Glades Central is on the right track. By scoring a 40-6 road win over Boynton Beach on Friday, Nov. 2, the Raiders (4-0 in District 14-5A play; 5-4 overall) have won the District 14-5A title for the second straight season.

"We didn't want to settle for the runner-up position in our district," Glades Central head coach Roosevelt Blackmon said. "If we would have lost this game, things would have been crazy for us."

Glades Central, which is on a five-game winning streak after a 0-4 start, was never in danger of losing its final district game, thanks to three touchdowns each from seniors Will Likely and David Bailey.

Bailey, who caught two early scoring passes from sophomore Giovanni Lugo, helped put Glades Central ahead by a score of 13-6 late in the first quarter.

Boynton Beach was in the game for most of the first quarter, however. Tigers senior quarterback Jake Lutzen scored on a 10-yard touchdown run during the first quarter to make up his team's only points. It was the only sort of good news for Boynton Beach (2-2 in District 14-5A play; 4-4 overall), as its special team units couldn't contain Likely, who ran off a 69-yard punt return for a touchdown that Glades Central's lead to 20-6 to end the first quarter.

"Teams can't just worry about Will anymore," Blackmon said. "David's been taking the load off of Will and stepping up big time for us. They're both our 1-2 punch right now." Likely (four carries, 86 yards, three total touchdowns) scored again in the second quarter, this time on a 4-yard run to the end zone. He recorded his third and final touchdown in the third quarter.

Meanwhile, Bailey capped the game's scoring in the fourth quarter, courtesy of a 20-yard touchdown pass from senior T.J. Abrams.

"Our kids have turned the corner," Blackmon said. "They're eager to play. It's showing on the field now."

Glades Central's next and final regular season is the annual Muck Bowl at Pahokee, scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Gove Elementary

The Story of Red Ribbon Week

Red Ribbon Week was established to honor Enrique "Kiki" Camarena, a U.S. Drug Enforcement Agent, who was kidnapped and brutally murdered while investigating an illegal drug gang in Mexico. In 1986, one year after the agent's death, angry citizens in "Kiki's" hometown of Calexico, California, responded by wearing red ribbons, showing their support for the war against drugs. This was the inception of a grass-roots campaign against the illegal use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs. When the red ribbon is worn by students, teachers, and parents, it powerfully symbolizes each individual's commitment to preventing drug abuse in schools, workplaces, and communities. "Red Ribbon Week" is an awareness campaign observed annually the last full week in October. Throughout the week Gove Elementary students, parents and teachers are engaged in a variety of activities designed to demonstrate a commitment to youth and drug prevention. This is a time when both students and adults pledge to stay drug free and join the fight against drug use. Throughout the week the students were involved in the following activities:

• Oct. 22: "I'm Voting for My Future by Being Drug Free"; students showed their school spirit by wearing a red, white, or blue shirt to school.

• Oct. 23: "Don't Let Drugs Sneak up on You"; on this day, students demonstrated their support by wearing sneakers.

• Oct. 24: "I'm too Bright for Drugs"; students displayed their commitment by wearing a bright colored shirt to school.

• Oct. 25: "Give Drugs the Boot"; students wore boots to school to carry out the theme.

As a culminating activity, the students dressed up as their favorite storybook character to "Show Good Character by Being Drug Free".

A Full Day...

Wednesday, October 3rd, was a full day for students, parents, staff, volunteers and community partners at Gove Elementary. The day started with an "International Walk to School Morning" sponsored by the Fine Arts Dept. and the Wellness Team. The purpose of the walk was to promote pedestrian safety and health for all; students carried safety signs, in both English and Spanish, celebrating diversity and many wore clothing representative of their country of origin. In the evening, over 192 parents attended the monthly PTO and SAC meetings followed by the annual Title I Parent Meeting. A Hispanic Heritage Celebration was also scheduled for that evening and parents got a taste of the richness of the Hispanic culture as students performed between meetings. As a culminating activity, a "Curriculum Fair" was held in the cafeteria. The fair opened with the history of Hispanic Heritage Month followed by performances from our own Hispanic VIPs. Mr. Samuel Gali (Music Teacher) played a medley of Hispanic songs from various Latin American countries. The dance team, under the direction of Mrs. M. Marrero, had the crowd on their feet by dancing to the rhythm of the Spanish beat. Parents then "traveled" through Latin America by visiting countries of interest. Each country offered activities, on different subjects, for parents to work with their children at home. Multi-cultural projects, created by the students in Mrs. Easdale and Mrs. Lutz sixth grade classes, were also displayed for everyone to see. We appreciate the support of the teachers in this endeavor and thank Mrs. Aguirre, Counselor, for displaying the projects during this special evening. It was an enjoyable day for the Gove Family and we look forward to many more in the near future.

Inland Birding Fun: Eastern Bluebird (EABL)

BY MARGARET ENGLAND
Hendry-Glades Audubon

The Florida Bluebird Society established the first Fall Florida Bluebird Blitz in November 2010 and first Spring Blitz in April of 2011. During these counts 47 of Florida's 67 counties submitted reports to the Bluebird Society or online at www.ebird.org. Inland Florida reported two at Pioneer located in Hendry County in November of 2011. Five Eastern Bluebirds were reported in Muse in Glades County during the April 2012 Blitz. The 5th annual Statewide

Margaret England

Bluebird Blitz will take place on Friday November 16 and Saturday November 17, 2012.

What is a Bluebird Blitz?

A Blitz is a concentrated effort on specific dates to locate as many Eastern Bluebirds in your locale as possible.

How do I participate?

