Memorial Day Wreck on SR 80 Kills One

Car traveling at high rate of speed overturns on highway

A wreck on Memorial Day left one man dead after his vehicle overturned on State Road 80, the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office reported. The accident also left two other people seriously injured.

The accident happened shortly after 4 p.m. as the vehicle, a 1998 Honda coupe driven by 21-year-old Omar Cancino-Magana, of Okeechobee, was headed east on the highway. Information released by the sheriff's office explains that the vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed as the driver tried passing other vehicles. That is when the vehicle veered off the roadway, traveling into the grassy median, and the driver lost control of the car.

The car reportedly began over-

GLADES CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Glades Central Community High School (GCHS) is very proud of the Class of 2014. We held our commencement exercises on May 22. Special guests Anquan and Dionne Boldin were in attendance to present our valedictorian, Daron Keith Ingram Jr., with a $10,000 scholarship. The GCHS Class of 2014 earned hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarship money and we are the only school in the district to have two Gates Millennium Scholars, Joelishia Banfield and Daron Keith Ingram Jr. Whether our graduating seniors will be joining the work force, attending college or joining the military, we are extremely proud of all of their accomplishments.

GCHS IS "EXTREMELY PROUD OF ALL OF THEIR ACCOMPLISHMENTS."

Several elementary schools in the Palm Beach County School District received an exciting opportunity at the beginning of the school year: to participate in a new educational experience called the Walking Classroom, free of charge.

The Walking Classroom was created by the Walking Classroom Institute, a nonprofit organization that endeavors to improve the health and education of students by producing literary podcasts that allow students to learn while they walk.

The Walking Classroom provided teachers and students at five different Palm Beach County schools with WalkKits, which are preloaded with podcasts aligned to the fifth grade Language Arts Common Core Stan-

Early Learning Academy Graduates First Class

Children of migrant workers learn English in pre-kindergarten program at Pahokee High

BY MELISSA BELTZ

Twirling around in sparkling white dresses and shuffling back and forth in miniature dress shoes and ties, the graduating class of Pahokee High School's Early Learning Academy waited patiently in the wings until Pomp and Circumstance initiated the cue for their grand entrance on May 23.

The 12 four-year-old students were part of a special pre-kindergarten program, set up by Palm Beach County's Migrant Education Program, for children of migrant workers in the Glades area. After a long school year filled with frustrations, elations and plenty of learning, the 12 students of Ms. Kanysha Smith's class showed off what they learned in a song- and dance-filled presentation of the English language.

"I said a boom chicka boom!" the students sang out to their family and friends in the Pahokee High auditorium at the beginning of the ceremony. Nearly nine months ago, almost all of the 13 students -- one of whom was unable to attend graduation -- were solely Spanish speakers. They entered the Early Learning Academy not knowing a hint of English, but after months of persistence and commitment in the classroom, every student can speak well and understand English fluently, according to their teacher Ms. Smith.

"About 80 percent of the kids didn't speak English. All but one were Spanish speaking," said Ms. Smith of her first class of English Language Learners. "Now, they are kindergarten ready."

Letter to the Editor: How Annexation Works

Annexation is defined as "the adding of real property to the boundaries of an incorporated municipality, such addition making such real property in every way a part of the municipality." Annexations must be within municipality's reserve area, if one is established; not create an enclave; be contiguous to the city limits; and be reasonably compact.

There are two main ways in which unincorporated property can be annexed into a municipality: "voluntary" and "referendum" annexations.

Voluntary annexation occurs through the following:

- A property owner or owners (not renters) submits a petition to annex into a municipality.

- The municipality adopts an Urban Services Report (USR). The report states to what extent services to existing residents would need to be reduced within the next five years because of the annexation; to what extent taxes would need to be adjusted within five years to provide services to area to be annexed; and to what extent the area to be annexed would be developed for urban purposes.

- The report is filed with the county and the property owner. The property owner has 20 days after receipt of the USR to withdraw the petition for annexation.

- The municipality advertises with a map in a local newspaper.

- The municipality adopts the annexation ordinance (two readings).

- The annexation becomes effective when adopted.

Annexation by referendum occurs as follows:

- The municipality proposes the area to be annexed and prepares an Urban Services Report. The report is adopted by ordinance and filed with the county.

