New Pahokee school on track for Aug. opening

Middle school finally answers long-term concern of residents, teachers

By Jose Jesus Zaragoza
The Sun

A few years ago a gathering of community leaders, citizens and school officials packed the auditorium at Pahokee Middle/Senior School to voice a single cause: the need to construct a new school in Pahokee.

It simply wasn't fair to them that, of all the schools in Palm Beach County, theirs was the only one that had both a middle school and a high school inside of the same facility.

How healthy is it to group much younger students, specifically much younger girls, with much older students, specifically much older boys, and to expect both groups to remain separate without issue, they asked?

Dr. Monroe Benaim was one of the invited guests. He represented the school board as one of its members, and tried to steer the discussion to the hard facts: Pahokee simply did not have the numbers to justify the construction of a new school. Before the meeting was over, however, the board member was convinced. Affected by the passionate pleas, he promised to help.

Project near completion

On Tuesday, Alfred Jones, the school district's projects administrator, had trouble speaking over the phone, losing the call once on his Nextel. When he called back, machinery could be heard in the background, including the sound of buzz saws and hammers working behind him. He was at the site of the new Pahokee middle school.

"I'm here from now until school opens, everyday, to make sure that we there," he said, hoping to assure residents that his goal is to have kids will report to the new building on the first day of school. Though he trusts the contractors handling the job, Mr. Jones said he feels a special connection to this project.

"I have to make sure we get things done," he said.

A lot already has. The three-story $30 million-plus facility, towering above Pahokee High and Pahokee Elementary next to it, and located on the site of the former high That's because it is, said Mr. Jones.

"We have a cafeteria that is absolutely astonishing. The music and band suites are world-class also," he said. "There are going to be a lot of classrooms on the third floor,

Glades residents share tips on shopping smart

How to use your resources for back to school shopping

By Ashley Causey
Special to The Sun

Summer break never seems to last as long as it should; school bells are already sounding the alarm to students, as well as parents.

It also usually signals the start of the back to school shopping season. With the economy still slumping, how should residents stretch out their dollars?

The first step is making a list. A list is vital because it gives the shopper a game plan. It also shows you what you can use from last year's arsenal of supplies to prevent excess purchasing.

Once the list is complete, the next step is planning a method of attack.

Hunting for bargains can be as close as your household computer.

Searching web sites for their weekly ads on Sunday such as Staples, Kmart, Office Depot, Office Max and Wal-Mart can be prove to be profitable in your search for savings.

Sandra Diaz, a Belle Glade resident with daughters, shared her shopping tactic, "When tax free holiday comes around, I catch my savings by buying shoes," said Ms. Diaz.

Purchasing large ticket items are ideal during the tax free holiday because savings can quickly be seen when taxes are not involved.

Although savings can be found anywhere, more and more people are uncovering treasures in their own communities.

Velma Espinoza, a long time resident of South Bay explained her reason for keeping it local, "I do all my shopping in Belle Glade. It's more than just the convenience and price at hand, shopping locally is a great way we can generate revenue within Belle Glade.

Mrs. Diaz also is a local shopper.

"I mostly do grocery shopping in Belle Glade because it's closer and cheaper than other grocery stores like Publix."

Mrs. Espinoza and Mrs. Diaz came to agreement that shopping within your community does not have to end at the grocery store.

The Sun launches new feature: ZapHomes

Single location for home buyers to search and evaluate neighborhoods

ZapHomes, the newest feature on newszap.com, offers prospective home buyers a single location on the Internet where they can conduct a comprehensive search for their next home.

ZapHomes is powered by Trulia.com, one of the country's leading Internet real estate search firms. Visitors to www.newszap.com will be able to click through to ZapHomes and then browse real estate listings by city, town or zip code.

Newszap.com's new real estate section also provides easy access to a community's demographic information, along with recent sales trends and property values. Users will also find local maps, lists of nearby parks and recreation areas, schools and educational resources, and contacts for civic organizations.

In addition, this online section offers a variety of online tools useful to prospective home buyers, including a mortgage calculator.

Searches can be refined by location, price range, number of bedrooms, number of bathrooms, square feet, as well as by the style of house.

Searches can also be based on re-sales, foreclosures, newly constructed or recently sold homes. One can even search for open house tours on specific dates.

"We are very excited to add this great functionality to our real estate coverage," said Jose Zaragoza, Publisher of The Sun. "Homebuyers, sellers, and real estate professionals alike will benefit from this new resource."

ZapHomes also includes local advertising opportunities for realtors, builders and related industries.

Arm yourself with facts about high blood pressure

1 in 4 American adults suffer from high blood pressure

Glenda Wilson
HRMC Marketing

With approximately 58 million (one in four) American adults suffering from high blood pressure, how do you know for certain if you're at risk? Hendry Regional Medical Center wants you to arm yourself with the facts about high blood pressure.

Understanding blood pressure

High blood pressure, also known as hypertension, occurs when the force (or pressure) of blood against your artery walls is too great, causing excessive strain on your blood vessels.

