Man Charged With Attempted Murder Shooting In Greenville

Madison County Sheriff Ben Stewart reports that on Saturday, Sept. 4, at approximately 1 a.m., Sheriff's deputies responded to a shooting at the intersection of Obadiiah Street and Church Avenue in Greenville.

Deputies arrived to discover a victim lying on the ground, bleeding from the right side of his head just above his ear. Emergency Medical Services (EMS) arrived and transported the victim to Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

Deputies on the scene completed the scene, processing and obtained witnessed statements, which disclosed that a black Chevrolet Suburban sped up to the intersection, slammed on brakes and started shooting. The shooter was identified as Ramon Cobb, 31, of Greenville.

Warrants for the arrest of Cobb were obtained.

Investigators learned that Cobb had fled to Taylor County. Investigators were able to determine an exact location of Cobb where he was arrested without further incident.

Ramon Cobb was charged with attempted murder. Additional charges are pending.

Possible Attempted Burglarly At Truck Stop

Madison County Sheriff Ben Stewart reports that on Tuesday, August 31, at approximately 3:20 a.m., a black male entered the Johnson and Johnson Burger King Restaurant & Truck Stop at Interstate 10 and 53 South, wearing black and white bandanas covering his face and hair. The unidentified black male was dressed in black pants, short sleeve black shirt, and white gloves, and had what was believed to be a pellet pistol protruding from inside his pants' waistline. The black male subject was further described as having a "bad" left eye. The clerk advised this subject did not say or do anything, just stood at the cash counter and looked at them. When the clerk noticed the pellet pistol sticking out of the front part of the subject's pants, he was asked if the gun was real. The subject did not reply to the clerk and just turned around and left.

Sheriff Stewart requests that any persons having information regarding this incident or the possible identity of this person to contact the Madison County Sheriff's Office at 850-973-4001 or Crime Stoppers at 850-973-2762.

I was born in New Orleans. My family still lives here. We have to restore the Gulf communities for the shrimpers, fishermen, hotel and restaurant owners who live and work here.

No oil has flowed into the Gulf for weeks. But we know this is just the beginning of our work. BP has taken full responsibility for the cleanup in the Gulf and that includes keeping you informed.

Restoring Gulf Communities

We can't undo this tragedy. But we can help people get back on their feet. We have been working with impacted communities since day one.

Partnering with local governments and community organizations, my job is to listen to people's needs and frustrations and find ways to help. We have 19 community centers and teams in four states, listening and helping.

Restoring The Economy

BP is here in Gulf communities with shrimpers, fishermen, hotel and restaurant owners, helping to make them whole.

More than 120,000 claim payments totaling over $375 million have already gone to people affected by the spill. We have committed a $20 billion independent fund to pay all legitimate claims, including lost incomes until people impacted can go back to work. And none of this will be paid by taxpayers.

BP has also given grants of $87 million to the states to help tourism recover and bring people back to the Gulf beaches.

Restoring The Environment

We're going to keep looking for oil and cleaning it up if we find it. Teams will remain in place for as long as it takes to restore the Gulf Coast.

And we've dedicated $500 million to work with local and national scientific experts on the impact of the spill and to restore environmental damage.

Thousands of BP employees have their roots in the Gulf. We support over 10,000 jobs in the region and people here are our neighbors. We know we haven't always been perfect, but we will be here until the oil is gone and the people and businesses are back to normal. We will do everything we can to make this right.

Labor Day

National Security
Joe Boyles
Guest Columnist

This past weekend, we celebrated Labor Day, the end of summer. For that reason, Labor Day is one of our more popular holidays – one last chance to visit the beach or stage a backyard cookout. For the most part, the original purpose of the holiday is lost.

Labor Day has been on the American calendar for a little over a century. In speaking about this subject, I want to distinguish between organized Labor (big L) and labor (small l) in the traditional sense because they are vastly different.

