Have You a Summer Stove?

The stifling air of a close kitchen is changed to comfortable coolness by installing a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove to do the family cooking.

you will see why this is so. The heat from the chimney of the "New Perfection" is concentrated under the kettle and not dissipated through the room by radiation. Thus it does the work of the coal range without its discomfort. Ask your dealer about this stove—if not with him, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp is a very handsome piece of housefurnishing and gives a clear, powerful light more agreeable than gas or electricity. Safe everywhere and always. Made of brass finely nickel plated—just the thing for the living-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

TEDDY SAYS SOME THINGS THAT ARE TRUE

At the dedication of a library in a farming community, the other day, President Roosevelt said: "The hardest worked individual on the farm is apt to be the mother or wife of the farmer. If you don't applaud that you ought to. "I believe in the farmer economizing, but on himself, not his wife. I am dead right on that. If you have got to drop some one drop one hired man, rather than the hired girl. I want to see buildings like this one used for mothers' meetings. It gives the women a chance to meet each other socially and it puts them in better trim for work.

"All of us know that certain type of the best room in the farmhouse, the one that is best so carefully that you could not hire the husband or the servant to go into it. Isn't that true? Cleanliness is next to godliness, but remember it is next to it, not ahead of it.

"Teach your boy to work, for he has got to earn his own livelihood—to pull his own weight. No one can call it for him. He will be a drone and a drag if you do not let him do his own part. My ideal of a boy is one who will grow up and be able to support himself and a wife and children. To be fit to be an American citizen he has got to preserve his self respect and conduct himself so as to wrong no one else."

Speaking of trickery and dishonesty, the President said: "I'm with you to the limit in trying to put a stop to the rascality of the big man. I'll go to any length to do it, and the big man knows it, but there never will be an end until the big man is made to know that what you object to is rascality itself and not rascality in a big man alone. Rascality in the great and the small is to be frowned upon in this republic. Distrust equally the man who never sees dishonesty in the big man and the one who sees it only in the big man."

"Next to hardness of heart the least desirable quality is softness of heart, and the mother or father should not try to bring up their children in that way. You don't get the right stuff out of those children for the next war or you don't get decent citizens when there isn't any war. Bring them up to work, so that they will recognize that an obstacle is not something to be shirked, but to be overcome."

TAFT IS NOT SUFFICIENTLY TRUCULENT

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 4.—Addressing a monster rally, W. J. Bryan, in the course of a speech on the tariff, guaranty bank deposits, labor and trust questions and governmental reforms, denounced Coleman DuPont, of Delaware, and Senator Boise Penrose, of Pennsylvania, members of the Republican executive committee, as not being expected to become reformers because, as he charged, of their affiliations with trusts.

Special attention was given to the reform and trust questions. Discussing the question of reforms, Bryan declared the reformers nearly in a position to reform anything. "Why," he asked, "because its conspicuous members are connected with everything that needs reform, and the republican party cannot prosecute the guilty without disgracing its most promising members."

Bryan asserted there are more trusts now in the United States than eleven years ago. "Not only this," he said, "but with the most strenuous republican you have ever had in the white house, he has not succeeded in putting one trust magnate in the penitentiary. If Mr. Roosevelt was not able to bring his party into active opposition to these trusts, what hope have you that Taft will do better?" Taft, he said, is not as strenuous as Roosevelt.

THERE'S NO DISCRIMINATION

Chairman Mack and other democrats are making a fuss because the railroads refused to make special rates for the Bryan notification this week, though special rates were made for the Taft notification. They should remember that railroads are not in the habit of charging regular rates for their own construction material or for their employes. How can the railroads conduct a political campaign if they put the people and the corporation agents on the same footing? In 1896 and 1900 the railroads treated republicans and republican meetings as railroad affairs. Why shouldn't they do so this year?—San Francisco Star.

TASK OF AMUSING MILLIONS

Frederic Thompson and the late "Skip" Dundy were partners in the development of the "midway" idea of expositions, enlarged by experience at the Omaha and Buffalo expositions and put in successful operation as an independent amusement undertaking at Coney Island. A marvel of its kind and a money maker, the guiding idea of the proprietors is as interesting as the carnival of shows and is discussed by Mr. Thompson in the current issue of Everybody's Magazine. He says in part:

The one thing that makes a picnic or an amusement park a success—it doesn't make any difference whether the picnic is made up of 10 people or 10,000, whether it is a little one or a great international exposition—the one thing absolutely necessary is the carnival spirit. Without that no show in the open, nothing that has to do with the people, in the mass, can hope to succeed. When you get right down to it the fundamentals are the same, whether the application is to a church picnic, a political meeting, a circus or a big exposition. The first step as far as the public is concerned, is to create an impression that there will be things doing to get emotional excitement into the very air. In the Sunday school they talk about the picnic for weeks in advance, telling the children and the grown-ups what a fine time they are going to have. The circus does the same thing with its flaming billboards and its parade. The political managers talk about the famous speakers who will address the meetings, about the band. You see, it's all the same, fundamentally.

A Trial Test

In the year 1901 I had a show called "A Trip to the Moon" on the Midway at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo. Architecturally and from an educational standpoint this exposition was one of the most remarkable in all the history of all the world's fairs. It was beautiful; it was tremendous; but it wasn't paying. After several months, I went to the executive committee and to the president and told them why their outlay of millions of dollars was attracting only 30,000 people a day. I told them they were falling miserably because there wasn't a regular showman in the lot. I told them about the carnival spirit and they came back by telling me about the educational value of the exposition.

"But what's the use of a college if there are no students?" I asked. "Before we talk of educational benefits let's get in the crowd to educate." They didn't take kindly to my notions at first. Then I suggested that they turn over the show to me for one day, which would be sufficient to test what the executive gentlemen were pleased to call my theories. President Milburn was with me and I finally won the point. The exposition was to be mine for August 3, and I told them that it would be known as "Midway day."

Within six hours after the final interview I had four printing houses at work getting out the paper with which I was going to plaster the country. I and my sideshow associates sent ten men on the road to herald the coming of the big day, and within a week a large part of the eastern half of the United States was screaming, "August 3! Midway day! at the Pan-American! Don't miss it!" They didn't. On the night of August 2 a crowd of would-be excursionists was left at every railway station within twenty-four hours' ride of Buffalo, and when the gates of the exposition were thrown open the police reserve had to be summoned to stop the panic. They arrived too late to prevent 10,000 people from forcing their way in without paying. There were more than enough left to make the gate receipts satisfactory. Up to August 3 the average daily admissions were about 30,000. On Midway day 142,000 paid to get into the grounds, and from that time on the attendance was tremendous.

Serious Architecture Tabooed

When I was studying architecture I paid a great deal of attention to the vicinia and to the other classical conventional standards of construction. I was like every other architect. But when I started to build I realized that I, like every one else, was obtaining absolutely convention results. So one day I threw away my books and plans on to the ash heap and decided to start after something new. I began designing, not after classical models, but with a sense of their proportions. I stuck to my style.

One result is Luna Park, the sky line of which is utterly unlike anything else of its kind in the two Americas. The architecture of Luna Park helps rather than hinders the spirit of carnival. Luna Park has been