This condition is dangerous because of the damaging effects that accrue over time. This damage may not become apparent until an individual's blood pressure is shockingly high.

Several factors are known to increase blood pressure, or primary hypertension, including a personal or family history of high blood pressure, obesity, heavy alcohol use, high sodium intake, and aging.

— Name

That's why hypertension is sometimes known as a "silent killer."

What causes high blood pressure?

Several factors are known to increase blood pressure, or primary hypertension, including a personal or family history of high blood pressure, obesity, heavy alcohol use, high sodium intake, and aging.

A sedentary lifestyle, excess stress, low potassium intake, low calcium intake, and resistance to insulin may also cause high blood pressure.

High blood pressure due to a medical condition or a side effect from medication is known as secondary hypertension. However, elevated blood pressure may not always indicate high blood pressure per se. For some people, just being in a medical setting or having their blood pressure measured by a doctor causes their blood pressure to rise; this is called white-coat hypertension.

How is blood pressure measured?

To measure blood pressure, your doctor uses an instrument called a "sphygmomanometer," more often referred to as a blood pressure cuff. T he cuff is wrapped around your upper arm and inflated to stop the flow of blood in your artery. As the cuff is slowly deflated, your doctor uses a stethoscope to listen to the blood pumping through the artery. These pumping sounds register on a gauge attached to the cuff. The first pumping sound your doctor hears is recorded as the systolic pressure, and the last sound is the diastolic pressure.

•Systolic measurement: This is the first or top number of a blood pressure reading. The normal reading is generally 100 or more, typically in the 120 to 135 range. This is the pressure of blood against your artery walls, when the heart has just finished pumping.

•Diastolic measurement: This is the second or bottom number in a blood pressure reading. The normal reading is generally 85 or less. It is the pressure of blood against your artery walls between heartbeats, when the heart is relaxed and filling with blood.

What are the symptoms of high blood pressure?

Until a certain level of damage has been accumulated over time, high blood pressure patients usually exhibit few or no symptoms.

In the more severe stages of high blood pressure (stages 2 and 3), a patient may experience headaches, vomiting, nausea, and visual disturbances.

Over time, the strain of hypertension can cause vessels to block, narrow or weaken and cause clots to form, which can damage the heart and arteries.

This damage can lead to arteriosclerosis and stroke or cause damage to the kidneys, precipitate renal failure, or cause retinopathy (severe damage to the retina of the eye).

How is high blood pressure diagnosed?

At your yearly medical checkup, your doctor or nurse will take your blood pressure, and that's when you could discover that it's higher than normal.

Between checkups, you can go to a local pharmacy that has an automatic blood pressure monitor and test yourself. If the reading comes out higher than normal, check with your physician to determine the reading's accuracy.

Usually, a diagnosis of hypertension is given if blood pressure measurements are high (above 140/90) on multiple readings.

High blood pressure that is stage 1, slightly above normal, can sometimes be treated with lifestyle changes such as losing weight, changing bad eating habits, consuming less salt and fat, quitting smoking and heavy drinking, reducing stress, and exercising.

Sometimes it's necessary for a patient to check his blood pressure at home to make sure the lifestyle changes are working.

Depending upon the measurement of your blood pressure, your physician may prescribe medication for you.

A large number of Americans will need one or more anti-hypertensive medications to control their blood pressure adequately, even if they follow an appropriate lifestyle.

Is your blood pressure at a healthy level?

HRMC recommends that you have your blood pressure checked often – don't allow high blood pressure to slip into your life. Get your blood pressure checked today.

Descuentos telefónicos disponibles para clientes de CenturyLink

Con los programas Link-Up America y Lifeline Assistance, los clientes de teléfono de bajos ingresos que reúnan los requisitos pueden ahorrar dinero en los cargos de instalación y el precio mensual para servicio residencial local básico. Esto incluye el acceso a proveedores de larga distancia, Servicios de emergencia, Servicios de operadora, Asistencia de directorio y Bloqueo de llamadas interurbanas.

Link-Up America es un programa patrocinado por el gobierno federal que ofrece descuentos en los cargos de instalación del servicio a clientes de bajos ingresos que reúnan los requisitos. Proporciona un descuento del 50%, hasta un máximo de $30, en los cargos de nuevas instalaciones residenciales para servicio telefónico. El saldo de los cargos de instalación puede pagarse, sin interés, durante un período de 12 meses. Además, se anulará el cargo mensual por el servicio para la restricción de llamadas interurbanas para los clientes que lo soliciten o que requieran el servicio.

Lifeline Assistance es otro programa patrocinado por el gobierno federal para los clientes de bajos ingresos. Proporciona un descuento en el cargo mensual para el servicio telefónico residencial básico. Se han reducido los precios del programa Lifeline Assistance y se modificaron sus pautas para permitir su uso por parte de más clientes de bajos ingresos.

