FIRE AT THE AIR DOME

Some Damage Done, but Will Not Interfere With the Performance Tonight

There was an alarm of fire about 1 o'clock today caused by a blaze at the New Air Dome theater.

The department turned out with its usual promptness, but was somewhat impeded by the Coast Line train, which was in the station at the time. In trying to make a close turn at the postoffice corner, one of the horses to the hose wagon slipped and fell, but Hamp Chambers pulled him to his feet again and the team rushed on with hardly a pause. The fire was extinguished in a very few minutes.

Some twenty dollars' worth of damage was done, but the fire will not in the least interfere with the performance tonight.

Mr. Marcus Frank was the first to discover the fire and he heroically tore down the front door and proceeded to get the picture machine down, Mr. H. W. Tucker arriving just in time to assist him in getting it to the ground. Had it not been for Mr. Frank's clever work no doubt the machine would have been ruined, entailing a heavy loss on Mr. Tucker.

MRS. CAMP ENTERTAINED AT BRIDGE YESTERDAY

Although bridge has been decidedly the most popular game in Ocala this season, Mrs. Clarence Camp has the distinction of being hostess of the first large bridge party, which was given yesterday afternoon in honor of three very charming young matrons, who are now visiting in our city, Mrs. Arthur Hardaker, of Tampa; Mrs. Charlie Miller, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. H. M. DePass, of Jacksonville, who is the guest of Mrs. Thomas Bridges.

The Camp residence, which is one of the most elegantly furnished homes in our city, was beautifully decorated for this charming occasion with quantities of cut flowers anw evergreens.

On the front veranda Miss Elizabeth Bettman greeted the guests cordially and in the reception hall the hostess and three honorees, wearing exquisitely fashioned gowns of white batiste, received. Presiding at the punch bowl placed on a handsome table ornamented with nasturtiums, were Mrs. R. L. Anderson and Mrs. Jack Camp. Others assisting in various ways were Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. McKean and Mrs. Powers.

The spacious dining room with its mahogany furniture was made unusually pretty by numberous cut glass vases and bowls filled with roses and nasturtiums placed on the mantels at each end of the room, sideboard and serving tables. The dining table was centered with a cluster of sunflowers and yellow roses in cut glass vase and around on the table were bowls of yellow roses and low dishes filled with yellow mints. On each of the seven tables were yellow mints relished during the four progressions, four hands to a progression. The highest score was made by Mrs. Harris, to whom was given a pretty little pitcher. To the three honorees three gold veil pins were given.

Mrs. Camp's bridge party, like all of her parties, was a complete success and the afternoon spent as her guest playing this interesting game was one of the most pleasant ever spent by the following, who were her guests:

Mesdames Hardaker, Miller, DePass, William Anderson, Robert Anderson, D. M. Smith, J. C. B. Koonce, F. E. Harris, J. D. Robertson, Edward Holder, M. C. Looney, H. L. Anderson, G. T. Maughs, A. E. Gerig, Misses Mary Piatt, Emily Stotesbury, Esther Weathers and Sarah McCreery.

Several of Mrs. Camp's friends who do not play bridge were invited to drop in at 6 o'clock at which time chicken salad with mayonaise, wafers, cheese sandwiches, olives and ice cream with cake was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Bettman and Mrs. Todd.

MISS ANDERSON HOSTESS OF THE BRIDGE CLUB

The Young Ladies' Bridge Club was entertained at its weekly meeting yesterday afternoon by Miss Sue Anderson, at the home of her parents on Fort Xing avenue.

Miss Anderson received her guests informally, assisted by her mother and Mrs. Steel, and Mrs. Birdsey invited them to the back of the hall, where Miss Jean Teague served punch from a table decorated wit hvines and a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas.

The five tables were placed in the parlor and dining room, the latter containing many luxuriant potted plants, and the games of bridge were diligently played. Miss Mamie Taylor made the highest score among the visitors and received an acceptable prize, the "Rubaiyat of Bridge." Miss Atkinson scores the highest among the members and received a deck of cards.

The hostess assisted by her sister and brother, Miss Margaret and Master William Anderson and Miss Bullock, at the conclusion of the games, served strawberry cream and two kinds of cake.

Miss Anderson had as her guests besides the club Mrs. Albert Birdsey, Mrs. O. T. Green, Mrs. Harvey Clark, Mrs. E. L. Carney, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. L. R. Chazal and Misses Mamie Taylor and Etta Hood
