CHAPTER XIV.

WHEN Mrs. Brooks found herself alone in the street she walked along mechanically, stunned by what had just occurred. Her heart seemed to be pressed down by a weight, and her breath came painfully through her contracted throat. She could not believe that what she had gone through was real, the thing was so monstrous, so utterly inconceivable. Her husband, Joe, for love of whom she had given up a life of ease, for whom she had borne cheerfully the trials of poverty, in whom she had placed her entire faith, this man, to whom she had yielded herself trustingly, in whom, up to that hour, she had believed as the soul of honor, had stood exposed as a thief and a liar.

To save himself from the impending punishment of his dishonesty he was willing to trade the honor of his wife! To maintain himself in the material ease that his thieving had brought them for a few brief weeks he wanted her to prostitute herself for money—had entreated and threatened in his efforts to force her to do this thing! And she, driven to desperation, had let him arrange a rendezvous for her with Captain Williams in the latter's rooms!

She stopped and leaned against a wall for support. A violent trembling had seized her, and the street lights were whirling about her.

"My God!" she groaned. "What shall I do? What shall I do?"

The fit of faintness passed off, and she was able to collect her thoughts and consider the best course of action. When she had undertaken to call on Captain Williams at that hour it was with no thought of lending herself to her husband's hideous plan. In a vague, hopeless way she had resolved to beg mercy for him, to see if there was not some manner in which atonement and restitution could be made. Now she was afraid. If she went to him, how could she approach him—what could she say? What would he think of her coming to his rooms, at night too? He would think, and under the circumstances naturally think, only one thing. And she would be completely in the power of this colossus, this ogre whom she secretly feared and detested, who so often had leered his unwelcome admiration of her when she was powerless to resent it.

Her impulse was to turn from the ordeal and fly from her husband, leaving him to the fate he merited. She could go to her mother's home and await her return from the theater. She would at least find a refuge there. But in the morning would come the public exposure and disgrace. No; she must make the effort, whatever the cost, whatever the sacrifice.

Ten minutes later she was knocking at Captain Williams' apartment.

The door swung open, and the captain stood before her.

"Come right in, Mrs. Brooks," he invited. "I've been waiting for you."

"I was delayed a little," she said timidly.

"Your husband telephoned that you were coming."

"Yes—I know."

The words came falteringly, and she stood, knowing not what to say or what to do.

"Did you meet Smith?" he inquired.

"Smith?"

"Your friend Jimsy. He just left."

"No. Why?"

"Must have passed you in the elevator. It does not matter. Won't you sit down?"

She took the chair he advanced for her close to the table.

"You must excuse the looks of these quarters," he went on. "I am an old bachelor, you know, and my Jap valet

"My God!" she groaned. "What shall I do?"

ain't allowed to dust up or clean much. Knocks out all my idea of arrangements."

"It is a quaint place," ventured Emma.

"Yes. Lived here ever since I've been in New York. I fixed it up to suit myself. It ain't what you'd call exactly pretty, but as I'm the only one to be pleased I guess it'll do."

"Almost a curiosity shop," she commented, surveying the room with a good deal of nervousness.

"Yes, stuff I've collected from time to time while I was at sea. Got about everything I ever wanted to keep, from the wheel of my first schooner down to spears from head hunters. There's models of boats and a lot of stuff. You see, I call this my main cabin—sort of grand salon. Over there I bunk with my crew, just one Jap, and the galley's to the rear. In them rooms Sato gets my breakfast, steals my loose change and lies most of the time. Got another room over there. Seldom use that; got it fixed up nice and civilized. Guess that's why I ain't feeling comfortable if I try it."

These details were of no interest to Mrs. Brooks, who desired only to bring the interview to an end as speedily as possible.

"I came right up—asked the elevator boy. Perhaps I should have asked at the office," she said.

"Not at all," he answered, in a manner intended to be reassuring. "I have my own way in this place. I got the money to pay for what I want, and there ain't no one in this hotel asking me any 'if,' 'and' or 'but.'"

"No one knew me. I didn't care that they should hear my name."

"It's nobody's business. What I'm entitled to, I'm entitled to, and so long as I pay the money no one else can interfere with the way I run my ship."

"Still, a woman—at this hour!"

"Makes no difference, although you are the first lady to call on me, night or day."

"You mean that no woman has ever been in here before?"

"I said the 'first lady.'"

OASIS IS DRIED UP

McMinnville, Tenn., Oct. 3.—News was received here late yesterday afternoon that Tennessee's only saloon, known as the "Oasis," and situated at the top of a mountain near here, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The "Oasis" was run in accordance with the law, which designates that no saloon should be operated within a radius of four miles of a school. The proprietor of the place rented all of the ground for a distance of a little more than four miles all around the spot and established his saloon, which did a very thriving trade. He will open it up in a tent until the building can be put up again.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, pid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retorversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

MURDER WILL OUT

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 3.—The wife of Howard Little, held charged with the murder of the Meadows family of six persons, all of whose bodies except one were afterwards burned with their home by the murderer, has confessed. Next day she washed his bloody clothes. She says that Little left home early on the night of the murderer, returning next morning, his clothing torn and bloody. He threatened her with death if she divulged his condition, when he returned. His wife also saw him counting money next day which the police say was stolen from the Meadows' home.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be overpersuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

A PORTRAIT ARTIST

Mr. F. A. Augerstine, a well known European genre and portrait painter, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts at Berlin, is in the city, a guest of the LeSeuer House. He has won considerable fame as a type painter, having been awarded several medals for merit at Brussels, Berlin and Paris. He will open a studio at No. 10 Fort King avenue with Messrs. Parramore and Halsell. Mr. Augerstine will be pleased to receive visitors from 2 to 4 each afternoon. It will be interesting to see him at work. He also has on exhibition several finely executed oil paintings, which are open for inspection.

A SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER

Following President Taft with Camera and Revolver

Portland, Oregon, Oct. 3.—As President Taft was leaving the hotel yesterday, a man making an effort to get in the front rank of spectators, was arrested. He carried a camera and when searched, a revolver and extra ammunition was found on him.

He gave his name as Wright, and his home as Lowell, Mass. He said he was on a trip through the West. It is not believed that he intended harming the president, but he is held pending an investigation.

In the morning the president reviewed the living flag of twenty thousand school children. As President Taft approached the children broke in a loud cheer for him. Then they drilled forming the letters T-A-F-T. When the drill ended, the president addressed them briefly. He arrived here this morning.

"I'D RATHER DIE, DOCTOR,

than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeville, Ill. "But you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles astound the world. 25c. at all druggists.

LYNCHING AT MULBERRY

Mulberry, Oct. 3.—Israel Williams, the negro who was arrested as an accomplice in the murderous assault made on M. S. Reid, a foreman at the works of the Prairie Pebble Phosphate Co., was taken from the jail here last night b a mob of four or five hundred men and strung up to the nearest telegraph pole.

The body was found there yesterday morning, literally riddled with bullets. It was lowered and turned over to friends and relatives for burial.

Foreman Reid, the white man who was so seriously stabbed, is still alive and strong hopes are now entertained for his recovery.

C. R. Kluger, the jeweler, 1060 Virginia avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana, write: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." Sold by all druggists.

Surprising, What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect Indigestion, the more you will suffer before Kodol can restore Good Digestion.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all.

There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach.

Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia.

Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized.

We knew what Kodol would do before ever the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do.

It is easy for you to prove Kodol—the next (or the first) time you have an attack of indigestion. And you will certainly be surprised at the results. It is perfectly harmless.

There can be no harm in trying something that may do you a great deal of good—when it costs you nothing if it doesn't.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.
