

RITCHIE-PAIGE

The Popular Actress, who will appear at the Armory Theater tonight, is on Her Wedding Tour

We learn by the Sanford Herald of Nov. 28th that Miss Mabel Paige, the "Idol of the South," at the close of the engagement of the company in that city Wednesday night, was married to her manager, Mr. Charles W. Ritchie, at the Sanford House by Rev. B. F. Brown, rector of the Episcopal church of Sanford, in the presence of the company and a few friends.

Miss Paige had the misfortune to lose her first husband, Mr. Henry Willard, several years ago, when Mr. Ritchie became the manager of the Mabel Paige Theatrical Company and that business acquaintance ripened into love that consummated in marriage, all of which will lend additional interest to the people of Ocala who will have the pleasure for the next three nights of witnessing her acting at the armory and where we trust she will be greeted by large audiences.

WHO JENKINS WAS

The Star has learned the identity of T. W. Jenkins, who died in jail at Augusta, Ga., from alcoholic poisoning. He was superintendent for mines Nos. 4 and 5 of the Dunnellon Phosphate Company at Hernando, and had been with that company for a long time. He was with Mr. Tom Sexton for five or six years and did his forest work in the phosphate business for him. His former home was in South Carolina and he had two sisters there who used to visit him occasionally, but we could not learn the name of the town in which they reside. Mr. Jenkins was a most capable man, but would get on these periodical sprees. His employers thought a great deal of him and he had many friends in the section where he worked.

A CORRECTION

Judge Joseph Bell desires us to state that the notice in the Banner of a few days ago to the effect that he fined the Messrs. Wilson, father and son, $50 each and costs for hunting on the Sababath, is erroneous. As published by the Star at the time Judge Bell fined the Messrs. Wilson $5 each and costs. The maximum fine allowed by law is only $25 in these cases.

Mrs. B. B. Ricker of South Lake Weir, who spent Thanksgiving with her son, Ernest Ricker in Jacksonville, returned home Saturday and tarried a day with Mrs. C. L. Bittinger, so she could attend services at the Episcopal church and call on the young rector, George Hendree Harrison, Jr., whom she found doing splendidly. Mrs. Ricker, who, by the way, is one of the most successful orange growers in Marion, has disposed of her fruit on the trees, her crop making 2,000 boxes off of five acres and she received for same a very handsome price. She expects to make a small exhibit of her fruit at the Marion County Fair, including some of her preserved fruits and jelly, also the first fruits of her pecan trees, of which she has about 190, the seed of which she planted nine years ago. The nuts are large and very fine, running forty-five to the pound. Now if every one in Marion would just follow Mrs. Ricker's example, the county fair is bound to be a marked success.

Fifteen new post card views of Ocala at Fisher's. 11-30-dw

One hundred dollars each in mayor's court and one hundred dollars each in county court, with one night in jail on the side, was the penalty imposed upon two white men who flourished pistols in Ocala. This sort of sentence has the right ring to it. Pistol-carriers are not daunted by $5 and $10 fines. It should be the duty as well as the pleasure of every judge in Florida to impose the maximum penalty upon every man convicted of this dangerous and inexcusable offense.—Tampa Tribune.

Miss Paige is supported by a company of excellent actors and actresses and Ocala theater goers are anticipating three nights of pleasant entertainment.

THE DEAD OF THE WRECK SATURDAY

The bodies of the dead resulting from the frightful S. A. L. wreck Saturday morning have been disposed of in the following manner by Messrs. McIver & MacKay, undertakers:

Bob Sabb, the colored fireman whose body was nearly incinerated, was buried here yesterday in the Melver cemetery, west of town at 4 o'clock, with many colored people attending.

Lee Bess, the colored brakeman, who died shortly after he arrived at the hospital, was shipped to Jacksonville, where his uncle, who is an undertaker, will take charge of the remains and bury them.

The body of Ransom Philbrick, the white boy, twenty years of age, flagman, was shipped to Jacksonville yesterday on the afternoon train, where his father, Dr. Philbrick, of Tallahassee, met the train and accompanied the body to Tallahassee, where it will be buried. Mr. Philbrick's girl wife, 18 years of age, who came down Saturday and accompanied the remains, was heartbroken and her condition was most pitiful. The fatal run was an extra for this boy, going out for Will Morris of this city. He had only been on the road two weeks, prior to which time he had been in his brother's drugstore in Jacksonville.