At one time, organized labor played a very important role in our national evolution, calling attention to horrible 19th Century labor practices that resulted in injury, rotten working conditions, and inadequate wages. But Labor's history is also marred by rigged elections, racketeering, violence, corruption and mob tactics. Some of those problems remain. Today organized labor is more about the leaders and less about the workers. As one National Education Association leader said a few years ago, "I'll worry about children when they can vote in union elections."

I'm a true southerner, born in Central Florida shortly after the war. Because Florida is a right-to-work state, organized labor isn't nearly as big a deal to us as it would be in a closed-shop state like New York. Let's define those terms. Closed-shop means that if your place of work is unionized, you must be member of the union (and pay dues) in order to work there. The Northeastern and Midwestern states are closed-shop.

On the other hand, right-to-work (typically southern and western) states are protected by the Taft-Hartley Act, enacted by Republicans about the time I was born. Even though your workplace might be represented by a union, Taft-Hartley protects your right to work should you elect not to join the union. In the modern economy, this is a huge advantage for states like Florida. I'm willing to bet there hasn't been an automotive plant built in the United States in the past thirty years that isn't located in a right-to-work state like Kentucky, South Carolina, Alabama and Tennessee.

As a result of this history, unions do not play nearly the role in the south as they do in the industrial Midwest. But even there, unions are decreasing in importance. In the mid-1950s, about 30 percent of the private workforce was unionized. Today, that figure is 7 percent and decreasing. We're talking about the rust belt where jobs are shedding like fall leaves... and they aren't being replaced.

Today, the heavy hitters in organized labor are public sector unions – teachers; local, state and municipal workers; and the service sector. Their opposition is often the taxpayer who is footing the bill. That seems upside down, doesn't it? At a Labor gathering in Tallahassee for Allen Boyd on Monday, it seemed like the message was – "We need more state workers and higher salaries." They just don't get it, do they?

And organized labor heavily tilts toward the Democrats – probably more than 90 percent of their significant campaign contributions. The problem with that is that union leadership is way out of step with their members. When a union organizer knocks on the door of a rank-in-file member, he hears Glenn Beck or Bill O'Reilly in the background.

You would think that union members would replace their leadership, but like most incumbents, these guys are entrenched and the rules tilt toward the status quo. As an example, the top labor issue with the new administration is "card check" which would do away with secret ballots during union organizing. We would be back to the old way of determining an election – the side with the fewest broken heads wins!

I said at the top that I wanted to distinguish between organized labor and the traditional variety. I have the utmost respect for someone who works with their hands and uses their craft and skill to fashion or fix something. We need more of that in this country – people who can fix an automobile, install electrical circuits, and sew new crops. These skilled workers are the product of on-the-job training or technical schools, and they are extremely valuable.

But we don't have enough of them. We're too busy telling young people they need to attend expensive colleges, take out huge student loans, and study for worthless degrees that offer little chance for meaningful employment. But given the bubble that is growing in higher education, it is only a matter of time when the air bursts the balloon and we see a major contraction in this sector: All of you college educators, get ready 'cause its coming. Bubbles always burst; it's simply a matter of when.

When I was 18, my grandmother pulled me aside at a family Christmas gathering and said, "You're going to be all right, because you understand the value of labor. You know how to work with your hands and back." In looking back two generations later, Miss Olive knew what she was talking about. I would offer this advice to all of you parents with younger children – teach them how to work with their hands and the importance of hard labor. It comes in mighty handy among life's lessons.

centered on health, wellness and other like exposures to deter youths from risky behaviors, by offering them other alternatives. The Coalition's current focus is to "Reduce and Eliminate Underage Drinking" which is implemented and tracked using data that is outlined in the Substance Abuse Response Guide (SARG). A number of other local organizations and agencies in the Madison community have partnered with the Madison County Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention Coalition to further empower youths in making good decisions, as peer pressure has become the common denominator. Through a mini-grant awarded to the Coalition by the Leon County Health Department, Area 2B HIV/AIDS Prevention Department, the day will be structured to begin with a health information presentation on HIV/AIDS Awareness and Prevention, delivered by Prevention Specialists from the Leon County Health Department.

