County.

Politicians still fighting over 'prayer around the flagpole'

Elections for School Board used to be boring. Then the "Prayer around the Flagpole" controversy arose. That gave birth to deep division regarding our schools and those factions have been fighting it out ever since using the most outlandish rhetoric and dirty tactics imaginable.

Now the Clay School District wants to have its own police department. I consider it a policy issue and I'm content to let the elected officials and staff debate between themselves to determine the best course of action.

While members of the public have the right to address this, I see that many are going on the attack. This means they are using this as another opportunity to attack the people that they have wanted to un-elect ever since the Flagpole Prayer controversy. While entertaining, the turmoil lends itself bad policy and a deepening division that is capitalized upon by those who seek political power.

The Flagpole Prayer issue was resolved years ago. Clay County has a Top 10 in state School District rankings. Election results confirm the majority in Clay want a top School District because four out of five school board are held by people who seem to focus on education and what they know rather than who they know.

If it seems the School Board isn't listening to opponents of the District Police Department plan it is because they have been attacked so hard and so many times in the past, that by now threats of being voted out are just the cost of doing business.

Let's focus on reaching good decisions rather than prepping for the next election.

one and write a story about it. And then I attend another and write a story about it. And then I attend another where I write a story it. And so many of the meetings are in response to what the other side said.

During these meetings, I couldn't help but feel this could have been easily answered significantly quicker if all potential parties – the school board, the sheriff and the BCC – met in a room and simply hashed it out. If they came to an agreement, perfect. If they couldn't, the school board would continue with their police department.

The joy of this, regardless of the outcome, is that the question would have been answered either way. Instead, because of governmental formalities, yet another meeting will likely happen where these two parties are present, but this party isn't, followed by a meeting where this party and that party are present, but this party is not.

What I'm really trying to say here is that the chairs I must sit in during all of these meeting hurt my butt and I would like my butt to hurt less, which is why I think one big hash-it-all-out-here-and-now meeting could solve everyone's problems.

Residents get peek at northern phase of First Coast Expressway

By Nick Blank
Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - Residents peered at large boards with renditions of the First Coast Expressway and discussed the new road's features with contractors and government officials at the Clay County Supervisor of Elections office Tuesday afternoon.

The Florida Department of Transportation hosted a community meeting on the First Coast Expressway's second phase southern portion from just north of State Road 16 to the Shands Bridge.

Costing about $180 million, construction begins in April and the estimated completion date is in 2026. The segment is 11 miles and includes an overpass at County Road 15, a new interchange at U.S. 17 and a complex diverging diamond interchange at State Road 16 and Henley Road.

"It's a continuation of the north project, it's the next segment to get us closer to the river," FDOT spokeswoman Sarah Pleasants said. "For the diverging diamond interchange, it will be the first in Clay County."

The third phase features a rebuild of the Shands Bridge and connects the expressway to I-95. It's expected to begin construction by 2023.

FDOT held a meeting in Lake Asbury last month relating to Clay County's northern portion of the project, which connects S.R. 21 to S.R. 16. Overall phase two has four tolls. In Clay County, a section from I-10 to S.R. 23, also with four tolls, was finished last fall.

Like last month's meeting, some residents were wary of the change the First Coast Expressway would bring to the area while others were enthused.

Wayne Raulerson, who lives near C.R. 209, has lived in Clay County since 1968. He was appreciative of the FDOT's question and answer format, where he could learn more information.

"I remember moving out here soon after they built the [Black Creek] bridge, but you used to have to get across by ferry. It was Rideout Ferry. I know everything is coming this way. I just liked the way it was," Raulerson said. "[The meeting] does give you a good example of what it's going to look like. I think it's good they did this."

Echoing Raulerson's statement, Ann Turner said she was annoyed by the expressway coming so close to where she lives in Lake Asbury. She gave the FDOT representative a thorough questioning.

"Why didn't they take it through the woods somewhere?" Turner asked.

Clay County is growing rapidly, and Cindy Bates has already seen part of it. She just moved over from Middleburg to Mag-olia Point in Green Cove Springs.

"I'm excited [for the First Coast Expressway] because I saw what happened in Middleburg with all the new business, growth and opportunities, Bates said. "I'm excited for Green Cove Springs because I think it could use a little bump."

County employees receive CPR training

More than 70 Clay County employees at the Clerk's office received life-saving CPR training recently from the Clay County Fire/Rescue Department. CCFR Capt. David Kuykendall spent two days at the main courthouse in Green Cove Springs and the Orange Park branch office teaching clerks how to assist fellow workers and the public during a medical emergency, including the use of hands-only CPR training and the proper way to use the Automated External Defibrillators that are located throughout main county buildings. Employees earned their CPR certificates at the end of their training.

Agnes Chalker Watson

Agnes Chalker Watson passed away peacefully on March 6, 2019 in Orange Park, Florida at the age of 99. She was born to Agnes (Granberry) and Selwyn Thomas Chalker in Jacksonville, Florida on October 18, 1919 and grew up in Lake City, Florida.

She moved to Orange Park in 1945 and spent the rest of her life there where she met her husband of 62 years, Jack Watson. Aggie and Jack loved Orange Park and all of their many friends. They both cherished family gatherings and especially loved those times that the group gathered at the long picnic table at the family home on the St. Johns River.

She was an excellent cook and was able to turn the results of son, Duncan's, hunting and fishing trips into wonderful dinners. Her daughter, Trisha, benefitted from her skillful lessons on sewing, cooking, and crafts.

She was a devoted member of the Orange Park Presbyterian Church where she and Jack enjoyed the fellowship of the members and her meetings with the Towhee Circle. She was a charter member of the Orange Park Garden Club and made many beautiful flower arrangements to share with others.

Gardening in her beautiful yard was one of her favorite pastimes. The talent that she inherited from her artist mother resulted in the creation of many beautiful crafts. She was a true Southern lady in the best sense of the word with an innate ability to make others feel welcome.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Agnes and Selwyn Chalker; her first husband, Howard Duncan Newkirk; husband, Jack Watson; sisters, Hallijeanne Chalker and Mary Phillips Royall; brothers, Randy and Selwyn Chalker.

She is survived by her son, Duncan (Susan) Newkirk, and daughter, Trisha (Matt) Holland; grandchildren, Suzy (Jonathan) Wilson, Duncan (Kylee) Newkirk, and Aubrey (Hannah) Holland; eight great grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews. Her loving smile will be missed by all. Memorial donations may be made to Community Hospice or the Orange Park Presbyterian Church.

GCS's Mendez completes Air Force basic training

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. – U.S. Air Force Airman Monica L. Mendez graduated from basic military training at Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training also earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Mendez is the daughter of Merari Fernandez of Green Cove Springs, and a 2017 graduate of Green Cove Springs High.

Red light cameras bring a lot of green to Green Cove Springs

By Nick Blank
Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – The city's three red light cameras are up for renewal at next week's city council meeting.

The program has helped the city collect almost $3 million in fines since the 2010-2011 fiscal year, which doesn't account for the cost for law enforcement staff time to monitor the process. The money goes into the general fund.

The cameras have earned a figure closer to $8.5 million, but the state Department of Revenue, averaging $560,000, and contractor American Traffic Systems, averaging $250,000 a year, take a cut.

There were 12,208 tickets were issued in 2018. The three cameras are located where U.S. 17 intersects Harbor Road, Ferris Street and Houston Street. The cost for each camera the city pays is the same: $4,200 a month for each camera.

A bill was introduced in the state Legislature aiming to ban red light cameras altogether. Numerous bills have been introduced and struck down in the last decade, and local governments have faced criticism from residents. In 2016, a Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles survey found crashes increased about 10 percent at intersections in reporting cities after a red-light camera was installed, though there wasn't clear evidence that the crash increase was solely the camera's fault.

City Manager Steve Kennedy said he would be surprised if the Legislature eliminated the cameras. The city only receives 22-25 percent of the total revenue, and he wondered the financial hit if the state lost funds from Orlando and Miami.

"They [the state] gets about 52 percent of the fees. In the 2017-2018 fiscal year, the state got over $700,000 off the $1.3 million total," Kennedy said. "That's off of three intersections." Kennedy said he understood some residents could be frustrated by the cameras. He called the cameras leverage to make the area safer.

"Once you get in your car on a public highway, your expectation of privacy goes out the door. It's not like you're driving on your own street. It's a city street where other people are," Kennedy said. "Our laws say you can't run a red light, that's why they're there. You run one, and just because an officer doesn't observe that, doesn't mean it's not a violation of the law."

The contract adds license plate readers to assist law enforcement with quicker updates, who must read the plates.

Green Cove Springs Police Chief Derek Asdot welcomed the license plate scanners and council members voiced support of the program at previous meetings.

"The cameras slow people down," Asdot said.

County commission passes on buying Orange Park C.C.

By Debra W. Buehn

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Don't look for Clay County government to get into the golf business in the future.

Responding to the recent closure of the Country Club of Orange Park's golf course and other amenities, Clay County commissioners Tuesday decided against looking at the idea of the county government purchasing the club's amenities and basically making them a part of the county's park system.

A motion made by Wayne Bolla, the commissioner in whose district the Orange Park Country Club lies, to fund a $7,500 feasibility study of purchasing the club's golf and other amenities such as the tennis courts and clubhouse, died for lack of a second.

While expressing sympathy for the homeowners at OPCC and the adjoining Loch Rane development, all the county commissioners except Bolla said they didn't think owning a golf club was a function in which the county government should become a part.

"I'm sympathetic to the plight of the folks there in OPCC. I live in a golf course community," said Mike Cella, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.

In fact, he said, he'd spent 12 years on his Community Development District board there, each year warning others that the golf course could eventually be in monetary trouble. But never once, he said, did he expect the county government to get involved if there were problems.

"It's our problem, we'll fix it," was always his attitude he said.

Cella also said purchasing OPCC's golf course could open the door to other courses that might start having trouble, and such ownership would also put the county into competition with other taxpayers such as food and drink vendors who "pay a lot of taxes to us" to run their business, something that didn't "sit well with him."

"We are not a county that can subsidize losses," he said. "We're not high-powered investors here. We don't have capitol money to spend."

Commissioner Gayward Hendry agreed.

"This is a heartbreaking situation," he said, but added, "I can't justify in my own mind spending money to make this unit whole when we've got so many other

"I have my full health, so it's OK," he said while returning to Orange Park Medical Center Monday to "come by and say hi" to the rehabilitation staff, including University of Florida student Franco Pulji, that had a roll in his amazing recovery. "I'm alive. I'm all right, I have my family. I have everything. I just don't have a leg."

For now, Lopez soon will be fitted with a prosthetic leg that will return a little more normalcy to a young life that almost was lost less than two miles from his home. He rode his motorcycle to the gas station and was on his way home when a truck veered and struck him at 103rd Street at Old Middleburg Road. He immediately was taken to OPMC.

"He caught me on my blindside," Lopez said. "I wasn't doing anything bad. It was cold, and I was just trying to get home. He just made a mistake. In one second, everything changed. But I don't have any hard feelings."

Through all the physical and emotional pain that comes with rebuilding a broken body, Lopez refuses to be distracted by pity or anger. He insists there are so many more good days ahead of him than bad days from the past.

"I'm going to be better than I was before (the accident)," he said. "Life doesn't stop here. You just replace your leg with another one."

Lopez certainly could feel hopeless. He had just turned 20, and suddenly, he had to make a decision that came with both doubt and disappointment. He could keep the leg, knowing his movement would be extremely limited. Or he can cut it off. Decisions rarely are more difficult than that.

Gilberto Lopez, 20, laughs about what's ahead of him, not about the accident that resulted in his right leg being amputated.

"His injuries were severe," said Dr. Paul Baldwin, the orthopedic surgeon who amputated Lopez's leg. "We had a long conversation about the functional outcome. Even if all the stars aligned perfectly, he would have to go through a lot of surgeries to keep the leg, and he probably wouldn't have any mobility in his knee. It would be stiff. Basically, it would really difficult for him to get in a car or ride on an airplane. It was a real difficult conversation."