Para reunir los requisitos para ambos programas, los clientes pueden inscribirse en el programa CenturyLink Lifeline, para lo cual deberán proporcionar verificación de que cumplen con los requisitos de elegibilidad de bajos ingresos del estado. Fish kills, though natural occurrences, need to be reported

Scientists intend to keep track of locations of reported fish kills

Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission

As reported by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC), high temperatures and cloudy rainy days can spell trouble for fish in Florida's rivers and lakes.

These conditions can cause fish kills, which are natural occurrences and typically do not cause permanent damage to the ecosystem or to fish populations.

Many factors can contribute to a fish kill. Some fish kills are complex and involve a variety of factors that may not be easily discernible.

However, most common causes of kills in brackish estuaries, fresh-water lakes and man-made retention ponds are well understood by scientists.

Fish kills are commonly caused by weather-related factors. Sudden temperature fluctuations or extreme temperatures can result in fish kills any time of the year.

Hot weather during the summer months can cause fish kills because warm water holds less oxygen than cold water.

In addition, a lack of rain during hot-weather months lowers the water levels in the system, heating the water and further depleting the oxygen in the system.

Fish kills also can occur during extended periods with little sunshine.

The process leading to these types of die-offs begins with overcast skies and rainy weather. During extended periods of overcast, rainy or cloudy weather, the biological system uses the dissolved oxygen in the water faster than it can produce it.

Rain water can compound the situation by causing vegetation, such as dead leaves and grass clippings, to wash into the system and decompose.

The decomposition process also can remove oxygen from the water.

The good news is that most natural water bodies are resilient to these types of fish kill events.

It is important for FWC scientists to keep track of the location and extent of fish kills in natural lakes and estuaries to see if there are serious problems developing in an ecosystem that might require investigation or restorative measures.

People can only prevent fish kills by maintaining good water quality. Once a kill starts, there is nothing that can be done.

State and most county agencies cannot clean up dead fish and private landowners must undertake the task themselves.

Residents can report fish kills in natural water bodies to the FWC at <http://research.MyFWC.com/fishkill/submit.asp> or call the FWC Fish Kill Hotline at 800-636-0511.

It is not necessary to report fish kills in man-made retention or private ponds to the FWC.

For more information on fish kills visit <http://research.MyFWC.com> and select "fish and wildlife health" located under the "explore" section.

NOTICE OF BUDGET HEARING

The Hendry County School District will soon consider a budget for 2010-2011. A public hearing to make a DECISION on the budget AND TAXES will be held on August 3, 2010, at 5:30 P.M. at the School Board Meeting Room, 2D Floor, Old Courthouse, HWY 80 & 29, LaBelle, Florida.

NOTICE OF TAX FOR SCHOOL CAPITAL OUTLAY

The Hendry County School District will soon consider a measure to impose a 0.750 mill property tax for the capital outlay projects listed herein.

This tax is in addition to the school board's proposed tax of 7.433 mills for operating expenses and is proposed solely at the discretion of the school board.

The Capital Outlay tax will generate approximately $1,362,480 to be used for the following projects:

MAINTENANCE, RENOVATIONS AND REPAIRS
District Wide Repair and Maintenance

MOTOR VEHICLE PURCHASES
Purchase of two (2) School Buses
Purchase of ESE and/or Maintenance Vehicles

NEW AND REPLACEMENT EQUIPMENT
School Furniture and Equipment

PAYMENTS FOR EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES AND SITES DUE UNDER A LEASE-PURCHASE AGREEMENT
Qualified Zone Academy Bond (QZAB) for District Wide Maintenance

All concerned citizens are invited to a public hearing to be held on August 3, 2010, at 5:30 P.M., at the Hendry County School Board meeting room, Old Courthouse, 25 East Hickpochee Avenue, Labelle, Florida.

A DECISION on the proposed CAPITAL OUTLAY TAXES will be made at this hearing.

Ice Cream Prayers

Pastor John Hicks
First United Methodist Church

Generally, we think of the acronym ASAP as standing for "As Soon As Possible." Maybe if we substitute the words, "Always Say A Prayer", we'll begin to find a new way to deal with those rough days we all encounter.

There's work to do, deadlines to meet, you've got no time to spare, but as you hurry and scurry, ASAP: Always Say a Prayer. In the midst of family chaos, quality time is rare. Do your best; let God do the rest, ASAP: Always Say a Prayer.

It may seem like your worries are more than you can bear. Slow down and take a breather, ASAP: Always Say a Prayer.

God knows how stressful life is; and wants to ease our cares. He'll respond to our needs, large or small – even our desire for ice cream!

A six-year-old was given permission to say grace at a restaurant. He prayed: "God is great and God is good, let us thank Him for the food, and God I would thank You even more if Mom gets us ice cream for dessert. And liberty and justice for all! Amen!"

Along with the laughter from customers nearby, a woman at the next table growled loudly: "That's what's wrong with this country. Kids today don't even know how to pray. The very idea of asking God for ice cream! Why, I never."

