

Not "How Much?"
but "how good?" is the question that every one should ask in buying candy.

The old saying that "a man is judged by the candy he gives" holds good today same as always. Buy the best—don't take the "just as good" kind.

LIGHT AND WATER PLANT FOR INVERNESS

A company is being chartered at Inverness to put in a water works and electric light plant. This will be a big step forward for that thriving little Citrus county city.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON

Mr. T. W. Troxler received the first apples of the summer yesterday. Just last week there were apples in town from last year's crop, that had been kept in cold storage.

The huge double-log washer plant of the most modern and up-to-date pattern being built at Inverness by the Holder Phosphate Co. is nearly ready to begin operations and the duplicate of this plant will be ready inside of sixty days. The spur of the A. C. L. railway will be completed by fall leading to the plant, when the first cargo of rock will be mined and dried, ready for shipment.

Old furniture is good as new when Kearns repairs it. Corner Magnolia street and Fort King avenue.

Mr. M. Fishel had a very attractive show window yesterday and today. A lot of inflated toy balloons were placed in the window, an electric fan was placed inside and turned on and the balloons were kept on the move. The sight was pretty and novel.

WANTED—A few table boarders. Apply to Mrs. C. E. Ball, 21 Watula street, near square.

Mr. J. R. Gant of Webster, one of the successful young shippers of melons and cantaloupes of Sumter county, was in town yesterday and today, a guest of the Ocala House.

Messrs. J. B. Waldren and E. L. Berry of Oxford, were in town today and made our office an appreciated call. These gentlemen are successful truckers of that section and want from 50 to 120 acres of good melon land within a half mile or three quarters of a mile from a railroad siding to rent for next season. Anyone having such land should communicate with them.

Miss Beatrice Sinclair, the capable stenographer of the Florida Railroad Commission at Tallahassee, is in the city to spend a few weeks with her mother and take a much needed vacation. Mrs. Ernest Oldfield, Mrs. Sinclair's daughter, also came down from Tallahassee several days ago and will return to the capital tomorrow.

THE FOURTH IN OCALA

That the boys might get off early and take part in the closing exercises of the day, the Star was issued early this afternoon and all copy was in by 1 o'clock. Prior to the arrival of any trains there was a big crowd of people in from the country and quite a number who came in yesterday and last night on the trains, and the streets presented a most lively appearance. The firemen gave their water fight, which was a most exciting affair and set the people wild. The bonfire north of the square was lighted and extinguished after it had begun blazing brightly. The motorcycle exhibition, the foot races and other numbers on the program were carried out and the band gave a concert, which was one of the best features of the day. The crowd was good-natured and gay and the merchants, although the trading had not begun in earnest, did a good business all the morning, and expect a grand rush during the entire afternoon. Many of the visitors will remain over until Monday and Tuesday as their railroad tickets are good till then.

ARCADIA WINS AGAIN

Yesterday afternoon the expectant fans and baseball rooters gathered at the new ball ground to witness the second game between Arcadia and Ocala. Clark did the twirling and Bullock was behind the bat for Ocala. The game was far superior to the one of the day before, the Ocala boys having waked up and settled down to the task of winning the game. In the early part of the game the sides scored two runs apiece and neither could send another runner across the home sack in the rest of the nine innings, an extra inning having to be played, in the last half of which Arcadia scored and won the game. The score was 3 to 2. It was a pretty game and while Ocala lost, she fought hard for the victory and redeemed herself for the poor game of the day before.

This afternoon Leesburg and Ocala will cross bats and, we understand, the game will begin at 2 o'clock, and at its conclusion, the Arcadia team will play the winning team, beginning at 4 o'clock. Everybody who can should go out and see the game, for their own good and also to help the athletic association defray the expense of having the two teams here.

BERLIN ELECTRICAL THEATER

Your Fourth will not have been properly observed if you fail to go to the Berlin theater this evening and see the excellent pictures. Mr. Wood is showing there today. He has four reels of film and each picture is worth the price of admission in itself. The theater will be open all afternoon and evening and the price of admission is 10 and 15 cents.

LEESBURG VS. OCALA

The Leesburg ball team and a large number of Leesburg citizens and fans came up this afternoon on a special just behind the regular passenger train. The game of ball between Leesburg and Ocala will be a dandy and the attendance will be the largest for a long time.

THE BAND CONCERT

Despite the rain late in the afternoon the attendance at the band concert last night was very large and the breezy and most excellent concert rendered by the band was greatly enjoyed. The boys show the effects of the steady and systematic practice, in the thoroughly efficient music they have been rendering. The band, to our way of thinking, was never so efficient as now, although the organization is more than twenty years old. Ocala is proud of her splendid band and is not unmindful of the good music the boys render so freely and cheerfully.