Lopez also talked with other survivors of traumatic injuries before deciding to have the leg amputated above the knee.

Gilberto Lopez returned to Orange Park Medical Center on Monday to thank the rehabilitation staff that continue to help him following his motorcycle accident on Jan. 28. Lopez soon will be fitted with a prosthetic leg. "I'm going to be better than I was before [the accident]," he said. "Life doesn't stop here. You just replace your leg with another one."

He spent a week in recovery and another week in rehab working with Pulju. Then he went home.

"He has a great spirit," Baldwin said. "He will be a good example of someone returning to a functional life – a different life, but a functional life."

Lopez wants to be a peer visitor for other patients who face difficult choices following a severe accident, Bowden said.

Not only did the surgeons work tirelessly to save his life, they gave him all the information he needed to make an informed decision about the amputation, Lopez said.

"All the surgeons who worked on me did their maximum," he said.

There will be difficult days ahead. He must learn to walk without crutches and trust a new sense of balance. There will be moments of despair, only to be quickly overwhelmed by his zealous appreciation of life.

"I'm not happy this happened, but I'm happy for the opportunities it's brought to me," he said. "I'll be fine. When I get my new leg, I can't wait to show it off. I'll be as good as new."

things in the county that the citizens are looking at us to provide.”

The whole issue came about rather quickly and unexpectedly when the golf course and other amenities were closed at the end of February. The 18-hole course, which sits on 382 acres and backs up to an Audubon bird sanctuary, the 20,000 square-foot clubhouse and eight tennis courts are included in the amenities. A swimming pool and cabana are owned by the OPCC Home Owners Association and remain open.

Between Loch Raine and OPCC, which both sit behind one gated entrance, about 1,000 homes can be found.

Bolla said he was contacted by John McCormack, president of the OPCC homeowners association about the plight of the golf course and the possible role the county might be able to play in it.

Saying the old formula for “building an upscale community” was to put in a golf course, build out around it and “hopefully when it was done building somebody would step up and continue to run the golf course or make it a mandatory part of the association dues.” But he added, what has happened at OPCC is quite different.

“The present owner has walked away from operations and it’s sitting there dormant,” he said.

That gives him several concerns. One is the potential drop in the property value of his constituents who live there, which are expected to drop at least 20 percent to 25 percent, and the subsequent loss in property tax revenue to the county, estimated at about $600,000 a year.

Bolla also mentioned that most counties around Clay County, except for Baker County, have a public golf course. He could see the potential of making some money from purchasing the course and basically making it a part of the county’s park system, which is pretty much geared toward the youth of the county, while there is little for adult entertainment.

The county has spent “millions” on parks for youth sports and then “give them away for a dollar a year to somebody to operate.”

Here was an opportunity to make some money due to the assets involved, he said.

McCormack was among several residents of OPCC and Loch Raine who appeared at the Tuesday BCC meeting. He listed some of the amenities that could be beneficial to the county, including owning the golf course itself, creating jobs, converting some tennis courts to the popular pickleball and even using the clubhouse as an outreach for culinary skills for a place such as St. Johns River Community College.

“I would sure hate to see it go fallow,” he said of the course.

Like others who appeared, he said time was of the essence to keep the greens from going into such disrepair it would be incredibly difficult to restore them.

David Miller said the golf course is a “perishable item,” and has not been mowed in 15 days. Another 60 to 90 days could make a huge difference.

“Time is of the essence more than anything,” he said.

Among others speaking, Charles More, president of the Loch Raine homeowners association, called the course a “diamond in the rough” while Mark Blakewood, an OPCC resident and longtime golf consultant, said the course and amenities would probably sell for “pennies on the dollar.”

“You’ve got a unique opportunity to pick up a first-class facility, again, for pennies on the dollar,” he said.

Golf courses have faced some tough times lately with changing attitudes toward it. More than 200 courses like OPCC’s closed last year nationwide, said McCormack. Some attribute the problems to a lack of interest in the sport from the millennials vs. the baby boom generation, among other things.

According to the March issue of the OPCC/Loch Raine newsletter, the course and amenities are owned by James Anthony Price III and Shasta Price and are for sale.

The Jacksonville-based 121 Financial Credit Union holds the note on the property, and Paul B. Blackstone, chief strategies officer, appeared at the Tuesday meeting and gave a brief statement, saying 121 was “in the process of doing our due diligence” in the matter of the Country Club of Orange Park. Blackstone said his group would be giving more information as it became available.

“This is obviously early in this process for us as well,” he said, adding, “It was just right for us to be here and represent that we’re part of the community and happy to be involved.”

Commissioner Diane Hutchins suggested that part of the 382 acres on which the golf course lies could be converted to space for more homes.

“That’s what a lot of golf courses are doing to survive,” she said.

But McCormack said that would be tough to do at OPCC because of the Planned Unit Development that exists. Changing that would be difficult due to things like nearby Blanding Boulevard, which is already over capacity.

For his part, Bolla said he had hoped to get a feasibility study the county would own and could use for other entities interested in purchasing the course. A “knight in shining armor” who might come along to buy the course would be great, he said.

Remaining county commissioners said they would be happy to give other types of help to OPCC, but not purchasing it or paying for a feasibility study.

McCormack said he was “disappointed” in the outcome of the meeting, but added, “I understand it.” The next step will be to see what the leaders are going to do.

In the meantime, he said, “I guess I will just cut the grass behind my house that used to be the golf course.”

KEN BROCK

UPDATE 2,664 Miles

Keystone Heights to Coeur d’Alene Idaho

Despite deadly weather, Brock’s journey for WWP pushes on

By Don Coble
Managing Editor

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — There’s a sense of urgency in every one of Ken Brock’s steps as he continues his incredible 2,664-mile walk to Coeur d’Alene, Idaho.

He’s been slowed by a head cold and severe weather. And while he’s already completed 686 miles since he left Amvets Post 86 in Keystone Heights on Feb. 1, he knows there still are 1,978 miles to go.

“I’m behind,” he said Wednesday morning as approached Memphis, just ahead of another round of thunderstorms. “But once I get past Memphis, it should smooth out. I plan to average 30 miles a day to get back on track. Trying to stay ahead of these storms in real motivation.”

Brock is making the walk with his service dog, Pam, to bring awareness to Wounded Warrior Project. He said the Jacksonville-based organization helped him deal with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder symptoms, which empowered him to venture beyond is confined level of comfort.

The walk has created a lot of challenges. But Brock keeps marching.

“I had a head cold over the weekend,” he said. “But when I started feeling the symptoms, I got right on it. This is the last place you want to be sick.”

Then there’s the weather.

He was in the middle of the tornado breakout two weekends ago that killed 23 people in Alabama. The weather was so dangerous, he was forced to take refuge in Eufaula, Ala., for four days. He was leaving Alabama last weekend when another deadly line of storms passed through.

“I want to average 500 miles a month so I can get to Coeur d’Alene by July 4,” Brock said. “Right now, I’m about a week behind. But I can make that up. After Memphis, it’s flat. I can really get going. When you stay a couple days here, a couple days there because of the weather, it gets you behind. I’ll be playing catch-up for the next week.”

Brock spent Wednesday night in a motel to avoid being “hammered” by high winds and rain.

“I’m going to reach my goal,” Brock said. “I’m motivated.”

(BCC) agenda scheduled for tonight, March 12, 2019,” stated the post on the official Clay County Sheriff’s Office, Florida, Facebook page.

The post said Daniels made the decision, citing a lack of interest from the school board.

“This revised proposition/plan was submitted to the school board members, along with the school superintendent, however no interest was shown from most members,” the post reads. “Considering that this proposition/plan was not acted upon by the school board, there is nothing to gain by asking the BCC for additional funding, until such time that the school board changes their current decision.”

The school board also got the approval from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement to create its own police department. The school board now can formally create job descriptions and allocations and start the hiring process.

“This is it,” Davis said. “Truly, this puts us in a situation where we can start the hiring process to make sure we seek to obtain highly qualified, trained and skilled individuals to protect our children along with our adults on campuses. This allows us to open and launch our initiative to continue and serve to protect our students.”

The reason the school board decided to create its own police department — much like most university campuses across the nation — was costs. Daniels tried to close the gap with his open letter, but the school board apparently still was ready to go in its own direction.

UF researchers develop model to help keep crop seeds healthy

By Brad Buck
UF/IFAS Communications

Working with international researchers, University of Florida scientists have developed a model that will help protect good seeds, which are necessary to plant healthy crops and determine what areas are at higher risk for unhealthy seeds.

In many parts of the world, people lack adequate access to nutritious food because there aren't enough quality seeds for food production, said Karen Garrett, a plant pathology professor at the UF Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences.

"We model where the disease is likely to move next and the management strategies that are likely to be most helpful," said Garrett, a co-author of a new study on how good and bad seeds get from one place to another.

In the newly published research, Garrett and one of her doctoral students, Kelsey Andersen -- the lead author on the study -- led a team of UF/IFAS researchers and colleagues in Uganda and the United Kingdom. The research team studied seed systems in Africa. Seed systems are composed of people and businesses that make seed available, and farmers who use that seed.

Because of the research, scientists developed a model that will help them find seed-borne pathogens and provides recommendations for how to stop the pathogens from spreading.

"Good seed systems provide high-quality, disease-free seeds of good crop varieties, but good seed systems do not exist in many countries," said Garrett, a faculty member in the UF/IFAS Institute for Sustainable Food Systems. "Seed systems are critical for making new, improved crop varieties available to farmers, but also can serve as major conduits for the spread of seed-borne pathogens if pathogens are not controlled."

For the study, researchers investigated the seed system for several varieties of sweet potatoes in Uganda, where sweet potatoes are a reliable staple food and can be an important source of Vitamin A.

Just as people evaluate the web pages that are most-often linked in the Internet, researchers evaluated the most important sellers and farms in the Gulu region of Uganda, in terms of their potential for both spreading disease and distributing seed of improved varieties. Highly linked sellers and farms are particularly important for detecting and managing diseases in seed systems, Garrett said.

Using these models, the researchers identified the locations in the seed system that are likely to be most important for surveillance and for management of pathogens introduced to the seed system. They also compared and found methods that worked best for identifying these key locations. When there are future epidemics in this region, this study provides strategies for dealing with them effectively.

This framework for seed system analysis can be applied to provide recommendations for a wide variety of seed systems.

"One important case that we are addressing now is the new introduction and spread of cassava mosaic disease that currently threatens cassava production in Southeast Asia," Garrett said.

The newly published study is part of the dissertation work of Andersen, a plant pathology Ph.D. student in the UF/IFAS College of Agricultural and Life Sciences.

Andersen won first place for her presentation about the research at a regional American Phyto pathological Society meeting in 2017, Garrett said. Andersen has also presented this work at project team meetings in Nairobi and Kigali. The work is supported by the CGIAR Research Program on Roots, Tubers and Bananas (RTB) and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

The research is published in the journal Phytopathology.

The mission of the University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences is to develop knowledge relevant to agricultural, human and natural resources and to make that knowledge available to sustain and enhance the quality of human life. With more than a dozen research facilities,

St. Johns River Celebration volunteer cleanup Saturday

CLAY COUNTY – The one-day St. Johns River Celebration volunteer cleanup will be on Saturday at three different locations in Clay County.

Residents may check in at the Knight's Boat Ramp at 1472 River Lane at the Black Creek Bridge at U.S. 17 in Green Cove Springs or at Whitey's Fish Camp, 2032 County Road 220 on Fleming Island from 8 a.m. until noon. Anyone wanting to clean up the area around the Main Street Boat Ramp should email county coordinator Tania Jolley at Tania.jolley@claycountygov.com in advance.

The cleanup efforts include the shoreline of the St. Johns and the river's entire watershed. The Celebration helps people understand how the river system is interconnected. What everyone does in one part of the watershed, which is the 12,400-square-mile area from which the river drains into its surrounding ecosystems, affects the entire river.