- Record as much as you are able about the bluebirds you see. Location, behavior, sex, age, etc. We also want to know where you looked but did not find bluebirds.
- Download, complete and submit the Blitz Report form from the FBS web site, floridabluebirdsociety.com or submit your report on Cornell's free "ebird" website.

floridabluebirdsociety@gmail.com.

This is a great opportunity for adults and youth to become citizen scientists for the day and help document Florida's Eastern Bluebird population. The Eastern Bluebird is a common bird of least concern which can be found in meadows or openings surrounding trees, it has benefited from the use of human-made nest boxes throughout Florida. These cavity nesting birds numbers were declining for a number of reasons including competition for natural nest sites from other bird species such as the Tufted Titmouse, Caroline Wren, House Sparrow, and the Eastern Starling which are diminishing winter food supply and adverse weather. They feed mainly on insects, but will also feed on wild berries in the winter.

The adult male is a small beautifully colored thrush with a bright blue back, head and tail. It has a chestnut colored throat and breast with a white belly. The female is duller or grayer with a bluish tail and wings and a subdued orange-brown breast. Young birds have heavily spotted feathers. The Eastern Bluebird has a distinctive and fairly low pitched warbling song that sounds like "chur-lee, chur-lee" which might include chattering notes with whistle when singing.

They will build a nest of pine needles and grasses inside cavities where they will lay four or five eggs which hatch in 13 to 15 days. During a successful nesting season two to three broods of young will be raised. The young stay with their parents during the nesting season usually lasting from March to July which makes up a rather large family group by summer's end.

If you would like to participate in upcoming birding trips lead by Hendry-Glades Audubon volunteers or would like a copy of the Statewide Bluebird Blitz Report e-mail Margaret England at sta5birding@embarqmail.com or call 863-674-0695 or 863-517-0202.

Lake Okeechobee Fishing Report

SUBMITTED PHOTO

BY MARK KING

The cool weather has hit South Florida and the bass on Okeechobee have made a push off of the main open water of the lake and down toward the grassy shallow spawning areas of the lake. With the lake level still over 15 and a half feet above sea level, there are plenty of areas to fish at, from the north end of the lake to the south end. This past full moon there were a few bass that moved in and spawned. However, the main spawning period won't begin until the months of January, February, and March.

I have been fishing mostly south of the Clewiston area and have been catching a lot of bass, some of which are over seven pounds. The live bait bite on wild shiners has been really good with five dozen being a good number to start with everyday. The artificial bite has been great one day and then a little slow the next but the consistency has been really picking up as the water cools off. I have been throwing Gambler Big EZ swimbaits in areas of thick grass and pitching jigs to reed heads after the sun gets up high in the sky. The bass seem to be bunched up, when you catch one you will catch more in that same area and then you may go a mile before you start catching them again.

As fall and winter approach Florida our bass fishing will really start to get crazy here on Okeechobee, with thousands of bass moving into spawning areas to spend the next five months. With the water level being up you will be able to get back in some areas that no one has been to for many years and it will give us so much area to fish that we won't all be fishing in the same areas. A couple precautions to remember is to watch out for duck hunting boats back in the thick grassy areas especially if the grass is higher than your line of sight, and the boat trails that we have back in the grassy areas are just that boat trails and not a safe place to fish or you could get run over by a boat.

It is time to get that fishing trip of a lifetime to Lake Okeechobee booked, the fishing is great and the weather will for sure be better then that cold snowy stuff they have up north. I am also booking duck hunting trips here on Okeechobee for the 2012-13 season with one of my duck hunting partners. Good luck, tight lines, and I hope to see everyone on the water real soon.

New Grocery Store Opens in Moore Haven

The new IGA Harvest Hometown Market is open at last.

Since the old U-Save in Moore Haven closed in October 2011, Moore Haven residents have had no choice but to drive 16 miles or more each way to the closest supermarket. This has placed a real hardship on those who do not have transportation.

Earlier this year, Joe Sweet, who owns Harvest House Grocery on U.S. 441 S.E. in Okeechobee, decided to invest in Moore Haven.

"We could have gone anywhere around the lake," said Mr. Sweet. "There were a lot of stores available. But the need was here.

"We want an opportunity to grow, to be a service to the public, to make a difference in the community," he said, "We would like to see the community grow. We would like to be a part of that."

Mr. Sweet and his wife, Lisa, have made a big investment in the store. Just cleaning the place up cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The store employs 32 people. Mr. Sweet said he was overwhelmed by the response to their first "help wanted" ad. In an 8-hour period, more 200 people applied to work.

"We interviewed them all," he said. "We wanted to give everybody an opportunity."

He said some people who applied drove over from Clewiston and Okeechobee.

"There are just not enough jobs to go around," he said.

Work on the building started in July. The clean up was a big job. They had to tear down some of the walls and chip out and replace some of the floors. They did a lot of scraping, bleaching and disinfecting before they could even think about painting.

Those who have visited the building in recent weeks frequently commented: "It smells clean in here."

The spacious store now offers fresh produce, meat, dairy foods and a wide variety of canned and boxed goods. Mr. Sweet said they tried to consider the population when allocating space for various products. For example, the store's spice aisle has 1,500 different seasonings.

"This is more of a cooking community," said Mr. Sweet. "If they want to make something, I want them to find all of the ingredients here."

The store carries IGA brands as well as other popular brands. For example, in the ice cream department customers can choose from IGA ice cream, Blue Bunny or Breyers.

He said they will probably make some changes after the store opens if there is customer demand for something they didn't initially offer.

"We picked as much variety as possible," he said.

Mr. Sweet is proudest of the section of the store he calls his

"dollar department."