Hearing this, the boy burst into tears and asked his mother: "Did I do it wrong? I'm sorry. Is God mad at me?"

The little boy's mother pulled him over into her lap. She hugged him tightly and assured him that he had done a terrific job with his prayer and God was certainly not mad at him.

An elderly gentleman walked over to the table. He winked at the little boy and said: "I know God really well. We visit every day and I happen to know that God loved your prayer. It may have been the best one He has heard all day." "Really?" the little boy asked. "Cross my heart," said the man.

Then he leaned over and whispered into the little boy's ear. Pointing at the woman at the next table who had made the remark that started the whole thing, he said: "Too bad she never asks God for ice cream. A little ice cream is good for the soul sometimes." Naturally, the mom ordered ice cream at the end of the meal. The boy stared at his for a moment and then did something that no one in the restaurant that day would ever forget.

He picked up his sundae and without a word walked over and placed it in front of the woman at the next table.

With a big smile he said to her: "Here, this is for you. Ice cream is good for the soul sometimes and my soul is good already!" People applauded and somewhere in heaven Jesus was smiling.

Risk Taking

Rev. Samuel S. Thomas, Ph. D.
Saint Martin's Church

Some of the hardest things I've had to do was to watch a loved one suffer. I remember vividly having to take my daughter to the doctor for an examination that followed a screening by her school. Thankfully, there was nothing wrong. Afterwards she told me "Daddy, I didn't like that!" I told her that I didn't like it either. Later, I could only pray when a loved one went into shock and blood pressure was temporarily lost. I offered up many prayers while waiting for things to stabilize; my prayers were answered as I hoped. The hardest thing was not being able to take the place of the one who was suffering because they were loved.

Those we care about give us the power to take a willing risk of our own safety, well-being, comfort, life. This past week I attended a conference among a group of professionals; and, like all professionals I know (and most non-professionals too), they were concerned about risk.

Every organization and every professional, most of us in fact are concerned about taking them. It seems to be a "given" in society and touches so many things that we do daily.

As the session continued, an attorney who advised the group talked about limiting risk, but not eliminating it. The presenter posed the question "What are we to do?" I answered "We are the people who take the risk," and he acknowledged "You're right."

If you are willing to help others, you must be willing to suffer for them; if you love them, you must be willing to put it all on the line for their well-being.

In other words; for us to share with anybody, they must be thought of as if they were our own family, our loved ones. Paul, in his Hymn to Charity (1 Corinthians 13) does not speak of a particular person when he describes "the greatest of things...love."

Rather he talks about what we do; being kind, not proud, not self-seeking, not easily angered. The more we "translate" our willingness to care, to risk, to love..from those we know best, to everyone we meet; the more we fulfill that great commandment that we "love one another as I have loved you (John 13:34)."

The measure of that love? What have I shared? What have I given? What have I sacrificed that another might have a better life? Did I take the risk? There is a Savior who did and He changed the world by it. It came with a cost: it gave us all a great victory.

and they will have a nice panoramic view.”

When he is Pahokee such as he has been frequently recently, Mr. Jones eats at Poppa Jimmy's or some other local eatery and when residents find out what he is up to, they tell him how wonderful the new building looks.

Don't forget the stadium, he jokes.

Mr. Jones also oversaw the stadium project, and with the middle school building he hopes to deliver on his own promise to give residents a middle school and stadium “to rival anything on the coast.”

According to the supervisor, the building is finished. On Tuesday furniture was being delivered and the final inspections were being conducted. No detail was too large or too small for the inspectors, and the supervisor said the school would undergo the “most dynamically stringent” inspection prior to being opened.

Once the inspection is complete the district can apply for a temporary certificate of occupancy and teachers can report to their new classrooms.

Community response

Mayor J.P. Sasser couldn't be happier.

“We are very, very proud of it,” Mayor Sasser said, highlighting his use of the word “we” in speaking for the community. “I think what it does is it shows what the community can do when we all work together.”

The mayor insists the request did not come without a promise from Pahokee itself to the school board: to produce “some of the best academically prepared kids that we ever have.”

He points to gains made in the school's International Baccalaureate offerings and the growing renown that program is creating. Already students have graduated from the program.

Though he would also like to recognize Dr. Benaim's part in convincing fellow board members that building the school was the right thing to do, saying that the board member “fought for it all the way,” Mayor Sasser said it's just as important to recognize the parents who spoke alongside the residents; everyone who joined as a unified voice to speak to the school district.

“You saw everyone who worked on that, the city, citizens, the school board, the teachers,” he said. “Everybody came together.”

Shopping

“We have doctors, dentists, contractors, banks and shops all within our use,” Mrs. Espinoza added.

Buying the Sunday paper is another avenue to view weekly ads. Often, many retailers stick coupons in their ads to entice shoppers to buy from their store.

Keeping tabs on retailers' sales are important to optimize your savings.

Waiting to buy all your supplies at once is a tactic that should be avoided.

