THE PILLANS-SMITH WEDDING

Those who attended the Pillans-Smith wedding at Martel last night returned home this noon. Rev. C. C. Carroll performed the ceremony in the Methodist church, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The attendants were Mr. Giddens, Miss Lillian Bryan, Dr. Porter Pillans, brother of the groom and Mrs. L. J. Beck, sister of the bride. Little Ruth Boney of Ocala was the charming flower girl.

After the wedding ceremony, which made Mr. Pillans and Miss Mary Smith man and wife, the bridal couple, their attendants and the immediate members of the respective families, repaired to the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, parents of the bride and partook of an elegant wedding supper. After a social hour, the newly married pair took the S. A. L. midnight train for Jacksonville and Daytona Beach on their honeymoon, after which they will proceed to Terrell where Mr. Pillans will have charge of the commissary connected with the Bryan and Pillans sawmill.

Among those present were Mrs. W. D. Graham, Mrs. Donnie Ferguson, Mrs. D. M. Boney and children, Mr. J. W. Talley, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith and Mr. L. F. Ballard. It was indeed a happy occasion and the best wishes of all present accompany the young couple in their earthly pilgrimage.

WILBUR MILLER

The Star learned today of the death of Wilbur Miller, a son of the late Hugh Miller, which occurred at Holder. The information came through Postmaster Crom, who was asked the whereabouts of Wilbur's brother, Robert Miller, who is now at Effingham, Illinois, learning the photo engraving business. Wilbur Miller lived in this city up until some five years ago, when he moved to Holder, where he was engaged in the commissary business. He leaves two brothers, Robert T. and Jessie Miller, to mourn his death.

The funeral of Mr. C. R. Hendricks was conducted from the family residence in the 1st ward. Mr. E. C. Smith had charge of the funeral and the pall bearers were G. W. Martin, G. C. Crom, L. O. Booher and L. F. Ballard. Rev. C. C. Carroll officiated. The funeral was largely attended and there were many floral tributes placed by loving hands on the newly-made mound.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Benjamin, of Jacksonville, are mourning the death of their 12-year-old daughter, Ruth, who died a few days ago in Asheville, N. C., of appendicitis. She was the only child of Mr. Benjamin by his second wife and was born in Ocala when the family resided here.

The Star had a pleasant visit yesterday afternoon from Hon. Griffin Kilgore of Wildwood. He was accompanied by his son, Calhoun Kilgore, who came up to consult a physician. Mr. Kilgore said the truckers around Wildwood made a complete failure this season and in consequence money is scarce. He said the town was improving and that Merchant Gamble had just completed a very fine residence. Speaking of the dry weather, he said it reminded him of the days of 1856, when the ponds in the country all went dry.

The streets of the city running each and west north of the Ocala House have been re-named and now, instead of 1st, 2nd, 3rd street, etc., they bear the names of the presidents of the United States, starting with Washington. Munroe street is being graded from Sanchez street west to the A. C. L. crossing but we understand an injunction has been served on the city by Attorney H. L. Anderson to prevent the work to proceed over his vinegar route railroad track.

Messrs. James and Jonas Fort, who purchased the grocery stock of the late John F. Crawford, which was located in the building next door to the Carmichael & Son Co., have moved the same to Oklawaha, where they will do business in the future.

John T. Lewis while in town yesterday gave a very interesting account of the capture of the big alligator by the Martin boys at Moss Bluff. The monster 'gator was discovered on the head waters of the Oklawaha river, near Lake Griffin. He was lured from his lair by baiting a hook attached to a strong rope with a rabbit. It worked like a charm. He took the bait, hook and all and the hook fastened firmly in his lip. The 'gator thrashed the earth furiously and when the boys returned they found the earth looking as if a small army had camped and fought over it. Having the 'gator captured they next thing was to get the monster transported to Moss Bluff. The Martin boys devised a novel method of transportation for the 'gator. They fastened two doors together, which they managed to get the 'gator upon, then six men seized the door and placed them upon a wagon and brought the 'gator home, where he is now safely housed. Mr. Lewis said it was interesting to see him feed on cooters, throw them at the 'gator, he opens his jaws and in goes the cooter and there is a crash as if a good-sized demijohn had collided with the ponderous driving wheels of an engine, and the 'gator instantly opens his capacious jaws for another. When cooters at feeding time don't come regular, he grows very indignant and inflates his body until it looks like the carcass of a horse. The alligator was weighed and tips the scales at 600 pounds. He is to be disposed of to a Chicago museum.