Throughout the watershed and all along the St. Johns River, people work at cleanup sites and help raise awareness of river issues to foster a year-round appreciation of Florida's longest river.

Volunteers younger than 16 must be accompanied by an adult, while anyone between 17-18 should be with an adult. Throughout the past 21 years, 10,503 volunteers have removed more than 298,431 pounds of trash and debris from Clay County waterways and roadways.

Jolley said trash bags will be supplied, but volunteers should bring rakes, trash sticks, gloves, old clothes, protective footwear and sunscreen.

Volunteers also are asked to donate canned goods for the Green Cove Springs Food Pantry and children's books for the VIA Women's Club GCS's children's reading program.

Middleburg's Gabe Bullard wins gig for Suwannee River Jam

LIVE OAK – The duo of Gabe Bullard and singer/songwriter Stephen Quinn of Jacksonville were selected as performers for the upcoming Suwannee River Jam.

The guitarist from Middleburg joined a handful of artists who were selected as one of 10 artists/groups that will perform at one of the largest country music and camping festivals in the Southeast on May 1-4.

Others selected to perform include: solo singers Nolan Hamm of Bushnell, Sarah Trimm of Bronson, Macey Mac of Ocala, Brandon Adams of Saint Augustine and Godiva of Jacksonville. Bullard and Quinn were the only duo picked, while Jacksonville's Austin Park Band, Gainesville's Southern Burn, Tampa's Fat Tractor Band and Odessa's Southbound 75 Band also will be featured on First Street Music Stage and Amphitheater during the four-day festival.

All winners will have official credentials for the Suwannee River Jam and

Middleburg Main Street Boat ramp, CR. 220 to be paved next week

The Main Street Boat Ramp and Park at 3788 Main St. in Middleburg will be closed for resurfacing from Sunday through March 23, according to Kimberly Morgan, Director of Tourism and Film Development for the Clay County Board of County Commissioners.

Also, work will start on Monday on the outside lane of County Road 220 near the Angora Bay subdivision. Construction in that area is expected to last through early June.

Clay County Tobacco Free Partnership to discuss youth-related topics

Youth E-cigarette epidemic and initiative to educate, tobacco sales to anyone younger than 21, marketing at the point of sale and sponsorships at the Clay County Agriculture Fair will be discussed next Thursday at the Town of Orange Park Chamber at 2042 Park Ave. at 11:30 a.m.

Please join us for our next meeting and learn how you can help reduce youth access and exposure to all tobacco products, including electronic cigarettes," said Candace Osteen, Clay County Community Health Advocate/QuitDoc Foundation.

School Briefs

Grace Episcopal Day School students (from left) Connor McInnis, Nathalie Pruet and Jose Walker all won awards at the Clay County History Day, with McInnis earning a trip in May to the state's history competition.

And, Seventh-grade Jose Walker finished third in exhibits with her project "Emeline Pankhurst: A Militant's Fight for Suffrage," which also won the Women's History Award.

The state competition is in May.

Nominations being accepted for Best of Clay County contest

FLEMING ISLAND— Announcing the 2019 Clay Today reader's choice contest that will be called the Best of Clay County. This new Clay County based contest is open for nominations and will feature dozens of categories and opportunities for area businesses to be recognized as the best in their line of work!

Nominations for the annual contest where readers, friends, family and customers vote for their favorite businesses, professional services, schools, restaurants and more are now open at www.claytodayonline.com/bestof. There are more than 300 categories to choose from, with everything from best lawyer and best car repair shop to best burger and best place to work, all with the goal of highlighting all the reasons people like to call Clay County home.

Anyone can nominate a business or person - there is no limit to the number of nominations each person can submit -through March 18. Voting will take place from March 19 through April 19, during which each person can vote once per day in as many or as few categories as he or she wants. There will also be a ballot in the paper that readers can fill out and turn in to our office.

The Best Of platform on The Clay Today website will feature lists of nominees in an easy-to-use format. Nominees can participate in advertising packages that promote their entry by expanding their listing to feature additional details on the business.

The contest will culminate in the Inaugural Best of Clay Publication, where the winners are announced. The list of winners will be published in a special Publication and distributed county-wide in May with the opportunity for each business to promote their victory to the community.

"Best Of Clay" will take on a life of its own this year. We expect a tremendous engagement from the public and excitement from local businesses. We are so excited to launch this first time Clay County "Best Of" contest allow businesses to fight for bragging rights and actively be engaged in this interactive process between our quickly growing reader base and our business partners," Publisher Jon Cantrell said. "It's exciting to recognize the great things going on in our community, and Best of Clay 2019 is going to be the biggest local contest ever done in Clay County Florida.

For more information or to find out how to get your nominated business or product involved in promotions that will be going on throughout the contest cycle, contact your marketing representative or call the Clay Today office at 904-264-3200. Nominate your favorite business, service, person, restaurant or product now at www.claytodayonline.com/bestof. A public list of nominations is also viewable and searchable.

Katie Payne, who teaches AP Computer Science at Keystone Heights High, led her class to the College Board Advanced Placement Computer Science Female Diversity Award for achieving high female representation in AP Computer Science Principles. The school was one of 685 out of 18,000 nationally to be recognized.

to AP Computer Science courses to help prepare a more diverse workforce in critical [Science, Technology, Engineering and Math] jobs.”

Schools receiving the AP Computer Science Female Diversity Award have either 50 percent or greater female representation in one of the two AP computer science courses or a percentage of the female computer science examinees meeting or exceeding that of the school's female population. Only 490 schools earned the AP Computer Science Female Diversity Award for AP Computer Science Principles.

“By inviting many more young women to advanced computer science classrooms, Keystone Heights High has taken a significant step toward preparing all students for the widest range of 21st-century opportunities,” said Trevor Packer, College Board senior vice president of the AP Program. “We hope this inspires many other high schools to engage more female students in AP Computer Science and prepare them to drive innovation.”

The AP Computer Science Principles course launch in 2016 was the largest in Program history. AP Computer Science Principles has promoted the growth of AP computer science in high schools. AP computer science course participation increased 135 percent since 2016, broadening STEM career opportunities for more students.

The number of women, rural, and underrepresented minority students taking AP computer science exams has more than doubled in that period.

Providing female students with access to computer science courses contributes to gender parity in the industry's high-paying jobs and drives innovation, creativity, and competition. According to UNESCO's Institute of Statistics data, less than 30 percent of the world's researchers are women; in North America and Western Europe, it's just 32 percent. Research shows women are more likely to pursue computer science if they're given the opportunity to explore it in high school.

GCS hopes to change the 'blipping' electric system

By Nick Blank
Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – It's common in Green Cove Springs to come home and see appliances blinking. City officials are hoping a change in the electric system will lower the number of blips residents face.

About 400 homes were affected by the pilot program, where the city switched from a recloser system to a fuse sacrifice system at the start of the year. The area covered is a South Substation circuit, including Melrose Avenue, areas east of CSX Railroad and Orange Avenue and south of State Road 16, according to a city press release.

When a failure is detected, the recloser system cuts power to a larger area and attempts to switch the power back on three times to reduce outages. In a fuse sacrifice system, users on the same circuit wouldn't be affected, because the fuse is severed in the immediate area. Only 10-12 homes experience the outage rather than blips experienced by a few hundred.

“It only impacts those that are directly impacted by the fault,” Kennedy said. “Whenever there's something significant enough to blow a fuse, then it's just that fuse, and if there were an event that blew five fuses, then everything connected to those fuses would be out, but the entire city service area, everything else would be left on.”

The city's aging grid, trees, animals and weather events are the most common cause of power failure. Last year, the city received a $10.7 million loan to improve its power infrastructure. A portion of the loan was designated to improve fuse connections. Some areas of the city don't have the right type of fuse connections for a fuse sacrifice system.

For the next phase of the program, Kennedy hadn't set an area, but the city would make that call in the next couple of weeks. Now, he wants to target another 400 homes.

“We haven't identified a specific area but there are several options,” Kennedy said. “Generally, the feedback has been minimal, but it's if there's not a problem, you don't get calls about it.”

St. Johns' Wilkes accepts appointment to West Point

ORANGE PARK – Madeleine Wilkes, a senior at St. Johns Country Day School, has accepted an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Wilkes also has signed to play softball for West Point.

“I couldn't be more proud of Maddie,” said acting Head of School Mary Virginia Fisher. “It has been such a thrill to watch her over the years as she has excelled in the classroom, in soccer, and, of course, on the softball field. We are all so happy that she has this opportunity to take her skills and perseverance to West Point.”

While at St. Johns, Maddie has served as goalie for the school's nationally ranked soccer team, which just won its eighth consecutive state championship, and has been key player on the softball team.

SJCDS has been helping First Coast families rear children who are inquisitive, creative, inspired, and inspiring since 1953. And with 100 percent of St. Johns graduates accepted into at least one college or university, St. Johns graduates have many options before them.

Oakleaf Jr. High concert band rated "superior"

OAKLEAF – Members of the concert band at Oakleaf Jr. High extended the school's streak of “Straight Superior” ratings to 10 years. A panel of judges graded the band at the FSA Level 5.

The State Band Association will present band program and assistant director Tyler Dunn with a plaque commemorating his continued years of superior work.

It could be lights out for some strawberry diseases, pests

By Brad Buck
UF/IFAS Communications

GAINESVILLE – Natalia Peres envisions a day when light from a machine that resembles a spacecraft helps prevent powdery mildew from causing much damage to strawberries.

Peres, a professor of plant pathology at the University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, works with a global group of scientists studying how to use ultraviolet light to suppress plant pathogens. Powdery mildew is one such pathogen.

Peres and researchers at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and Cornell University – both in New York state – are pioneering research on novel uses of light to suppress pathogens in several specialty crops. The group also includes scientists from Norway.

“It’s an exciting area, and our local strawberry growers have been great in allowing us to demonstrate the technology on their farms,” Peres said.

The team developed a tractor-drawn machine with several UV lamps. A breakthrough in the research took place when Norwegian researchers discovered that the treatments were more effective when applied at night, said Peres, a faculty member at the UF/IFAS Gulf Coast Research and Education Center in Balm.

The mildew pathogen evolved to survive natural UV in sunlight, Peres said. But part of that adaptation to sunlight resulted in the pathogen not being able to defend against natural UV light at night. So, nighttime UV applications bypass the natural defenses of the pathogen by delivering a small blast of UV light when the light catches the pathogen napping, Peres said.

The new technology has been tested at UF/IFAS Gulf Coast REC strawberry fields and at Wish Farms in Durette.

Similar trials are being conducted across North America and Europe by the research collaborators on crops such as grapes, hops and cucumbers, she said.

In addition to Peres, the multi-disciplinary research team includes scientists at RPI, Cornell, the Norwegian University of Life Sciences, the Norwegian Institute of Bioeconomy and the USDA Grape Genetics Research Unit.

“The blended expertise of this diverse team has been key to its success,” Peres said.

The research has been supported by grants from the USDA Specialty Crops Research Initiative, the USDA Organic Research and Extension Initiative, the Norwegian Research Council and state and regional commodity groups.

UV lamps are widely used in water purification and microbiological sterilization, according to scientists on the research team. But they’re not yet commonly used for plant-pathogen suppression, according to a USDA news release announcing the grant last year.

“UV treatments applied once or twice weekly were as effective as the best available fungicides applied on similar schedules for control of strawberry powdery mildew,” Peres said. “It’s not a one-time fluke. The trials have been repeated successfully for three seasons now.”

The mission of the University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences is to develop knowledge relevant to agricultural, human and natural resources and to make that knowledge available to sustain and enhance the quality of human life. With more than a dozen research facilities, 67 county Extension offices, and award-winning students and faculty in the UF College of Agricultural and Life Sciences, UF/IFAS works to bring science-based solutions to the state’s agricultural and natural resources industries, and all Florida residents. Focusing on healthy eating, physical activity

By Annie Sheldon
Family and Consumer Sciences Extension Agent

Whether you’re preparing a meal at home or eating on the run, the foods you choose can make a real difference in your overall health.