It is best to buy strategically when items are at their lowest selling point. This can be best before the anticipated tax free holiday which is held this year on August 13 through 15.

Another savvy trend that is picking up momentum is buying second hand.

Goodwill's manager, Rosa Harris, spoke about the increase of sales

“I personally have noticed an increase of sales here at Goodwill, especially since we are in a recession.”

She added, “We constantly have weekly sales here at Goodwill. This is a wonderful way to save money for back to school shopping.”

One avid Goodwill shopper said, “I'm a college kid on a budget and Goodwill has helped me save and look good at the same time!”

Shopping smartly is an ability that has become more valuable in this cash strapped economy.

CenterState

BANK

Quality Shines Through

An open letter to our friends in Hendry County

Last week, CenterState Bank of Florida entered the Clewiston and Labelle market place by purchasing all of the loans and deposit accounts of Olde Cypress Community Bank. We plan to operate all the local branches and serve you with the same friendly tellers and branch staff that you have come to know over the bank's seventy year history.

Although CenterState may be a new name in Hendry County, you will find our offices located all around Central Florida. At our core, we are a community bank and we believe in local decision making. Our niche is small town banking. You will find us in cities such as Leesburg, Winter Haven, Okeechobee and Lake Wales. You will not find us in downtown Orlando or Jacksonville. We built our bank with a conservative, long-term view so our financial performance is strong. We have money to lend and we are growing our bank in spite of these challenging economic times. CenterState is committed to helping our customers reach their dreams in the good times and also weather the inevitable down cycles.

We are excited about the future and we are proud to be here in beautiful Hendry County. When you get a chance – stop by. We would love to meet you.

Strong Capital Position – A bank's capital is the cushion that protects your deposits from operating losses. Many banks tout that they are "well capitalized" by regulatory standards. Our parent company, CenterState Banks, Inc., ended 2009 with a very strong Tier 1 capital ratio of 11.4%, which is more than double the 5% required to be considered "well capitalized."

Continued Profitability – For the year 2009, CenterState Bank of Florida, NA posted a profit of approximately $4.7 million. This is at a time when many banks are experiencing unprecedented losses. These profits continue to build upon our capital cushion.

FDIC Insurance – Recent legislation increased the amount of deposit insurance coverage per depositor from $100,000 to $250,000. In addition, certain non-interest bearing accounts now qualify for unlimited coverage through the FDIC. These changes are in place until December 31, 2013. We would be happy to assist you in structuring your accounts in order to obtain even higher insurance coverage. You may also review the FDIC informational video on our website.

Core Values

Local Market Driven – Our business structure is designed to value the unique character of the communities we serve and to encourage decision making by the banker that is closest to the action.

A Long Term Horizon – We approach business decisions with an emphasis on long term growth, sustainable profits and the career development of our officers and staff. We will not sacrifice credit quality for short term gain.

World Class Service – We will exceed our clients' expectations by anticipating their needs and responding with a sense of urgency. Each of us has the freedom, authority and responsibility to do the right thing for our clients.

Relationship Banking – Our bank is built on life-long friendships. We communicate with candor and transparency. We believe that the relationship is more valuable than the transaction.

Faith and Family – Commitment to our faith and families is fundamental to the overall culture of our institution.

Six Florida cases of Whooping Cough since Jan. 2009

Prevention of disease is through up-to-date immunization

Pat Dobbins

Hendry & Glades County Health Dept.

How many folks remember their parents or grandparents talking about whooping cough? It seems to be making a "come-back."

Vaccination for whooping cough became available in the 1940s and it should be part of your family's vaccination schedule.

Healthcare providers will make sure the children they care for are properly vaccinated for whooping cough which is medically known as pertussis.

New parents, grandparents and relatives should also get vaccinated before being around a baby.

Whooping cough is a highly contagious respiratory tract infection that can be a serious health threat, especially for infants. Family members are usually the ones who pass it along to infants.

A typical case of whooping cough starts with a cough and runny nose lasting for one-to-two weeks with cough gradually becoming more severe, followed by weeks-to-months of rapid coughing fits that sometimes end with a whooping sound.

Adults or older children in the homes could have mild symptoms, so they may not realize that they can pose a risk of transmission to other family members.

Whooping cough is contagious before the severe coughing starts and can still be contagious 2-3 weeks after the coughing first started.

"There have been six cases of whooping cough (pertussis) in Hendry and Glades Counties since January 2009 and recent reports are showing that numerous states are experiencing an increase in whooping cough," said Pat Dobbins, Administrator for the Hendry and Glades County Health Departments.

"It is important that parents discuss whooping cough immunization or booster with their healthcare providers."

Florida has 145 reported cases of whooping cough this year; 23 of those cases were reported in infants less than three months of age.

More than 900 cases of whooping cough have been reported in California this year, including five deaths in infants less than three months of age.

The risk of death from whooping cough is greatest in infants.

