Suspect Uses Revolver to Address Relationship Revelation

Victim: Former lover became infuriated, shot him in the face

BY JOSE JESUS ZARAGOZA
The Sun

A man who was shot in the face last month told investigators it happened after people found out he and the suspect were dating.

The result of the reported lovers' spat carried potentially deadly consequences when one of the men decided to address the disagreement with a firearm.

The incident happened on Sunday, May 13, at approximately 3 a.m. in Belle Glade, according to a probable cause affidavit released by the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office.

The victim, Henry Green, 34, said he and the suspect, Reginald McNeal, 25, had previously been involved in an intimate relationship in 2011. The relationship apparently ended when McNeal started seeing a female.

The issue came to a head on the day of the shooting when, after the

Harvard Graduate Moves to Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE'S HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE IS YOUNG WOMAN'S PREFERRED INTERNSHIP PROJECT

Tia Ray graduated from Harvard less than a month ago. On Tuesday, she arrived, suitcases and all, to her new home in Belle Glade.

The young woman will participate in an internship program here to further her studies in the field of anthropology.

Belle Glade, and the continually unraveling story it tells through the discovery of artifacts that once belonged to former cultures, was the student's primary pick out of more than a dozen sites around the country. Ms. Ray will be staying on Torry Island in Belle Glade while she participates in a research project that aims to further catalogue the rich history of the area.

The Belle Glade internship project was one of many hosted by the Cultural Diversity Internship Program of the National Park Service this year.

Other sites included the Cane River Creole National Historical Park in Louisiana, Flagstaff Area National Monu-

After 3rd Grade FCAT Results, 4th through 8th Grade Scores in

BY JESSICA SCHULTZ
The Sun

In last week's edition of The Sun, the achievements of third graders in Palm Beach County were analyzed. The interesting aspect of those scores included the fact that low-scorers (those students receiving a score of 1 on their reading) were being recommended to be held back to address learning shortfalls.

This week, scores relating to grades four through eight were released, providing a keener insight into how local students fared on the Math and Science portions of their exams.

The FCAT 2.0 is just the beginning of a new generation of increasingly challenging academic assessments. It is a bridge -- so to speak -- preparing students for the Common Core State Standards, which all Florida schools are transitioning to. These will demand even more exacting performances of students.

This standardized test is based on performance throughout the nation. It will move the state toward a more uniform assessment test. Florida students will be tested with the same expectations and benchmarks as 45 other U.S. states and three territories.

While steadily raising the bar, school administrators, staff, and students are beginning to rise to meet the challenge, just as they have for the 2012 FCAT 2.0. Florida students grades four through eight have met and even exceeded the predictions of the Florida Department of Education on their performance, according to school state officials. Although with the new FCAT 2.0 grading system, scores were expected to drop.

In Palm Beach County, the performance is as follows:

(Level 1: Students at this level demonstrate an inadequate level of

Inland Birding Fun: Loggerhead Shrike (LOSH)

BY MARGARET ENGLAND
Hendry-Glades Audubon

The Loggerhead Shrike is a songbird that hunts like a small hawk and is known locally as the "Butcherbird." The Shrike doesn't have the strong feet and talons of a raptor, but is known to scan for prey from perches.

It uses its stout black hooked bill to kill prey, which it impales on a barbed wire fence or pointed snag so that it can be torn apart. These birds live and breed in Florida, but their numbers are declining at about five percent annually throughout the United States (Florida Breeding Bird Atlas).

This robin-sized bird has a large muscular head, a black mask that extends across the forehead, and a medium-long black tail with white outer feathers. Adults have a gray back, white throat, and whitish chest. Wings are black with a white patch. Juveniles are a duller shade of gray than the adults, and have faint bars on the chest and back. The Shrike's song is made up of short trills or clear notes with their call being a series of harsh "bzeek, bzeek" screeching notes. Loggerhead Shrike live in open grasslands where there are scattered trees and shrubs. Shrikes often use power lines and fence posts as hunting perches. Their diet consists of insects, amphibians, small reptiles, small mammals, and birds.

Breeding females begin laying eggs in February or March which is earlier than most songbirds. They can raise two or three broods per season.

Their bulky nest of sticks and twigs is usually built in the base of dense foliage found in trees or bushes. The nest is lined with grasses and animal hair where the female lays five to six grayish-buff eggs, which are incubated for 15 to 17 days. The young remain in the nest for 16 to 20 days. They are fed by their parents for four to six weeks after fledging.

Information about the Loggerhead Shrike and other breeding birds in Florida is available on the FWC's Florida Breeding Bird Atlas at <http://legacy.myfwc.com/bba/species.asp>. The Florida Breeding Bird Atlas is a grid-based survey of the bird species breeding in Florida. The grid is based on U.S. Geological Survey 7.5 minute topographic quadrangles (Quads) and each Quad is broken into six survey Blocks of 11 square miles.

Hendry-Glades Audubon has joined the effort to help recruit volunteers for Zone 9 in Hendry and Glades County.

