EDITOR WILSON ON BOOKS.

In sending to the Duval High School his check for fifty dollars, the prize offered by the Times-Union and Citizen for the best school float in the floral parade during the Gala Week festivities, Editor George W. Wilson makes it the occasion to deliver a very pretty eulogy on books.

Editor Wilson says:

"It gives me great pleasure to send this amount, which, I understand, will go to help equip a library. I know of nothing that appeals to me with greater force than the effort on your part to secure a library for your school, for in my experience, that has been a wide one with men of literary achievement, I found that the library was the walls, roof and dome of education, while the school is but the foundation. Every great man, in science or literature, that it has been my privilege to know, obtained his real education after he left school, and worked out the great problems in the delightful solitude of his library.

"The greatest companions on earth are good books. You never saw or knew a high thinker but who was a great reader, and to be a great reader you must cultivate the habit, and when you grow up to be men and women and face the world's fierce battle, if your mind is stored with the thoughts of great writers, the struggle will be softened thereby.

"Cultivate the habit of reading solid and substantial books. Shun trashy writers as you would shun the devil.

"What is more beautiful than the story of the stars? What appeals to our natures more than vegetable and animal life? What story could be more interesting than that of life upon this world? What romance could be more thrilling than the story of nations? Many books have been written that are free from technical terms covering the above subjects, that are simple in language, yet lofty in thought, and I would cultivate the habit of reading these kind of books, and it will astonish you how soon you can enjoy them."

Should Carry its Own Lesson.

After the noise of drum and tom-tom has passed away and decorative frills have given place to plain official figures, it turns out that Bryan and his platform received 37,386 more votes in New York in 1900 than Bird S. Coler received in 1902.

Taken by single states or summed up in the aggregate, Bryan, standing on the Chicago and Kansas City platforms, received more votes than any democrat who has ever been nominated for any office.

His vote was more than a million bigger than Cleveland's biggest vote.

"A wayfaring man though a fool," ought to be able to comprehend figures like these and apply the lesson they emphasize.

Doings In the Phosphate Market.

The shipments of phosphate rock from the port of Fernandina for the month of November amounted to 5800 tons, shipments previously reported 171,795 tons, making a grand total for eleven months ending November 30 of 177,595 tons.

Messrs. J. M. Lang & Co., of Savannah, Ga., report the shipments of high grade phosphate rock for the month of November at 20,943 tons, shipments previously reported 154,814 tons, making a grand total for eleven months ending November 30th of 175,757 tons.

Speaking of the phosphate conditions in this state the last number of the Baltimore Manufacturers Record says:

"In Florida prominent companies have enjoyed a much more prosperous year than that of 1901, and in the land pebble territory especially the volume of business has shown considerable expansion. Shipments of rock from the Florida points are very heavy, and from Port Tampa especially they have for the present year broken the record. Some very heavy transactions for 1902 have been closed during the past ninety days by land-pebble companies and the prospects are that shipments for 1903 will be very heavy. Prices realized have been good, and the outlook is encouraging for further appreciations in values next year. Hard-rock miners are making good shipments, and the prospects are favorable for a good demand in the near future.

Death of Mrs. Todd

Mrs. Mary E. Todd died in this city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Susan Richardson, in the third ward early Sunday morning of lock-jaw, in the sixty-seventh year of her age.

Mrs. Todd's maiden name was Addison and she came to this state very early in life.

She was first married to Mr. Gibson Brown, father of Hon. C. M. Brown, by whom she had seven children, two of whom survive her, viz: Mrs. Richardson, of this city, and Mr. John Brown, of Panasoffkee.

Her second husband was the late Dr. Patrick Todd, a prominent physician of this county. Mrs. Todd was a kind, estimable Christian woman, and her death is greatly regretted.

The funeral service took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Methodist church, of which the deceased was a devoted member and was conducted by Rev. Howard Dutill. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. M. Brown, D. E. McIver, E. T. Williams, J. D. Williams, Josephus Munden and Ed. Dorsey.

The remains were laid to rest in the old cemetery.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy caugh, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle, they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.