The presentation will be held at The Madison County Alcohol and other Drug Prevention Coalition Conference Center beginning at 9:30 a.m. The Coalition Conference room is located at 319 SW Pinckney Street, Madison.

This presentation will satisfy the requirements of the Leon County Health Department, as agreed upon by the Gregory J. Harris, Ph.D., Executive Director of Health Promotion Programs Initiatives, Inc.

The remainder of the day will be dedicated to teaching young adults some practical tips in learning how to utilize rod and reels with some proficiency and introduce them to fishing.

After completing demonstrations with the fishing equipment, the goals of the Coalition are to give the complete rod and reel to the young adults, and assist them as they participate in an on-site fishing expedition, sponsored at a location provided by a member of the Coalition.

In order for the young adults to participate in the fishing expedition, and receive a rod and reel, both the young adult and a parent, guardian or mentor must attend the health presentation at the beginning of the day. The Coalition Conference Center will be open for young adults and parents, guardians and/or mentors to sign up on September 11 from 10 a.m. until noon. The final date for signing up will be September 13 from 6- 7 p.m.

The Coalition is making preparations to outfit 35-40 youths with rods and reels. Sign-ups will be collected on a first come, first served basis. For more information, contact Jerome Wyche, Local Community Organizer at (850) 464-0196.

Jake & Judy Phillips

A Lifetime Of Love

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Life, death, marriage, friendship and depression, these are just a few of the themes in the tale of Jake and Judy Phillips.

Judy Phillips was born on December 7, 1949, in Conecuh County, Ala. in the home of her grandparents. She was the oldest daughter of Otis and Leathell Varner. Following her birth, two younger sisters, Lequita (Varner) Smith and Teresa (Varner) Hunt, were born.

She attended Andalusia High School in her younger years. Following high school, she attended Troy State, graduating in 1972, and the University of Alabama in Birmingham. She graduated in 1975 with her Masters in Elementary Education with a focus on Reading.

She taught for many years. Her career included: Birmingham city schools for five years, Andalusia city schools for one year and McKenzie schools for 19 years. She mainly taught the fifth grade, and later retired in 1999.

Her home church for most of her life was West Highland Baptist Church in Andalusia. This church is a major part of the Phillips' love story. At this church in 1972, Judy married her first husband, the late Layron Wheeler. Judy worked as a Mission Service Volunteer for one year. This is an organization closely connected with the North American Mission Board.

Jake Phillips was born on May 6, 1919, in Coldwell County, N.C. His parents were Parks Lee and Eva Ellen Phillips. He has four siblings, Edna, Ethel, Ott and Paul.

During the beginning of World War II, Jake was attending high school at Granite Falls. He did not receive his diploma at this time, though, because he joined the Army Infantry. He later received his high school diploma through correspondence courses. He also received a pastoral diploma through Howard College, a department of Samford University in Birmingham, Ala. He later studied at the Southern Baptist Seminary Extension in Nashville, Tenn.

Jake has worked in many different positions, including Wilmington Shipyard, Granite Falls Machine Company and he also sold insurance for a while. He sang in the Songsters Quartet for several years at Concord Baptist in Granite Falls. Jake was second tenor and the quartet sang for many radio stations in North Carolina. He was also a deacon at Concord Baptist.

He married his first wife, Edna McGee, on June 11, 1938. They had one child, Jean McWilliams, of Madison. She is married to Buddy McWilliams and they have two children, Clayton McWilliams, of Madison, and Linda McWilliams Luke, of Georgia. Linda has two children, Jake's only great-grandchildren, Jacob and Carley Luke. Jacob is named after his great-grandfather and was often referred to as "Baby Jake" when he was younger. Judy recalled one recent Thanksgiving, "Clayton asked Jake to pray and suddenly we hear Baby Jake saying 'God is great, God is good...' 'Clayton had meant 'Big Jake.' We all started laughing."