- The municipality adopts an annexation ordinance and sets an election date. A regular or special election can be held, not sooner than 90 days or later than 180 days from adoption of the annexation ordinance.

state actually comes to the community. Opportunities for savings or cost-avoidance are available through reduced duplication of services and economies of scale.

Annexation is one way municipalities are able to expand their borders to ensure economic, social and cultural diversity. Annexation would bring greater representation to the proposed area(s) and hopefully enhanced services. Those wishing to be annexed into the city limits must be aware that they will have increased taxes and fees associated with annexation. However, annexation can be a contentious issue because of its potential effect on property owners and residents. In addition, annexation is seen as a financial threat to those counties that provide municipal-like services to residents and businesses in unincorporated areas.

Some in the unincorporated land near Pahokee have complained about not being able to vote in city elections as they are not within the city limits. These individuals vote for county elected officials. Some in this group seem to blame the elected city commission for not wanting to annex them into the municipality. The annexation question needs to be put to the property/land owner from which the residents are renting. It is not feasible to want to be annexed into the city for services, but not favor higher taxes.

For annexation to occur the residents of said location must make sure the majority is in favor and proceeds to convince the property owner so the process can move along.

By David Ruiz, Pahokee resident

ANNEXATION IS DEFINED AS "THE ADDING OF REAL PROPERTY TO THE BOUNDARIES OF AN INCORPORATED MUNICIPALITY, SUCH ADDITION MAKING SUCH REAL PROPERTY IN EVERY WAY A PART OF THE MUNICIPALITY."

- The annexation is advertised in a local newspaper.

- Registered voters of the proposed area have the opportunity to vote on the proposed annexation. A simple majority (50 percent plus one vote) prevails.

If passed, the annexation takes effect on the date specified (within one year of the referendum). If failed or tied, the municipality shall not propose annexation in same exact area for two years.

Annexation increases a city's size and population, raising its level of political influence, its prestige and its ability to attract desirable commercial development. It may also increase its ability to attract grant assistance. State Revenue Sharing funds are allocated on the basis of population to counties and cities. The formula for distribution to cities relies more heavily on population. That means more funding from the

Memorial Day: More than Remembering

BY REV. SAMUEL S. THOMAS, PH. D.+
Saint Martin's Church

This Memorial Day weekend was more than just a holiday; it had to do with who we are as a people. By honoring those who went before us, and who sacrificed their lives, or parts of it, we learn more about ourselves. I had the privilege of sitting with the B-17 and B-24 flyers who came through Clewiston last weekend and who fought in World War II, talking about their missions, their fears, their reactions, the events that shaped them and realizing that this was one of the most creative, most inventive, most unified times in persons in making me who I am. In the same way that the great patriarchs of the Bible have shaped me, so too have those in our national past who have been responsible for providing us with a witness of courage, a testimony of belief in our values, a dedication to our society and what makes us a nation.

As I see the imprints of others who have gone before in my life, I realize Memorial Day is more than remembering; it is a recollection once more of who we are as a people and who we are des-so that we might be the people God intended us to be. May we be more than appreciative; may our self-understanding carry us forward as we recall their greatest of gifts to us.

If you would like to contact Rev. Thomas about this column or have an idea for one, please send an email to fatherthomas@saintmartins-clewiston.org.

our history. One of them said that was probably the greatest time in the history of the world; no doubt it was in many ways.

I reflected on what I knew about my own family; their participation in this great event and their contributions to the nation. I can only stand back with the greatest of respect as I think about those persons and those moments who have made me who I am and who have been with me in my formation. This Memorial Day, I hoped to reflect once more -- not only in thanksgiving for what has gone by, but in the part of those timed to be. That to me is far more than simply being thankful; it is an awareness of what those who have laid down their lives have imprinted on us all.

Those who were inspired to write the Holy Scriptures got it right. The genealogies, the origins were to mark those who follow; and thanks be to God for their imprints left on us. We have much to be thankful for as a people, as a nation: the creativity, the genius, the inventiveness, the richness, the sacrifice of those who gave their lives in the formation of this nation, who did so

Florida Department of Health Raises Awareness of Chikungunya Fever

FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The Florida Department of Health advises residents and visitors to be aware of chikungunya fever, a viral mosquito-borne disease that has made its way to the Caribbean countries from Africa, Asia and islands in the Indian Ocean and Western Pacific.

