THE TEAPOT GROCERY

MONUMENTAL CHEEK

Some time ago North Main street was covered with a thick layer of black clay. The street was bad before, but it was hard at least, the rock foundation cropping out in many places. Now the street is almost impassable in wet weather and exceedingly rough when dry. Yesterday morning, while in one of its very worst moods and the mud ankle deep, oozy and black, a negro, who for thrift and cheek, has never had an equal in this section, placed a long plank across and proceeded to try to collect toll for passing over his plank. When a lady would undertake to pass over he would bar her way and with a business-like air say, "Five cents, please." Of course they walked around. The difficult and painful operation called trepanning in medical parlance might have become necessary on that negro's head had some of our men folk citizens been asked for toll.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors, but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of Pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this great remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles 10c. at Garrett & Gerig's drugstore.

THE LIBRARY BENEFIT

A Brilliant Entertainment by Home Talent, Well Attended and Heartily Enjoyed

The "Trial by Jury" last night at the opera house for the benefit of the Ocala Public Library by our amateurs, was without exception the finest thing of its kind that has ever graced the opera house board by home talent and very few of the high class and high priced performances that in any essential surpassed it. That the unfortunates who could not be present may know what grace, beauty and chivalry paced the boards for that all too short hour, we append their names.

Mesdames Albert Gerig, L. W. Sylvester, Will Goin, R. S. Clark and W. K. Pendleton; Misses Louise and Minnie Gamsby, Estelle Weathers, Claud Waterman, Nellie Potter and sister, Sarah Whitfield, Mary Rearnon, Lena Bullock and Johnnie Liddon. Their brave defenders and the bulwark of the nation's safety, Jury—Foreman, Vessie Stevens; Geo. McKean, W. M. Porter, Victor Martinot, L. Cilley, Geo. Pasteur, Ed Helvenston and Charley Miller. Geo. Nash was usher.

Those who assumed the principal roles were Jake Gerig, chief justice and Albert Gerig, barrister, who plead the cause of his fair and bewitching client, Miss Minnie Gamsby, whom the cruel, heartless defendant, Mr. Cullen, had jilted just because the pathway of life was made pleasant to him by dallying with sweet feminine roses that strewed his journey, to chain their affections only that he might cast them aside with a suddenness that was cruel and dastardly.

Messrs. Pike, Albert Gerig, Charley VanDusen and Will Condon opened the program with an orchestral selection which was well played and struck a responsive chord in the audience.

The "female quartette" then illumined the stage with their bright smiles, composed of Mrs. W. K. Pendleton, Mrs. Will Goin and the Misses Louise and Minnie Gamsby and sang in good time and tune a song entitled "A Last Night," followed by Miss Lena Bullock in a mirth provoking sonnet, "A Little Piece of String," which so pleased her hearers that nothing short of a very "sure small bit of string" as an encore would suffice.

The next vocal number was executed by the male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Porter, Cullen, Jake Gerig and Nash, that old but enduring favorite, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," with fine effect, which elicited hearty applause, but like their fair contestants for artistic honors, refused to encore.

Notes

Messrs. Jake Gerig, as chief justice, and his brother Albert as attorney for the fair plaintiff, left nothing to be desired in their acting and singing, while Miss Minnie Gamsby, the Ocala nightingale, whose clear, sweet notes are too seldom heard to please her host of ardent admirers, which is all Ocala, thrilled us with her melody and, as the unrequited, love-lorn maid with whose affections Mr. Cullen had played such unconcerned havoc, was as happy in her acting as she was inspiring in her singing and Mr. Cullen was consummate in the indifference his love potentialities had played with the maid's tender sensibilities.

The Hibernian Jury. Their sartorial were the creation of high art haberdashery, in which Peter Ingram had exhausted his talents and the grotesque and quaintness of their dress provoked numberous smiles.

Charley Miller's get up distanced the bog trotting Emerald Isle lad who had kissed the Blarney Stone several times and whose raiment was a close second to his fringe of brick dust Hogan whiskers, that hung pendant as a necklace of jewels around his Celtic throat and his antics were the hit of the season and created such a reputation as a comedian that he left for Home Sound this morning on a telegram from Joseph Jefferson.

The entertainment was a pronounced success. Every person who participated in their preparation for the work are entitled to the thanks of the audience they amused and delighted and the worthy cause, the Public Library, they assisted.

The audience when dismissed were hearty in their praise of the actors and singers and proud to know Ocala has such excellent talent in her midst.

THE MODERN MOTHER

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.