In 1957, Jake surrendered to the ministry at Ridgecrest, N.C., at the Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly. From 1959-1961, he was the associate pastor at Southside Baptist Church in Monroeville, Ala. From 1962-1964 he was the Director of Missions in Conecuh County, Ala. He was also Director of Missions in Andalusia, Ala. from 1964-1984 Judy said, "He wasn't a pastor but he preached almost every Sunday."

At this point in the story, Jake and Judy are now both living in Andalusia, Ala. Judy was still in the fourth grade. Jake and Edna lived very close to West Highland Baptist Church, Judy's home church, so they moved their membership to WH.B.C.

Edna became the director of Girls' Auxiliary which Judy was a member of. Judy recalls, "Edna was like a mother to me. She made sure I had everything I needed and loved us all very much."

Judy also told this reporter that Jake and Edna were a very large part of most of her life. "They watched me grow up. They were like my spiritual parents," explained Judy. They even attended her high school graduation and wedding. As Judy got older, she and Edna formed a very strong friendship.

Judy gave birth to her first son, Joseph, on Jake and Edna's anniversary. She remembered, "I was lying in the hospital and the nurse came in and said, 'your mom is on the phone.' Only, it wasn't my mom, it was Edna. She said she was just calling to check on her 'big baby and new little baby.'"

Judy also recalled sitting in church meetings and Edna rocking Joseph and playing with him. Also, Edna would call Judy when she was on her way to visit them and say, "Don't you stop by without that baby!"

Judy's first husband suffered from a chronic heart condition and in 1993 this disease took his life. Two years later, Edna, who suffered from diabetes and was overweight, became very ill.

Judy recalled a time when Edna was in the hospital

"I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now, being confident of this, that he who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus. It is right for me to feel this way about all of you, since I have you in my heart; for whether I am in chains or defending and confirming the gospel, all of you share in God's grace with me. God can testify how I long for all of you with the affection of Christ Jesus."
Philippians 1:3-8.

and Jake called Judy saying, "I know it's 9:30 and it is after visiting hours, but Edna said she really wants you up here." In March 1995, Edna passed away.

Jake had decided to move to Madison after the death of his wife and called Judy to witness him signing some papers. John, Judy's son, was walking around the house and saw an old stationary bicycle that he played on when he was younger. John said, "I used to play on this." Jake then said, "Well, John, you could live here if your mom would buy the house." Judy responded by saying she had no clue how to sell her current home and Jake, as a true spiritual father would, said, "I will help you."

Judy told this reporter, "That was a home I had grown up visiting for 21 years. I spent so much time there it was like a safe haven for me." Her home sold and she moved into Jake and Edna's old home in August 1995. Jake also left for Madison that month. At this point, Judy fell into a depression. Jake, Edna and her husband were all gone. In 1996, Jake came to West Highland Baptist Church to do a homecoming and went to his old home, Judy's new home, to visit.

Jake and Judy began writing letters and staying in touch. Then in 1997, something tragic happened. Jake was diagnosed with Urinary Bladder Cancer. Judy said, "I didn't know what to do. He was down there and I was up here wanting to be able to take care of him. I knew Jean was caring for him but I still wanted to be there."

In 1998, after Jake went into remission, Judy received a phone call from him. He spoke of his loneliness and then told Judy, "But, don't you do anything foolish like come down here." The next day, Judy showed up at Jake's church, Madison First Baptist Church, for Sunday morning services. Then, Sunday night when she went to leave, something surprising happened. Judy remembers, "Jake kissed me, right here in this living room. I was so shocked I cried all the way home. He was like my father. We had always said 'I love you' but that kiss had meant something else."

After their kiss, Jake began courting Judy and she would come to visit him every four to eight weeks. Then as time went on, the time between visits got shorter and shorter. Jake at one point couldn't handle the age difference and told Judy not to write to him anymore. Judy listened to his request, but after a couple of months, on Valentine's Day 1999, Jake sent Judy a Valentine and she sent one back. They began courting again.

