

Of Interest To Women

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household care or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating service. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife would be believed to have been employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The Favorite Prescription has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which Favorite Prescription is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

STOLE DR. COOK'S STORES

Norman Hansen, a Danish Scientist, Tells a Mighty Rough Story on Peary

Copenhagen, Sept. 14.—A remarkable letter, giving Dr. Frederick A. Cook's version of the trouble with Commander Peary over supplies, appears in the newspaper Politiken. The letter was written by Dr. Norman Hansen, a prominent Danish physician.

Dr. Hansen was with Cook for some time in Greenland and returned with him on the Danish government steamer Hans Egede. In his letter he says: "Now that Dr. Cook has gone, I am no longer under obligation to keep silence, and will exercise my right to publish the story about the house in Annatook, a story which Dr. Cook himself had too much delicacy to relate to the world. I write it according to my memory, in the same manner that Dr. Cook told it to me, and I am fully convinced that in no details are my recollections wrong."

Peary Assumed Cook Was Dead
"Dr. Cook had built his house for stores in Annatook, north of Etah, and it was this depot which he started to reach in February, 1909, crossing Smith Sound. It was a large house, the walls being built of heavy filled provision boxes, so that Dr. Cook knew when this important part was reached everything was safe. He had before the start arranged with a young friend named Whitney that he would have the right to use the house while hunting musk oxen for sport in the winter of 1908-09."

When Dr. Cook and his two Eskimos, exhausted and half starved, came within a short distance of the house in Annatook young Whitney came out to bid him welcome, but inside the house was a stranger, a giant Newfoundland boatswain on watch. This man had been placed in Dr. Cook's house by Peary when the latter passed Etah with his ship bound north. Peary had given the boatswain a written order, which commenced with the following words:

"This house belongs to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, but Dr. Cook is long ago dead and there is no use to search for him. Therefore, I, Commander R. E. Peary, install my boatswain in this deserted house."

Cook Begs for His Own Food
"This paper the boatswain, who could neither read nor write, exhibited to Dr. Cook, and the latter took a copy of this wonderful document. This copy, however, he does not intend to publish if Peary's course does not force him to do so."

"Dr. Cook gave me a lively account of how the young millionaire, Mr. Whitney, when during the winter was treated like a dog by the giant boatswain, and how he had witnessed the sailor bartering Dr. Cook's provisions for bear and fox skins for himself. Dr. Cook also had to put a good face on the unpleasant situation. He had to beg to get into his own house and to make a compromise with the boatswain."

"Dr. Cook made a present of the house with all its contents to his two faithful Eskimos, with the proviso that Whitney was to have the use of the house as long as the hunting trip lasted, but he was compelled to let the Newfoundland boatswain continue his watch. The boatswain, however, received strict orders not to exchange any more of the provisions or guns."

DEFENSE OF PEARY
It is a Common Practice of Arctic Explorers to Take Each Others' Stores

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—A special dispatch from Sydney, N. S., says that Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Arctic Club, denies any wrongdoing by Explorer Peary in connection with taking Dr. Cook's stores. Mr. Bridgeman says Lieutenant Peary cared for Franck, Dr. Cook's companion, who returned under orders, and also says it is a common practice among explorers to take the others' abandoned stores.

MAY RETURN ON THE TYRIAN
Sydney, N. S., Sept. 14.—Commander Peary is still at Battle Harbor, Labrador. Plans are being made to have Secretary Bridgeman of the Peary Arctic Club and correspondents meet the Roosevelt in the vicinity of St. Paul's Island and take Peary aboard the steamer Tyrian, which the government has turned over to the newspaper men. The Tyrian is a much faster ship than the Roosevelt and this would expedite Commander R. E. Peary's arrival here and at the same time give the correspondents an opportunity to question the Arctic explorer about his dash to the pole, and the Cook controversy.

COMFORTING WORDS
Many an Ocala Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back remedied; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary diseases is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Ocala sufferers.

Edward Gravier, living on Lemon street, Palatka, Fla., says "For several months my back had been causing me considerable misery. I also had a lameness across my loins, and there was a dull aching through my kidney regions, almost constantly. It was hard for me to stand when I sat down for a little while I would become so stiff that it was only with a great difficulty that I was able to arise. If I stooped to pick up anything, sharp twinges would pass through my loins, and cause me the greatest misery. I had often heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, and finally procured a box. Their use banished the lameness and soreness and made me feel ten years younger. If my recommendation will be the means of bringing relief to any persons suffering from kidney trouble, you are welcome to use it."

Plenty more proof like this from Ocala people, call at Tisdale & Co's drugstore and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AWFUL TRAGEDY AT UTICA

Unknown Man Decoyed Three Children from Home and Deliberately Shot Them Down

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Blackhanders are believed to be responsible for a terrible crime, when three children, kidnapped from their home last night were found in a culvert near Stagness cemetery by a passing milk man. Teresa Perocchia, aged 6, was unconscious from two bullet wounds, and Freddy Infusino, aged two and a half years, was dying. Fannie Infusino may recover, although she has a terrible wound in the abdomen. She recovered consciousness long enough to tell her story. According to the story of Fannie Infusino, she, the baby and her brother, were playing with the Perocchia child near the Perocchia home late in the afternoon, when an unknown man approached and beckoned the children to accompany him. Teresa Perocchia reassured the children, saying: "Come on; he is my godfather."

The others went unwillingly until the stranger told them he meant them no harm. The stranger led them under a culvert to an isolated spot in the rear of the cemetery, hidden between the cemetery wall and a heavy clump of trees. There the man, without a word, drew a revolver and shot Teresa Perocchia in the abdomen. She fell unconscious and the man stood by and watched her die. He then shot the Infusino girl twice in the left arm. The baby boy began to shout and cry when the fenish Italian turned the revolver on the baby, wounding it in the abdomen. The man then put the gun in his pocket and walked away.

ONLY ONE ESKIMO

Was With Peary when He Arrived at the Pole—His Observations Corroborate Cook's

Battle Harbor, Labrador, Sept. 14.—The following details of the journey of Commander Peary to the North Pole have been gleaned from members of Commander Peary's expedition on board the steamer Roosevelt. The only men to reach the pole were Commander Peary and one Eskimo, Egingwah, his personal assistant. The other white members of the various parties that left Cape Columbia were sent back, one by one, as Commander Peary drew nearer to his object.

Mathew Henson, Peary's negro attendant, and three Eskimos, the only other members of the reduced party that made the final dash, were left on the march south of the pole. At 85.38 Peary consisted of Peary, Bartlett, Mathew Henson, his personal assistant, and so many of his expeditions, the Eskimos, seven sleds and sixty dogs, and the journey northward was resumed.

At the Pole
The ice was perfectly level as far as the eye could see. Bartlett took the observations on the 88th parallel on April 24, and then reluctantly returned, leaving Peary, Henson and the Eskimo with provisions for forty days to make the final dash to the pole. Thus reduced, the party started April 24. The men walked that day for ten hours and made twenty miles. Then they slept, near the 89th parallel. The pole was reached April 6th and a series of observations were taken at 90.

Planted the American Flag
Peary deposited his records and hoisted the American flag. The temperature was 32 degrees below zero. The pole appeared as a white sea. Peary tried to take a sounding but got no bottom at 1,500 fathoms. Peary stayed at the pole for thirty-four hours and then started on his return journey April 7th.
