Taylor Scores 7 TDs to Power Glades Day's Win Over Village Academy

Glades Central and Pahokee earn road wins in Week 7

BY NAJI TOBIAS
The Sun

Kelvin Taylor had perhaps his most impressive game yet.

In Glades Day's 56-42 home win over Village Academy, Taylor racked up 31 carries for 177 yards and a career-high seven touchdowns – all on the ground – to give his team the win on Thursday, Oct. 11.

Taylor, who scored three touchdowns in the first half and four more in the second half, accomplished this special feat for the first time in his highly decorated high school football career.

"My offensive line did a great job blocking for me," Taylor said. "I just went out and ran the ball like I do every game."

Taylor opened the game with a 53-yard kickoff return, which set the stage for what would end up being a game to remember. Later in the first quarter, he burst through Village Academy's defense for an 8-yard touchdown run that gave Glades Day a 6-0 lead.

The Gators first scoring drive was set up by a 75-yard bomb from freshman quarterback Josh Carr (6-for-13 passing, 130 yards, 1 TD) to senior wide receiver Calvin Darville.

Shortly after the Tigers tied the game up at 6-6 – Village pulled even after a 13-yard touchdown down by senior running back Erich Maine with 3:24 left in the first quarter – the Gators went back to work on offense.

With 10:20 left in the second quarter, Taylor scored on an 18-yard touchdown run – his second of the game.

Glades Day (4-0 in District 7-2A play; 6-1 overall) was up 13-6 at that point and went on a 28-6 scoring run over the next two quarters.

Glades Day, up 41-14 lead in the third quarter, didn't just score on the ground. During the Gators scoring outburst, a 7-yard touchdown pass on a fade route from Carr to Darville came with less than a minute in the first half.

Carr's touchdown pass to Darville signified that Taylor is not the entire offense.

"We got our passing game going," Taylor said. "Teams can't just stack the box on us anymore."

Woman Speaks Out About Violent Marriage

OCTOBER: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH, PBSO PLANS PROGRAM

BY AMANDA RAMOS-GUY
The Sun

New relationships generally bring feelings of excitement and dreams of many years of happiness together. Sadly, these dreams don't always work out for some couples.

"Heather's" dream of a lifetime of wedded bliss ended within months of her marriage to "Scott." The happiness she dreamed of turned into physical and verbal abuse.

She and Scott met in college, fell madly in love, and married within six months. Heather says, "Scott had never worked a day in his life. We got an apartment and he found a job working at the airport. His new coworkers introduced him to alcohol, drugs, and strip clubs." This is where she says the problems began.

"Within three months of marriage, Scott was coming home drunk, high, and mean. He would call me horrible names, tell me he made the worst mistake of his life," she said. He started hitting her.

The interesting aspect of Heather's story is that it is not a unique story – domestic violence affects women of all races and income levels, education and cultures.

In honor of Domestic Violence Awareness month, Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and New Options of Royal Palm Beach are partnering together to host a workshop on October 24 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The event will take place at Palm

SETTING THE RECORD STRAIGHT!

IN RESPONSE TO PELLETIER'S INACCURATE STATEMENTS, PLEASE READ THE FACTS BELOW

As attorney of record for U.S. Sugar during the property assessment challenges that led to the legal settlement with the Hendry County Property Appraiser's Office, I would like to set the record straight.

U.S. Sugar contested overly high personal property assessments on the Clewiston Mill assets for tax years 2000-2004. In addition, we contested the assessment on the Southern Gardens Citrus processing plant for 2004. The major issue concerning the Clewiston Mill was the effect on its value caused by external economic conditions, specifically widely fluctuating global sugar prices. Appraisers refer to this as "economic obsolescence."

Economic obsolescence means a reduction in the value of an asset caused by uncontrollable external factors. An example would be the drop in the value of a home because someone else built an apartment building next door.

All Florida property appraisers use the cost approach to value machinery and equipment. Economic obsolescence is a widely recognized factor in the cost approach method of appraisal. It is measured by the income from the property, based on the premise that the personal property itself cannot be worth more than the entire business (equipment, real estate and intangibles) is worth. The Property Appraiser's office was unwilling to follow Florida Department of Revenue (FDOR) Guidelines on this, so U.S. Sugar was forced to file suit.

To settle the litigation and avoid future litigation, U.S. Sugar negotiated an agreement with the Property Appraiser's Office in June 2005. U.S. Sugar would drop its suit in consideration of the Property Appraiser agreeing to follow to the State guidelines in future assessments of the Mill property. In short, the Property Appraiser agreed to begin following Florida's Guidelines in assessing our property.

Ordinarily, a property appraiser may use the cost, market or income approaches, or any combination of them, to make an assessment-- as long as proper consideration is given to statutory criteria. In our case, the Settlement Agreement established the cost approach with an adjustment for economic obsolescence as the method to be used. The cost approach is what Hendry County uses to assess all of its tangible property accounts. There were and are no sales of processing plants comparable to the Clewiston Mill that could serve as the basis for a "market value" approach such as Pelletier proposed.

The Settlement Agreement set a formula to be used for future assessment years based on audited U.S. Sugar financials --a formula consistent with State guidelines for assessing agricultural properties. To protect the county, U.S. Sugar agreed to an assessment floor to apply in any year where the obsolescence was so great that otherwise the Company would pay no taxes. In effect, U.S. Sugar agreed to a minimum assessment for some years that greatly exceeded market value.