The dollar department has more than 1,000 items for $1 each. The wide range of products for $1 includes items such as toothpaste, shampoo, plastic goods, trash bags, canned chili, seasonings, jelly, cereal, batteries and instant coffee.

"This is not something you usually see in a supermarket, but I think there is a need for it in this community," he explained.

IGA stands for the Independent Grocers Alliance. IGA was founded in 1926, bringing together independent grocers across the United States to ensure that the trusted, family-owned local grocery store remained strong in the face of growing chain competition.

The IGA motto is "Hometown Proud." For more information online, go to www.iga.com.

Richard Batchelor Owen, 87

CLEWISTON — Richard Batchelor Owen, born Dec. 23, 1924 in Memphis, Tenn., died Nov. 3, 2012, in Fort Myers.

His parents, Viola F. Owen and William C. Owen, brought him and his brother to Clewiston in March 1925 where his father, an engineer, was in charge of draining and laying out the town of Clewiston. Young Dick and his family were an active pioneer family and very much a part of the fabric of the area. As a young man, Dick wrote movie reviews for the Clewiston News and excelled in all things "dramatic" - singing, dancing, plays and musicals.

A 1941 graduate of Clewiston High School, Richard attended the College of William and Mary and finished after the War in 1947. After being commissioned as an Ensign in the Navy, he was stationed on Guam until the end of WWII. He then completed his undergraduate degree at the University of Miami and obtained his MA degree in dramatic arts from Florida State University. For the next 30 some years, "Batchelor" (his stage moniker) served as Director of various theaters across the country from Miami Beach to South Carolina including a short stint at the now defunct Norton Gallery Theatre from 1949 to 1951.

He moved into academia in the 70's and found his "groove" as a Professor of Drama, later Department Chair at the Clearwater campus of the St. Petersburg College. During this time and into retirement, he also indulged in his love of travel, visiting Great Britain, Europe and Mexico on numerous occasions. He retired in the 1980's first to Safety Harbor, FL, then to North Fort Myers in 2000, but he continued to entertain family and friends with stories of the theatre, of movies and movie stars, of his cats, his travel adventures and Florida history. No published crossword puzzle ever defeated Dick.

In addition to his brother, William, of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. and his brother-in-law, Bryan F. Bergeron, Jr. of Owen's Crossroads, Ala.; Richard is also survived by his nieces and nephews, Antoinette Owen O'Connor of Brooklyn, N.Y., Claire Owen Studley (Robert) of Yarmouth, Maine, William C. Owen, III (Anne) of Naples, Fla., Frank V.E. Owen (Susan) of Palm Beach Gardens and Shirley Bergeron Cason (Harry) of Quinton, Ala.

He was predeceased by his parents, his sister, Shirley Owen Bergeron; sister-in-law, Anne E. Owen; his niece's husband, Patrick O'Connor; his niece, Susan Bergeron Sturdivant, her husband, Robert Sturdivant and their daughter, Lauren.

Services will be held at North Fort Myers Community of Christ Church, 368 Herron Road, North Fort Myers on Wednesday, Nov. 14, 2012 at 4 p.m., Pastor David Nipper officiating. Dick will be buried in Ridgelawn Cemetery, in America's Sweetest Town, Clewiston. Those wishing to honor his memory may make memorial offerings to his church, the American Humane Society or the charity of their choice.

Kyle, Tim, Garland, Lanette and I thank our friends in Clewiston for the many prayers, kindnesses and expressions of sympathy extended to us during the illness and home going of our mother, sister, and wife, Kyra. We are sorrowful but not distressed because we believe she now realizes the hope of God's promise of external life in the heavenly kingdom.

Dry Season Starts Following a Wet October

Water levels are currently adequate to meet water supply needs into the dry season

South Florida transitioned into the dry season during the last days of October, a month that ended with above average rainfall across most of the South Florida Water Management District's (SFWMD) 16-county region.

"The region is well positioned for the dry season because water levels are up," said Susan Sylvester, SFWMD Chief of the Water Control Operations Bureau. "Looking ahead, we have a forecast of average rainfall for the next few months."

October Rainfall

District-wide October rainfall averaged 5.32 inches from Orlando to the Florida Keys, representing 141 percent of average, or 1.54 inches above average. Most areas of the District saw above average rainfall. Highlights of the month include:

- Broward County, the Southwest Coast and Martin and St. Lucie counties experienced some of the highest rainfall totals.

- The Water Conservation Areas saw significant rainfall as did the Big Cypress Preserve.

- The East Caloosahatchee Basin was the only area of the District to receive below average rainfall, with 2.39 inches, representing 70 percent of average, or a deficit of 1.02 inches.

- Lake Okeechobee received 3.86 inches of direct rainfall, representing 130 percent of average, or 0.89 inches above average.

2012 Wet Season Totals

The 2012 wet season ended with 42.85 inches of rainfall District-wide. This represents 116 percent of average, or 6.07 inches above average.

Above average rainfall was driven by the early start to the wet season in May and the historic deluge from Tropical Storm Isaac in late August. Among the wet season highlights:

- Eastern Miami Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties received the most rainfall in the District, with more than 50 inches of rain for the wet season.

- The Southwest Coast and East Caloosahatchee Basin were the only areas of the District that were slightly below average.

- Lake Okeechobee received 38.45 inches of direct rainfall, representing 125 percent of average, or 7.58 inches above average.

- During Isaac, the District moved 105 billion gallons of water to tide and storage areas following 14.85 inches of rainfall in a 72-hour period in an area of central Palm Beach County.