Observations are reported to USGS Atlas Explorer website or on a checklist that is available through Hendry-Glades Audubon. If you are interested in participating in the Florida Breeding Bird Surveys information contact is available at Florida Ornithological Society, www.fosbirds.org/bba2news. Hendry-Glades Audubon volunteers will be collecting data at the 11 square mile Little Cypress Block No. 6.

You are invited to join Hendry-Glades Audubon volunteers for free birding trips to STA5 located 20 miles south of Clewiston on June 16, July 14 or Aug. 18. For reservations for these trips contact: Margaret England sta5birding@embarqmail.com or call 863-674-0695 or 863-517-0202.

2011 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report South Shore Water Association/City of Clewiston
Este informe contiene informacion muy importante sobre agua de beber. Traduzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.
We are very pleased to provide you with this year's Annual Quality Water Report. We want to keep you informed about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. This report is provided by pursuant to Federal and State drinking water requirements. We are pleased to report that our drinking water exceeds all federal and state requirements. Your water source is City of Clewiston (CO) Water Treatment Plant, which draws water from the Floridan Aquifer. After the RO process, the water is disinfected and fluoride is added to the drinking water. If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, or want to obtain a copy of this report, please contact the office at (863) 983-2323. South Shore Water Association routinely monitors for contaminants in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws, rules and regulations. Except where indicated otherwise, this report is based on the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1 to December 31, 2011. Data obtained before January 1, 2011, and presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with the laws, rules, and regulations.
The FDEP conducted a SWAPP assessment of this water system in 2011. The assessment found 3 petroleum storage tanks as possible contamination sources. The concern level is moderate. The assessment results are available on the FDEP Source Water Assessment and Protection Program website at www.dep.state.fl.us/swapp .
The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.
Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses. Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can, also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration's FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health.
Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.
Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants are particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
In this table you may find unfamiliar terms and abbreviations. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:
Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements, which a water system must follow.
Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
Maximum residual disinfectant level or MRDL: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
Maximum residual disinfectant level goal or MRDLG: The level of drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
Parts per million (ppm) or Micrograms per liter (mg/L): one part by weight of analyte to 1 million parts by weight of the water sample.
Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter (mg/L): one part by weight of analyte to 1 billion parts by weight of the water sample.
Procedures per liter (PPL): measure of radioactivity in water.
If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. South Shore is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead .

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Pioneer Park Elementary

We would like to close out our 2012 year by thanking The Sun newspaper for generously allowing the Glades schools to share their news with the community.

To all of the editors and staff of The Sun news, you guys are the greatest! Thank you! We would also like to thank our SAC members, parents, community stakeholders, and our awesome students for a wonderful year! Please keep checking The Sun for school news updates throughout the summer and for author visits in our media center.

We will keep you updated on the Summer Slide and the start-up of our SIP committee, parents, we want you on board! Pioneer Park Sugar Bears, you rock! Have fun this summer and remember to Read! Read! Read!

Glades Central

Close Reading at Glades Central

Summer reading enrichment for incoming freshman through 12th grade starting on Monday, June 11 to 21, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Breakfast and lunch will be served daily. Transportation will not be provided.

Gove Elementary

Perfect Attendance Recognition Program

Congratulations to all of the students who received the "Perfect Attendance" Award for the 2012 school year. The students were recognized on May 30 for their attendance accomplishments and treated to a movie and snack following the recognition program.

We thank Dr. Riker, Guidance Counselor, for overseeing the program. Special thanks to PTO for providing the snacks.

Summer Programs for Students

Gove Elementary students will have the opportunity to participate in various summer programs to prevent the "summer slide" in reading and math. One program, sponsored by the Pew Foundation, will follow the theme of "Read around the World".

The purpose of this project is to prevent the summer slide by challenging the students to maintain or increase their current reading level as measured by the district and state assessments.

Research reveals that students who do not read over the summer months lose ground and often spend the beginning of the school year trying to regain previous end of year reading levels. Gove plans to provide students with access to as many books as possible during the summer months.

The students will also have access to the Media Center on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 9 and 11 a.m. to exchange books and to log their reading time as the students will also participate in the Scholastic Read for the World Reading Challenge.

This program runs from June 11 through Aug. 13. The second program, Destination / Riverdeep Summer Program, runs from May 28th through July 20th. This program is a computerized reading and math program which the students can access from any computer with internet access.

Parents received orientation on all of the summer programs during the last parent training session. Students will be attending a "Bon Voyage" party on Tuesday, June 5, where the programs will be explained and the books will be distributed.

What is Norovirus?

BY PAT DOBBINS

Hendry/Glades Health Departments

Norovirus is commonly called the “stomach flu.” Noroviruses are found in the stool or vomit of infected people. Norovirus is highly contagious and may cause vomiting, diarrhea, and stomach cramps.

Symptoms usually start within 24 to 48 hours and most people begin to feel better within one or two days and have no long-term health effects.