After being elected, Phil Pelletier continued to assess the Clewiston Mill per the Settlement Agreement for tax years 2009 and 2010. However, in 2011, Pelletier suddenly broke the Agreement by improperly assessing the Mill without following the Florida Department of Revenue Guidelines. In addition, he used an unrecognized technique averaging tax years to set his assessment.

The assessment method used in the Settlement Agreement is an accepted appraisal practice. In fact, Pelletier followed the Agreement for the first two years of his administration before apparently deciding that the Agreement was no longer valid. Meanwhile, U.S. Sugar has upheld the Agreement and continued to pay taxes in excess of market value as required by the floor provision.

The Official Florida State Bird List has 514 bird species. To view this list of native and established nonnative birds go to records at www.fosbirds.org. According to the Great Florida Birding and Wildlife Trail website there are "at least 196 non-native bird species that have been released in Florida, 13 of which are considered established or naturalized with breeding (self-sustaining) populations in the wild."

Margaret England

To help document the locations of non-native bird species go to the FOS website or to the Early Detection and Distribution Mapping System (ED-DMAPS) website at www.eddmaps.org.

One nonnative species, the Pin-tailed Whydah, was first reported in Florida in the 1980's. They have been observed in several counties recently including Hendry County, but they haven't been reported breeding in the wild. "Whydah" is the name of a town in Nigeria where this small finch is commonly found.

They are also called "Widow Birds" due to the adult male's long black tail extension that can be twice its body length during breeding season. These birds are commonly found throughout tropical Africa and are present in Puerto Rico.

Adult birds have brown eyes, a bright red beak and black legs. The adult breeding male is glossy black above with a white underside. Its lower back and sides of its head are white and it has a white stripe across the wings.

The adult female and non-breeding male has streaked brown upperparts, whitish underparts and a black face pattern. Juveniles look like the female, but have duller plumage and grayish bill.

The Pin-tailed Whydah's calls can be a series of high-pitched, short squeaky notes or a sharp "chip chip chip." They live in forests, gardens, parks and farmland where they forage on the ground for seeds and insects.

This nonnative bird does not build a nest. The female lays her eggs in another bird's nest, but does not destroy the "host" bird's eggs. The Pin-tailed Whydah hatchlings learn the calls and patterns of the foster parents.

Re-Elect
SHERIFF
STEVE WHIDDEN
Hendry County 2012

Friends,

It's been my honor to serve you as your sheriff. I must say that this is a strange election. I've never seen an election where a candidate is not talking about any real hardcore issues.

You don't hear my opponent speaking about me inflating the budget. He can't, because not only have I not increased the budget in four years, I have absorbed 3 million in unfunded federal and state mandated increases and operating increases outside my control. No sheriff here has ever been able to make those kinds of cuts. You don't hear my opponent speaking about a top heavy administration. He can't, because I cut the administration down from 8 to 4 and that includes the chief deputy and me. You don't hear my opponent speaking about not having enough deputies to cover the outlying communities. He can't, because we've added ten deputies to the road by reallocating the unnecessary administrative positions I just spoke about. He doesn't speak of lack of narcotics enforcement because our narcotics arrests have doubled since I office. He doesn't speak of the crime rate, slow response times or lack of proactivity with the deputies. He can't, because the added deputies have significantly reduced our response times and crime rate, and our deputy self initiated calls have over doubled because they are now proactive, instead of reactive.

Instead, opponent speaks of how qualified he is for the job. He speaks of working in the jail for 26 years with Palm Beach County. This may or may not qualify him for the job. I'm sure there are plenty of qualified people out there. Ladies and gentlemen, I ask that you compare my qualifications with my opponent's. Things such as schooling, training, and actual law enforcement experience. I then ask that you look at my resume as your sheriff. Look at what we've been able to accomplish with things such as the budget, the crime rate and community involvement. I think you will then see who the most qualified candidate is by far. We have made numerous accomplishments not only fulfilling the goals I set when I took office but exceeding them saving millions, keeping your tax dollar in your pocket.

In one sentence my opponent speaks of too much turnover in the agency. In the next sentence he speaks of holding the deputies accountable. That's a contradiction within itself. Everyone knows that if you hold the deputies accountable for their action, you're going to have turnover. What turnover we've had is because I hold the deputies accountable to you. And if they don't do right by you, or if they cannot be professional, then they need to go somewhere else. This leads me to my next point.

When I ran for office in 2008 I promised you that I would make the HCSO a truly professional agency. There is no better way to judge professionalism than to receive state accreditation. With that said, I am very proud to announce that on September 27th 2012, for the first time ever, the Hendry County Sheriff's Office received Accreditation from the state of Florida's Accreditation commission. Accreditation is important to you because it establishes and maintains standards that represent current professional law enforcement practices. It increases effectiveness and efficiency in the delivery of law enforcement services to you. It establishes standards that address and reduce liability for the agency and its members and, it establishes standards that makes our agency and its personnel accountable to the people they serve, you.

I look forward to serving you for a second term. We haven't had a consecutive two term sheriff in twenty years. The fact is, things have been better here in the past four years than they've been in a long time, and I say if it's not broke, why fix it? I again ask for your vote on November 6th.

