A GREAT IMPROVEMENT

IN THE CONDITION OF THE CONVICTS OF THE STATE

Women and Infirm Men Will No Longer Be Leased—Good Work of Hon. B. E. McLin

(Pensacola Journal)

The Journal has heretofore expressed entire approval of the bill passed by the late legislature which provided for the segregation of females and infirm males from among the leased convicts and providing for their care and occupation upon a state farm. But we feel that we did not do full justice to the man who, above all others, has long labored for this measure, and who, indeed, was the author of the bill now in force.

Commissioner of Agriculture B. E. McLin has won the regard of all humanitarians for his persistence in having this measure incorporated in the laws of Florida. That he has at last succeeded in his effort is a source of general thanksgiving, and commendations of the state press, conspicuously unrestrained as they have been, by no means exceed the truth or contain a word of praise which is not thoroughly deserved. The Punta Gorda Herald, whose able editor has for many years kept in the closest touch with the political and economical history of Florida, pays a long and glowing tribute to Mr. McLin, from which the following is an extract:

"The last legislature enacted at least one law that the Herald can heartily commend, and that is the one authorizing the establishment of a state prison farm, where all the aged, the infirm, the crippled and the women that are convicted in the state shall be placed. This is a strictly humanitarian act, and to the Hon. B. E. McLin, commissioner of agriculture, who, under the law, has direct supervision and management of the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions, is due the credit for its becoming a law.

"For the past eight years that he has had charge of the prisoners, he has insisted that this be done, and he has at last succeeded in getting the legislature to enact a law providing for the establishment of such a farm, where these unfortunates, who should not be leased, can be placed and properly cared for by the state. In his last biennial report, on prison matters he says:

"I most earnestly urge that our next legislature provide by law for the elimination from any lease of all females, without regard to color, and all males who either from disease, age or any other cause are not qualified to perform reasonable service at manual labor. Proper humane treatment of the prison class demands it, the good name of our state requires it, good morals insist that it must be done."

Commenting on an editorial which recently appeared in the Orlando Reporter-Star, commentator of the act establishing the prison farm, the Tallahassee True Democrat declares:

"We desire to endorse fully the commendation, relative to the provision for the establishment of a state prison farm, where, as the act establishing the farm provides, all women, sick and disabled, crippled and aged prisoners shall be placed, and only the able-bodied prisoners remain leased. And in this connection we desire to commend for this advanced step in prison matters in this state the one who, for the past three sessions of the legislature, has endeavored to have this legislation enacted—Hon. B. E. McLin, commissioner of agriculture, who has direct charge and supervision over the prisoners of the state. He has all along contended that it was not in accordance with the ideas of advanced civilization that this class of prisoners now exempted by law from the provisions of the lease should be placed out at hard labor, in the same places and under the same conditions as able bodied male prisoners; that no other state does it, and with this idea he framed a bill with this end in view and submitted it to the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions, who, after a few slight changes, endorsed the measure and the legislature enacted it into law."

And the same newspaper commenting upon Commissioner McLin's efforts directed in every way to ameliorate the hardships endured by state prisoners says:

"It is a fact, probably not generally known to the public, that during the past eight years that Mr. McLin has had direct charge of prison affairs in this state the prison system has been built up from what at the beginning consisted of a number of camps with but few comforts and no conveniences. In the prison camps now a majority of the prisoners are better housed and fed than they were before entering prison. The lessees of state prisoners are now required to provide comfortable quarters, furnished with iron cot bedssteads, clean bed clothing, night shirts for the prisoners to sleep in at night, bathing and sewerage facilities, and the best grades of meat, meal, flour, syrup, beans, rice, grits, etc., and plenty of vegetables in season. In fact, as previously stated, the treatment and diet given them is far superior to what a majority of them were accustomed prior to entering prison life. These changes and improvements are the result of a vast amount of thought and work in that line, but he can have the satisfaction of knowing that, under him, the state prison system of Florida is among the best in the Southern states and more free from abuse of all kinds than any of which we have knowledge in the South."

The Journal regrets that lack of space precludes quotations from many other of the state papers concerning Mr. McLin's good services. It is glad, however, to add its mead of well deserved praise to so competent an officer—one who so fully realizes the great responsibility resting upon the state in its treatment of unfortunate though sinful human beings. It believes the establishment of this prison farm is the first step toward a great reform in the care of convicts, toward the happy day when the state will no longer lease any of its prisoners to others, but will perform its duty as their temporary guardian and, shielding them beneath its own palladium, will endeavor to give them such moral and intellectual teaching as will make them better members of the social body when released from servitude.

A WOMAN IN IT

Suicide of a New York Financier Caused by Disappointment in Love

White Plains, July 20.—Beneath a clump of bushes in a wood on the Hartsdale road, on the outskirts of White Plains, the body of Harold Clifford Cox, fell in the Home Savings Bank, who disappeared on July 5, was found yesterday by Joseph Davey, a driver for a milk company. Clutched in the right hand was a .32 caliber revolver which he had borrowed from Harry S. Hamilton, secretary of the bank where he was employed, and it is a certainty that he committed suicide.

Cox was infatuated by a pretty young girl from Texas who recently visited friends in Hartsdale. The teller frequently called on her and seemed grieved when she returned to her home in Waco three weeks before he killed himself.

GALHOUS'S SECOND TRIAL

San Francisco, July 20.—With but a few weeks' intermission since the end of his first trial, which was one of the longest trials on record in the criminal courts in this country, Patrick Galhous, president of the United Railways and a man of national prominence as a capitalist and promoter, faces the prospect of spending the remainder of July and August in the court room undergoing the grueling cross-examination of Prosecutor Henry.

Galhous's case was called in court yesterday and the indications are that the trial will proceed without delay. He is to be tried on charges of having offered a bribe to a supervisor to vote for an overhead trolley permit in 1906. This is the second trial on the same charge. The first trial resulted in a hung jury.

A HORRIBLE HOLD-UP

"About ten years ago my brother was 'held-up' in his work, health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless consumption," writes W. R. Liscomb, of Washington, N. C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors, but found no help. He used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man today." It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lungs, hemorrhages, coughs and colds, bronchitis, la grippe, asthma, and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

A VICTIM IN DESPONDENCY

Paris, July 20.—Mme Constant, the widow of Benjamin Constant, the great artist, is dead at her home here, and it is hinted she ended her own life. She was found in her room unconscious, with the gas turned on full force.

She was given medical attention and revived, but died today, while alone. It is believed she secured some drug, with which she ended her life. An investigation is being made.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Ocala, But Daily Growing Less
The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood. When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood. Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble. It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted. Are just what overworked kidneys need. They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

P. Y. Smith, living at 1206 Alachua Ave., Gainesville, Fla., says: "My wife was troubled for some time with severe headache. She also complained of a dull pain in her back, and was nervous and weak. I thought that her kidneys were the cause of her trouble, and procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for her. She received such great benefit from the use of the first box of this remedy that I obtained another supply. When this was used the pains ceased, and she is now no longer troubled with headaches. It required but two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to entirely cure her."

Plenty more proof like this from Ocala people. Call at Tydings & Co's drug store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CLAUDE L'ENGLE'S CAMPAIGN

Will Tour the State in an Automobile, In His Attempt to Win the United States Senatorship

(St. Augustine Record, 9th.)

After a stay of two days here getting out printed matter for his campaign, Mr. Claude L'Engle left Saturday evening for Jacksonville. Mr. L'Engle will start immediately on a tour of the state in behalf of his candidacy for the United States Senate. He has decided to oppose Senator Taliaferro and will spend the next several months stumping the state.

In discussing his campaign with a Record representative he said he intends to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the people of Florida that a poor man can run in the primary. He will start tomorrow from Pensacola on a railroad tour of the state and will spend two and a half months traveling by rail, distributing his literature and meeting as many voters as possible. He expects to follow the railroad trip with an automobile tour, or rather with three automobile tours of the state, covering 9,000 miles in the auto. He visited several auto manufacturers recently while north and arranged with one concern to supply him with an auto and machinist for this trip absolutely free of charge, his only expense being subsistence for the mechanic and the fuel consumed by the auto. The manufacturer expects to be repaid by the advertising the machine will receive from the novel trip. Mr. L'Engle stated that he would start at the Florida line in the vicinity of Pensacola in the auto on October 1st and intends to spend six months on the road, traveling day and night as occasion demands. He will carry literature in the car with him and will distribute the same to dash into towns and run the machine to the most conspicuous spots, thereby having a big advantage over the speakers who will be anchored to stationary platforms. He contends that the machine will attract the crowds wherever it stops and his audience will assemble without expense to him. He has figured that he will travel fifty miles a day and will have ample time for his treble tour of the state.

He will stop at farm houses and make the acquaintance of every voter, practically making a house to house campaign in the country, presumably kissing the babies and winning the parents to his political views. He intends to tack up his campaign literature himself, thus saving another big item of expenses.

Mr. L'Engle is known from one end of Florida to the other and he has many admirers among certain factions, as is energetic and original and his candidacy will inject some ginger and electricity into the campaign.

A MILLION DOOMED

Frightful Ravages of Consumption Among the School Children

New York, July 20.—On the basis of recent investigation the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares that the United States is paying annually $7,500,000 for the education of children who will die from tuberculosis before they reach the age of 18.

There are nearly 1,000,000 school children in the country today who will die of this disease before they are of age, the statement continued. To offset this yearly waste, the children are being educated about the dangers of tuberculosis and the methods to be taken for its prevention, and during the school year just closed over 2,500,000 of the 17,000,000 school children in the United States, the society states, have received such training.

AVIATOR'S BOLD ATTEMPT

Flew Almost Across the Strait of Dover Before His Aeroplane Failed—Picked Up by a Torpedo Boat

Calais, France, July 20.—Herbert Latham, who made an attempt to cross the English channel from here with an aeroplane, dropped into the sea yesterday. He was brought back here aboard the torpedo boat destroyer Harpon, apparently unhurt. A tug towed the aeroplane in.

The aviator was not injured, neither was he discouraged, and he declared his intention of again trying to cross the channel.

Latham had covered sixteen miles, and while at a great height the motor failed and the machine fell into the water. The French torpedo boat Harpon was close at hand and rescued the aviator. Latham's start was made from the top of a cliff at Sangatte, and under propitious circumstances.

Had a Good Start

"Start the motor," he cried to his assistants, and then with a nod of his head and the words "I'll see you in Dover," he threw the starting lever over, the machine running along the ground with increased momentum at every turn. Just before reaching the edge of the cliff the aeromane touched the horizontal lever and the machine, with its white outstretched wings, rose gracefully and sailed out over the shining waters amid a roar of cheers from the cliff and shores. The monoplane, after leaving the cliff, ascended gradually until it probably was 300 feet above the sea. Then straight as an arrow it continued its flight towards the English coast, apparently under perfect control, and at a rate of about thirty-five miles an hour. The Harpon kept almost under her aerial companion.
