Click It or Ticket to Boost Seat Belt Use – Day and Night

Madison 2013 High-Visibility Enforcement Campaign Begins May 20

As motorists take to the roads this Memorial Day holiday, Madison police are urging everyone to buckle up. Beginning May 20 law enforcement officials will be out in full force, taking part in the 2013 national Click It or Ticket seat belt enforcement mobilization and cracking down on motorists who are not belted.

“As we kick-off the busy summer driving season it’s important that everyone buckles up every time they go out, both day and night – no excuses,” said Police Chief Gary Calhoun. “Our officers are prepared to ticket anyone who is not wearing their seat belt – Click It or Ticket.”

According to the U.S. Department of Transportation’s National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), 52 percent of the 21,253 passenger vehicle occupants killed in 2011 were not wearing their seat belts at the time of the crash. As noted, deaths involving seat belt nonuse are more prevalent at night than during the daytime. According to NHTSA, 62 percent of the 10,135 passenger vehicle occupants killed in 2011 during the overnight hours of 6 p.m. to 5:59 a.m. were not wearing their seat belts at the time of the crash.

“Seat belts save thousands of lives every year, but far too many motorists are still not buckling up, especially at night when the risk of getting in a crash is even greater,” said Chief Calhoun. “We want everyone to have a safe summer, but it requires an important step on the part of motorists – clicking that seat belt.”

In 2011, seat belts saved an estimated 11,949 lives nationwide according to NHTSA. While this year’s Click It or Ticket enforcement mobilization runs from May 20 through June 2, officers are out enforcing seat belt laws year-round.

For more on the national Click It or Ticket mobilization, please visit www.nhtsa.gov.

Cowboy Signs Scholarship To Attend Fairmont State University

Photo submitted

On Friday, May 17, Tommie Young, fullback for the Madison County Cowboys 2011 State finalist team, signed a scholarship with Division II Fairmont State University. Fairmont State is located in West Virginia. Young signed the scholarship in front of his family, teammates and other media personnel. Congratulations, Tommie Young.

Longtime Madison Resident Honored

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Shawn Stanley Godwin was named the Department Of Corrections 2013 Support Employee of the Year

Godwin is the administrative assistant for Florida State Prison Warden John Palmer. Godwin has worked for DOC for 23 years and has been at FSP since June of 2011. Prior to moving to Raiford in 1993, she was employed at the Madison Correctional Institute.

Godwin has many responsibilities as the staff assistant for the warden. According to a press release from the Florida State Prison, “FSP’s mission includes providing custody, care and control of inmates whose custody levels range from Death Row, to maximum management, to close management to open population. Godwin must have expertise in dealing with unique issues that arise from all of those custody levels.

Warden Palmer characterizes Godwin as his right-hand person who assists him in managing all aspects of his schedule – ensuring appointments are made well in advance of deadlines and ensuring that all deadlines are met.”

“Shawn (Godwin) goes above and beyond in the performance of her duties and displays a level of loyalty that is second to none,” said Warden Palmer.

The press release also stated, “Because of FSP’s size and unique mission, Godwin has to deal with the governor’s office, the general public, attorneys and the media at a volume that is not experienced at other institutions. ‘Shawn always handles stressful situations with the utmost professionalism,’ said Palmer. ‘She often receives praise from those who interact with her because of these exceptional qualities.’” Please See Resident Honored on Page 3A

County Commission Discusses Permits For Some Private Events

By Lynette Norris
Greene Publishing, Inc.

At its regular meeting last week, the County Commission discussed having a permitting process for large private events that include fireworks – not someone shooting off a few fireworks in the backyard, but a full-fledged professional display – or gatherings that are so large that they might require a residential street be closed for a few hours for safety reasons.

First up was Craig Davis of Honey Lake Plantation, requesting permission for a fireworks display over the lake at an upcoming wedding. Davis explained the plans and safety procedures Honey Lake had in place, including fire safety equipment and one million dollars in liability insurance, adding that the display would of course be canceled if there were a fire ban in place at the time.

Fireworks displays are already regulated by the state, and the plans Davis presented to the commission satisfied the board that it would be much like the fireworks displays at Lee Day and the Lion’s Club Fourth of July “God and Country Celebration” at Lake Frances, except it would be on private property.

Too-Heavy Trucks Damaging County Roads

By Lynette Norris
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Sheriff Ben Stewart addressed the County Commission about the issue of overweight trucks taking shortcuts through the county on weight-restricted county roads.

The trucks, many of them fully-loaded log trucks, are driving on Captain Brown Road, which was not designed to support their weight. Repeated trips over Captain Brown and other weight-restricted county roads by these too-heavy vehicles are damaging the road surface over time.

“I can warn them and I can threaten them, but I can’t ticket them,” Stewart told the Commission. Threats and warnings used to work, he added, but lately, they haven’t had much effect at all.

Before the Sheriff’s Department can issue tickets, several things must be in place: a way to determine weight, in this case, portable scales; proper signage on restricted roads warning truckers that weight restrictions will be enforced; and a letter from the County Commission to the Florida Department of Transportation that the Sheriff’s Department is authorized to issue tickets. DOT will even assist in the enforcement action if they have such a letter from the Board of County Commissioners.

The enforcement action would make an exception for local farmers who occasionally have to drive heavy equipment on the roads.

The Board agreed to send a letter to the DOT and move forward on the other prerequisites for authorizing the enforcement action.

Spirit of Greenville Fundraiser

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Spirit of Greenville will be hosting a fundraiser on May 31 and June 1 to help raise funds for the Fourth of July fireworks. This fundraiser will be a six team co-ed softball tournament. There will also be raffle tickets sold for a freestanding swing set. There will be concessions and a BBQ plate lunch available on Friday and Saturday as well. All of the proceeds will go to benefit the Fourth of July fireworks in Greenville.

For more information about the softball tournament please contact Kenny or Red Braswell at 948-6128. The tournament and fundraiser will be held at J.A. Lane field.

Vendors Sought For Lions Club Fourth of July

By Lynette Norris
Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Madison Lions Club members is still looking for vendors to fill spots on Lake Frances for their Fourth of July “God and Country Celebration,” and is sending out the word for any vendors who might be interested. Food vendors, arts and crafts and other vendors are encouraged to contact the Lion’s Club.

The club has also gotten some of the evening’s entertainment lined up, and last year’s emcee might agree to host the stage show again this year, on a bigger and better stage that last years.

This year, the entire show could be broadcast over the local radio station via remote broadcast if all the arrangements can be made; if not, the station will do “cut-ins” every 15 minutes or so.

There are still several talent spots open, so anyone who would like to audition his or her act, please contact Mike Kirkland at jkirk97@embarqmail.com, or visit the website www.madisonlionclub.com (leave the “s” off “lion”). Click on the “Entertainment” tab for the performer sign-up sheet and application. Performers will still need to schedule an audition, either via live performance or a CD/DVD demo.

As for the vendor spots, Christy Roebuck is in charge of organizing and assigning spaces, and she has been contacting the vendors from last year to see if they would like to come back this year, and would like to send out the word to all area vendors who might be interested to contact the Lions Club for an application, or fill out the online application and email it in as soon as possible.

HARD HEADED YOUNG'NS

Junior Sapp seen me out at my barn 'n pulled in ta' chew thuh' fat. Seems 'ee wanted ta' get some advice. He said 2 of his young'ns is mighty hard headed. I asked 'eem, in what way? He said he took his 10 year old boy, Carol, swim'n in the creek. Junior wanted ta' teach Carol ta' jump of'm the creek bank inta' the creek. After 2 hours 'uh coax'n, 'uh rock on the bank started roll'n down the bank 'n bounced in the creek. The boy never did jump in. Junior said, "Cracker, it's bad when 'uh rock listens to yuh' before yer' young'n does."