Thank you,
Sheriff Steve Whidden

Chronic Cough or Cold Could Be COPD: Learn More, Breathe Better

You may have heard the term COPD before -- either in a radio or television commercial. COPD, short for chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, is a serious lung disease that over time makes it hard to breathe.

Also known as emphysema or chronic bronchitis, it is the third leading cause of death in the United States, but as many as 12 million Americans don't even know they have it.

Unfortunately, symptoms are often shrugged off as a normal part of getting older or a consequence of being out of shape. And during cold and flu season, COPD symptoms can also be mistaken for that cold or cough that just won't go away.

But COPD can be a dangerous health hazard. If left untreated, it can have debilitating effects on everyday activities. Affecting one in five adults in the U.S. over the age of 45 and an estimated 24 million Americans, as many as half remain undiagnosed.

In people who have COPD, the airway tubes that carry air in and out of your lungs are partially blocked, making it hard to breathe. The disease develops slowly and usually worsens over time. So don't ignore the first signs of COPD, which include a chronic cough, hacking, wheezing and shortness of breath.

COPD occurs most often in people age 40 and over with a history of smoking, affecting both current and former smokers. However, as many as one out of six people with COPD have never smoked.

Other risk factors include long-term exposure to second hand smoke, certain chemicals, and dust or fumes in the workplace. In some people, COPD can be caused by a genetic condition known as alpha-1 antitrypsin, or AAT, deficiency.

"While there is no cure for COPD -- early diagnosis and treatment can help people with the disease improve their symptoms and get back to the things they love doing," said James P. Kiley, PhD. Director, Division of Lung Diseases, at the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, part of the National Institutes of Health.

"As we head into the colder months, take the first step to breathing better. Learn more about COPD and schedule an appointment to talk with your doctor or health care provider about your lungs."

COPD can usually be diagnosed by a doctor or health care provider during a regular office visit with a simple, non-invasive breathing test called spirometry.

If you or a loved one experiences any of the symptoms of COPD, take some time to learn more about it. Visit <http://COPD.nhlbi.nih.gov> for more information. With proper diagnosis and treatment, people with COPD can live longer and improve their quality of life.

Sulfur Amendments May Boost Tomato Yields

Florida tomato farmers may increase their yields by adding sulfur to their soil before planting, according to a University of Florida study published in the current issue of the journal HortTechnology.

Adding 25 pounds of elemental sulfur per acre boosted yields by 1.7 tons per acre in the study, said Bielinski Santos, an associate professor with UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences and part of the research team responsible for the paper.

Sulfur is an important major nutrient and one of the ways it reaches agricultural fields is via atmospheric deposition. However, in recent years the amount of sulfur in the atmosphere has declined, due to tougher clean-air standards. So some farmland may not have the same sulfur content it once did.

"Growers should be aware that sulfur-related deficiencies are now more common than a few years ago in vegetables and small fruit crops," said Santos, who is based at UF's Gulf Coast Research and Education Center in Balm.

There are no field tests available for soil sulfur content, Santos said. So he recommends adding a sulfur amendment to soil once each year.

In the study, scientists grew tomatoes on sandy soil at the Balm center. Treatments were set up using sulfur amendments ranging from 25 pounds to 200 pounds per acre. The results showed that soil amended with 25 pounds per acre yielded 1.7 tons more marketable fruit per acre, compared to a control plot with no sulfur amendment.

Adding more sulfur had little additional benefit, Santos said. The 25 pounds per acre falls within UF/IFAS recommendations for Florida vegetable production.

Santos said that possible sulfur sources include gypsum, elemental sulfur and sulfate-based fertilizer.

He added that a UF/IFAS research team has conducted similar experiments with strawberries and found similar results. That study will be published in the coming months.

21st Lake Okeechobee Hike Event Returns This Year

SUBMITTED PHOTO

The "Big O Hike" comes of age on Nov. 17. This will be the start of the 21st annual hike around Lake Okeechobee on the Herbert Hoover Dike, 35 feet above the surrounding countryside.

Hikers assemble at the Pahokee Marina ready to take the first step at 8 a.m., heading north for a ten day, 110 mile trek. But it's not as difficult as it seems.

In all actuality the hike is a series of one day hikes and participants can join or leave the other hikers at any trail head around Lake Okeechobee. Popular hikes are the first day, a 3.5-mile "Wimp Walk" from Pahokee to Canal Point or the full day 12 mile walk to Port Mayaca. Hikers are shuttled back to the day's starting point.

There is no charge for the hike, and anyone is welcome to join the Loxahatchee Chapter of the Florida Trail Association in this, what is believed to be the longest running long distance hike in the United States.

In recent years, participants completing the entire hike have ranged in age from 9 to 92 years old. Anyone in reasonably good health is welcome to join us in enjoying the outdoors and making new friends.

Campgrounds or motels and meals for those requiring them are at the hiker's expense. Of special interest is Thanksgiving Dinner at the historic Clewiston Inn.

For more information, please contact Paul Cummings at Cummings@att.net or 561-963-9906.