People can become infected with the virus in several ways including:

- Touching surfaces or objects contaminated with the virus, and then placing their hands in their mouth.
- Eating food or drinking liquids that have been contaminated with the virus (usually from the food handler not washing their hands properly).
- Having direct contact with another person who is infected and showing symptoms (caring for someone who is infected, sharing food or eating utensils). According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, norovirus causes 23 million illnesses per year.

As with many infections, frequent and thorough hand washing is the key to preventing the spread. This simple step can help our communities stay healthy. You can decrease your chance of coming in contact with noroviruses by following these preventive steps: Wash hands frequently (especially after going to the bathroom, changing diapers, before eating, and prior to preparing food). Carefully wash fruits and vegetables, and cook foods completely before eating them. Clean and disinfect contaminated surfaces immediately after an episode of illness by using bleach-based household cleaners. Immediately remove and wash clothing or linens that may be contaminated with the virus after an episode of illness (use hot water and soap). Flush or discard any vomit and/or stool in the toilet and make sure the surrounding area is kept clean. People who have symptoms of vomiting or diarrhea should not prepare food until they are completely free of symptoms and for at least three days after all symptoms are gone. Any foods that may have been contaminated by an ill person should be thrown away.

For additional information, you can visit www.cdc.gov and look up “Norovirus Infection” or talk with your health care provider.

Statewide Hurricane Exercise Simulates Emergency Response

Staff members from the Hendry and Glades County Health Departments became better prepared for disasters by participating in the 2012 Statewide Hurricane Exercise.

Robert Kosiba, Community Assistance Consultant and Region 6 Planning and Special Needs Consultant developed and conducted the drill. The drill consisted of a simulated activation and set up of the Special Needs Shelter and an exercise replicating what it would be like to accept more than 20 clients into the shelter.

Partnering response agencies participated in the drill, such as Hendry and Glades Counties' Emergency Management, Hendry County EMS, and the Glades County Sheriff's Office.

Additionally, nursing students from Gulf Coast University also participated in the drill.

This drill helped to exercise the set up and management of a special needs shelter and some of the challenges that could arise before, during, and after a storm.

Another learning experience included Health Department staff members filling the roles as Emergency Support for Health and Medical. They operated out of each Emergency Operations Center in Hendry and Glades counties.

“We are pleased to have such close relationships within our communities of Hendry and Glades Counties. We realize that in rural areas such as ours, it will take teamwork for emergency response to be successful,” said Administrator, Patricia Dobbins. “It is so important that the responders, who work together, also train together.”

ments in Arizona, and the Gateway National Recreation Area in New York, among others. The Belle Glade project is the only one out of the 14 sites that is not a federally run or protected site; most of the sites are located in national park areas.

Coordinating members of the local program reported that Ms. Ray was selected out of a pool of approximately 30 applicants.

As the top selection, she was required to come down to Belle Glade for the duration of the research project. The Belle Glade project was actually listed by Ms. Ray as her top choice; the selection committee returned the favor by choosing her as their intern.

Ms. Ray's schedule will be full. From now until August, she will be working with artifacts from a 1977 excavation of a mound at the Stein farm in Chosen.

The collection is largely uncategorized and not yet catalogued by item. It is the largest collection of the Belle Glade Culture artifacts in any museum.

According to Warner Hutchinson, Ms. Ray will be working on integrating items from the collection into the local museum's "We Were Here: We the People of the Belle Glade Culture Welcomed You" Florida 500 exhibit. It will be a traveling exhibit that will be featured from Kissimmee to Moore Haven to Stuart in 2013.

The Belle Glade Culture received its name from the Chosen site mound in the early 1930s, under Smithsonian Institute direction.

Ms. Ray is no stranger to the field of anthropological research, having majored in the field at Harvard. While a student there, Ms. Ray was the president of Native Americans at Harvard College (NAHC), a student organization on two saw each other at a bar earlier that night, McNeal reportedly confronted Green, demanding to know why Green had told people the two had been involved in a romantic relationship.

McNeal allegedly waited until Green walked home to confront him, and when Green denied the accusation, the suspect reportedly revealed a small revolver. Green said he cannot remember anything after that — he blacked out.

When he came to, Green remembers getting up from the ground and feeling a pain in his face. Walking into his bathroom, he noticed he was bleeding from his face and had blood on his shirt. Incredibly, he simply took off his shirt and went off to bed.

Green's mother called him and he told her he was not feeling well. His mother arrived and took him to Lakeside Medical Center in Belle Glade, where doctors determined that Green had been shot in the face. He was taken to St. Mary's Medical Center, where he underwent surgery for the injury.

Green was later able to identify McNeal as his shooter from a photographic line up. According to the report, Green managed to pick out McNeal "without hesitation" as the person who tried to kill him.

McNeal was arrested June 1, charged with attempted second degree murder with a firearm.