2012-13 Dry Season Forecast

South Florida is forecast to experience one of the few dry seasons having near-average rainfall in the past 14 years. Only two dry seasons, 1998-1999 and 2003-2004, have actually been about the historical average in that time frame, with two above average and 10 below average dry seasons.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Climate Prediction Center forecast calls for equal chances of slightly above or slightly below average rainfall for the first three months of the upcoming dry season.

Among the official forecast highlights for the 2012-2013 South Florida dry season:

- Near-normal precipitation is mostly likely during the first part of the dry season, from November to February

- A drier-than-normal trend may characterize March and April

- Average dry season precipitation: 12 to 15 inches in the interior and west to 15 to 21 inches in the east

- Long-term average winter temperature: 64 to 66 F in the interior and west to 67 to 69 F in the east

Dallas Townsend to Speak on Journey Stories

The series of Journey Stories speakers will continue at The Clewiston Museum on Tuesday, Nov. 13, 7 p.m. when Agriculture legend Dallas Townsend will weave an interesting look back in the National conditions and the South Florida agriculture opportunities that led to an unprecedented and historical migration of farmers and ranchers to the Lake Okeechobee farming area—known as the Glades—and the vast tracts of ranch lands in the adjoining areas.

Journey Stories is a Smithsonian traveling exhibit that depicts the migration of Americans across our great land, a pattern that continues today. Clewiston was one of only six communities in Florida selected to receive this prestigious exhibit. In addition to viewing the exhibit following the evening presentation, the exhibit is available during normal Museum hours, which are 9-4 on weekdays until Dec. 1. Saturday and evening viewings for groups are available by reservation.

The public is invited to this free event and there will be plenty of time following the presentation to tour the exhibit and to enjoy refreshments. The program is being made possible through a grant provided by the Florida Humanities Council and with technical assistance from the Smithsonian Institution.

Gas Price Update

Average retail gasoline prices in Florida have fallen 8.3 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $3.41/g on Sunday. This compares with the national average that has fallen 5.6 cents per gallon in the last week to $3.51/g.

Including the change in gas prices in Florida during the past week, prices yesterday were 3.1 cents per gallon higher than the same day one year ago and are 25.9 cents per gallon lower than a month ago. The national average has decreased 28.4 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 7.0 cents per gallon higher than this day one year ago.

"Even with Hurricane Sandy causing havoc on refineries and infrastructure in the Northeast, gasoline prices nationally have continued to trend lower," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Patrick DeHaan.

"It goes to show how much more significant the Gulf Coast is to this nation's energy backbone when such a massive storm causes no major rise in the national average. The good news is that average prices will likely continue to decline, perhaps to $3.35/gal nationally by Thanksgiving. For those in Sandy's wake, fuel availability remains difficult, and is the reason GasBuddy has implemented an emergency fuel availability service," DeHaan said. The Hurricane Sandy fuel availability site can be found by navigating to <http://www.gasbuddy.com/sandy/>.

Put Life Into Your Holiday

BY PASTOR JOHN HICKS
First United Methodist Church

Halloween wasn't over before the first Christmas merchandise was out. With the hustle and bustle of the holiday season upon us, I wanted to share some possibilities to help keep from getting blue amongst all of the reds and greens heading our way.

I've always been amazed at the discoveries that science has come up with to add vitality and longevity to the life we live. Research has revealed that close relationships help extend our lives. Studies have shown that men who kiss their wives every day live five years longer than men who don't. Good relationships are high-touch. The healing power of touch has been written about in journals. Science has shown that we need the equivalent of 17 affirming touches a day in order to thrive -- and our world around us is starving. Let mutual love continue. In the name of God, let's help each other thrive by making sure that we share at least 17 affirming hugs or touches each day ourselves.

Also, pet your pets. Pet all your loved ones: your spouse, your children, your grandchildren, your animals. Petting animals and loved ones lowers blood pressure.

In addition to reaching out and touching someone, studies have shown that variety does add spice to life. Use as your motto Isaiah 42:16: "Along unfamiliar paths I will guide them." Try some new food. Take a new route to work. Try a new book of the Bible. Break your daily routine in some small way. Do something wild. Just let go and let God.

And go barefoot. A study reported a number of years ago in USA Today revealed that those individuals who habitually kick off their shoes under the dining table or their desk or their pew tend to live three years longer than the average American.

In the Benedictine Monastic Order, the monks take off their shoes constantly -- for meals, for prayer, for conversation, for reading. Whenever shoes are not an absolute necessity, they go barefooted. Why? Bare feet are aware feet: aware of the earth, aware of holiness, aware of life. Feet that are bound for too long begin to stink. Souls that are bound up and cooped up for too long begin to stink as well. Let some fresh air into your soul. Go barefoot. And don't forget to laugh a lot. A cheerful heart is good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones. (Proverbs 17:22) Take a break and do something silly. There's holiness in humor. Laughter helps keep us from taking life too seriously. One research study revealed that over fifty percent of all illnesses in the test group were stress related. Laughter really is good medicine, especially when stress is concerned. The joy of the Lord is our strength.

So, hug frequently, go wild, go barefoot, and laugh often. Do so, and you will find that you will not only have holiday in your life, you will have life in your holiday. This is the day that the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it!

Postmaster Visits Pahokee Rotary

The Pahokee Rotary Club was pleased to have Mrs. Debra Babb, United States Postmaster of Pahokee, as the guest speaker this week. Mrs. Babb provided an overview about the Postal Service, which is more than just a delivery business—it exists to help customers accomplish tasks that are essential to them. Customers also need innovative solutions to their business or personal needs, clear information about products, convenient access, and responsive customer service.

She stated that the Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations and are required by law to cover their own costs, along with ensuring the highest standards of ethics and accountability in all that they do.