During the month of March, we celebrate National Nutrition Month which serves as an opportunity for me to share the importance of making informed food choices and developing healthy eating and physical activity habits. Choosing nutritious foods and getting enough physical activity can make a real difference in your health. Making these choices does not have to be complicated and starts by simply balancing nutritious foods with physical activity most days of the week.

Eating healthy is shaped by many factors, including our stage of life, preferences, access to food, culture, traditions, and the personal decisions we make over time.

It is important to find your own healthy eating style that fits within your lifestyle. Remember everything that you eat and drink can influence your overall health.

The right combination of foods can help you to be healthier now and into the future. Be sure your meals incorporate all the major food groups. Focus on incorporating a variety of fruits and vegetables, whole grains, lean protein, and low-fat dairy while controlling the portion size that you consume. To make sure your portion sizes are “just right,” visit www.ChooseMyPlate.gov for healthy eating guidelines and refer to the Nutrition Facts label on food packages for serving size information. Also remember to choose foods and beverages with less saturated fat, sodium, and added sugars. Starting with small changes will help to build a healthy eating style.

It’s equally important to balance the calories we eat with the calories we burn throughout the day. Finding time for physical activity may be a struggle for many of us; so think about ways you can incorporate physical activity into your daily routine. Make sure to do at least 10 minutes of activity at a time to take advantage of the health benefits.

Taking the stairs instead of the elevator, parking further away, taking a brisk 10-minute walk on your lunch break, or walking the dog an extra 10 minutes in the evening can add to your weekly goal.

Adults should participate in at least 150 minutes of physical activity a week. Muscle-strengthening activities at least two days per week are also recommended. If you are currently inactive, check with your doctor concerning increased physical activity.

Remember to focus on the big picture of achieving a healthy lifestyle and to set healthy, realistic goals for yourself. You are more likely to succeed in reaching your goals when you make small changes to your eating and physical activity practices. Every small step makes a difference!

For individualized nutritional recommendations, consult a registered dietitian nutritionist (RDN). To find a registered dietitian nutritionist in your area visit eatright.org or for more information on healthy eating and physical activity contact Annie Sheldon at the UF/IFAS Extension Clay County at 904-284-6355.

BUFFALO, NY - Oakleaf High graduate and swim state champion Elianna Kennon, now at Indian River State College in Florida, came home from the National Junior College Athletics Association (NJCAA) swimming and diving championships with gold medals in four events; the 50 free and the 100 individual medley, plus two relays.

Winning 24 of the 25 individual and team titles, the Indian River (FL) women's swimming and diving team won their 37th consecutive NJCAA Women's Swimming and Diving National Championship in dominant style. The Indian River women posted a meet-best 1,277 points in route to capturing their 41st overall program title.

KISSIMMEE - Fleming Island High senior Briar Jackson has been pointing toward the state championship since winning his first title just about a year ago and the premonition blossomed on Saturday with a dominating performance a weight class up as the surly battler won his second Class 3A title; this time at 120, with a 10-2 decision over a guy that already beaten Jackson once.

"We knew we had tough matches in the quarters and had to get out of it," said Jackson, who defeated Columbus High of Miami's Charles Huffman, the 120 runnerup last year, in overtime 5-4. "We both had to beat two good kids to get there."

Jackson, (57-7) scored two pins and an overtime win over South Dade's Adrian Neco to get to Osceola's Jaekus Hines (36-6) in the final. Hines, who beat Jackson 6-2 at the Danny Byron Invitational in December, was runnerup at 106 last year to South Dade's Luis Peraza. Hines defeated Southwest Miami's Sebastian Melguizo (57-5) in his round one match by pin.

"P.J. wanted me to keep him on his feet because we wanted to wear him out," said Jackson. "At 10-1, I cut him and started thinking it was going to happen."

District softball showdowns

'Canes, Rays knock off Broncos, Knights

Indians stay perfect

MIDDLEBURG - The Gainesville High Hurricanes softball team blew into Middleburg to face off against the Broncos in their district 3-7A opener play with the 'Canes already one-up in conference versus Columbia with a 1-0 win Tuesday night.

Over at Oakleaf High School, the Lady Stingrays of Atlantic Coast came to town looking to measure up in what has become the district 4-8A championship game the past three years.

A little further south, the unbeaten Keystone Heights Lady Indians (7-0) were tasking their wins against district 5-5A foe Santa Fe. Keystone Heights had already accrued five district wins prior to Santa Fe in the early part of the season with both teams unbeaten in district play on that fateful Friday (March 8).

On the mound for Gainesville against Middleburg would be Junior 2019 Max-Preps preseason All-Star Alissa Humphrey. The Broncos proved up for the challenge through the third inning, holding Gainesville 1-0.

In the top of the fourth, the Broncos loaded the bases with only one out. The 'Canes defense thwarted the Middleburg offense, leaving the inning blank.

"We had probably the best inning we had just starting off," said first year Middleburg Bronco Head Coach Ashley Houston, a Trinity Christian and Jacksonville University all star player. "We had a really tough time, obviously against one of the best pitchers in the state, putting the ball in play and trying to make something happen."

Gainesville piled on two more unanswered runs on their way to their second conference win in three days, 3-0.

"We were just over-swinging in big situations," said Houston. "We just have to simplify the game in those situations and we'll be a little more successful."

the fourth with a first base error getting Haleigh Wright to first with no outs. Olivia Wilbur singled on a misplayed bunt that had two Broncos on base, with the tying run in scoring position. After a pop up first out, Carley Romanesk went full count, then walked to load the bases. Then the cold bats showed back up as the next two Broncos went down swinging, leaving the precious runners abandoned, still 1-0.

"I was a little worried about the bats because the last game, our bats were just on fire," said Houston. "So I knew coming in tonight, hits and runs were going to be few and far between going against Humphrey, a really great pitcher. So, definitely they went cold for a while and next time we face her, we'll make the adjustments."

As fast as the Broncos were on a natural high with bases loaded, the next at bat for the Canes piled on two more runs when, again, Humphrey grounded, was out, but allowed another run to score on the back side of the play. With two outs and Gaines-

Eagles stop Broncos' winning streak

By Ray DiMonda
Correspondent

MIDDLEBURG - On a four game winning streak and still undefeated, the Middleburg High Broncos baseball team welcomed in the Fleming Island Golden Eagles for a Friday night showdown knowing Fleming Island was coming off a polar-like evening home loss to St Johns Country Day Spartans just four days prior.

Through two innings, it looked like Middleburg would show why they were still undefeated, and Fleming Island needed some juice in the tank as the players seemed a little flat.

That spark came when in the top of the third when Fleming Island batter Adam Peck was hit with the fifth pitch by Bronco pitcher Clayton Simmons. That spark turned into a five run inferno that lit the Golden Eagle dugout on fire.

For its part, the Broncos made several mistakes at clutch moments that Fleming Island pounced all over.

After the St. John's game, we came back and had several great practices," said Fleming Island Head Coach Grant Biglin. "Hit the ball hard on the ground, line drives and making them make a play. Against St. Johns we struck out a lot and we popped out a lot. Tonight, we fixed that and did the exact opposite."

Fleming Island continued to pile on in the fifth, and again in the sixth to end the game an inning early with the 10 run rule, 12-1.

After Peck was on base, Zack Mercer did what the Golden Eagles seemed to not be able to do Monday night which was keep the ball on the ground. Mercer grounder to left field which brought Peck all the way from first to home, and Mercer was standing on second, 1-0. Simmons got a little shaken and on the first pitch to the next batter, hit Scott Kondroik to put two Golden Eagles on the bases. Dylan Bonham followed up with a deep fly that was caught, but Mercer took full advantage, tagged up and made his way to third.

With one out, Simmons tried a pick off and missed the throw, scoring Mercer and moving Kondroik to second, 2-0.

After hitting three fouls, Justin Hawkins also kept the ball down and smacked an RBI double, bringing Kondroik home, 3-0.

Simmons redeemed himself by striking out the next batter, but with two outs, Sammy Kondroik had to top brother Scott's run by sending the third pitch out of the park, scoring Hawkins in the process putting his team up 5-0.

"Ah I don't know what to say. I just went up there, swung the bat exactly like Coach Bigs and the other coaches teach me to do, and I just got ahold of one, finally. It was the right pitch and the right swing at the right time," said Kondroik.

The Broncos finally closed the inning but the momentum train already left the station with Fleming Island onboard.

"Middleburg was 4-0 coming in and they were fired up," said Biglin. "Rivalry is always fun and we wanted to take it to them. We were real excited to get the bats going and it's contagious. Once hits start falling, the next guy wants to do it, then

Homers doom Blue Devils

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - In a clash of state powers, the unbeaten (7-0) Trinity Christian Conquerors, a 4A region finalist last year, blasted three homers to take out the previously unbeaten (4-1) Clay High Blue Devils 8-3 in a Saturday afternoon clash. Clay is a 5A state semifinalist from last year under coach Josh Persinger.

On Mon., March 11, Clay defeated West Nassau 4-3 off a Zack Morris double that put two Blue Devils across home plate in the third inning. Brandon Adams worked the mound with six strikeouts.

Against Trinity, in a classic matchup of home run power versus small ball and baserunning prowess, the Blue Devils kept clawing back into game contention with Dylan Faulkner starting on the mound and giving up a single in the second inning that scored on a sacrifice fly, but Clay answering with a Nate Lewis single, a Colin Gross sacrifice bunt and a Faulkner a run scoring single to tie the game. Also in the inning, Blake Parker got hit with a pitch and moved on a sacrifice bunt from Nick Barrie before Taylor Parks got picked at third running for Faulkner. Garret Chun hit a fly ball to end the inning.

Trinity got power at the bat with a double from Matt Luxemburg that nearly cleared the centerfield fence and two singles to go up 2-1. Faulkner. Clay catcher Chase Holman combined for a nifty play at the plate to prevent a run on a fielder's choice grounder after one run had scored.

Down 3-1, Clay was scoreless in the third before Trinity homered to chase Faulkner off the mound and bring in Parks. Clay got out of the inning on a heads-up outfield play from Chun in left field who snagged a fly ball on the run then fired a GAFFNEY, S.C. – The Barton women's basketball team (23-4, 16-4) clinched a share of the 2018-19 Conference Carolinas Regular Season Championship with a 74-64 road victory over Limestone (13-14, 10-10) Tues., Feb. 26 at the Timken Center.

The Bulldogs, winners of nine straight games in the process, share the title with Emmanuel (Ga.).

On the Barton team, junior Summer Baer, a Fleming Island High graduate, played 21 minutes and scored six points, grabbed two rebounds and had one assist. Also on the team is junior guard Hanna McGrory, also a Fleming Island High graduate.

On March 10, The Barton women's basketball team (24-5) punched its second straight ticket to the NCAA Division II Southeast Regional Tournament and will face Anderson (29-2) on Fri., March 15 in the opening round at 5:00 p.m., at the Abney Athletic Center in Anderson, S.C.

The Trojans are also ranked No. 15 in NCAA Division II.

On Mon. March 4, the Barton women's basketball team (24-4), seeded second in the 2019 Conference Carolinas Championship, downed seventh-seeded Limestone (13-15) by an 82-72 score in the quarterfinal round Monday evening at Wilson Gymnasium.

The Bulldogs – winners of 10 straight games – put four players in double figures including a team-high 16 points from senior guard Dinah Neal (Browns Summit, N.C.) as Barton defeated Limestone for the third time this year. Neal also crossed the 1,000-point mark for her collegiate career.

Summer Baer scored nine points in just seven minutes of play.

The Barton women's basketball team (24-5) saw its 10-game winning streak come to an end with a 77-69 setback to Belmont Abbey (21-9) in the 2019 Conference Carolinas Championship semifinals Thursday night at Williamson Arena.