UF Researchers Uncover Secret Recipe from Nature for a Great Tasting Tomato

Supermarket tomatoes that taste like heirloom tomatoes are closer to reaching grocery aisles as a result of a discovery from the University of Florida.

A team of researchers, including members of UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, have identified the chemicals inside heirloom tomatoes that make people enjoy their taste, and the discovery is expected to enable them to create better-tasting tomatoes for the commercial market.

Heirloom tomatoes are old varieties not bred for large-scale production and prized for their true tomato taste; something that many believe has been lost in commercial tomatoes. The research is detailed online in the May 24 issue of Current Biology.

"A big problem with the modern, commercial tomato is that growers are not paid to produce a tomato that tastes good," said Harry Klee, an eminent scholar and professor in the UF/IFAS horticultural sciences department.

"They are paid purely on how many pounds of tomatoes they put into boxes."

Florida is a top producer of fresh tomatoes, and the state's crop for 2010-2011 was valued at $431 million.

To make the discovery, Klee and a team of researchers determined the chemical components of nearly 100 tomato varieties, including many heirlooms; calculated the levels present of each chemical identified; and then subjected the tomatoes to taste tests. The taste tests were comprised of 13 panels of 100 people who rated each tomato's taste.

The researchers then statistically analyzed their data to ascertain the chemicals that were most abundant in tomatoes people liked the most and the least.

The research showed that some chemicals that scientists previously thought were important weren't and some they thought weren't, were.

For example, cis-3-hexenal had long been considered to be important to tomato taste, mostly because it is so abundant in many tomatoes.

However, it has zero correlation to what people like, Klee said.

On the other hand, geranial, which was considered less important, correlated strongly with the highest-rated tomatoes and enhanced sweetness, the research showed.

"We really have to rethink the way that we look at what is the chemistry of flavor," Klee

The project is also looking at transferring the enjoyable taste of heirlooms into supermarket tomatoes.

Klee's research has begun focusing on ways to transfer the chemicals important to taste into commercial tomato varieties that produce higher yields and have better disease resistance than heirlooms.

Klee said during the taste panels, administered by Charles Sims, chairman of the UF/IFAS food science and human nutrition department, several heirloom varieties received high scores.

These included the cherry tomatoes Cherry Roma and Maglia Rosa; the somewhat medium-sized Ailsa Craig and the large German Queen tomato. These heirlooms are excellent candidates for transfer of good flavor into commercial varieties, Klee said.

Some of the chemicals uncovered during the research also have potential applications outside of tomato breeding, said team member Linda Bartoshuk, Bushnell Professor in the UF College of Dentistry and director of human research at UF's Center for Smell and Taste.

"Using statistical analysis, we found volatile chemicals that are contributing to sweet independent of sugar," Bartoshuk said.

This could be important to the food industry, she said, as foods, such as fruit juices, can be made to taste sweeter without added sugar or artificial sweeteners. UF has applied for a patent on the chemicals.

Eating tomatoes can be part of a healthy lifestyle as they are high in vitamins C and A; are a good source of potassium; contain no cholesterol or fat; have few calories and sodium; and are high in the antioxidant lycopene.

The research was funded by the National Science Foundation, IFAS and Seminis Vegetable Seeds Inc.

Pahokee PAL Boxer Goes to National Junior Olympics

One day in 2008, a 12-year-old young man observed a Palm Beach County Sheriff's Deputy making kids run laps up and down the Lake Okeechobee Marina levy. The young man was named Trent Laidler a lifelong resident of Pahokee. He told the Deputy/Coach Mike LeStrange that he could out run and work harder than any other kid in his boxing program. He told LeStrange "just watch." LeStrange said "upon our initial meeting, Trent wanted me to take notice of him. Well, he got his wish, and I observed a kid who was determined to prove his point with action. He ran more laps than the other kids, and I saw he had the desire to compete. Needless to say, I gave him an application and invited him to the boxing gym. Laidler started training the next day" he said.

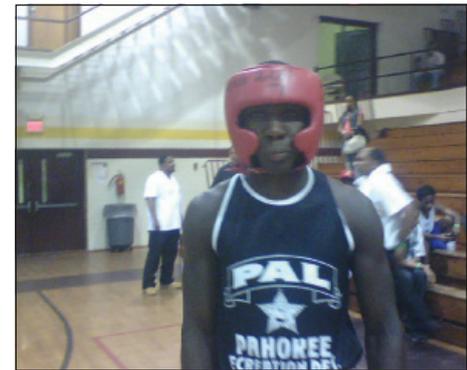

The PBSO PAL in cooperation with the Pahokee Parks and Recreation Department had it's first boxing competition that year. It was at this venue that Laidler had his first boxing match at 99 lbs against Fabian Carrinza. Laidler won by referee stops contest in the second round. The recorded match shows Laidler getting his opponent in trouble with a barrage of punches, and not letting up until the referee rescued the defeated boxer. This was the start of Laidler's amateur boxing career.