RICHARDSON-McILWAINE

A lovely wedding of the week, in which a great deal of interest centers, was that of Miss Virginia McIlwaine to Rev. Donald W. Richardson, of Greer, which took place Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. H. McIlwaine, on Vienna street.

Dr. Robert P. Pell of Converse College performed the ceremony. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Laura Baerham.

The bridesmaids, Miss Louise Marchant, Miss Eva Smith of Greer, Miss Maud Hicks, of Spartanburg, Miss Bernie Wood, Miss Florence Moody of Greer and Miss Mary Miller of Abbeville, entered the parlor in couples forming a semi-circle around an immense bank of ferns. They wore pretty white linen, with hats to match.

Next came the maid of honor, Miss Bessie McIlwaine, the bride's sister. She wore a lovely pink suit with hat to match, and carried pink roses.

The bride entered with her brother, Mr. Hugh McIlwaine. Her costume was a beautiful champagne colored suit with hat to match, and she carried a large bouquet of white roses. The groom entered with his best man, Mr. James Smith of Greer. After congratulations an elegant salad course was served.

Rev. Richardson and his bride left immediately for Asheville and other places in North Carolina.—Abbeville, (S. C.) Cor. in Atlanta Journal.

The bride is a sister of Mr. W. T. McIlwaine, of this city, who with his family is spending a month with his relatives at Abbeville and Mrs. McIlwaine's people at Lattimer. The many friends of the families in this city will wish the young people a long life of happiness.

RELIEVING MUSCULAR STRAIN

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined by me.

Office Hours: 8 to 12 a. m., and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. Optical office and laboratory, rooms 2 and 4 Gary block.

Mr. E. C. Smith, of the undertaking firm of Smith & Roberts received the body of Susie Cox yesterday. She was killed by her husband at Tampa a day or two ago and Mr. C. V. Roberts of that city prepared the remains for burial and shipped the same to Ocala for burial this afternoon. Deceased was a daughter of Paul and Annie Baker of this city and a member of Mount Moriah Baptist church, of which Rev. L. C. Griffin is pastor.

FOR SALE

I am offering ten choice lots for sale at Eastlake. These lots have a frontage of seventy-five feet on New York avenue and 198 feet in depth. Located on the summit between the depot and postoffice and command a view of the entire lake. This avenue extends to the water's edge and is paved from the depot to the property. Buy a lot, build a cottage, occupy it in summer and rent it for the winter. Prices reasonable, titles perfect. James R. Moorhead, owner.

RUN OVER AND KILLED

Tom Johnson, colored, was run over and killed by a freight train on the A. C. L. railway at Kendrick yesterday. Johnson was standing on the track watching the freight switch some cars. The conductor was making what is commonly termed a flying switch and Johnson was watching the car that was being shunted off onto the siding and didn't see the train on the main line. He was knocked down and run over before any one could interfere. His remains were interred in the union cemetery at that place.

SUMMER HYGIENE

Summer is the season of health and recuperation for those who properly regulate their mode of living. For those who do not it is a season of discomfort.

Pure, healthful, light food that will not stimulate heat production while it properly nourishes and strengthens the body and brain is the great essential.

It is conceded that the best of all foods for summer diet are the quickly made flour foods—hot biscuit, rolls, puddings, cakes, muffins, etc., such as are made with baking powder. A most excellent household bread is also made with baking powder instead of yeast. These, properly made, are light, sweet, fine flavored, easily digested, nutritious and wholesome. Yeast bread should be avoided whenever possible in summer, as the yeast germ is almost certain in hot weather to ferment in the stomach and cause trouble. The Royal Baking Powder foods are unfermented, and may be eaten in their most delicious state, viz: fresh and hot without fear of results.