Belmont Abbey, with Middleburg High graduate Hannah Roney a sophomore guard, outscored King 21-3 in the fourth quarter to earn a 68-49 victory in the Conference Carolinas Quarterfinals.

played 30 minutes and scored nine points with three assists and three rebounds. Roney has averaged nearly five assists per game for Belmont Abbey.

On Thurs., March 7, The Barton women's basketball team (24-5) saw its 10-game winning streak come to an end with a 77-69 setback to Belmont Abbey (21-9) in the 2019 Conference Carolinas Championship semifinals Thursday night at Williamson Arena.

Belmont Abbey advanced, but lost in the conference championship game 69-57 to top seed Emmanuel.

Barton was led by senior guard Dinah Neal (Browns Summit, N.C.) – who played all 40 minutes – with 16 points while junior guard Summer Baer (Fleming Island, Fla.) came off the bench to score 15 points in addition to four treys despite the loss.

For Belmont Abbey, the defense did not give up any Barton field goals in the last four and a half minutes of the contest, and only gave up four free throws during that span. Hannah Roney made three free throws to cap off the game.

Fleming Island weightlifts just short of Baker County

Districts on tap for Thurs., March 14

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

FLEMING ISLAND – Fleming Island High's boys weightlift team got a chance to see state championship level lifting with Class 1A defending champion Baker County High visiting for the Fleming Island Invitational and showing off some prowess en route to the overall team title with 46 points, but with Fleming Island close by with 37 points. Fleming Island finished eighth in 2A last year with champion Tyler Nguyen at 154 pounds.

Orange Park High's David Araujo won the 199 pound division with a 655 total over Columbia High's Marlon Pollard.

Fleming Island's Andrew Thomas finished second behind Matanzas High's Will Lam in the 169 pound division.

STAFF PHOTOS BY RANDY LEFKO

Collier second at 490 and Oakleaf's Zech Nesby third at 480.

At 169, Will Lam of Matanzas racked up an incredible 630 total with a 350 bench to top Fleming Island's Andrew Thomas who finished with 600 with a 325 bench press.

At 183, Orange Park's Zykiem Sermons barely nipped 600 with a 590 total to win convincingly over Matanzas Richard Knowles who totaled 525.

In the heavies, at 199, Orange Park's David Araujo was tops at 655 with a 330 bench and 285 clean and jerk with Marlon Pollard of Columbia a distant second at 580.

At 219, Matanzas' Skyelar Williams-Michaud finished at 635 with a 305 clean and jerk to beat Columbia's Tyler Johnson-Jones by just 10 pounds with Baker County's Brandon Combs just five pounds away from Johnson-Jones in one of the closest battles of the day.

At 238, Fleming Island's Jeremiah Jackson bested the field at 610 with Carter Semione of Keystone Heights second at 605.

In the Unlimited, Matanzas Seaton Wildhauer hoisted an unprecedented 725 total with a 380 bench and a 345 clean and jerk for the best performance of the day with Tyler Burnsed of Baker County second at 685. Dan Dodd of Keystone Heights was third at 685 in the battle of the big boys.

The final team points were Baker County 46, Fleming Island 37, Matanzas 29, Orange Park 27, Keystone Heights 24, Oakleaf 18, Columbia 16, Clay 13, Nease 6 and St. Augustine 4.

Oakleaf High's Tayari Otis is primed for a state run after advancing to last year's state meet.

Area lifters will be vying for state meet berths in the upcoming district and region meets with Oakleaf High hosting the district 4-2A championships on Thurs., March 14 (Noon start), Baker County hosting the district 6-1A championship meet on Thurs., March 14 (3:30pm start) and Keystone Heights hosting the district 9-1A championship meet on Fri., March 15 (2 p.m. start).

At the Fleming Island Invitational, held in February, weight class champions included Michael Williams from Oakleaf in the 119 pound division with a total of 390 to edge out a 385 total from Fleming Island's Ian Ali; Keystone Heights' Ulysses Freed taking second to Baker County's D.J. Duron 415-385 in the 129 weight division and Fleming Island's Nick Bethea's 395 total second to Baker County's Josh Dialo's lift total of 475 in the 139s with Keystone Heights' Jesse Donohue third at 385.

In the middle weights division, 154 was won by Baker County's Marcus Dialo at 575 pounds with Orange Park's Alex

CHARLOTTE, NC – The Fayetteville State Broncos (20-7) used a stifling defensive effort to claim a 55-42 win over the Claflin Lady Panthers (15-14) in the quarterfinal round of the 2019 Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) Women's Basketball Championship Tournament. The Broncos advance to the semifinal round of the tournament to face the winner of the Bowie State University/Elizabeth City State University winner on Friday.

On the Chaflin team is former Orange Park High standout Shakarri Mack, a junior who transferred in after a stellar career at College of Central Florida in Ocala.

In a recent Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) Southern Division win over Livingstone College, 67-57, Mack tossed in a career high 17 points to lead the Lady Panthers to victory.

Against Fayetteville, Defense definitely was the name of the game as both teams put up a great effort to slow down their opponents. The Broncos got the better of the Lady Panthers as they held Claflin to shooting just 32.6% (15-of-46) from the floor and forced 24 Panther turnovers.

In the third quarter, the defensive trend continued in spite of a sharp-shooting start by both teams. Claflin would get a layup from junior forward Shakarri Mack to cut the deficit to eight points, 34-26 at the end of the quarter.

Chaflin ends their season at 15-14.

Horrell, Golden Eagles overcome tragedy, improve to 5-1

By Mike Zima

FLEMING ISLAND — In a courageous performance two hours after his father's funeral, Fleming Island High lacrosse player Daniel Horrell scored two goals and had two assists as Fleming Island's boys lacrosse team scored an emotional 13-1 win over visiting Bluffington (S.C.) May River on Saturday, March 9.

The game was moved back two hours from its original start time so that Horrell— accompanied by most of his teammates and coaches— could attend the service for Alan Horrell, who died of a heart attack on February 25. The elder Horrell had been a prominent booster of the lacrosse program for many years, both as a financial sponsor and as a fixture in the bleachers at the games. Daniel is the third of three Horrell boys to wear the green and gold, joining older brothers Alex and Nick. The Golden Eagles have had a member of the family on its roster for the last seven years.

"I told the boys how invested Alan and the Horrell family have been," said Golden Eagles head coach John Hawley. "We are just trying to rally around Daniel, to be a support structure."

Hawley had left it up to Horrell to decide when he was ready to resume playing, allowing the senior to take as much time as he needed without fear of losing his starting attack position. Horrell missed only one game.

"When I'm off the field, I think about it," said Horrell. "On the field it all just kind of goes away. It is definitely a release."

Horrell has appreciated the outpouring of support from his teammates and the community. Teammates assigned themselves nights to bring meals over to his family, while Assistant Coach Dave Vernon has supplied meals from Jimmy John's. Coach Hawley was one of the first people to text his condolences to Horrell after the tragedy.

"My teammates and coaches have been great," said Horrell. "They are someone to lean on, and that's meant everything."

Each time Horrell's name was announced after a goal or assist Saturday, he got a spirited cheer from the home crowd. His teammates gave him a round of applause after the game.

Fleming Island lacrosse player Ryan Suhrer tries to avoid two May River defenders to get ball downfield in Golden Eagles 13-1 win against visitors from South Carolina.

The outcome was never in doubt. Fleming Island scored four goals in the first quarter and three each in the other three periods. The Golden Eagles outshot the Sharks 30-11 and scooped up 28 ground balls to May River's 15. The final margin would have been even more lopsided had May River goalie Sean Morris not made 10 saves.

Midfielder Eric Dobson, a Notre Dame commitment, scored five goals to lead the Golden Eagles. Sophomore Shafer Clark and senior Matt Welsh scored two goals apiece, while Andrew Schreiber had a goal and two assists. Max Michaels had a team-high four ground balls.

"We were completing 80 percent of our passes, while they were completing about 50 percent of theirs," said Hawley. "That's because we spend about 80 percent of our time in practice on the fundamentals."

The Golden Eagles ran their record to 5-1, with their next game Tuesday, March 12 at Gainesville Buchholz.

Charleston (South Carolina) May River, a public school of approximately 1,400 students, falls to 2-4, 0-2 on their Florida road trip. The Sharks lost at Bartram Trail on Friday, March 8.

The game is one of three this season in which the Golden Eagles will entertain teams from other states. Fleming Island will host Atlanta Johns Creek on March 30, and Belleview (Washington) on April 6. The three teams all contacted Fleming Island about scheduling a game.

"It is nice that word is getting out that Fleming Island is serious about lacrosse," said Hawley.

PONTE VEDRA BEACH— With 10 FEDEX Cup champions set to compete and 11 past winners schedule to tee off for the Players Championship golf week, March 11-17, promises to offer the best in golf worldwide. The March dates returns to the last March TPC in 2006.

Led by returning champion Webb Simpson of North Carolina, the 2019 golf extravaganza promises another three days of action-packed golf heroics with the likes of Tiger Woods, Sergio Garcia, Rickie Fowler and Phil Mickelson.

With a $12.5 million purse and a $2.25 million first place prize, plus 600 points to the FEDEX Cup standings, the newly scheduled March dates brings back Simpson and his 10 tournament records tied or set in 2018. Simpson can be the first back-to-back champion if successful this year.

Player notes:

1. Tiger Woods, making his 19th start in the event, has wins at TPC Sawgrass both in March (2001) and May (2013); with a

Jason Day, the 2016 Players Champion winner, returns with his powerful tee strokes to take on 11 past winners in the March 11-17 golf extravaganza at TPC Sawgrass.

Defending champion Webb Simpson returns after his record-breaking win last that included rounds of 63 and 66 en route to a four stroke win over Charle Schwartzel and Xander Schauffele.

FedExCup leader Xander Schauffele will make just his second start at TPC Sawgrass; in his tournament debut in 2018, he finished T2 after a final-round 67.

Spartans top Eagles on blustery night

By Ray DiMonda
Correspondent

FLEMING ISLAND – The St. Johns Country Day Spartans took the short drive over to Fleming Island to face off against the host Golden Eagles for what was sure to be a great game as the two undefeated crews went head-to-head.

With temperatures dipping into the 40's, both teams would deal with the environment as well as knowing one team would be left out in the cold, remaining unbeaten at game's end. All it took was one hot inning of Spartan bats in the top of the third inning for the runs to come. Up 3-0, the Spartans would allow one Golden Eagle run in the bottom of the third with bases loaded, then lean heavily on their defense, led by three freshman pitchers to shut down the Fleming Island offense several times before games end.

"All three of them were eighth graders last year when they cut their teeth with us, so this is very impressive to come over to Fleming Island and throw three Freshman guys who are going to be bigtime players," said a very proud Tom Lucas, Spartan Head Coach.

When all the dust settled, the Spartans would take a huge 3-1 road victory as Fleming Island would take their first loss on the season.

"Super proud of the guys," said Lucas. "This is a big deal for them. They worked really hard, and it's just a team effort. It's not like we just leaned on one guy."

Both teams had the hot third inning with St. Johns drawing first blood when catcher Tyler Kuramoto was hit by a pitch and took his base with no outs. Gavin Russell came in to run for his catcher and slid on over to second on a wild pitch. Jordan Taylor hit a grounder to center field that scored Russell, then allowed Taylor to get over to second on the throw to home, 1-0. Seeing trouble, Fleming Island opted for a second hurler and on the first pitch, hit Brad Hodges putting runners on first and second, no outs. Mason Davis came in to run for the Spartan Pitcher. On a Luke Shannahan grounder and fielder's choice out at third, during the next at bat, Davis scored as a throw to third didn't work as planned, 2-0. Shannahan made his way to third on the same play. With a Jack Tolbert double, Shannahan scored putting the three runs on the board.

Fleming closed out the inning after the damage, but the momentum shift was in the air.

"My senior, Jack Tolbert had two clutch hits for us tonight so I'm real happy with him, and our senior catcher Tyler Kuramoto throws out two guys as well as playing great defense behind the plate. He had a great block in the fifth inning that saved a run," said Lucas.

