MRS. THOS. J. BARNES, Prop.

L. V. I. SOCIETY

Of Spring Park and how It Entertained Its Guests at Its Seventeenth Anniversary Supper

The ladies of the Spring Park Village Improvement Society celebrated their seventeenth anniversary last night in their hall at that place by giving one of their noted New England suppers, in which baked beans, Boston brown bread and pumpkin and custard pie were part of the attractive and satisfying menu, prepared as know how only these veteran New England cooks, at the head of whom stands that grand and good old lady of 84, Mrs. J. C. French, ably seconded by Mrs. Mary E. Sears, Mrs. Jeannette E. French, Mrs. H. C. Packham and Mrs. Martha Hall.

These suppers have become so famous that they draw patrons for miles around and last night was no exception to the rule, save only that a few more came to enjoy the good cheer, the attendance numbering fully two hundred, extending from Ocala to Silver Springs, Anthony, Sparr, Reddick, Fellowship, etc.

The gastronomic feat began shortly after 8 o'clock and lasted until after 10, and if any did not get their 25 cents' worth, it was not the fault of the contents of the table or those who so pleasantly and willingly served all comers.

It was the intention to have short literary exercises at the close of the feast, but the hour had grown so late that the drawing was announced by Master of Ceremonies Harry C. Packham.

After duly shuffling the tickets, Mabel Bittinger was requested to draw the lucky ticket in each instance. The interest in the articles disposed of aroused intense enthusiasm and the lucky ones were heartily congratulated. Ticket 66, held by Burt Murphy, drew a very sightly comfort. F. A. Sands, manager of the Ocala Telephone Co., was the fortunate possessor of Ticket 17, which landed the beautiful sofa pillow. Mr. Sands, strange to say, has for the last three years drawn a sofa pillow at these gatherings.

Mrs. Martha Hall's wonderful doll baby was the remaining object of interest and anticipation was on tip toe to see who would capture the cutest thing of its kind in frocks. The contest on this was in guessing the number of grains of corn contained in a pint jar, which were 695, and Mrs. Martha Hall had selected No. 700 and carried off the doll amid cheers, which doll was the wonder and admiration of every beholder. Mrs. Hall presented it to little Helen Brown and placed it in the custody of Miss Anna Brown, aunt of the recipient, who safely brought it home and made one little heart supremely happy.

These exercises completed, late as the hour was, there was a call for music and recitations. Mrs. Stroud, of Anthony, played with a fine touch and much expression several pieces. Mabel Bittinger followed, when Mr. Packham, by special request, recited a humorous piece entitled, "His Satanic Majesty." Mrs. Packham read a short but catchy story and as the hour of 11 had arrived the well pleased guests departed, after hearty adieus to their hospitable hostesses and expressions of having enjoyed a pleasant evening, resolved that if on earth, physically able and within striking distance they would be numbered among those who would assist at the eighteenth anniversary of the S. P. L. V. I. Society in 1904.

Notes

Jake Brown, of the Teapot, was as ever an acceptable guest and a strenuous helper to the ladies in getting the eatables to the guests and with a snow white bib and tucker encompassing his manly form he "slung hash" to beat the band. What Jake sets himself to do he does with an enthusiasm, skill and effectiveness that excites the admiration of all beholders. If Jake should ever desire to change his occupation, all he has to do is to go to the Waldorf-Astoria in the capacity of waiter and a princely salary awaits him.

Genial Jim Howell, of Anthony, who never misses an opportunity to be present at these gatherings, came all the way from Tampa to join in the feast. He brought with him Mrs. Harvey Meadows and Mrs. Stroud, who played so beautifully.

WHY

Charlie Rheinauer has the Rheumatism

This is not a poem on spring, but it springs wholly from the fact that spring time has come, gentle Annie, and for the sweet, gentle Annies of this part of Florida Mr. Ben Rheinauer went to New York City a month ago and began to buy spring goods to supply this demand. He knew what would be needed in his stock. He bought with freedom and taste. He has been schooled in the wants of his customers and never fails to meet them in his purchasing trip. Only more so this time, as the carloads of

Spring Fabrics

Which have arrived and are now opened for inspection in the

Rheinauer Dry Goods Emporium

Attest. The force of clerks has been working day and night for several weeks to place these goods on the shelves and counters so that their host of customers can inspect and buy them.

Now, it is these unceasing labors that has given Mr. Charles Rheinauer the rheumatism, but in his sufferings he counts it a pleasure to wait on his friends and those who desire to make his acquaintance.

The Rheinauers have been so busy selling their unequaled display of special spring dress novelties that they have found it impossible to write an ad, and take this method of saying no greater variety or finer designs of dress fabrics for spring wear from foreign and domestic looms were ever displayed in Ocala. The goods are here. Your inspection invited. The prices will demonstrate their values. The Rheinauers also deal in clothing shoes and notions. Every department running over with good and dressy garments. Every day is now a red letter day with the Rheinauers, a bargain day, so come in and be lettered.

WHO WAS THE RAZORBACK?

There were five congenial and kindred souls around a poker table deeply engrossed in having a good time by the usual fortunes that accompany a friendly game, when no one would dare feel that he was playing for gain. The game waxed hot and furious when as much as several quarters passed in rapid circulation. One gentleman, it seems, had the misfortune of crossing the path of a friend who kept raising him every time he would come into a pot. This brought on some friendly banter. Finally the victim said: "You are a regular hog and one of the worst kind of hogs, too —you are a razorback."—Times-Union.

The fact that the above is public property and known to the older settlers of Ocala justifies us in saying that they are deeply interested in knowing who was this razorback poker player, whether "Sam," "Frank," "Bob" or "George."

SO SWEET AND PLEASING IN TASTE!

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake St., Topeka, Kan., speaking of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, says: "It has never failed to give entire satisfaction, and of all cough remedies, it is my favorite, and I must confess to my many friends that it will do, and has done, what is claimed for it—to speedily cure a cough or a cold; and it is so sweet and so pleasing in taste." 25c., 50c. and $1 bottle at Anti-Monopoly Drugstore.

SIGNS OF SPRING

To Be Seen in the Fleecy, Fairy Fabrics Now on the Shelves of Masters' Mammoth Store

Even though we did not feel the balmy breezes and see the bright sun of a Florida spring, we would know that delightful season of the year was opening did we but chance to step into H. B. Masters' big department store and see the immense stock of spring and summer dress goods, novelties, laces, embroideries, ribbons, and all kinds of spring and summer fabrics that have arrived and are arriving daily from New York, where Mr. E. T. Helvenston, of the store, backed by his never failing judgment in this line and ten years of annual purchasing trips to that famous resort, made the finest and most extensive purchases for the store that he has ever made.

Mr. Helvenston is greatly pleased with his selections and says that the goods are prettier, the styles more numerous and the line larger than ever before. There is an immensely fine line of white and colored wash goods.

In the wholesale department the stock is large and complete, and the retil merchants of this section will find nice selections and big values.

The ladies of Ocala and Marion county will find a visit to the store both profitable and instructive as the styles shown there are the very latest and many valuable ideas will be gained as to what to buy for spring and summer wear.

A cordial invitation to inspect the goods at H. B. Masters' is extended to every lady in Marion county.
