MRS. S. J. SISTRUNK

Mrs. S. J. Sistrunk, after an illness that extended over almost a year of time, passed away at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family home in Montbrook. Mrs. Sistrunk had just been brought home from Jacksonville, where she had been in a hospital for several weeks, being operated on as a last resort to save her life.

Her son, Mr. Carlos L. Sistrunk, and with him his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Willis, took Mrs. Sistrunk home. For some time after the operation she improved and it was thought she would recover, but for the last two weeks it was known there was no hope for her.

Mrs. Sistrunk was at the home of her son, Mr. S. T. Sistrunk, in this city for a long time, returned to her home and then went to Jacksonville. Everything that loving hands or willing hearts could do was done to save her life, but it was of no avail.

She leaves three sons in this city, Messrs. S. T., C. L. and H. C. Sistrunk, Mr. Minor M. Sistrunk, Mrs. Willis and Miss Rosa Belle Sistrunk, at Montbrook.

The funeral took place this afternoon and the body was laid to rest in the family burial ground. A great many friends and relatives all over Levy county will mourn the loss of this noble Christian woman, a member of one of the oldest and most widely respected families in this section of the state. All of the members of the family were present at the funeral.

JUDGE WELLBORN

Judge C. J. Wellborn, one of Georgia's most distinguished public men, died at his daughter's home near Millen Sunday.

"SIDNEY HERBERT"

Major Sidney Herbert DeLancy died at his home near Maitland Sunday, aged 75. For the last 33 years he had been a regular correspondent of the Savannah Morning News. His knowledge of history, particularly relating to the war between the states, was universal and almost infallible.

SUNDAY SCHOLL PICNIC

The Martel Sunday school, J. M. Bryan, superintendent, will hold its annual picnic the second Saturday in May, in the Seckinger grove near Martel. Everybody invited. C. L. Bittinger, editor of the Star, has been requested to make an address.

Our old veteran friend, M. Mixson, with his son, Kirk, of Flemington, were in town Saturday at the unveiling as were Alex Holly, Eureka; Walter Luftman, Sparr; C. C. Milligan, Daisy; R. C. Yongue, Fairfield and Ben Freyermouth Fellowship.

"Uncle" Joe Baskin, of Anthony, one of the most genial and kind hearted of men and a success as a farmer, trucker and citizen, participated in the unveiling Saturday and after the ceremony made the editor a pleasant social call to assure him of his good will toward him. All of which we deeply appreciate.

Rev. B. I. Hull, one of the excellent citizens from across the river, attended the unveiling ceremonies Saturday.

Hon. Jno. S. Beard is execrating Governor Broward as a "part of a nefarious machine," probably in retaliation of Broward saying Beard is all right only when he goes on a "tear" whatever that may mean.

J. E. Stevens, mayor of Crystal River, was in town today. He said the picnic there Saturday was a roaring success. Over 200 persons were present. C. E. Herrick was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Everybody was happy and Crystal River people covered themselves with glory. It was the biggest time in the history of the town.

Demosthenes Marion L. Payne, of the town of Fairfield, wants it understood that May 1st, Friday, there will be a big picnic in his town and every candidate and the public is invited.

Mesdames Harris, Moorhead, Gottlieb and Miss Josie Whiteside were the ladies who festooned the grandstand Saturday.

Mr. Gus Morton, candidate for senator from Levy county, was in town this afternoon. It looks as if Gus was a sure winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Harris and little son, of Valdosta, Ga., where Mr. Harris holds an important railroad position, who have been visiting the Lindners at Anthony, Mrs. Harris being a daughter of Dr. Lindner, Sr., spent Saturday afternoon in Ocala the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, and left for home today.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Adams went to Jacksonville Saturday.

THE WEDDING TONIGHT

An occasion of more than passing interest to our people will take place tonight at Grace Episcopal church, when Miss Hattie Jane Dye will become the wife of Mr. Isaac Vernie Stevens, of Shawnee, Okla. Rev. G. H. Harrison, the rector, will perform the marriage rites.

Those who will be attendants are Miss Esther Weathers, maid of honor; Miss Mabel Taylor, of Glendale, O., Miss Miriam Pasteur, Ocala, bridesmaids; Mr. Neil A. Weathers, of New York, will be Mr. Stevens' best man, while the groomsmen are Messrs. G. H. Ford, Stephen Jewett, Ernest J. Crook and Oliver B. Howse.

After the ceremony which will take place at 9 o'clock, the bridal party will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Weathers.