In the bottom of the 3rd, Fleming Island loaded the bases with no outs and looked like they may even things up. Noah McCollum scored on a Scott Kondroik ground out. With two outs, Fleming Island again loaded the bases, only to have the Spartans hold the line, closing out the inning.

pitched with four strikeouts.

Against University Christian, the Broncos got five runs in the sixth inning after building a 2-0 lead with runs in the third and fourth. Clayton Simmons hit a homer for the Broncos with Simmons, Camron Faucett and Joe Justino all hitting doubles.

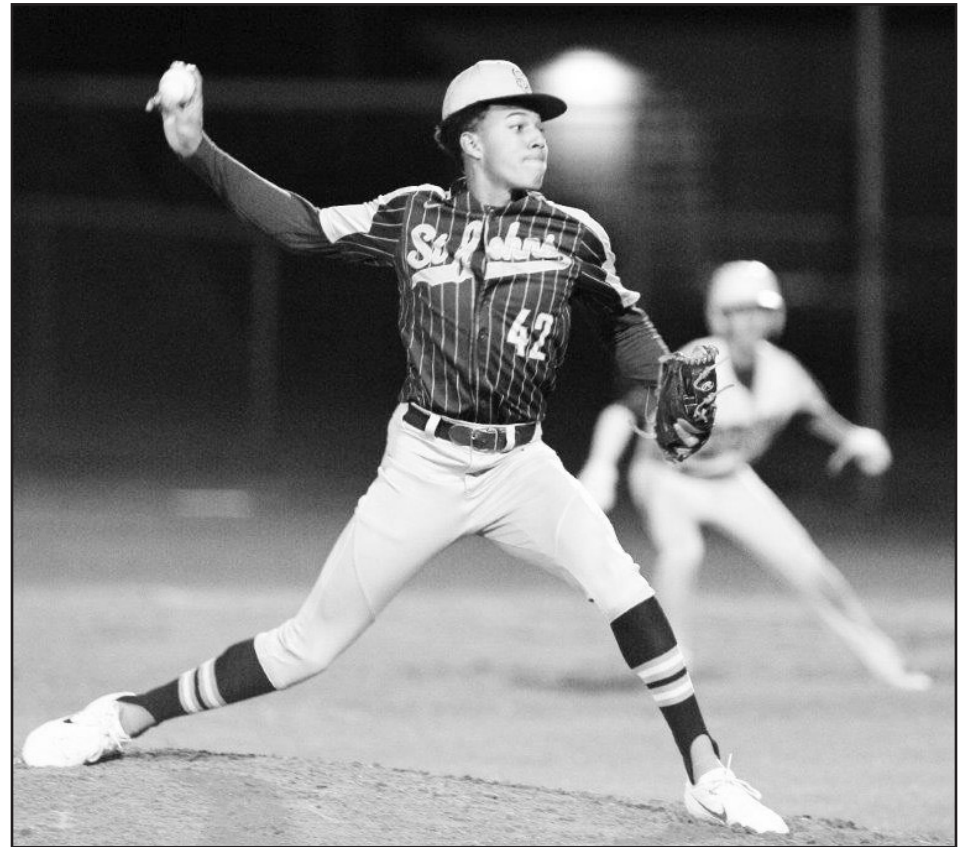

Against Oakleaf, errors put the Knights up 3-0 early in the game, but Middleburg came back with back-to-back triples from Luke Padgett and Christian Powell for two runs after Colby Anderson had singled.

Oakleaf got one more in the fifth with the Broncos responding with Samuel Rawlins doubling and an Anderson grounder scoring Simmons who had singled. A double from Powell put another run in and Middleburg took a 5-4 lead.

Four walks in the seventh got the seventh run. Rawlins got the win on the mound for Middleburg with six strikeouts in four innings.

The Broncos lone run was late in the game and just not enough to hold off the early call with the 10 run rule. Collin Henderson would be the only Bronco to make the trip all the way home as the Bronco winning streak was broken and the Golden Eagles put the polar plunge loss behind them.

Broncos open with four wins

Middleburg High's baseball opened with wins of 6-1 over Bradford County and 8-1 over University Christian to go 2-0 for the 2019 season. The Broncos continued with a 4-0 win over Orange Park at Mon., March 4 and a come-from-behind 7-4 over Oakleaf on Tues., March 5.

Against Bradford, the Broncos scored three runs in the fourth and fifth innings for the win. Logan Padgett went 1-3 for two runs batted in. Collin Henderson also went 1-3 with two RBIs. Clayton Simmons got the win on the mound with four innings missile back to second base to pick off Trinity's Frett who was on the run with the hit thinking Chun was unable to glove it.

The defensive play ignited the Clay bend and got bats swinging with Gross singled and Faulkner launching a double to put Gross at third. A flyball from Parker scored Gross but left Faulkner at second. Barrie singled to put Faulkner at third and Chun at bat got a passed ball to score Faulkner. Chun and Jeremy Mosley both grounded out to end the inning with Clay down just 4-3.

Trinity again greeted the next inning with Wood homering over Chun in left field to put the Conquerors up 5-3.

Parks was able to fend off two walks and a single before getting a flyball to end the inning.

Chun came out from outfield to pitch in the fifth but Trinity was less than polite with another inning-opening homer; this time from Frett over the left field fence. Chun and first baseman Zack Morris ended the inning with a pickoff at first base and groundout.

Holman came in to pitch in the seventh and got hit for two runs; one a passed ball, the second on a grounder to end the scoring at 8-3.

On Thurs., March 7, Clay beat St. Johns Country Day School 2-0 off a no-hitter effort from Dylan Faulkner and Justin Mosley.

Mosley singled in Nick Barrie with a first inning score, then singled to score Chun in the sixth after Chun doubled off Spartan reliever Connor Moore.

St. Johns fell to 3-2.

On Tues., March 5, Clay blasted 6A rival Baker County for 11 runs in the sixth inning to make a 4-3 turn into a 14-4 at Clay High School. The Blue Devils benefited from a handful of walks and field errors, plus singles from Nick Barrie and Tony Salazar for the 11-run barrage.

Clay 13, Keystone Heights 3

A homer by Keystone Heights High's Garfield Johns was not enough to stifle the Clay High Blue Devil offense that scored a 13-3 win over the Indians on Tues., Feb. 26.

Clay got eight runs in the third inning off a Justin Mosley triple and walks to Chase Holman, Nick Barrie and sacrifice flies from Nate Lewis and Caleb Parks.

Holman hit a homer in the first inning.

Mosley also won on the mound for Clay with eight strikeouts.

Panthers chase Indians pitchers

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

JACKSONVILLE — Ridgeview High's bats chased three Keystone Heights pitchers as the Panthers used a four run fifth inning to beat the Indians 5-0 in a non-district game played Monday at the Jacksonville Baseball Grounds.

For Ridgeview, starting pitcher Evan Wickeri controlled the Indians offense with six strikeouts in a defensive battle against Keystone Heights starter Michael Moreland who kept the Panthers at bay despite Ridgeview getting four hits that earned just one run.

In the fateful fifth, Michael Reali and Calvin Gunsaulus both walked to start the Panther barrage with Wickeri delivering a double down the third base line. Max Williams followed with his own double that scored two more runs; Wickeri hustling to dive across home plate, with Richard Long getting the fourth run of the inning with an RBI single to left field to put Ridgeview up 5-0.

ville with a runner still at second, a fly ball to deep left field scored the final run as the Broncos couldn't get the ball back inside the diamond quick enough to stop the runner. Up 3-0, Gainesville would be stopped on the next play, but the damage was done.

For Oakleaf, the familiar faces of Atlantic Coast High on the field was nothing new, but the vigor of the Stingrays putting up six seventh inning runs to win a thriller 9-8 was something Oakleaf was not used to seeing.

Errors proved fateful to the Class 8A runnerups as four misplays kept Atlantic Coast in the game despite the Lady Knights controlling the bats with a 16 hits to eight advantage.

Baylee Goddard led the Oakleaf offensive thrust with three hits in four at bats including a run-scoring double in the first inning and a triple in the sixth that scored Goddard off a sacrifice bunt to put Oakleaf up 4-3.

In the third, Kaylee Lambrecht opened the inning with a triple with Goddard singling her in for a run scoring the game 4-3 Atlantic Coast.

Oakleaf kept piling on the runs in the sixth inning with three runs off a double from Serrano and singles from Katie Kistler, Jada McFarland and Lambrecht as Oakleaf looked to finish off the Stingrays with firepower.

Down 7-3 in their last shot to close the gap and with Mady Davis still on the mound for Oakleaf, Atlantic Coast got two singles and two batters hit by Davis to close the game to 7-6 with a single tying the game and a third batter hit by Davis putting the Stingrays up 8-7.

Reliever Cambria Arturo came in to try and squelch the Stingray momentum, but a passed ball scored the ninth Stingray run to set up what would normally be an Oakleaf last-inning comeback.

With that, Jayce Brookshire punched up a double to center field with Aspen Windesheim singling to score the game 9-8 and Oakleaf looking to cash in.

Two strikeouts and a grounder ended the game. Over in Santa Fe, the unbeaten Lady Indians, with a scoring ratio of 81-5, had their lowest scoring game of the season thus far with a 3-1 win over Santa Fe. The Lady Indians have put up scores of 15-1, 15-0, 17-1 and 16-1 over district foes to storm to the top of the district picture.

The Lady Indians, Final Four finishers under coach Jessica Marquart last year with a district title win over Santa Fe and also a region semifinal win, have massive batting averages from freshman Emma Rogel with a .625 average on 19 hits in 24 at bats with eighth-grader Kiley Channell at .600 on 20 hits in 26 at bats. Eighth grader Kinley Carlton has blasted at .458 with a team-leading 16 runs batted in with Channell at 12 RBIs. On the mound, Daelynn Eatmon has an amazing 53 strikeouts in 32 innings pitched; nearly two per inning, with just 12 hits against and three runs.

"Daelynn Eatmon, a 10th grader, is pitching really well striking people out yes but our defense has also been stellar," said

Marquart. "We have had 143 total defense chances with only two errors. Daelynn has 53K's in 31 innings with an ERA of .219."

Note: Oakleaf High will host their second Tournament of Champions with the Lady Knights, 8A runnerups, joined by Keystone Heights (Final Four 5A), Clay (Final Four 6A), West Nassau (5A runnerups), Trinity Christian (4A runnerups), West Orange (9A runnerups), Lake Wales (6A runnerups) and Gainesville (7A region finalist) all playing Thurs.-Sat., March 21-23.

Clay softball loses pair

By Randy Lefko

ORLANDO — In tournament play at Montverde Academy in Clermont, the Clay high Blue Devil softball team lost two matches against top-ranked teams; 8A region semifinalist East Lake High 5-1 and 6-5 against 5A-Bishop Moore.

Against East Lake, Clay pitcher Morgan Crutcher was stellar as the Blue Devils were tied at 1-1 after five innings with Sydney Davis's single scoring off an error on a Morgan Silvis grounder.

In the next inning, two field errors put East Lake up 2-1 with a run scoring single upping the deficit to 4-1.

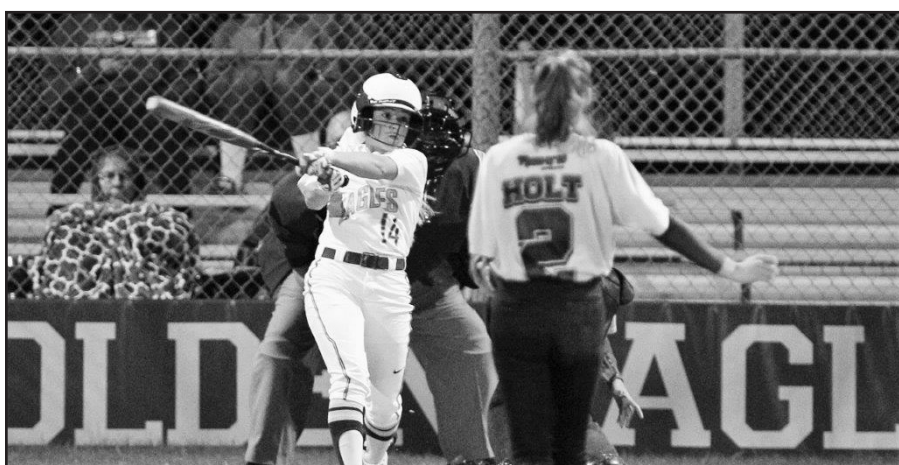

Another error in the sixth put a runner in play that a single scored the final run, 5-1.