Jake would always sign his letters to Judy with, "You're in my heart, on my mind and in my Prayers." He would also pick on Judy for calling him "Brother Jake," even though they were courting. He finally got her to call him simply Jake after addressing one of his letters to "Sister Judy Wheeler." Jake and Judy later went to Sam's to buy a ring, but it wasn't a wedding ring yet. The couple had decided that, if on December 23, 1999, Jake was cancer free, they would get married. Jake had told Judy, "I know what you went through with your first husband and I don't want to put you through that again."

Judy told this reporter, "When D-Day came, December 23, we got the best news. He was cancer free. It was the biggest answer to our prayers." They were married on January 15, 2000, in the 1898 Sanctuary at Madison First Baptist.

After they were wed, Jake underwent intensive treatment to fight bladder cancer. To this day, Jake has been cancer free. Praise God.

Judy and Jake are now very active at Madison First Baptist as well as other Christian organizations. Jake has preached at numerous churches, including: being the interim pastor at Mayo Baptist. He has been a supply preacher at Grace Presbyterian. He was also interim pastor at Pinetta Baptist and Unity Methodist, which is now Unity Baptist.

Jake and Judy both teach Sunday School classes at Madison First Baptist. Judy was also elected by the Middle Florida Baptist Association to serve as a member of the State Board of Missions. She was the Woman's Missionary Union director for the Middle Florida Baptist Association and still does conferences for the state WMU on occasion. Judy was also the President of the Senior Adult Ministries group for nine years. She has served on several committees at the church including: the nominating, pastor search, counting and hostess committee. She is also part-time secretary when Sandra is away.

Jake and Judy love visiting the mountains of North Carolina. They have been there four times since they were married. They enjoy rock hounding, which is digging for gems and precious stones. They also garden and quilt together. Jake and Judy love to watch baseball and are fans of the Atlanta Braves and the Chicago Cubs. They are also die-hard fans of the Auburn Tigers.

Jake is now 91 years old and still enjoys working in the yard and making jelly. He also makes Judy breakfast for lunch every Friday. It is her favorite.

Judy told this reporter, "I always tell everyone I am just an old man's sweet heart."

General Elee Gene Storey: A Star To Be

General Elee Gene Storey hopes to one day become a country music singer and songwriter.

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Many who attended the graduation of the Madison County High School Class of 2010 have heard his talents. General Elee Storey is a country music hopeful who recently graduated high school. He is the son of Kit, Sr. and Shari Storey. He is 19 years old and graduated in the top ten of his class with a 3.7 GPA. He would like to later attend Florida State University and major in Music.

Beginning in the tenth grade, Elee found a new calling in his life. He told this reporter, "In nearing the end of tenth grade I started listening to Elvis Presley songs like "Viva Las Vegas," "Heartbreak Hotel" and "Teddy Bear." I loved the way he sang and performed so I decided to learn to play guitar and sing. My father has been playing the guitar his whole life and when I told him I was interested in learning he taught me to play a few chords. From there I taught myself the rest." This reporter recalls a class she shared with Elee in tenth grade. She remembers the teacher, Karla Molnar, walking into her classroom and the entire class was pounding the beat of "We Will Rock You" and Elee was singing.

After a lot of training and practice by the 12th grade, Elee was known at MCHS for his singing talents. He would spend numerous classes a day with people asking him to sing a song they liked. At lunch one day he sang, "Hotel California" so well that the entire lunchroom clapped.

Elee said, "This is when I decided that I wanted to write a kind of love song, a song that can be for that special someone in your heart. At that time my grandmother, Annie Beatrice Storey, was nearing the end of her life so I wrote a song of how she and my grandfather, Terry Storey, met. This turned into "My Annie Bea." I sang this song at the MCHS talent show and won third place."

This song led to his second self written song. Elee explained, "When I had two weeks left in my senior year, my friends wanted me to sing at graduation. In particular was my friend Kristin Finney. She kept telling me how great I would be at it. This inspired my second song, It's Graduation Day I later auditioned with Mr. Hill and got the part and sang my song at graduation. It was a feeling that I will never forget."

Elee's aspiration for life is, "I would just like everyone to enjoy my music because I love playing it. I would love to become a country music singer and songwriter eventually."