Then he told me 'bout his 17 year old daughter, Betsy. She got her drive'n license 8 months ago. When she first started drive'n by herself he caught her tex' message'n while she was drive'n. Junior took her car keys 'n told 'er when she learned not ta' tex' 'n drive he'd give 'um back. Betsy told him all her friends was do'n it, she was good at multitask'n 'n she wern't about ta' stop. She said, "If you won't give me the keys, I just won't drive." Well, Junior is still hold'n thuh' keys.

Junior asked me what I reconed he might do ta' get his young'ns ta' reason with 'eem.

I said, "Junior, I once't had 'uh mule that was nearabout that stubborn. I didn't give up on 'eem 'n finally I learned 'eem ta' listen to me. Once the mule learned things, he never forgot. He turned out ta' be 'uh fine mule."

Junior said, "Cracker, I 'preciate the advice. Maybe there's hope fer' my young'n yet."

Liberating Dachau

(Note: This column originally ran in the Carrier on April 28, 2010. In honor of my friend Homer Wallace, who died last Thursday at the grand age of 89, I honor him by reminding my readers of a simple, humble man of good humor who made history at war's end.)

Sixty-five years ago in the Spring of 1945, American Army units were liberating Nazi concentration camps as the Allies swept across Central Germany. This was an army affair. We owned the skies, but this work could only be done on the ground by soldiers. That's really the reason we have an army – to take ground and plant the American flag.

As one after another camp was discovered, the unthinkable horror that was Nazi Germany began to reveal its ugly face. Huge concentration camp complexes like Buchenwald, Flossen- burg and Dachau were the tip of the iceberg. To the east in Poland, Soviet troops overran the death camps like Sobibor, Treblinka, and the huge complex of Auschwitz-Birkenau. These were factories of death and the Nazis were careful to limit their exposure to the occupied territories, not the homeland.

Instead, the concentration camps in Germany were primarily work factories where inmates were used for slave labor, primarily in construction and war industries. Most of the German camps like Dachau were really a collection of subcamps around the central facility – the workers were housed (or should I say warehoused) close to the industry where they would work.

An inmate-worker could be expected to survive on average five months under these conditions of forced labor, starvation and disease. Some who were stronger survived longer, others less. Many were Jews, but others were political prisoners and POWs from overrun territories, principally the Soviet Union. Their living and working conditions were beyond brutal, in fact, unimaginable.

In the closing month of the war, this is what the American Army discovered. The first major camp to be overrun was Buchenwald where lead elements of the 4th Armored and 80th Infantry divisions stumbled upon the Nazi's darkest secret. On April 29, the 222nd Infantry Regiment, part of the fabled 42nd "Rainbow" Division, liberated the main camp of Dachau on the outskirts of Munich.

Most of the SS guards had fled in fear of their lives. Those that remained were set upon by their captives. Justice took its course. They left behind thousands of emaciating, rotting corpses and many thousands more, barely alive and ridden with disease. Many of these pathetic prisoners perished after their liberation; they were simply too far gone to survive. Unlike the gas chambers in the Polish death camps, death came to these prisoners not suddenly, but in wretched, agonizing stages.

A witness to this horror was Homer Wallace of Pinetta. In 1945, Homer was a PFC medic in the 222nd. I asked him if he stayed behind to offer medical attention to the inmates. "No, we quickly moved on to our next objective. The war was still ongoing (it ended ten days later) and we had another mission to accomplish."

When Supreme Allied Commander Europe Dwight Eisenhower visited the first liberated camp, he said, "I want every journalist, videographer, and photographer flown here to report and film what they see. The scale of this crime is so vast that 50 years from now, no one will believe it. We must document what we found." As Joseph Stalin said, "If you kill one person, it is murder. If you kill a million, it's a statistic."

On a personal note, about a month after the war ended, my father was part of small task force that convoyed 1500 Russian POWs from Buchenwald to the Elbe to rejoin their countrymen. Across Europe, millions of displaced people returned to what was left of their homes and began to rebuild shattered lives.

Six million Jews and many other "undesirables" perished at the hands of Hitler and his Nazi henchmen. Literally, European Jewry was wiped out in the last three years of the war. Never in history has such a monstrous crime on such a scale been inflicted on mankind.

Why is this relevant today, two-thirds of a century later? Isn't it just a bad dream, best left forgotten? Not really. When the leaders of a powerful nation like Iran are building nuclear weapons and first-strike missiles and claim that the Holocaust is a figment of our imagination and the Jewish state of Israel should be wiped off the map, this matter is very relevant. Recent discoveries of Nazi propaganda broadcasts in Arabic to Muslims against the Jews of Palestine prove just how deep the hatred was and is. The animosity between Jews and Muslims today proves the effectiveness of this propaganda campaign.

Recently, Homer Wallace and a dwindling number of liberators were called to Washington to honor the memory of the victims of Nazi oppression in a ceremony called the Days of Remembrance. Lest we forget!

Postscript: Homer told me a funny story about how he became a medical technician. After graduation from high school, he had joined the Army. The recruiter was deciding what would be his military occupation. "Wallace, were you ever a Boy Scout?" "Yes Sergeant," Homer replied. "Did you ever earn the First Aid Merit Badge?" "Yes Sergeant." "Good," the burly recruiter replied; "We'll make you a medic."

God rest you Homer and may you join all the saints in heaven. Amen

Health & Wellness Tips

from Frank Nathan, Executive Director
Lake Park of Madison

DID YOU KNOW...?

Osteoporosis is a disease that results in the thinning of the bones to the point where there is a risk of fracture, and it affects one in three women and one in five men over the age of 50. The most common sites of fracture are the vertebrae of the spine, particularly the upper back, the wrist and the top of the thigh bone where it joins the pelvis (neck of the femur).

Our bones are basically a storage site for minerals, and minerals are needed for many functions in the body. For example, calcium is needed in order to be able to contract your muscles. Our body will probably prioritize muscle contraction over bone density so that we can go about our daily activities, and will take calcium from the bones in order to help you contract your muscles, if you do not have enough calcium in the blood.

In order to maintain or increase our bone mass, we need to stop using stimulants like sugar and caffeine, which results in our bones leaching minerals. Stimulants wreak havoc with our adrenal glands, causing systemic problems in the endocrine system. Systemic stress or anything else that can disrupt endocrine function is hazardous to bones. For healthy bones we need a healthy hormonal/endocrine system that is actually secreting adequate amounts of the enzymes and hormones at the right times and in the right ratios necessary to prevent mineral leaching, and to deposit the minerals into the bone matrix.

We need the raw materials that our body needs to mineralize our bones in the form of whole food. The exception is vitamin D, which probably needs to be supplemented in the winter.

We need Calcium, vitamin D, magnesium, cholesterol, saturated fat, protein etc. Supplementing calcium without knowing one's metabolic type can be risky, as some metabolic types need an acid form (parasympathetic dominants), whereas others need an alkaline form (fast oxidizers) for success, and the catabolic types like slow oxidizers and sympathetic dominants actually have adequate calcium and need the synergistic factors to absorb calcium into their bones. Taking additional calcium will make their situation worse. This is why whole food is the safest bet.

We need adequate mechanical stress exerted on the bones to make the body realize that it is important to strengthen the bones to be able to handle the mechanical stress. The more kinds of forces applied to the bones, and the more unusual the movement patterns for the bones, the greater the likelihood of increasing bone mass.

Weight-bearing activity puts a compressive load through the bones. Strength training, depending on the nature of the exercise, will put torsion or bending forces through the bones. Stretching along the axis of the bones will put tension forces through the bones.