Alum baking powder should be avoided at all times. They make the food less digestible. When the system is relaxed by summer heat their danger is heightened.

The flour foods made with Royal Baking Powder are the acme of perfection for summer diet. No decomposition takes place in their dough, the nutritive qualities of the flour are preserved and digestion is aided, which is not the case with your yeast bread or cakes.

GEORGE W. WILLIS

Rev. L. D. Geiger, of Apopka, the faithful secretary of the Florida State Baptist Convention, has paid his late friend, George W. Willis, of Williston, a high compliment for civic virtues and Christian character. He writes:

"George W. Willis was born at Flemington, Fla., January 1, 1844. His father and mother both died when he was but nine years old. They left two other sons, Frank and Paul, both younger than the subject of this sketch, and one daughter, Mrs. O. E. Edwards, who died in 1899. Paul Willis, who entered the ministry about the same time as myself, and who for a time was my schoolmate and always my friend, was one of the most devout young men I ever knew. He died in 1892. These three brothers were raised to manhood in the home of their uncle, Jesse Willis, at Williston, one of the best and most respected men of the entire country, and their sturdiness of character is doubtless due largely to the many wholesome lessons taught them by their uncle and his noble wife, 'Aunt Dolly.' George Willis was married to Mary E. Reddick, at Williston, December, 1868, at which place they both lived until they died, the wife passing away February 20, 1907. Ten children were born to them."

W. R. MONROE

One of the saddest things that has happened in our community for some time was the death of Mr. William Riley Monroe. Mr. Monroe has not been well for some time, but was not thought dangerously ill until he was found dead in bed Wednesday morning. He was a member of the Baptist church, and was 65 years of age. He leaves one little daughter, Susie, eleven, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his death. He was laid to rest by the side of his wife, who had gone eight years before, in the Nichols cemetery, Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock. Rev. B. F. Freer of Belleview officiating. A Friend.

Interstate Commerce Commission Says Railroads Must Not Discriminate in Giving Rates

Washington, Aug. 13.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has decided that a railroad cannot foster industries along its own lines to the extent of making excessively high rates for similar industries located on connecting railroads.

This decision, together with several others which the commission has recently rendered, is so revolutionary so far as railroad practices are concerned that the men who manage the big systems are wondering what will be the end of government made rates and regulations for the conduct of the transportation business. The decision in question was given against the Santa Fe, which had sought to protect the markets of the long leaf yellow pine dealers on its railroad by shutting out the short leaf yellow pine dealers from contiguous territory.

Heretofore such practices have been regarded as legitimate in that they tended to preserve the revenues of the railroad company as well as to build up and develop the country through which its lines extended, thereby guaranteeing an increasing prosperity and tonnage in its own particular territory.

Heid Not "Square Deal"

Now comes the commission, however, and insists that this is all right from the standpoint of the individual road, but that it is not along the line of a "square deal for all," which the Hepburn act was designed to bring about. The short leaf pine dealers, who were not on the lines of the Santa Fe, declares the commission, are entitled to reasonable rates, and they are also entitled to as wide a market as they can obtain with reasonable rates, irrespective of the shippers located on the Santa Fe.

After calling attention to the fact that the action of the Santa Fe was for the purpose of compelling consumers in the territory named to buy yellow pine of the mills along the lines of the Santa Fe, the commission says:

"It ought not to be necessary to say that the commission cannot accept a proposition of that nature as a correct principle of transportation. Such matters are beyond the legitimate control of the carriers. Their duty is to haul the traffic that is offered and to make the necessary arrangements and furnish the facilities and establish reasonable rates therefor. Being common carriers, they must at all times put their facilities at the service of the shipping public on reasonable terms. The opportunity to buy in a widely extended market is a valuable one to merchants, in that it presents a larger field of competition and ordinarily offers the best quality at the lowest price. And a carrier has no right by refusing through routes and joint rates, to restrict or circumscribe this opportunity."

Remedy for Diarrhoea, Never Known to Fail

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this preparation in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York county and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I cannot say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world."—S. Jemison, Spring Grove, York County, Pa. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.
