

HERE AND THERE.

Pensacola was the scene of a $150,000 fire at an early hour Wednesday morning.

Tampa is now enjoying a spirited three-cornered fight for the postmaster appointment.

The mayoralty campaign in New York city this year promises to be the most strenuous in its history.

Col. L. W. Duval came down from Ocala on some legal matters Tuesday afternoon and spent Wednesday and a part of yesterday in town.—Sumterville Times.

In the year 1916 traffic will be carried on with Key West by railroad, in 1915 the Panama canal will be completed. The child born into the world today will see an eventful era.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. Sold by all druggists. m

An Ocala man says he does not object ordinarily to his wife's persistency in believing that odd numbers are lucky, but he thinks trying to wear a No. 3 shoe on a No. 4 foot is carrying the thing too far.

Mr. J. J. Cooney, of the firm of Cooney & Eskstein, one of the largest lumber concerns in the country with offices in New York, Jacksonville and other points, was in the city yesterday and stopped at the Ocala House.

A mushroom is on exhibition at the Commercial Bank having something over 200 separate stools growing from one root. It is about about the size of a small wash basin and is a peculiar freak of nature.

Mr. W. D. Sheppard, of Irvine, after a few days spent in the city on business, has returned home. He says the Irvine Crate and Basket Company's mill is working at its full capacity getting ready for the early spring shipments.

Justice Sumpter Bullock on Tuesday sentenced Jim Brown, colored, known as "Black Diamond," to 90 days on the county chaingang and to pay a fine of $20 for assault. Jim plead guilty and the trial lasted about three and a half minutes.

With "felonious" and "perunial" intent is the form of indictment now used in some of our neighboring counties. It is said that "Peruna" enters into as many crimes as blind tiger booze in some of the counties in south Florida.

Wesdames Blake and Martin, of Ocala, sisters of Mr. L. B. Sanders, came in Tuesday night, called by wire to the bedside of Captain J. W. Whisenant, who has been and is still seriously ill. Captain Whisenant is the father-in-law of Mr. Sanders.—Brooksville Argus.

Mrs. James Dell, of Gainesville, came down Monday and is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Liddon. Mrs. Dell came to attend the linen shower given Tuesday afternoon complimentary to Miss Gary, and is to be one of the matrons of honor at the Gary-Helvenston wedding Thursday night.

The census shows that Bradford county has made progress along all lines. The population has multiplied and everything has an upward tendency. As noticeable an improvement as anything is the enlargement of the Starke Telegraph. It now takes its place as one of the best newspapers in Florida.

The Tampa Tribune reproduces an item which appeared in the Ocala Banner a few days ago anent the purchase by Mr. Charles E. Ball of the Fort property, and heads it "Tampa Money in Marion." While we are always glad to have Tampa money, or any other money, invested in Marion, we deny the allegation in this instance. It was our own Charles E. Ball, who has never lived anywhere in Florida except Ocala.

MRS. ANDERSON OF FLORIDA

Widow of Distinguished Confederate General is Visiting Here.

Mrs. Patton Anderson, of Florida, arrived in the city last night to visit friends here and attend the meeting of the U. D. C. She is the guest of Mrs. John E. DuBose, on Chestnut street.

Mrs. Anderson is the widow of Gen. Patton Anderson, who was one of the most distinguished officers in General Bragg's army. Gen. Anderson commanded a division in Gen. Polk's corps, and after Gen. Polk was killed he succeeded to his command, which he held until he was severely wounded at the battle of Jonesboro, Georgia. He and his command had been marching and fighting with scarcely any rest for more than three days, and were completely worn out. During this engagement he received orders to dislodge the enemy from behind a line of breastworks they had hastily thrown up. Just in front was an old field through which the Confederates would have to charge. Gen. Anderson gave the command to charge, but his men, worn out with hunger and loss of sleep, almost to a man dropped to the ground. Whereupon General Anderson rode out into the field in view of the enemy, about 300 yards distant, and rode down the line calling to his men to get up and charge. The federal soldiers were so impressed with his bravery that they cheered him. He turned, and raising his hat, acknowledged the compliment. Just at this moment a minnie ball struck him in the mouth, cutting off part of his tongue and tearing away one side of his face. He immediately turned and rode back through his lines and was caught by one of his aides as he was falling from his horse. It was thought that he would not recover, but he did, though he was never fit for field service again.

He died in Memphis, Tenn., a few years after the close of the war.—Bowling Green (Ky.) Times.

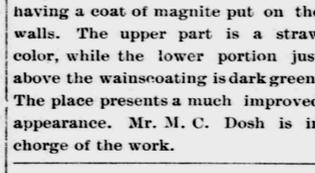

Young Strobhar in Serious Condition

Noble Strobhar, who had the misfortune about ten days ago to have his right foot severely crushed by the car wheels at High Springs, is in a critical condition. The operation was performed at High Springs, but in the attempt to save as much of the foot as possible the surgeons did not take off quite enough, with the result that blood poisoning set in, and it became necessary to make a second amputation. Reports are that young Strobhar is in a serious condition and that he may not survive the last operation. Mr. Strobhar is the son of J. N. Strobhar, former agent at this point of the Atlantic Coast Line. His father is now sojourning in Canada.—Gainesville Sun.