During the past week Miss Dye, who is a prime favorite in this city, where for a number of years she has been one of our most successful and beloved school teachers, has been the recipient of many favors, being entertained by Mrs. W. H. Powers, where she received many tokens of love; of the Young Ladies' Card Club, of which Miss Dye was an honored and cherished member and was showered with testimonials of good will by its members, while Thursday afternoon last at the close of school, those who had been her pupils, joined by the teachers of the school, complimented her with a linen and silver shower and it is needless to say what they did for her with loving hearts and tender hands was an evidence of their admiration for her many virtues. It was a tribute as spontaneous as it was devoted and loving, a reminder that will, as long as memory is enthroned, be cherished with reciprocal love.

Edward Holder was a visitor to Dunnellon the forepart of the week. He and a few friends, among whom were Harry Peter and Drs. Baskin and Griffith, went down to Port Inglis Wednesday to enjoy the gulf breeze and catch a few of the finny tribe as a recreation.—Dunnellon Advocate.

John P. Galloway was in town Monday and Tuesday, having come down from Ocala in the interest of his candidacy for sheriff of Marion county. He was very sanguine of his prospects of being elected. He was given much encouragement by our citizens and it is confidently believed that he will poll a very large vote here.—Dunnellon Advocate.

Richard W. Erwin, candidate for superintendent of public instruction of Marion county, was in the city the first of the week calling on the voters in the interest of his cause. While here he paid his respects to the Advocate, and in conversation with the writer stated that he had made a close canvass over some portions of the county and regarded his prospects of election as very good. Mr. Erwin is well known in this section and will doubtless poll a heavy vote.—Dunnellon Advocate.

STOCKTON AND BROWARD SPEAK AT THE COURTHOUSE

Messrs. Jno. N. C. Stockton and Gov. N. B. Broward, candidates respectively for the office of governor and United States senator, reached Ocala from Crystal River Saturday afternoon, where there had been held a big picnic and much speaking. These distinguished gentlemen spoke in the courthouse Saturday night to a good sized audience, among them a bevy of ladies.

Mr. John M. Graham, chairman of the Marion County Democratic Executive Committee, called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. Stockton, who made a good speech, concisely and eloquently delivered, and as the Star has already, on a previous occasion, given a full report of his views, we will simply say it left a good impression. Mr. Stockton is confident he will be the next governor.

By this time the chairman was overcome with the grave and responsible duties of his office and was compelled to seek rest, and as the Demosthenes of Marion county was on hand, the Hon. Marion L. Payne, of Fairfield, he turned over the gavel to him and Mr. Payne proceeded to introduce Governor Broward, which he did in his usual interesting and strikingly eloquent manner.

The governor in substance repeated what he said at the same place a month ago, but if anything made clearer that he had virtually carried out all the promises made when asked to be elected governor.

His exposition of the vexed railroad question and how to simplify it and make it easy of solution so far as fair and equitable rates are concerned, was for the railroads of each state, through their agents to give monthly accounts of all receipts and expenses. At the end of the year strike a balance. If they earned over and above the expenses of doing the business and keeping the physical condition of the road good and a fair interest on the money invested in the road, then reduce the rates. If the rates were not sufficient to meet all equitable demands, then raise them. Not to permit railroads to issue bonds and sell them except to extend or better the transportation condition of their roads. With this information from all the railroads of the country before the interstate commission, that body could act intelligently and with benefit to the shipper as well as to the capital invested in the roads.

He wanted the office of United States senator because he believed he would work hardest for the interests of all parties concerned. He did not have an unkind word to say against any of his opponents. He thought Beard's ideas impracticable, that Lamar had been well rewarded politically and that Fletcher represented the East Coast railroad.

The governor told several amusing anecdotes, one especially for the ladies that made them titter good. The governor left a fine impression on his hearers.

IN THE MAYOR'S COURT

In the mayor's court this morning there was one drunk, too drunk to stand trial. One drunk was fined $5 and one case of fighting and using profane language cost the participant $10 and costs. This was Sylvester Morton and his case was quite an exciting one. Last night about 8 o'clock, the man met a negro woman on the street between the residence of Mr. G. W. Martin and J. S. Jewett, knocked the woman down and cursed her most violently. The ladies of the several houses in a stone's throw were sitting out on their verandas and Mr. Jewett was so justly indignant that he got his pistol, ran out and took charge of the man and held him until a phone message could bring an officer, who, accompanied by a number of citizens, soon arrived and the man was locked up. This morning he said he was only playing and the woman said there was no trouble, that she stepped on her skirt and fell down, etc., none of which was believed and the above fine was assessed.