Travelers to these countries could carry the virus back to the United States and infect local mosquito populations.

"With a large number of people traveling to and from the Caribbean in Florida, we have been monitoring for possible imported cases," said Dr. Carina Blackmore, state public health veterinarian and deputy state epidemiologist. "We encourage all Floridians to practice the drain and cover method to minimize mosquito exposure."

Mosquitoes can transmit different viruses, including chikungunya, West Nile and Eastern equine encephalomyelitis. Chikungunya, like dengue, can be transmitted from an infected human to an Aedes mosquito, which in turn can bite another human and pass along the disease. Aedes mosquitoes are day biters which can lay eggs in very small water containers. Early detection of the symptoms and preventing mosquitoes from biting will help prevent the disease from spreading in the United States. During times of increased mosquito activity, local mosquito control districts will treat accordingly to ensure the safety of communities.

The Florida Department of Health has received three reports of imported cases of chikungunya fever to Florida from travelers who recently traveled to the Caribbean. One case is a 30-year-old woman in Miami-Dade County, the second case is a 29-year-old woman from Broward County, and the third case is a 44-year-old woman in Hillsborough County.

Symptoms of chikungunya usually begin three to seven days after being bitten by an infected mosquito and can include fever and severe joint pains, often in hands and feet. Other symptoms can include headache, muscle pain, joint swelling or rash. Chikungunya fever does not often result in death, but some individuals may experience persistent joint pain. There is currently no vaccine or medication to prevent chikungunya fever. If you feel that you may have contracted chikungunya, see your health care provider. People at increased risk for severe disease include newborns exposed during delivery, older adults (over 65 years) and people with medical conditions, such as high blood pressure, diabetes or heart disease. A person infected with chikungunya should stay indoors as much as possible until symptoms subside to prevent further transmission.

To minimize exposure to mosquitoes, practice the drain and cover method. Drain water from garbage cans, house gutters, pool covers, coolers, toys, flower pots or any other containers where sprinkler or rain water has collected, and discard any items that may collect water. Clean bird baths and pet water bowls twice a week.

If you must be outside when mosquitoes are active, cover up. Wear shoes, socks, long pants and long sleeves. You may also apply mosquito repellent to bare skin and clothing. Always use repellents according to the label.

Repellents with DEET, picaridin, oil of lemon eucalyptus and IR3535 are effective. Use mosquito netting to protect children younger than two months.

To learn more about the chikungunya virus, please visit www.floridahealth.gov/diseases-and-conditions/mosquito-borne-diseases/chikungunya.html.

Gas Price Update

Average retail gasoline prices in Florida have fallen 0.9 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $3.61/g Monday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 8,237 gas outlets in Florida. This compares with the national average that has increased 1 cent per gallon in the last week to $3.63/g, according to gasoline price website GasBuddy.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Florida during the past week, prices yesterday were 15.0 cents per gallon higher than the same day one year ago and are 11.8 cents per gallon lower than a month ago. The national average has decreased 2.0 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 2.1 cents per gallon lower than this day one year ago.

"The start to the summer driving season came with little fanfare," said GasBuddy.com Senior Petroleum Analyst Patrick DeHaan. "The national average has remained virtually unchanged for four days straight, and prices over Memorial Day weekend nationally ended up slightly under 2013's levels. Between now and mid-June we should see additional relief at the pump, and by the end of June, the national average could decline another 10 cents per gallon from where it currently stands. We're hopeful that hurricane season will make little impact, as several key organizations have said their forecasts call for fewer than average storms, which would certainly help motorists avoid seeing late summer price spikes," DeHaan said.

Palm Beach County Library System is Honored

Palm Beach County Library System named 2014 Florida Library of the Year and Best Florida Public Library Website

At its annual convention in May, the Florida Library Association (FLA) named Palm Beach County Library System (PBCLS) the Florida Library of the Year. PBCLS was recognized for the wide array of programs and classes offered at its 17 locations and through its outreach services which include:

- 102 programs in conjunction with the statewide initiative, Viva Florida 500, which commemorated Ponce de Leon's arrival in the Americas;

- Hosting best-selling authors like Tim Dorsey and Mary Jane Clark during the Writers LIVE! series;

- Hispanic Heritage Month festivities kicked off with a Food Truck Fiesta and mariachi music;

- Training of pre-school teachers who taught 400,000 preschoolers last year

PBCLS enrolled 10,000 Palm Beach County residents in the Summer Reading Program and taught 1,700 computer classes. Richard Mott, FLA Awards committee chair, said, "Innovative, responsive, diverse, inclusive – PBCLS truly has something for everyone." PBCLS also received the FLA Public Library Website

Award for its new website and web catalog launched in April 2013. Mott said the website was selected because, "The user experience was enhanced in many ways, including limiting library jargon, offering easy search options for both the website and catalog, and the clean, modern look that is uncluttered, aesthetically appealing and easy to use."