Now Laidler is 16 years old and boxes in the 154 lbs class. Since May of 2012 he has beaten Juan Lopez in Ft. Lauderdale. He then traveled to Lumberton North Carolina and won against Stefan Hardy and Laquan Smith to become the Regional Junior Olympics Champion. Last weekend he won against Anthony Santiago at the Port St. Lucie Police Athletic League. He is now going to compete in the United States Jr. Olympics in Mobile Alabama in his quest to become the nation's best 16 year old 154 lbs boxer later this month.

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office uses the PAL boxing program as a juvenile crime prevention tool as does other law enforcement agencies around the country. Deputy LeStrange is the volunteer coach and the youths are supported through the Law Enforcement Trust Fund at no cost to the tax payer.

The Deputy said his primary concern is not how many boxing matches his boxers can win, but ensuring they are law abiding, ethical people who are doing what is right. PAL boxing is only a tool to get the kids off the streets and under constructive caring supervision. He added "with fewer kids on the streets, we will have a reduction in crime. With the reduction in crime, the community is safer, and less time and money is spent arresting, prosecuting, and incarcerating kids. In order for crime to decrease in the future, we have to help kids today".

The PBSO PAL will be hosting the Florida Youth Silver Gloves statewide boxing championship in December at the Royal Palm Beach Recreation Center.

Pahokee's 12 year old Michael Guerrier is a two time state boxing champion, and is currently ranked 3rd in the United States. For more on the Police Athletic League boxing program, google "PBSO guiding young champion"

FDA Denies Petition to Rename High Fructose Corn Syrup

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) today denied a Corn Refiners Association (CRA) petition to rename high-fructose corn syrup "corn sugar," saying the action would only serve to confuse U.S. consumers and could even pose a health risk to those suffering from fructose intolerance.

The FDA ruling, issued in a letter to Corn Refiners Association President Audrae Erickson following 20 months of review, rejected all three arguments made in the CRA's petition, which was filed on September 14, 2010. The CRA had asked the FDA to implement a name change after launching a multi-million dollar advertising and marketing campaign that argued that sugar and HFCS were identical.

Those actions set off more than a year of litigation initiated by U.S. sugar farmers and refiners, who are trying to stop the CRA's campaign. That lawsuit is pending in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles.

"The FDA's ruling represents a victory for American consumers," said Dan Callister, an attorney for the plaintiffs in the ongoing litigation. "It reaffirms what most consumer advocates, health experts and policy officials have been saying all along: only sugar is sugar. HFCS is not sugar. The next step is for the federal court to end the CRA's misleading propaganda campaign."

According to the FDA letter announcing its denial of the petition, "the use of the term 'sugar' to describe HFCS, a product that is a syrup, would not accurately identify or describe the basic nature of the food or its characterizing properties."

Second, the FDA stated, "We are not persuaded by the arguments in the petition that consumers do not associate 'corn sugar' with dextrose. The term 'corn sugar' has been used to describe dextrose for over 30 years."

The FDA decision went on to say that granting the CRA petition could endanger consumer health. "Corn sugar has been known to be an allowed ingredient for individuals with hereditary fructose intolerance or fructose malabsorption, who have been advised to avoid ingredients that contain fructose," Michael M. Landa, Director of the FDA's Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition, said in the letter to Erickson.

"Because such individuals have associated 'corn sugar' to be an acceptable ingredient to their health when 'high-fructose corn syrup' is not, changing the name for HFCS to 'corn sugar' could put these individuals at risk and pose a public health concern."