Most people are familiar with the importance of good nutrition and quality exercise for improving bone mass, but if we do not have an endocrine system that is functioning optimally, good nutrition and exercise won't work, as we need our hormones to actually get the minerals into the bones.

Calcitrol is an important hormone that is involved in calcium deposition into bones. The raw material from which calcitrol is made is cholesterol, slow cholesterol levels may affect the synthesis of calcitrol. Our thyroid, which sits in the front of our neck, secretes a hormone called calcitonin, and when the thyroid is not functioning as it should, calcitonin secretion may be affected, which will have a direct impact on the state of our bones. Proper functioning of the thyroid is very tied in to proper adrenal and cortisol function. Cortisol is your stress-response hormone, so if you are suffering from chronic stress, either physical, emotional or spiritual or any combination of the above, or if you are feeling fatigued on a daily basis, you may be losing bone mass due to endocrine dysfunction. It is also well established that corticosteroid drugs, both oral or inhaled, cause a decrease in bone mass just like excess endogenous cortisol does, probably through its effects on the thyroid, so if you are on these drugs it may be wise to talk to your healthcare provider about safer alternatives.

If you have been diagnosed with osteoporosis, get your healthcare provider to order saliva circadian rhythm adrenal and thyroid hormone tests, and then do whatever is necessary to rectify any issues through functional-medicine protocols and by adjusting lifestyle. So although osteoporosis, like almost all the degenerative diseases faced by society today, is a complex disease physiologically speaking with a variety of "causes", it can also be viewed as a very simple disease that is caused by living a lifestyle that breaks the laws of nature (eating fake food, inadequate amounts of quality flesh foods, not exercising enough or inappropriate intensity, not enough dark time, and being chronically stressed).

Davis said he wanted to make sure everything was proper and met with the approval of the Commission, and that the county would have knowledge of it in case residents in the area heard the noise and called the county to find out what was going on.

The commission discussed having a permitting process for large fireworks displays on privately-owned property, so that those asking permission would have a clear idea of what was expected in the matter of insurance and so forth, and be assured everything was in order according to state regulations. Honey Lake’s request was approved.

Next up were Brian Hill and Gregory Tillman, asking permission to temporarily close of a section of street in front of Hill’s house for the annual family reunion. The event has gotten larger each year, until the number of children running around playing in the yard and the street prompted their concerned parents last year to seek permission to temporarily block off the section of Lee Avenue in front of the house, between Bentley and Pecan. They had called the Sheriff’s Department last year to find out where to get permission. This year, Hill said, he wanted to make sure everything was done properly, and with the county’s okay.

Sheriff Ben Stewart joined the two at the podium and explained that this was a recurring event, suggesting that the commission create some sort of protocol or procedure for such requests in the future, that could be as simple as filling out a form, drawing a map of the street and stating the time frame for the temporary closure, as well as notifying any neighbors and making sure they wouldn’t be unduly blocked from getting to and from their property, and so forth.

The Commission discussed a possible permitting process for the future, and then voted to approve Hill’s request.

Obituaries

Danatta Jones Merryday

Danatta Ellaphair Jones was born in Arcadia, August 9, 1929 to a hard working farm family. Life on the farm ignited her love for plants, propagation, and all God's critters. Her education spanned from a two room schoolhouse, to graduation from Desoto High School at 16, to studying Biology and Education at Florida State College for Women. She completed her studies as a member of the last women's class at FSCW which became the newly recognized Florida State University during the final year of her education. After graduation, she taught high school science in Madison, Florida, where she met her husband Henry Crill Merryday and they married July 1, 1954. She retired as a teacher to become a full time mother and homemaker and the Merryday's moved to Tallahassee in 1959, where they remained for the rest of her life.

Active members of Saint Paul's United Methodist Church and the Ed Wynn Sunday School class since they arrived in Tallahassee, she was a warm generous friend and neighbor. Her welcoming nature formed lifelong friendships. She was a member of the Tallahassee Garden Club and always kept her love of nature, turning her yard into a plant nursery, butterfly garden, and bird sanctuary. Particularly dear to her heart were hummingbirds.

Serving others was her life. She cared for the sick, delivered Meals on Wheels, served through her church and took care of her parents. She was an excellent cook, delighting in sharing food with others especially the large family gatherings at her house and at the Jones Thanksgiving camp. A particular pleasure was for her and Crill to spend a month annually at Mexico Beach where friends and family often came to share the pleasure of her hospitality.

Danatta died peacefully at her home on May 15 surrounded by her loving family. She was a loving wife to Crill for 58+ years, proud mother to Dana (Amy), Crill (Jill), Glenn Powell (Marvin), grandmother to Audrey (Wayne Haas), Emily, Justin (Samantha), Jordan, Clinton, Ben, Henry, Hugh, and great grandmother to Naomi, Titus. She is also survived by a sister, Phala Bernhardt (Lacey Moore) and her beloved nieces, nephews and cousins.

A Celebration of Life Service was held at 2 p.m., Saturday, May 18, 2013 at St. Paul United Methodist Church. Family received friends from 6 until 8 p.m., Friday at Beggs Funeral Home, 3322 Apalachee Parkway, Tallahassee, FL. 32311, (850) 942-2929.

Letter To The Editor

Letters to the Editor are typed word for word, comma for comma, as sent to this newspaper.

I am very disappointed in the reaction and response I have received from the Madison County Superintendent of schools about the condition of the flag at Greenville Elementary School. The United State flag there is literally a 3 inch wide strip of cloth. I see it every day up there dangling like un-wanted laundry. This is not the flag that I want our children to see every day, I do not want them to think "it is o.k., it's just a flag". Anyone who has spent any time outside of this country will tell you, there is no place like America where freedom is protected by what that flag represented. I, like many other residents of this county, served in the armed forces, and am justifiably deeply offended by the condition of the flag on display at Greenville Elementary. To the principal; shame on you for allowing your facility to display out nation's flag in this condition, your school would close without the federal dollars that flag represents. What kind of example does this set for your students and the community? Why not try being proud to be a citizen of the most diverse and free country in the world for a change.

Thank You,
Blair Beaty

Mary Hartsfield To Retire

Retirement Party May 23

Story Submitted by Debbie Snapp

Longtime Aucilla Christian Academy School Teacher Mary Glenn Hartsfield will retire after this school year from teaching fulltime. A retirement party will be held for her on Thursday, May 23, in her classroom from 3 to 6 p.m. Hosted by Cricket Edwards and Leslie Wilkinson, this will be a 'drop by and wish her well' kind of event.

Hartsfield has been teaching at Aucilla Christian Academy since the 1980-1981 school year. She teaches the Science subjects of Chemistry and Physics, among other things, and fills in where needed as a teacher at a small-town school.

Hartsfield was born and raised in Tallahassee. After graduating from Florida High she continued her education at Tallahassee Community College, then on to Eastern Kentucky University. Her original career choice was to work in the forensic science field. She planned to come back to Florida and work with Florida Department of Law Enforcement... that didn't happen. "God Had other plans for me," she says. She received her Masters in Education at Florida State University.

She married Bill Hartsfield in 1978 and moved to Monticello, where she has lived ever since. They have two children, Will and Kathleen. Will is set to graduate from FSU this summer and Kathleen is at the point of expanding her education.

After her first year of substitute teaching at ACA, Hartsfield continued teaching fulltime for about 15-years before taking a few years off. When one of her former high school students, and now ACA Principal, Richard Finlayson called to ask if she was available for a teaching position at ACA again, she said yes. And she has no regrets, just fond memories. She will continue to keep her teaching certification current.