His hobbies include: singing, playing and writing music, hanging out with his friends, playing video games and mud bogging. He has three videos on YouTube and a CD with four songs; His self-written songs "My Annie Bea" and "It's Graduation Day" and then two by his father, "A Real Cowboy" and "Daddy's Wife."

His musical inspirations are his father, Kit Storey, and Elvis Presley. Elee's favorite song is "Viva Las Vegas" by Elvis Presley.

Who knows, perhaps one day Elee will become Madison's very own George Strait or Elvis Presley?

RATT Pact To Present Briar Rose

Hear ye, hear ye ... calling all royal subjects from Madison and surrounding communities. Your help is needed to break the evil spell cast on the kingdom of Briar Rose in this tale of sleeping beauty performed at the Rural Area Theater (RAT) September 10 - 12. Briar Rose, the royal princess, has been sleeping for 100 years after a curse was cast upon her and her family by the evil 13th fairy. The princes of the land have tried in vain to wake up Briar Rose, and they need your help. If Briar Rose is awakened, the spell will be lifted from everyone in the palace including the king and queen along with the royal baker and his helper Chip.

Insulted by not being invited to Briar Roses' 16th birthday party, the evil 13th fairy tricked the princess and lulled her and the entire kingdom into slumber land. Even the good 12th fairy, her sister, could not stop the curse or help several bungling princes successfully survive the menacing briars (played by children in the audience) and save Briar Rose with one sweet kiss. Finally, an incredibly shy prince makes it through the obstacles but cannot find the courage to kiss Briar Rose. His sidekick, the two-headed troll of fears encouragement and support along the way.

This show promises to be lots of fun for children of all ages as well as adults. Children will be invited onstage to help the baker pound dough, be the royal doctor to the queen, become evil trees and briar bushes, and make menacing forest sounds.

Produced by the RATT pact (Rural Area Theatrical Troupe), the show has an all-star cast. Ashlyn Sharpton makes her stage debut as Briar Rose and Alberto Rosario plays the dashing, but shy prince. Veteran actor Justin Webb takes on the role of the king and Sandy Valladares debuts as the queen. Always a delight, Bob Wieland portrays the royal baker with Skyler Dunn as his assistant Chip. Mother and daughter duo Teagan Dunn and Dawn Renner play opposites as the good 12th and evil 13th fairies. Molly McCormack and Jessica Webb tackle the role of the wisecracking two-headed troll, and Keely Smith rounds out the cast in surprise cameo roles. Judie Baldwin directs the performance. Donn Smith takes the task of set designer and stage manager while Tim Dunn is tech coordinator.

Performances will be Friday, September 10 at 7:00 p.m.; Saturday, September 11 at 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.; and Sunday, September 12 at 3:00 p.m. For more information visit the web at www.rattpact.com or call 850-673-9585.

Warriors Down Maclay In Kick-Off Classic

By Fran Hunt
Special from the Jefferson Journal

The Aucilla Christian Academy varsity Warriors football team downed Maclay 33-27 last week in the pre-season Kickoff Classic.

Head Football Coach Scott Scharinger said the Warriors marched straight down the field and scored when quarterback Trent Roberts plunged in from two yards out for the first score of the game to cap off a 13-play drive.

Maclay came right back and scored a few plays later to tie the game at 6-6. Late in the second quarter, Roberts scrambled from 13 yards out for another touchdown. The Warriors went into halftime with a 12-6 lead.

During the second half, quarterback Hans Sorensen hit wide receiver Jared Jackson on a 31-yard touchdown pass. The Warriors went for the two-point conversion and Roberts found the end zone again. The Warriors climbed to a 20-6 lead. After that score, the rest of the third quarter belonged to Maclay, who scored 21 unanswered points and had the lead, 27-20, going into the fourth quarter.

The Warriors fought back and, on the third play of the fourth quarter, Roberts found the end zone for his third rushing touchdown of the game. Russell Fraleigh kicked the extra point and the Warriors tied it up at 27-27. After Jared Jackson intercepted a Maclay pass, running back Brad Holm rushed in for the final score of the game to seal the victory.