MacArthur Beach State Park

Park continues to provide natural science education in partnership with the school district

MacArthur Beach State Park, in partnership with the School District of Palm Beach County, has been providing standard-based field experience to more than 5,200 Palm Beach County students in grades one through 12 for more than three years. The hands-on learning experience students receive at the park is designed to enhance what they are already learning in the classroom. Additionally, teachers can receive continuing education hours by utilizing the curriculum guides from Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's Project WILD and University of Florida's Project Learning Tree. Also, to further the park's reach, all teachers are invited to log into the monthly Vodcasts to enrich their lesson plans.

"We are pleased to have the opportunity to partner with the Palm Beach County School District," says Stephanie Pew, former president of the Friends of MacArthur Beach State Park. "Our partnership has enabled us to further our reach to students and teachers in order to enhance their knowledge and appreciation of the natural world."

John D. MacArthur Beach State Park, Palm Beach County's only state park, is situated on a barrier island between the Atlantic Ocean and the Lake Worth Lagoon. The park is made up of 438 acres of pristine coastal land and contains four different communities or habitats, including seven species of plants and 22 species of animals on the endangered or threatened list. MacArthur Beach is truly an "Island in Time".

Inland Birding: Limpkin

Crossword Puzzle

BY MARGARET ENGLAND
Hendry-Glades Audubon

June. They often raise two broods of young during the breeding season.

Nests may be built on the ground, on dense floating vegetation, in bushes or at any height in trees. A clutch will have three to eight eggs which can be gray-white to deep olive. Both parents incubate the eggs during the day, but only the female remains with the eggs at night. The young, who hatch at about 27 days, are covered with down and are capable of walking, running and swimming. Both parents feed the chicks who leave their parents at about 16 weeks.

Information

Reports of breeding birds in inland Florida are needed for the Breeding Bird Atlas II surveys. This survey is conducted every 25 years and ends in 2016. Please send or phone your reports or photos of breeding birds, including Limpkins, to Margaret England. The location of the birds, date of observation and what activity was observed is needed. Go to the USGS website to view the survey data at: <http://www.pwrc.usgs.gov/bba/>

If you would like to participate in a driving trip of 10 square miles at Stormwater Treatment Area 5 (STA5) led by Hendry-Glades Audubon volunteers on June 14 or July 12, please email Margaret England at sta5birding@embarqmail.com. Include your name and contact information, including an emergency cell number for the trip day, the date you want to go and the number in your party. You may also leave this information at 863-674-0695 or 863-517-0202. Bring water, snacks and lunch. For a schedule of STA5 trips through December 2015, visit the HGAS website at: www.hendrygladesaudubon.org.

The STA5 Public Access area is open for walking and bicycling every Friday through Monday during daylight hours, except during the Sunday fall and spring duck hunts.

Limpkin breed in peninsular Florida, southern Mexico, the Caribbean, Central America and northern Argentina. In South America, this bird occurs wildly east of the Andes and west of the Equator.

It is named for its limping-like flight, characterized by its dangling legs and jerky wing beats. A group of limpkins is known as a "hobbling" of Limpkins.

The Limpkin is a large, dark brown bird, whose feathers on the head, neck, wings and much of the back and underparts are marked with white, making its body look streaked; its head and neck are light gray.

The Limpkin has long, dark-gray legs and a long neck. It has a long, heavy down-curved, yellowish bill with a dark tip. The closed bill has a gap just before the tip that makes it work like tweezers, which the limpkin uses to extract snails out of their shells.

Limpkin, locally known as the "wailing bird" or "crying bird," are easier to hear than to see. Their most common call is a loud, wild wail or scream which is most often heard at night, dawn or dusk. It has been used for jungle sound effects in Tarzan films and for the hippogriff in the film "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban." Other calls include wooden clicking, clucks or a piercing "bihk, bihk."

