ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE INDICTED

Severe Arraignment Against it as a Political Rather Than a Moral Organization

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 24.—T. M. Gilmore, president of the National Model License League, has issued a statement in connection with the Cooper-Gilmore charges that the Anti-Saloon League is morally responsible for the death of the distinguished Tennessean. The statement is as follows:

The tragic close of the career of Edward Carmack, foremost among Tennesseans' most brilliant sons, is being ghastly used as a means of promoting the political and mercenary projects of a pseudo-moral organization that is in the sight of God and thinking men an accessory before the fact.

The blight of the Anti-Saloon League is over the land. Phrasemongers and hypocrites, parading in the garb of Christianity, are leading the way to a goal that means the destruction of the political fortunes of able men, the corruption of our public service, the lowering of public morals, the creation of blood-feuds, the confiscation of private property and a system of intolerance and a loss of liberty.

There is an imperative call for a halt and a parley. The Anti-Saloon League, scorning a scattered and ill-directed opposition, has been accustomed to put the lash to legislators with one hand and to garner the shekels from the churches with the other. That time is passing.

The Anti-Saloon League today is a discredited organization. It is not and never has been a reform organization. That its promoters are shrewd men there is no desire to question, but shrewdness in behalf of fallacy cannot long prevail against common sense exercised in behalf of truth.

In Missouri, the mighty Folk has fallen. He was assured by the Anti-Saloon League that it controlled a sufficient number of votes to elect him by an overwhelming majority.

In Ohio, Governor Harris has been defeated for re-election because he accepted as true the false representations of the Anti-Saloon League that it could elect him. Taft received a handsome plurality, but Harris, Republican, went down in defeat.

In Kentucky, the Anti-Saloon League promised J. C. W. Beckham, Democrat, former Governor of the state, a seat in the United States Senate, to succeed Senator McCreary, who was "marked" by the moneyed interests represented by the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Beckham is now practicing law and a Republican will wear the Senatorial toga.

In Indiana, the Anti-Saloon League endorsed Watson, Republican, and Watson endorsed the Anti-Saloon League, it being represented to him that by advocating prohibition he could win hands down. Indiana elected Thomas R. Marshall, Democrat, Governor, though it gave a majority to Taft.

In Florida, Michigan, Rhode Island, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and South Dakota, the Anti-Saloon League has met with humiliating defeats, while in poor old Maine there is a determination to break away from a system under which an alliance between the boot-leggers and a venal political machine has been able to perpetuate a prohibition that never has prohibited.

In Tennessee, Ned Carmack listened to the siren voice of the deceiver. He was led to believe that there was an overwhelming sentiment in the state in favor of prohibition. He entered the lists the champion of the cause of state-wide prohibition. Vigorously, fearlessly, ably he fought, but he had been misled.

The people of Tennessee did not want state-wide prohibition, and they said so in unmistakable terms in the balloting at the primary, which resulted in Carmack's defeat by Patterson for the gubernatorial nomination. The distinguished statesman had been enticed to political destruction, his hopes for success being heightened and buoyed out by the potent drugs of flattery and promises beyond the possibility of fulfillment. The sting of defeat, all the deeper because of its unexpectedness, rankled in the heart of the proud Tennessean.

Senator Carmack became embittered and, instead of placing the blame with the organization that had fired his ambition and assured him of a success that could not be his, he adopted a course of personal journalism, writing editorials insulting to every man who had voted or worked for the victor.

That Senator Carmack knew that his course was dangerous is shown by the fact that he armed himself with a deadly weapon. That he continued his attacks on Col. Cooper, a private citizen of character and courage, after being asked to refrain, shows the recklessness of a man driven to desperation by disappointment.

His political career wrecked; his mind inflamed beyond reason; his heart hardened toward his fellowman and, finally, his life-blood spilled, Edward W. Carmack is veritably a victim of the Anti-Saloon League.

ROBERTS SOUNDED A NOTE OF WARNING

England's Greatest Soldier Pointed Out the Possibility of Successful Invasion

London, Nov. 24.—Speaking in the House of Lords last night, Field Marshal Lord Roberts expressed the conviction that the lack of a military force sufficient to make hopeless the attempt of an invasion would in all probability be the cause of the loss of Great Britain's supremacy at sea. He pointed out the comparative ease with which Germany could land an army on the shores of England. Under the present conditions, England would be forced, he said, to submit to the most humiliating demands.

He disclaimed all hostility to, or fear of Germany; but he declared that the defense of the islands required immediate attention. There should be an assembly so strong in numbers and efficient in quality that the most formidable of foreign nations would hesitate to make a landing in England. He had ascertained, the speaker continued, that vessels capable of accommodating 300,000 men were available in the Northern ports of Germany, and that as a result of the new German service law, 200,000 men could be collected in the districts of the nearest port without any trouble.

Folly to Close Their Eyes
"It would be folly," declared Lord Roberts, "to shut our eyes to the possibilities, however, much peace is desired. The startling events in the Near East have brought home to the most careless observer that nothing could save that country which is not prepared to protect itself. If Great Britain continues to neglect the most ordinary precautions, she may some day find herself in the hands of the invader and forced to submit to the most humiliating conditions."

"This danger is daily becoming more threatening. Within a decade Germany has created the greatest sea power that ever existed, except Great Britain's and at the present moment it is formidable. Measures are being taken to increase that power. It is calculated that there are over 80,000 Germans in employment in Great Britain. They are trained soldiers and if a German force once landed on these shores they would be ready to help."

The main temptation to the invasion of Great Britain was the want of a home army which ought to consist of a million men. The English navy, said Lord Roberts, under present conditions was fettered in home waters and without military force sufficient to render an invasion hopeless.

Created a Sensation
Lord Roberts' speech created a sensation. The Earl of Crewe remarked on the seriousness of such statements in the present high strung condition of Europe's nerves, saying he feared there might be regrettable consequences.

Lord Roberts' resolution to the effect that "the defense of the islands necessitates the immediate attention of the government to make provision for such a strong and efficient army that the most formidable foreign nation will hesitate before making an attempt at landing," was adopted by a vote of 74 to 32.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well, just as simple as A, B, C.