"I have taught so many second generation students," she tells with a smile in her voice. "I have worn multiple hats as a teacher at Aucilla, and I do plan to stay involved with the activities at Aucilla. "My priorities have changed. I feel that God is leading me elsewhere."

Hartsfield's future plans will be to spend more quality time with family; helping her daughter in her education choices and her son in whatever path he chooses to follow. She wants to spend more time at home, and outdoors. "I have lots to do at home," she comments. She says that she will continue in the Science field of substitute teaching and tutoring, when called upon.

"We feel blessed to have had Mary Hartsfield as a part of our faculty. Her teaching quality is so that her students are prepared for their next level," says Finlayson. "She will be missed and will always be a part of our family."

State Gymnastics Meet Brings Top Honors for Local Gymnasts Alana Demps and Reagan Jones

Twenty-five members of the Taylor Gymnastics girls' team traveled to Tampa on April 27-28 to compete in the 2013 AAU State Championships. Over 1,600 competitors from across the state converged to compete for the championship titles. Amongst the competitors were local level 2 gymnasts Alana Demps and Reagan Jones. Competing on the same team, both girls performed exceptionally well placing in various events.

Second year level 2 gymnast Alana Demps competed in the Elite "A" division which was comprised of the highest scoring Level 2 gymnasts from across the state. She scored a whopping 37.175 in the All-Around and finished 5th. Alana earned a total of five medals placing in each event: beam (9.25 - 5th place), uneven bars (9.325 - 5th place), floor (9.2 - 7th place), and vault (9.4 - 6th place), and was also honored with her elite gymnast pin for scoring 35 overall or higher. Alana excelled beyond her goals earning 9's and above in each event. "We were extremely proud of her," Coach Whiddon said, "to be placed in the Elite A division is an honor in and of itself."

First year level 2 gymnast Reagan Jones competed with girls of her age range also distinguished level two gymnasts. She did exceptionally well for her first state meet earning a total three medals for placing in the following events: bars (9.25 - 3rd place), vault (9.2 - 9th place), and floor (9.05 - 5th place). Reagan placed 6th in the All-Around earning a score of 35.9. This score earned her an elite pin, which is phenomenal for her first year of gymnastics.

Owner/Coach of Taylor Gymnastics Lisa Arrowood is very proud of the accomplishments of the young athletes. "These young gymnasts are our future optional team members. Level 2 is where the foundation is laid; with their talent level, our future is looking fantastic," she stated. Both girls have been moved to Level 3 team and will begin training this summer for next year's competitions.

Alana is the 9-year-old daughter of Allen and Renee Demps. She is a 3rd grader at Madison County Central School. Reagan is the 7-year-old daughter of T.J. and Summer Jones. She is a 1st grader at Madison Academy. Alana and Reagan were able to form a very special bond meeting each other for the first time after Reagan was invited to team. The girls attend practice twice a week and are blessed to have supportive parents who take turns in getting them to and from practice. Only two years apart in age, they are inseparable and are creating memories that will last a lifetime. Stay tuned because more is sure to come from these two exceptionally talented student athletes.

Madison County Training School Reunion: All Former Classmates Welcome!

Story submitted

Hey, all you Madisonians - come one come all, to the Madison County Training School Class Reunion, July 26 through July 28!

The Friday and Saturday reunion events will be held at the Madison County High School cafeteria, followed by Sunday Services at Damascus Missionary Baptist Church.

The Reunion Committee has decided to spotlight each graduating class from MCTS and Suwannee River High School from 1930 - 1970.

The school was known as Madison County Training School from 1930 until 1968, when it closed; the student then attended the school known as Suwannee River High School from 1969 until 1970, when it also closed.

Afterward, all high school students in Madison County attended Madison High School.

We need your help to make Reunion 2013 a dynamite one. What can you do to help?

Well, please call your classmates and one of you spearhead making a unique scrapbook of your class and its many memorable moments and activities.

At our reunion, we'll have over 100 magazines of The Mighty Rattlers on display, showcasing FAMU's formula for success. For the last 125 years, FAMU has been steaming with success as you'll see when you read articles about "FAMU Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," "The Walter L. Smith Library" as well as "Families Continue FAMU Legacy" (about MCTS graduate Dr. Edward Scott, Jr.) and "Fallen Rattlers" (about MCTS graduate Dr. Jacquelyn Thomas Hartley), featured in the magazine's Winter 2013 edition.

Come early! Register Early! Pick up the goodies early! Get your issue of the FAMU magazine and read about Madison's own Dr. Edward Scott, Dr. Jacquelyn Thomas Hartley, and our beloved FAMU.

For more information about the MCTS Tigers' Class Reunion 2013, contact Jennyethel Elliot, Tigers' Secretary, at (850) 576-4535

Madison Resident Travels To D.C. On Honor Flight

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Veteran Willis M. Moore of Madison was honored in a way that he will never forget this month. He was able to participate in the inaugural Honor Flight Tallahassee which allowed him to travel to Washington D.C. alongside many other World War II veterans. This honor flight was made possible through the kind donations of many people and organizations throughout the area. They raised a total of $90,000 to allow 80 veterans, along with their guardians and a team of medics, to make the trip. The youngest veteran on board was 85 years old. The oldest was 96.

The group was treated like celebrities from the time they departed. On May 11, Moore, along with the other 171 passengers, filled a Boeing 737 and departed for their long awaited trip.

Upon landing in D.C. the group filled three charter busses and were led through the busy city traffic by a police escort. Onlookers waved as the group rode by and school groups cheered as they saw the Veterans depart the bus. Some students even approached the veterans and shook their hand or thanked them for their service.

While in D.C. the group was able to visit many of the cities most popular sites. They visited the National Mall and Arlington National Cemetery, along with the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They were also able to see the U.S. Treasury, the Lincoln Memorial, the Pentagon and the White House. However, one of the most touching places that they were able to visit was the World War II Memorial. This memorial honors 16 million soldiers who served in the U.S. armed forces during World War II.

Upon their return flight at Baltimore International Airport, a group of uniformed soldiers met the group. The Veterans were showered with thanks and words of kindness. Miss Maryland Teen USA sang "God Bless America" for them. A small group of U.S. Air Force band members sang patriotic songs for them. Once the veterans boarded their plane, they were given letters from school children thanking them for all that they had done.

Moore, along with the other soldiers, was extremely thankful for the trip. Not many veterans are able to receive so much thanks and recognition in their lifetime, and these men were able to receive so much thanks during this one trip that it brought several of the men to tears.

Ernest "Gregory" Washington

Story Submitted by Ernest Washington Jr.

Bonjour, everyone! Our grandson Ernest "Gregory" Washington was among twenty-five students selected from his school (Norfolk Academy) in Norfolk, Virginia to travel abroad to France as an exchange student for two weeks. As a grandparent, I shared with him that this was an experience of a lifetime and that many of us adults have not experienced it. As part of the experience, Gregory stayed with a host family near the city of Paris. He stated that the host family was extremely nice, the surroundings were beautiful, and the food was UNBELIEVABLE!!! Additionally, they navigated the city Metro (subway), braved the cold winds off the coast of Normandy, visited the grave sites of the fallen American troops of "D-day", adapted to the ways of their host families, walked up Montmartre hill, visited beautiful churches, chateaux (castles), and art museums. Lastly, they surveyed the city of Paris from the top of the Eiffel Tower. During the month of October 2012, Gregory's counterpart (Xavier) spent two weeks here in the United States. The intent of the exchange program was to immerse the students into the habits, customs, and language of others around the World. Gregory really enjoyed the trip and the experience.