The U.S. Postal Service is a self-supporting government enterprise and the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation, 151 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. With nearly 32,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government (usps.com), the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $66 billion and delivers nearly 40 percent of the world's mail.

Black Enterprise and Hispanic Business magazines ranked the Postal Service as a leader in workforce diversity. The Postal Service has been named the Most Trusted Government Agency for six consecutive years and is the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute.

Good Health Focus of Diabetes Week Activities

With one in ten Palm Beach County adults being diagnosed as having diabetes, health partners in the county have joined together to get people screened for the disease and on a path to good health.

During diabetes week, Nov. 10 through 18, health centers, medical centers, private physicians, recreation centers, governmental centers, non-profit organizations and others will be hosting events. The focus of these activities is to provide diabetes screening and get those with diabetes and pre-diabetes into a system of care that will help them manage their disease.

Palm Beach County Health Department Director Dr. Alina Alonso said, "We are seeing the number of individuals diagnosed with diabetes continue to rise every year. As a community we need to join together and reverse this trend. Early detection, coupled with good disease management practices, can lead to good health."

Dr. Alonso added that one in three children born in 2000 will likely develop Type 2 diabetes in their lifetime.

The Board of County Commissioners has issued a proclamation declaring November 10-18 as Diabetes Week in the county and charged the residents of Palm Beach County to participate in the many activities centered around diabetes prevention and get on a path to good health.

Information on the many activities can be found by calling 211 or on the web at 211palm-beach.org, pbchd.com or by contacting one of the many participants.

Diabetes Week is sponsored by Palm Beach County Health Department, Palm Healthcare Foundation, Quantum Foundation, Board of County Commissioners, and 211 of Palm Beach and the Treasure Coast.

Character Counts!

The Sun Sentinel Character Counts! Program begins its 9th year this fall! Belle Glade Elementary would like to contribute to the program's success and will identify students at our school this year to showcase in the Sun Sentinel for outstanding demonstration of one or more of the district's character traits: Trustworthiness, Respect, Responsibility, Caring, Fairness and Citizenship.

The goal of character education is to help students develop socially, ethically, and academically by infusing character development into every aspect of the school culture and guidance curriculum. Students that best exemplify good character will be chosen by teachers and staff. Each student will receive a character counts certificate and recognition from Belle Glade Elementary. The students' picture will be posted on our Character counts bulletin board next to the main office.

Respect -November

Treat others with respect; follow the Golden Rule • Be tolerant and accepting of differences • Use good manners, not bad language • Be considerate of the feelings of others • Don't threaten, hit or hurt anyone • Deal peacefully with anger, insults, and disagreements.

Belle Glade Elementary is proud to congratulate Mrs. Kihola, Mrs. Rinehart, Ms. Butts, Ms. Villavisencio, Ms. Hytower and Ms. Edwards for getting a 5 Star Rating on their recent VPK Assessment! Our Pre-K students will eventually become our Primary and Intermediate students. Mrs. K and Mrs. R (and ECP's) are providing students with a strong academic foundation necessary for success in national standards like Common Core.

Pioneer Park Elementary

Science News

We are so excited that most of our fourth and fifth grade students have chosen their Science topic for the Science Fair! Students may choose to participate with a Science or Math project. We are advocating higher order thinking through asking questions that interest you, then formulating an experiment to answer that question. Kindergarten through fifth grade students may participate in an individual or class project.

The individual projects can be produced by one student with the guiding help of parents, teacher, or other adult mentor. Within the grades there are four different divisions, regular students, exceptional students, English Language Learners, and Gifted Learners. Each division requires a separate judging to receive a first, second and third place prize. First and second place winners are automatically entered in the District Fair, the final competition for the elementary age level.

Science Fair Steps:

Step 1: Testable Question - Projects begin with a question which can be answered through planning and performing an experiment.

Step 2: Writing a Hypothesis - The Hypothesis is the educated prediction of the outcome.

Step 3: Plan a safe experiment with minimal adult support - list the materials used and the steps in the process.

Step 4: Observing and Recording Data - Use a data log or science journal to record the observations and measurements of each experiment. The procedures should be repeated three times which will all then be organized and reflected in charts or tables. A Relationship to Math label will be used for all math project boards. Under this label, please identify all Math processes used to analyze data and the relationship those processes have to the conclusions of the investigation.

Step 5: Conclusions - explain the results of the investigation. These claims need to be supported by the evidence gathered in the experiment.

Ms. Jasmin's Reading Spot

Greetings fellow educators, parents and community members! After perusing the latest incoming data, my hat is off to everyone for the rising reading levels of our students! However, we need to go deeper with fluency and comprehension. Readers need fluency for comprehension and we must note that vocabulary is key! Therefore, let us please remember the four "P's" of vocabulary:

- Provide opportunities for reading wide and rereading volume with accountability.
- Pre-view the text to determine which words to teach.

• Pre-teach the text to determine which words to teach.

• Provide direct instruction and multiple exposures of the vocabulary in reading, writing, listening and speaking.

Farewell Ms. Harris

This week we said goodbye to Ms. Shirley Harris, a wonderful, dedicated, and talented educator who taught in the Palm Beach County school system for thirty six years.

On Wednesday, Oct. 31, Principal Miller, Ms. Harris' daughter and fellow co-workers surprised Ms. Harris in the media center after school. Ms. Harris was presented with an Appreciation of Service plaque, which Principal Miller read in her honor. Enjoy your retirement and time with family Ms. Harris, you have earned it! Happy Retirement!

Protect Yourself and Family From Mosquitoes

The Palm Beach County Health Department continues to monitor the presence of mosquito borne illnesses at 7 strategically placed sentinel chicken flocks and works closely with Palm Beach County Mosquito Control to monitor mosquito populations.