Limpkin can often be seen sitting on snags or foraging near the water's edge. They are being reported in wetland areas, ditches and ponds in inland Florida. They almost exclusively eat apple snails, but will eat other aquatic snails and bivalves that they find by sight or touch. Other less important prey include insects, frogs, lizards, crustaceans and worms.

In southern Florida, most nesting occurs from early February through May in central and northern Florida from late February through

Muffins for Moms and Donuts for Dads

Glade View Honors Moms and Dads in Pre Mothers and Fathers Day Program

GLADE VIEW ELEMENTARY

Mrs. Harrell, Mrs. Dailey and Mrs. Geffard, all kindergarten teachers at Glade View Elementary, organized the Muffins for Moms and Donuts for Dads program on Friday, May 9.

The program began with the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Jemiyah Browning, Eric Holloway, Kenyan Lucas and Jaden Putmon, then parents were serenaded with a medley of songs honoring moms and dads. Mairah Dixon and Isaiah Roberson performed a duet, while Tamyah Lawrence provided a poem saluting "Fathers." A slideshow presentation of the year in review, featuring the kindergarten students, was a reflection of how much the students had grown academically. Following the slideshow, students had an opportunity to choose one of their favorite books from their book baggies to read with parents and Mrs. Nelson-Posey, first grade teacher, shared some important information regarding preparing for first grade. What an incredible time had by all.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ADOPT/AMEND RULES OF THE SOUTH FLORIDA WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT

AFFECTED RULES: Chapters 40E-1, 40E-2, 40E-3, 40E-5, 40E-8, 40E-10, 40E-20, and 40E-24, F.A.C.

SUMMARY: The District is re-initiating rule development to amend its consumptive use permitting and water supply related program rules as part of the Florida Department of Environmental Protection's statewide effort (referred to as CUPcon) to improve consistency in the consumptive use permitting programs implemented by the water management districts (WMDs). The CUPcon goals include: 1) making the consumptive use permitting program less confusing for applicants; 2) treating applicants equitably statewide; 3) providing consistent protection of the environment; 4) streamlining the process; and 5) incentivizing behavior that protects water resources. This re-initiation will cure discrepancies between the versions of rules that were published on December 10, 2013, and acted on by the Governing Board on February 13, 2014, as well as correct some inadvertent text inaccuracies. There are no substantive changes as adopted by the Governing Board in February 2014.

The South Florida Water Management District (District) Governing Board has authorized publication of a Notice of Proposed Rule to amend Chapters 40E-1, 40E-2, and the incorporated "Basis of Review for Water Use Permit Applications within the South Florida Water Management District," which will be reorganized and renamed "Applicant's Handbook for Water Use Permit Applications within the South Florida Water Management District." The relevant portions of Chapter 40E-20, F.A.C., which govern general water use permits will be transferred to Chapter 40E-2, F.A.C., and Chapter 40E-20, F.A.C., will be repealed. Non-substantive amendments to Chapters 40E-3, 40E-5, 40E-8, 40E-10, and 40E-24, F.A.C., are also proposed to be consistent with this statewide effort.

If requested within 21 days of the date of this notice, a hearing will be held at the date, time and place shown below (if not requested, this hearing will NOT be held):

July 10, 2014, beginning 9:00 a.m.

STATE OF FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION NOTICE OF AGENCY ACTION

The Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) gives notice that it has approved a Source Removal Report/Natural Attenuation Monitoring Plan pursuant to Rule 62-780.690(5)(a), F.A.C., prepared and submitted by URS Corporation for the Former Florida Favorite Fertilizer Facility (a/k/a: Wedgworth Farms, Inc.), FDEP Facility ID No. COM_299531, located at 28033 U.S. Highway 27 South, Moore Haven, Florida 33471.

Complete copies of the Natural Attenuation Monitoring Plan Approval Order (Order) and related materials, are available for public inspection during normal business hours 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the FDEP, South District Office, 2295 Victoria Avenue, Suite 364, Ft. Myers, Florida 33902-2549.

A person whose substantial interests are affected by this Order may petition for an administrative hearing under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S. The petition must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received) by the Department's Agency Clerk in the Office of General Counsel at 3900 Commonwealth boulevard, Mail Station 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000, within 21 days from publication of this notice.

