

If a Cow gave Butter

mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food—medicine in the world.

A calf recently died of grief at Montclair.

Atlanta, Georgia, is to have a new daily paper soon.

At any rate the yellow fever is not near so fatal as it was in bygone days.

President Andrew Sleight predicts a large attendance of University students.

Cuba has thirty varieties of palms, the royal palm being the most graceful of all trees.

New York has reached a population of more than 4,000,000. It is the great city of the world.

Take no chances. Screen out the mosquitoes in every way possible. Above all, sleep under good mosquito bars.

Editor Wallace Stovall, of Tampa, is in Kentucky drinking mint juleps with Editor Watterson.

President Roosevelt would make a great baseball player, judging from the way he covers the entire field.—Atlanta Journal.

An Oklahoma man thinks mosquitoes go mad, like dogs, and that it is the bite of these that produces yellow fever. Muzzle the mosquitoes.

It would seem to an outsider that if Col. Estill, of the Savannah News, were to announce for governor of Georgia he would have almost a walk-over.

The Bermuda onion is now in high favor with the vegetable growers on the east coast and a great deal of attention is going to be given to its cultivation. It is believed that it will soon take its place beside the orange and the pine.

The county clerk's office was investigated in Jasper Tuesday by an accountant an ex-Clerk I. J. McCall was found short in his accounts to the amount of $2,556.09 and the business of the county being loosely conducted.—White Springs Herald.

Mr. S. J. Sligh, of the firm of S. J. Sligh & Co., of Jacksonville, does not for a moment admit that the Cuban tomato, pineapple, orange or grapefruit will compare in flavor, taste or keeping quality with those grown in Florida.

Notwithstanding the prevalence of yellow fever in the city the Pensacola News has moved into new and commodious quarters, put in a 10-ton Goss perfecting press and a multi-matrix Mergenthaler. We certainly rejoice in its evidence of prosperity.

The Tallahassee Capitol seems to think that Broward is making a good governor because he did not appoint the editor of this paper to the Marion county judgeship. If this is his only claim to greatness it rests on a very slender thread.

If our esteemed contemporary expects to be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination he ought not to begin his campaign by poking fun at the democratic executive committee. Indeed, he ought to aid this paper in holding up the hands of the committee. The way to be a democrat is to be a democrat.

Recent Marriages.

Thursday evening at Youmans, near Tampa, Miss Flossie Robertson and Mr. H. G. Kean, of Dunnellon, were united in marriage. The ceremony was a very quiet one and witnessed by a few friends and immediate relatives.

Mrs. and Mr. Kean left shortly after the wedding for Washington, New York and other eastern cities, and on their return will reside in the "Phosphate City," where the groom is marshal and prominent in other businesses.

Mrs. Kean is a charming young woman and for several years resided at Tampa, where she was senographer in the office of Col. John P. Wall.

The Ocala Banner wishes the young couple a big share of life's prosperity and happiness.

Mr. James H. Watson, of Tampa, general manager for Armour & Co. along the west coast, was married a few days ago at Canandaigua, New York, to Miss Mary Pauline Foster, a society girl of that city. Miss Foster has spent the past several winters at her father's orange grove at St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson will make their home at Tampa.

Mr. Claude C. Morrow and Miss Shellie Hineley, a popular young Madison couple, were married on the afternoon of September sixth at the bride's home. They left at once for Tallulah Falls and other points in Georgia to spend their honeymoon.

Mr. Roy K. Downing, of Interlachen, and Miss Pauline Manthey, of Chicago, were married in Jacksonville Thursday by Rev. E. F. Ley. Mr. Downing is a successful orange grower and truck farmer.

Whitewash.

As soon as the rainy season ends will be a good time to whitewash. Whitewash all unpainted fences, out-houses and the trunk of trees.

The Pacific Rural Press certifies to the following recipe as a good one: Lime, 30 pounds; tallow, 4 pounds; salt, 5 pounds. Dissolve the salt in water used in slaking the lime, stir in the tallow while the heat remains from slaking, and add enough more water to make the wash flow well from the brush.

The Delineator for October.

From an artistic viewpoint, as well as that of fashion, the October Delineator surpasses even the high standard it has attained. Many pages are given to the styles of the month, twenty pages in color being a noteworthy departure.

The Times-Union has discovered a Pepper at Punta Gorda that is certainly "hot stuff," and there seems to be no end to its uses. This Pepper has been used in prohibition campaigns throughout the state with great success and seems to be equally valuable in settling the Sabbath question, as well as in disentangling the think tanks of those who have become daffy on Christian Science. What it could accomplish if applied in warming up the doctrine of vegetarianism remains to be seen.—Palatka Advertiser.

The Tallahassee True Democrat is saying some things so pointed as to be almost personal about the doings at the capitol and the conduct of some of the state officials and their attaches, yet the Daily Capital doesn't seem to know that there is such a paper printed at Tallahassee as the Tallahassee True Democrat. The Daily Capital has the opportunity, if it wants to take advantage of it, to keep itself busy at home without paying the least attention to the Marion county democratic executive committee.

Quite a sensation was created at Pella Wednesday afternoon by the arrest of Dr. S. M. Gonzalez for publicly saying that there is no yellow fever in Pensacola and that the present scare was only for the purpose of getting graft from the public and that there was not a word of truth in the bulletins posted. The doctor served in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, where he received much commendation in his assistance in cleaning Havana.

Didn't Want 'Country Hay.

