DRESSES FOR SUMMER WEAR.

Becoming but Inexpensive Gowns For the Warm Weather.

Special correspondence of The Florida Star.

NEW YORK, May 14.—As we do not need half so many fancy street gowns as plainer ones for ordinary home wear, it seems to me that the one who gives us something in that line at once simple and neat, which shall also be pretty, is deserving of thanks. Here is a light plaid dress, made in the prevailing style, and yet it is so very simple that it is well worth a niche in the hall of fame, and not in the basement, but in a prominent place and on a pedestal. The dresses are of rather light woolen, and the skirts are made up without lining. There are many suitable weaves and kinds of stuffs, but probably the most useful ones are the serges, cravenettes, homespuns, tweeds and coverts. Cashmere is a favorite material this season, but it is not so good for every day, as, being of smooth surface, any little spot shows and cannot be hidden, while a plaid or a rough surface is better. In the illustration the material is of plaid, a brown over a fawn colored ground. The lines are light, and therefore the design is one quite suitable for summer.

ATTRACTIVE SUMMER DRESS.

This particular dress, which can be duplicated in anything of sufficient body, has the skirt cut with a shaped flounce, and at the joining there is a row of black velvet ribbon, headed by one very narrow line of black braid. The waist and sleeves are really better described by a look at the picture than words could do it. A few narrow plaits and some velvet ribbon put on where it seems to be designated make all the ornamentation, and combined they make the dress really a pretty one. One thing more—the little yoke at the shoulders is not fastened to the dress, which has the usual arrangement at the top only that there is no collar, but a band only about an inch wide. This is so that when it is very warm the yoke may be laid aside and the neck finished off with one of the new soft ties, which are made of pique and dimity and, in fact, almost any washable material.

Among the washable cottons I see a plaid with some sort of twill or twist which makes it look exactly like a lightweight woolen, and some of them have regular shepherd figures, and others show some of the quietest of the clan plaids. They are all printed so the plaid comes on the bias. It is especially valuable for schoolgirls.

It is with genuine pleasure that I note the immense number of white dresses for summer wear, for nothing is daintier than a crisp white gown. There are so many nice materials in white that, no matter what one's taste is or means, there is something for all. Linen is one of the best, as it looks better after washing than anything, and there are dozens of different fancies in linen, though, to be sure, it is not all white. Linen is now found in pink, blue and several shades, ranging from cream to tan, and through the string shades. Grass linen is also shown in large quantities, and other kinds again where there is a cross thread which makes a plaid pattern, though in the same shade. Some of the very prettiest ones have the corded plaid, and in the centers of the plaid there are small figures woven in in swivel weave. In some of these all is in one uniform color, and then again the small figure will be in colors, especially when the figure is small flowers.

White waists will be very much liked. There is absolutely no limit to the number now finished and being made. The pretty colored waists, when in really good material, wash well and look all right, but not all of them have the same freshness of new after being sent to the laundry, while the white ones grow in grace and purity every time they are done up, and they can not only be worn with anything, but they help to carry out the style of black and white, for black skirts are in favor now to a greater extent than ever before. The mohairs and smooth surfaced stuffs are the favorites for every day, and for nice wear the rich silk warp henrietta and eudora and melrose are by all means best because they shed dust and wear forever, and if they become soiled they can be washed like a piece of calico, to my certain knowledge. And all those materials are superb and make the richest of skirts. OLIVE HARPER.

Thomas Maple, Birkbeck, Ills., writes: "I had a very bad case of kidney trouble and my back pained me so I could not straighten up. The doctor's treatment did me no good. "I am a selfmade man," said the pompous individual with his chest expended. The other looked at him critically. "Your excuse is satisfactory."

Beware of a Cough.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Wilson & Son.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

R·I·P·A·N·S

Thousands of people the country over are using Ripans Tabules every day. They use them because of the beneficial results they have received. The Tabules have been tested and proved the standard cure for digestive disorders.

They relieve the most severe case of indigestion or any kindred trouble at once. They are a scientific compound and in their action benefit both the nervous and physical organism.

Ripans Tabules never leave the system weak and exhausted. On the contrary, they build up faster than the bodily waste occurs, and thus gradually a high plane of health is reached. It may take time to permanently overcome a digestive disorder which perhaps is of years' standing, but Ripans Tabules will do it if persistently taken in accordance with the directions given.
