UNCLE SAM AND HIS STAFF

Uncle Sam, returning from a hundred-year snooze and cruise around the world in particular and the universe in general, to Washington, D. C., orders his secretary to call a conference with his staff of officers and their assistants and addresses them in the following words:

Gentlemen, good morning! Good morning, Uncle Sam!

After a somewhat prolonged absence I am once more returned and after a fairly critical survey of affairs and the state of the country generally, find myself under the painful necessity of calling your attention to some very obvious facts that seem to have escaped your vigilant eyes, have been either entirely overlooked, or failed in your opinion to have deserved any consideration or devotion of some of your valuable time. Before landing in your capital I took a fairly thorough trip of inspection of the several departments of this plantation and received many reports from lesser managers and superintendents who are better acquainted with the details of affairs than would naturally be expected from those higher up in the wholesale department, as it were.

I regret very much to find it my painful duty to inform you that my investigations have resulted in a great volume of information that reflects no credit upon your general management or even half honest intentions; but points directly to a sum of incompetence, of willful ignorant waste and wanton destruction of raw and finished material and of men, women and children, of outrageous prodigality on the part of a few and awful, inexcusable and unnecessary poverty of the many, of six to ten millions of able-bodied men and women vainly seeking a chance to earn an honest living, with crime and vice rampant, with jails and prisons overflowing with suicide and insanity in unheard of and steadily increasing proportion, with millions of children's lives being ground into profit, with women and the mothers of future generations willfully and wantonly ruined in body and mind and with men physically, mentally and morally deteriorating without the semblance of an excuse on your part except your utter incompetence, ignorance and selfishness. I cannot go on forever enumerating the mountainous evils your management of my affairs have produced and will close with this very partial and insufficient statement of them by asking you what can you do about it? and the answer came in chorus: God knows! Gentlemen, I thank you for this free and candid admission of your ignorance and incompetence and it only remains for me to inform you here and now that your services as managers of this United States commonwealth (far more properly common poverty) are no longer required, you are herewith reduced to the ranks and will henceforth earn an honest living in the sweat of your own brows. You will not only never need to beg for a job, but will always be able to find it where, when and what kind of a job you want and are best fitted for.

With this gentlemen, I bid you good-bye!

Mr. Secretary will you be so kind as to introduce Mr. Eugene V. Debs whom I sent for yesterday and who I am informed has arrived a few minutes ago.

Enter Debs.

Uncle Sam: Permit me to introduce Mr. E. V. Debs. Mr. Debs this is your Uncle Sam.

Gene, old boy, I am glad to see you and thank you for answering my call so promptly.

Uncle Sam: I greet you and am yours to command. I am anxious to serve you in any capacity consistent with the good and welfare of the entire people of these United States.

Spoken like a man, Gene. We will waste no more time in mutual compliments but will proceed to business forthwith. Gene, this shop is nearly run aground, this Teddy and his crowd of nincompoops and their more recent predecessors have converted this magnificent farm of George Washington's into the greatest poor farm, penitentiary, lunatic asylum and general slave pen on the face of God's green earth; and when I ask them what they are going to do about it their only and united answer is: God knows!! Well, of course, Gene, I fired the whole lot without further ado and have called you not at all hastily or without due consideration, for I have been studying your literature for some months and have come to the conclusion that you so-called socialist cranks have got the true solution of the question and can save the situation and the farm from going into the hands of a receiver without putting any blame or needless bother upon God.

Mr. Secretary please to make a note:

I, Uncle Sam, generally also known as the people of the United States, herewith appoint Eugene V. Debs commander-in-chief and general manager of this United States and also known as George Washington's farm and request that he forthwith proceed to reorganize the entire management in every department of this estate in farm, forest, factory and mine according as seems best to him and the various assistants he may appoint to help him to quickly, thoroughly and effectually change things for the better. I am entire convinced that he and those whom he will select are fully competent to carry their plans into execution with the greatest possible speed and the least unavoidable friction.

Gene, I trust you implicitly. I herewith grant you carte blanche to get to work and may the gods help you to hasten the day when a hungry child and an underfed and overworked woman and an ignorant and helpless involuntarily idle and hungry man shall be an impossibility.

Cures Constipation and Kindred Evils

Letter From Louisiana.

Simms, La., May 22, '07.
My wife suffered for seven year with Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Constipation. I have paid up to date one thousand dollars to doctors for services but she never received any benefit. I always bought my medicine from Jordan Bros., of Alexandria, La. I spoke to Mr. Jordan one day about my wife's complaint, and he recommended Mozley's Lemon Elixir for her. I took a bottle home with me and since that time, about three months ago, I have kept it in the house and from the first day my wife took it, her bowels have acted regular, her health has improved and she can do her house work without the pains she formerly suffered. I was in Alexandria yesterday, May 21, and told Dr. F. N. Brian, one of the best physicians in Alexandria, what my wife had been taking, and he gave it the highest praise. Mr. Jordan also told me his wife was using Lemon Elixir with great benefit. Yours respectfully,

ED C. PEARSON.

THE PERKINS ANNUAL BIRTHDAY DINNER

On August 7th the beloved children of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Perkins, with their many friends, celebrated Mrs. Perkins' 70th birthday. Mrs. Perkins, though in her seventieth year, can get around as well as most people at fifty. Mrs. Perkins is ten years younger than her husband, who, though jolly as a boy, cannot stand alone, he is so feeble.

At about 9 o'clock the crowd began to gather and by 11 there were about seventy-five present, all shaking the hand of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins upon arriving. There was a barrel of ice cold lemonade sitting free to all that would partake and which I must say was certainly enjoyed and appreciated by those present. Nearby was a stand where Messrs. Joe and Preston Goosby were selling delicious ice cream.

At 1:30 o'clock dinner was spread upon the beautiful oaks standing in front of the old home. Such a dinner too, that was fit for any king. I think that the ladies certainly must have done their best but as it was a little late for dinner, it might have been that I was unusually hungry.

The evening was spent talking and laughing, in addition to some very fine music on the talking machine, which was played by Miss Maggie Wilson.

Among those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Perkins and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. Perkins and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Wilson and family, Mr. Jessie Stevens and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holly and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reynolds and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Roberts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers and children, Mr. and Mrs. Moody and children, Mr. P. T. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Griggs, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fore and Miss Daisy Fore, Mr. Paul Fore, wife and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Griggs and family, Mr. Will Fore, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Caldwell and family, Mr. W. D. Roberts, mother and sister, Mrs. J. A. Davis and children, of Anthony; Miss Saloma Sims, Anthony; Miss Mamie Dupuis and Mr. Percy Perkins, Mr. Jake Hudnall and Miss Pearl Tillis, Miss Sallie Morrison and Mrs. E. L. Martin, of Moss Bluff; Mr. James Caldwell and his niece, Miss Ethel Goosby, Mr. Walter Fort, Miss Maxie Fort and little brother, Ottis, Mr. Oliver Snell and perhaps others that I cannot now recall.

The day was a beautiful one for the occasion and all had a most enjoyable time. So now let us all wish Mr. and Mrs. Perkins health and comfort during the remainder of their days here on earth and after they cross the river of death a happier home; while we all believe they will find.

Three years ago we had three doctors with our little boy and everything that they could do seemed in vain.

At last when all hope seemed to be gone we began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a few hours he began to improve.

Today he is as healthy a child as parents could wish for.
