

CAPT. EVAN P. HOWELL DEAD.

Well Known Georgian and Prominent Newspaper Man Passes Away.

Atlanta, August 8.—Captain Evan P. Howell died Sunday afternoon at 12:22 o'clock at his residence in West End.

Captain Howell was for years Managing editor of The Atlanta Constitution. He was connected with that paper with the late Henry Grady. He was mayor of Atlanta, 1903-1904. He had served several terms in the Georgia legislature. He was a gallant Confederate soldier.

The end came calmly and peacefully. The sleep into which he sank late Saturday afternoon was unbroken to the end. Occasionally it appeared that he would regain consciousness, and he would speak a few words, only to fall asleep again.

During the late morning his breathing became more and more subdued, and at noon members of his family realized that the end was only a few minutes away. His death at 12:22 o'clock was scarcely perceptible. With out a struggle and without a movement life passed from him. A moment life lapsed before it was realized that he was dead.

His funeral will take place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence. The interment will be in Westview cemetery.

Captain Howell is survived by his wife, Mrs. Julia E. Howell, and seven children—Hon. Clark Howell, Jr., Hon. Albert Howell, Jr., Mrs. Robert L. Foreman, Mrs. Ida Cramer, Miss Rosalie Howell, Mrs. Byron Bower and Evan P. Howell, Jr. His brothers are Colonel Albert Howell, Sr., Charles A. Howell and Clark Howell, Sr. His sisters are Mrs. Nathan Lyon and Mrs. Park Woodward.

Priceless Collection of Antiques.

San Francisco, August 8.—The Examiner says that Thomas Welton Stanford, of Melbourne, brother of the late Senator Stanford, has offered to donate to Stanford University an almost priceless collection of antiques, which he says were collected for him from Egyptian tombs by the Astral body of a blacksmith mystic, who took but 30 seconds for the round trip from Egypt to Australia. The name of the blacksmith medium or mahatma is C. Bailey, and it is said that some of the leading scientists of the world believe in his work as communer with the inhabitants of the astral world and his ability to perform seeming miracles. Dr. Jordan, however, has made it clear that this collection, the list of which includes many articles of great value as antiquities will not be accepted, basing his objection on the openly avowed method of its collecting.

Narrow Escape from Death.

New York, August 8.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and Mrs. Morton had a narrow escape from serious injury when their automobile ran into an Eighth avenue car at Twenty-fourth street. Mr. and Mrs. Morton were on their way across town with two friends, whom they had met at the Pennsylvania railroad depot, when, in attempting to avoid a southbound car, the wheels slipped, and the machine struck the car a glancing blow. The conductor was thrown from the platform and slightly hurt, and the automobile was temporarily disabled, but not further damage was done.

Mute Child Burns to Death.

Atlanta, August 8.—With her clothing on fire and the flames, leaping about her body and into her face, Millie Silverman, the 9-year-old daughter of Isaac Silverman, of 147 Piedmont avenue, stood on her front porch Sunday evening at twilight unable to cry out for help because she was a mute. Her uncle discovered her and took her up in his arms, and did not seem to care for the flames. His face and hands were badly burned. The child had inhaled the fire and her internal injuries caused her death.

Train Kills Cotton Choppers.

Hillsboro, Tex., August 7.—A fast Cotton Belt passenger train, somewhat belated, crashed into a party of negro cotton choppers about a mile and a half east of town shortly after midnight, killing Ray Edwards and his wife and badly mangling Henry Thompson and his wife. A child of Edwards was run over by the train, but was unharmed. The negroes, tired of chopping cotton, had camped on the track, thinking the train had passed, and were asleep when the train struck.

Gainesville, Ga., August 8.—One negro is reported killed and several wounded as a result of a riot at a negro campmeeting at Klondike, a station on the Gainesville Midland railway, 11 miles below Gainesville.