Blood samples from sentinel chickens in several parts of Palm Beach County have yielded positive results for West Nile Virus and St. Louis Encephalitis.

Health Department Director Alina Alonso, M.D. recommends residents remain vigilant to prevent mosquito bites and possible exposure to mosquito-borne illnesses.

“The recent wind storms and cooler temperatures have reduced the mosquito population,” said Dr. Alonso, “However, people will be outside even more so it’s a good idea to remain vigilant against mosquito bites.”

Drain And Cover!

Drain standing water to stop mosquitoes from multiplying! Drain water from garbage cans, house gutters, buckets, pool covers, coolers, toys, flowerpots or any other containers where sprinkler or rainwater has collected.

Discard old tires, drums, bottles, cans, pots, pans and other items that are not being used.

Cover vehicles and boats with tarps that do not accumulate water.

Empty and clean birdbaths and pet’s water bowls at least once or twice a week.

Maintain swimming pools in good condition and appropriately chlorinated. Empty plastic swimming pools when not in use.

Cover skin with clothing or repellent! Wear shoes, socks, and long pants and long-sleeves. This type of protection may be necessary for people who must work in areas where mosquitoes are present.

Repellent - Apply mosquito repellent to bare skin and clothing. Always use repellents according to the label. Repellents with DEET, picaridin, oil of lemon eucalyptus, and IR3535 are effective.

Use mosquito netting to protect children younger than 2 months old.

Cover doors and windows with screens to keep mosquitoes out of your house! Repair broken screening on windows, doors, porches, and patios.

Use air-conditioning when possible.

If outdoors at dusk to dawn, be cautious as mosquitoes are most active during these times; however some species of mosquitoes are also active during the day.

For more information on mosquitoes and the infections they can spread, log onto www.pbchd.com.

The Raiders, who have won the last four Muck Bowls against Pahokee, will try to make it five straight in one of the nation's most storied annual matchups.

Pahokee 32, Village Academy 20: Pahokee (4-4 overall) has moved to .500 for the first time this season and is on a three-game winning streak.

In the Blue Devils past three games – all wins – they have averaged 30 points per game on offense, while allowing just 13.7 points per game.

That should give Pahokee some encouragement heading into Friday's Muck Bowl at Anquan Boldin Stadium. The Blue Devils, losers of the last four Muck Bowls, are trying to win the annual game for the first time since 2007.

If Pahokee wins the Muck Bowl, it will finish the season at 5-4, which would give the team a winning final record for the first time since 2009

Glades Day's bye week

Glades Day (8-1 overall) used its bye week to have ESPN and the Under Armour Selection Tour visit its school, as senior running back Kelvin Taylor was presented with a commemorative game jersey and jacket at the Nov. 2 special ceremony.

Located inside the school's gymnasium, Taylor's teammates, classmates, family, coaches and teachers witness his latest honor.

Taylor, who will be graduating from Glades Day in December and will head to the University of Florida in early January, will be featured in the Under Armour All-American Game on Friday, Jan. 4 at Tropicana Field in St. Petersburg (ESPN, 5 p.m. airtime).

"It's a big honor," Taylor said. "I thank God, my family, my teammates, my coaches, my teachers and my classmates for all the support they've given me over the past four years. I'm proud of my offensive linemen, who have made it possible for me. I'm just going to soak up the moment and enjoy the all-star game just like I do everything else."

With that said, Glades Day will play in its next and final regular season game tomorrow night at home against South Fork, as the kickoff time is set for 7 p.m. at Schlecter Field.

Scientists Discover Enzyme that Improves Flavor of Ripening Tomatoes

The enzyme CXE1 will never be a household name, but a new University of Florida study suggests that tomato lovers owe it a debt of thanks nonetheless — without it, their favorite fruit might not be so tasty.

In a study published this week by Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, researchers with UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences announced their discovery of the enzyme and showed how the common tomato plant generates large amounts of it as the fruit ripens.

Chemical reactions triggered by CXE1 improve the fruit's flavor profile by reducing the presence of acetate esters, volatile chemicals commonly associated with plant defense and plant-to-plant communication, said molecular biologist Harry Klee, an eminent scholar with UF's horticultural sciences department.

"We do believe this phenomenon makes the fruit more palatable," Klee said.

Previous UF/IFAS tomato research has shown that consumers do not like the contributions that acetate esters make to tomato flavor. Many of them are pleasant in isolation — for example, butyl acetate has a sweet, banana-like odor — but don't match consumers' ideas of good tomato taste, he said. Klee and his colleagues are involved in a long-term effort to uncover genes and biochemical pathways responsible for producing the volatile chemicals that give fresh tomatoes their characteristic flavor and aroma.

Ultimately, they hope to show that great taste is dependent on just a handful of compounds in the right proportions. Breeders can use the information to guide their efforts to develop improved varieties. The team discovered CXE1 and four similar enzymes while analyzing tomato genes that appeared to play a role in establishing the acetate ester content of tomato fruit.

To better understand the role CXE1 plays in tomato flavor, the researchers investigated what would happen without it. They engineered tomato plants that produced very little of the enzyme. The fruit from those plants contained higher-than-normal levels of acetate esters. The team also analyzed Solanum pennellii and Solanum habrochaites, relatives of the tomato plant that produce green-skinned fruits unpalatable to people and seldom eaten by animals. The fruits contained large amounts of acetate esters, compared with tomato fruit. Furthermore, analysis showed that those plants produced little CXE1. In laboratory tests, CXE1 inhibited the activity of numerous acetate esters, though the enzyme was more active against some than others. It's possible, Klee said, that high CXE1 production in tomato plants is a trait that evolved in tandem with red-skinned fruit, providing a survival advantage. Perhaps the red color drew attention from animals and the pleasant taste inspired them to eat the fruit, leading to seed dispersal that established the plant in new areas.