From: Phillip L. Pelletier, Hendry County Property Appraiser
To: United States Sugar Corporation and Southern Gardens Citrus Products Employees, Growers & Vendors
Subject: Memo dated October 8, 2012

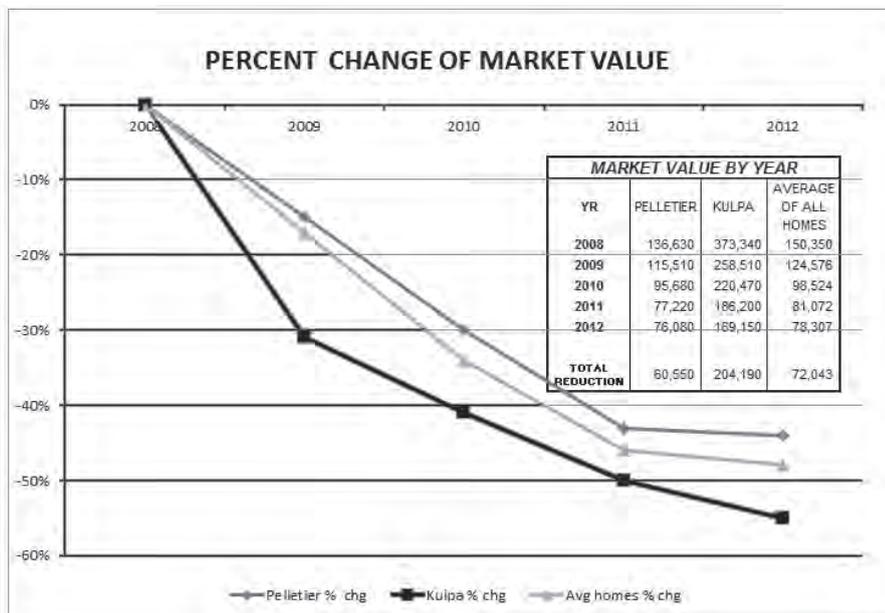

I sincerely apologize to you and your families for the pressures you are feeling this election year. As Americans, it is our duty and responsibility to vote. We ought to vote for political leaders who best represent our own values, not because they belong to a certain political party or because they align themselves with big business.

To: All Hendry County Taxpayers

Am I required to hold a broker or appraiser's license to be your Property Appraiser? NO. As your Property Appraiser, I network with local real estate professionals to stay informed on the current market trends and issues.

Do I have the education and training necessary to make fair and equitable property assessments? YES. I worked as a contractor in Hendry County for about 13 years before going to work for the Hendry County Property Appraiser. I was there for six years before transferring to the newly formed Hendry-LaBelle Recreation Department as Director, Secretary and Chief Financial Officer. I prepared an annual budget, managed personnel and acted as general contractor on all new projects and project manager for new parks and facilities built through grant funding thereby remaining knowledgeable in the area of current costs. While working for the Property Appraiser, I earned the designation of Certified Florida Evaluator through the International Association of Assessing Officers (IAAO) by the successful completion of Fundamentals of Real Property Appraisal, Income Approach to Valuation, Mass Appraisal of Residential Property, and Fundamentals of Mapping. In the position of Administrative Assistant, I trained and supervised field appraisers in residential, commercial and agricultural areas. Since taking office, I have attended Dept. of Revenue Continuing Education Classes and Property Appraisers Association of Florida (PAAF) conferences, thereby keeping updated on legislative changes and current events.

My opponent knows that my office does not set taxes, strictly values. Below is a graph that shows my own home value, the average of all Hendry County homes, and my opponent's value since my election in 2008. My home decreased 44%, the average single family home decreased 48%, and my opponent's home decreased 55%.

God Bless you and your family, and our great County.
 Psalm 35

Keep Your Home Safe from Allergens this Season

The weather may be getting cooler, but that doesn't mean people who are impacted by allergens are in the clear. From dust and dander to seasonal pollen, millions of people will sneeze, wheeze and cough their way through the months ahead.

The experts at Sun Products, makers of Snuggle, all and Wisk laundry products, offer these steps to help make your home a safer haven from that which afflicts you.

Bust Dust

Allergens are hiding all over the home. Regular dusting and vacuuming will eliminate much of the problem. Just be sure to clean your vacuum filter often.

And don't overlook fabrics in your home like upholstered chairs and drapes, as dust, mites and other allergens can collect here easily. Don't suffer while cleaning. Use a mask to avoid coming into contact with the allergens you're trying to eliminate.

Wash Safely

The irony of keeping your home spic and span for the sake of allergy management is that many cleaning supplies can aggravate the problem.

Ammonia, for example, can be quite harsh on the eyes and nose. Using a hypoallergenic, fragrance-free, all-purpose cleaner will make scrubbing the bathroom and kitchen a much more pleasant experience.

Likewise, bedding and clothing are notorious for collecting and trapping common allergens. According to a study by Grana, an international science journal, a large t-shirt can trap up to 7 million pollen grains on a peak pollen day.

Remove everyday allergens trapped in your garments and bedding with a fragrance free detergent designed for sensitive skin.

For example, all free clear detergent, which is the number one detergent brand recommended by dermatologists and allergists for sensitive skin, will eliminate 99 percent of tree and grass pollen, and ragweed pollen, the number one fall allergen.

Free of potential irritants like dyes and perfumes, it will also help bust pet dander and dust mite matter. More information can be found at www.all-laundry.com/freeclear.

Keep Allergens Out

When you walk around outside your clothes can collect and absorb allergens and irritants.