Pursuant to subsection 120.569(2), F.S. and Rule 28-106.201, F.A.C. a petition for an administrative hearing shall contain the following information: (a) the name, address, and telephone number of each petitioner; the name, address, and telephone number of each petitioner's representative, if any; the facility owner's name and address, if different from petitioner; the FDEP facility number, and the name and address of the facility; (b) a statement of when and how each petitioner received notice of the Department's action or proposed action; (c) an explanation of how each petitioner's substantial interests are or will be affected by the Department's action or proposed action; (d) a statement of the disputed issues of material fact, or statement that there are no disputed facts; (e) a statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including a statement of the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the Department's action or proposed action; (f) a statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the Department's action or proposed action; and (g) a statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action petitioner wishes the Department to take with respect to the Department's action or proposed action.

Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the FDEP have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above. Mediation is not available in this proceeding.

A petitioner shall mail a copy of the petition to the applicant at the address indicated above, at the time of filing. A petition for administrative hearing must contain the information set forth below and must be filed (received) with the Agency Clerk in the Office of General Counsel, 3900 Commonwealth Boulevard, MS 35, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-3000, AgencyClerk@dep.state.fl.us, before the deadline. The failure of any person to file a petition within the appropriate time period shall constitute a waiver of that person's right to request an administrative determination (hearing) under Sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., or to intervene in this proceeding and participate as a party to it. Any subsequent intervention (in a proceeding initiated by another party) will be only at the approval of the presiding officer upon the filing of a motion in compliance with Rule 28-106.205, F.A.C.

A petition that disputes the material facts on which the Permitting Authority's action is based must contain the following information: (a) The name and address of each agency affected and each agency's file or identification number, if known; (b) The name, address, any email address, telephone number and any facsimile number of the petitioner; (c) the name, address, any email address, telephone number, and any facsimile number of the petitioner's representative, if any, which shall be the address for service purposes during the course of the proceeding; and (d) a statement of how the petitioner's substantial interests will be affected by the agency determination; (e) a statement of when and how each petitioner received notice of the agency action or proposed decision; (f) a statement of all disputed issues of material fact. If there are none, the petition must so indicate; (g) A concise statement of the ultimate facts alleged, including the specific facts the petitioner contends warrant reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action; (h) A statement of the specific rules or statutes the petitioner contends require reversal or modification of the agency's proposed action including an explanation of how the alleged facts relate to the specific rules or statutes; and (g) A statement of the relief sought by the petitioner, stating precisely the action the petitioner wishes the agency to take with respect to the agency's proposed action. A petition that does not dispute the material facts upon which the Permitting Authority's action is based shall state that no such facts are in dispute and otherwise shall contain the same information as set forth above, as required by Rule 28-106.301, F.A.C.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formulate final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the Permitting Authority's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this written notice of Intent to Issue Air Permit. Persons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the Permitting Authority on the application have the right to petition to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the requirements set forth above.

Mediation: Mediation is not available for this proceeding. EPA Review: EPA has agreed to treat the draft/proposed Title V air operation permit as a proposed Title V air operation permit and to perform its 45-day review provided by the law and regulations concurrently with the public comment period, provided that the applicant also transmits an electronic copy of the required proof of publication directly to EPA at the following email address: hazziez.natasha@epa.gov. Although EPA's 45-day review period will be performed concurrently with the public comment period, the deadline for submitting a citizen petition to object to the EPA Administrator will be determined as if EPA's 45-day review period is performed after the public comment period has ended. The final Title V air operation permit will be issued after the conclusion of the 45-day EPA review period so long as no adverse comments are received that result in a different decision or significant change of terms or conditions. The status regarding EPA's 45-day review of this project and the deadline for submitting a citizen petition can be found at the following website address: http://www.epa.gov/region4/air/permits/florida.htm.