Small Gains in the Face of Big Losses: Path to Victory

BY REV. SAM S. THOMAS, PH. D.+
Saint Martin's Church

A saying from an Arabian source goes: "It is better to light one small candle than curse the darkness. Our Church Women have as a part of their motto: "I cannot do everything but I can do something." Among the clergy, my colleagues have stated that we need to "choose our battles wisely," a clerical aphorism similar to the military idea of "getting the biggest bang for the buck." One of the closing chapters of the Gospel of Saint John (Chapter 20;vss 30-31) concludes that "Jesus did many other miraculous signs in the presence of His disciples which are not recorded in this book. But these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in His name." This says "What we have is not everything, but we have enough." In other words: "Do what you can, it will be sufficient." The Lord advised followers to "count the cost" of their actions (Luke 14:28ff), citing examples of building a tower or going to war: make sure to accomplish what you set out to do. At one point, Jesus incited His accusers who wanted to seize Him. Scriptures tell us "But He escaped from their grasp (John 10:39)." The confrontation had gone on long enough; nothing more could be accomplished by violence, it was time to end it and Jesus did so by "escaping." This was not His choice on Good Friday; it was to face, to sacrifice, to be crucified. Jesus chose when to confront by seeking to gain what He set out to gain; His ultimate reasons for coming into the world would be gained and there He proclaimed "It is finished." Personally, my experience is that people do not like to sacrifice what they believe in, don't like to compromise with doing wrong, like to avoid being participants in something they do not agree in doing. Nevertheless, they justify, rationalize, give excuses, avoid the topic - and understandably so. Maybe a job is at stake, maybe a marriage with children is involved, maybe the issue will bring repercussions. I remember one clergyman saying "It isn't that I can't be influenced, it's just that some of the people who would like to influence my opinions can't do it." He took his satisfaction in standing his ground where it might make a difference, maybe only in some small area, but there would be gain and there would be something that pointed to the ultimate triumph of belief over compromise. A psychiatrist was trying to help a man overcome temptation to cheat on his wife. The marriage was not going well; he succumbed to the temptations. He explained what seemed to inevitably happen; disappointments and frustrations, knowing someone who would be sympathetic, seeking some understanding and solace, followed by lots of guilt and recriminations. The doctor asked about the events that led up to the encounters that were troubling him. The man said he would go over after work, have a few drinks, relax, get more involved than intended. The doctor asked how he gained entrance to the apartment and the man said "Well, I ring the doorbell." The reply came "Do you mean that nothing would transpire, no guilt no recriminations, no problems at home ... none of these things would occur if you didn't ring that doorbell?" The man thought and said, "I guess you're right." He reported a few days afterward that he had gone to the apartment, looked at the doorbell and stood there, then reflected and did not ring it, going home instead. A problem was avoided by making a small gain to tackle a big issue, by seeing the good that could come from one small step. There's a message there for all of us: at times we may not like what we're doing, we may be unhappy with much of what is going on, we may not be able to do everything, but we can do something. That's a good thought to hold!

Relational Life Lessons

BY PASTOR JOHN HICKS
First United Methodist Church

One night Taylor watched a huge female turtle heave herself up the beach to dig her nest and lay eggs into the sand. The next day Taylor found tracks that the female turtle had made in the sand heading towards the sand dunes instead of back out to sea. Taylor found the turtle exhausted and all but baked. After pouring water on her and covering her with seaweed, Taylor fetched a park ranger. The ranger went to the spot in his jeep, flipped the turtle over on her back, wrapped tire chains around her front legs, and took off, dragging the turtle over the dunes and down onto the beach. At the ocean's edge, he unhooked her and turned her right side up again.

The poor turtle lay motionless in the surf as the water lapped at her body. As a large wave broke over her, she lifted her head slightly, moving her back legs as she did, until one of the waves made her light enough to find a foothold and push off back into the safety of the water. Watching her swim slowly away and remembering her nightmare ride through the dunes, Taylor noted that it's sometimes hard to tell whether you're being harmed or helped by the hands that turn your world upside down.

It reminds me of a story about a little bird who didn't fly south soon enough for the winter. It wound up on the ground, slowly freezing to death. When things looked really dim, a cow happened by and dropped a big warm cow pie on the little bird. The warmth of the cow pie revived the little bird, who felt so good he stuck his head out and began to sing. A fox coming by heard the singing and snatched the little bird up and swallowed him. The moral of the story is that everyone who dumps on you isn't necessarily your enemy, and everyone who pulls you out of a crappy situation isn't necessarily your friend. Let's face it; friends make life a lot more fun. I can't even imagine where I would be today were it not for some close friends who have given me a heart full of joy. We were made to be in relationship, and relationships are important, but they aren't always easy. We live in a wonderful world, but sometimes things happen. Sometimes it's hard to tell if people are helping or hurting us when our world is turned upside down, and it's true that everyone who pulls us out of a difficult situation isn't always doing the best thing for us.

The reality is we can't change our past and we can't change that people act a certain way and we can't change the unavoidable. What we can control and shape however, is our attitude in which we face what happens. There's an element of truth in Charles Swindoll's statement, "Life is 10 percent what happens to you and 90 percent how you react to it." Our perspective on what happens to us will determine how successful we are in handling them. What we can do is observe, learn, and pass on to others what we have learned through the school of life. Five of my favorites include: 1) Make peace with your past so it won't screw up the present. 2) Life is too short to waste time hating anyone. 3) Forgive everyone everything. 4) Time heals almost everything. Give time time. 5) God loves you because of who God is, not because of anything you did or didn't do.

"Blessed is the person who finds wisdom, the one who gains understanding, for the reward is more profitable than silver and yields better returns than gold." (Proverbs 3:13-14)

Abernathy Promoted to Colonel

Tony Abernathy

Local family ties proud of stepson

Tony Abernathy, whose military career spans two decades, was recently promoted to colonel in the United States Air Force, reports his family. Col. Abernathy prepares for reassignment to South Korea, where he will resume flying the F-16.

The colonel is originally from Miami, but has spent many months in Clewiston with his father, Bill Abernathy. They have many friends in the Clewiston and LaBelle area.

Col. Abernathy has enjoyed a full career in the military. He graduated from Columbus High School in Miami and later attended Auburn University, where he joined the ROTC and played soccer. There, he met Tracy Holcomb. The two later married and now have three daughters.