Shoes are magnets for grass, tree and ragweed pollen.

Leave your shoes on the porch, especially after walking through grass. Change out of your clothes when you get home, depositing them directly into the hamper.

Stay Vigilant

You can stay informed with pollen-level maps and recent allergen news. Visit the all free clear Facebook page for allergy resources and management tips.

Get a handle on your sniffles and congestion this season by freeing your home of allergens.

'Mystery Eyeball' Appears to be From Swordfish

After examining an eye found on a south Florida beach this week, researchers from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) believe the specimen came from a swordfish. Genetic testing will be done to confirm the identification.

"Experts on site and remotely have viewed and analyzed the eye, and based on its color, size and structure, along with the presence of bone around it, we believe the eye came from a swordfish," said Joan Herrera, curator of collections at the FWC's Fish and Wildlife Research Institute in St. Petersburg.

"Based on straight-line cuts visible around the eye, we believe it was removed by a fisherman and discarded."

The approximately softball-size eye was recovered by a citizen in Pompano Beach on Wednesday. FWC staff received the eye later that day. Swordfish are commonly fished in the Florida Straits offshore of south Florida at this time of year.

A highly migratory fish, swordfish can be found from the surface to as deep as 2,000 feet. Swordfish in the Atlantic can reach a maximum size of over 1,100 pounds, according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Swordfish feed on a wide variety of fish and invertebrates.

For more information on swordfish, including fishing regulations, visit MyFWC.com.

Gas Price Update

Average retail gasoline prices in Florida have risen 3.2 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $3.70/g on Sunday.

This compares with the national average that has fallen 2.8 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.77/g..

Including the change in gas prices in Florida during the past week, prices yesterday were 28.8 cents per gallon higher than the same day one year ago and are 9.4 cents per gallon lower than a month ago.

The national average has decreased 9.0 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 29.6 cents per gallon higher than this day one year ago.

"The national average has again seen a decrease in the last week, as California joins much of the rest of the United States in seeing lower prices," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Patrick DeHaan.

"Even though there hasn't been a massive decline in California retail prices, the fact that prices have stopped rising there has helped tip the national average lower. In the week ahead, we could continue to see declines as wholesale prices fell lower late last week, meaning gas stations have additional room to drop their prices," DeHaan said.

Smithsonian Journey Stories at Clewiston Museum

The grand opening for the Journey Stories Exhibit will be at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 23. The event will include a presentation by Dr. Jessica Catelino, Professor of Archeology at UCLA, and no stranger to this area. She will be presenting on water in the Glades and its impact on people over the years. She resided in Clewiston for seven months this year interviewing locals and collecting information on this subject, which will be the subject of a forthcoming book.

Journey Stories is a Smithsonian traveling exhibit that depicts the migration of Americans across our great land. Clewiston was one of only six communities in Florida selected to receive this prestigious exhibit.

In addition to viewing the exhibit during our special speaker presentations over the next six weeks, the exhibit is available during normal Museum hours, which are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays. Saturday and evening viewings for groups are available by reservation.

The public is invited to this free event and there will be plenty of time following the presentation to tour the exhibit and to enjoy refreshments.

The program is being made possible through a grant provided by the Florida Humanities Council and with technical assistance from the Smithsonian Institution.

For more information, please contact the Museum at 863-983-2870 or email clewiston-museum@embarqmail.com.

Complete information on the upcoming Journey Stories speaker programs can be found at www.clewistonmuseum.org.

International Walk to School Day at Gove Elementary

"International Walk to School Day" at Gove Elementary had over 900 students, 45 community volunteers plus teachers and staff to encourage our students during the walk. The theme this year was "Walk to School to Promote Family Wellness and conservation."

The Gove Wellness Student Council led the way with Principal Edgecomb carrying signs encouraging family wellness and community conservation.

The Palm Beach Sheriff's Department and Palm Beach Fire Rescue were giving "high 5's" of encouragement and stopping traffic for students to make their way from the East and West of Ave. G.

The leadership of these two organizations has been the reason for their success. Lee and Mark Sutterfield have been the core for this event assisting "Walk Leaders" Mickey Pender and Ellen Smith to plan this community wellness event for the past 9 years. Mr. Eddie Rhodes, one of faithful volunteers and Xi Iota Alpha Sorority members Kiley Larson and Karen McCarthy waited at Mace Park entrance to encourage the students to make healthy choices.

Big Thanks go to Lakeside Medical Center for donating 100 apples for our staff. We appreciate their support! We also thank newcomers Palm Beach Post Nina Willis and Mr. Clay Walker from the State Department of Children and Families.

The Fine Arts team and many staff members have been fantastic motivators for these last nine years! Seeing and hearing the smiles from students was enough to classify this event as a great success for the Gove Wellness Team and Student Council who co-sponsored this event.

At the end of their trek, all of the students received NFL pencils and had a free breakfast with all healthy choices from our cafeteria staff. This event was a student-lead project for the "Healthy Schools Program," Safe School Routes Kelly Powell and Yexsy Schomberg plus the NFL Fuel Up to Play 60!

Family Involvement Night

Mr. Kelvin Johnson, Parent Liaison would like to invite parents, families and community members to our 2nd Family Involvement Event, featuring "Literacy Night." Our Literacy Night will begin in the cafeteria following the SAC meeting on Thursday at 5 p.m.