Gregory excels in his academic studies, football, track, and basketball. In the eleventh grade, he has received invitations to visit several colleges and universities (including Harvard, Holy Cross, the Naval Academy, William & Mary, Hampton, Norfolk State, University of Maryland, Clemson, and James Madison).

Gregory is the eldest son of Mr. Ernest and Mrs. Gilda A. Washington Jr. He is the grandson of Rev. Ernest and Mrs. Carrie Washington Sr. (paternal), and Mr. Alphonas and Mrs. Dorothy Alexander (maternal). He has three other siblings: Alex, Erica, and Brian. Gregory has many cousins and extended family in Madison County and surrounding areas.

Parents, grandparents, and extended family are proud to know that the next generation has "A Dream" and can be working towards that dream. The saddest story is not having a dream to work towards, or giving up on it before God says so.

We still have good children trying to be the best that they can. Whenever our children are engaged in life and positive life-changing experiences, we should cheer them on! Encourage them to do well; serving their community, state, nation, and mankind.

So my message to Gregory, and all of our youth is this: you have a supporting team of family members behind you. Remember to keep God first in your lives and that through Jesus Christ "...all things are possible."

Madison Academy Students Selected For Duke Talent Search Program

Four Madison Academy students participated in the Duke University Talent Search this year. The Talent Search identifies academically talented seventh graders based on standardized test scores. Seventh graders Luke Androski, Caden Newman, Kaylie Rogers and Hannah Zimmerly were invited to complete the SAT or ACT Assessment college entrance examination. The Talent Identification Program (TIP) then provides participants with test results and information regarding their academic abilities and resources for education opportunities.

Luke Androski and Kaylie Rogers demonstrated outstanding performance by scoring at or above the national average on a least one part of the SAT or ACT. This achievement qualified them for recognition at the state level, where they were awarded a commemorative medal.

ACA Spring Auction Huge Success

Fran Hunt
Special to Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Aucilla Christian Academy Spring Auction, held April 12 at Honey Lake Plantation, was a huge success.

Spokesperson Katrina Walton said that ACA grossed over $56,000 at the auction this year. "That's even better than last year," she added. "We're so excited."

172 enjoyed the meal of chicken, green beans, salad, rolls, ice tea, and brownies for dessert.

The servers for the occasion were the ACA Beta Club and ACA cheerleaders.

As entertainment, the high school drama team, "Living Waters," performed a skit, which Walton reported brought everyone in the audience to tears. "It was about the life of Jesus," said Walton.

"We had over 100 donors this year, and that's a few more than usual," Walton added. "The auction would not have been a success without our corporate sponsors and our donors. We extend our thanks and our greatest appreciation to them."

Corporate sponsors for the ACA Spring Auction included Stauton & Faglie, PL (Monticello), Katrina's Kitchens (Monticello), Ware Oil & Supply Co, Inc. (Perry), Madison Dental Associates (Madison), Bass Electrical Services (Monticello), and ASF Enterprise, LLC (Monticello).

Camp For 6-9th Graders Explores Nursing, Science, Fitness and Nutrition

Register now for Health Scholars 2013; Camp is June 17-20 at NFCC

North Florida Community College's Allied Health department is now enrolling 6-9th grade students in its 2013 Health Scholars Camp. The camp will be held June 17-20 from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. at the NFCC Career and Technical Education Center. The four-day camp explores healthcare topics and careers - nursing, science, fitness and nutrition - in engaging, fun and educational ways.

Campers will enjoy games, team building exercises, skills training with state-of-the-art patient simulators, guest speakers and field trips to local healthcare facilities including a trip to the Florida State University College of Medicine in Tallahassee. NFCC registered nursing students and faculty will provide basic first aid skills and first aid training to participants and share information on how to plan for a chosen career in healthcare, including what classes to take in high school and college. The camp, sponsored by Big Bend AHEC, the Healthcare Workforce Network and NFCC Allied Health, is a great camp for young students interested in healthcare as a possible career or students who simply want to have fun while learning valuable information this summer. Cost to attend is $50 per student. This fee includes meals, snacks and skills lab materials. Pre-registration is required. Space is limited to the first 20 students who pre-register. Deadline to register is Monday, June 10. To pre-register or for additional information, contact Denise Bell at (850) 973-9481 or email CommunityEducation@nfcc.edu.

NFCC Hosting

Madison Academy Holds Annual May Fete

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Madison Academy hosted their annual May Fete on Friday, May 10. This year's May Fete, titled "On The Road Again," featured numerous patriotic and Americana songs and performances that kept the audience entertained throughout. There was plenty of laughs and fun to be had by all.

This year's May Fete opened with the sixth grade class wrapping the May Pole. The sixth grade class included Summer Blair, Brad Bunch, Brandon Bunch, Aubrey Day, Jonathan Goley, Isaac Gonzales, Olivia Graham, Caroline Jennings, Jarod Johnson, Dilan Lawson, Logan Lepper, Claire Maultsby, Christian Nitschke, Justice Renfro, Dawson Rutherford, Reese Rutherford, Blake Sevor, Roderick Shaw, Cody Smith, Brailey Sparks, Gage Washington and Caleb Watts.

This year's eighth grade cast of characters was: Caterina Arnold, Mom; Jacob Johnson, Dad; Camryn Strickland, Daughter; Jim Flournoy, Son; Summer Langell, Travel Agent; Natalie Vasquez, Hawaiian Guide; Adam Androski, John Flournoy, Michael Goley and Brandon Segrest, College Boys; Ross Bass, Car Rental Manager; Stephen Miller, Policeman; Katie Burnette and Meghan Tobin, Cashiers; Jacob Hanners, Gas Station Attendant; Katelyn McCamman, Tour Guide; Garrett King, Welcome Center Guide; Sarah Evans, Photographer; and Alexis Bowen, Waitress.

Following the May Pole performance, the band played "William Tell" and "Lightly Row." The opening and closing song for the performance was "This Land is Your Land." The 3K class performed "Agadoo," followed by the first graders performing "California, Here I Come." The seventh graders performed "Deep in the Heart of Texas" followed by the 5K class performing "Okalahoma." Fourth grade then performed "Tennessee Mountain Man" followed by the third grade performing "Gary, Indiana." Next up were second graders performing "God Bless American" followed by the fifth grade performing "Good Time." The 4K class then performed "Good Day Sunshine" which was followed by the closing song.

This year's May Fete King was Dilan Lawson and Queen was Reese Rutherford.

A Salute To Our Hometown 2013 Graduates

Madison County Carrier
Section D

May 22, 2013

Congratulations to the Graduates of the Class of 2013

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

For the last 13 years, the Class of 2013 has counted down the days until they would walk across that stage, receive their diploma and enter the world of adulthood. Those 13 years have brought many memories of fun times with classmates who became their best friends. Graduation brings with it a feeling of completion; the sense that life is finally beginning.

Some students will choose to enter the workforce following graduation and those students will experience firsthand the meaning of being an adult. With being an adult comes a sense of freedom, independence and confidence that allow those working hours to go by quickly.

Others will go to college, where the stress of studying for tests, completing term papers and living in a dorm full of other people will be easily forgotten as you make new friends and memories. Attending college football games, going to parties with your friends, and being able to sleep in (if your class schedule allows) will be the memories that you cherish years from now.

The still others will decide to go into the armed forces. These people will learn early on about the meaning of honor and discipline. They will proudly serve our country with strength and honor. These are the people that allow the rest of us to continue living the life that we have come to love.

This year, we proudly honor the students of Madison County High School, Madison County BEAR Center, Aucilla Christian Academy, New Testament Christian Academy, Corinth Christian Academy and LATMA Christian Academy.

