"DON'T BE A READY-MADE MAN"

Mr. Marcus Frank, proprietor of "Frank's," the old Variety Store, has an advertisement in today's Star setting forth his plan to give away a "Taylor"-made suit clothes free of charge to his customers. The suit will be made of the best piece of blue serge Mr. Frank carries, and to the individual taste and measure of the man who is lucky enough to win it.

Mr. Frank's offer is this: Every person buying a suit of clothes from him, or who has bought a summer suit, is entitled to a chance on this $25 blue serge suit which is to be drawn for July 1st. The drawing will be conducted in the usual way. All the numbers will be placed in a hat and the first one drawn will get the suit of clothes.

Since Mr. Frank added his tailor-made clothes department to his store he has been, by steady and judicious advertising and fair and square dealings, gradually building up one of the best tailoring businesses in the city. He usually makes two trips to New York each year and on both his last trips he carried upward of a hundred orders for suits and trousers to J. L. Taylor & Co., whom he represents. He always gives his customers the benefit of his personal attention and guarantees a fit in every instance.

It costs you nothing to get a chance at this suit of clothes to be given away by Mr. Frank, and at the same time the suit you buy will be made up in the very latest style, from all wool goods, as Mr. Frank has not a single sample containing cotton in his line. Read the ad and profit thereby.