The best way to prevent whooping cough is through immunizations. Infants and children receive a series of 4-5 doses of DTaP, a diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus containing vaccine, with a booster at 10 to 11 years of age.

However, protection provided by the childhood series fades over time.

All persons age 11-64 can receive one dose of Tdap, which protects against whooping cough, tetanus, and diphtheria. The vaccination cannot cause pertussis disease.

For more information about whooping cough, talk to your healthcare provider or local health department.

Additional information about immunizations and whooping cough (pertussis) can be found at www.immunizeFlorida.com or www.cdc.gov/Features/Pertussis/.

Florida Department of Environmental Protection
Air Resource Section, South Office
Draft Minor Source Air Construction Permit
Project No. 0510033-001-AC
H & H Liquid Sludge Disposal, Inc.
Hendry County, Florida

Applicant: The applicant for this project is H & H Liquid Sludge Disposal, Inc. The applicant's authorized representative and mailing address is: Mr. Rick D. Hacht, H & H Liquid Sludge Disposal, inc., P.O. Box 390, Bradford, Florida, 32008

Facility Location: H & H Liquid Sludge Disposal, Inc. proposes to construct a new liquid sludge drying and disposal system to be located in Hendry County at 3010 Evercane Road in Clewiston, Florida.

Project: The project consists of a Sludge Dryer & Processing System that includes one(1) Sludge Fryer, two (2) propane/diesel burners (heaters), one (1) conditioner, two (2) tractor- engine driven mixers, one (1) metering screw, one(1) pelletizer, one(1) collection hopper, two (2) cyclones, one(1) inclined screw conveyor, four (4) transfer screw conveyors and one(1) 18,000 gal. diesel storage tank. All components are located outdoors.

Note: The mixers are driven by a power takeoff from the road certified, wheeled tractors. The tractors operate in a fixed (stationary) position while driving the mixers. The mixers are mobile, however are operated as fixed (stationary) units when connected to load into a collection hopper that feeds the dryer. The tractor engine power sources are considered as "insignificant emission" sources. The mixers are subject to the facility-wide visual emissions standard (20%VE), and also are included in the sum of the fugitive emissions for the facility. The tractor engines are NOT subject to the opacity rules, but can be included in the sum of the facility-wide fugitive emissions when required.

The facility is designed to receive 920 tons/day of biologically stabilized Class B municipal wastewater sludge operating continuously 24 hours/day. (The sludge is typically processed by the municipal wastewater utilities in anaerobic digesters, chemically conditioned with cationic polymers, dewatered in centrifuges, loaded into containers and trucked to the H & H facility.

The process includes receiving municipal liquid refuse waste sludge to a mixer, then flow to a metering screw, to a pelletizer, to a collection hopper, and gravity dump into an M2 Fryer. Flow from the dryer to a conditioner unit, then to mechanical screw conveyors to truck loading or portable tote bins. The dryer (20 mmbtu/hr) is rated at 10 tons/hr, and utilizes two (2) heaters which are primarily fueled by diesel with the option of using propane. Annual production is 177,840 tons. Annual fuel usage is approximately 1.165 Million gallons.

Fines (light particulate matter) is vented from the sludge dryer to two (2) high efficiency cyclones that drop the "fines" into mechanical screw conveyors that load portable tote bins for off-site processing or disposal.

Dried final product from the sludge dryer and conditioner is stored in static piles on the ground. A front-end loader loads open container trucks to distribute the class AA Biosolids to volume users. (The fugitive emissions from storage and truck loading are less than 5 tons of particulate matter (PM) per year.

This project is defined as a NESHAP classification and a Title V facility due to hazardous mercury (0.9328 tons/year) contained in the source emissions.

This project is also subject to the applicable federal provisions regarding air quality as established by the EPA in the following sections of Title 40 in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). This facility is classified as a Title V source, subject to National Emissions Standards for Hazardous Pollutants (NESHAP). Each emission unit is subject to Emission Guidelines (40 CFR Part 60), (40 CFR Part 61, Part 63) and 40 CFR Part 61 Subpart E - National Emissions Standards for Mercury, adapted by reference in 62-204.800(10)(b).3 F.A.C., and Standards of Performance for Volatile Organic Liquid Storage Vessels, 40 CFR Part 60, Subpart Kb.

Emissions include CO, NOx, SO2, PM, VOC and HAP (Mercury H114). There are no fugitive emissions at the dryer and fugitive emissions for the process facility do not exist or are insignificant and less than 5.0 tons/year, and kept to a minimum at all times. Potential emissions for mercury are 0.9305 tons/year.

Note 1: Facility-Wide or Multi-Unit emissions Cap for Mercury (H114), Allowable emissions 3,200 grams/24 hrs. or 7.05 lbs/24hrs. (Reference 40 CFR 61.52).

Note 2: There are no fugitive emissions at the dryer and fugitive emissions for the process facility do not exist or are insignificant and less than 5.0 tons/year, and kept to a minimum at all times.

