AN INFERNAL INVENTION

Postoffice People Stop a Deadly Machine Addressed to Governor Fort of New Jersey

See Girt, N. J., Sept. 13.—An attempt to assassinate Gov. Fort of New Jersey has been thwarted by the watchfulness of postoffice employees who discovered in the mails an infernal machine addressed to the governor. The package was a cleverly contrived combination of powder, bullets and matches, which had been so arranged that had the governor opened it in the ordinary way there is little doubt it would have killed him.

The package was intercepted before it reached its destination was due to the vigilance of the postoffice officials, who have scanned the governor's mail with unusual care since the executive's recent crusade against violation of the law at Atlantic City.

The attitude taken by the governor when he directed that the excise and all similar laws at the great seaside resort be strictly enforced and even threatened to order out the militia if necessary to that end, aroused great resentment in some quarters. Several days ago when a package of somewhat unusual shape was found to bear insufficient postage it was taken by a clerk to one of the postal inspectors. The inspector became more impressed by the shape and condition of the package than by the shortage of stamps, and at once wrote to the governor, informing him that a package of suspicious appearance addressed to him was being held at the office. The inspector secured permission to open the same.

Exercising the greatest care the inspector and his assistants removed the wrappings from the package to find that it was a real infernal machine, crude, but so cleverly constructed that it was capable of tremendous damage.

It contained a quantity of powder and bullets with matches so arranged that a hurried opening of the package would have set off the powder and buried the bullets in all directions.

On a bit of paper the sender had written a message to the governor which read: "Please notify us promptly of any change in your postoffice address."

Another read: "You will know me better after we are acquainted."

Another line by which it is believed the sender sought to give the impression that the machine was sent by a fan of constitutional government, read: "And the gun against this rotten government."

Governor Fort said that he did not care to investigate the matter in any way. "It speaks for itself," was the only comment he would make when questioned about his narrow escape.

ONLY A LIE--THAT'S ALL

Bryan Says That Hearst's Statement that Bryan Asked for His Support Is Absolutely False

Cumberland Md., Sept. 12.—Continuing his campaign Eastward, William J. Bryan arrived here Saturday morning.

National Committeeman McGraw from West Virginia, and whose guest Mr. Bryan will be tomorrow at Deer Park, accompanied him from Wheeling. All through the night along the line of travel, great crowds assembled and made noisy demonstrations in Bryan's honor. They persisted in their demands that he make his appearance and some even rapped on the door of his stateroom in the hope of forcing him out.

Tooting or locomotive whistles at various points was another manifestation of friendliness.

As soon as he could be seen Mr. Bryan was asked regarding the statement made at Atlanta Friday night by William R. Hearst, that Bryan four months ago asked his support for the presidency, promising to support Hearst in 1912. "Absolutely false," was the only comment Bryan would make. Following a breakfast at the hotel, Bryan was taken over the city and surrounding country in an automobile.

PEERLESS IN MOVING PICTURES

The Camera and Phonograph Will Reproduce Bryan All Over the Earth

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Another feature besides the talking machine with records of the speeches of candidates has been added to the novelties of the presidential campaign by the democratic national committee, which announces that moving pictures of William J. Bryan in Chicago on Labor Day would be thrown upon canvases at political meetings all over the country. When the pictures show Bryan speaking, the candidate's voice will be heard from the phonograph record of the Labor Day address.

National Committeeman Mack and heads of the committee bureaus today witnessed a reproduction of the Bryan Labor Day scenes by the moving picture machine. The pictures show Mr. Bryan's arrival at the station and his reception by the crowd at the hotel. Later the candidate is disclosed reviewing the big labor parade and acknowledging the cheers of the marchers, after which Mr. Bryan is shown making a speech to the laboring men assembled around the reviewing point at the parade.