Against Bishop Moore, Clay got behind by as much as 6-1 with Bishop Moore scoring four fourth inning runs two singles and a double off Crutcher.

The Blue Devils offense came alive in the sixth and seventh innings for five runs. In the sixth, singles from Silvis, Dakota Worley, Delaney Anfinson and Crutcher plus a sacrifice bunt from Sydney Lewis put two runs on the board for Clay.

In the seventh, after Crutcher disposed of the Bishop Moore bats with two strikeouts and a grounder, an error to an Ali Sarman grounder followed by a walk to Silvis got greeted with a double from Worley to push in one run. Lewis singled in two runs off a grounder to left field before Anfinson hit a fly ball to end the game.

Clay, on top of district 4-6A with Ridgeview number two, gets some district action this week with Menendez on Tues., March 12 and an away game to Ponte Vedra on Thur., March 14. The Blue Devils travel to Orange Park Fri., March 15.

those who do the seeding.

"It gives me that little chip on my shoulder," said Jackson. "I use it to motivate. I have a great coach who knows what it takes to get repeat titles and we were all in from the start. I had the loss to Hines and one to the Southwest Miami guy (Melguizo) and I knew I had to focus in training on staying positive and not letting the losses bother me. I was very confident coming in."

With the exodus of two Fleming Island champions; Paul Detwiler and Ryan Smenda and a handful of seniors last year, Jackson took over the role as top dog in the Fleming Island room and thought his young brethren stepped up throughout the season.

"I tried to be a leader to the young guys because we had a lot of first time varsity guys and them coming into 3A is very tough," said Jackson. "They may have got lost in the big lights at the state meet, but that happens. They will respond next year and be ready for it."

Jackson was part of just two finalists for Clay County wrestlers as the rugged event took its toll early with Ridgeview sophomore Matthew Rodriguez the second finalist. Rodriguez (54-1) ending his unbeaten season record with a 2-1 loss in the Class 2A 106 pound final to Tampa Jesuit freshman Kai Owen (55-4). "Matt was on top of him and was very close to turning him but kid yelled and the ref stopped it and reset them at referees position," said Ridgeview coach Bart Rodriguez. "That was a lost opportunity. At the last seconds, Matt tood up and did a roll, ended up partially on top, grabbed kids knee which was a very questionable no call for a reversal, but also maybe a split second too late and kid won 2-1."

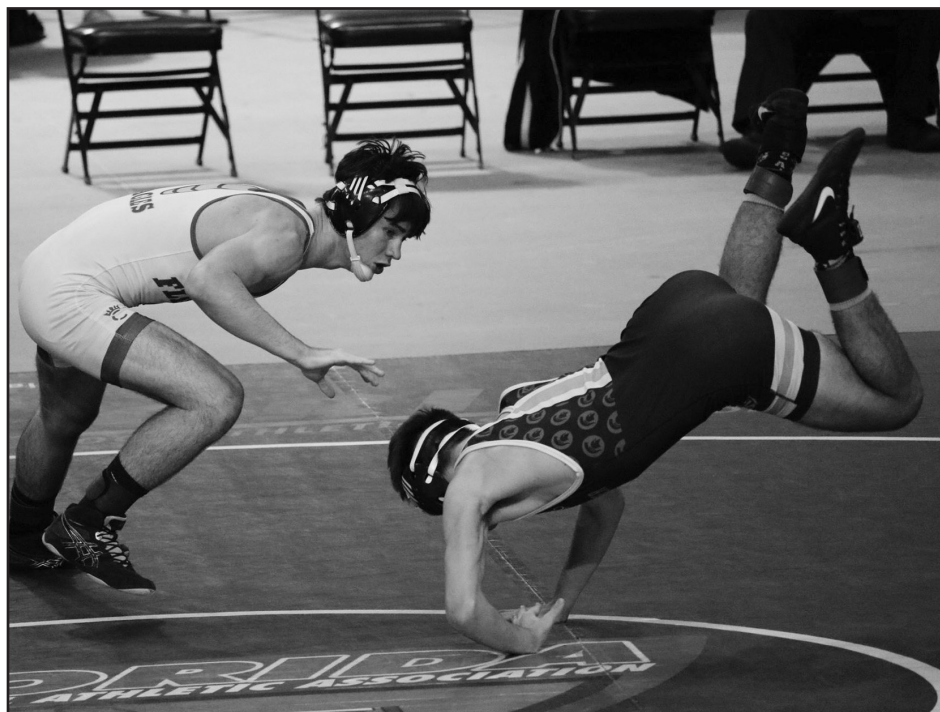

Rodriguez commented that Owens was negating son Matt's wrestling abilities on the mat by holding on to Matthew throughout the match.

"Matt was the aggressor & threw him in a head & arm early but went out of bounds," said Bart Rodriguez. "Sometimes in matches you do what you have to do to win and that's what happened. Don't get me wrong, the other kid is a very good wrestler and that's why they were both in the finals."

Rodriguez, third last year at 106, pinned twice and won a 10-4 decision in the semifinal to get to the final. Rodriguez beat two stellar early round foes in Brandon's Tyson Lane (61-6) with a pin and defending 2A champion Lake Gibson's Jesse Gehr (34-9) in a 10-4 semifinal win.

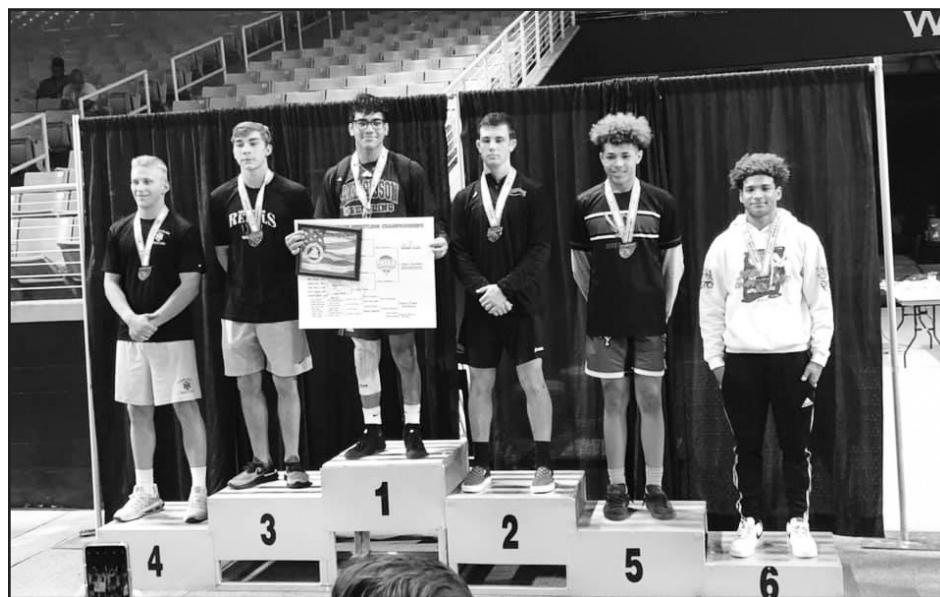

Despite the solo title by Jackson, Fleming Island High coach P.J. Cobbert still got enough points from his Golden Eagles to finish second for a third straight year to team champion South Dade 197.5-96 with Southwest Miami third at 89, Columbus fourth at 86. Winter Springs, Hagerty and Osceola all scored in the 80s; 84, 83, 83 to keep the top six all within striking distance of Fleming Island's runnerup spot.

Orange Park High's Jacob Campbell, right, finished sixth at 170 in Class 2A. Campbell was beat in semifinal by Brandon's Broc Spurling, the eventual runnerup at 170.

finishes from Luke Chop at 152 and Chad Nix, region 1-3A champion at 195; fifth place from Gavin Smith at 170 and sixth place from Gannon Janssen at 145, all returning next year for Cobbert. Janssen was injured in his semifinal against Winter Springs Joshua Contreras, but still advanced to the fifth/sixth match.

Chop faced off and lost to unbeaten Johnny Lovett (58-0) in that semifinal. Nix lost to unbeaten Anthony Burburiya of Countryside (55-0). Both Lovett and Burburiya won their respective titles.

Smith, a sophomore, lost in the 170 semifinal to eventual runnerup Jake Finken (42-5) of Newsome High who lost to South Dade defending champion Todd Perry in the final.

Fleming Island traveled to Kissimmee with 12 athletes and got points from Riley Holton at 113 (1-2); Ryan Hobson at 126 (0-2); Dalton Baysinger at 132 (1-2); Tyler Williams at 138 (1-2); Tanner Hill at 160 (1-2); Anthony Breeden at 182 (1-2) and Jeffrey Lascano at 220 (1-2). All return except Breeden and Jackson.

"Class 3A is the toughest class in Florida and to get our 12 guys here was strong," said Jackson. "The state meet is where anything can happen and it is very intense. I'm super proud of the young guys and they will all come back stronger next year."

In Class 1A, Clay High's Tazz Hampton, the region 1-1A champion, finished up one of his strongest seasons; Hampton was a state qualifier last year in 2A with Middleburg High, as the wily attacker finished fourth at 106 for first year coach Hunter Hill. Hampton, a junior, faced off against runnerup Ethan Mojena (45-9), an eighth grader, in that semifinal and lost an 11-3 decision. Hampton came back and pinned in the consolation semifinal before losing to Lake Highland Prep freshman Danny Nini in the consolation final for fourth place.

Lake Highland Prep dominated the team scores with 269 points with American Heritage a distance second with 116.5. Clay finished 21st with 22 points.

For Clay, Cale Hoskinson, region 1-1A champion at 132, finished at 2-2; Andrew McGowan, at 138, finished 0-2; Grant Stanish, at 145, finished 0-2 and Joe Grelly, at 220, finished 0-2.

In Class 2A, after Rodriguez' runnerup finish, Orange Park secured two medalists with Jacob Campbell and Jacob Moore both finishing sixth in their weight classes; 170 and 195. Moore was beat for sixth place by Terry Parker's Landon Dains, the region 1-2A champion. Campbell (49-6) lost by pin to a familiar foe in Matanzas' Quenteen Robinson who beat Campbell 8-7 in the region 1-2A semifinal before winning the region title. Campbell got to the semifinal but was pinned by Brandon's Broc Spurling (62-6), the runnerup to Lake Gibson's Miguel Hernandez. Moore lost 15-0 in his quarterfinal match to eventual champion Jesse Martinez (38-1) of Riverdale.

Lake Gibson defended their Class 2A team title with a repeat with 189.5 points with Tampa Jesuit runnerup at 164 and Charlotte third at 152.5. Orange Park finished 16th with 27 points with Ridgeview 19th with 22. Middleburg finished 48th.

Also for Orange Park, Cameron Broughton, at 138, finished 1-2 and Julian Moore, at 195, finished at 1-2.

For Ridgeview, Gabe Guzman, at 113, finished 0-2 and Odjuan Whitfield, region champion at 220, finished 0-2.

For Middleburg, Storm Mercado, the region 1-2A champion at 138, finished 2-2, Chris Burch, at 145, finished 0-2 and Bryce Williams, at 152, finished 1-2.

Hart Bridge,” said Nadler, in a post-game interview on USATF TV. “To come back and represent and get a top 10 finish felt pretty good.”