Tony entered the air force after graduating from Auburn, working initially as a maintenance officer on the AWACs (radar surveillance aircraft) in Oklahoma City, Okla. Tony entered pilot training and upon completing it was assigned to fly the F-16 fighter. He has now flown the aircraft for 20 years and has accumulated several hundred combat hours from assignments around the world.

While stationed in Oklahoma at Tinker Air Force Base he obtained his first masters degree and is now completing his second masters at the prestigious U.S. Military's Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala.

Throughout his career, Tony has held several different positions in addition to his role as a fighter pilot. He was a safety officer at an air force base in Northern Japan, and held the title of flying executive officer for commander of Luke Air Force Base. His next assignment will be as deputy group commander at an air force base in South Korea.

Barbara Ridgdill, wife of Bill Abernathy, said her stepson was in great spirits after visiting with him and his family before his transfer to South Korea.

"Tony has had a great career, which has been a great source of pride for me and his biological parents, but we are most proud of him for the kind of Christian man, husband, and father that he is," said Mrs. Ridgdill.

The existing facility consists of two citrus peel dryers, two pellet coolers and four boilers. The emissions units operate on fuel oil, ethanol, d-limonene and cold-pressed oil. The facility has the potential to emit the following pollutants: carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxide, particulate matter, sulfur dioxide, volatile organic pollutants, methanol and other hazardous air pollutants. The facility is subject to Title 40 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 60 Subpart A (General Provisions), Subpart Dc (Standards of Performance for Small Industrial-Commercial-Institutional Steam Generating Units) and Subpart XIII (Standards of Performance for Stationary Compression Ignition Internal Combustion Engines). The complete project file includes the draft/proposed permit, the statement of basis, the application, and the information submitted by the applicant, exclusive of confidential records under Section 403.111, F.S. Interested persons may view the draft permit by visiting the following website: http://www.dep.state.fl.us/air/emissions/apps/default.asp and entering the permit number shown above. Interested persons may contact the Permitting Authority's project review engineer for additional information at the address or phone number listed above.

Notice of Intent to Issue Permit: The Permitting Authority gives notice of its intent to issue a draft/proposed Title V air operation permit renewal to the applicant for the project described above. The applicant has provided reasonable assurance that continued operation of the existing equipment will not adversely impact air quality and that the project will comply with all appropriate provisions of Chapters 62-4, 62-204, 62-210, 62-212, 62-213, 62-296 and 62-297, F.A.C. The Permitting Authority will issue a final permit in accordance with the conditions of the draft/proposed permit unless a response received in accordance with the following procedures results in a different decision or a significant change of terms or conditions.

Comments: The Permitting Authority will accept written comments concerning the draft/proposed Title V air operation permit to a period of 30 days from the date of publication of the Public Notice. Written comments to be received by the close of business (5:00 p.m.), on or before the end of this 30-day period by the Permitting Authority at the above address. As part of his or her comments, any person may also request that the Permitting Authority hold a public meeting on this permitting action. If the Permitting Authority determines there is sufficient interest for a public meeting, it will publish notice of the time, date, and location in the Florida Administrative Weekly (FAW). If a public meeting is requested within the 30-day comment period and conducted by the Permitting Authority, any oral and written comments received during the public meeting will also be considered by the Permitting Authority. If timely received written comments or comments received at a public meeting result in a significant change to the draft/proposed permit, the Permitting Authority shall issue a revised draft/proposed permit and require, if applicable, another Public Notice. All comments filed will be made available for public inspection. For additional information, contact the Permitting Authority at the above address or phone number.

Petitions: A person whose substantial interests are affected by the proposed permitting decision may petition for an administrative hearing in accordance with Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed with (received by) the Department's Agency Clerk in the Office of General Counsel of the Department of Environmental Protection, 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, Mail Station #35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000. Petitions filed by the applicant or any of the parties listed below must be filed within 14 days of receipt of this Written Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit. Petitions filed by any persons other than those entitled to written notice under Section 120.60(3), F.S., must be filed within 14 days of publication of the attached Public Notice or within 14 days of receipt of this Written Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit, whichever occurs first. Under Section 120.60(3), F.S., however, any person who asked the Permitting Authority for notice of agency action may file a petition within 14 days of receipt of that notice, regardless of the date of publication. A petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above, at the time of filing. The failure of any person to file a petition within the appropriate time period shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., or to intervene in this proceeding and participate as a party to it. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the approval of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, F.A.C.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Permitting Authority's action is based must contain the following information: (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known; (b) The name, address and telephone number of the petitioner; the name address and telephone number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and an explanation of how the petitioner's substantial rights will be affected by the agency determination; (c) A statement of when and how the petitioner received notice of the agency action or proposed decision; (d) A statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate; (e) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action; (f) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action including an explanation of how the alleged facts relate to the specific rules or statutes; and, (g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action the petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the agency's proposed action. A petition that does not dispute the material facts upon which the Permitting Authority's action is based shall state that no such facts are in dispute and otherwise shall contain the same information as set forth above, as required by Rule 28-106.301, F.A.C.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Permitting Authority's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this Public Notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Permitting Authority on the application have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation: Mediation is not available for this proceeding. EPA Review: EPA has agreed to treat the draft/proposed Title V air operation permit as a proposed Title V air operation permit and to participate in its 45-day review provided by the law and regulations concurrently with the public comment period, provided that the applicant also transmits an electronic copy of the required proof of publication directly to EPA at the following email address: quendo.ana@epamail.epa.gov. Although EPA's 45-day review period will be performed concurrently with the public comment period, the deadline for submitting a citizen petition to object to the EPA Administrator will be determined as if EPA's 45-day review period is performed after the public comment period has ended. The final Title V air operation permit will be issued after the conclusion of the 45-day EPA review period so long as no adverse comments are received that result in a different decision or significant change of terms or conditions. The status regarding EPA's 45-day review of this project and the deadline for submitting a citizen petition can be found at the following website address: http://www.epa.gov/region4/air/permits/Florida.htm.

