Former Florida Supreme Court chief justice to serve as jurist-in-residence

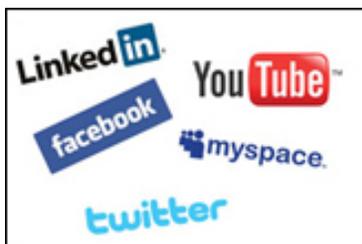

University of Florida Levin College of Law students will have the unique opportunity to tap into 43 years of experience and legal perspective of former Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court Charles T. Wells on Jan. 20-21 as he serves as the Peter T. Fay Jurist-in-Residence. The Jurist-in-Residence Program, launched in 2010, brings experienced judges to campus to share their legal insights and experiences with students through participation in college activities and classroom discussions.

Seminar on Social Media: Promises, Pitfalls & Perils Jan. 22

Social media is fun, free and easy, and more people each day use it for business as well as for pleasure. But what are the liabilities and legal pitfalls of using Facebook, Twitter and other social media? Are there special concerns related to public institutions operating under the Sunshine

Law? The Levin College of Law and University of Florida Strategic Communications Planning Committee will present a free seminar on the safe and effective use of social media 3-5 p.m., Friday, Jan. 22, in the law school's Chesterfield Smith Ceremonial Classroom (room 180).

Upcoming spring conferences and symposiums

The spring semester is full of rich teaching and learning opportunities for students, alumni and friends of the College of Law. With symposiums, conferences and lectures on topics ranging from music and sports to government and the environment, experts and professionals from a variety of fields come together to discuss important legal issues. For more information on the conferences, symposiums and lectures this semester, see the calendar of events.

Faculty Scholarship and Activities

The UF law faculty is comprised of highly accomplished scholar-teachers who bring remarkable experience and knowledge to the classroom. Keep up with what they're writing about and saying each week in FlaLaw by reading about their scholarship and activities, as well as their media appearances.

Upcoming Events

Walk-in resume reviews Jan. 11

Join the CCD this week for two days of walk-in resume reviews. Jan. 11, 1-3 p.m. & Jan. 14, 10 a.m. to noon. Just stop by 244 Bruton Geer to have your resume looked over by a CCD counselor. Counselors will be available on a walk-in basis to review resumes, make suggestions, and offer advice on highlighting your best accomplishments on paper. All you need to bring is 10 minutes of your time and a paper copy of your resume. We look forward to seeing you and your resume in the CCD this week.

Center on Children and Families 2010 Juvenile Justice Conference, "Juvenile Justice: Passages, Prevention, and Intervention" Feb. 19 & 20

The Center on Children and Families will host a conference on Juvenile Justice on Feb. 19 and 20. Students may attend the conference at the special reduced rate of $35, but as this is a conference with limited seating, we urge you to register as soon as possible (Registration has been extended until Jan. 20). Both of the presentations of our plenary speakers, Shay Bilchik and Geoffrey Canada, will be broadcast to a room open to anyone who wishes to hear their talks. In addition, Geoffrey Canada will hold a book signing after his talk. If you cannot attend the conference, feel free to come hear either of our plenary speakers free of charge in the overflow rooms for both events. For more information or to register visit the conference Web site.

Applications for the Summer 2010 Yegelwel Fellowship are still being accepted

Applications for the Summer 2010 Yegelwel Fellowship are still being accepted. The deadline for submission of application materials has been extended to Jan. 22. The fellowship provides a $4,000 stipend to a UF Law student to participate in a Summer Fellowship Program at the Anti-Defamation League, Florida Regional Office in Boca Raton. The Fellowship will last 8-10 weeks, with the student committing to a minimum of 35 hours per week. The fellow will be supervised by the ADL Southern Area Counsel. Previous fellows conducted legal and legislative research on a broad variety of subjects including amending Florida's hate crime law to include homelessness as a protected category, the teaching of intelligent design in the public school science classroom, and the scope of separation of church and state under the Florida constitution. The fellow also handled constituent discrimination complaints and participated in ADL meetings, functions and events. The Yegelwel Fellowship is limited to UF Law students who have successfully completed the first-year required curriculum, including Constitutional Law, and who are in good academic standing prior to beginning the fellowship. "Successful" completion of the first-year required curriculum means earning a passing grade in each course and maintaining an overall GPA of at least 3.0. See the Center Web site for more details. If you have any questions, please contact Melissa Bamba (CSRRR assistant director) at 352-273-0614 or bamba@law.ufl.edu.
