The Ocala baseball club will go to Leesburg Wednesday to play ball with the team of that city and the following day our boys will cross the lake and play Eustis. It is hoped a large crowd of Ocala people will accompany them.

Mr. I. W. Ogle had a letter from Mr. A. Y. Strunk, now at Reading, Pa., saying that he was improving right along and expects to return to Ocala in a month. Mrs. Strunk's health is unusually good.

The Knights of Pythias held their usual meeting last night, which was well attended and the third degree was conferred on Asher Frank. All the boys said Asher was a splendid subject and made the circuit in record breaking speed. He carried himself so nobly that today he was receiving the congratulations of the old veterans in the ranks of the order, such as Tex Martin, who is one of the charter members of the Ocala lodge. The lodge is in a flourishing condition and has fully a hundred members, embracing some of our most prominent citizens. After the meeting adjourned, the entire lodge repaired to the Air Dome, where a very interesting program was enjoyed.

The Atlantic Coast Line will run an excursion from Ocala to Jacksonville August 17th, which will be next Monday. Round trip from Ocala, $1.50; tickets good for four days. Passengers will take regular trains.

The Tampa excursion train leaving this city at 7:30 yesterday morning arrived in Tampa safely at 1 p. m. and left that city at 7:30 a. m., arriving in Ocala at 1 a. m., without any accidents. There were a few misunderstandings with some of the parties and a cutting scrape among the negroes, but no serious results came of it. The game of baseball between the Ocala and Plant City teams resulted in a score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Plant City boys. The attendance was only fair and our boys barely made their expenses. There were 844 tickets sold. The Orlando excursion to Tampa the same day carried twelve cars filled. Passengers were taken on at most of the small stations between Ocala and Tampa, crowding the cars greatly. In returning home quite a large number took the regular passenger train, which greatly relieved the crowded condition of the excursion train.

The socialist party convened in the courthouse this morning. There were some twenty delegates present. A temporary organization was effected by electing Carl Harter of Sparr, chairman and E. C. Smith, of Ocala, secretary. As a number of other delegates were expected after dinner the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Mr. Peter P. Theus, the furniture man, has received a very fine pointer pup from a Pennsylvania kennel, the gift of a friend. He has named him "Dan Patch" because he is so quick to learn all manner of tricks.

Mr. Rufus Perry, of the Pedro section, was in town today. He reported two splendid rains in his section, one Sunday and one Monday.

Mr. Allen Parrish, publisher of the annual city directory of Miami, and a well known citizen of that thriving city, is in Jacksonville. Mr. Parrish was formerly engaged in the newspaper business in Chicago, and is a talented writer as well as a good business man.—Times-Union.

Mr. Parrish has just completed the Ocala city directory, with Editor Louis J. Brumby, of this city, is now in DeLand to have the same published.

Attorney James Alexander of Volusia county, nominee for the legislature of 1909, is an aspirant for speakership honors. "Jeems" has a host of friends in old Marion who will wish him much luck in his laudable ambition to rise to a position for which he is peculiarly well fitted.

The Christian Advocate, the organ of the M. E. Church, South, in Florida, is now published in Jacksonville by the Industrial Record Publishing Co. Rev. Frederick Pasco has resigned and Revs. L. W. Moore, of Tampa, formerly pastor of the Methodist church in Ocala, with H. H. Williams, of Jacksonville, are its editors. Mr. Emerson, of the Emerson advertising Agency, has charge of its advertising department. The issue of August 16th is a splendid number, full of excellent church and religious reading and the paper has secured a fine array of Jacksonville advertising. We trust it will not only survive its recent setback, but that the members of the denomination will rally as they have never before to its support. Every church member should have a copy of this excellent publication in his or her home.

The Miami Metropolis is conducting a voting contest for a piano and we note with pleasure that Mrs. Fred Hand is in the lead so far by 20,000 votes. Mrs. Hand is pleasantly remembered as Miss Alice Williams, of the Brick City, before her marriage. Her husband is one of the successful and artistic photographers of Miami. We trust she will land a victor in the voting contest.

Mr. Geo. G. Mathews, the brilliant editor of the Bartow Record, is embellishing his paper with some original fiction from his fluent pen. The present story is "The Siege of Ganudas," and if its opening chapter is an indication of the pleasure and profit in store for the readers of the Record, then indeed they may anticipate a rare intellectual treat.