Nadler, now the coach of the Florida Track Club’s Elite Racing team, and also preparing for the U.S. Olympic Trials Marathon in Atlanta in 2020, plus the April Boston Marathon, stuck with the Olympic calibre front pack for as long as he could as the top four racers all broke 44 minutes. Winner Shadrack Kipchirchir, 30, a Kenyan now in the United States and a 19th place finisher in the RIO Olympics 10,000 meters, switched to overdrive with his two chasers; Stanley Kebenei, 29, and the 2016 River Run 15K champion, and Leonard Korir, 32, also Kenyans, about a foot off his shoulder as Kipchirchir ran an astounding sub-four minute final mile. The other two could only muster 4:01 finishing miles; Kebenei second, Korir third. Korir finished 14th in the RIO Olympics 10,000 meters.

For Nadler, who ran 44:48 for eighth place overall, the finish was nearly 10 minutes faster than his 2002 finish as a high school sophomore.

For the women, Erika Kemp, 24, won in 50:54.

“I was pretty confident I would run faster this time,” said Nadler.

Also in the top finishers from Clay County was former Ridgeview High standout trackster Andrew Smith, who had a superb career at Flagler College as an indoor miler and as a cross country ace. Smith delivered a 51:24 time to earn 37th place overall.

Nearly 12,000 plus runners finished the event sponsored by 1st Place Sports of Jacksonville.

Other notable finishes came from Matthew Stratton, 14, a freshman state cross country medalist at St. Johns Country Day School, who finished 67th with a 55:19 effort. Fleming Island High track ace John Brinkman, 16, grabbed 94th place at took home the championship in the four-day event, securing their 45th consecutive title. The Pioneer women topped South Georgia State, Iowa Central, Southwestern Oregon, and Barton, who rounded out the top five respectively.

Kennon, a sophomore, captured two individual events and was a member of two relay titles. Kennon, a 2016 Class 3A 50 free champion for Oakleaf, powered through the 50 free in 23.54 seconds with teammates Emma Colvin, Camryn Wheals and Elizabeth Watts all stayed in the 23 second range finishing second, third and fourth.

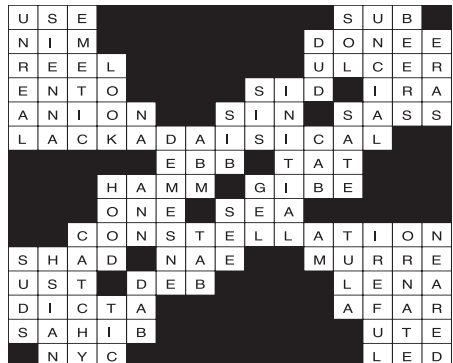

Watts is a Fleming Island High graduate.

In the 100 IM, two days later, Kennon blitzed the field with a winning 58.98 split with second place at 1:00.13; teammate Camryn Wheals.

Kennon also claimed a pair of team titles in the 200-yard freestyle relay and the 400-yard medley relay.

Oakleaf High Elianna Kennon got two individual golds and two relay golds to add to her 2016 state 50 free medal.

SWAT raid leads to more arrests, satisfying gulps of coffee

MIDDLEBURG — Pre-dawn flashing blue lights, armed SWAT officers dressed in fatigues and celebratory cups of coffee meant only one thing on March 8 — the Clay County Sheriff's Office was making another drug raid.

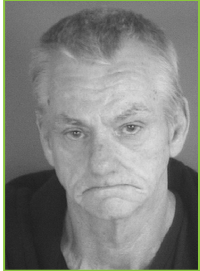

Howard Wayne Haddock, 55, of 2305 Cosmos Ave. was arrested and charged three counts of selling or delivering narcotics, possession of methamphetamine with intent to sell, manufacture or deliver it, owning or renting a structure known to sell drugs and possession or use of drug equipment following a sweep that came as a relief to neighbors.

Another man, 34-year-old Long Wesley Dunlap Jr., was arrested at the scene for opposing officers while they tried to serve warrants to arrest Haddock and search for drugs.

According to the warrants, Haddock was accused of selling a total of 3.2 grams of methamphetamine to confidential informants on three occasions.

Haddock was jailed with a total bond set at $180,015.

Dunlap was arrested for arguing with deputies and refusing to put his arms behind his back. He was held with a $5,002 bond.

Clay County gained national attention last January when Sheriff Darryl Daniels was videoed drinking a cup of coffee during a drug bust that led to the detention of 15 residents — which eventually led to the arrest of five adults and one juvenile — and the seizure of drugs at an Orange Park home that Daniels called a well-known “narcotics house.”

“The end result ... will be me standing in your living room, like I said, drinking my morning cup of coffee,” Daniels said at the time. “Fifteen going to jail. Three big gulps. Y'all take care, Clay County.”

That video instantly went viral and led to Urban Bean Coffeehouse Café in Orange Park creating its own “Sheriff's Blend” brand, with all proceeds going to the Clay County Police Athletic League.

Sheriffs investigate Clay buses being hit with rocks

Several school buses on County Road 218 in Clay Hill were stuck with rocks last Monday morning, the Clay County Sheriff's Office said.

Nobody was injured, deputies said.

The department originally got a call reporting gunfire, but the department quickly squelched those rumors by reporting they had recovered rocks inside the buses.

CCSP also would like any information concerning the attacks to the buses or if any cars were stuck while driving through Clay Hill early Monday. Persons with information may call the Communications Section at (904) 264-6512.

Jacksonville book keeper arrested for Orange Park fraud

A Jacksonville woman was arrested in Duval County and sent back to Clay after being charged with skimming more than $6,000 from her employer, Integrity Restoration and Remediation, 26 Industrial Loop, Orange Park.

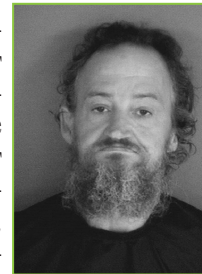

Kathleen Barnett Kaminski had been wanted since Dec. 6, but police weren't able to find her until she finally was arrested on March 11 in Jacksonville.

She faces fraud charges after an audit of the company's finances showed $6,511.75 that were deposited into her private account.

Man goes to jail after refusing to leave McDonald's

An Orange Park man was jailed on March 10 for disorderly intoxication, resisting, obstructing or opposing a police officer, depriving a police officer of his weapon or radio and the opportunity to defend himself, providing a false identification, threatening a public servant in the line of their duty and trespassing after he refused to leave the McDonald's at 372 Blanding Blvd. in Orange Park.

George Chase Atchison, 54, was booked with bond totaling $21,014.

George Chase Atchison

Police were called to the fast food restaurant to serve a no-trespass warning to another customer when Atchison approached both. The arresting officer said he “smelled the aroma of alcohol emitting from him.” Servers at McDonald's then asked for Atchison to also be given a no-trespass warning.

After refusing to leave, deputies were able to put him in handcuffs. But as they attempted to search him, Atchison tried to pull a second officer's taser from his holster, according to the arrest report. Police had to strike the suspect once to free his grip of the taser.

Homeless man busted for panhandling from busy highway median

A Jacksonville man was arrested for begging for money in the median of Blanding Boulevard and Henley Road on March 11.

Clyde Meeks, 57, was charged with roadway solicitation of monies from motorists without a lawful permit.

According to the arrest report, Meeks held a card that stated: “Homeless Man Need Work Anything Will Be A Blessing.” He was arrested because several drivers slowed down to read the sign, which caused a “disruption in the normal flow of traffic.”

Town of Penney Farms NOTICE OF FAIR HOUSING

This notice will serve to advise all residents of the Town of Penney Farms that the following actions, if based on race, color, sex, national origin, religion, familial status (families with children), or handicap (disability) are prohibited by Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 (Federal Fair Housing Act):

- Refusing to sell or rent to, deal or negotiate with any person.
- Discriminating on terms or conditions for buying or renting housing.
- Discriminating by advertising that housing is available only to persons of a certain race, color, religion, sex, national origin, familial status, handicap (disability), age, ancestry or with no animals.
- Denying that housing is available for inspection, sale or rent when it really is available.
- Denying or making different terms or conditions for home loans by financial institutions.
- Denying to anyone the use of or participation in any real estate services, multiple listing services or other facilities related to the selling and renting of housing.
- "Blockbusting" and "steering" are two discriminatory practices that are also prohibited by the Act.

Blockbusting includes engaging in conduct which conveys the impression that a neighborhood is about to undergo certain changes and, thus, panic owners into selling their properties. Steering involves guiding an individual seeking housing toward or away from particular property for discriminatory reasons.

Final Notice and Public Explanation of a Proposed Activity in the 100-Year Floodplain and Wetland

Date of Publication: March 14, 2019
 Town of Penney Farms, FL
 P.O. Box 1041
 Penney Farms, FL 32079-1041
 Phone: 904-529-9078

To: All Interested Agencies, Groups, and Individuals
 This is to give notice that the Town of Penney Farms has conducted an evaluation as required by Executive Orders 11988 and 11990 in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 to determine the potential effect that its activity in the floodplain and/or wetland will have on the environment.

The Town of Penney Farms intends to undertake a public facilities improvement project to be funded by the Florida Small Cities Community Development Block Grant program. Construction activities will include: The funds will be used to improve and construct drainage structures (swales, ditches, drains, inlets, and piping) along the section of Caroline Blvd. that extends from Palmeto Avenue to Poling Boulevard. Piping and drains will also be located between Poling and Wilbanks Ave. (south of Morton Street and North Caroline Blvd.). In addition, grant funds will be used to replace undersized piping and drains and install new piping and drains as needed on both sides of Poling Boulevard extending from just south of Morton Street to Caroline Boulevard. Also, drainage pipe/swales will extend north along Clark Avenue from Caroline Boulevard and terminate near Gwinn Street where a proposed drainage retention area will be located. The area of benefit for these improvements is bounded by Palmetto Avenue to the west, Poling Blvd. to the east and Caroline Blvd. to the south. The northern boundary of the area of benefit in generally south of Gwinn Street. Additional Information about the project includes:

1. All project activities will occur within the town limits;
2. The project will have no impact on County or State Roads;
3. The Town participates in the National Flood Insurance Program;
4. Complementary activities will include repair to streets disturbed by drainage activities;
5. FEMA has issued a damage inventory report as a result of the flooding from Hurricane Irma;
6. The ditch and swales to be reconstructed along the Caroline (from Palmetto to Clark) may instead by addressed with concrete drainage piping if funds are available.

Legal Notice

This notice is required by Section 2(a)(4) of Executive Order 11988 for Floodplain Management, and by Section 2(b) of Executive Order 11990 for the Protection of Wetlands and is implemented by HUD Regulations found at 24 CFR 55.20(b) for the HUD action that is within and/or affects a floodplain or wetland.

Construction will be undertaken in the 100-year floodplain (and/or wetlands). The Town of Penney Farms is interested in alternatives and public perceptions of possible adverse impacts that could result from the project as well as potential mitigation measures. Portions of the town's storm water management system are located within mapped floodplain areas. Initial review of available public source mapping indicates that the planned improvements to approximately 1,960 LF of drainage facilities will impact approximately 17 acres of flood prone area.

Although the planned flood and drainage improvements will be located in the 100-year floodplain, the improvements cannot be undertaken in any other location due to the scope of the project. There is, therefore, no practicable alternative. The proposed improvements conform to applicable floodplain protection standards and involve the replacement, repair, improvement and/or rehabilitation of existing public facilities that are already located in the floodplain. The proposed action will not affect natural or beneficial floodplain values, and residents of the community will benefit from the project. Failure to provide the planned improvements could result in the facilities remaining in a deteriorated condition and the continuing threat of damaging floods to the Town.

Additional agencies involved in this project include the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, St. John's River Water Management District, and the Florida Department of Environmental Protection. Written comments must be received by the Town of Penney Farms on or before March 22, 2019. comments should be addressed to:
Thomas E. DeVille, Mayor, C/O Anita E. Cooper - Town Clerk, at P.O. Box 1041 Penney Farms, FL 32079-1041.

Written comments may also be delivered to Town Hall which is located at:
Penney Farms Town Hall, 4100 Clark Ave, Penney Farms, FL 32079-0607.
 In addition, comments may be submitted to the Town Clerk by email to:
