

EVENING STAR

C. L. Bittinger and R. R. Carroll, Editors and Publishers. C. L. BITTINGER, Editor R. R. CARROLL, Business Manager

The Jacksonville Metropolitan which began its career modestly in 1887, under the direction and control of Messrs. Carter & Russell, is still doing business at the old stand, but so improved in circulation, business influence and equipment that its old time friends fall to recognize it, but are pleased to know success has attended the conscientious efforts of Messrs. Carter & Russell to publish a clean and creditable journal, devoted to the dissemination of news and the upbuilding of Jacksonville and Florida, in which the Metropolitan has been a conspicuous part.

Miss Minnie Blitch will wed today at Largo Mr. Freelen Difenworth, a very promising young man of that place. The fair bride is the niece of Dr. S. H. Blitch and a most estimable young lady. Mr. Difenworth was reared at Largo but has been a frequent visitor to Ocala and the Blitchton section.

Willie James, the superintendent of Marion poor farm, has placed this office under obligations by presenting it with a basket of tomatoes as fine as ever grew. They are good sized, perfect in form and smooth as the cheek of a babe.

Now comes along Tom Pritchett, the boomer of Candler and the doer of things, when it comes to fruit and melons and puts us under obligations for a basket of fine peaches. Thanks, come again.

On Jan. 30, a cartoon appeared in the Times-Union as a suggestion for the front cover of the Outlook, when Mr. Roosevelt should become its editor. The suggestion evidently has met the approval of the owners of this well known magazine, as a request has been sent to Mr. C. B. Keger, the Times-Union's Ocala representative, for several copies, in preference to sending direct to the main office. The fame of our little city will soon spread to the four corners of the globe.

William Tucker, the market man, spent Saturday at Camp Bryson, near Jacksonville, with the soldier boys and had a very pleasant time. He tells the same story of the camp's beautiful location. The day was a great one for visitors. The camp was crowded with sight seers and included the governor of the state.

H. S. Smith, of Sarasota, will move to Tampa July 1st and engage in the dry goods business. Mr. Smith is well known in Ocala and for a long time was a resident of Anthony, where he was the popular agent of the S. A. L. The Star wishes him success in his new home.

J. T. Johnson, of Inverness and J. B. Somers, of Thruville, were guests of the Montezuma last night.

Mr. Frank O'Connor, a traveling optician, had an experience last night that was not very pleasant. He spent yesterday in the Shady Grove section, plying his trade and as darkness came on he was near Santos and sought shelter but could find none and so he started for Ocala. The rain set in, the darkness was inky and as his horse does not see well he got out and led him all the way to town, every inch of which was in the soaking rain.

Our veteran friend, Mr. J. A. Pittman, will please accept the thanks of the Star for copies of the Memphis (Tenn.) Scimitar, giving a glowing and graphic account, profusely illustrated, of the Confederate reunion in that city. It was one of the grandest reunions ever held and the hospitality Memphis showed to the veterans was the finest ever. The flower parade never was excelled in the South.

The Ocala Board of Trade has taken up the question of attaching a passenger coach to the morning Leesburg freight train and permitting passengers to ride on same, with Mr. R. Riddell, general superintendent of the road. Mr. Riddell informs the board, through the secretary, that the matter is under advisement and he will inform us in a few days whether the request will be granted. We hope so as it will prove a great convenience to the people of Ocala to visit the lake and the people along the line to visit Ocala, thus giving them more time to attend to business in the city.

Editor Gene Mathews of the Starke Telegraph, has an assistant editor in the person of his son, Eugene S. Mathews, Jr., who arrived a few days ago and is the first of his kind in the family. It is needless to add congratulations are extended.

Albert Williamson in the Floridian expressed his desire to see the governor sign the bill to mark all paid matter inserted in newspapers as advertisements.

That was a glorious rain last night. Oh, how it was needed. Just in time to save the corn crop, which will be one of the heaviest for years.

Mr. C. H. Dekle, who has recently graduated from the Tampa Business College, has taken a position with Messrs. E. P. and George Bantz at Edenville, in their big saw and planing mill at that place. Mr. Dekle is a brother of the Messrs. Dekle of this city.