Permitting Authority: Applications for air construction permits are subject to review in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 403, Florida Statutes (F.S.) and Chapters 62-4, 62-210 and 62-212 of the Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.). The proposed project is not exempt from air permitting requirements and an air permit is required to perform the proposed work. The Permitting Authority responsible for making a permit determination for this project is the Department of Environmental Protection's Air Resource Section in the South District Office. The Permitting Authority's physical address is: 2295 Victoria Avenue, Suite 364, Fort Myers, Florida 33902. The Permitting Authority's mailing address is: P.O. Box 2549, Fort Myers, Florida 33902-2549. The Permitting Authority's telephone number is 239/332/6975.

Project File: A complete project file is available for public inspection during the normal business hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday (except legal holidays), at the physical address indicated above for the Permitting Authority. The complete project file includes the Draft Permit, the Technical Evaluation and Preliminary Determination, the application and information submitted by the applicant (exclusive of confidential records under Section 403.111, F.S.). Interested persons may contact the Permitting Authority's project engineer for additional information at the address and phone numbers listed above. In addition, electronic copies of these documents are available on the following web site: <http://www.dep.state.fl.us/permit/air/emission/apds/default.asp>.

Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit: The Permitting Authority gives notice of its intent to issue an air construction permit to the applicant for the project described above. The applicant has provided reasonable assurance that operation of proposed equipment will not adversely impact air quality and that the project will comply with all appropriate provisions of Chapters 62-4, 62-204, 62-210, 62-212, 62-296 and 62-297, F.A.C. The Permitting Authority will issue a Final Permit in accordance with the conditions of the proposed Draft Permit unless a timely petition for an administrative hearing is filed under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S. or unless public comment received in accordance with this notice results in a different decision or a significant change of terms or conditions.

Comments: The Permitting Authority will accept written comments concerning the proposed Draft Permit for a period of 14 days from the date of publication of this Public Notice. Written comments must be received by the Permitting Authority by close of business (5:00 p.m.) on or before the end of the 14-day period. If written comments received result in a significant change to the Draft Permit, the Permitting Authority shall revise the Draft Permit and require, if applicable, another Public Notice. All comments filed will be made available for public inspection.

Petitions: A person whose substantial interests are affected by the proposed permit lifting decision may petition for an administrative hearing in accordance with Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed with (received by) the Department's Agency Clerk in the Office of General Counsel of the Department of Environmental Protection at 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station #35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000 (Telephone: 850/245-2241). Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), F.S. must be filed within 14 days of publication of this Public Notice or receipt of a written notice, whichever occurs first. Under Section 120.60(3), F.S., however, any person who asked the Permitting Authority for notice of agency action may file a petition within 14 days of receipt of that notice, regardless of the date of publication. A petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above, at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition within the appropriate time period shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., or to intervene in this proceeding and participate as a party to it. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the approval of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, F.A.C.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Permitting Authority's action is based must contain the following information: (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known; (b) The name, address and telephone number of the petitioner; the name address and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial rights will be affected by the agency determination; (c) A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the agency action or proposed decision; (d) A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so state; (e) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action; (f) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action including an explanation of how the alleged facts relate to the specific rules or statutes; and, (g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action the petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the agency's proposed action. A petition that does not dispute the material facts upon which the Permitting Authority's action is based shall state that no such facts are in dispute and otherwise shall contain the same information as set forth above, as required by Rule 28-106.301, F.A.C.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Permitting Authority's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this Public Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Permitting Authority on the application have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation: Mediation is not available for this proceeding.

Lake holding steady

Lake Okeechobee's water level is holding steady at around 14 feet, dropping this week just slightly to 13.97 feet. Heading into hurricane season, water managers prefer to have a slightly lower lake level with the threat of active stormy events looming.

NOTICE OF HEARING TO IMPOSE AND PROVIDE FOR COLLECTION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS IN THE BANYAN VILLAGE MUNICIPAL SERVICE BENEFIT UNIT

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Hendry County, Florida, will conduct a public hearing relating to the Banyan Village Municipal Service Benefit Unit, as shown above, and to impose special assessments against certain parcels of property located therein to fund a portion of the cost of potable water lines within the Municipal Service Benefit Unit, including the backbone system and distribution lines in excess of the costs assessed pursuant to Resolution No. 2005-28. The hearing will be held at 5:00 P.M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, on August 24, 2010, at the County Commission Meeting Room, 25 E. Hickpochee Avenue, LaBelle, Florida, for the purpose of receiving public comment on the imposition and collection of the assessments on the ad valorem tax bill, including the time period over which the capital assessments will be paid and the imposition of maintenance assessments. All affected real property owners have a right to appear at the hearing and to file written objections with the County Clerk anytime prior to the public hearing. If a person decides to appeal any decision made by the Board with respect to any matter considered at the hearing, such person will need a record of the proceedings and may need to ensure that a verbatim record is made, including the testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is to be made. In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, persons needing a special accommodation or an interpreter to participate in this proceeding should contact the County Administrator's office at (863) 675-5220, at least seven days prior to the date of the hearing.