"Because acetate esters are negatively correlated with consumer liking, we want to find ways to get rid of them," he said. "I always tell people there are probably five or 10 chemicals we need to optimize to achieve an ideal flavor balance in tomato, and I think CXE1 is probably part of that group."

Besides Klee, the research team included Charles Goulet, Melissa Mageroy, Nghi Lam, Abbye Floystad and Denise Tieman, all with UF's horticultural sciences department.

Give thanks for hunting opportunities

By Tony Young
FWC

November means the 2012-13 hunting season is in full swing. In this month's column, I cover almost everything you need to know about general gun, fall turkey, quail, snipe and the second phase of mourning and white-winged dove season.

The first thing you need to do is pick up a $17 Florida resident hunting license. Nonresidents pay $46.50 for a 10-day license or $151.50 for 12 months.

If you plan to hunt one of Florida's many wildlife management areas (WMAs), you'll also need a $26.50 management area permit, but don't forget to study the brochure for the specific area you plan to hunt, because dates, bag limits and rules differ greatly from area to area. You can get these brochures at tax collectors' offices in close proximity to the WMA, or you can download them from MyFWC.com/Hunting.

You can buy your license and permits by calling 888-HUNT-FLORIDA or going online at License.MyFWC.com. Have your credit card ready. You also can purchase them from tax collectors' offices and most retail outlets that sell hunting and fishing supplies.

The general gun season runs Nov. 3-Jan. 20 in Zone C; Dec. 1-Feb. 17 in Zone B; and in Zone A, the second phase of general gun season runs Nov. 17-Jan. 6. In Zone D, it starts Thanksgiving Day (Nov. 22) and lasts four days until Nov. 25. Two weeks later, the season reopens Dec. 8 and runs through Feb. 17.

Hunters can take bucks having at least one antler 5 inches or longer, but anyone hunting deer in Florida must have the $5 deer permit.

On private lands, hunters can take wild hogs year-round with no bag or size limits. On most - but not all - WMAs, there's also no bag or size limit on wild hogs, and hunters can take them during any hunting season except spring turkey. Check the WMA brochure to be certain.

Shooting sports: On target for fun for the whole family

From youngsters in 4-H and FFA shooting clubs to retirees, shooting sports are gaining in popularity in the United States.

The fastest growing groups of shooters? Women and retirees.

A recent study by the National Shooting Sports Foundation, found that more than 4 million women participate in target shooting in the United States. Also growing in popularity are Outdoor Women and women's self-defense programs that involve learning to use a gun.

This comes as no surprise to Jeff Wait and Jason Flesch at Okeechobee Shooting Sports, 7055 N.E. 48th Street in Okeechobee.

"More women are shooting," Jeff explained, adding that their women's self-defense class is one of their most popular offerings. Because some women feel intimidated in a class with men, Okeechobee Shooting Sports offers separate classes for women.

The class includes learning to shoot through a purse—instead of wasting precious seconds to remove the gun from the handbag.

Women who start with a self-defense class often find they enjoy target shooting as a hobby.

While in the past, shooting was a male-dominated sport, many wives now join their husbands for a day at the range, he explained.

"They're learning to shoot with a purpose," Jeff continued. "Some women start out in class timid and reserved and as they master the skills, that changes. Their confidence level goes from zero to 100."

Retiring "baby boomers" is another demographic showing increasing interest in shooting sports. Some come out just to try it—something to check off a "bucket list"—and find out they enjoy shooting. Many of these retirees are getting much more involved in the shooting sports and even competing in matches.

Others who have owned guns most of their adult lives now have more time to devote to the shooting sports and enjoy trying new types of shooting.

For those new to a community, a shooting range can be a place to make new friends with others who share their interests.

Okeechobee Shooting Sports is handicapped-accessible so even those in wheelchairs can enjoy the various shooting sports. The gunsmith shop can modify weapons to accommodate special needs.

Also growing in interest is IDPA (International Defensive Pistol Association) competitions.

"IDPA is a growing competition for concealed carry permit holders," said Jason.

While IDPA is traditionally a club sport with competitions sponsored by various clubs, Okeechobee Shooting Sports offers IDPA competitions supervised by the range staff.

"We've made changes to the way we operate to accommodate more people," he explained. Instead of an IDPA meet taking most of the day, 30 people can compete in two hours.

That means they have time to take advantage of other shooting opportunities while they are at the range.

In addition to standard rifle and pistol ranges, Okeechobee Shooting Sports offers five stand, trap and skeet, shooting galleries and 3D archery. They host Registered NSSA (National Skeet Shooting Association) and ATA (Amateur Trapshooters Association) shoots.

They have seen growing interest in the long-shooting area; the facility offers a 500-yard shooting experience three times a month, usually completely booked in advance. One day a month, the shoot allows use of a 50 caliber rifles.

The range also offers customers the chance to bring or rent automatic and large caliber guns. They even have some of these types of guns to rent, including a Barrett 50 cal rifle.

"People will say they only want to try it," said Jeff. "But it's like going to an amusement park. They come back and want to do it again."

And then there's the zombie shoot.

Every six weeks or so, starting at dusk, under the direction of range officers, shooters navigate a course featuring bleeding zombie targets. The zombie shoots are booked in advance.

"People drive three hours or better to come to a zombie shoot," said Jeff.