The body of Pete D. Smith, the other white man, who was only twenty-two years of age, was shipped to Jacksonville yesterday, where the local order of Railroad Trainmen will bury it. His brother in Stanton, W. Va., could not be heard from. He lives out on a stage line and the telegrams did not reach him.

The body of "Dad" Wakefield, the veteran engineer, was shipped on Sunday night's train to Jacksonville. The order of Railway Engineers and Masons will take charge of it and bury the remains there. He was a prominent member of both orders. Mrs. Wakefield came down from Jacksonville and accompanied the remains.

The railroad ordered that no expense be spared in these unfortunate cases. The body of Mr. Wakefield was placed in a solid mahogany casket, one of the finest McIver & MacKay had.

CONDUCTOR JONES' CONDITION

Conductor T. A. Jones, of the ill-fated No. 24, S. A. L. freight train that collided with No. 11, Saturday morning, is in a critical condition in the hospital. He had a sinking spell last night and was reported lying several times today. He has but a slender chance for recovery. Mrs. Jones and her little 9-year-old son are with the injured man. Dr. Boyd, the well known Jacksonville surgeon, is with Mr. Jones in consultation with Dr. H. C. Dozier, the local surgeon of the road and Dr. E. Van Hood. It is thought that tonight will come the crisis for Conductor Jones.

C. W. Johnson, the engineer of No. 24, was able to be up last night and will soon be as well as ever again. His family, who are in Bridgeport, Ohio, have not been notified of the accident by his special request.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY

The coroner's jury, consisting of Messrs. F. W. Ditto, L. Dozier, J. A. Morris, George Johns, M. F. Dodson and W. M. King, summoned by Justice Lyles to pass on the death of the men killed in the Seaboard wreck, did not lay the blame for the accident on any one.

So far as known, the dead fireman, George Sapp, was more responsible than any one else. Had he been at his post in time Friday night, No. 24 would have gone out on schedule and the accident would not have happened.

In appreciation of the services rendered by Captain W. C. Bull, chief of police, in the arrest of the Johns, who obstructed the steps of the train at the Seaboard depot last week, Conductor W. M. Stanton presented Mr. Bull with a box of very fine cigars. Conductor Stanton is a well known and popular conductor of the Seaboard and has been in the service of that company for many years. He was formerly a resident of South Lake Weir, where he has many friends.

THE WOES OF THE GAMBLERS

Yesterday afternoon at the French phosphate company's mines near Anthony Deputy Sheriffs W. E. Hutson, Chas. W. Smith and George Johns arrested seventeen negro men for gambling. The men were placed in jail and brought before Judge Bell this morning for trial. All of the seventeen pled guilty and Judge Bell fined them $5 each and costs, amounting to $17.42 each, with one exception, giving him a fine of $10 and costs, making a total of $22.42. This man told the others to run and escape from the officers. The county treasury was considerably enriched by the transaction. The men have nearly all paid their fines and all will do so.

COMPLIMENTED THE STAR

The Star received so many compliments on its report of the Seaboard wreck Saturday in Saturday's issue as to almost turn our head. The most appreciated among them were from half a dozen conductors and engineers of the Seaboard trains, among them Conductor Furman, of the ill-fated No. 11, who called at the office for papers and said it was the most accurate and best described account of a wreck they had ever read.

The little 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell died this morning at the family home at Cornell, south of town, and the body was interred in Greenwood Cemetery immediately after the arrival of the north-bound A. C. L. train this afternoon. McIver & MacKay had charge of the funeral and Rev. C. C. Carroll, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted the services at the grave. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have the sympathy of their friends and acquaintances in Ocala in the loss of their baby. The family has resided at Cornell for the past two or three years, since their removal to this section from their former home in Moore county, N. C. Mr. Campbell is a cousin of Mr. A. E. Campbell, who was in Ocala for several years and is now in Dunnellon.

Port au Prince, Nov. 29.—Government troops under command of Gen. Celestin Cyraque, minister of war, composed largely of young recruits, who were sent to capture the leader of the new revolution, Gen. Antoine Simon, have met with a severe defeat by the revolutionists.