Good luck in all that you do with your life and always cherish the memories that you have made. Life goes by much too fast and it is easy to forget where you came from. My hope is that each of you is able to succeed in all of your endeavors and to always keep your eyes on the horizon. Your future is yours to create.

MCHS Valedictorian

Christian Griffin

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Christian Griffin earned top honors during his four years at Madison County High School, awarding him the coveted title of valedictorian. He has earned a cumulative GPA of 3.93 and a cumulative weighted GPA of 4.535. While in school, Christian was active in many clubs and sports. He was a member of the MCHS tennis team for all four years. He was active in SGA as 10th grade president, 11th grade president and Student Body President. He was the President of the Gifted Students Club, a member of SSTRIDE since he was in seventh grade and a member of FCCLA in 10th grade, where he won in state and national competitions. He also sat on the School Board and Parent Advisory Board. He was a page in the Florida Senate and a Messenger in the Florida House, being Madison's delegate to Boys'

State. He also volunteered at First United Methodist Church, Madison.

Griffin plans to attend Flagler College in the fall to major in Political Science with a minor in International Studies. He hopes to one day work overseas for the U.S. State Department.

He would like to thank his family, friends, teachers and classmates for their help throughout his school career. He also said, "They helped me get to this point in my life. Of course I have to thank God, without whom nothing at all would be possible."

Griffin would also like to share this advice with future high school students, "Do not be intimidated by high school. The four years go by so fast. Just stay focused, take each assignment one at a time, and do not forget to have fun along with school work."

MCHS Salutatorian

Logan Groover

By Kristin Finney
Greene Publishing, Inc.

Logan Groover earned the prestigious honor of Salutatorian during her four years at Madison County High School. She has earned a cumulative GPA of a 3.942 and a cumulative weighted GPA of 4.435. In school, Groover was a part of the Cowgirl's volleyball team in 10th grade and the Cowgirl's softball team for all four years. She played center field for the Cowgirl's varsity team from 9th-12th grade and proudly wore the #2 jersey. During her senior year, Groover helped lead the Cowgirls to become District Champions, Regional Champions and runner-ups in State.

Her plans for the future include finishing her Associate of Arts degree requirements at North Florida Community College. She then plans to transfer to Florida State University to major in Exercise Science. After earning her Bachelor's degree in Exercise Science, Groover plans to transfer to another university that offers a physical therapy program. She hopes to one day become a Physical Therapist.

Groover would like to thank her family and friends for being the driving force behind her education success. "I would like to thank my family for always supporting me throughout school and sports. They have always been so supportive of my decisions. They have helped me become the person I am today and have helped me reach this major point in my life." She also added, "I feel like I would not be in this position without the love and guidance of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ."

She would also like to share this piece of advice to future students, "Focus on your studies, but also enjoy your four years of high school. They go by way too fast!"

ACA Class Of 2013

Valedictorian Kaley Love

By Fran Hunt

Special to Greene Publishing, Inc.

The Aucilla Christian Academy valedictorian for the Class of 2013 is county native Kaley Love.

Kaley has an unweighted grade point average of 4.0. She does not take dual enrollment courses, but she has been taking Advanced Placement courses at ACA for the past two years.

Kaley has been a member of the Beta Club from the ninth through twelfth grade. She has been a member of the student council in seventh, eighth, ninth, and eleventh grades. Kaley has also been a member of the Brain Bowl Club during the eleventh and twelfth grades.

She plans to attend the University of Florida and study nursing. While she is in college, she will be residing with her grandparents, who live in Bell.

Kaley received a $12,000 Florida Bright Futures Scholarship, in which to pursue her studies.

Kaley plans to study nursing and her goal is to become a pediatric nurse.

"I definitely want to return to Monticello after I graduate from college, and work as a nurse in the area," she said.

"The greatest influences in my education have been my parents.

They have always been great supporters and have encouraged me to work to my fullest potential," Kaley added.

What does she attribute her academic success to? "As a Christian, I believe that I should do my best in everything that I do, so I would attribute my academic success to my trust in God, and hard work," she said.

So does she plan to hold to the beliefs she was taught in school? "I have been fortunate enough to attend Aucilla Christian Academy, where I have been encouraged to put God first in everything I do in life," she said.

She is a member of the Monticello Church of Christ.

As a Christian, she believes in giving of herself to others. She has been a Bible class teacher for toddler-age children at the church, and she has participated in many service projects through the Beta Club, which has included raising money for, and attending the Relay for Life.

She has been employed as a babysitter for the past two years, and she has also worked as a tutor for the past three years, tutoring students in math and writing.

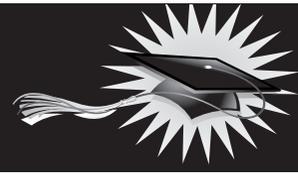

Her hobbies include hunting and fishing.

Kaley is the daughter of Joel and Debbie Love of Monticello.

ACA Class Of 2013

Salutatorian Ashli Nicole Cline

and USF Honors College Award.

“My father, my family and my hope for the future have been the greatest influences in my education,” said Ashli. “My father always pushed and encouraged me to always be the very best that I can be, and to make the most out of what I have been given. My family encourages me daily to complete high school and go to college, so that I will be able to accomplish my goals in life, and finally, the hope that I have for my future really pushes me to do everything I can to be successful in whatever I do, because I know the positive impact I want to have in others’ lives,” she added.

“I attribute my academic success to my time management skills, leadership skills, personality, determination, and desire to succeed,” Ashli said. “I understand the importance of having a good education, but I also acknowledge the skills that I gave acquired over the past several years. Honestly, my desire to be the best that I can be at everything I do is what really led to my academic success. Of course, the fact the Jesus Christ has given me the skills and opportunities I have now, is a considerable reason for my academic success; I would be nothing, no one, without Him,” she said.

After graduation, she does not plan to remain in the area of Jefferson County. “I would like to spend a lot of my future years traveling the country and the world, but I plan on visiting home as often as I can. Maybe when it comes time to settle down and start a family, I’ll think about coming back to Monticello. But hopefully that won’t be for a while because there is so much I would like to do with my life before then,” she said.

Ashli has been the Class of 2013 president since the ninth grade, a member of the student council since the tenth grade, and she currently serves as the 2013 Class President. She has been a member of the Christian drama team since the 11th grade, and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and the National Beat Club, throughout high school.

Ashli has volunteered at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital and Capital Regional Medical Center during the summer of 2010, in addition to the multiple hours of community service for Beta Club, Student Council, church events and community events.

She has been a Kennel Tech at Veterinary Associates for the past several years. “My job certainly is a lot of hard work, but it’s definitely rewarding to be able to help the animals,” said Ashli.

She added that she plans to hold to the beliefs taught to her at ACA. “I hold very true to the Christian faith. If there’s anything Aucilla has given me, it’s my faith. During college, I plan on joining a local church and college Bible study so that I can continue to grow in my faith. I understand the impact that Christ has had on my life and choosing to make Him my Lord and Savior has made all of the difference in my life. I cannot thank Him enough for all that He has given me, and continues to give to me daily.”

During her attendance at ACA Ashli had Ashli participated on the girls basketball team for six years, and the girls softball team for the 2011-2012 season.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church of Monticello, and the First Presbyterian Church of Monticello.

Her hobbies include spending time with friends and family, outdoor activities, sports and club activities, and finding new things to do. “I love a good adventure, and plan on joining several clubs and organizations while in college,” she added.

Ashli is the daughter of Charlie Cline, Jr. and Regina Cline of Monticello, and Ellen Jerauld and Mark Jerauld of Monticello.

She has an unweighted 4.0 grade point average, and though she does not take dual enrollment courses, she has taken, and is currently, taking Advanced Placement courses at ACA.