Each grade level will have fun, short and meaningful "Make & Take" literacy activities available. Families will be rotate to the differentiated learning featured by teachers from each grade level.

Please come prepared to learn exciting new reading and writing strategies to support your child's learning adventures! Discover ways to strengthen your child's readiness for FCAT. Listen as your child explains his/her data folder. We would like to thank you in advance for helping make our Literacy Night an enthusiastic success!

Principal's Reading Challenge

Once again, students will be participating in the Principal's Reading Challenge. Students who increase their reading levels read with Mr. Miller from 12:30 to 1 p.m. in his office.

The students greatly enjoy their time reading to Principal Miller, holding his rapt attention and basking in his encouragement.

This opportunity to shine results in a positive phone call home, a book of each reader's choice (thanks to our sister school, Panther Run Elementary), a coupon for a free ice cream at McDonalds (thanks to the Nisbet family), and being included in the afternoon announcement of the day's featured readers. Hats off to all of our wonderful readers!

Great Innovations: Is There Still Something Missing?

BY REV. SAM S. THOMAS, PH.D.+
Saints Martin's Church

Someone pointed out innovations that have come about recently and the changes that have happened. Banks have gone to ATM machines, making small transactions possible without going inside. Of course, major bank activities aren't conducted at the machine, but they're great later in the evening when some cash is needed. Eyeglasses with minor corrections and generic prescription are available from many stores now; if people need simple reading glasses, no need to involve appointments with an optical professional. Drug stores are offering basic clinical services for out-patient interventions that are routine; no need for waiting for an appointment for flu shots or a prescription for a rash. Stores have automated check-out counters; waiting in line for the cashier has been eliminated in some cases and people avail themselves of a time-saver that will get them on their way after they've scanned their purchases and inserted an amount of cash to cover the transaction.

With each innovation comes a recognition that there is a level of care or a service needed that cannot be covered and the bonus is on the drug store to recommend a visit to the family physician or the bank cannot handle a transaction involving foreign currency through the ATM. There are times when an optometrist is needed and eye conditions need a specialist, or a store purchase requires a cashier to handle a refund slip. Overall, people seem to prefer modern short-cut, time-saving ways of doing things. Apparently merchants like them too. There is something about these modern "innovations" that had a familiar ring to them as I thought about it. Some banks had lines inside for customers with only one or two transactions; you would go inside but avoid being in line with someone making several deposits.

Years ago, the optometrist that fitted our family with glasses knew each member and he observed that sons generally had eyes like their mothers, daughters like their fathers. He seemed to know just what was needed and getting glasses changed every so often was not really a major chore. Some merchants knew who was in a hurry and would devote time to them while another customer was making up their mind about this purchase or that one. The older activities were not quite as efficient or time-saving but they involved something that more than compensated; human contact. Every once and awhile someone will share with me about some clergy person in their past. He would visit the family on his way home and have a drink, share a joke, bring some news, tell of something that was going on in his life. Oh yes, they'd be there on Sundays, and certainly were among the faithful; even long after he had left their church or they moved elsewhere.

Their relationship was obviously very special and very personal. That made, and makes, all of the difference. One grandfather shared with me awhile back about his grandchildren; noting that "Children take time!" Yes they do; and it makes all of the difference in our world of automation, fast-everything, impersonal telephone "labyrinths" that tell you to "press one for..." and you may wind up with a recording anyway. Scriptures are stories of people and their relationships with one another; about what is learned in the exchanges between people, about an incarnate God who gets personal with His creation.

Maybe the greatest gift of all of the automated check-out lines comes from the conversations of those who are waiting, the conversations with the clerks who point you to the right aisle, the human who answers the phone and directs you to the answer you sought. That happens in Church, sometimes when the services are over and coffee is shared. Those moments can be healing, fulfilling, enriching, incarnational. I think the Lord approves and blesses them!

a joint homecoming celebration during Glades Central's homecoming, Oct. 26-27.

This is a first and something that has never been done in the history of Glades Central. Look for the classes of 1973, 1993, and 2003, as they will be participating in this year's homecoming parade as well as attending the football game.

On Saturday, Oct. 27, the joint homecoming reunion will be culminating with the a fun-filled and exciting reunion cook-out. It will be held at Pioneer Park for family and friends of the three classes. There is a fee. For more information, please contact Sharon Singleton at 561-914-0592 or Mary Harvey at 561-275-6397.

Pahokee Elementary

Family Involvement Night

Join us for our 1st Family Involvement Night for this school year on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 6 p.m. in the school's cafeteria.

The topic of the training is "Literacy is a Family Affair." Refreshments will be served. All parents, volunteers, community members and business partners are encouraged to attend.

While You're Here Volunteer

Educating our children takes everyone: parents, organizations, retirees, college students, business and military personnel.

Pahokee Elementary School is looking for volunteers. Contact Mrs. Harrison or Mrs. Harper to find out how you can get involved.

Rodriguez Becomes a U.S. Marine After Training

Marine Corps Pfc. Joel Rodriguez, son of Olman Rodriguez, of Pahokee, earned the title of United States Marine after graduating from recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

For 13 weeks, Rodriguez stayed committed during some of the world's most demanding entry-level military training in order to be transformed from civilian to Marine instilled with pride, discipline and the core values of honor, courage and commitment. Training subjects included close-order drill, marksmanship with an M-16A4 rifle, physical fitness, martial arts, swimming, military history, customs and courtesies.