The facility also works with local youth groups, hosting shoots for 4-H and FFA clubs.

Many parents bring their kids out to learn to shoot. There is no age limit, so long as the child is responsible, parents provide proper supervision and safety rules are followed.

Even four-legged members of the family come along. Some hunters bring their dogs to the range to accustom them to the sound of gunfire. Other shooters bring well-mannered family pets who enjoy a day outdoors. The dog owners of course must follow safety rules.

The Okeechobee Shooting Sports complex covers 100 acres (with plans to expand) and includes a pro shop and a members' lounge, as well as a gunsmith shop. The complex is open Thursday-Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Monday-Wednesday by appointment. Rates for shooting are by the day. Memberships are also available but not necessary to shoot there.

Jeff said shooters who are used to paying hourly rates at indoor ranges are pleasantly surprised by the daily rates at the outdoor range.

He said they also pride themselves on providing a friendly atmosphere.

Popularity of shooting sports growing in lake area

The Okeechobee County area is home to a variety of shooting sports venues both for target shooting and hunting.

OK Corral Gun Club

The OK Corral Gun Club, 9449 N.E. 48th Street in Okeechobee, is located on a 300-acre parcel of land ideally suited for the Florida sportsman and offers a variety of shooting options including sporting clays, pistol range, rifle range, 3D archery, SASS Cowboy action and gun handling classes.

For those who wish to stay a little longer, RV and tent camp sites are available.

The facility, which has an Old West atmosphere, has a western street with facades of a cantina, church, grain and feed store, jail, hotel, Wells Fargo station, Tombstone hotel and train depot. Details such as a stage coach add realism to the scenario. Even the public restrooms are disguised, hidden inside a stage stop and a blacksmith shop.

Cowboy Action Shooting requires competitors to use firearms typical of the mid-to-late 19th century: single action revolvers, lever action rifles chambered in pistol calibers, side-by-side double barrel shotguns (also referred to as a Coach Gun) or 1897-style pump-action shotguns. Both original and reproduction guns are equally acceptable. Single Action Shooting Society (SASS) competitors are required to wear an Old West costume of some sort, and safety glasses must be worn while shooting. Competition involves a number of separate shooting scenarios known as "stages." Stages are always different, each typically requiring ten revolver rounds (shooters generally carry two single-action revolvers), nine or ten rifle rounds, and two to eight shotgun rounds. Targets typically are steel plates that ring/clang/ding when hit. The OK Corral Gun Club is proud to offer ten unique stages for Cowboy Action competitions.

A spacious clubhouse with a central stone fireplace also has a western flair. The club house is available for rental for private parties and club events, with catered meals available. An outdoor grilling area may be used with permission from staff.

The OK Corral Gun Club is proud to be the official home of the Okeechobee Marshals Cowboy Action Shooting Club and a member of the National Sporting Clays Association (NSCA). Call 863-357-2226 or email info@okcorralgunclub.com for membership information, show-up-and-shoot times, private event reservations, or to schedule a visit. Club hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., open 7 days a week to members and the public.

4H offers shooting sports for youth ages 8-18

The 4-H Shooting Sports Program is a vehicle for achieving youth development. The program teaches young people the safe and responsible use of firearms, principles of archery and hunting basics. Lifelong skill development is one of the main benefits of involvement in the 4-H Shooting Sports Program and applies to both youth and adults involved in the program. Specifically the 4-H Shooting Sports Program is designed to:

- Provide youth proper training in the use of firearms, archery equipment and other areas of the shooting sports.
- Provide thorough instruction in shooting sports safety.
- Develop life skills such as self-confidence, personal discipline, responsibility and sportsmanship.
- Create an appreciation and understanding of natural resources and their wise use.
- Provide volunteer instructors safe and proper instructional techniques.

Locally Glades, Hendry, Okeechobee and Palm Beach counties all offer 4-H Shooting Sports Programs.

Glades County: The Glades County 4-H Shooting Sports Program offers youth a chance to participate in both the rifle and archery disciplines. This is the third year that Glades County 4-H has offered the archery program. This program is led by Scott Bass and the club continues to grow. They currently practice at least once a month in Moore Haven. The Bullseye Brawlers Rifle Club is enjoying its first year in full swing. The club is led by Jacob Whidden and meets once a month at the Glades County Sheriff's Range. Both clubs teach safety and proper use of equipment. Youth involved in this program are given a chance to show off their skills in local and state-wide competitions. For more information please contact the Glades County 4-H Office at 863-946-0244.

Hendry County: The Hendry County 4-H Shooting Sports Program is comprised of air rifle, archery, and shotgun. The club is open to boys and girls ages 8 - 18 as of Sept.1, 2012. The club meets at the LaBelle Extension Office and the Clewiston 4-H Office at 3:30 p.m. the first and third Monday of each month. From there the club travels to the Hendry County Sheriff's Range in Pioneer. For more information, please contact 863-674-4092 or 863-983-1598.

Okeechobee County: The Okeechobee 4-H Sharpshooters club has been teaching firearm safety, sportsmanship and ethics since 1995. The club is open to kids ages 8 to 18. They shoot all disciplines and have found that kids involved in our program continue to become involved, civic-minded shooting sports enthusiasts and conservation-minded sportsmen. The increased knowledge, personal safety skills, leadership abilities and self-confidence gained in these beneficial programs have a very positive impact on our club members' lives as they grow into adulthood. For more information please call the Okeechobee Extension Office at 863-763-6469.

Palm Beach County: The AOA Club in Palm Beach County includes shooting sports. The adult leader is Jane Conway. For information on Palm Beach County 4-H, call the Palm Beach County Extension Office at 561-233-1731.