Ashli plans to attend the University of South Florida, where she will study pre-nursing.

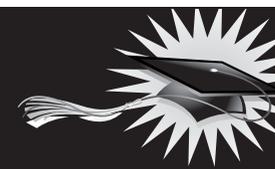

She plans on specializing in pediatrics and performing extensive research on cancer pediatrics. “I would like to pursue a post-graduate degree in the medical field and work in a pediatric facility,” she said.

While in college, Ashli looks forward to living on campus in Tampa. She says she will miss home, but she plans on visiting.

Ashli has been awarded a Florida Bright Futures Scholarship, the USF Scholars Award,

Ark Singers Seeking Donations For Roof On Church Camp

Dear Friend of the Ark Singers,

Over the last 10 years, our group of "Ark" is working with orphans and children from poor and disadvantaged families. Every year we run Christian summer camp for these children. In a year we spend six to eight camps in different places. Each camp is for us - it is a blessing: from 50 to 200 children per shift can relax and hear about Christ. Many of them are turning to God, come to church. Each camp - it's a great physical and financial costs. Rent territory and power now worth a lot of money. Through service, we prayed for God's will regarding the purchase of their camp. The Lord has blessed us, and we purchased an abandoned camp, in a nice natural area, not far from the city of Donetsk, in an area. Galitsinovka.

For the current year, God has allowed us to do a lot: clear out the debris, building kitchen remodel, shower, lay mains, dig a well. All this we were able to make joint efforts of many prayers and donations.

The next step - a reconstruction of the roof of the main residential housing. What would be the summer of 2014, to conduct camps on its territory. The ninth of May, we spent there the first service there in the open, prayed, sang songs, talked evidence.

Brothers and Sisters of America never indifferent to the needs of Ukrainian churches, have always been the sacrificial heart and fervent prayers.

If the Lord has your heart, take part in the reconstruction of the roof of the main building at the sacrifice of one square meter, which costs $ 50.

Donations can be sent by check to the SMO marked «Roof on Camp» at:

Slavic Missionary Outreach
145 NW Harmony Church Way
Greenville, FL 32331.

From June 7 to July 10, we planned a trip for the Slavic churches in America, where we will be presenting their projects, so Please remember in prayer every day for us!

Be a part of God's great building!

Joe Boyles Ordained at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

By Lynette Norris

Greene Publishing, Inc.

"But ye shall receive power; after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." Acts 1:8, KJV

St. Mary's Episcopal Church is a small building that looms large with history. The dark wooden pews and creamy white bead-board walls reflecting the light streaming through the stained glass windows give one the feeling of entering a special place from another time, and yet it is a place that is accessible to anyone who walks through the open front door.

Since 1859, congregations have gathered here to worship, making it the oldest continuously used church in Madison.

Inside, the little church doesn't look as if it has changed much since then, remaining a place of quiet serenity that has seen several generations come through its doors. How many services have been conducted, how many scriptures read from the altar, how many hymns sung within its walls, how many families and their children and their children's children, generation after generation of families, have called this their church home?

Perhaps, if someone were to listen very closely, he might even hear echoes of all those long-ago voices raised in songs of praise; it is something that is part of the building, and it is much more. It is a continuous gathering of a body of believers over the years, the body of Christ that endures through the ages, even as the faces of congregants and church leaders change.

In the early evening hours of May 9, the congregation of St. Mary's Episcopal Church gathered yet again for a very special occasion. This was the ordination service for one of their own; David Joseph "Joe" Boyles was to be ordained as their new deacon. It was Joe Boyles whom they had prevailed upon some time earlier to consider taking on the role, and for quite some time afterward, he had prayed about whether or not this was indeed to be his calling.

On that May 9 evening, after he had accepted the calling and spent several intervening months in self-study to prepare for his new responsibilities, he stood before the congregation as the one they had chosen to lead them in their worship services, and the one they had chosen to be there for them when they need guidance.

The ordination began with the reading of Acts 1:8, a passage in which Jesus addresses his apostles for the last time before he ascends into heaven. The disciples remain behind on earth, but they are not to be disheartened in any way, because they will not be truly alone. "For ye shall receive power," He tells them. "After that the Holy Ghost has come upon you."

It is a most apt scripture for an ordination, said Bishop Charles Keyser of the Florida Diocese, for as with the disciples left behind on earth, it is through the power of the Holy Ghost, working through him, that a deacon both leads and serves his congregation.

As with any gathering of believers, Jesus is the vine and the baptized believers are the branches grafted onto the vine. The Holy Spirit is the life-giving sap, the life force, as it were, flowing through the vine and out into the branches so they grow and thrive and spread, becoming witnesses unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

There are, however, doors at every point along the vine where the branches are grafted onto it, and these doors have knobs on one side only, and that is the branch/believer's side. Jesus can knock on this door, but

The Pulpit

By Rev. Delbert Redditt
Pastor, Faith Baptist Church

“Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.” 1 John 4: 4

Have you had one of those days where everything you did was wrong and it seemed everybody was in a bad mood? I am sure we all have; however, how we react to those times is very important.

Some just shrug their shoulders and move on while others become embittered and develop an outlook on life, which always looks for the worst in every situation. If we are not careful, it becomes very easy for our perspective on life to become negative and will ultimately make you negative and when you become negative you lose your effectiveness.

As believers in the Lord Jesus Christ, it is of paramount importance that we retain a positive outlook no matter what the circumstances of life.

First, we need to remember that the victory over sin and death were won by our Lord. When He rose from the grave, the victory had been won. Now we are involved in a great spiritual war for the souls of man and each and every one of us has a role to play.

Second, we have immediate access to the creator and ruler of the universe. How many of you have taken the time to write or call a political leader. Sometimes you get them and sometimes you don't. Yet one far more powerful than any political leader is available to you.

Third, you have the Holy Spirit to lead you through life's difficult moments. He is able to lead us, direct us and teach us if we allow Him. His insights will allow us to recognize the purpose of these times and He will empower us to overcome the dire circumstances which life can offer.

Finally, you have a vast support network to aid you. You have brothers and sisters in Christ who are there to pray for you and to be of assistance if you need it. Therefore the feelings of negativity we all have need to be dealt with through prayer, Bible Study, fellowship and praise. In the end we need to recognize negativity and eliminate it.

Remember: “Greater is He that is in you, than he that is in the world.”
 May God richly bless your day!

KEEPING THE FAITH

the AWARD WINNING NEWSPAPER COLUMN

by RONNIE McBRAYER

A Special Welcome

I've been involved in ministry or "church work" for over two decades. Don't let my youthful persona fool you;

I'm now closer to drawing Social Security than I am to drawing Crayola inspired pictures on construction paper. Obviously, Social Security may not be an option for me or my generation, but that's a column for another time.

Back to the ministry: Yes, the church has been my life. I have loved it and hated it; embraced it and attacked it; been welcomed by it with open arms, and been told I have no place under the steeple (or at least behind the pulpit). I escaped the church for a time – partly because of crisis, mainly out of exhaustion – but God won't leave me alone and won't let me leave.

So while my ongoing participation in faith has not changed, my approach to faith has. For many years I participated in religious systems that made it hard on people to get to know God. This was my religious upbringing. And later, I wasn't just involved, I led and perpetuated such structures.

In the words of Jesus to the Pharisees, I loaded people "down with unbearable religious demands and never lifted a finger to ease the burden. I shut the door of the Kingdom of Heaven in people's faces." Why? It was usually because I concluded that some people weren't good enough, moral enough, committed enough, straight enough, white enough, wealthy enough, or clean enough to be allowed in.