One week prior to graduation, Rodriguez endured The Crucible, a 54-hour final test of recruits' minds and bodies. Upon completion, recruits are presented the Marine Corps emblem and called Marines for the first time.

Rodriguez is a 2011 graduate of Pahokee High School of Pahokee.

7-2A play; 2-3 overall) did its best to make it a game in the fourth quarter as senior quarterback Larry Brihm (15-for-28 passing, 3 TDs, 1 INT; 13 carries, 117 yards, 1 TD) led his team on a 28-15 scoring run to close out the game.

Unfortunately for the Tigers, it came too late as they ran out of time in their quest to stage a comeback win.

“We came up short and made a lot of mistakes,” Brihm said. “We really wanted to be district champs, but there’s nothing we can do about it now. We just have to go back in our books and get ourselves together. Hopefully, we’ll see them again in the second round of the playoffs.”

Glades Day head coach Pete Walker talked about the way his team’s offense was able to display a sense of balance.

“A lot of players were able to get into the mix,” Gators head coach Pete Walker said. “If Kelvin scored seven touchdowns, it means our guys are doing a great job up front. I liked how Josh got the ball to our receivers and fullbacks. Overall, I thought we played well as a team.”

With the win, Glades Day has the inside track to its second consecutive District 7-2A title. The Gators, who have their first of two byes this week, won’t play again until their homecoming game on Friday, Oct. 26, a District 7-2A matchup with Summit Christian.

Glades Central 31, Dillard 19: The Raiders (2-4 overall) are on a winning streak for the first time since last season’s 12-0 start, thanks to their road win over Dillard.

Glades Central’s next game is on Friday, Oct. 19 against Fort Pierce Westwood. It will be the second of the team’s four District 14-5A games this season. The kickoff time for the Glades Central-Fort Pierce Westwood game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Effie C Grear Stadium in Belle Glade.

Pahokee 40, Calvary Christian 14: The Blue Devils (1-2 in District 7-2A play; 2-4 overall) avenged last year’s homecoming loss to Calvary Christian, as the relatively young team seems to be improving on an incremental basis.

Pahokee’s final District 7-3A game, which happens to be its homecoming at Anquan Boldin Stadium, will be against King’s Academy on Friday, Oct. 19. The kickoff time for the Pahokee-King’s Academy game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

State FFA Officers Visits Glades Day FFA Chapter

Ashley Hassan, Area 6 State FFA Vice President spoke to all agriscience classes Thursday, October 11th. Ashley was very exciting and motivational as she encouraged all students to set goals in life and strive very hard to achieve them!

Ashley used interactive class activities that reinforced good morals and ethics which are core values in the FFA organization. Students were encouraged to have Supervised Agricultural Experience projects and participates in career develop events (contest) which will build skills related to the agriculture field.

Ashley is from Okeechobee and will serve as State FFA Officer until the state convention which will be held in Orlando, next June. The FFA makes a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career through agriculture education.

Beach State College in Belle Glade. The resource fair will provide domestic violence/dating violence information and is open to the public.

"It will be an opportunity for anyone in the community to come by and get information and resources regarding Domestic Violence. We are hoping to bring awareness and education to the Glades area and encourage people to get the help and support they need when involved in an abusive or violent relationship," said Jennifer Szerjter, Domestic Violence Advocate for PBSO.

Service providers will be on site to offer information regarding counseling, legal services, and education classes; services that are normally offered include counseling, shelter, relocation assistance, safety planning, and court accompaniment.

Various service providers will be on site to explain how victims can obtain these services.

The hope is that the program will help people like Heather, who eventually made it out of her tiring ordeal, but not before the situation reached its breaking point.

Scott was more than six feet tall and Heather barely made it above five feet. "He hit very hard. He said it was my fault because I just wouldn't leave him alone," she said. The problem: he wanted to come and go at all hours of the night without his wife complaining about his activities.

"I was beyond despair. Was this what I had waited all my life for? I wanted my marriage to last forever, and he doesn't even want it to last a few months," she said.

Even counseling didn't work. The counselor told her to give up because, "You cannot keep a man that does not want to be kept."

The breaking point came when she needed to use the bathroom, which she could only access by walking through their bedroom.

"He was inside the bedroom and refused to let me in. Not for any particular reason, other than he just didn't want to look at me. So I jimmied the lock and pried the door open. He waited long enough for me to get my face through the door and then he slammed it right on my nose. I felt it break," said Heather.

The next day at work, her co-workers asked what had happened to her face. "I heard myself explaining that I had hit my face while swimming underwater at the pool where we lived," she said. She described this as an "out of body experience" watching herself make excuses for her husband. Once she realized this she said, "Something snapped within me; I thought to myself, 'That is it. I will not be a battered woman making excuses for and enabling her husband to beat her.' I was disgusted," said Heather.

That night she went home and told him she "gave up" and that he was free to leave. "He did not waste any time packing his things and getting out of there as soon as he could," she said.

"So far this year in the Glades area, over 650 calls were placed to the Sheriff's office requesting assistance for a domestic disturbance," said Ms. Szerjter.