Objections: Finally, pursuant to 42 United States Code (U.S.C.) Section 7661d(b)(2), any person may petition the Administrator of the EPA within 60 days of the expiration of the Administrator's 45-day review period as established at 42 U.S.C. Section 7661d(b)(1), to object to the issuance of any Title V air operation permit. Any petition shall be based only on objections to the permit that were raised with reasonable specificity during the 30-day public comment period provided in the Public Notice, unless the petitioner demonstrates to the Administrator of the EPA that it was impracticable to raise such objections within the comment period or unless the grounds for such objection arose after the comment period. Filing of a petition with the Administrator of the EPA does not stay the effective date of any permit properly issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 62-213, F.A.C. Petitions filed with the Administrator of EPA must meet the requirements of 42 U.S.C. Section 7661d(b)(2) and must be filed with the Administrator of the EPA at: U.S. EPA, 401 M Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20460. dards. Each podcast lasts about 15 minutes and includes a lesson plan and comprehensive quiz to supplement the material. Gove Elementary School was the only school in the Glades to participate in the Walking Classroom this year, and as the school year comes to a close, students and teachers alike are giving positive reviews of the new education experience.

"We were very excited about this," said Ellen Smith, school wellness coordinator at Gove. "The stories are creatively done and age appropriate. They are good for younger students." Both fourth and fifth grade students at Gove participated in the Walking Classroom and used the WalkKits as support in various units. Fourth grade, for example, used the WalkKits for a special unit during Black History Month and both grades learned how to check their heart rate. Smith said teachers used the WalkKits mostly during transition times, when students walked from one classroom to another, such as on their way to lunch or to specials like art, music and physical education. Smith also used the WalkKits during her physical education classes regularly. "The kits have different stories that are about 15 minutes each and they already have materials for them. Teachers can look at the outline and say, 'Hey, this might help me cover my history component today,'" said Smith. "Students fill out pre-questions and then when they come back they have a test already made out for that particular story. That's what's made it so user-friendly." Smith said teachers especially like the WalkKits because students listen quietly and intently to educational stories on their way to another classroom, instead of shuffling along pulling at each other's hair and getting into trouble. Gove students like the WalkKits, as well. In fact, one of Smith's students told her they felt like they had moved into the 21st century because of the Kits! "[The Walking Classroom] is a nice, easy, friendly tool that teachers can use for down times," said Smith. "It's a great aid for the future."

Using DLM Early Childhood Curriculum for English Language Learners, Ms. Smith taught her students how to speak, read and write in English.

"The curriculum is based on the Common Core Standards," said Ms. Smith. "There's a lot of music, pictures, oral language exercises, speaking and writing. The students know their opposites, their colors and they can even do some simple math."

To say that Ms. Smith was proud of her students would be an understatement. Catching her breath and brushing away a few tears, Ms. Smith bid farewell to her graduates, her first class of future successes of the Early Learning Academy.

"It has been a tremendous year," began Ms. Smith. "I'm going to miss you, but it is now time for you to go on to Kindergarten. It is time for you to soar with greatness."

The Early Learning Academy at Pahokee High School is currently accepting students of migrant workers for the 2014/15 school year. Students must be four years old as of Sept. 1, 2014. For more information, please contact Carolyn Vickers, social services facilitator, at 561-992-2122.

Second Annual Playwriting Contest in Loving Memory of Clarence Jones

Southwest Florida invited to compete for cash prize and scripted read

Clarence Jones

FIREHOUSE COMMUNITY THEATRE

The Firehouse Community Theatre (FCT) of LaBelle proudly announces the second annual Clarence "Bud" Jones playwriting competition. The legacy of Bud Jones, a veteran Clewiston English teacher and theatre devotee, is again being honored by his family, John and Betty Jones, of LaBelle. FCT is honored to be chosen to facilitate this project, designed to celebrate and showcase theatrical arts in southwest Florida. The competition welcomes full-length, previously unpublished plays, written by authors with a southwest Florida connection.

A fee of $25 must accompany the manuscript, which may be submitted electronically or by mail and received prior to Aug. 1. The blinded scripts will then be reviewed by a panel of judges, including community members from education, library, publishing and theatrical backgrounds. Cash awards for authors of first, second and third place winners are $500, $200 and $100, respectively.

Additionally, FCT will produce a scripted reading of the first place entrant during its 2014/15 season. The 2013 Clarence "Bud" Jones Competition was won by Chuck Wood, of Lehigh Acres, Fla., for his play, "Up Close at a Distance," which will be presented on the FCT stage in February 2015. Extensive competition information and forms are found online at www.firehousecommunitytheatre.com or by phone, 863-675-3066.

About Clarence Jones

Clarence Jones, or Bud, as he was known to his friends and family, moved to Clewiston from Ohio in 1973 and taught at Clewiston High School. From 1985 to 1992, Bud owned and operated the Flower Express flower shop in Clewiston and was well known in the community.