And in those moments of clarity and conviction when I knew what I should do – greet all who came seeking God with open arms – I often didn't do it. Because ultimately I didn't want to feel the wrath of the elders at the next administrative meeting; I was afraid to offend the person or persons with the deepest pockets; And more to the point, I didn't want to get fired for bucking the system.

Now, believe me when I say that I do not consider myself now enlightened in comparison to my younger self (that's as laughable as it gets). But I do consider myself forgiven of violating the practice of grace. And I pray for the courage, that when I say to my own congregation, "All are welcome!" I mean it and live like it.

I hope to aspire to the courage and clarity of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Daytona Beach, Florida. Author Jon Acuff got his hands on a copy of a bookmark that the Florida church hands out to all Sunday newcomers. And while opinions on the following words have ranged far and wide, for my part, I love it. In part it reads:

"We extend a special welcome to those who are single, married, divorced, gay, filthy rich, dirt poor, and 'yo no hablo Ingles'...You're welcome here if you're 'just browsing,' just woke up or just got out of jail. We don't care if you're more Catholic than the Pope, or haven't been in church since little Joey's Baptism. We extend a special welcome to those who are over 60 but not grown up yet, and to teenagers who are growing up too fast.

"We welcome soccer moms, NASCAR dads, starving artists, tree-huggers, latte-sippers, vegetarians, and junk-food eaters. We welcome those who are in recovery or still addicted. We welcome you if you're having problems or if you're down in the dumps or if you don't like 'organized religion,' we've been there too.

"If you blew all your offering money at the dog track, you're welcome here. We offer a special welcome to those who think the earth is flat, work too hard, don't work, can't spell, or because grandma is in town and she wanted to go to church. We welcome those who are inked, pierced or both.

"We offer a special welcome to those who could use a prayer right now, had religion shoved down your throat as a kid or got lost in traffic and wound up here by mistake. We welcome tourists, seekers and doubters, bleeding hearts...and you!"

Seminole, Gator Fan Challenge At Lee Worship Center

The sounds of the Seminole war chant fill the Southern air on Saturdays in Tallahassee, as do the sounds of the theme from Jaws vibrate in the Swamp in Gainesville.

Who has the most fans in this area? Gators or Seminoles? The people at Lee Worship Center are trying to find out on Saturday, June 1.

Seminole fans and Gator fans are asked to come to the church that evening for a special occasion, to honor Sharon Sauls, wife of Pastor Richard Sauls, on her birthday.

An open microphone gospel sing and potluck supper, will be held at the church. There will be a challenge between Seminole fans and Gator fans to see who can get the most people in attendance for the sing.

Lee Worship Center is located at 471 SE Magnolia Avenue in Lee. There is no charge for the sing or the supper. A love offering will be accepted.

Joe Boyles

Greene Publishing, Inc. Photo by Lynette Norris, May 13, 2013.

David Joseph “Joe” Boyles (in white robe, back to camera) stands before Bishop Charles Keyser in St. Mary’s Episcopal Church of Madison. Visiting church leaders for the ordination service included Don Woodrum, priest of St. Luke’s Episcopal Church in Live Oak (seated, far left) and Deacon Jeannie Beyer of Grace Mission in Tallahassee. Bishop Charles Keyser is seated in front of Boyles, partially hidden.

only the branch can open that door and let Him in. The story of a believer’s spiritual life is seen in the pattern created by the opening and closing of that door. When the door is shut against the Holy Spirit, the branch cannot thrive; it will eventually wither and die. When the door is thrown open, the Holy Spirit fills the branch to capacity with life and love.

A deacon is a special kind of branch.

The ministry of a deacon is the tending of these doors. He works keep the hinges in working order, so that the doors may be always opened.

The ministry of a deacon is also to be “the expression of truth and the embodiment of grace,” said the Bishop; he is to be one who receives the deposit of the compassionate heart of Christ, and the grace through the power of the Holy Spirit to disperse that compassion to all who need it. It is a compassion so vast that it can never be used up.

Boyles’ ministry follows that of Ben Pfeil, who led the St. Mary’s congregation for 20 years, until his health forced him into retirement; he passed away earlier this year.

After pursuing his course of self-study for the role of deacon, Boyles had been interviewed by the Bishop, who was satisfied that he met the requirements of the Diocese to lead the congregation of St. Mary’s.

As a deacon, Boyles will continue his course of study during his deaconship, and then be interviewed once more by the Bishop of the Diocese of Florida for the position of vicar, and if he receives the church’s approval, he will then become the vicar of St. Mary’s, a place where he believes he was called to stay, to lead and to serve for as long as he is needed.

“Your mother and father are smiling on you today,” the Bishop told him.

One can imagine that others as well are smiling, others whose voices were raised in past hymns, seeing that their children, their grandchildren and future generations now have a new special branch to tend the rest of the vine and see that its doors are open and its branches are receiving the Holy Spirit, so that the vine can continue thriving and growing as the body of

The pastor will preach his farewell message, after which the choir will sing, "Break Forth Into Joy."

During the absence of our pastor, we enjoyed the rare privilege of hearing a good sermon when J.F. Stubbs supplied our pulpit.

Next Sunday Mrs. Vinson will be soloist for the morning service. The pastor will then speak on "It's a Terrible Experience."

Due to the Rector's illness, Wednesday's healing services will be discontinued until further notice.

51st Homecoming for Ebenezer United Methodist Church

Story submitted

If you enjoy good old-fashioned gospel sings, come on out to Ebenezer United Methodist Church in Hamburg, Saturday night, May 25, starting at 7 p.m., and enjoy several of your favorite hymns.

Come back Sunday morning for our 51st Homecoming celebration, Sunday May 26, starting at 11 a.m. Rev. Rich Quackenbush, Retired Pastor of the United Methodist Church, is the guest pastor. Dinner on the grounds will follow.

Ebenezer Methodist Church was founded in 1840. The original church, constructed of logs, was down the hill and west of the current site and is now occupied by the cemetery. The present structure was erected in 1901. John R. Wilson, Sr. and Thomas L.H. Rykard helped with the construction. The hand made pulpit, flower stands (used ages ago for lamps), alter, and pews are as they were when the sanctuary was constructed. The chandelier (still in use) was given to the church around 1905 by Mrs. S.B. Mays, mother of D.H. Mays, Sr. of Madison. Some of the early families were, Arnold, Bunting, Burnett, Clark, Cooper, Crane, Drew, Edwards, Flowers, Gaston, Hammerly, Harrell, Hinton, Hughey, Kirby, Loper, Manning, Martin, Mays, Morrow, McCardle, McClellan, McDaniel, Overstreet, Paul, Pridgeon, Ragland, Rykard, Sale, Smith, Tooke, Vance, Vann, Wilson, Watts and Will. Many of whom are resting in the cemetery. Regular services were held at the church until 1940, with the late Rev. L.P. Driskell serving as the last pastor,

The church sat idle until 1962 when George F. Burnett, Sr., one of the Trustees, whose parents worshiped here, realized the need for a new roof and painting. He shared the need with his friends and family who once worshiped at Ebenezer. They made sufficient donations to re-roof and paint the inside and outside. George Burnett, the Hugheys, Wilsons, Rykards and many members of the community joined in restoring the well, cleaning the grounds and Jesse Hughey refinished the chandelier, making the first homecoming on Sunday, July 29, 1962 possible. Homecoming is now held every year on the last Sunday in May.

Everyone is invited to join us in our homecoming celebration. If you have any questions feel free to contact any of the Trustees, Frank Rykard, Carlton Burnette, Jenny Andrews, Brian Wilson, Eugene Davis or Gene Gaston.