The Assessments have been proposed to fund additional capital costs incurred to complete the construction of potable water lines which are attributable to all lots within the MSBU. The rate of assessment will be per parcel. A more specific description is set forth in the Initial Assessment Resolution adopted by the Board of County Commissioners on July 27, 2010. Copies of the Initial Assessment Resolution and the preliminary Assessment Roll are available for inspection at the Hendry County Administration Office, 165 South Lee Street, LaBelle, Florida between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The assessments will be collected on the ad valorem tax bill commencing with the tax bill to be mailed in November 2010, as authorized by Section 197.3632, Florida Statutes, over a period of 15 years, commencing with the tax bill mailed in November 2010. Failure to pay the assessments will cause a tax certificate to be issued against the real property which may result in a loss of title.

If you have any questions, please contact Hendry County Administration at (863) 675-5220, Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

NOAH promotes staff to serve Western County families

NOAH addresses needs for housing in Glades County

At its Board of Directors' retreat this summer, Neighbors Organized for Adequate Housing (NOAH) and its housing subsidiary, NOAH Development Inc., announced the promotions of Stacy Edwards and Jeanette Keaton-Plair.

Edwards was recently promoted to assistant manager and acting property manager of the 70-unit Glades Pioneer Terrace, replacing a retiring manager. She was previously a Safety Net Coordinator, serving as an advocate for NOAH residents.

If someone had a problem meeting rent or paying a utility bill, she would seek out agencies to help them.

In her new role, she immediately began cleaning house -- literally.

She tackled an ongoing problem with piles of trash on the Glades Pioneer Terrace property by bringing in a 20-foot roll-away receptacle and instructing residents to use it for their garbage.

Submitted photo
Stacy Edwards promoted because of her dedication to the community.

She then started working with the city until she got the property on the city's regular trash collection schedule. The residents, she said, are "overjoyed" about that.

"They needed that like yesterday," Edwards said. "That pile of trash was an eyesore to them, to the board members when they were over there, to everybody.

One of the residents told me, 'I don't care what anybody says, you're working; you're getting the job done,'" Edwards said.

She also ordered parking permits for all of the residents and created "Orientation Portfolios" for the property listing available services and amenities.

She continues to work with the maintenance department to get all of the units ready for occupancy and have new residents move in.

Keaton-Plair, who in the past supervised

NOAH's mentor program, was promoted to NOAH Development Inc.'s Housing Manager for Covenant Villas, the 144-unit complex in Belle Glade, NOAH's largest housing complex.

She went through training for Certified Housing Manager and passed the course last month.

With the assistance of Diana Anderson, she has worked very hard to get the complex to full capacity. Two residents meetings have been held, and they completed inspections of 90 percent of the units by mid-June.

"We are presently moving forward with renovations and much needed repairs," she said.

About NOAH

Established in 1983 to address the need for adequate, safe housing in the Glades, NOAH provides residential, social and family and child development services for local residents.

NOAH's mission is to improve housing in the Glades area of Palm Beach County, which includes Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay; to empower disadvantaged individuals toward self-help and self-sufficiency; and to build bridges among the diverse racial, ethnic and economic groups. Its main offices are located at 601 Covenant Drive in Belle Glade. Visit www.noahark.org.

Church studies 'Purpose Driven Life'

Study the five purposes for your lives

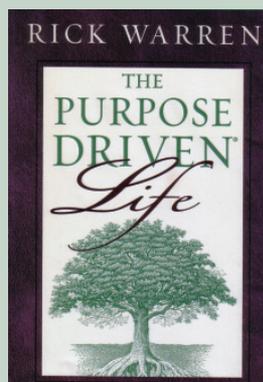

According to his web site, Rick Warren, author of The Purpose Driven Life, states that "the most basic questions everyone faces in life are, 'Why am I here?' and 'What is my purpose?'"

Warren further says that the starting place to finding the answers is not to look within, but to look toward God and his eternal purposes for each life.

This book illustrates a lifestyle for Christians living in the 21st century based on eternal purposes, not cultural values.

Using biblical stories and letting the Bible speak for itself, Warren clearly explains God's five purposes for each of us:

• We were planned for God's pleasure, so your first purpose is to offer real worship.

• We were formed for God's family, so your second purpose is to enjoy real fellowship.

• We were created to become like Christ, so your third purpose is to learn real discipleship.

• We were shaped for serving God, so your fourth purpose is to practice real ministry.

• We were made for a mission, so your fifth purpose is to live out real evangelism.

The book was written so that small groups could study it together.

Pastor Rod Ruby of the Lake Harbor Community Methodist Church (29 Corkscrew Blvd., Lake Harbor) and his adult education class are studying this book during their Sunday School classes at 10 a.m.

Everyone is invited to attend.

It's still early in the study time for anyone to attend; they are only on chapter 2.