Man's Unreasonableness is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by Tydings & Co., druggists, price 50 cents. m

Making the Circle.

General Albert Gilchrist passed through Tallahassee yesterday en route from Quincy to Bainbridge. He stopped over between trains to shake hands with his friends at the capitol. General Gilchrist, who was speaker of the house in the last legislature and is spoken of as a promising piece of gubernatorial timber, has quite recently returned from a pleasant and extended visit at Lake Toxaway, N. C., and Columbia, S. C., and looks extremely well.—Tallahassee Capital.

"I Thank the Lord!"

cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts burns and wounds. Guaranteed at Tydings & Co.'s drug store; 25c. m

Best Liniment on Earth.

Henry D. Baldwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00, all druggists. m

Broward's Scheme Seems Futile.

The term "Draining the Everglades" has been used so frequently that many people have gained the impression that the everglades and Lake Okeechobee are one and the same, and that to drain such a great body of water as Lake Okeechobee would ruin the climate of the southern end of the peninsular of Florida. The fact is that the everglades are south of the lake and everglades. To drain Lake Okeechobee it would be necessary to dig canals 15 or 20 feet in depth, and this, of course, would be impracticable. The most that can be hoped for by Governor Broward in carrying out his drainage plans is to lower this great lake (which covers an area of 1,200 square miles) permanently from four to six feet. If this can be accomplished it will drain thousands of acres of saw-grass lands on or about the surface of the lake, and to cause the everglades to dry up, except in some of the deeper lagoons. The everglades can never be classed as a sheet of water, even in the wettest period of the year, and with the overflow of Lake Okeechobee turned into canals running into ocean and gulf, and not only carrying off this overflow of the lake, but also the waters of the everglades, the plan to drain several millions of acres would be accomplished. It is evident, however, to make this gigantic plan a complete success, that not only one large canal must be cut into the St. Lucie river, but the south canal would have to be opened into the gulf, and several other large canals would have to be opened into the Atlantic and the gulf.

Can Beat Voting Machine.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—A dispatch to the Tribune from San Francisco says that the voting machine to be used at the coming municipal election on Nov. 7 was given a test yesterday before a committee representing the fusionists as it had been claimed that it was possible to beat the machine. A linotype operator on a newspaper showed that by placing a small rubber band in a certain place near the name of the fusion candidate for mayor, the machine would not register for the mayor, though it would for all the other candidates. An expert representing the machine company, and half a dozen newspaper men, were unable to make the machine register while the rubber band was in place.

St. Augustine is to have another newspaper in the near future.

Lewis W. Zim announces in a circular letter that he will start the St. Augustine Meteor about the 18th inst. It will be an eight-page weekly, and the prospectus gives it straight that "space in the Meteor will be for sale to legitimate advertisers, but the principles of the journal will be un-purchasable." While meteors are apparently short-lived, we trust this one may live long and prosper.

Linen Shower.

One of the social events booked for this week is the linen shower to be given Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. L. Hampton complimentary to Miss Pearl Nash.—Tampa Tribune.

Miss Nash is a sister of Mr. George Nash, of this city, and formerly lived here.

This will connect the branch between Independence, Kans., and Tusla, and the Oklahoma lines at Shawnee.

Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my Mother.

What is News.

In a paper read before the editorial association of Iowa, the editor of the Odebolt Chronicle gave his ideas about what is news pure and simple and what is news with a business string attached to it. He says, for instance, that "Rev. Sam Jones, the Georgia evangelist, will preach next Sunday in the Methodist church," will be cheerfully inserted in any newspaper without charge because it is a matter of news of interest to everybody in the community. But a notice that "an ice cream social will be held on a certain evening on the lawn of the same church" has a business string attached to it and should not be inserted in the local newspaper without charge because it is not merely a matter of news, and he says that editors or owners of newspapers who insert these sort of notices stand in their own light and are robbing themselves of the legitimate fruits of their labors.

Further, that it is not advertising to say that one of your patrons is enlarging his store or repainting his building, but if he tells you that you might mention that he "was in New York last week and purchased an elegant line of up-to-date groceries or fall and winter dress goods" he ought to be willing to pay for the item because he expects to reap a monetary value from the notice. So he says that political literature of a personal nature advancing the interests of certain candidates for office ought to be paid for as these parties expect to reap a direct advantage from the publication of the same. But that political notices of a general nature that advances the interest of the party and not particular members of it of course ought not to be paid for.

In former times this editor says that no such articles were ever charged on the books, but now editors in all parts of the country are changing front along these lines and in consequence their bank account is growing more respectable and they are thought more of for doing so. It is simple business and all newspapers, whether printed in country towns or not, ought to adopt it as a system and rigidly adhere to it. We think the Iowa editor is right.