There was a jolly crowd of traveling men in the city Thursday, and among them were Arthur Doyle and W. W. Stripling, two of the most original that ever picked up a salesman's grip.

While seated in the lobby of the Brown House, Arthur—the irrepressible—sprung something new. That's hard for anyone who knows Arthur to believe, but it's a fact, and it was on Stripling and provoked a hearty laugh. Arthur says that Mr. Stripling had been in want of a shave for a week or two recently. He was on his round, and went into a store in a nearby town that had just been established, and introduced himself to the proprietor.

"What can I do for you?" inquired Mr. Proprietor, in a sour manner. "I am representing the C. B. Vandeman company, of Jacksonville," replied Stripling, as he picked up and began to munch a dried apple, casting his eye about for the water pail. "We want to get acquainted and do some business. I have been told you were a close buyer, and I have come to give you some close prices on hay?"

Glancing at Stripling's unshaven face, the merchant turned upon his books with the remark, "We don't want any country hay today."

There's a point to this which a traveling man can appreciate, with the exception of Stripling.—Gainesville Sun.

Devoured by Worms.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food in not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother.

On Life's Road Together.

At the residence of Mr. A. Long, of Grahamville, on Sept. 10, Mr. R. M. Long, of Pats Island, and Miss Iola Wellhoner, of Grahamville, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. A. O. Hiscock, of Norwalk, officiating. This paper extends congratulations and best wishes.

Let it Go on Record.

The Braidentown Herald gave the Marion county democratic executive committee one of the hottest roasts it ever received because of its usurpation of power in impeaching the governor for appointing Mr. Bell county judge of Marion county without the approval of the committee.—Ocala Star.

Good News from Texas.

There seems to be a general belief among farmers who have watched the boll weevil this season that there is some insect playing ball with the weevil. The government boll weevil experts should get busy and find out about it.—Texas paper.

The work of ballasting the roadbed of the Florida East Coast railway has begun on the north end and will continue until completed between this city and Jacksonville. The work, however, is being done under difficulties due to the heavy rainfalls.—St. Augustine Record.

President Roosevelt will soon take his long promised trip to the south-east and visit the old home of his mother at Roswell, Ga. There will be no mistaking the cordiality and sincerity of the Georgia hospitality that awaits him, choruses the Georgia newspapers.

The Daytona people say that local option will carry in that place sure. Putnam county is also quite certain to go dry and Clay county will follow. If Marion falls into the dry column the state will soon be as dry as a tin-box.—Gainesville Sun.

Mr. James Embly, of Miami, was united in marriage several days ago to Miss Edith Griffin, of Jacksonville, at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Embly is a well known druggist of the Magic City.

The Lawyer's Great Opportunity.

In his address before the American Bar Association on "Professional Purities," Henry St. George Tucker, commenting on Mr. Roosevelt's remarks before the Harvard alumni, said:

"The serious charge made by the president against some of the members of our profession must give us pause. His recognized position in the country of stimulating lofty ideals in life, as well as his recognition of the position of our profession in moulding public sentiment in the country, forces upon us, willingly or unwillingly, as an association, the inquiry not only whether the charge be true but also the broader inquiry whether the ethics of our profession rise to the high standard which its position of influence in the country demands.

"Surely no more important question than this can be forced upon the profession. I am one of those who believe that the profession of the law is more potential for good than any other profession, except the christian ministry, and in some respects more powerful for good than even that high profession. Its power for evil is correspondingly great. The lawyer who fights his battles in the open, with no weapons save those taken from the arsenal of eternal truth and right, who scorns the temptation to advance a principle for his client or his cause as his own which cannot be defended in the forum of conscience, leaves a lasting impress for good upon those who hear him; and day by day in the shop, in the street, in the market place, and around the family hearthstone the discussion continues which quietly but effectively forms a part of the character of the community in which he lives."

Jacksonville is soon to build a new local freight terminal depot, between Bay and Forsyth streets.

"Doctor," said the man who several weeks before had been operated on for appendicitis. "I'm all right except for a heavy feeling in the pit of my stomach and a slight metallic rattling when I walk."

"There!" exclaimed the M. D., slapping his thigh. "I knew that case of surgical instruments would turn up eventually. Will you pay me for them and keep them or shall I remove them? The cost will be about the same."—Houston Post.

Shakespearean.

Father in the hall has been standing for half an hour while Millicent and Harold bid each other good night in the doorway. "Parting," quotes Harold, "is such sweet sorrow that I could say good night till!" At this speech father gets a Shakespearean inspiration of his own and tramps down the stairs. "Seems to me," he asserts, "that there is too much adieu about nothing here."—Judge.

A Church Fare.

—Leslie's Weekly.

Something Done Right Away. "Oh, dear," said Mrs. Spider to Mr. Spider, looking down from her web on the shelf of the dry goods store. "I am afraid that we have got to move." "What's the trouble now, dear?" asked Mr. Spider in surprise. "We have lived with this kind storekeeper for many months." "Yes, dear, I know we have," said Mrs. Spider, with a sigh. "But he has begun to advertise."—Somerville Journal.

These Pleasant Happenings. Annie at the dinner table had kept her hands under the table, when she suddenly raised up the question: "Guess what I have under the table." "Why, your hands, of course," answered mother. "No," she almost yelled; "I've got a belly ache."—New York Globe.

Strategy.

Boroughs—Hello, old man! They say you lost a lot of money on the races. Gayman (displaying his roll gleefully)—Ha, ha! That doesn't look like it does it? Boroughs—No. Say, lend me ten, will you?—Catholic Standard and Times.