Bud always liked the theatre! He acted, directed and was involved in all facets of drama while at Eastern Kentucky University. Upon his arrival to Clewiston, he worked with the students at Clewiston High School on several spring performances. He also worked with students and first responders in Clewiston during disaster training exercises called, "disaster drills," and assisted with the stage lighting design when the John B. Boy auditorium was built.

Bud's last production was with the Actors Community Theatre of Clewiston in 1989, when he directed "Annie Get Your Gun," as well as acting the roll of Buffalo Bill Cody in the play. Bud passed away in 1994 and is buried in Clewiston.

He left behind his love of the theatre with his family, most importantly his brother, John Jones. John and his wife Betty wished to honor Bud's memory by creating this competition in his name.

SFWMD Water Levels Positioned Well for the Wet Season Start

Water resources are managed to balance varied needs

South Florida's water levels are at seasonally normal levels heading into the 2014 wet season that is forecasted to produce near to slightly below-average precipitation, the South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) and the National Weather Service reported at a joint briefing earlier this month.

"A combination of timely rainfall and proactive water management during the dry season allowed current water levels to be at a beneficial level for 7.9 million residents and the environment," said Susan Sylvester, SFWMD chief of the Water Control Operations Bureau. "Nevertheless, we continually evaluate conditions because Florida has unexpected weather extremes that can quickly change water conditions across large areas."

to date this dry season, which is 94 percent of average, or a deficit of 1.05 inches. Well-timed rainfall events in key locations during this time period stabilized regional water supplies during the driest portions of the dry season.

In recent weeks, dry days have helped to position water levels at their regulation schedules for adequate water supply while making room in storage areas, such as the water conservation areas and lakes for summer rains as South Florida enters the hurricane season on June 1.

The regulation schedules are federally authorized operating plans designed to set water levels, based on a host of factors, to help balance competing demands on a resource, such as a lake or reservoir.

- On average, South Florida's wet season begins around May 20 and ends around October 13, lasting for about 21 weeks.
- Typically, about two-thirds of annual rains fall during the wet season, or approximately 35 inches out of 52 inches.
- Since 1932, virtually all wet seasons have produced two to four feet of rainfall.
- June is usually South Florida's wettest month.
- The wet season has three general phases: Memorial Day weekend through July 4 weekend, which are typically the wettest six weeks of the year; early July through mid-August, which are hotter and often drier; and late August through October, which are characterized by highly variable rainfall mainly due to tropical activity and cold fronts.

Released on May 20, the National Weather Service's 2014 wet season forecast calls for:

- A late start to the rainy season (median start is May 20 on the southeast coast and May 27 in the interior and west coast.)
- Near to slightly below-average precipitation, with June potentially being the wettest month relative to normal
- Above-normal temperatures -- one to two degrees Fahrenheit -- more noticeable in the overnight/early morning
- El Niño to develop during the summer, which typically places South Florida in a transition zone between Caribbean dryness and slightly more precipitation across the southeast U.S. — this was a factor in developing the near to slightly below-average wet season forecast

Current Conditions
South Florida has seen 15.30 inches of rain

One of the goals is to achieve the lowest desirable water levels going into the hurricane/wet season. The hurricane season officially ends on Nov. 30.

Lake Okeechobee stood at 12.79 feet NGVD on May 20, which is 0.45 feet below its historic average for this time of year.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which is responsible for managing the lake's levels, has been making regulatory releases to the Caloosahatchee River to help meet the lake's established regulation schedule.

It is too early to predict how the wet season will impact lake management during the coming months.

During the past 16 years, the dry period of November through April produced above-average rainfall twice and near normal rainfall five times, with the rest being below average.

South Florida Wet Season Facts

Wet Season Preparation

SFWMD maintenance and infrastructure upgrades are critical to the optimal operation of the regional flood control system of nearly 2,100 miles of canals and 2,000 miles of levees and berms. During the past six years, the District has invested $276 million in essential maintenance work, including:

- Hardening pump stations
- Overhauling gated spillways
- Replacing project culverts
- Dredging canals
- Stabilizing canal banks
- Enhancing treatment wetlands

The District also conducted its annual "Hurricane Freddy" exercise on May 22 as part of the agency's emergency operations readiness for hurricane season.