Objections: Finally, pursuant to 42 United States Code (U.S.C.) Section 7661d(b)(2), any person may petition the Administrator of the EPA within 60 days of the expiration of the Administrator's 45-day review period as established at 42 U.S.C. Section 7661d(b)(1), to object to the issuance of any Title V air operation permit. Any petition shall be based upon objections to the permit that were raised with reasonable specificity during the 30-day public comment period provided in the Public Notice, unless the petitioner demonstrates to the Administrator of the EPA that it was impracticable to raise such objections within the comment period or unless the grounds for such objection arose after the comment period. Filing of a petition with the Administrator of the EPA does not stay the effective date of any permit properly issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 62213, F.A.C. Petitions filed with the Administrator of EPA must meet the requirements of 42 U.S.C. Section 7661d(b)(2) and must be filed with the Administrator of the EPA at: U.S. EPA, 401 M Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20460. For more information regarding EPA review and objections, visit EPA's Region 4 web site at: http://www.epa.gov/region4/air/permits/Florida.htm. 418796 CN/CB 6/7/2012

Please note that this Notice of Rights is not intended to provide legal advice. Not all the legal proceedings detailed below may be an applicable or appropriate remedy. You may wish to consult your attorney regarding your legal rights.

A person whose substantial interests are or may be affected by South Florida Water Management District's (SFWMD or District) action has the right to request an administrative hearing on that action pursuant to Sections 120.569 and 120.57, Fla. Stat. Persons seeking a hearing on a District decision which does or may determine their substantial interests shall file a petition for hearing with the District Clerk within 21 days of receipt of written notice of the decision, unless one of the following shorter time periods apply: 1) within 14 days of the notice of consolidated intent to grant or deny concurrently reviewed applications for environmental resource permits and use of sovereign submerged lands pursuant to Section 373.427, Fla. Stat.; or 2) within 14 days of service of an Administrative Order pursuant to Subsection 373.119(1), Fla. Stat. "Receipt of written notice of agency decision" means receipt of either written notice through mail, or electronic mail, or posting that the District has or intends to take final agency action, or publication of notice that the District has or intends to take final agency action. Any person who receives written notice of a SFWMD decision and fails to file a written request for hearing within the timeframe described above waives the right to request a hearing on that decision.

Filing Instructions

The petition must be filed with the Office of the Clerk of the SFWMD. Filings with the District Clerk may be made by mail, hand-delivery or facsimile. Filings by e-mail will not be accepted. Any person wishing to receive a clerked copy with the date and time stamped must provide an additional copy. A petition for administrative hearing is deemed filed upon receipt during normal business hours by the District Clerk at SFWMD headquarters in West Palm Beach, Florida. Any document received by the office of the SFWMD Clerk after 5:00 p.m. shall be filed as of 8:00 a.m. on the next regular business day. Additional filing instructions are as follows:

• Filings by facsimile must be transmitted to the SFWMD Clerk's Office at (561) 682-6010. Pursuant to Subsections 28-106.104(7), (8) and (9), Fla. Admin. Code, a party who files a document by facsimile represents that the original physically signed document will be retained by that party for the duration of that proceeding and of any subsequent appeal or subsequent proceeding in that cause. Any party who elects to file any document by facsimile shall be responsible for any delay, disruption, or interruption of the electronic signals and accepts the full risk that the document may not be properly filed with the clerk as a result. The filing date for a document filed by facsimile shall be the date the SFWMD Clerk receives the complete document.

A person may file a request for an extension of time for filing a petition. The SFWMD may, for good cause, grant the request. Such requests for extension of time must be filed with the SFWMD prior to the deadline for filing a petition for hearing. Such requests for extension shall contain a certificate that the moving party has consulted with all other parties concerning the extension and that the SFWMD and any other parties agree to or oppose the extension. A timely request for extension of time shall toll the running of the time period for filing a petition until the request is acted upon.
