

One Resource, Anyway.

"There we were," said the engineer. "We were going at least fifty miles an hour. In front was the burning bridge, and behind were twelve coaches filled with passengers. The locomotive was rushing toward destruction at a frightful pace. It was an awful moment." The Boy—"Why didn't you back pedal?"—Life.

YOUNG AT SIXTY.

Serene comfort and happiness in advanced years are realized by comparatively few women.

Their hard lives, their liability to serious troubles on account of their peculiar organism and their profound ignorance concerning themselves, all combine to shorten the period of usefulness and fill their later years with suffering.

Mrs. Pinkham has done much to make women strong. She has given advice to many that has shown them how to guard against disease and retain vigorous health in old age. From every corner of the earth there is constantly coming the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 220 Horner St., Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I had trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way. My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female troubles."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

SCIENTIFIC SCRAPS.

There was recently opened at Leicester, England, a new municipal technical art school, in which there is a department devoted to instruction in dressmaking and knitting.

One of the heaviest locomotives of ordinary pattern ever made is now running over the Great Northern railroad. It weighs ninety-five tons, exclusive of the tender.

Draughting compasses are being made with a flexible rubber suction cup on one end to fasten to the paper and hold the instrument while the circle is being drawn.

A statistician affirms that the majority of people who attain old age have kept late hours. Eight out of ten who reach the age of 80 have never gone to bed till after 12 at night.

The Belgian government is contemplating the establishment of an overhead single rail between Brussels and Antwerp. It is expected that a speed of about ninety miles an hour will be obtained.

If dry ropes are soaked for four days in a bath containing twenty grains of sulphate of copper to a quart of water, they will be preserved for a considerable time from the attacks of animal parasites and rot.

Coal is not only a source of heat and light, but a storehouse of colors, medicines, perfumes and explosives. From 140 pounds of gas tar in a ton of coal over 2000 distinct shades of aniline dyes are made.

A device for the prevention of vessels from foundering, recently tested with success in London, consists of gutta percha bags fixed under the decks which, when inflated with carbonic acid gas, raised a vessel loaded with brick and sunk to the deck level.

Green is the color most beneficial to the eye in diffused light, and reds and pinks the most harmful. In a strong direct light, however, blue and neutral tints are the best for the eyes, and pure white the most harmful, as is proved by the phenomena of snow blindness.

The president of the Agassiz association, H. H. Ballard, recently caught an ant near its hill, shut it up in a box, carried it 150 feet away, and set it free in the middle of a shady road. What followed he thus describes: "It seemed at first bewildered. Then it climbed to the top of a ridge of sand, erected its body as high as possible, waved its antennae for several seconds, and then started in a straight line for home."

A London hospital physician has sent a circular to all the London hospitals, protesting against permitting cut flowers to be kept in hospital wards or in sick rooms. A pot of growing plants he believes to be free from germ-collecting possibilities. A small bunch of violets, or a few pinks, which the patient can handle, would be permissible, but not large bunches of flowers kept in water. These he would bar from sick rooms.

Soap Made From the Peanut.
A thrifty woman once discovered that the salted peanut and the salted almond are not very unlike except in the matter of cost. So that the plebeian nut has already had a more or less good domestic standing. Now comes Professor S. P. Sadler with a statement that will insure it a high place in trade.

Its oil, of a pale yellow color and "of agreeable flavor," is to supersede olive oil. "When once freed from the acid found in it in its raw state," says the professor, "peanut oil does not tend to become rancid as easily as olive oil."

Not only are we to dress our salads in peanut oil, but we are to wash our hands with soap made of the oil. Castile soap, with the Spanish name, will be banished from all patriotic American households, and peanut oil soap is to take its place.—New York Journal.

The Swan and the Pike.
The following accident was described to me by a friend who heard it from the lips of the man who saw it. My friend's informant, a laboring man, passed on his way to work every morning a pond on which were swans. One morning he saw a swan with its head under water—no unusual thing, so he thought nothing of it. The next morning it was in exactly the same place and position. Still, that was not remarkable, and he passed on. On the third morning, seeing the swan in the same position, he called the attention of the keeper to it. The keeper proceeded to examine, and found that the swan's head had been swallowed by a large pike. Both, of course, were dead.—Letter in London Spectator.

Who Founded the W. C. T. U.

The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes the following:
"Many persons have been speaking of Miss Frances E. Willard as the founder of the National W. C. T. U. The founder of the National W. C. T. U. resides in this city. Mrs. McClellan Brown was instrumental in calling the first convention inaugurating the movement in Columbus, in February, 1874, and in August following she went to Chauauqua Assembly with a full plan of organization, which she had incorporated by a committee from various states present at that assembly. By her correspondence the first convention was called at Cleveland in November, 1874, where Miss Willard first entered the work and was made secretary of the convention. Mrs. Brown at that time declined the nomination for the presidency. Mrs. Anna Wittmeyer of Philadelphia was president for five years preceding Miss Willard's succession to the presidency in 1879. Mrs. Brown was, in 1874, the right worthy vice-templar of the Good Templars, which have a constituency of 800,000 paying members. Mrs. Brown still holds the copyright of the original plan of work of the W. C. T. U., dated January 12, 1875, and bearing the signature of Librarian Spofford and the official seal. Mrs. Brown formerly resided at Alliance and later at Pittsburg."

Wm. Henry Hayward
Oxford, Ala., writes: Have used Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine 25 years. I know it cures Dizziness of Head, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, and many other diseases. I tried "Theodor's Black Draught," but did not find it to be half as good as the M. A. Simmons Medicine.

Leucorrhoea—"Whites."
This is a disorder from which few women escape at some period of their lives. It is in the nature of nasal catarrh. In a healthy condition the lining membrane of the genital organs secretes sufficient mucus to moisten them, but if the mucus membrane is congested or inflamed, the secretion becomes profuse, irritating and offensive. The best results will follow the use of our Mexican Female Remedy as an injection, and a dose twice a day for some time of that great uterine tonic, Dr. Simmons Squaw Vine Wine, will cure the complaint.

G. N. Derby
Energy, Miss., writes: M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine has been used 20 years in my Father's family for Nervousness, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness. My Sister was confined to bed for months from Enlargement of Liver. Doctor gave her up to die. She began taking M. A. S. L. M. and was soon entirely well. There is no just comparison between M. A. S. L. M. and Zolli's Liver Regulator. The latter by careful test having been found not so reliable has been discarded.

Menstrual Irregularities.
Puberty is the period when menstruation is established. It is the time when the girl becomes a woman, and also the time from which many female diseases date. The menstrual flow usually continues from three to six days and comes on about every twenty-eight days. The quantity excreted varies from two to eight ounces, but the amount consistent with the health of one person may be excessive and weakening in another. The function is regular as long as regular when its effect upon the system is favorable. The departures from healthy menstruation are numerous and should be corrected by using Dr. Simmons Squaw Vine Wine.