Mr. W. H. Wilson of Jacksonville, assistant city passenger agent for the S. A. L., came down last night to spend the Fourth in the city with relatives.

Mr. C. L. Bittinger went to Eastlake yesterday afternoon to help the dwellers by the shores of the lake celebrate the Fourth.

Mr. Robert Bentley, of Tampa, came up last night to spend the day in Ocala and call in his old friends and neighbors at Spring Park. Anthony and other sections. Mr. Bentley was a citizen of Spring Park and worked at the printing trade in the old Morning News office and Banner up to twelve years ago, when he went north and lived in New York City for a number of years, finally coming back to Florida. Mr. Bentley says the improvements in Ocala are marked and the courthouse and grounds the prettiest thing in the state of the kind.

What a Night Brought Forth in Ocala. Time Something Was Done as the City is Going to the Cats

SAW A WILDCAT

A citizen who lives in the southern part of town and travels over Magnolia street in coming up town, says he was attacked by a huge wildcat which leaped out of the tall weeds between the Theus-Zachry store and George Giles & Co's. cotton gin. He beat the cat off with great difficulty and it ran snarling and showing its fangs back into the jungle of weeds, where its mate and family of young cats have their home. The citizen says he has thought for some time that these animals made their home in this desert of weeds and has consequently been "afraid to go home in the dark." If the weeds were removed the animals might be killed after some exciting sport and yield up their hides which are quite valuable.

An Exciting Time

An exciting time was witnessed about noon today by the citizens on South Third street. A pretty girl, in attempting to cross the street between the Walters and Harris corner, caught her foot in one of those gaping holes in the wooden culvert and the foot went through and the young lady fell inward, helpless and in great pain. She tried vainly to extricate her foot, but could not. The pain was very severe and she called loudly for help. A crowd began to gather very rapidly and different people offered a plan for rescuing the imprisoned member, which had by this time began to swell and the fair prisoner was almost frantic. One gallant young man offered to crawl beneath the boards and shove the ankle through, while those above pulled. But almost fainting, the poor girl screamed, "No, no!" and spreading her skirts out over the imprisoned member, fainted gracefully away when a carpenter, going to his noon day meal, with saw in hand, was summoned and quickly sawed the boards away, the young lady was assisted to her feet, a carriage called and she was soon at home, where she received medical aid and the gallant young man said, "Now, why didn't I think of that." There were many anxious expressions of indignation from the assembled citizens that such a dangerous place should be allowed to exist, as this one had for months, and in the heat of passion some dire threats were made. A relative of the young victim vowed the city would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. The crowd slowly dispersed, with mutterings and lowering brows of dissatisfaction and vengeance.

A Property Owner in Trouble

Last evening, just at dusk, when the falling light made objects more or less indistinct, especially when beneath the low and heavy branches of trees, a stranger, unused to our peculiar ways and customs, walking all too rapidly along South Second street, going up from the depot, had a new Seton hat speared and jerked off his head by one of the sharp limbs on the oak trees along the sidewalk of a vacant lot. While this was bad enough ordinarily, yet at the time the man thought or cared nothing for his hat, for the sharp branch, made jagged and sharp by many contacts with other heads and hats, had plowed a great gaping wound across the top of his head, and the blood flowed in streams all over his face and clothing. The man's exclamations of pain and anger soon drew a small crowd, late as the hour was and they all voiced his expressions of disgust over such a state of affairs when the limbs of trees were allowed to grow so low over the sidewalks that one cannot pass along without danger to life and limb. The man would not give his name. He said we would learn it as he would enter suit against the city and owner of owners of the property for heavy damage. One of his sympathizers showed him an old scar where he narrowly escaped losing an eye and another a hole in his hat torn by one of the limbs but the stranger was not of the meek and long suffering species and said he would not stand for it, that such a thing elsewhere was unheard of and he would have both revenge and money out of us and maybe we would learn how to trim up our old town.

BROKE HIS RECORD

Frank P. Gadsdon, proprietor of the Ocala Bazar Store, is very proud of a sale made yesterday to a family from south of the city. Frank sold this family the largest bill of goods that he has ever sold at retail since he has been in business in Ocala—over twenty years. He says he has sold many and much larger bills to merchants and dealers but never to a private individual for his own home. It took the entire capacity of a two-horse wagon to haul the goods home.