"I was very pleased with the aggressive and physical play of our team," said Scharinger. "We had worked all spring and summer on strength and conditioning and being mentally and physically tough, so that we could continue to play hard late in the game. Our boys did just that. Our young, inexperienced skill players grew up as well and made some big plays for us. Even in the third quarter when we had some turnovers and breakdowns and Maclay took the lead, our boys never gave up and continued to play hard football. They are a team, they played like a team until the end and it paid off for them," he added.

On the offensive side of the field, the Warriors collected a total of 285 yards, including 33 carries for 105 yards and four touchdowns and 16 completed passes out of 30 attempts for 180 yards and one touchdown.

Quarterback Hans Sorensen completed 13 passes out of 20 attempts for 152 yards and one touchdown.

Trent Roberts completed two passes out of nine attempts for 60 yards and one interception.

Tres Copeland completed one pass out of one attempt for three yards and the two-point conversion. In receiving, Russell Fraleigh had one reception for one yard.

Copeland had one reception for 40 yards.

Roberts had one reception for four yards.

Clark Christy had two receptions for 45 yards.

Jared Jackson had three receptions for 34 yards and one touchdown.

Brad Holm had eight pass receptions for 92 yards.

In rushing, Roberts had 13 carries for 54 yards, three touchdowns and one fumble.

Holm had eight rushes for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Philip Watts had seven carries for 39 yards and one fumble.

Celebrate Grandparents Day by Investing in Your Grandchildren's Future

Provided by Brad Bashaw, Edward Jones

National Grandparents Day is Sept. 12. If you're a grandparent, this day is meant to honor you — but you can also celebrate by investing in your grandchildren's future.

Of course, much of their future success may depend on their ability to receive a college education, but college is expensive. In fact, according to the College Board, for the 2009-2010 school year, the average cost (tuition, fees, room and board) for an in-state student for one year at a public, four-year school was more than $15,000, while a student at a private, four-year school paid, on average, more than $35,000. Furthermore, in recent years, college costs have risen considerably faster than the general inflation rate, so if your grandchildren are still quite young, their college bills may easily eclipse the numbers shown above.

Fortunately, if you want to help your grandchildren pay for college, you have some good savings vehicles to choose from, including the following:

• 529 savings plan — A 529 savings plan allows you to put money in specific investments, managed by an investment professional. You can gift $13,000 per year to each grandchild without incurring gift taxes. All withdrawals from a 529 savings plan will be free from federal income taxes, as long as the money is used for the beneficiary's qualified college or graduate school expenses. (Withdrawals for expenses other than qualified education expenditures may be subject to federal and state taxes, plus a 10% penalty.) Also, if you participate in your own state's 529 savings plan, your contributions may be eligible for a state tax deduction or credit.

• Coverdell Education Savings Account — Depending on your income level, you can contribute up to $2,000 annually to a Coverdell Education Savings Account (ESA). (Unless extended by new legislation, however, this contribution limit will fall to $500 per year, beginning in 2011.) Coverdell earnings and withdrawals are tax-free, provided the beneficiary uses the money for qualified education expenses. Any nonqualified withdrawals from a Coverdell ESA may be subject to federal and state taxes, plus a 10% penalty.

• Zero coupon bonds — When you purchase a zero coupon bond, it is priced at a discount to its principal, or face, value. You receive the principal value when the bond matures. You could purchase a zero coupon bond that matures when your grandchild is ready to go to college — and you'll know exactly how much you'll be getting. Although you won't be receiving regular interest payments throughout the life of the zero coupon bond, as you would for a typical bond, you'll still be liable for the taxes on this interest. But by putting the bond in your grandchild's name, the interest will be taxable at his or her tax rate, which will likely be much lower than yours. Before purchasing or titling a zero coupon bond, though, consult with your tax advisor.

By making any of these gifts to your grandchildren, you will remind them, once again, of how lucky they are to have grandparents — which is, after all, the true meaning of Grandparents Day.