C. C. Rawls, the turpentine operator at Stephenville, came in last night and is a guest of the Montezuma. Mr. Rawls was a former citizen of Montebrook, where he has many friends. He also has property interests in Ocala.

Miss Nellie Stevens will take a limited number of pupils beginning Monday, June 21st. Any one wishing to see her regarding school work, call at her home on Saturday morning.

Mr. Robert M. Brown, from Clay county, Ga., but who is spending the spring and summer with Rev. W. J. Nice, Martel, drove in this morning.

REV. R. H. MORRIS, D. D.

Rev. Robert Hugh Morris, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the recipient of a very high honor when the degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by Northwestern University this morning. Northwestern has not been overly liberal in the distribution of this degree and it is therefore much more of an honor when received from the local school than when given by a remote one.

Dr. Morris had previously been offered the degree, but had refused, as he did not consider the institution offering it of such a standing as to make it a great honor.

Dr. Morris was born in Georgia in 1876 and received his education in the public schools of that state, in the Southwest Georgia Military Academy, a part of the state university, at Emory College, at Princeton University, and Princeton Theological Seminary. He is a master of arts from Princeton.

His father, Rev. W. J. Morris, died when he was only 13 years old. Before coming to Evanston, Dr. Morris was pastor of the Presbyterian church in Ocala, Fla.; Barnesville, Ga.; Elmer, N. J., and the Oak Lane church at Philadelphia. From the last church he was called to the pastorate at Evanston last November. When the pastoral committee recommended Dr. Morris to the Evanston church they declared him to be the best pulpit orator among the 100 or more preachers of their denomination at Philadelphia. He has sustained this reputation ever since coming to Evanston. He was married in Georgia in 1900 to Miss Lida Addy.

The above is taken from the Evansville (Ind.) Commercial News, of June 9th, which contains a very entertaining account of the 57th commencement of the great Northwestern University, under the denominational control of the Methodist Episcopal church, North, with its thousands of students and its 600 graduates from the various departments and the conferring of several degrees on distinguished and rising young men.

This notice has a special interest to Ocala, more particularly to the Presbyterians of this city, whose eloquent pastor, Dr. Morris was some ten years ago and who while serving here was the delight of the school children, in whom he took a deep interest, frequently visiting the school, where he became a prime favorite, because he was invariably called on for a talk and as he was an inimitable story teller, he fairly set the school wild with his amusing and birth provoking stories. All these will have a renewed and lively sense of appreciation and kindly remembrance as soon as they read the distinguished honor conferred on Dr. Morris by the Northwestern University of Evanston, Ill., ten miles northwest of Chicago, on the shores of Lake Superior.

A Nut for Someone to Crack. Why do people who do not eat pork as meat continue to use it in the form of lard? Lard is just as indigestible as pork. In a recent article on cooking fats, Dr. Faigle Emery, the eminent specialist, writes as follows: "The healthful and economical solution of the cooking fat problem is the use of Cottoleone. Cottoleone is purely a vegetable product, is easily assimilated, and aids digestion. Dietetic experiments have shown conclusively that when a vegetable oil is used in cooking in preference to animal fat, it is more easily assimilated and yields far more nourishment to the body." Cottoleone is sold only in sealed pails, of special design, which keep it sweet and fresh indefinitely.

Mr. Z. C. Chambliss, of the Munroe & Chambliss Bank, Ocala, was in town last Friday. Mr. Chambliss is an up-to-date banker, and it is difficult to tell whether he is more proud of his bank or his farm. Certainly he has done more for the improvement of cattle in the state of Florida than any other man, and that he raises plenty of crops for the market may be gauged by the fact that when he was here he had just shipped his 22nd car of cantaloupes.—Leesburg Commercial.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

OSCAR OSTERMAN, living in Starke, Fla., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest recommendation, as they have proved more benefit to me than any other I had previously used. I suffered from kidney trouble for some time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in action, and I was forced to arise from six to eight times during the night on this account. I also suffered from backache, and was bothered by a pain through my loins. None of the remedies I used gave me the desired relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon helped me and by the time I had taken the contents of two boxes, the backache and pains had entirely passed away. The action of the kidney secretions soon became regular, and as a result I did not have to arise during the night as formerly. I now feel fifty per cent. better than before in a long time and cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly." Plenty more proof like this from Ocala people.
