Earl Grey, Governor-General, of Canada, and President Diaz of Mexico, of President Roosevelt's invitation to send delegates. The Conference will discuss the situation with regard to the natural resources of the respective countries and help prepare a general plan adapted to promote the welfare of the Nations concerned in accordance with President Roosevelt's suggestion.

This International Conference will meet at the White House by President Roosevelt's invitation. It will not be a large gathering as was the Conference of Governors at the White House last May, or the joint Conservation Conference last December between the National Conservation Commission, the Governors and the representatives of State Conversation Commissions and Conservation Committees of National organizations. The attendance will be limited to the representatives of Canada and Mexico and representatives of the State Department of the United States Government and of other Executive Departments which can render particular assistance to the Conferees in their deliberations, and the National Conservation Commission.

Canada has already taken active steps in preparation for the Conference and recently sent to the National Conservation Commission a number of carefully prepared maps which show the present statue of the public lands of the Dominion as well as the distribution of the principal natural resources and the development of its transportation systems. The Canadian authorities have also gathered together and sent to the Chairman of the Commission a comprehensive collection of Government documents bearing on the natural resources of the country. These have been carefully indexed and bound together according to subjects. They will be used at the forthcoming Conference.

President Roosevelt feels that the connection between the United States and the two Nations which lie to the North and South is so intimate that they can consider their mutual interests with regard to natural resources from the standpoint of the general welfare of the continent with small regard to the political boundary lines which separate them. Indeed, it is said that he considered inviting Canada and Mexico to the first Conservation Conference at the White House but that he refrained from doing so because he was unwilling to run the remotest risk of asking these two Nations to associate themselves with the Conservation movement before it was certain that it was going to succeed. Now that success is assured he feels that since the two Nations have identical interests and identical aspirations they can work together along Conservation lines just as the represenatives of the States work together without regard to State boundaries.
