WATER ROUTE TO THE WEST

Another Writer Speaks of the Possibilities of Port Inglis

Editor Star:—I was very much interested in the reading of an article in the Star about the work at Inglis and Port Inglis, all of which is facts as far as they go, but the truth was hardly half told in regard to a recognized business proposition for Middle Florida's west coast. Port Inglis with its immense output was a full thought idea of a master mind and in all of its ramifications has created a big demand for wholesale commission houses here in the growing city of Dunnellon, right in the heart of a big mining district, with plenty of cash, where no man goes broke on the chopping block in the Queen City of the West (Dunnellon). Any man with a business capacity and plenty of cash to back it, her equal cannot be found in Florida for a business of that kind. We have the farmer, the fruit grower and the trucker in early vegetables, strawberries, pineapples and any and everything desirable for both summer and winter markets. The handling of these products is the whole contention Vessels can be loaded on this gulf coast ready to be dumped at St. Louis, Kansas City or Chicago, all by water route at less than half the cost to the producer and consumer than by all rail and in return we can feed right up to Jacksonville's door for less than they can feed themselves via New York. As for Dunnellon, twenty years ago it was all woods and today we have fairly good streets, electric lights and water mains through the town, but the big cud to chew is, we have more money scattered around here every two weeks than any other single city in Florida and the boom is on for 20 years more. Take a look at it now and then. She will be the main feeder for the state and all through the efforts of the master mind that stands guard at the port of entry and gate.

NO USE TO DIE

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive today only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, la-grippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at all drugstores. 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Gainesville, Fla., May 27.—With the graduating exercises held at the auditorium of the High School yesterday morning, the session of 1907-1908 of the University of Florida came to a close.

On Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. W. F. Tillett, dean of the theological faculty of Vanderbilt University.

On Monday morning the declamation contest between members of the freshman and sophomore classes took place, when the following young gentlemen declaimed on the subjects named: A. G. Langston, "Death of Garfield:" R. D. Rader, "Yorklawn and Appamattox;" C. D. Kime, "Bunker Hill;" N. Barrs, "The Philippine Islands:" G. E. Childers, "The American Flag:" O. W. Drane, "Patriot and Traitor;" H. S. Glazier, "Old Virginia;" E. R. Belote, "Henry Grady."

In the afternoon a large crowd gathered at the chapel to listen to a concert given by the Duval Orchestra.

On Monday night the junior and senior classes engaged in an oratorical contest, with the following speakers: Junior, E. C. Bryan, "Culture and Education;" W. B. Martin, "Privileged Wealth;" G. B. Ames, "Higher Education in the South;" Raymond Kay, "Our Warlike Necessities." Senior—J. S. Shands, "Tariff Revision;" R. F. Persons, "Industrial Progress in the South;" Chas. M. Fisher, "Analogies From Architecture."

The exercises of the graduating class took place Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, with the following program. Salutatory, by J. S. Shands; address by the Governor; conferring of degrees and medals; announcements and dismissal.

BOND'S PORTABLE FIRE-PLACE

is especially adapted for turpentine men, sawmill men, or any one where a temporary fire-place is needed. The cut herewith gives a front view of this invention and shows how same can be attached to any frame building, either where fire-place would be built, or can be set in window.

It is made of the best galvanized steel, is light, strong and durable. This portable fire-place can be moved from place to place and taken down or set up in a very few minutes, thereby saving an expense which would incur in making a chimney of sticks and mortar or brick.