MR. CARNEY'S STANDING ON THE POLL TAX QUESTION

As members of the county school board, of Marion county, whose duty it is, under the statutes, to check up annually the poll tax list of the county tax collector, we wish to say that we have just completed this work of checking up the stubs of all poll taxes issued by Mr. E. L. Carney, tax collector, during the fiscal year, beginning August 1, 1907 and ending July 31st, 1908, and we find that the schools of the county have received every dollar due them from poll taxes collected by Mr. Carney during this time. This August 6th, 1908. Isaac Stevens, Chairman Board. John S. Grantham, Member. Benjamin R. Blitch, Member. Attest: W. D. Carn, Superintendent and Secretary.

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT OF AN AIRSHIP

Lemans, Aug. 11.—After two false starts, Wilbur Wright, the Dayton, O., aeroplane, made a successful ascension here shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday evening. The machine flew about two kilometers, 1.24 miles, in one minute and 34 seconds official time. Owing to the lateness of the hour, Mr. Wright decided not to try a longer run. The flight was viewed by several thousand people.

R. C. Davis & Co., of Jacksonville, will sell any make of second-hand typewriter upon easy terms if desired.

All-White Linen Again the Smartest Fabric for Midsummer Suits—Variations in the Girdle—Creme de Chine the Newest Material for Coats—Revival of the Pelerine

BY MONS GENE DE PONTAC. When the summer styles were first broached, it was foretold that everything was to have its color scheme—that for once the all-white costume was to be relegated to the background. But as the summer advances, the fact has been established at the summer horse-shows and at the fashionable resorts that all-white is once more the favorite midsummer wear, and that of all fabrics, linen is the smartest.

It is the best liked material for the jumper gown, and linen tailored suits are also much in evidence, somewhat severe models being the favorite. Rose linen makes smart suits, relieved by touches of black, and some of the pale greens are very effective in soft, cool shades, with a touch of black to give them character. The lavender linens are charming, too, when the shade is becoming—which, unfortunately, is not often. Frocks of figured material trimmed in plain linen are seen, and soutache braiding on the linen gives a pretty finish. In Paris are worn many tailored coat and skirt suits of a soft crash-like linen with two-inch black squares formed of narrow lines on a ground of white. These are trimmed not at all or with a little black, and are accompanied by hats and parasols of poppy pink or emerald green.

The girdles which have been so much used in black satin are now seen in many other shades, though black still remains among the most effective. However, their latest appearance is in jade green, smoke gray or Gobelin blue, with white, ecru or pale grey frocks. Satin is preferred for its clinging texture, but it must be well boned. Often the girdle is crossed in front, lifted high on the left side nearly to the bust, with the ends hanging from this highest point. Worn with a short-fronted coat it gives the effect of a waistcoat, and is very good. It is a French touch to have these girdles match the hat and the parasol.

For the hot-weather coat creme de chine is the very newest material—lighter and daintier than the satins and silks, and though it sounds rather fragile for coat wear, it really is not. A good quality will wash or cleanse beautifully, it does not muss nearly as easily as silk and it is fully as durable. Sometimes these coats are braided, almost always embroidered, and usually made on the cutaway, open-front model, without waistcoat, as being more suitable for summer temperatures.

A valiant effort has been made to suppress the bolero jacket, but it will not down, and is now cropping up again as an accessory to the Empire gown. Some have quaint little coat-tails in the back; others reach only to the high waist-line. The bolero of colored taffeta shows distinctly the Directorate influence, with its rolled collar of black satin, black satin buttons on the front and on the sleeves. New boleros are often seen of taffeta braided all over, of embroidered net or of lace over a color.

Lace wraps are as popular as ever, and the latest recruits to the ranks is the lace pelerine which is a sort of cross between the scarf and the lace coat. It is a pretty and graceful shape, the spread of the cape over the shoulders being usually very becoming. In the newly revived model it falls far over the shoulders, often coming quite to the elbow, and the fronts are as wide as can be made, allowing for a little spare between the stilette ends. Irish lace combined with the Baby Irish, is the favorite, medallions of course mesh are often used and sometimes a wide border of diat. For evening wear, gold and silver-embroidered Syrian scarves are sometimes worn in pelerin fashion, fastened over the bust with a rosette, the long ends falling straight Tifton, Ga., Aug. 11.—Charlie Loki, a negro about 18 years of age, was lynched here yesterday for making insulting remarks to a prominent young white woman of this place. Several hundred negroes and white people were out viewing the corpse during the day.
