A RERFEOT LADY

The "Great Larmer," who made his first appearance at the arnory last night, would certainly pass for a perfect lady in any gathering. Rather tall, but not too much so, richly gowned and picture hatted, he swept on the stage with the air of another Sarah Siddons, and gave his auditors one of the most amusing quarter hours of their lives.

Larmer is the more interesting to an Ocala audience from the fact that when femininely costumed, he bears a strong resemblance to a popular and good-looking Ocala girl, who was happily married a year or so ago. The picture program was immense

"Joan of Arc" was thrilling in interest, and "The Fiddlers" was a whole Larmer appears again this evening and you are not your own best friend Stock at all Times-Every article