"In addition, the Sheriff's Office responded to approximately 300 reports of domestic violence. The safety of our victims is our primary concern. We hope by raising awareness out here, we can all work together to end the cycle of violence."

If you are a victim of domestic violence, you can call the Florida Domestic Violence Hotline at 800-500-1119 to discuss your options and gain more information.

Gifted students shine

The 4th and 5th grade gifted students from Mrs. Sheffield's gifted class received 5th place in Equations Academic games. They competed against 28 teams from Palm Beach County Schools. Each of them received a ribbon and the school received a trophy. Karen Hernandez received an individual ribbon for a total score that gave her a tie for 10th place. There were approximately 200 students competing for individual scores. The competition was extremely difficult and the students are very proud of their results. They had to do all the basic mathematical operations plus learn powers, square roots, negative numbers, and fractions to solve complex problems.

High water levels have prompted the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) to issue another executive order, temporarily restricting public access to Holey Land and Rotenberger wildlife management areas (WMAs). These same restrictions have been in place for the Everglades and Francis S. Taylor WMA since Sept. 10.

This action is necessary because high water forces area wildlife to take refuge on tree islands and levees, resulting in high levels of stress for these animals.

Effective at midnight on Oct. 15, the order prohibits vehicle, airboat, all-terrain vehicle and other public access to the Holey Land and Rotenberger WMAs. These two areas are in Palm Beach County.

The order also prohibits the taking of game and cancels the upcoming general-gun vehicle season that was scheduled for Oct. 20 to Nov. 4 in the Holey Land and Rotenberger WMAs, as well as the Everglades and Francis S. Taylor WMA. However, this order does not apply to people permitted to participate in the statewide alligator and migratory bird hunts, to frogging, or to people operating boats while fishing within the established canal systems or fishing within one mile of a canal. Boaters must maintain a minimum distance of 100 yards from any tree island or levee when operating a vessel or airboat to minimize disturbance to upland wildlife.

These special regulations remain in effect until rescinded by a subsequent executive order.

For updated closure and reopening information, visit MyFWC.com/DisasterPlan and click on "Open/Closed Status of FWC Offices and FWC-managed Areas." If you have additional questions, please call the FWC's South Regional Office at 561-625-5122.

To report a violation of this order, or any fish and wildlife law violation, call the FWC's Wildlife Alert hotline at 888-404-3922.

Florida Whites Out Teen Crashes This Teen Driver Safety Week

Events across the state educate teens on safe driving habits

The Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles urged everyone to wear white today to symbolize the effort to white out teen crashes during 2012's Teen Driver Safety Week (Oct. 14 to 20). Traffic crashes are the leading cause of death among teens.

More than 700,000 teenagers have driver licenses in Florida. In 2011, nearly 30,000 teen drivers in the state were involved in crashes resulting in the death of 180 teenagers aged 15 to 19.

Today, DHSMV and its Division of the Florida Highway Patrol along with safety partners sponsored presentations at high schools in Miami, Tampa, Apopka and Tallahassee.

A non-profit organization, Stay Alive From Education (aka S.A.F.E.), teamed up to provide the presentations that dramatize a traffic crash as viewed through the eyes of paramedics.

FHP helped bring home the message to young drivers about the importance of buckling up, driving sober, removing distractions and limiting the number of peers in a car.

"Getting your driver license for the first time is a rite of passage and a very exciting time for teens as they gain added independence," said DHSMV Executive Director Julie L. Jones.

"It is important that teens learn to be safe drivers from the beginning, and we encourage parents to be involved and set good examples for their children. Our Drive with CARE program provides useful resources for teens and parents."

Drive with CARE – Courtesy, Attention, Responsibility and Experience brings safety messages and presentations to teens year-round. The website for the program, www.flhsmv.gov/teens, provides information for teens and parents in English and in Spanish, including information on Florida's graduated licensing law.

The Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles provides highway safety and security through excellence in service, education and enforcement.

The Department is leading the way to a safer Florida through the efficient and professional execution of its core mission: the issuance of driver licenses, vehicle tags and titles and operation of the Florida Highway Patrol. To learn more about DHSMV and the services offered, visit www.flhsmv.gov, follow us on Twitter at @FDHSMV or find us on Facebook.

Monthly School Board Meetings to be Simulcast Live in The Glades

In an effort to make our School Board more accessible to the Glades community, regular monthly School Board meetings will now be simulcast live at the Glades Central High School Auditorium.

The simulcast will include a video conference, enabling residents and elected officials to address the School Board from this remote location.

Our first simulcast Board meeting will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at 5 p.m. Residents that wish to speak to the School Board on an agenda or non-agenda item will be able to do so from the auditorium.

As with all School Board meetings, people wishing to speak are asked to sign up by either calling the Board Office at 561-434-8136 or completing a registration card (blue card) prior to the start of the meeting. You may call the Board Office up to 12 p.m. on the day of the meeting to have your name placed on the speakers list and blue cards will be available in the auditorium from 4:30 p.m. and collected at the start of the meeting.

"The School Board and I are pleased to offer this service to the Glades community," said Superintendent Wayne Gent. "Residents will now be able to participate in the regular monthly Board meeting without having to make the long commute to the District's Board Room."

For more information, please contact the Board Office at 561-434-8136.
